Norman Leads Field

SUDBURY, July 21 — (CP) — Moe Norman from Kitchener Rockway course led the field of 127 entries Friday with a one-under-par 67 for low qualifying score in the 15th annual golf club invitation tournament for the Seagram Trophy. He nosed out Bill Morland of North Bay who finished with a 68 after heading the pack until the 16th hole when he faltered with a two-over-par while Norman was striking a birdie.

Fergus Upsets St. Kitts 12-11

By The Canadian Press.

Yanking on their own bootstraps Fergus Thistles Friday night scored a surprise 12-11 victory over second place St. Catharines Athletics in a Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association contest at Fergus. By beating the Athletics, Fergus climbed out of their lonesome last-place spot and now share sixth place with Toronto West Yorks. Each have won six games.

The Fergus - St. Catharines match, a cleanly fought battle saw the score tied 2-2 at the end of the first quarter. Fergus went ahead to lead 6-4 at half-time but the Athletics drew level 9-9 at the three-quarter mark and only lost in the last session by a whisker.

John Lumley scored four for Fergus and Bob Dobbie added a pair. For St. Catharines, Max Woolley and Ken Croft netted three each.

Out At The Kawartha

The business girls entertained the male members of the Kawartha Club on Thursday evening. Approximately 90 teed off, starting at 5.30. The weather was cool and enabled the players to move along fairly quickly. Lunch was served in the club house about 9 p.m. and prizes for various types of scores given out. For the best score on the front nine Barb Siddall and Joe Gatfield won a golf ball each; on the back nine, two couples tied but after a draw Joan Rahmel and Jim Inglish were given a golf ball each. For the most honest golfers, Earl Wellman and Isobel Shearer were given a practise ball each.

A draw was also made for two silver spoons and Jean Drummond and Elva Chamberlain were the lucky girls.

Afternoon Ladies Section

On Monday last, eight players from Lindsay and eight from Port Hope played in the afternoon and were entertained at tea afterwards.

In the 18 hole players group on Thursday, Mrs. Jack Condon was the low net winner and the day's competition for low score on par four holes.

Mrs. Wm. Nash, of the nine hole players group, won the day's competition for low net on odd holes, and she is credited with a point, Mrs. E. C. Everitt won the cup and saucer and Mrs. H. McGinness, a golf ball.

The regular Field Day for 9 and 18 hole players next week, will take place on Tuesday, July 24 instead of July 26.

Important—Please Note

Men's senior competition is really lagging. We hear dark mutterings among the handicap committee. Sounds as though they are sharpening the axe too! The deadline for the competition of the first round is just around the corner. These veterans usually come through and so it is possible that this weekend will see some of the games played.

The Kawartha Tennis Club edged Bowmanville in a match Wednesday in Bowmanville. Kawartha players picked up four points out of seven to make their total 40 out of a possible 56.

Kawartha club winning players were Maimie Charlton in the ladies singles; Willard Elmsley in the men's singles; Agnes Bubik and John Fletcher in the first mixed doubles and Agnes Bubik and Betty Lamont in the ladies' doubles.

Bowmanville winners were: Charlie Austin and Art Ball in the first men's doubles; Bob Stevens and Al Witherspoon in the second men's doubles and Ev. Dunn and Rundel won the second mixed doubles by default when Kawartha didn't produce a couple.

Two postponed matches have yet to be played: August 11, Kawartha at Port Hope; and August 12, Cobourg at Kawartha. This will wind up the schedule.

BUMPS-A-DAISY—Lloyd Merriman, 20, was out at the last split-second, started crashing to the ground, taking Carl Erskine with him after colliding and locking legs with the Brooklyn pitcher, who covered on the outfielder's deep grounder to First Baseman Gil Hodges at Ebbets Field. The umpire is Babe Pinelli. Erskine did not allow the Cincinnati club a hit until the eighth inning.

Slater Scores Seven Goals As Petes Trounce Brampton

The Petes kept their grip on first place in the OLA senior "A" race here last night by trimming the fourth-place Brampton Excelsiors 23-10 before some 2,000 fans in Miller Bowl. The visitors were short three subs and never looked in the hunt during this fray. The Petes racked up an 8-4 lead in the first quarter, had a 12-6 margin at the half and were in front 18-8 going into the fourth frame of a clean, fairly fast fixture.

Minus their regular goalie and several other good players, the Excelsiors arrived nearly half an hour late. They put up a good fight but were well outclassed as the green-clad loop leaders showed marked superiority in every heat. The closest period was the second when Don Crowe's crew led 4-2 and had many more shots on the net than their rivals. At that, the locals drew five of the six minor penalties handed out, but it made no difference. The tilt was rather tame.

Russ Starred

Russ Slater was hot in this encounter to easily lead the Peterborough attack. He notched seven goals in a swell showing. Other marksmen were Joe Whitnell, Ike Hildebrand and Harry Wipper with three each, Ross Powless with two, as singles were counted by Don Ashbee, Jerry Fitzgerald, Curly Mason, Bob Thorpe and Arn[illegible]n. Coach Don Crowe led in [illegible]s with five in a neat effort, [illegible]e each going to Mason and Fitzgerald, two apiece to Dugan, Wipper, Ashbee and Hildebrand, and one each to O'Hearn, Thorpe and Powless.

Best for the visitors were Al Garbutt, Bob Sutherland and Gord Steele. They never quit trying and made a lot of nice plays against stiff checking. Garbutt had three goals and two assists in a losing cause. Sutherland scored three, while Steele aided on a pair, Jack Sibbald and Pete Bradbin getting one each. An assist apiece went to Gwyl Evans and Don Beatty. Teams:

Brampton: Goal, Arthurs; defence, Beatty and Sutherland; centre, Steele; wings, Ferri and Garbutt; rover, Sibbald; alternates, Lyons, Burton, Evans and Bradbin.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Dugan and Ashbee; rover, Whitnell; alternates, Wipper, Crowe, Mason, Slater, Powless, Hildebrand and Creighton.

Referees, J. Murphy and L. Vipond.

The clever little outfielder, spending his fourth season with the club, was showered with gifts by Italo-Canadian admirers and friends. Mrs. Gionfriddo also received many excellent gifts during the interval between a double-header. GI thanked those responsible for the event and the fans. COMING OUT FROM SCOTLAND when Asphodel township was just opening up, Henry Fowlds was assisted by his sons in building up a great lumber business. Elizabeth Jean Fowlds who became Mrs. John Sharpe (LEFT) was a daughter of the pioneer lumberman, Henry Martin Fowlds, and his wife, Mary Victoria Campion (CENTRE). Henry Martin took over his father's lumber business. Another son was James Steele Fowlds (RIGHT) who also assisted his father in the business.

Henry Fowlds Pioneer Lumberman

Floating Rafts Of Timber To Quebec By Way Of The Trent And Lake Ontario

(This is the third and final article to be written by Mrs. Helen Marryat, Hastings, about Henry Fowlds, pioneer lumberman of the Trent.—Editor.)

By MRS. HELEN MARRYAT

Now that he had built one mill in the woods, Henry Fowlds was contemplating the construction of one at Crooks' Rapids and had been negotiating with the Hon. James Crooks in the winter of 1851. Details concerning which he discussed in a letter from Quebec, where he was selling the timber. Writing on June 23, he recalled having agreed with Mr. Crook's proposal, but wished the ownership of the waste-way on the south side of the river to be settled before he signed the final agreement.

The deed was not signed until September 27, 1851, but the argument over the use of the waste-way lasted well into the twentieth century. The Board of Works insisted upon an annual payment of £15-0-0 with many restrictions about the amount of power to be used—limit to be ten run of stones and water to be controlled at the dam in such a way as not to effect the running of cribs down the long slide.

Although Henry Fowlds became the owner of the water power and other property at Crooks' Rapids in June, 1851, he continued to live in Westwood.

Taking the Timber To Quebec

As usual he was in Quebec in June and his letter tells of the disposal of the timber in that year's rafts.

"My five drams got down in safety Saturday afternoon—the weather was calm—we landed 12 drams in Gilmour's boom—containing 9 drams of Charles Townsend's and 3 of Adam Earheart's gathered timber. Mine, with 3 drams of Gilchrist's, was to have been left at Mr. Walker's boom. We lay far out in the tide-water, and finding that I was expected to there being a large Ottawa raft between us and the landing piers; bring the timber to the Little River, at any rate till sold, I thought that I might save time by doing so at once. I could not bargain in Montreal with the agent for the lumber merchants for less than £10-0-0 to put me in Paradis' boom, and thought I should do better below." (Paradis' and Co. were big lumbermerchants in Levi) "But I was mistaken—for every boat is in the middle of their harvest and I was forced to go over to Point Levis to try the lumber merchant's boat again—where she had gone to take in coal. We agreed for £8-15-0. On Sunday morning it blew heavy—dragging the boat and tossing the timber much, but they lost none and got in by themselves, freed from the boat. To-day, Monday, I have got £250 and have paid off the hands—honestly, and as I think, fairly, without grumbling."

"Timber has been sold as high as 7c per foot from samples in shipping order, but measured off—I cannot say what I will get—perhaps 6½c and 10½c for elm. More has been gotten for a little larger (sticks, perhaps) averaging say 11c."

"Scott of Scott and Robb is after it—would like it for 6c—perhaps 6½c but I have not had an opportunity of judging its value."

Mention of the old Glasgow girm of Scott & Robb introduces old friends, who owned the "John Bunyan", and freighted across the Atlantic to Quebec. In 1867 William Robb's son married Eliza Fowlds, a daughter of James Fowlds.

To understand this long letter, one must realize the skill required to obtain the best anchorages in the river at Quebec, and the rivalry in getting the rafts as cheaply as possible. The Gilmours had been taking out timber along the Trent since about 1838 and they were usually Henry Fowlds' trusted friends. Mr. William Walker was the official assignee. Paradis & Anderson were also friends of long standing.

The prospect of a considerable trade in sawn lumber was also in his mind. He estimated that he would ask £5000 to deliver 1000,000 ft. of hardwood. 1000,000 ft. of pine, and-say-25,000 ft. of first and second deals in the next year's market. By the time Dr. Poole wrote his "Early Settlement of Peterborough" in 1867, he estimated that the Fowlds mills at Hastings were exporting over a million feet of lumber annually—mostly by the Cobourg and Peterborough railway via Harwood and their own steamboat, "The Forest City".

This angle of the timber selling business is thoroughly explained by the late D. D. Calvin in his "Saga of the St. Lawrence" (a most mis-leading and ambiguous title) for his grandfather established a rafting business at Garden Island where they did nothing else but raft the timber of inland owners, and their estimate of a raft's value was taken at Quebec without question. Evidently the Fowlds business was conducted throughout by themselves and their employees with no outside assistance.

Hit by Bad Storm

This letter from Henry Fowlds to his sons at home recounted the events of several days and a bad storm in particular. . .

"A heavy blow and storm of rain has done much damage here. Two rafts, the property of an Ottawa lumberman have been wrecked to single piece above Carouge, and others at Wood' and Petrie's, lying outside the boom, sufered. It has turned out very fortunate that care was taken of ours on Saturday night or we could not have escaped. I will do all I can to hurry the sale of what is here and get it measured immediately".

He sold his timber at a very good price, and returned to complete the purchase of the property at Crooks' Rapids, where he built a series of mills and factories, besides developing an extensive trade in sawn lumber with Ogdensburg dealers.

All this time Mr. Fowlds had been active in township politics and his continued absence sometimes irked the electorate. One meeting called at Norwood by the clerg, James Foley, had to be put off as no one turned up. However, Mr. Foley showed Mrs. Fowlds, who had driven over to explain her husband's regrets, through his new house, and this made her very much discontented with the new house her husband was building at "the other place". She wrote at length about the small windows and their smaller panes—the width so much out of keeping with the length of the house and execept for its lovely setting and situation by the river at the head of the rapids, she was not a bit pleased with the prospective dwelling. This house was built in 1856-7 and was the first frame house in the village. It is usually referred to as the Fowlds homestead.

Mr. Fowlds, when aged 66, met with considerable trouble in Quebec, in selling his timber . . .

"I had yesterday, through Mr. Quinn (a Quebec lumber merchant) the offer of 7¼c for the 2nd, white pine raft of 204,37 ft. —including 5189 ft. of hardwood.. Mr. Gilmour went over with Mr. Quinn and offered 7½c. Mr. Gilmour said he would think the matter over — this morning, September 6, 1856, he repeated his offer giving, with much reluctance, half an hour to see Mr. Walker who went and closed at 2% off 7¼ — the first offer I have got". . .

"Mr. Walker was very unsanguine about our timber. He has tried what he could, but could get no offer for the second raft nor for the first which required one penny per foot to put it in order to sell . . ."

What Mr. Fowlds did not realize was the great depression of 1857 was just around the corner. He did not make expenses that year and was a thoroughly disheartened man as he tried to explain to the sons at home why they must not expect any return for the year's work.

Taken Over By Son

This was by no means the end of their timber business, but Henry M. Fowlds took it over and his father stayed at home—much to his regret.

Having disposed of his Westwood property to John Powell, Henry M. Fowlds moved to The Rapids and settled down in the new house, "Hazelbank" which was soon a beauty spot—with its driveway bordered with hedges of pink and yellow roses and its huge bed of red geraniums in front. Many of the older residents of Hastings remember "old Mr. Fowlds" who always wore light colored suits in the summer and a flower in his buttonhole. He drove about in his wife's low basket phaeton with the old white horse "Nettie". He was of medium height, thick-set, with a ruddy complexion and bright blue eyes. He had a fine voice and acted as precentor in the church for which he gave the land and lumber, as he had already done at Westwood. He had a soft Scotch voice which could rise to a thundering roar if the occasion demanded. His favourite song was "Loudoun's Bonny Banks and Braes" and he bought a Heitzman piano and had it bought down from Harwood so that his granddaughter Theresa, could play to him. His wife died in December, 1863, and his eldest grandson and namesake, Henry, died at Lindsay, after a sudden illness at Apsley, where he had gone to inspect their new limits. He failed in business about 1865 having backed a note for a friend and the remainder of his life was overshadowed by the sense of failure.

Perhaps if he had not ventured he might have won more material advantage, but his was the spirit of the times, and if he had been cautious and prudent and careful, he might have been rich when he died on June 6, 1872, but he might not have been included by Dr. Poole of among those enterprising men in the square timber business—Messrs. Kempt, McAuley, Dickson, Townsend, Platt, Cockburn, Fowlds, Gilchrist, Dennistolun, Leeper, Strickland, Short, Scott, Buck, Stone, Smith, Caldwell, Thompson and others, who—thinned the forests and swelled the export of this great staple (timber) to an enormous extent—an immense amount of capital being invested in these operations yearly.

Although he may be said to have been the founder of the villages of Westwood and Hastings, I think it would have pleased him best to be remembered as a pioneer lumberman.

Parable Of Good Samaritan Reveals Neighbourliness

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

It is the tragedy of Christendom that the plain, simple teachings of the Master concerning love and brotherhood, enforced by His example, have been neglected, underemphasized, and unfulfilled.

One need only look at our world to realize the vast gap between Christian profession and Christian practice. In all churches "orthodoxy" has consisted far more in an assumed rightness regarding matters often deeply speculative, than in exactness in obeying the commands and following the example of Jesus in the relationships of daily life.

And this, I think, is particularly true with regard to one of the clearest and plainest utterances of Jesus, the meaning and application of which, it would seem impossible to miss.

This is the passage in the tenth chapter of Luke's Gospel, that we call "The Parable of the Good Samaritan."

The teaching that Jesus gave to the world—and professed Christianity has no vital authority except as it gives effect to that teaching—is found not only in the great pronouncements of the Sermon on the Mount; it is found and exemplified, often enforced and made plain, in incidents of the dealing of Jesus with individual men and women, and the little stories that He told, that we call parables.

Of these two parables, I think, are outstanding: the Parable of the Prodigal son, revealing the very heart of the Gospel of God's love and grace for lost men, and the Parable of the Good Samaritan, making plain God's way for man in relation to his fellowmen. In that latter parable is the great, ultimate definition of the meaning of neighborliness, love, and brotherhood.

The lawyer in that parable, who asked the question, "Who is my neighbor?" is typical of the generations of quibbling, arguing, controversing Christians, who have tried to put their own limiting interpretations on everything great and good, when they ought to have been exploring and practicing the limitless opportunities of being and doing good.

What is notable in the parable, beyond the glorified action of the Good Samaritan, and the ignominious failure of the priest and Levite, who would have despised him, is the very limitlessness that Jesus gave to His definition of "neighbor."

One must note how He turned the question upon the questioner. Jesus did not say that one's neighbor is this man, or that man, or even that the neighbor is the man who needs help. He said, rather, "The neighbor is yourself; the neighbor is the man who helps."

The man stricken on the road to Jericho may not have been a neighborly sort at all. We don't know anything about him except what the parable tells us about him, as he lay there wounded and dying on the road.

The neighbor was the Samaritan. And the limitlessness of neighborliness for you and me is found in that word of Jesus: "Go and do thou likewise!"

Hunt For Village

ANCIENT CAMPFIRE SITES ON WASHBURN ISLAND, north shore of Lake Scugog, are being probed and catalogued by members of the Royal Ontario Museum. Pottery, flint weapons, fish and animal bones tell them of an ancient tribe of Point Peninsula Indians who camped there from two to three thousand years ago. In Top Left photo, Mary Macpherson, Foreground, reveals shreds and the base of a pottery cooking vessel; Paul Sweetman and Jerry Seary work in plots behind her. The Top Right photo is a close-up of some of the Indian relics — a hand adze, arrow heads and stone net sinker. A general view of the digging plots is shown in the lower photo; Russell Harper, in charge of the field work, is in the foreground.—Examiner Staff Photos.

Rural School Captures Prov. Prize

SS No. 6, Dummer Wins Competition For Improvement

A Dummer township school has won the Rural School Improvement Competition for all Ontario It is the first time that this award has gone to a school in the inspectorate of Peterborough East.

The school is No. 6 of School Area No. 2, and the teacher is Miss Roberta Brooks of Belmont-Methuen.

During the past school year local residents, organized by Trustee John Danford, have completely changed the complexion of the one-room brick building and the surrounding grounds.

A new cement walk has been laid to the front door of the school. The wooden trim has been painted and the shingles stained to give the place a more attractive look, and shrubs have been planted.

Two good playgrounds replace one poor one. The old one has been filled in and levelled and is set aside mainly for the smaller children. And a baseball diamond was created out of a vacant field purchased for a nominal sum from a church just east of the school.

New fences have been built and painted.

Two swings and two teeter-totters were also built so the pupils could enjoy themselves at recess.

The landscaping, painting and general cleanup caught the eye of John F. Clark, horticultural fieldman for the Department of Agriculture. He awarded the 25-pupil school first prize in the rural school improvement competition. So the Dummer children and their hard-working parents have something to feel proud of.

"There has certainly been a wonderful improvement", said K. O. Birkin, inspector for Peterborough East. "I didn't think they could accomplish so much."

Mr. Birkin praised the residents for their work and singled out Trustee Danford for organizational ability, and enthusiasm in pushing the project.

In competition with seven other schools No. 6 Dummer won the Gordon K. Fraser trophy for its improvement. After capturing the county award the school then went up against competitors from all over rural Ontario. It beat them all.

Awards will likely be made in a special ceremony at the beginning of the next school year.

Free Parking—Almost

A motorist walked into the city police station a few days ago brandishing a parking ticket. "Who put this on my car?" he wanted to know. The constable who had tagged the motorist's car happenede to be on duty in the station and asked the driver what the trouble was. "I want to congratulate you," the motorist said. "Ever since the parking meters were installed three years ago, I have been parking my car downtown and I have never put a cent in a meter. This is the first time I've been given a parking ticket."

First Soldier Returns Here From Korea War

First Peterborough soldier home from Korea is Corporal George Reid, 499 O'Connel Rd., who returned at noon Friday on compassionate leave. His wife has been ill in hospital for some time.

Corp. Reid, who says Korea is the toughest place to fight in he has seen, was with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment during World War II, and fought with them through the war.

The corporal is in the second battalion of the Princess Pats, and has been fighting with them "mostly on the central front."

Rough, Tough Place

Of Korea, he says: "It's a rough, tough place." In winter, the cold is bitter and the snow is seldom thick on the ground. As a result, UN soldiers last winter fought knee-deep in slush.

The Chinese are excellent marksmen, the corporal declares. "You never get them until they've got one of your lads first. Then you have to go for the flash of their guns."

Their style of fighting is to dig a small fox-hole, surround it with brush and poke a light machine gun through an opening toward the UN lines.

Expert Turks

"The Chinese laugh at bullets, but they run from steel," he said. The Turks, fighting on one flank on the Canadian force, were expert bayonet fighters, and adept at removing Communist troops from difficult places.

On the other flank of the Canadian force were the Australians. Corporal Reid said he had spoken to both Turks and Australians and reported that these allies said they would rather fight beside Canadians than any other troops.

The corporal should be no stranger to readers of the Examiner. Several months ago, a picture of him frying a chicken over a fire "somewhere in Korea" was printed on this newspaper's front page.

Souvenirs

Displaying his souvenirs—silks, ties, a miniature camera, and paintings on silk—the corporal remarked that he had read of a Toronto soldier from his own regiment telling a newspaper he couldn't bring any souvenirs back to Canada.

"I did it," said Corporal Reid. "I don't know why he said that."

Holding up a silk shirt, the corporal said he had paid about $1.75 worth of Japanese money for it. "You'd pay about seven or eight dollars over here," he chuckled.

At present on a brief, 48-hour leave, the corporal will report to Military District 5 headquarters in Kingston on the weekend, and return to Peterborough with 30 days leave.

His plans after the 30 days are gone? "I've been in the army 18 years. I guess I'll stay in it for three or four more."

Legal Aid Clinic To Start Mid-August In County For People Without Money

W. C. Grant Says Clinic To Serve County For People Whose Income Below $900 Plus $200 For Dependents

A legal aid clinic will be established in this city by the Peterborough County Law Association in mid-August. This announcement was made today, by William C. Grant, vice-president of the law association. This clinic, which will serve the county, will be part of a province-wide Ontario legal aid plan organized by the Law Society of Upper Canada. The object of the plan is to provide legal assistance to needy persons. The Ontario legal aid plan came into being in June when the act passed by the provincial legislature giving the law society governmental sanction, came into force.

W. Earle Smith, KC, secretary of the Law Society, was appointed director of the Ontario Legal Aid Plan. The Peterborough County director has as yet to be appointed by the Ontario director in conjunction with the Peterborough Law Association.

Three Members

In addition to the county director, a county advisory committee of not less than three members will be appointed by the County Law Association from its own members. This committee will assist and advise the county director.

The actual clinics will consist of two or more persons with at least one member a solicitor. The county association will canvass its membership and the local welfare organizations for a list of volunteers who will take turns in conducting the clinic.

The function of the clinic will be: 1, To ascertain the nature of the work required to be done by the applicant for legal aid; 2, To dispose of applications, either having no merit or requiring only advice that can be given on the spot; to report to the county director all cases requiring further services of the solicitor; 4, To ascertain the extent of the ability of the applicant to pay for the services of a solicitor.

$900 Income

To be eligible for legal aid in the clinic, the applicants annual earnings or means of subsistence must be less than $900, together with an additional amount of $200 for each dependent.

This plan has been under consideration by leading Ontario lawyers for the past two years. It provides for clinics in the 42 counties and districts where there are local law associations.

Previously this province operated under a declaration made by the Canadian Bar Association. This declaration stated that "provision of competent legal services, without fee, for anyone who through lack of funds is unable to retain his own solicitor, is the responsibility of the legal profession."

The first legal aid plan established in Canada came into effect in Alberta in 1932 for civil cases. Five years later Manitoba followed suit and soon after enlarged its plan to include criminal cases. Saskatchewan has established a province-wide plan for both criminal and civil cases and legal assistance for needy persons is also provided by the bar associations of Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia, and Saint John, New Brunswick.

Nearly 6,000 Start Holidays

A total of 5,955 employees of Peterborough industries will start their holidays this weekend. Seven industries in the city will be closed down for a two-week period.

These industries are CGE, De Laval Company, Dominion Woollens, Peterborough Lock Manufacturing, Canadian Raybestos Company, A. Wander Ltd., and Colonial Weaving Company.

This coming week is the second greatest industrial shutdown in the city for employee vacations. The first week in August will be the peak week with 7,060 industrial employees on vacation and a total of 13 industries shut down.

In addition to the industries already mentioned the following plants will be closed during the week starting July 29: Peterborough Lumber Company, Martin-Hewitt Containers, McGinness Trailer, Brinton - Peterborough Carpet, Outboard Marine Company, Peterborough Canoe Company.

The Westclox vacation period was the first two weeks in July.

The Canada Packers Ltd., Peterborough Examiner, Peterborough Co-op and Quaker Oats stagger their employees' vacations through the summer.

Me First

Parking in downtown Peterborough can be expensive.

Friday afternoon, two cars tried to get into the same parking space at the south curb of Simcoe St. The rear fender of one was nearly torn off.

T. A. Campbell, Millbrook, was double- parked beside a car on Simcoe St. near George St., waiting for a parked truck to pull away. Donald Weir, Indian River, was driving east on Simcoe and when the truck pulled out, he headed his car for the vacant space. Neither made it.

3,000-Year-Old Campsite Explored By Archaeologists

By NICK NICKELS

When southern Ontario boasts of her early history, she does not seem to be able to go back much farther than the time of Champlain. In the span of time that is a mere three and a quarter centuries. That she has a much older heritage, dating back two or three thousand years is being proven at the present time by a group of archaeologists from the Royal Ontario Museum.

At the southwest tip of Washburn Island on Lake Scugog, roughly eight water miles from Port Perry and two from Ceasarea, a field party of six experts headed by Russell Harper, are digging through a half-mile of campfire ash, or camping sites of the ancient Point Peninsula Indians.

Whether this large encampment was originally made by large numbers of peoples during a short space of time, or, smaller groups over a long period, the diggers have not yet determined, but they have unearthed enough proof to know that it is very old.

In the northern part of Victoria county an amateur party sponsored by the Department of Education is examining a 350-year-old site.

To cottagers and natives, on Washburn Island, the archeologists seem like a queer sort. They spend the daylight hours removing sod and six inches of topsoil from neat five-foot squares. They shave off layers of dirt with small hand trowels and reveal small bits of broken pottery, fish and animal bones, arrow and spear heads, stone net sinkers and the like. And they are elated with their discovery.

Not New

Washburn Island is not a new relic site. It was first brought to the attention of the museum people 50 years ago by the late Col. George Laidlaw of Lindsay who sent specimens and recommended investigation. The campsites of the Point Peninsula Indians were not unknown to the museum even then.

There are other such places on Sugar Island of Rice Lake, in Sincoe County near Collingwood, on the French River and near Niagara. In all there are 800 Indian campsites of much historical value in Ontario but very few of the really early Point Peninsula tribe.

Their field trip to Scugog this year was further promoted by Frank Ridley of Islington, a prominent amateur archaeologist and Percy Wakeford who readily gave his permission for extensive digging on his farm.

Before The Hurons

The reason why there is so much interest in the Peninsulas is that they preceded the early Hurons who were almost entirely wiped out by the warlike Iroquois. Our present-day Mississaugas came into the wilderness many years after the Iroquois laid waste Southern Ontario.

To date from the Peninsula diggings many interesting relics have come to light. Bits of broken pottery of intricate and tasteful pressed designs have proved to the experts that the ancients, aside from hunting and fishing, dabbled in crafts of a sort. Some of the designs show the pattern mark of woven fabrics which, they know, had been woven from the milkweed fibre or wild hemp.

There are flint arrow heads of all sizes, some small spear heads, a stone hand adze and a stone net sinker. No human bones have been revealed, since this is not a burial ground, but there are bone pieces of deer, catfish, beaver and wild turkey.

In places some Iroquois relics have been found in earth layers close to the surface. This indicates to them that these later peoples used the ancient campsites.

No Charcoal Yet

The proof that the archeologists would like most of all to find is campfire charcoal. This matter is radio active and on being tested by a very sensitive

Lindsay Men Trapped As Trench Caves In

LINDSAY, July 21—Two Lindsay men were trapped Thursday afternoon in the cave-in of a sewer trench they were digging on Lindsay's Queen St.

One, David Curtin, suffered fractured ribs, and the other, Ray Morden, was released after X-rays were taken. Both suffered shock.

Foreman Jack Glover of the construction gang, said a quantity of dirt slid across the trench and pinned the two men to one side.

Fellow-workmen dug with their hands and quickly freed the two men.

AND, SAFETY FIRST

To the hundreds of people taking off on the big vacation of the next two weeks, may be extended the friendly wish:—"Have a good time, folks."

MAIN ST. TOPICS

FIELD OF BLUE

Just to mention a field of wild chicory on the north side of Patterson St., out near Monaghan Road, may invite the scythe of a weed inspector. It is an attractive show of "blue sailors" even if as chicory it is on the proscribed list, and up near the top.

PROMISING IN WEST

Damaging hail in some localities of Alberta has been reported this week. Some areas of Manitoba are dry, but elsewhere on the prairies moisture has been satisfactory, wheat is in head and the crop is promising. The west generally needs a stretch of sunny, warm weather.

NCO TRAINEE

Sapper Marvin Johnston, 20, Peterborough, is one of the 92 students in training for a junior NCO's rank near the 38th Parallel in Korea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnston, 188 Rubidge St., and was chosen from the 57th Independent Field Squadron, RCE, for the course.

LOADED WITH CASH

With three weeks pay in their jeans, on the way to the bank for saving or to the highway for holiday spending, there must have been a stack of money passed out by factories of Peterborough this weekend. Older employees are getting three weeks holidays, but for the great majority it is two, suggesting an economy that has much to be said in favor of it.

HORTICULTURAL SECRETARY

John F. Clark, assistant director of horticultural societies, has been appointed secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Association, succeeding John A. Carroll. He has also been a lecturer and horticultural fieldman for the Ontario Department of Agriculture, and is known to many of the members of Peterborough Horticultural Society.

FIRST PETERBOROUGH SOLDIER home from Korea arrived Friday on the noon train. He is Corporal George Reid, 499 O'Connell Rd., of the Second Battalion of the Princess Pats. ABOVE, he is shown holding his three-year-old son, Lonnie, who wears a silk jacket the corporal brought home from Japan. Corporal Reid's wife has been ill in hospital and he was granted compassionate leave.

Charge Welsh Barring Union

TORONTO, July 21—(CP)—A union official Friday night accused Liquor Commissioner Arthur Welsh of trying to stop union organization of Ontario Liquor Control Board employees.

William Mills, president of the General Truck Drivers' Union (AFL), said in a statement that his union was almost ready to apply for certification when Mr. Welsh told the executive members of the board's employees' association that the association alone would be the bargaining agent for the workers.

In a telephone interview Friday night from his home in Sunderland, Mr. Welsh said, "I certainly won't deal with the union as long as they have no majority."

Building Plans For Smart Houses

HOUSE NO. 449—Appealingly situated on the bank of a broad river, this stone house in the Colonial manner stands out as a splendid example of present day home building. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fullerton commissioned an architect to draw up plans for them, and they have every reason to be proud of the result. The room layout is particularly happy as it provides every room, including the kitchen, with a fine view of the water. Look at the huge windows overlooking the rear view in the living room, dining room and study. A visitor is immediately impressed by the graciousness of theentrance hall. It reflects the unsual degree of good taste displayed throughout the house.—For working drawings write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Modern Home Deserving Of Chic, Charming Interior

A beautiful house deserves the complement of a charming and gracious interior. Our new houses are so inspiring that there should be no timidity of approach in closely relating the architectural backgrounds with the interior decoration.

They should join together to complete a design for living—a whole, composed of parts wherein nothing can be added or taken away without detriment. In the interior of the home, with unlimited possibilities for a wide variety of arrangements, the home planner has ample opportunity for achieving this harmonious design.

Floors

Many new homes have no basement, and the finished floor construction is a smooth concrete slab. This is made possible through radiant heating, and the floor actually becomes the source of the heat. The concrete may be colored and waxed, if economy is a deciding factor, or one may lay an asphalt tile, rubber tile, linoleum, or wood floor over the concrete. Carpeting may be laid on a pad directly over the concrete. This wide range of materials also gives an interesting range of colors and textures to study. Many delightful effects can be obtained in the treatment of the walls and ceilings to blend with the flooring material needed.

Walls

Today, wall surfaces are designed to be more than mere partitions enclosing a room, and they may be of other material than plaster. Dramatic effects have been intrduced in the use of glass walls and picture windows. Some walls, with built-in devices, are a part of the storage scheme of convenient living. In the planning of combined areas, there are many instances where fabric partitions are used, and with these and other textures and colors with which to work, a masterful planning job can achieve a harmonious combination.

Ceilings

One of the best places to use acoustical materials is in the ceiling, and either composition tiles or acoustical plaster will give the desired result. This holds true even though the ceiling may vary in height, as is the case in many of the new homes. While it is still quite general practice to use neutral tones on the ceiling, many rooms have been given new life by the use of usual color treatments there. Rooms in which the color of the ceiling is complementary to the color of the walls, instead of matching it exactly, are becoming increasingly familiar. Here, again, the originality and good taste of the homeplanner are the deciding factors.

Fabrics

In the new home, emphasis should be placed on the usse of drape fabrics for large glass areas, for separation of rooms, for absorbing sound or for providing large solid surfaces of plain colors.

Washable plastic fabrics for drapes and furnishings may be available in the very near future, and should be considered by the potential builder as an economical and practical medium of color and decoration. The designing of rooms for dual-use especially lends itself to the use of fabrics with interesting textures and colors. In the home where there was once a doorway or wall, the modern designer may use a fabric partition which can be pulled back when desired.

Details, Furnishings, Etc.

While there are many practical ideas for built-in furniture and appointments in some rooms, such as the work centre, bedrooms, living room and activities room, and a very great need (and desirability, too) for concealed storage units, there still exists the need for proper movable units. The only desirable movable units are those which actually serve a purpose, and the only real purpose is serving you. Don't clutter up your house with useless furniture, and when you do move in pieces, make sure they are in the right proportion for your room. Pictures, lamps, occasional tables, chairs . . . all should serve a practical purpose, either for design or for some functional use. Correct appointments and good taste in the use of color add much charm to any home. Plan to enable your family to enjoy beauty and comforts as well as convenient living.

VON Awards Four Bursaries

HAMILTON, July 20 (CP)—The Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada has awarded four bursaries, each valued at $750, to students entering their fifth year in B. Sc.N. course at McMaster University, Alma E. Reid, director of the department of nursing, announced Friday.

Awarded the bursaries are Agnes Dick, Kitchener; Margaret Jardine, Hespeler; Margaret Peart, Hamilton; and Miss Jean Robertson, Dunsford.

The bursaries are open to nurses throughout Canada who are qualifying themselves for public health nursing under the auspices of a university school of nursing.

Careful Planning Essential For Small House Livability

Tailoring a house to suit a family's needs and financial abilities is a task which can best be accomplished with expert assistance. But even without this help the suitability of a house plan can be judged by the prospective homeowner himself through close assessment of the family's present and future requirements.

The growing trend toward small house construction, resulting from constantly increasing building costs, has emphasized the importance of intelligent house planning to obtain a maximum amount of livable space and as much comfort and convenience as possible. Basically, provision should be made for privacy for the bedrooms, a living room of suitable size and a conveniently located kitchen. The bathroom should be easily accessible from all rooms. Whether the dining area is contained in a separate room or not will depend on the size of the kitchen and all other rooms will be dependent on the relative importance placed on each.

The circulation of traffic within and between the rooms, the relationship of the rooms to one another and the importance of light and ventilation must also be considered. Care must also be taken to prevent the living or dining room from becoming an unsatisfactory traffic lane. The dining room should be convenient to the kitchen and adequate cross-ventilation is desirable for the bedrooms.

Economic and intelligent house planning requires the elimination or reduction of waste space such as halls and, in a small house, can be achieved most readily if some of the rooms are used for more than one activity.

Say Fishing Best In Years Need Determined Angler

By The Canadian Press

This is the year for fish but not for fishermen.

On the British Columbia coast, it's the drought—too hot to fish. In the West it's the rain—too wet to fish. In Central and Maritime Canada fishermen brave the rain and blackflies, mosquitos, tent caterpillars and horseflies.

Reports hooked in a Canadian Press survey today indicated that fishing is the best it has been in years for the determined Canadian angler.

On the West Coast, they're talking about fighting 25-pound Kamloops trout in the interior and the thrill of hooking a tasty salmon in one of the coast rivers. There's a good supply still swimming around for the catching.

Alberta reports lots of fish but few catches. The difficulty has been that heavy rains have turned roads into mudholes and clouded the water. (Fishermen insist the fish can't see the hook as well.)

The Alberta standby, raw beef, is still the best bait, but only the wealthy are using it this year.

More Profitable Centre

Manitoba is one of the more profitable fishing centres. Paul G. Edwards of Chicago drove home from a fishing trip in a new car, first prize in the annual Northern Manitoba Trout Festival at Flin Flon. He caught a 37-pound, 12-ounce trout.

Trout, lake, speckled or eastern brook, are the favorite catch in Manitoba waters. Other popular prizes are Winnipeg Goldeye, pickerel, bass and pike.

High water last spring produced ideal spawning conditions and paved the way for superb fishing in Ontario. Every district reports excellent hauls of bass, trout maskinonge, pike and pickerel. Live bait is the favorite lure.

Salmon and trout, the perennial fish of the Maritimes are running well this year. Salt water fishing, allowed without a licence, is gaining in angler appeal with giant tuna the prize catch. Inland, visitors can fish for $5 licence fee.

Teems With Salmon

Newfoundland, dotted with hundreds of small lakes and ponds, teems with salmon and trout in numbers sufficient to take the waiting out of fishing The annual May 24 "Trouting Day" say the provincial capital, St. John's, a near ghost town as residents headed for lakes and streams.

Quebec has a whopping fish story to make up for reports of poor salmon fishing and average trout bites.

Straight-faced Indians on Lake Mistassini, north of Quebec, say they caught a grey trout weighing 158 pounds.

Northern Saskatchewan thinks it has a record with a 54-pound lake trout taken at Lac La Rouge, 190 miles north of Prince Albert. One jackfish weighed 27½ pounds and measured 50 inches.

The lake has become the favorite fishing hole of Americans who come in by plane. Non-resident licences in April brought in $2,725 compared with $361 for the same month last year.

Similar increases in fishing licences issued were reported from most provinces—all indicating that more Canadians have been bitten by the angling fever than ever before.

And if you're after more than fish, you might visit Ontario. One angler threw in his line and pulled out a wallet containing $33.25.

Mother Of Nine 100 Years Old Wants Air Trip

OTTAWA—(CP)—Mrs. Jeanne Majaury of Darling, Lanark county observed her 100th birthday the other day expressed the wish to do a little exploring—by air.

Mrs. Majaury doesn't want to go to any place in particular but wants to see something new. Her ambition is understandable as during her life she hasn't been further than Kingston, and The Thousand Islands, about 60 miles away.

Mother of nine children, Mrs. Majabury possesses all her faculties although her hearing is slightly impaired. She has no aches or pains and, in fact, has known no real sickness in her lifetime.

All her children were born without medical assistance. Access to the lok farmhouse at Darling was difficult, she explained. Today her eldest child is 75, her youngest 56.

Active at household tasks, Mrs. Majaury gets up at 7 a.m. and sews, knits and quilts. Once a month she goes by car to the grocery store at Lanark, 14 miles away.

Helped 15 Others

Well known for her generosity, she is said to have helped at least 15 other children at one time or another, and her door has never been closed for anyone in need.

"God has blessed me for it," she says. "I am indeed fortunate today. I know others 30 and 40 years younger who don't get around as well as I do."

"Things are going too fast today," said Mrs. Majaury who would like to live another 100 years to see what happens to the world.

She likes a nip of brandy now and then—"The only medicine we ever had in the place"—and she also smokes a pipe—a standard briar model—occasionally.

A radio fan, Mrs. Majaury likes such diversified programs as devotional and news broadcasts and "the old-time stuff." One of her favorite records is "Lord MacDonald's Reel."

War Courtesy Pays Dividends

WEST HARTLEPOOL, Durham, England—(CP)—James L. Stevenson, local air-raid warden during the last war, has discovered that kindness and courtesy pays—in his case far more than he expected.

More than 10 years ago when German night raiders were unloading their cargoes of high explosive and incendiaries on the industrial city of Hartlepool, Stevenson took persona charge of seeing to the safety of three elderly spinster residents. Immediately an alert was sounded he would escort them to the nearest shelter, provide them with blankets and make them cups of tea.

After the war, the ex-warden heard no more of his elderly charges until the death of Miss Alice Emmerson, 81, the last surviving spinster.

When her will was probated, Stevenson was named as the principal beneficiary, which left him the residue of the estate, estimated in excess of $60,000.

FOR PARENTS ONLY

Camp For Your Child

By NANCY CLEAVER

"For once you have been a camper,
Something has come to stay
Deep in your heart forever,
Which nothing can take away;
And Heaven can only be Heaven
With a camp in which to play."
From "To an Old Camper"
By Mary S. Edgar.

Camps for boys and girls are part of our modern holiday life. In our land of lakes and rivers and woods, Canadians have a wonderful choice of camp sites for their you..g people. Thousands of youngsters every summer attend camp and thousands more urge their parents, "Do let me go to camp!"

There are many benefits from a child attending a good camp. This can be a very useful part in the education of a boy or girl. It is a real adventure to be away from home, far from the supervision of parents. The camper must learn to work and play happily with other campers and take directions from members of the camp staff.

Before agreeing to this expense and this separation from a son or daughter, parents want to be sure that the particulr camp in question is in the hands of capable people. Is the director the kind of person who will look after your child's welfare? Are the counsellors chosen carefully?

Is every precaution taken to prevent accidents, particularly during the swimming and boating hours? What about the standards of cleanliness and food provided? Are the meals well - balanced, attractive and sufficient in quantity to satisfy hearty appetites? What about the camp programme — is there good leadership for different interests and equipment for handicrafts, sports and other recreation? Where do the campers sleep, and is the tent or cabin and the bed all right? These are just a few of the many questions conscientious mothers want to ask.

One of the best ways to find out about a camp is to talk with campers, and the parents of campers, who attended camp the summer before. Are the campers enthusiastic about that camp? Were mother and dad satisfied with their investment in a holiday at camp for their youngster?

Camp opens many new doors. One of the most useful things which it accomplishes is that children receive regular, expert instruction in swimming and in handling boats. The handicraft interest groups often initiate a boy or girl into a hobby which will be enjoyed for a long time.

In the campfire evening programmes, youngsters find a new delight in singing, in dramatics, in story telling and reading aloud. In the informal talks and discussion groups many campers stumble on new ideas. The democratic atmosphere of camp breaks down foolish religion and racial prejudices which many children acquire from thoughtless adults.

In terms of learning to stand on one's own feet and not be too dependent on home, in the ability to make friends, in the skills and ideas which are gained, camp pays big dividends. A week or longer living in the out-of-doors at camp gives a child, at a very impressionable age, a wonderful enjoyment of Nature — of the wild life in water and in the woods, of flowers and trees and stars.

Last, but not least, during the camp period the parents and the child have a holiday from each other. Quite possibly they both need it! After this separation, they will appreciate each other more. If at all possible, don't let summer pass without your child getting to camp!

DOROTHY DIX

Owe Mother-in-law Loyalty But Not Subservience

DEAR MISS DIX: I just had to write and tell you I don't agree with your idea that a wife owes something to her mother-in-law for the good husband she has. Right now I am living with my mother - in - law for no reason whatever except that she's lonesome.

Dorothy Dix

My husband and I have lived alone. We raised two children, then when they married the war broke out which brought one of my children home to live with us for almost four years. We finally thought we were going to live alone after the end of war, when my mother-in-law decided to come and live with us, my husband being an only child. There was nothing we could do about it. She is in perfect health, has all the money she needs and just wants company.

In my estimation there are worse things in this world than being lonesome. If my mother-in-law were sick or couldn't take care of herself, I wouldn't feel the way I do. I still am of the opinion that when a man or woman marries, he doesn't marry the whole family. We all have a right to our lives. Just letting off some steam after a hectic day.

CONNIE

ANSWER: Well, I hope you felt better after venting the steam for I'm afraid I won't be too much help. No more specious statement was ever made than that we have "a right to live our own lives." The only people who can do so are those completely without human ties—no parents, husband, wife or children—and I'm sure theirs is not an enviable state.

Family Life Best

Anyone alone in the world would gladly exchange his or her lot for the responsibilities of family life. The day you lose your last responsibility and can truly "live your own life," is the day you will really deserve and get my pity.

I also take exception to the interpretation you place on my statement that wife owes something to a mother-in-law who has raised a fine son that daughter-in-law was only too happy to acquire as a husband. The young wife owes love and loyalty to the older woman; no one would suggest that her duty extends to making a doormat of herself. There is a wide difference between the thoughtless girl who marries a man and proceeds to separate him entirely from his mother permitting perhaps a short monthly visit and a card on mother's day, and the girl who becomes a servant to her in-laws. You certainly don't seem to fit the latter category.

Your mother-in-law has been with you just a few years—not all your married life, and while you don't say anything about her character or disposition, the absence of such thought would indicate that she's not too difficult a person to get along with. Also, she is no financial burden to you. You are a mother-in-law yourself! Would you like the doors of your children's homes closed to you if you needed help?

Actually, Connie, there are few things in this world harder to bear than loneliness. I have always advocated a diversity of outside interests for the older woman to combat the lonesomeness of old age, but such activities are poor substitutes for the companionship of her own children. Don't begrudge this companionship to your mother-in-law. If she becomes too burdensome, try to get her into a home of her own, but don't cut her off entirely from the society of her son and grandchildren.

DEAR MISS DIX: My fiance and I are looking to you to solve a problem for us. He believes it is up to a girl to suggest the time to go home when we are out, while I believe it should be more or less a matter of mutual consent. It places me at an unfair advantage to be so constantly aware of the clock with no help whatsoever from him.

E. M. F.

ANSWER: Your fiance is right, in theory. It is up to the girl to suggest the time of departure when visiting, or to make the move to go home when on a date. However, since this trifle seems to have developed into a major point of disagreement between you two, I can't see why it shouldn't be settled by mutual consent before you embark on your evening's entertainment. Just settle on the approximate time you would like to leave a party or place of amusement, then when that hour approaches, tactfully mention the fact that it is time to leave.

Since this matter is one on which etiquette gives the right of decision to the girl, why not take advantage of it?

Readers' Saturday Column

Conducted By MARY MOORE

Question: I enjoy your column very much and have clipped it out regularly, although I have not managed to try all of the recipes so far. However, those I have tried are delicious. I am enclosing a stamp for your very popular calorie chart. Have you a timetable for broiling meats? I would like to try this instead of frying.

L. A.

Answer: I have sent the chart.

Timetable For Broiling

BEEFSTEAK: This includes Wing, Club, Tenderloin, Porterhouse, T-bone and Sirloin: 1 inch thick rare 5 minutes per side; 1½ inches thick, rare 9 minutes per side; 2 inches thick, rare 14 minutes per side. One inch thick medium 6 minutes per side; 1½ inches thick medium 10 minuted per side; 2 inches medium 17 minutes per side. One inch thick well-done 7 minutes per side; 1½ inches well-done 12 minutes per side; 2 inches well-done 19 minutes per side.

LAMB: Chops 1 inch thick medium done 9 minutes per side; 2 inches thick medium done 15 minutes per side. One inch thick well-done 7 minutes per side; 1½ inches thick well-done 11 minutes per side; 2 inches thick well-done 17 minutes per side. Lamb is never served rare.

CURED PORK: Broiler pan with rack on, should be about 4 inches from preheated broiler and bacon very thin, requires about 4 minutes before turning over. It requires about 2 minutes on the second side. One-inch slice cured smoked ham requires 10 minutes on both sides to be well done. Vegetables are broiled on hot broiler until tender. Electric broilers must be preheated.

Question: Can you please send me some recipes for canning meats such as chicken, pheasant, rabbit and venison.

Mrs. Florence B.

✧ ✧ ✧

Answer: Meats should be pressure-canned but if they are not they should have long process in hot-water bath or oven. Directions follow:

Canned Chicken

Two-year-old hens are best. Trim, dress and clean as you would if you were roasting the birds. Leave whole or cut in pieces, cover with slightly salted cold water and simmer covered until meat falls from bones. (If precooked in pressure cooker this takes 55 minutes at 240 degs. Fahr. If boiled at 212 deg. Fahr. it requires 3 hours.) Lift birds from boiling kettle onto large tray, let cool until you can handle it then strip meat from bones. Put into sterile jars. Strain the liquid in which it was boiled and to each quart jar add ½ teaspoon salt. (If desired you may add 5 tablespoons gelatine which have been soaked in 1 cup cold water to each quart broth.) Pour over boiling hot broth to within ½-inch of top of jars, put on rubbers, rings and tops and seal to within one-quarter turn of tight. Process at 250 deg. Fahr. (15 lbs. pressure). Quart glass jars require 120 minutes; pints 85 minutes. If processed on rack in pan containing water in oven process them for 3 hours at 275 deg. Fahr., being very cautious when you open the door to cool the oven and jars enough to remove them.

✧ ✧ ✧

CANNED RABBIT: Same as chicken but shorter preboiling time for tenderness.

✧ ✧ ✧

CANNED VENISON: Same as chicken but longer preboiling time for tenderness.

Story Without Sequel

An incident which Dr. Bingham was wont to recall in his later years had the eerie tinge of a Poe tale. On a professional call to the sparsely settled area up toward Crowes Landing and the head of Stony Lake, the doctor was overtaken in the evening by ominous clouds and the threat of a violent storm. He elected to remain at a farm house near the lake where he sometimes stayed when conditions forbade a return to Warsaw. He and the farmer had just retired to bed on the upper floor when they heard a knock at the front door. Going down, they admitted a stranger who explained that he had pulled up his boat at the shore as he did not wish to strike across the lake in the darkness and driving storm.

Inviting the newcomer to sleep on the ground floor, the other two returned to bed above. Long after midnight, the doctor recounted, all three heard three sharp knocks on the front door. Going to the door they found no one. Three times the triple knock was repeated. Though those within responded on each occasion no trace was found of a visitor.

Going to sleep again, the doctor and the farmer awakened in the early morning. When they went downstairs they discovered that the guest had departed. His boat, too, was gone.

Later the boat was found drifting, overturned, far out on the lake. There was nothing to indicate that the stranger had gained the rough Burleigh shore. He was believed to have drowned.

So ended a story without a sequel. Dr. Bingham in his later years was disposed to write off the strangest incident of an eventful career as an unsolved mystery.

Look After Graves

BRUSSELS, July 21 (Reuters)—Commonwealth diplomatic representatives Friday signed an agreement with Belgium for the upkeep of 150,000 commonwealth war graves of two world wars. Canadian dead account for eight per cent of the total roll. Eighty per cent come from Britain.

HE HAS "INSIDE JOB"—Perhaps the first man ever to work inside a jet engine is Harold Kirkendakkm, 31, who is employed at G.E.'s Lockland, O., plant. Only 47 inches tall, his small size enables him to crawl inside the jet's elongated tail pipes. Here he discusses an inspection problem with Jerry Mefford, an engineering supervisor.

King Of Wakikuiju Dies In Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya, July 21 — (Reuters).—John Boyes, 78, one of East Africa's most picturesque figures—he led the fierce Kikuyu tribe in battle and was one of the first white men in Kenya—died Friday.

The English-born Boyes claimed he owned famed Mount Kenya, which he said was given him as central figure in a ceremony held there years ago when the thousands of the Kikuyu tribe made him blood-borther to their chieftains.

He was widely known as King of the Wakikuyu and wrote a book under that title. The government however, charged him with dacoity (banditry) for leading the tribe. A jury in Mombasa acquitted him.

Clan MacLeod Holds Rallies In Canada

MONTREAL, July 21—(CP)—Rallies of members of the clan MacLeod will be held at four Canadian centres within the next three weeks following arrival here July 28 of the clan's chief from Scotland.

Accompanied by members of her family, Mrs. Flora McCleod, of Dunxegan Castle, Isle of Skye, Scotland, will attend rallies in Toronto, Dunvegan, Ont., Charlottetown and St. Ann's, NS.

Climax of the trip will be the three-day Nova Scotia Gaelic mod opening at St. Ann's, in Cape Breton, Aug. 9.

The mod will mark the 100th anniversary of a group of MacLeods for New Zealand from St. Ann's.

geiger counter, the transmitted rays will tell, from their wave strength, the exact age of the original camping grounds. They have as yet found no evidence of this sort.

Deputy curator K. E. Kidd, who is supervising the project, said that campfire charcoal retains its radio activity for 10,000 years.

Are there natives of Canada whose history goes back that far?

Yes, indeed, even farther. Mr. Kidd has worked on one remarkable Indian camping site off the east tip of Manitoulin Island on Lake Huron's North Shore.

At the 900-foot peak of White Mountain, native campsites of a tribe 15,000 years old has been definitely established. In fact, he pointed out, the encampment was a mere 15 or 20 miles south of the southernmost tip of the great continental glacier. As water receeded, another age group left evidence of camps on the same mountain, centuries later, and a third spot of almost modern times has been revealed a few feet above lake level.

Mr. Kidd took off his straw hat, with a jaunty gull feather in the hatband and watched the diggers at their painstaking work: Paul Sweetman, Michael Seary, Mary MacPherson and Mrs. Harper—and pondered.

"Why do North Americans rush to Europe and Asia to look at ancient ruins?"

He shook his head in disgust. Here in Canada, he said, we have the most remarkable proof of ancient civilizations anywhere, and they are part of our country's history.

Little Interest

Lack of interest and lack of funds for experts to reveal them to the world, are the two main obstacles archeologists have to surmount. It was ever thus.

He stooped to the plot in which he was digging and picked up a piece of dull red substance.

"Know what that is?"

Flakes of copper, he said, handed down between trading tribes before the time of Christ. Where did it come from, oh, Isle of Royale on Lake Superior; most natives in central North America got their copper there.

Of casual interest to Mr. Kidd but of amazing knowledge to the rest of us.

Party For Pearson

LONDON, July 21 (CP) — Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and Mrs. Morrison Friday night entertained Canada's external affairs minister, L. B. Pearson and his wife at a dinner and theatre party. L. Dana Wilgress, Canadian high commissioner in London, and Patrick Gordon-Walker, secretary of state for commonwealth relations, were also in the party.

HeiressBarbaraHutton Wins Mexican Divorce

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, July 21 (AP)—Dime store heiress Barbara Hutton has won her Mexican divorce from her fourth husband. Judge Alfonso Roqueni said Friday he signed the decree July 14 freeing Barbara from Prince Igor Troubetskoy.

The divorce was granted nearly five months after the blonde, ailing 38-year-old heiress to the Woolworth fortune first filed her suit here.

Judge Roqueni disclosed that the supreme court of Morelos state, of which Cuernavaca is the capital, overruled the 39-year-old Lithuanian prince's protest.

Report Red Marshall Not Seen For Month

WARSAW, July 21— (AP). — Russian Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, Polish Defence Minister who has not been seen publicly for more than a month, was reported Friday by three Warsaw papers to have attended a performance of a visiting Russian army troupe.

(One report reaching Frankfurt, Germany, recently said Rokossovsky had been seriously wounded by a Polish army major and taken to Moscow for medical treatment. Rokossovsky was one of Russia's top generals during the Second World War.)

Peiping Seizes US Oil Property

HONG KONG, July 21—(AP)—The Peiping radio announced today seizure July 18 of all property of three American oil companies in Communist China.

The companies are Standard Vacuum, Caltex, Ltd., and Chung Mei (Sino-American). Chung Mei is believed to be a Standard Vacuum subsidiary.

The Reds last Dec. 29 ordered seizure of all American property in China. The oil companies had been under strict Red control since then, apparently had not been physically taken over until July 18.

More Unemployment Seen During July

TORONTO, July 21—(CP)—As many people may be out of work in Ontario this month as during July, 1950 (50,800), the Ontario Bureau of Statistics and Research said Friday. Every other month to date in 1951, unemployment has been lower than during the same months last year.

The bureau, in its July bulletin, blamed this month's rise in the number of work-seekers on recent credit restrictions together with disruption caused by a switch-over to increased defence production.

Indians Used Native Plants Extensively For Food

Written For The Canadian Press
By PERCY GHENT

North American Indians as the white man found them in pioneer days were hunters and salmon spearers with seemingly endless regions of forest and stream in which to hunt and fish. Some of the tribes grew corn for food and tobacco for medicine, but the popular conception of Indian diet lists venison, bear meat and fish as the almost exclusive food items.

Certainly, they had no vegetable gardens as we know them. But they did use native plants extensively for food, many plants of swamp and woodland which are now valued purely for their decorative value. Marsh Marigold, for instance. About the time of the marigold's flowering the tender green leaves and shoots were used and enjoyed as pot herbs.

And spring beauty. These lovely flowers which so recently adorned Canadian woods, might have been admired by the Indians as a delight for the eye, but had a more practical appeal for the stomach. Their little tuberous roots were boiled and reputedly, taste like potatoes.

Eaten Raw

Wild onions were eaten raw as well as for the flavoring of flesh and fowl. There were valiant souls among the primitive Americans—as there are among folk of today—who also ate wild garlic.

Turk's cap lily bulbs were dug up and boiled for soup, and the bulbs of wood lilies were used as we use potatoes. Fried seed pods of swamp milkweed were considered delicacies. Fern 'fiddleheads' made—and still make — tender, palatable greens. Ground nuts, spatterdock, and even solomon's seal and jack-in-the-pulpit were all used as vegetables, though jack, those who have tried the plant tell us, has to be boiled in several waters or baked well, to rid the corms of acrid juices.

When times were really tough after a long winter, the Indians are said to have added skunk cabbage to their fare. It will be no surprise to learn that the plant had to be boiled several times before it reached the palatable stage.

Destructive Pests

Tent caterpillars are a destructive pest because of their immense numbers. If they were a rare species, entomologists and other nature students would go miles to see their interesting development.

Females of the species deposit 300 to 400 eggs which encircle a twig, usually of the wild cherry tree. This circle of eggs is protected with a waterproof substance like varnish. When the embryos emerge they spin a temporary silken tent around what is left of the egg mass.

Commonly, there is a move out to the fork of a tree in a few days. There, the larger tent is made. Sticking together until practically full-grown, the caterpillar family rests within the tent in cold or stormy weather, or in the heat of the day, coming out to feed on leaves until actual defoliation results when the temperature suits the caterpillar taste.

Three Choristers Feted By Havelock Choir

HAVELOCK, July 21 (ENS).—The senior choir of Havelock United Church and their friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Agney Thursday for a social evening to bid farewell to three of their members, Mrs. F. R. Vanderburgh who with her husband, the Rev. F. R. During the evening Mrs. Vander burgh was presented with a silver pickle dish and a cup and saucer by Mrs. Cecil Toms. Miss Joan Thompson presented Miss Vanderburgh with a silver rose bowl and Mr. Melville was the recipient of a wallet presented by Donald Pollock. A presentation speech covering the three presentations was made by James Watson.

The evening was spent in the enjoyment of singing and contests The contest winners were, the Rev. R. D. Newman, Miss Marie Vanderburgh and Miss Ethel Menzies. Lunch was served.

Those present were: Miss L. Pilkey of Toronto, Miss Betty Hopper of Hagersville, Miss M. Baker of London, Miss C. Rutherford of Toronto. (These four girls are members of the Christian Youth Caravan working in this district). Rev. R. G. Newman and Mrs. Newman, James W. Davies, Mrs. F. R. Funeral Gives Remand To 4 Windsor Men

WINDSOR, July 21 — (CP).—A funeral earned a week's remand for four Windsor men facing a number of charges of trafficking in narcotics when they appeared Friday in court.

The men, Leonard Grimaldi 35, Patrick Riley 30, Philip Chiampi 37, and William Chiampi, were remanded to July 27 for preliminary hearing on 31 charges of dealing in Heroin.

Fridayed because Grimaldi was attending the funeral of his mother.

Britain Now Building Faster Jetliner

LONDON, July 21 (Reuters)—Britain is building a more powerful Comet jetliner which will be able to fly from London to New York with a stop at Newfoundland in about seven hours' flying time.

Allowing for a 90-minute halt at Gander, Nfld., it should link London and New York in about 8½ hours.

Big piston-engined aircraft at present in general use take about 16 to 17 hours for the trip.

The more-powerful Comet is expected to be in the air before the end of this year.

F. W. Sayers Buried

The funeral for Frederick William Sayers, 160 Benson Ave., who died Wednesday, was held Friday from the Comstock funeral home. The Rev. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Oliver Kingdon, William A. McDonald, Max Green, William Green, Watts Hinchley, Roland B. Stewart. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Prices Show Drop

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Wholesale prices, as measured by the government, dropped another one-half of one per cent during the week ended July 17. It was the seventh straight week prices have declined. The Bureau of Labor Statistics said its price index was 178.8 per cent of the 1926 average—14 per cent above the average before the Korean war started.

Unsteady Prices

OTTAWA, July 2 1(CP)—Canada's latest available report on wholesale prices is the Bureau of Statistics' report for June which indicated certain price unsteadiness. Prices were down for raw rubber, wool, tin, western oats, linseed and cottonseed oil, beef hides and US bituminous coal. But prices were up for butterfat, livestock and eggs.

Involved In Theft

WINDSOR, July 21 (CP)—Virgil Yager, of Windsor, was sentenced to nine months on a charge of receiving stolen goods. Yager had previously admitted implication in the theft of generators valued at more than $3,000 from the Ford Motor Company of Canada. The generators had been stored in a garage owned by Yager's father, who is now awaiting sentence for his share in the theft ring.

RUGGED AREA

Canada's Northwest Territories have an estimated population of 16,000 scattered over an area of 1,304,903 square miles.

ALREADY WED—In Philadelphia Naval Hospital, William R. Minter, 28-year-old sailor, explains why he jilted Pearl Knowles, 26, a Navy hospital corpsman from Medford, Mass. Minter, who had an auto accident on the way to the wedding, later admitted he also had a wife and two children in the South and had previously been married to a Salem, Mass., girl.

Walcott Ready To Fight, Who Is Question

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

CAMDEN, NJ, July 21 (AP) — The only thing certain about the heavyweight boxing picture today is that Jersey Joe Walcott is champion and that he has a very prosperous future.

Walcott is committed by contract to give Ezzard Charles a return shot at the title in New York.

But big question marks have suddenly appeared, fogging the heavyweight horizon. Will Walcott fight Charles next? Or will the new champion risk boxing's most coveted crown in the ring with the old Brown Bomber, Joe Louis? And then will Charles meet the winner of this match?

The answer might come from Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club that has exclusive rights to Walcott, Charles and Louis.

Up until Friday, when Walcott was greeted by 100,000 wildly-cheering neighbors here on his return from Pittsburgh, it appeared certain that the next big heavyweight fight would be a fourth Walcott-Charles meeting. Only the date and site were indefinite.

Packed With Dynamite

Then Felix Bocchicchio, Walcott's manager, let loose a statement that packed almost as much dynamite as the left hook that Walcott used to kayo Charles. Bocchicchio said Joe Louis had asked for the first crack at Walcott's title.

Said Bocchicchio:

"I told Joe it was okay with me if it was okay with the International Boxing Club. Louis gave us two shots at the title. I think we owe it to him. Walcott will be glad to oblige Louis if Norris and IBC say okay."

Louis denied in Detroit that he had talked with anybody about a title fight but said, "I sure hope it's so." The Brown Bomber declared he was ready to fight Walcott at any time but that he really thought Charles deserved the first chance. "He's entitled to it. But, he does need a rest. He's been fighting too much," added Louis.

JOE GARAGIOLA (left), Pittsburgh Pirate catcher who homered in game against Dodgers at Ebbets Field recently, is congratulated after the game by tennis star Nancy Chaffee. Nancy, soon to be Mrs. Ralph Kiner, has a big job coming up when she congratulates Mr. Kiner (right) for the Pirate slugger belted three home runs, one a grand slam, to lead his team to a 13-12 victory.

Peterborough Horse Sets Lifetime Record

TORONTO, July 21 (CP). — A lightning-fast racing strip enabled three horses to race to lifetime marks at the Thorncliffe trotting races Friday.

Glendale Charlie, owned and driven by Mark Kyler, of Springville, NY, knocked three seconds from his record as he won the eighth race in the smart time of 2.08 4-5.

Turnabout, owned and driven by Jim McIntyre of Peterborough, knocked almost three seconds from his mark as he won the seventh dash in 2.11. Majestic Brooke also travelled the mile in 2.11 to take the fifth race and lowered his mark by 1 2-5 seconds. Majestic Brooke is owned by Stanley Love of Milton, Ont., and was driven by the capable Keith Waples.

Ann Pointer in the first and Bud Braden in the second combined for a daily double of $107.45. Ann Pointer is owned by J. H. Holmes of Milton, Ont., while Bud Braden is owned by Jacob Geisel, Jr., Hanover, Ont.

Proximity Makes Farewell Appearance

WESTBURY, NY, July 21 (AP) —Proximity, gallant queen of the trotting world, made her farewell appearance Friday night at Roosevelt Raceway, scene of many of her spectacular rise to fame.

As a climax to a career which saw her establish 10 world records and earn $252,929, largest in standard-bred history, Proximity was led past the stands unharnessed, and was greeted by an ovation from the crowd of 24,625.

Frank War, her groom for three seasons, and Clint Hodgins, Clandeboye, Ont., reinsman, who drove her to her greatest glory, led her into the winner's circle for the last time.

She was met at the finish line by Ralph and Gordon Verhurst, her owners, and a host of trotting-horse celebrities.

Proximity is to be shipped to the Walnut Hall Farm in Donerail, KY, where she will serve as a broodmare.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Twenty of Europe's stoutest staying thoroughbreds, including five classic winners, match strides today at Ascot Heath in the richest race ever run on British soil.

As a special gesture of Festival year, Ascot lumped two feature purses into one. The result is a £30,000 kitty for the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Festival of Britain stakes.

The first horse past the post in the 1½-mile grind over Ascot's green turf will draw down £25,373—about $5,000 more than Irish-owned Arctic Prince got for winning this year's Epsom Derby, the richest on record.

Billed as the race of a lifetime the Festival Stakes will be run for the first and last time today. Racing experts consider the field one of the classiest ever assembled in Britain.

United States Lawn Tennis Association officials announced Friday night arrangements had been completed for second-round matches in American zone Davis Cup play.

The winner of the Louisville matches between the US and Japan will meet Mexico at Rye, NY, Aug. 3-4-5.

The 14-day Niagara Racing Association meet which concluded at Fort Erie Thursday handled a betting total of $2,890,769, 18.2 per cent higher than last year's total for the same period.

The daily average handle for the meeting was $206,485, officials said today.

Racing continues here with the Ascot meet, now underway.

Leo Durocher Friday signed a one-year contract to continue as manager of New York Giants through the 1952 baseball season.

In a lawn bowling upset Thursday night, last year's Ontario champions were eliminated in the first round of district playoffs at Kitchener. A Waterloo Mutual entry skipped by Ted Sim defeated Wilf Hilliard's Waterloo bowling rink 19-15.

Ken Dorscht and Lofne Heldman, the defending Ontario junior doubles champions from Waterloo, advanced with a 20-16 victory over an Elora doubles entry.

Toronto Argonauts Friday night wound up a week of football practice and coach Frank Clair said the Big Four team is considerably ahead of last year's squad with the same length of training.

"Mostly it's because the majority of the boys are familiar with the system," he said in an interview. "This year we can spend more time on the fundamentals."

Judge J. Elliott Hudson of the Maritime Major Hockey League said Friday that five clubs have posted bonds for play this year.

They are: Saint John Beavers, Moncton Hawks, Charlottetown Islanders and Halifax St. Mary's of the old Maritime Major League (Big Four) and Sydney Millionaires of the Cape Breton League.

Judge G. W. Schilling rode a horse over Exhibition Park on Thursday and ruled that Edmonton races would resume. He said the track was "much improved."

Racing was abandoned Wednesday after the first race because of the dangerous condition of the track, mired by a heavy downpour.

An emergency meeting of the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association decided to leave it to Judge Schilling whether they would risk their horses on the track.

At Bastaad, Sweden, Sweden's Davis Cup team completed a 5-0 rout of the Philippines in the European zone semi-final Thursday when Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidsson won a pair of five-set single matches.

Sweden already had clinched the right to meet Germany in the European zone finals July 27-29 by winning the doubles matches Wednesday.

At Milwaukee, three pros shared the spotlight Thursday in the opening round of the $20,000 Blue Ribbon open golf tournament with four-under-par 67s over the 6,257-yard North Hills course which plays at 35-36—71.

They were West Virginia's Sam Snead, Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and Glenn Teal of Memphis, Tenn.

Producers Drool At Fancy Prices Made On Tour

By JACK QUIGG.

HOLLYWOOD, July 21 (AP) — Looking at the Hollywood News:

Producers are drooling at the fantastic grosses drawn by touring entertainers, notably Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in New York and torrid Josephine Baker in Los Angeles.

Cutups Martin and Lewis made more than $100,000 in a single week on Broadway. La Baker drew some $52,000 during her second week in a theatre here.

Unfortunately, it's only the big houses that get such top draws.

The producers' solution: a heavy schedule of films for Martin and Lewis; a proposed screen biography of Miss Baker, the American Negro dancer who makes her home in Paris.

Teal Leading Golf Tourney

MILWAUKEE, July 21 (AP) — Colorful Glenn Teal, never a major winner in seven years, led the way with a three-stroke bulge today at the halfway mark in the blue ribbon open golf tournament.

A field trimmed to 93 in qualifying play started out on the third leg of the 72-hole medal play meet over the North Hills Country Club course. A 154 was needed to qualify. At stake, with the 40 low scorers sharing in the purse, is $20,000. The winner takes home $2,750 Sunday night.

Teal, playing out of Knoxville, Tenn., chopped eight strokes off par in his two opening rounds, firing twin 18s of 67 for a 134 total. Trailing him were two veteran tournament winners, Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret, and Jules Boros of Mid-Pines, NC, another unknown like Teal. The trio had 137s, five under par for the 6,257-yard course.

One more stroke off Teal's pace at 138 were five widely known pros—Canadian open champ Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, currently one-two among the season's money winners; Joe Kirkwood, Jr., Hollywood; George Fazio, Pine Valley, NJ, and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.

SINGLES, TOO — His reputation established as a doubles player, Tony Trabert served notice that he was ready for Davis Cup singles also. The 20-year-old University of Cincinnati basketball player followed up his victory in the National Collegiate by coming from behind to beat Art Larsen in the USLTA Clay Court Championship.

Boston Drops 6-1 Decision White Sox Clipped by 2-1

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

That insignificant figure is the difference between first and fourth place in the sizzling American League pennant race today.

Boston Red Sox lead the jam session by two percentage points. Chicago White Sox are second, New York Yankees third and Cleveland Indians fourth.

The race tightened up considerably Friday night as both the White Sox and Red Sox lost while the Yanks and Indians won squeakers.

Boston dropped a 6-1 decision to the Detroit Tigers while the White Sox lost a 2-1 ten-inning battle to the Washington Senators. The Yanks edged the St. Louis Browns, 1-0, and the Indians nipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 1-0, in 10 innings.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers retained their eight-game lead in the National League. The Dodgers defeated St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2, as New York Giants trounced Cincinnati Reds, 11-5, Philadelphia Phils knocked off Chicago Cubs, 4-3, in 11 innings and Boston Braves humbled Pittsburgh Pirates 11-6.

Marlin Stuart, 32-year-old righthander, made his first start of the season and shackled the Red Sox on six hits before 45,653 fans at Detroit.

The Tigers hopped on Chuck Stobbs for five runs and the ball game in the fourth inning.

Nearly Made It

Chicago was one out away from regaining first place. The White Sox led, 1-0, going into the ninth and Lou Kretlow retired the first two hitters. Ed Yost singled and Gil Coan whacked a double, his fourth hit of the game, to tie the score. The Senators, beaten 10 straight times by Chicago, won out in the 10th on singles by Mickey Vernon, Sam Mele and Cass Michaels' run-scoring out.

Young Tom Morgan won a brilliant pitching duel from little Ned Garver, Brownie ace, at St. Louis. Morgan permitted three singles while Garver was tapped for six hits.

The Browns' largest crowd of the season, 15,242 fans, witnessed the game. The Yanks broke a scoreless tie in the eighth when Morgan singled and later scored on a single by Bobby Brown.

In the pitching gem at Cleveland, hustling Bob Avila doubled Dale Mitchell from first base with two out in the 10th. Sam Zoldak, former Indian, and Mike Garcia battled all the way. Zoldak allowed eight hits while Garcia checked Philadelphia on four.

Lefty Preacher Roe turned in his 13th victory as the Dodgers made it seven straight over the Cardinals before 30,683 at Brooklyn. Home runs by Enos Slaughter and Wally Westlake accounted for all of St. Louis' runs. Roe now has thrown 20 home run balls, tops in the majors.

Aids Giants

Home runs by Willie Mays and Sal Yvars featured the Giants' victory over the Reds. Mays drove in four runs, three on a home run in the eighth inning. Yvars connected with one on in the seventh.

The triumph moved the Giants into second place, eight games behind the Dodgers and one ahead of the Cards.

Boston also piled up an early lead in smearing the Pirates. The Braves hacked Vern Law for six runs in the first inning and added three more in the second. Warren Spahn breezed to his 10th conquest. Ralph Kiner smashed a 390-foot homer for Pittsburgh's first run in the fourth inning.

Richie Ashburn singled with the bases loaded and one out in the 11th to give the Phils the nod over the Cubs. Rookie Cub first-baseman, Chuck Connors, tipped Ashburn's bounder into a base hit and Ed Pellagrini scored. Connors set up the payoff by committing two errors. Reliefer Jim Konstanty was the winner and Bob Rush the loser.

Records Remain At Vancouver Track Meet

VANCOUVER, July 21 (CP).— Not one Canadian record was smashed as the Canadian track and field championships—shunned by eastern athletes—opened Friday at the University of British Columbia Stadium.

British Columbia-grown talent dominated the opening events with Allan Craib, representing the Winnipeg Athletic Association, the athlete farthest from home. Although the championships are an important testing gauge for the 1952 Olympics, nobody came from east of Winnipeg.

Craib won the running broad jump with a distance of 21 feet, 1¾ inches.

The only records to fall were British Columbia native mark for the shot put, BC open and native records for the 440-yard dash and the BC native record for the 100-yard dash.

George Hills, Jr., from the Vancouver Olympic Club, made a heave of 46 feet, 7¾ inches, bettering the native mark by 3¼ inches.

Jack Hutchins of Vancouver sped over the 440-yard route in 40.5 seconds to beat out Doug Clements and Don Barrieau, two other Vancouver sprinters. He clipped 4-10 seconds off the native and open records of 49.9.

Bill Parnell of North Vancouver the Empire games miler, won his specialty as expected. But Parnell, racing for Victoria YMCA, didn't come close to previous speeds, winning in a time of 4 20.5. Parnell's Empire games time was 4:11.

W. B. Heald of Vancouver, 69-year-old retired Mountie, finished last in a field of nine in the six-mile run.

What helps smooth out too-curly locks?

☐ Softening ☐ Stretching ☐ Brushing

If you're a frizz-kid, don't fret. Have your locks shaped and thinned out. After each washing, use a softening rinse; apply wave set to s-t-r-e-t-c-h hair while putting into pin curls. And you'll find constant brushing can help smooth those problem tresses. Of course, you can smooth away problem-day cares—with the comfort of Kotex to keep you at ease. Tom Gard's Note Book

My lawn roller never seems to be home. Possibly I should make another one — just to lend to people! Fooling aside, this borrowing tools and then forgetting to bring them back can be most annoying — and I'm not guiltless. I was all set to roll the area just spaded for late vegetables when I discovered it was missing. The predicament was finally settled by borrowing Herb's sleek "store" job. It gave me the idea of looking for a short, fat hot water tank and fixing up a handle attachment from inch water pipe. Its weight can be regulated by the amount of water used in the tank — quite an improvement on my present one filled with heavy concrete. Possibly that will be my first job when holidays are over.

Chintz Canopy

Here is a simple way to perk up your kitchen window, noticed while in the St. Thomas area. A light canopy was constructed from building board and fastened on the inside to the edge of the window frame. Bright chintz was sewn in the form of an awning to fit the frame and thumb tacked in place, with the tacks out of sight. It was most attractive. After repeated attempts to describe its construction to my usually bright "better half", I finally took the hint and built one. Now she will have to get busy and cover it.

While she is sewing the canopy, maybe I can talk her into covering the guest book I made out of a cigar box last spring. It's quite attractive in its natural finish but it will be even better covered with some of the drapery material that was left over.

Knick-Knack Shelf

If you want a small shelf for light keepsakes try your hand at making one from coat hangers. It will take a bit of patience to form the wire into the desired pattern but it can be done.

Evacuating Farms To Get Training Area

BONN, Germany, July 21 (AP)—The Soviet army in East Germany has evacuated whole farming communities to obtain space, a United States high commission official said Friday.

Soviet forces now occupy at least 10 large training areas plus numerous smaller ones located near permanent barracks, the official said.

Eric G. Gration, staff secretary to American High Commissioner John J. McCloy, said practically no farming is permitted in the field areas from early spring through late fall when Soviet troops are holding large-scale exercises.

Gration made these statements in response to a protest against the proposed enlargement of a US army training area in Bavaria.

Poultry Show May Disappear In Exhibitions of the Future

It is looming as a possibility in changing agricultural practice that one of these days the directors of Peterborough Exhibition will have an empty building on their hands,—the poultry barn.

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, said today that practical interest in the multiplicity of poultry breeds has greatly declined in recent years while the commercial phase of the business has grown mightily.

"The fancier's day is doomed and done," Mr. Paterson said, at least from the altering viewpoint of the poultry committees of agricultural societies.

Money Returns

Farmers are necessarily interested in the financial returns of their industry. They include the poultry specialists, the men housing flocks from 2,500 to seven or eight thousand birds or more. Hence, the shift in emphasis to the commercial department of the poultry business as distinct from the work and interest of the poultry fancier.

"I am interested in the commercial branch," Mr. Paterson said. "Just this week I spent two days around the district with a specialist, and I think the poultry committee is on the right track in expanding their department of the Exhibition to place more emphasis on the commercial flocks."

Cross-Breeding

Cross-breeding by commercial producers is far removed from the purebred stock of the chicken fanciers.

"In fact, I think there will likely always be some place for that producer and his purebreds as a continuing source of stock for crossing."

Said Mr. Paterson, "I have no no intention of discouraging the fancier of poultry, but our concern has to be directed toward the commerical end of the business, because that is where the volume of production and income is found. Personally, I am glad to see our commercial men making an effort to turn the Exhibition to their advantage, and that doesn't say that the poultry show is going to fold up right away.

The fact is, though, that the big breeder for the market is not interested in the aspect of the show.

Risk of Disease

And as a further fact, if you could think of him placing an exhibit here or at any other show, does anybody think he would take his birds back to the home flock? He would leave them at the show place or give them away. That commercial breeder today can't take a chance of infecting his big flock with some disease contracted in just such places as an exhibition.

They don't even want to see a stranger coming into their premises. That is how careful they have to be."

Mr. Paterson recalled that Mr. Fred McIndoo of Cavan, in a Federation broadcast some weeks ago, had promised a special poultry display at this year's Exhibition.

"That is the right trend and use of our Exhibitions, to make them a practical show window of our farm industry and production. Directors are moving that way, and in a few years I imagine that you will see substantial changes in the batter shows."

Mr. Paterson mentioned the 3-H feature of next August,—hay, hens and honey.

"I don't know how the hay competition is going to turn out. A month ago I would have said we'd have a great show of bales. That's how promising the crop was, but in the meantime the wet weather has caused a lot of trouble. We are hoping that there will be another pile of bales at the Exhibition next month".

Truman Urges Bigger Army Despite Korean Peace Talks

Government Places Defence Orders For $60,000,000

OTTAWA, July 23. (CP)—The defence production department today announced $60,000,000 worth of new defence contracts, biggest of which is a $17,000,000 order to modify and repair Merlin aircraft engines in Montreal. The big Merlin engine contract went to Canadian Wright Limited. Officials said the money will be used in a four-year modification and overhauling program covering all Rolls-Royce Merlin engines, used principally in North Star aircraft.

Other big contracts included a $12,280,000 contract to General Motors Products Ltd., of Oshawa, Ont., covering passenger cars and trucks for the armed forces, and a $4,800,000 contract to Chrysler Corporation of Canada Ltd., Windsor, Ont., to do automotive repair work and also to produce some new vehicles and parts.

Apprehension

Defence production officials said these automotive orders are not expected to be big enough to overcome the general state of apprehension in the industry, caused by the impact of credit restrictions on passenger car sales.

Other large contracts included a $2,000,000 order to Standard Aero Engine Limited, Winnipeg, for aircraft engine repairs, and $785,000 order to Mercury Mills Limited, Hamilton, for armed forces clothing generally.

The contracts cover the period June 16-30.

Petain, 95, Dies Under Sentence For War Treason

ILE D'YEU, France, July 23.—(AP) — Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, 95, the hero of Verdun in the First World War, died today on this bleak island where he had served more than five years of a life sentence for treason in the Second World War.

But he was not a prisoner when he died. The French government commuted his sentence last month shortly after the parliamentary elections, because of the state of his health. He was moved from his prison cell to a private mansion here off the southwest coast of France.

The aged Marshal succumbed at 9.20 a.m. (4.20 a.m. EDT) in the island's military hospital. He had been in failing health for months and since a attack of pneumoia in April has suffered several relapses.

Two days ago his family and his lawyers again were called to his bedside. His 75-year-old wife, Annie, who had vountarily shared his exile, was with him when he died.

Ironically, death came to Petain only three days after it claimed the German commander—former Crown Prince Wilhelm—who opposed him at Verdun. Wilhelm died Friday at Hechingen, Germany.

Verdun Defence

Petain's heroic defence at Verdun in 1916 had made him one of France's greatest military heroes. His immortal battle cry —"They Shall Not Pass"—echoed around the world. With it he rallied the French to a memorable stand in one of the great battles of modern history.

But the national hero of the First World War and elder statesman of the between-war years became a traitor in the eyes of many Frenchmen after Hitler invaded France in 1940.

Argentine Cruiser Aground Off Denmark

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 23 (AP)—The Argentine cruiser Pueyrredon, manned by 165 cadets, went aground several miles south of Copenhagen today, two hours before she was to enter the port here for an eight-day courtesy visit.

The Danish coast guard reported the ship was in no immediate danger and that a coast guard ship and a salvage vessel were going to aid the cruiser.

Czechs Refuse To Release Oatis

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Czechoslovakia turned down a United States request for the immediate release of Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis from prison.

The State Department disclosed today that Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs presented the Czech foreign office with a note July 16 insisting that Oatis be freed.

Oatis was sentenced July 4 to 10 years imprisonment for espionage. The US government contended his trial was a farce.

The Czech reply was received by the Embassy at Prague Saturday.

Press Officer Michael McDermott told newspapermen also that a request pending for about two weeks for permission for an American official to visit Oatis is still without definite response.

Children Escape Parents Killed

CHATHAM, Ont., July 23 (CP)—Out of the crumpled wreckage of a plane came the voice of a dazed five-year-old, calling for his mother.

Rescuers found Alexander John Davis, and his two-year-old sister, Jeannette, hanging upside-down by their safety straps Saturday night as they rushed to the spot where a single-engined Cessna had crashed in a futile effort to make an emeregncy landing during an electrical storm.

The children were unharmed. But their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Davis, of Toronto, died in hospital shortly after they were extricated from the wreck.

Eye-witnesses in Chatham township said the plane circled for nearly three-quarters of an hour before its wingtip grazed a 60-foot pine tree and it plunged into a maze of telephone wires.

Less than a quarter-mile away, obscured from the pilot's vision by the thick overcast, were three hay and wheat fields in which the plane could have landed safely.

Mr. Davis, a wartime RCAF pilot, was returning from a combined business and pleasure trip to Winnipeg. He was Canadian representative of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association.

TIMMINS, Ont., July 23 (CP)—Officials of Hollinger Consolidated announced today that four of the mine's executives would meet Labor Minister Daley in Toronto tomorrow in an effort to settle the two-week-old strike.

They are: E. A. Perry, assistant general superintendent, M. E. Williams of the production engineering department, J. E. Bisley, mine superintendent and C. B. Ross, assistant mine superintendent.

Rockingham Made Honorary US Soldier

WITH THE US 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION IN KOREA, July 23—(CP)—Brig. John M. Rockingham, of Vancouver, BC, commander of the Canadian 25th Infantry Brigade, has been given an honorary membership in the United States 1st Cavalry Division.

In a division command-post ceremony Rockingham and Brig. George Taylor, commander of the 28th Commonwealth Brigade, were presented with letters of authorization and the division's insignia by Maj.-Gen. Charles D. Palmer, the 1st Division's commander.

As he handed the officers the division's horse-head shoulder patches and traditional yellow cavalry scarves, Palmer said:

"I think the division is getting two very gallant members here."

The Commonwealth Brigades recently were assigned to Palmer's command for more than a month.

Five Drown As Boat Capsizes

All Attending Family Reunion At Lake Simcoe

STROUD, Ont., July 23. (CP)—While almost all their close relatives celebrated their annual family reunion ashore, five men were drowned Sunday when their motorboat capsized in choppy Lake Simcoe as they were returning from a fishing trip. Two other members of the same family were saved only because another boat happened to break down near the scene of the tragedy which left five women widowed, and 12 children fatherless.

The drowning victims were Wesley Fletcher 68, his sons Harvel 30, Lorne 47, and Austin 32, and his son-in-law Beverley Leslie, 43-year-old Toronto Public School principal.

Lorne Fletcher's 20-year-old son Glen, and Kenneth Hill 22, were pulled from the water three-quarters of an hour after the accident by June Fraser 19 and Jack Pears 21, who rowed their stalled motor launch to the scene as the two exhausted youths clung to the bow of the overturned boat

Provincial Police, unavle to recover the bodies before dusk, took up the task again today.

Two Miles Offshore

The fishing party was returning from Fox Island, two miles offshore, when the 12-foot boat, its nose shoved high in the air by the weight of a 16 horse-power outboard motor, apparently struck rough water and made a sharp turn.

The boat went over, flinging its seven occupants into the lake. The heavy engine dragged most of the hull under water, leaving a small expanse of bow as the only hand-hold for its struggling passengers.

Police said it would have been impossible for all seven men to hold on.

Wesley Fletcher, a resident of Drayton, as was his son Harvel, was a former councillor of Peel and Marlborough Townships. Austin and Lorne were from Fergus. Austin left five children, Harvel and Lorne three each.

Charge US Companies Aid Trade With Reds

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—Chairman Herbert O'Connor (Dem. Md.) said today a Senate sub-committee on export controls has received reports that certain American insurance companies are aiding trade with Communist China.

"We are told," he said, "that these insurance companies, in cooperation with British companies, are helping to make possible a continuation of the flow of materials to our enemies by jointly underwriting maritime and war risk insurance on the vessels engaging in trade with the Communists."

His statement did not name any of the companies.

Iranian Prime Minister Angles For American Help

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Mossadegh of Iran today made a frank bid for American men and vessels to keep Iranian oil flowing westward if Britons now refuse to work under the nationalization program.

The fiery Middle Eastern political leader, whose move to nationalize Iran's British-operated oil fields has alarmed the western world, made his proposal in a copyrighted interview conducted by radio-telegraph with the magazine US News and World Report.

Economic Distress

Mossadegh also made it clear he also looks to the United States for other economic aid to strengthen his country. Iran is a southern neighbor of Russia. And western diplomats have been concerned that Iran's economic distress might make it ripe for Communist plucking.

Declaring that Iran "will welcome help from America for raising the standard of living of her people," Mossadegh reiterated that his country still hopes to obtain a $250,000,000 loan from the world bank to help develop Iran's economy.

He blamed "foreign elements" and "the former oil company" — Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Company—for a rash of recent attacks on America by the Iranian press and added:

"Staunch Supporters"

"Iranians recognize the American nation as staunch supporters of right, justice and freedom, and are desirous of expanding their friendly relations with them."

And, despite his adamant stand against compromising with Britain on the nationalization issue, he insisted his government "has never had any hostile tendency against Great Britain," but rather "supports the continuation and strengthening of cordial relations."

However, Mossadegh showed no sign anywhere in the interview of any weakening in his insistence that Iran would take over and operate the rich oil fields and the giant British-built refinery at Abadan.

Nearby Sailors Have Polio Reeve Worried

ERIEAU, Ont., July 23 (CP).—Erieau residents yesterday expressed worry over the presence of Fairmile sailors in the overcrowded resort village while two crew members are in hospital as possible polio cases.

Reeve Leonard Stass said on Sunday night he intends today to get in touch with Kent's Medical Officer of Health, Dr. Donald C. Smith at Chatham, for information on the situation.

The two sailors, one a polio victim, the other a suspect, were reported Sunday night by hospital authorities in London as "quite satisfactory."

Polio Suspect

PO. (Engine Room Artificer) K. H. Astles, of St. Thomas, was admitted to Victoria Hospital on Friday night. He is still listed as a polio suspect and is being kept under observation.

OS. James J. Dempsey, 18, of Hurdman's Bridge, near Ottawa, is being treated as a positive patient. Both are crew members of HMCS Prevost's Fairmile, which is on a training voyage in Lake Erie.

Reeve Stass said Hunday night that in his opinion it was "hardly fair to the village" to have buddies of possible polio victims mingling with summer crowds at Erieau. He said that he understood a quarantine had been put on the ship earlier but that the crew was apparently free to enter the village now.

Dog's Greeting Kills Master

OWEN SOUND, July 23 (CP).—A dog's excited greeting is believed to have caused its owner to shoot and kill himself here early today.

Lloyd Bowman Seaman 34, accidentally shot and killed himself shortly after 1 a.m. when a .22 calibre bullet entered his head.

Seaman had just stepped out of his car on his return from an unsuccessful hunting trip when his hound, Sport, started jumping and barking for joy. As Seaman banged the car door shut his rifle discharged.

It is thought that the dog had jumped up to greet his master in the usual manner, causing the gun to be fired.

Raw Material

LONDON, July 23 (AP)—The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported today that Hungary has put the sniping of cigaret-butts on an official, organized basis. It quoted the Budapest daily, Magyar Hemzet, as saying that groups have been formed to collect the butts as "an important raw material in industry." Tanjug added: "It fails to mention, however, what industry will use cigaret ends as raw material."

Charge Smuggling

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP) — The RCMP said today they know nothing of an international crime syndicate allegedly engaged in smuggling aliens into the United States by plane from Canada.

They were commenting on a news dispatch from Amarillo, Texas. The Amarillo News yesterday quoted sources close to an inquiry into an international crime syndicate as saying that the syndicate's operations included the smuggling of aliens by plane from Canada and Mexico.

Allied Negotiators Ready To Resume Peace Talks

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 23. (AP)—Allied negotiators gathered here again tonight, armed with final United Nations instructions for the resumption of Korean war cease-fire talks in Kaesong Wednesday. Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief of the five-man UN team, flew back from Tokyo tonight after a series of conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. He was accompanied by two other UN delegates, Maj.-Gen. L. C. Craigie and rear-Admiral Arleigh Burke.

They talked with the supreme Allied commander Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The decisions made in Tokyo probably will remain secret until the ninth meeting of negotiators in a Kaesong schoolhouse Wednesday.

The Korean war will be 13 months old Wednesday. Whether it will end soon or flare up anew in bloody fighting hinges on settlement of one vital question; shall the question of withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea be placed on the cease-fire agenda?

The Reds have insisted that the question be debated in full scale armistice talks, to start when the list of topics for discussion has been adopted.

Political Matter

The United Nations have said is a political matter to be decided after an armistice.

Wednesday's meeting may produce a deadlock, or a compromise that will permit the talks to go on.

The eighth meeting between allied and Red negotiators ended abruptly Saturday after the Communists requested a recess "to enable both sides to study the proposals thus far presented."

It may be the Reds wanted time to consult Peiping and Moscow.

Joy flew to Tokyo Saturday, accompanied by delegates Maj.-Gen. L. C. Craigie of the US Air Force and Rear-Admiral Arleigh Burke.

Maj.-Gen. H. I. Hodes and Maj.-Gen. Paik Sun Yup, the other two members of the allied delegation, did not accompany Joy.

It is presumed Paik used the interval to report to the South Korean President, Syngman Rhee.

There has been no statement from either side as to what specific items have been agreed upon for the agenda. They probably include an exact time for the shooting to end, exchange of prisoners, creation of a buffer zone, and inspection of behind-the-lines territory by neutral observer teams

Eisenhower Opens Atlantic Pact HQ

MARLY LA ROI, France, July 2323 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower opened his new Atlantic Pact headquarters in history "set up in peace to preserve peace and not wage war."

The new headquarters, seat of Western defence planning, came into existence at 12.29 p.m., after a colorful ceremony presided over by Eisenhower and Vincent Auriol, President of France.

"It is our prayer," said Eisenhower, "that with high courage and with the support of our people and the grace of God, we shall not fail in striving to lift the fear of cellblocks and slave camps."

Lower Meat Prices

VANCOUVER, July 23 (CP)—A decline in meat prices was forecast Saturday by J. S. McLean, president of Canada Packers Ltd., who is here on a visit. He said that when prices reach their present level, "declines are more likely than advances."

Indian Chief Stabbed In Back

BALA, Ont., July 23 —(CP)—Robert Stock, chief on the Gibson Indian Reservation near here, was stabbed in the back Sunday night during a fight in his home.

Police later arrested Simon Laforce, another Indian, and charged him with wounding. A warrant charging the chief's son Harry with shooting also was issued.

Laforce told police he tried to stop a fight between Harry and his brother Biston when they turned on him, kicking him as he lay on the floor.

He said he drew his jacknife in self defence and in the melee, the chief was stabbed. As he fled the house then, two shots were fired at him, Laforce said.

Chief Stock was reported in serious condition today in Bracebridge hospital.

Bala is about 90 miles north of Toronto.

Eisenhower Wants Non-National Army

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—A Senator just returned from Europe said today Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wants to form a non-national army under a single flag and command to defend Western Europe.

Senator Owen Brewster (Rep. Me.), one of nine members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who returned today from an inspection trip to Europe, quoted Eisenhower as saying he is "going all out" in support of this idea.

Britain opposes the Eisenhower plan, Brewster said. He added that he was told France and Western Germany are near agreement, however, on the general principles of single-uniform army.

Eisenhower was given the task of building a Western European defence force. The original thought was that each nation would contribute troops but they would retain their national uniforms. The administration proposes to put six US divisions into the force.

Asks "Full Speed Ahead" In Congress Report, Urges St. Lawrence Seaway

Sets Goal of $30 Billion For Military, Present Army Goal of 3,500,000 Inadequate In World Threatened By Reds

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—President Truman today told Congress it probably will be necessary to strengthen the armed forces beyond the present goal of 3,500,000 men, regardless of peace prospects in Korea. He called for "full speed ahead" on the military build-up, with no yielding to those who would discard the anti-inflation control system "or shoot it full of holes." The message, his mid-year economic report, went to Congress along with a 255-page economic review prepared by his council of economic advisers. In it, Truman repeated his long-standing request for approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project.

Truman set his sights on a $30,000,000,000 increase in the annual military spending rate in the year ahead.

This, he said, will require up to 2,000,000 more workers, a five-per-cent bopst in national output despite cuts in civilian goods plus stiff taxes and controls to offset a widening "inflationary gap."

At this moment, he disclosed, "we are reviewing our immediate goals for military strength, and it is quite possible we shall have to raise them in several important respects."

Interim Goal

The President called the 3,500,000-man strength of the armed forces, now almost reached, an "interim goal" which may be inadequate against the world-wide threat of Soviet "blackmail" and aggression.

It had been known that service chiefs were weighing an expansion of their forces. Today's message, however, was the first token of White House blessing for the proposal.

Truman struck out at "extremists" who "at the first signs of a let-down of the conflict in Korea . . . have commenced to calmor for a reduction in our defence program."

It would be a "costly mistake" to heed such counsel, he said.

FULL SPEED AHEAD

Perfect Mates

LOS ANGELES, July 23. — (AP)—"Wait until my husband hears about this," said Mrs. Henry G. Nadeau, 46, to arresting officers. "He'll bail me out." She was booked at city jail on suspicion of being drunk in an automobile yesterday after her car hit a parked car. Less than an hour later, other police came to city jail with Henry G. Nadeau, 59. "I want to call my wife," he told officers. "She'll bail me out." He had been involved in a minor traffic accident. The police told him his hoped-for bailor needed some bail herself. "Oh, no —" gasped the husband.

Missssippi Flood Due To Be Tamed By Huge Dikes

ST. LOUIS, July 23—(AP)—The Mississippi crest, made up of the mid-west's most-costly flood waters, churned southward from St. Louis today and was expected to spend itself between the massive dikes lining the big river.

A few spots still are in danger, but the army engineers are confident nearly all of the major levees downstream from St. Louis will hold.

900 Workers

Nine hundred workers, including 500 airmen, toiled on levees reported in critical condition 60 miles south of here in Perry county, Mo. A break there would flood 23,000 acres of rich farmland.

Seven-hundred men labored in an emergency reinforcement of the Chouteu Island levee just north of St. Louis on the Illinois side where several thousand acres of farmland were in peril.

Except for the immediate riverfront section, St. Louis is on high ground out of reach of the flood. Thirty-six miles of huge earthen barriers protecting the heavily-populated area across from St. Louis in Illinois, in good condition, are being patrolled around the clock.

Highest Level

The peak of the flood rolled by St. Louis early Tuesday when the river went to its highest stage in 107 years. The top mark was 40.28 feet, just .02 of a foot higher than the 1947 overflow. The high marks of both floods were recorded officially by the government weather bureau at 40.3 or to the nearest one-tenth.

The loss at St. Louis has been estimated at $4,000,000—less than half that of the flood four years ago when industries in the vulnerable area had less warning.

By far the greatest part of the damage in the midwest floods—variously estimated at from $850,000,000 to $1,000,000,000—was in eastern Kansas and western Missouri along the Kansas and Missouri Rivers.

Iran Agrees To Talk Over Oil With British

TEHRAN, July 23 (Reuters) — Iran has agreed to a suggestion by Averell Harriman, United States special envoy, to "talk over the oil dispute with a British cabinet minister, usually well-informed Iranian sources reported today.

Harriman's proposal, suggesting Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was conveyed to Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh, who replied he preferred Sir Stafford Cripps, Gaitskell's predecessor, now in Switzerland for treatment of the illness which caused his resignation, the sources said.

The same sources said Britain was informed of Mossadegh's wishes but has reported neither Gaitskell nor Cripps were available. Britain is willing, however, to send another leading minister with "knowledge of economics."

May Be Dalton

It was believed this might be Dalton, Minister of Local Government and Planning, a former Treasury official.

Meanwhile, according to local observers, it appears Iran might be willing to change the oil nationalization law a little while Britain might go farther than her earlier intention of recognizing only the principle of and "some form" of nationalization.

After last night's two-hour meeting between Harriman and members of Iran's oil commission at the Shah's summer palace, the Iranians were openly jubilant. Harriman, normally serious, smiled as he parried reporters' questions. "We made progress," was all the United States envoy would say.

France Forbids Babies Swim

PARIS, July 23—(AP)—The swimming Tongays of Miami, Fla., may be allowed to stay in France only if they promise not to try to swim out—across the English Channel.

Russell Tongar, father of "Water Babies" Bubba, 5, and Kathy, 4, was ordered to Le Bourget airfield today for immigration hearing but didn't go, he told reporters.

Instead, he saw the consul at the American Embassy, he said.

"I was planning that Bubba and Kathy would try to swim the English Channel from Cap Gris Nez to Dover, but now I don't know what to do," he added.

French sources said the government probably will let the Tongays stay in France if they guarantee that the children will not attempt the channel swim or "otherwise make public exhibitions for exploitation of the children."

Letter To Stalin Gets Results For Woman

TEL AVIV, Israel, July 23 (AP)—Mrs. Tova Lerner, 73, wrote a letter to Stalin and got results.

Born in what used to be Czernowitz, Austria, but what is now Cernaute, Romania, Mrs. Lerner fled to Russia during the Second World War. In 1948 she posted a letter to Prime Minister Stalin appealing for permission to join her son in Israel.

Soviet authorities usually permit no emigration. But after a considerable wait, she got a passport.

Mrs. Lerner arrived in Haifa harbor this morning.

Air Search Begins For 38 In Plane As Weather Clears

VANCOUVER, July 23. (CP)—A Canadian Pacific Airlines DS-4—the first Korean airlift plane to meet disaster in 83,000,000 miles of flying—was hunted by air and sea today along the Alaska Panhandle. Hope was fading for the 38 occupants of the four-engined aircraft, which vanished Saturday. But, with gradually-improving weather forecast for today, plans were made to step up the scope of the search for the plane, which may have disappeared into the Pacific or crashed in one of the mountains which tower as high as 12,000 feet.

It was reported that Canadian navy vessels, including a destroyer, may join the three U.S. coast guard cutters now on the scene.

Two Canadians

The plane, which took off from Vancouver early Saturday with Anchorage, Alaska, its first stop, carried a crew of seven, two Canadian navy men, three United States army officers, three civilians attached to the U.S. Army and 23 U.S. air force men bound for duty in Japan. Tokyo was the plane's final destination.

It made its last position report at 1:17 a.m. PDT Saturday off Cape Spencer, about 80 miles west of Juneau and 500 air miles south of Anchorage.

The navy men were identified yesterday as AB. Robert J. Moore of Westphal, N.S., and AB. Frank R. Laker of Winnipeg.

Other passengers included Col. Audley H. F. Stephan, who helped balance Japan's post-war occupation budget, and Glen R. Clauson of Seattle, an expert on the Far East. His family declined to disclose his mission on grounds of military security.

20 Planes

A CPA spokesman here said 20 planes participated in yesterday's futile search, the first time the weather has allowed aircraft to get off the ground.

Each flight had to be monitored to keep the planes from running into each other in the soupy weather. Planes skimming the waters off the Panhandle, the coastal strip extending south of Alaska proper, were unable to complete their missions because of poor visibility.

CPA has flown four planes north to participate in the search. Four RCAF planes are standing by, awaiting any requests from the United States coast guard officials conducting the hunt.

CPA operates four flights weekly on the Korean airlift out of Vancouver under military charter and company aircraft have flown 330 Pacific crossings over the route the missing plane was following.

An American pilot flying in the same area as the DC-4—at approximately the same time it was reported overdue—described his flight as "generally routine" despite continuous rain.

The pilot, on a direct flight from Anchorage to Seattle, said the air was generally smooth at 10,000 feet.

Chatham Boy, 14 Saves Truck Driver

ERIEAU, Ont., July 23 —(CP)—A 14-year-old Chatham boy was credited with saving the life of a driver whose truck rolled into Lake Erie near here.

Police said a truck driven by Kenneth Holdaway, 22, of Cedar Springs, went out of control after a collision and rolled off the highway into five feet of water. Bill Howe, passing on a bicycle, swam underwater to the cab, and opened the truck door. Aided by Bill Refuse of Erieau, he pulled the truck driver to shore.

Wounded Soldiers Flown From Korea

HALIFAX, July 23 (CP)—The longest flying ambulance job in Canadian military history ended here Sunday when an RCAF Dakota arrived with three soldiers who were wounded in Korea.

They were the last of 11 to be taken aboard the ambulance plane at McChord Field, Tacoma, Wash., for the long flight to hospitals near their homes. They are: Cpl. A. Clark, 28, Maccan, NS; Pte. George Ling, 24, Halifax; and Pte. Gordon A. Kennedy, 20, Corner Brook, Nfld.

University Set Up For Exiles, Refugees

ALBANY, N.Y., July 23—(AP)—The State Board of Regents—the governing body of education in New York State—Sunday announced it had chartered a corporation that will provide University scholarships for exiles and refugees from Iron Curtain countries.

The corporation—the privately-operated Free Europe University in Exile—will arrange for college training for such displaced persons in universities of western Europe and the near East.

Informed sources said about $250,000 has been raised to launch the project.

Soviet Speeches Open Campaign Against Tito

By The Associated Press

Some of the Kremlin's top spokesmen were loosed on northeastern Europe during the weekend to utter tirades against Tito, accuse the west of "acts of aggression" and assert their own undying devotion to peace.

The Soviet deputy premier, Vyavcheslav M. Molotov, tried to sound the knell for Yugoslav premier Marshal Tito's government in a speech Saturday at Warsaw. Molotov, warming up the old Kremlin hope that a Yugoslav counter-revolution would cook Tito's goose, said:

"Now all can see the gang of Tito, (Foreign Minister Edward) Kardelj and (Interior Minister Alexander) Rankovic have already re-established the capitalist system in Yugoslavia, deprived the people of its revolutionary victory, and transformed the nation into a weapon of the aggressive, imperialist powers . . . this cannot continue long. The peoples of Yugoslavia will find a way to freedom and liquidation of the Titoist Fascist regime."

Western observers showed much interest in the fact that Marshal Zhukov spoke at Warsaw. This was his first public utterance for some years.

The cream of the Polish armed formes marched past a reviewing stand crammed with notables from Russia and the People's (Communist) Democracies.

Petain Dies

Summoned at the age of 84 to the helm of a France recoiling before the onrushing Nazi armies, it was his lot to surrender his country to the victorious Germans. Then he became Chief of State of a semi-puppet government set up in Vichy.

Tried For Treason

After the liberation Petain faced trial in 1945. It was the first trial of the head of a French government since King Louis XVI was convicted and guillotined in 1793 for "treating with the enemy."

The high court of justice found Petain guilty of intelligence with the German enemy and pronounced a death sentence. But the court expressed hope the sentence would not be executed.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the wartime French leader who became president of the French provisional government immediately after the war, commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

Petain, 89 at the time of the trial told the jury that "on the threshhold of death, I swear that I always served France."

Besides the death sentence, the court sentenced him to "national indignity," and ordered all his property confiscated. He retained his title of Marshal, which under French law is a personal title lasting for life.

Nov. 16, 1945, he was sent to this tiny, sea-lashed island off the French Atlantic coast, southwest of Nantes, to serve out his sentence.

Slow Promotion

Petain—his full name was Henri Philippe Benoni Omer Joseph Petain—was born April 24, 1856, at Chaucy - la - Tour in northern France. He was graduate of St. Cyr, France's military academy. Promotion came slowly. He was only a Lieutenant-Colonel at the age of 60.

But in August, 1914, he charged at the head of his regiment with a whip in one hand and a pistol in the other, driving into the Meuse river those Germans who could not get across a bridge.

After Verdun he was appointed chief of the general staff and later commander-in-chief of French forces. Ten days after the war ended he became a Marshal of France.

In 1939, he became France's first ambassador to the Spanish regime of Generalissimo Franco. It was through Franco, once his pupil, that Petain little more than a year later asked the Germans for armistice terms.

In 1949, many Frenchmen began to have a certain change of heart toward the aged Marshal.

De Gaulle made a public appeal that the old man be moved to the mainland where he could see "green grass and trees" before he died.

When France celebrated the 35th anniversary of the battle of Verdun last February, Petain's name was omitted from the official program. Veterans of his old armies protested in vain.

Owing to the Marshal's failing health, President Vincent Auriol commuted his sentence June 17 to permanent confinement in a military hospital. He was ordered transferred to a mainland hospital but was unable to be moved because of his health.

The government then took over a private villa on the island and designated it as a branch of the military hospital at Nantes to comply technically with the terms of the commutation.

An announcement today said a simple religious ceremony would be held in the little port town of Port Joinville on the island.

Eight Burned West Coast fire

SAN FRANSISCO, July 23 — (AP)—At least eight persons were burned to death and 23 were injured Sunday in a quickly-spreading dawn blaze that destroyed a four-storey apartment house.

Ten other persons who lived in the building were missing but most of these were believed away for the week-end. It was San Francisco's worst blaze since a 1944 fire killed 22.

The bodies of seven women and one man were charred beyond recognition. Firemen spent the day hunting through water soaked debris for traces of others.

Damage was estimated at $40,000. Cause of the fire was undetermined.

Full Speed Ahead

"The main danger to world peace comes from the Soviet rulers, from the growing military force at their disposal, and from their proved willingness to use aggression to gain their ends," he said.

Blackmail

"The military build-up of the Soviet Union, which has been continuing since 1945, has no other purpose than to blackmail the free world into submission to Communist domination.

"Or, if the free world lacks strength or determination to prevent it, the purpose is to overrun its members one by one."

The costs of national security, domestic and foreign, now are running above $35,000,000,000 a year, he said. The rate will be $50,000,000,000 by New Year's Day and nearly $65,000,000,000 a year hence.

Poison In Pasture Kills Seven Cows

WIARTON, July 23 — (CP).—An Amabel Township farmer today was still anxiously watching 11 of his cattle while Provincial Police pressed their search for the person or persons who left arsenic and lead poisoning in the pasture field.

Seven cows from David Ottewell's herd of 23 cows and six calves have already died.

Police said the poisoning was a deliberate act of spite. A bag containing some of the poison was found in the pasture field.

Veterinarians said the poisoned cows that are still living will never be in perfect health again, if they survive.

Wiarton is 20 miles west of Owen Sound.

Toronto Men Get Suspended Term

Four Toronto men pleaded guilty in police court today to a charge of receiving goods, the property of Gar Emery whose store on Highway 7E was broken into July 14.

Three pairs of shoes were taken from the store and they were later found in the possession of the Toronto men.

"I think it was more of a foolish, drunken prank than anything else," commented Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, gave them suspended sentences of two years and charged them the costs of court.

One of the four, Robert Innes, 30, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor and he was assessed an extra $17.50. The other three were Charles McBrien, 30, Kenneth Courier, 28, and Melvin Broome, 29. Charges against Mrs. Marion Harper, 22, were withdrawn by the crown. She was said to be asleep in the car when the incident took place.

Mr. Emery reported to provincial police that his store had been broken into. The thieves broke a rear window and forced the door. He reported the licence number of the car driven by Innes.

OPP Constable James Healey arrested them a half hour later near Norwood.

Charges of breaking, entering and theft were withdrawn by the Crown.

Canadian Dollar

NEW YORK, July 23 (CP) — The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a discount of 5½ per cent in terms of United States funds in opening foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was up 1/16 of one cent at $2.80 1/16.

Arms Association Charges Canada Not Doing Job

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP).—The Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association, in its current bulletin sharply criticizes the United States for failing to make full use of the Canadian industrial machine.

The Association, spokesman for Canadian armament producers, says Canada is placing about $250,000,000 more defence orders in the US than the US is in Canada and adds that some Americans appear to be "completely unaware" of what Canada is doing in defence matters generally.

No Evidence

It charged that though a Canada-United States economic pact was signed last October to pool resources for defence purposes, "there is no visible evidence of planning for the pooling of our production resources for defence on a North American basis."

The fact that the economic principles established through the pact have not been carried out could be blamed on the US, the Association says.

"That country has not placed direct orders of a value even remotely approaching the value of Canadian orders on US sources. Nor has there been any evidence of the development of a co-ordinated program of requirements."

High US tariffs on Canadian goods was one reason, the Association said.

But it may be that the major part of the fault lies in the United States, but it may be also, that the basic cause is that Canadians as individuals, as business men and as a nation, have not presented their case with sufficient vigor and adroitness.

"If the 'common defence' is no empty, meaningless term, then the effort to achieve it must be mutual in all respects. If it is not, then Canada and Canadians should not hesitate to draw attention with vigor to any lack of mutuality."

Cannon Thieves Acted Childishly

QUEBEC, July 23 (CP) — The commanding officer of Quebec's Citadel—home of the Royal 22nd Regiment—said Sunday night he thinks RCAF officers who carted away a historic cannon last week "acted childishly."

Col. L. Fremont Trudeau, also commanding officer of the famed Van Doos crack first battalion, said if the matter was being considered a joke it was "une mauvaise farce"—a bad joke.

The cannon, captured by British forces at the Battle of Bunker Hill in 1776, was trucked out of the walled fortress on top of Cape Diamond Wednesday night.

RCAF officers, who come to Quebec regularly to fly paratroopers in night exercises at Valcartier, had been guests of the Van Doos officers and took the cannon out in a panel truck on their way back to Lorette airport on the city's outskirts.

The cannon, driven right through the main entrance of the fortress and past armed sentinels, was placed in one of three planes returning to Ottawa.

Textile Union Revolts Against Head

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Four hundred members of the Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO), meeting in opposition to the administration of union President Emil Rieve, today formed a 70-man committee with a $100,000 fund to work for the "democratization" of the union.

Today's session was led by Executive Vice-President George Baldanzi, who claimed that Rieve tried to "purge" him at last year's Boston convention and that more than a dozen union members who opposed Rieve have been fired.

Baldanzi said he would call for a democratization of the 400,000-member union at its convention in Cleveland next April.

Sell Building

Edward Brancard, president of Local 122, Yonkers, N.Y., pledged his union's $175,000 assets. "We'll sell our building if necessary," he said.

Charles Lazzio, president of Local 1733, Paterson, N.J., pedged "our whole treasury" of $85,000.

Baldanzi will head a five-man steering committee of vice-presidents Joseph Hueter, Sam Baron of Montreal, Charles E. Hughs and Charles Serraino.

Members at the meeting, said to represent one-third of the union's membership in the United States and Canada, unanimously passed a resolution calling for restoration of discharged members.

Baldazni said his followers did not intend to secede from the union but would work within its framework "to make it more democratic."

Union officials in the Baldanzi faction said they would try to put through a program stripping Rieve of his rght to appoint executive council members to salaried positions and to make more of the top jobs elective rather than appointive.

Dismissed

Baron, of Montreal, was dismissed by Rieve, March 9, as Canadian director of the TWUA for what Rieve described as "conduct unbecoming a staff member." The union president appointed J. Harold D'Aoust of Nashua, N.H., in his place.

The Canadian membership then split into two factions and at a special Canadian convention called by the Baron forces April 2, Baron was re-elected Canadian director.

Last moth the executive council of the union met in Ashbury Park, N.J., to hear the Baron case. It upheld by a 16-to-5 vote the Baron ouster.

Bury King Abdullah After Murder

AMMAN, Jordan, July 23 (AP)—Bugles sounded a farewell salute across the barren, rocky hills of Jordan as the body of murdered King Abdullah was lowered into its grave. Guns of the Arab Legion boomed out at one-minute intervals as the cortage moved to the grave.

The wailing of thousands of subjects could be heard on the surrounding hills during the solemn funeral process from the assassinated king's royal palace to his burial place.

Black flags draped this dusty little capital in preparation for three months of mourning for the powerful British-supported Arab King. He was assassinated Friday as he went to pray at the tomb of his father in the Mosque of Omar in the Jordan-held old city of Jerusalem.

Commanders of Abdullah's Arab Legion had carried the flag-draped coffin from the palace to a gun carriage, and then from the carriage to the grave. High Moslem priests chanted death prayers.

Abdullah's white horse, caparisoned in black and carrying Abdullah's silved sword and his riding boots, led the funeral procession immediately behind the coffin.

1,000 Dignitaries

An estimated 1,000 dignitaries from neighboring Arab countries and from other parts of the world marched in the procession. Only those with special permits were permitted to take part in the procession. Others were kept away by machine-gun and barbed-wire emplacements on the surrounding hills.

The Power Of Flood Waters

The greatest flood in American history has washed Korea out of the American headlines. The crest of water moved down the Missouri River at about fifty miles a day and hit St. Louis, gateway to the west, junction of the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers over the week-end. The damage to Kansas City has been shocking; the ravage of St. Louis where desperate preparations were made to meet the flood waters, has fortunately been avoided. Thousands of people are homeless; millions of lives have been affected, and agricultural damage in Missouri will be $100,000,000, it is estimated.

From the ancient of days man has known the power of water to create and destroy. Sometimes in this century of marvels, when humans can harness even atomic power and turn it to their own use, man is proudly unheedful of the limits of his power; the great flood in the American mid-west is an awful reminder. The people beside those two mighty rivers have had long experience with flooding and no matter how good and numerous their dykes may be, sometimes, as now, they are little better than match-sticks. Canadians have in a smaller way felt the force of floods—in small Ontario rivers, in torrents in British Columbia mountains, in walls of water in Manitoba; they can sympathize with the plight of the people of Missouri.

Is it Job's comfort to remind the Americans now of the ancient Hindu proverb that one good flood is better than a hundred baskets of manure?

Sarnia Gets A City Manager

Sarnia, a city somewhat smaller than Peterborough but growing very fast because of strategic industries, has appointed a city manager. Its reasons for doing so, and the success it meets with, will be studied very carefully by other Ontario cities. Peterborough has long toyed with the proposal to name a city manager.

The business of a city the size of Peterboroughough or Sarnia is large and complex. Peterborough civic business is now running at the rate of two million dollars a year. The idea behind having a city manager is to put the municipality into a businesslike framework comparable to that of any other corporation with as large an annual turnover: the mayor as president, the aldermen as members of the board of directors, and the city manager as general manager of the big company. Interested Sarnia citizens and its Chamber of Commerce explored the city manager plan in other cities, Canadian and foreign, before recommending it to the Council. They found that in the last fifteen years more than 900 municipalities have adopted the plan and only thirty have abandoned it. The reasons for abandonment were given as: defective bylaws or bills; failure to secure the right type of man; economic factors, and political conditions.

Reasons which convinced Sarnia of the soundness of the city management plan were numerous. It would separate the two main functions of city government into (a) policy making—the job of the elected council and which it is best suited to perform—and (b) administration, placed in the hands of a trained business executive.

The Sarnia Chamber of Commerce further reported to the council that:

"A city manager would co-ordinate the work of the various divisions of our civic service.

"The plan would further continuity and long-term planning.

"By relieving councillors of tedious administration work, it would leave them free for the more important job of formulating policy for the city.

"It would tend to attract the highest type of citizens to council.

"The council-manager plan would provide co-ordinated administration, headed by a man trained for the job, and free of local politics.

"Economies would be realized by co-ordinated purchasing power.

"More efficient use of personnel would be effected by the shifting of employees from one department to another as needed, and advancing employees to more responsible positions on merit."

It is a question whether or not Peterborough can afford to wait until the Sarnia experiment has been proven a success or a failure. Peterborough could sink while Sarnia soared. Further, the pressure of city business is now so great on our aldermen and Mayor that the work is becoming unattractively onerous. So much time, thought and energy are required of them—even about small details—that the citizens may find highly qualified persons difficult to secure as their elected representatives.

On the other hand, the City Manager plan would not make all plain sailing. If the wrong type of man were named, chaos should result before he could be removed. Further, there is always an inherent danger in vesting large authority in one appointed man. He becomes the expert, the know-it-all, and the elected representatives soon find themselves dependent on him for their every move. If the city manager becomes the policy-maker, then representative government in the municipality becomes a mockery. On the other side of the situation is the plight of a city manager subjected to intense political pressures, forcing him to play politics himself to keep the ship of local state on an even keel.

In the light of the Sarnia appointment and Peterborough's own growth, our Council and citizens should again consider the question of a city manager. An independent group might do as the Sarnia citizens did, and make a careful study of the whole matter in relation to local conditions.

Congress Coalition Thwarts U.S. Government

The treatment accorded the control measures of the United States Administration's Defence Production Act is an outstanding example of the ineffectuality of the Administration against the legislative coalition of a section of its own party and the opposing Republican Party. Over the appeals of Democratic House leaders, and at least one Republican appeal, the coalition members of the House of Representatives proceeded to delete from the bill the provisions the Adiministration declared it needed most urgently. President Truman could still veto the bill, but that would only mean going through the same thing all over again, with undoubtedly the same result.

The situation is that the coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, encouraged by lack of public protest about inflation, has decided to gamble on inflation becoming no worse. The Administration has contended that the controls it asks for are essential to prevent further inflation, and it has tried to arouse public support for that ontention. But the public failed to respond, and in view of the traditional readiness of United States voters to write complaining letters to their Congressmen when dissatisfied, it is not surprising that coalition members interpreted the lack of protest as meaning that they might safely mutilate the Administration's control measures.

This action could prove a boomerang; if it does, the Administration Democrats will be ready to make political capital of the fact. They have already begun to demand roll calls on every major amendment. If prices should begin to rise as rapidly as they did early in the year, at any time between now and next year's elections, the Administration Democrats will be able to blame those who voted against controls. If prices do not rise, of course, the coalition members will have political ammunition to use against the Administration.

Although the issue is domestic, it may have international repercussions. If prices soar because of lack of controls in the United States, Canada's economy will undoubtedly be affected, to an indefinite degree. And this further demonstration of the inability of the United States Administration to implement its legislative programs may increase uneasiness caused abroad by such demonstrations in the past.

Baudouin The First

Last week Leopold the Third of Belgium abdicated in favour of his son, and Baudouin the First ascended the throne. Thus ended the Royal quarrel which has disrupted Belgium for a decade. Leopold was accused by his critics of having given comfort to the enemy (the Germans) by his capitulation in 1940 and subsequently by living in favour with the Germans. Now Leopold has sacrificed the throne and saved the dynasty.

An observer in Brussels, watching Baudouin's first action after leaving Parliament—laying a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier—says: "As he walked forward, greeted by almost all the military dignitaries of the realm, most of them at least twice his age and some of them three or four times older, he looked pathetically lonely and vulnerable. Peering behind his thick spectacles, unsure quite how to lay a wreath, and how long to remain at attention afterwards, obviously taking the whole business terribly to heart, it seemed unfair that from now on every step of his young life, every word or action, will be watched and may at any minute be used as evidence against him."

Perhaps the country is now unified in the person of this young man, not quite 21. But the unity is precarious. The controversy which surrounded his father can be revived, although, apart from the Communists who matter very little in Belgium, all parties unanimously accepted Baudouin's advent to the throne. But there still exists a split between Flemish and Walloons and between Left and Right. The young new King will have to be wise and statesmanlike beyond his years if the country is to be truly unified around the throne. The Socialists set aside their Republican principles in accepting Baudouin, but at last Tuesday's ceremony, their leader and former Prime Minister, Paul Spaak, clapped only with the tips of his fingers.

Encouraging The Arts

By MARY GLASGOW
(formerly Secretary-General of the Arts Council of Great Britain

WHILE few people would argue against the official encouragement of the fine arts, the form that support should take is a matter of opinion. Certainly the methods of Governmental sponsorship vary widely in different countries.

Britain has no Government department responsible for subsidizing theatre, music or art and, until 11 years ago, there was no public money for these things at all. Then it happened almost by chance, because the first State subsidy to the arts was a war-time emergency measure. The coming of the Arts Council of Great Britain was an experiment. And it still is.

AT the beginning of World War II—in December 1939—a private Committee for the Encouragement of Music and the Arts set up with money from the Pilgrim Trust fund—that generous gift to his native country from Stephen Harkness, the American Railway King and benefactor of Yale University. The Committee's purpose was to help struggling theatre companies and concert societies and orchestras. Its success was so immediate and the calls upon its resources so overwhelming that in April 1940 the Government stepped in with a grant of money. The Committee was re-christened the Council for the Encouragement of Music and the Arts and began to win its war-time fame as C.E.M.A.

During the years from 1940 to 1945 C.E.M.A. organized thousands of concerts in every corner of Britain. They were given in the air raid shelters of great cities, in rest centres for the homeless, in remote villages where people were cut off from their usual sources of enjoyment, in factory canteens, and isolated camps, and in every kind of available centre from churches to country inns and from dockyards to hospitals.

TOURING companies were organized and took plays, opera and ballet to improvized stages for the same scattered audiences. The Old Vic theatre company itself was absent from London for four years, working for C.E.M.A. among the small towns and the industrial population in the North of England. Travelling exhibitions of painting and design, needlework and sculpture visited the most unlike "galleries" in schools and shops and village institutes.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL this was exciting and the results were clear to see. The audiences were enthusiastic, for many of them were hearing live music and living actors and seeing original works of art for the first time. The artists were equally appreciative, for they had found a new public to whom they were prepared to give the best that they had. There was something like a renaissance of the arts in the towns and villages of Britain; and to London there came a new enthusiasm as the hard-worked population flocked to hear the great symphony orchestras, and to see the Sadler's Wells Ballet and the sparkling seasons in which John Gielgud took part at the Haymarket Theatre. The challenge of war-time had been vigorously met. Then, in 1945, came a M.A., which had grown up so spontaneously in the special conditions of those five years, fresh challenge. How could the work of CEMA be carried forward as something enduring to serve the arts in peace-time?

IN June 1945 Parliament decided that C.E.M.A. should continue, with a new title—the Arts Council of Great Britain; and a year later the Council received a Royal Charter from King George VI. Its purpose there set out was to develop: "...a greater knowledge, understanding and practice of the fine arts ...and in particular to increase the accessibility of the fine arts to the public...and to improve the standard of execution of the fine arts."

That was the task with which the Arts Council was entrusted. How is it achieving its aim? In place of the war-time concerts in factories and camps are numbers of independent, often self-supporting, music clubs. The Arts Council is there to give help if it is needed, but the clubs are run by the members themselves. In place of the programmes of music and plays with C.E.M.A. provided in towns and villages there are now local managements and local societies which engage the companies and orchestras of their choice. Art galleries have been re-opened, halls and theatres re-equipped, and the function of the Arts Council is now to support the independent ventures of the local citizens rather than to provide ready-made entertainment from London.

SOME direct organizing, however, still goes on. There are still Arts Council theatre companies which travel in the more remote districts, Arts Council pioneer concerts given in villages where as yet there are no resources for independent management, and Arts Council touring exhibitions. But all these are in the nature of incentives to fill a gap and show the way until such time as responsibility can be handed over to the people on the spot.

Arts Council money is spent largely in grants to independent bodies, and these are of any size from a village choir, which may need £20 to engage a professional soloist, to the Covent Garden Opera which has become the national home of opera and ballet and needs £150,000 a year to balance its budget. The Old Vic theatre company, Sadler's Wells, Covent Garden and the four great symphony orchestras (the Halle, the London Philharmonic, the Liverpool Philharmonic and the City of Birmingham Orchestra) all receive substantial annual sums. But that is not the whole picture. Often a theatre company needs funds with which to launch a new programme and the Arts Council is here to make it a loan, repayable if the venture is a success.

ONE such company is Sherek Players which has been running an enterprising programme since the war and recently presented "The Cocktail Party" in New York. This company began with capital provided by the Arts Council and has since repaid the loan in full. Sometimes a company needs only a guarantee against loss and of this a good example is the Bankside Players, under Robert Atkins, which gives every year, from May to August, a season of Shakespeare' plays in the open-air setting of Regent's Park. If the weather is fine, audiences are large and the guarantee is unlikely to be called.

The important thing about all these State-supported organizations, whether they represent artists or audiences, orchestras or music clubs, whether they are great metropolitan concerns or modest village societies, is that they are left to run their own things in their own way. It is not for the Arts Council to choose their programmes or their players, but only to make sure that their affairs are in good order and their standards high before giving them the financial help they need.

The Arts Council is no Ministry of Fine Arts and it is my own most fervent hope that it will never become one. "State Support without State Control" is its boast and its continuing aim, and we hope that no painter, playwright or composer will ever want or need to have the stamp of "official approval" on his work.

NEW ARRIVAL—By Robert Chambers in the Halifax Chronicle-Herald

Landlords and Planned Parenthood

(CALGARY HERALD)

A RECENT news item tells of a Winnipeg landlord who presents prospective tenants with a questionnaire to be filled out before he will consider their applications to rent suites in his new apartment block.

One of the items on the questionnaire requires that the expectant tenant state wheher his plans include having children in the next three years. If so, he apparently will not get his apartment, because he must undertake to vacate in the event of their birth, whether planned or unplanned.

Despite this qualification, the tenant is expected to take the apartment on a three-year lease, wih three months' rent in advance, two months of that to apply to the last two monhs of tenancy. The rent is $80 per month for a three-month suite.

The tenants of the new block are probably so delighted to find a place to live that they are more than willing to comply with the landlord's rules. They may even go so far as to refrain from having children just to please him. But, as Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Winnipeg North Centre, said recently in the Commons, "such questionnaires should be discouraged." This was a masterpiece of understatement.

Such questionnaires undermine the basic principles of our democracy, not to mention the basic principles of a happy marriage. While Canadians have, in the past ten years or so, learned that landlords may tell them they cannot drink, smoke, be a Negro, paint the walls or keep a dog if they want to live in such-and-such a house or apartment or room or garret, they should surely not be expected to regulate their lives for the forthcoming three years entirely to suit his pleasure.

The housing situation being what it is, the landlord has taken on the aspect of the villain who held the mortgage in the old-fashioned melodrama. This impression is encouraged by a man like this Winnipeg landlord, who assumes the right to tell his tenants everything they must do and be before moving into his premises, and to regulate most of their activities during their stay. Now it appears that landlords are legally permitted to regulate the tenants' sex lives.

If this sort of thing is sanctioned by law, then the law should be changed. Apart from anything else, it strikes at the roots of a society which claims to be based on the family.

More And Easier Royal Tours

(Brantford Expositor)

But should the full old-fashioned treatment of a gruelling grind be imposed on the young and welcome visitors? Should, the tour really be allowed to become in fact the ordeal now in prospect?

After all, this is Canada, and the year 1951 — not Antarctica and the year 1851. Space and time have been contracted and condensed by the miracles of modern science. The boundaries of the Commonwealth and Empire have been narrowed by speed where not by disintegration, and distances have been diminished. It requires only a few hours to span the Atlantic, taking less time and effort than it used to require for a Channel crossing.

What this leads up to is the relatively simple recommendation that instead of trying to "take in" most of Canada in one gigantic gulp, so to speak, the royal guests should make their visit by periodic and easier stages. In short, instead of coming once in a long while, why should they not come often and see different and convenient areas of the country each time?

Carthage Leaves Montreal

(Montreal Star)

What price progress? In ancient Carthage in 700 BC traffic moved through the streets at about 4 to 5 miles an hour. It was regulated by law. Today, some 26 centuries later, Montreal at the rush hour can hardly equal the maddening pace set by the Carthage, elephant-drawn taxi-cabs. We are hardly holding our own.

Carthage, indeed, has the edge. If elephants appeared on Bleury, Sherbrooke, or St. Catharines Sts. between 5 and 6 o'clock at night, none of us would ever get home.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

So he built the house, and finished it: and covered the house with beams and boards of cedar....And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, saying, Concerning this house which thou art in building, if thou wilt walk in my statutes, and execute my judgements, and keep all my commandments to walk in them; then will I perform my word with thee, which I spake unto David thy father: and I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel. (I Kings 6: 9, 11-13.)

And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all? And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these. (Mark 12: 28-31.)

Letter To The Editor

SMUG ENOUGH

Sir: Your correspondent, Mr. Weiss (of Swiss extraction?) has hit the nail on the head. The Swiss are virtuous, industrious, honest, and so on, to the point of smugness. If they had a few human failings, perhaps they would be more liked!

On the other hand, the argument that the Swiss escaped the worst consequences of the war owing to their moral qualities will not bear examination. The prosperity of the wicked and the misery of the righteous is a problem that has exercised men's minds ever since the days of the Psalmist. Sterling moral qualities of a type similar to those common in Switzerland are to be found in Holland: yet that country bore the brunt of Hitler's war. Norway suffered invasion and occupation: Sweden, by a policy of appeasement, escaped scot-free. Are the Swedes more virtuous than the Norwegians? Coming further home, the North American continent hasn't done too badly out of the last two wars. Is that a sign of being more virtuous than the degenerate Europeans (excluding the Swiss, of course)?

We are smug enough here as it is: we cannot afford to import more smuggery from Switzerland or any other country!

Yours faithfully,
HOMO SAPIENS.

"Mug" O'Rourke, often voted biggest and ugliest man on the police force, was cruising down the boulevard when the brand new and very luxurious coupe sped past him. He gave chase, forced the swank car to the curb; and at the risk of being trite, inquired of the gorgeous red-headed motorist: "Where do you think you're going, Glamour Girl—to a fire?"

She smiled with beautiful eyes and said in a hushed voice: "If I were in a fire, I wouldn't be melting any more than I am right now—before your godlike brawn and handsomeness."

O'Rourke caught his breath and said: "If I couldn't see me own reflection in the shining newness of your car to prove you're telling me only the truth, I'd give ye a ticket. Now, git along wit' ye!"

Key Alert Post Set Up In US

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Deep in military headquarters here is a command post, manned continuously now, from which the air war will be directed if Russian bombers head for United States cities.

A battery of direct-line telephones link the post with the warning networks, fighter and bomber bases and headquarters of the air force. Instant contact can be made with any of them.

Each evening in the Pentagon a general goes to the command post to remain in charge throughout the night. He also has before him a daily list to show the whereabouts at all times of key personnel of the air force—the secretaries, the chief of air staff, the heads of all USAF branches and offices. The nightly duty is rotated among a number of air general officers.

Here in this room with the telephones and global time tellers and links to radio circuits around the world will come the first alert if some night Red bombers start thrumming over Arctic or coastal radar statioins.

Easier "rocking" in snow or mud—Stuck in the mud? Simply move the Selector to Low for extra traction. Want to "rock" your car out of snow or a rut? Just move the Selector back and forth from Reverse to Drive. And if on some rare occasion you ever need a push in order to start, it's safer with this Automatic Transmission . . . the engine will start while the car is being pushed at safe, low speeds.

Permits use of engine for braking safety—You're safer on hills or on slippery roads, too, because with the new Ford and Monarch Automatic Shifting, the engine actually helps to slow the car down. You can flip the Selector to Low at any speed with complete safety when extra engine braking is needed. This advancement in design gives safety and convenience not found in most other automatic drives, regardless of price.

Bill Parnell Sest Record For Half Mile

VANCOUVER, July 23 (CP)—Bill Parnell of Vancouver hoarded the spectacular until the last minute Saturday and the Canadian track and field championships wound up in a blaze of toppling records.

Parnell, the long-limbed Empire games mile champion, ran the half-mile in one minute 52.7 seconds on the final day of the two-day meet to set a Canadian native and British Columbia open and native records.

But Parnell's purge didn't end at that.

Three other records fell in the same 800-yard run when Parnell, clocked at the 800-metre mark, shot across in 1:52 to chalk up a Canadian native and open and native BC records for 800 metres.

No other Canadian records fell during the championships, held this year at the University of British Columbia stadium.

No eastern Canadian athletes entered the championships. Lyle Garbe, a Calgary youth, led the outsiders Saturday. He established an open BC record when he ran the three-mile event in 15 minutes, 7.2 seconds.

Vancouver Olympic Club athletes captured the discus throw Saturday and the club grabbed the top point total with 66, 13 points ahead of the runner-up Victoria YWCA.

Besides Parnell, a tournament standout was Pete Steward of Oliver, BC, racing the Vivtoria team. He took both the 120-yard high hurdles and the 220-yard low hurdles Friday and then made a clean sweep of the hurdles events with victory in the 440-yard hurdles.

Lyall Sundberg of Calgary won the six-mile event Friday, while Allan Craib took the running broad jump. Except for these, and Garbe's win yesterday, it was an all-BC show.

Blue Again Wins In Close Finish

TORONTO, July 23 (CP). — A field of pacers provided two great finishes in the $1,000 stake race at the Thorncliffe trots on Saturday.

Blue Again, owned and driven by W. Leatherdale of Windsor, split the purse with Royal Man, owned by Eddie Cobb of Washington Court House, O.

Blue Again, winner of the $50,000 California pacing stake, beat Royal Man by a length in their first heat.

In the second dash of the same race, Blue Again grabbed the rail but Royal Man moved up to challenge on the outside. The two horses raced head-and-head for the final half and Royal Man just managed to shove his nose in front in the final strides.

Biggest price of the afternoon was paid by Jack Mehlenbacher's Vandusen, from Hagersville, Ont. The gelding paid $20.70 as he lowered his lifetime pacing record to 2.12 4-5. Two other horses established new marks—Jimelwyn in 2.18 and Rocket Hanover in 2.13. Jimelwyn is owned by Gordon Knight, of Blenheim, Ont., Rocket Hanover is owned by H. G. Bone, of Port Hope.

Jimmie McIntyre of Peterborough, drove Elgin Silk to a win in the second race.

Petes Beat Staffords Twice To Stay Atop Viaduct Loop

The Petes kept in front of the Viaduct Baseball League race here Saturday by sweeping both ends of a twin bill over Toronto Staffords before slim crowds. They downed them 7-3 in the afternoon opener with Doug Plunkett pitching seven-hit ball, and beat them in the rainy nightcap 8-6, Bill Edger giving way in the ninth to Lefty Dadson. Johnny Stoneburgh, of Staffs, performed the iron-man stunt by hurling both games and doing a fair chore.

Apart from the seventh inning, when three scored, Plunkett had little trouble in the opener, though he was weakening near the finish. The Petes hit in timely style in three heats to earn it. Fred Garvey led them at bat with two for three as Bill Huntley got two in four. Dick Golden had a triple and Joe Stewart a double. Stoneburgh topped the losers with a double and single in four, Glazier getting a two-bagger. The Petes pulled two double-plays to Staffords' one, and Joe Lowrey had a fine running catch in centre field for the victors.

A Closer Fray

The night number was closer with the hitting about even but Staffs kicked more defensively. The Petes' early lead managed to stave off defeat in the latter innings and Toronto kept pounding away. Dick Golden and George Brabin each had three hits in four and Bill Huntley two for five. Two for four each were banged out by Staffords' Bevington, Watson and Weir, the latter smashing a long homer into the river, the first here this year. Prentice and Hosking each got two in five. Windsley had a three-baser and Watson a double.

Twice the game was called briefly for showers and it drizzled off and on throughout. Manager George Hosking was ejected in the fourth for criticizing too strongly Umpire Pat Calladine. He was led out by the police.

Fielding features included a hot stop by Milne and pickup on the throw by Stewart, the hidden-ball trick pulled nicely by Golden, and catches by Brabin and Huntley. For Staffs, Couch pulled off a nifty running catch in centre. The box score:

West Indians Defeat 'A' Cricketers

By C. H. IRESON.

At Toronto on Saturday the local A cricket team lost to the West Indians by two wickets, the score being Peterberough 101, West Indians 104 for 8 wickets. It was a good match with an exciting finish.

One man short, the Peterborough team started well at bat with F. Booth 45 and B. Roberts 23 taking the score to 77 before Roberts was out. A. Pope helped Booth take it to 91 for two wickets, but the side then collapsed as the other seven men scored but four runs. It was 100 for five wickets and all out for 101.

The West Indians were generous in conceding 24 extras to the total of 101, leaving 77 runs scored by the bat. They were more consistent in their batting, top scorer being E. Meyers with 42, including six fours, and he was sixth out with the total at 76. Thanks to 17 scored by T. Campbell, helped by other small scores, the rival total was passed with only eight wickets down, as they won by two wickets. A. V. Pope was the outstanding bowler with five wickets for 32 runs.

The holiday season made it hard to field the best side and the club made the trip with but 10 men. Toronto defaulted to the B team here. Next Saturday the A team plays St. Edmund's here as the B team plays Grace Church in Toronto. Frank Booth has been selected to play for a Toronto District Council combinated team against a well-known English touring team at Armour Heights on August 11.

The score:

Peterborough A—Batting: F. Booth 45, B. Roberts 23, A. Pope 5, E. Cotton 1, H. Dibben 2 not out, T. Pope 1, T. Fraser 0, F. Dyer 0, H. Illingworth 0, R. Harding 0; extras 24—total 101.

Fall of wickets: 1 for 77, 2 for 91, 3 for 97, 4 for 99, 5 for 100, 6, 7, 8 and 9 for 101.

Bowling: E. Meyers 4 wickets for 15 runs, M. Walker 5 for 40, C. Campbell 0 for 12, T. Campbell 0 for 10.

West Indians—Battery: C. Campbell 8, E. Meyers 42, M. Williams 2, B. Wallcote 4, G. Carter 4, M. Walker 3, D. Baird 6, T. Campbell 17, P. Daynell 3, F. Cant and E. Rennell did not bat; extras 15; total for 8 wickets 104.

Fall of wickets: 1 for 13, 2 for 23, 3 for 43, 4 for 58, 5 for 64, 6 for 76, 7 for 94, 8 for 104.

Bowling: A. Pope 5 wickets for 32 runs, F. Booth 1 for 25, F. Dyer 1 for 13, H. Illingworth 1 for 19.

SUDBURY, July 23 (CP). — Moe Norman of Kitchener Rockway added rounds of 77 and 74 to his blistering qualifying round of 67 to capture the 15th annual Sudbury Golf Club invitation tournament Saturday. His 54-hole total was 218. Par is 71.

In second place was the pre-tournament favorite, Nick Weslock of Windsor Essex. He had a 219. A 15-foot putt that hung on the lip of the cup on the last hole cost him a tie with Norman.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Talking to Frank Buckland, local OHA officer, just ere he left on holidays, and he gave us a bit of exclusive info on senior hockey. They had a meeting a few nights back in Toronto and okayed that senior "A" setup we mentioned recently. They also decided on no residence rule in senior "A" and no limit on players till Dec. 15 when just 18 players may be carried by a club. A chap living, for instance, in Oshawa could play for Peterborough, if we went senior "A". The club rosters will be checked by the OHA to see that the teams are fairly well balanced. Kitchener will have to drop several Major Series players to go "A" this year, and Owen Sound is rated now as of "A" strength and cannot play senior "B".

* * * * * *

All senior "B" clubs of last year are being asked to notify the Ontario body shortly as to intentions of staying "B" or going up to the "A" bracket. If the local Petes and Eagles decide to remain in senior "B" company this coming puck campaign, they'll have to abide by senior "B" rules, of course, concerning number of imports, residence rule and deadline for importing and signing them. We rather expect the two local clubs will remain senior "B" but, for the luvva Mike, we trust they will get a better grouping than last year. Or they'll again lose their shirts. Financially, we mean, as they could win games here last year but draw only 500 or so fans. Senior "A" play with the Allan Cup the goal would really pack the place regularly, but the trips would be long and a combined team here would need a better split from the arena.

Petes Snaffle A Pair

In baseball, the Petes kept up their winning ways—after a brief slip to Oshawa last Thursday—by twice downing Toronto Staffs in Riverside on Saturday. Only the next of kin saw the two tilts, one at night being a rainy affair. Scores were 7-3 and 8-6, Doug Plunkett tossed the winner in the first one and Bill Edger won the second, with Lefty Dadson relieving in the ninth before popping off on holidays. Our fielding generally was good, and the Whitehill crew clubbed the apple hard and timely. Manager George Hosking got the air for arguing too much in the nightcap and he left under police escort, saying: "Thank Heaven this is the last time we play here." We said: "Amen."

* * * * * *

Our stickers in the double-header were Fred Garvey, Bill Huntley, Dick Golden, George Brabinand Andy Milne. Stoneburgh, who pitched both games for Staffs—and won't he have a sore arm for a few days?—led 'em in the first fray, while a bunch of them bingled hard in the second tilt, Bevington, Watson, Weir, Prentice and Hosking all getting two safeties. Billy Weir's homer into the drink was the first one there this season and he got a hand from the few rain-soaked fans bravely sitting it out. Dick Golden pulled the hidden-ball trick once successfully, showing that even the bewhiskered ones still sometimes click.

Lacrossers Still Lead

With St. Kitts dropping a pair of OLA games the past week—one to Fergus and one on Saturday to the locals—the Petes fared okay o'er the week-end. Even though they lost by an 8-5 score in Toronto yester hot afternoon. But the Timbermen still have a three-game lead over the Athletics and are four games up on Hamilton. They tackle the Tigers in Hamilton on Wednesday and have no home game until Friday. And the Crowe crew can stand the rest. They played four games in five days, two of them on the road, and that's how come they wilted before the West Yorks on Sunday. Just arm-weary and leg-sore. At that, the Yorks came up with a strong game and excellent netminding to win out in a neat tilt.

* * * * * *

That was a nice one to take on Saturday, the 14-10 decision o'er the cocky A's right in St. Catharines. A clean, hard-fought fray, with Harry Wipper, transplanted St. Kitts' ace, notching four goals. Bob Thorpe, Ike Hildebrand and Arn Dugan twanged the twine twice, with singles counted by Don Ashbee, Jerry Fitzgerald, Russ Slater and Curly Mason. Whole crew clicked like castanets, Moon Wootton again coming up with a stellar piece of work in the visitors' cage. Radio announcer Rex Stimers must have had a catch in his voice as the match ground toward a finish. Those wins we like.

Petes Take A's By 14-10 In OLA Contest

Peterborough's lacrosse stars roared to a thrilling 14-10 victory over St. Catharines Athletics Saturday night, at the Haig Bowl, in the Garden City, to extend their league lead to six points in the senior OLA derby. It was a clean, hard-fought game throughout, with the Crowe men enjoying a good edge in play over the route against Joe Cheever's double-blue brigade.

Harry Wipper paced the offensive with four markers while Bobby Thorpe, Ike Hildebrand and Arn Dugan each notched a pair, the first two a brace of assists, as well; Don Ashbee, Jerry Fitzgerald, Russ Slater and Curly Mason scored singles. The latter added an assist to his total, as all hands played heads-up lacrosse.

Had An Edge

Petes took a 2-1 edge in the first, had a fair edge territorially and increased the margin to 7-3 by half-time, despite two quickies by Oneschuck and Bradshaw to open the second stanza as St. Kitt's staged a determined bid to checkmate Timbermen. After Woolley matched Mason's thrust for a one-goal lead, the sticks of Dugan, Thorpe and Wipper twice rang out to offset the rally.

St. Kitt's drove hard in the third with D'Amico, Woolley, Nelson, Croft and Teather the spearheads in the homesters' best offensive frame. Play roughened and Hildy and Doug Smith fought for majors. The class of the Crowe-Creighton warriors withstood the best the boys in blue could offer. The finale showed careful defensive work by Petes but a 2-1 edge in the chapter as they claimed another hard-earned victory. Both goalies shone, with Wooton the better, and Howe, Woolley, Oneschuck, D'Amico, Don Frick, Bradshaw and the Smiths best for the double-blue.

Hall Of Fame Wins, Enters Battle For Lead

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP). —The thoroughbred traffic chasing the 1951 three-year-old championship was heavier than ever today after Hall of Fame's win by a neck over Battlefield in Saturday's Airlington classic.

Hall of Fame, now the top three-year-old money winner in the United States with $121,255, jumped squarely into title contention with Battlefield, Bold, Count Turf, Counterpoint and possibly Rough'n Tumble.

Perhaps Battlefield did not lose too much lustre Saturday, but Hall of Fame certainly gained stature with his fourth win in 10 events as a three-year-old.

Hall of Fame, ridden by Toronto-born Ted Atkinson, uncorked a withering stretch drive to nip Battlefield, piloted by Eddie Arcaro, just as the wire was reached in the $81,300 classic.

Rough'n Tumble wound up a well-whipped sixth in the 1¼-mile event which paid Hall of Fame almost $63,000. Spur On finished third.

Hall of Fame's 2:03 1-5 time didn't approach the 2.01 2-5 clocking made by his daddy, shut out, in winning the 1942 classic, but that happens to be the classic record, originally set by Omaha in 1935.

The Greentree stable runner will have a chance to proye Saturday's win was no fluke in his expected start against Battlefield in the American Derby Aug. 18 at Washington Park.

Toronto Gains Upset Win From Leaders

Toronto West Yorks handed Peterborough Lumbermen an 8-5 defeat Sunday at Riverdale Terrace before a thousand enthusiastic fans who sat beneath a broiling sun. Don Holden's boys sprang an upset over the league-leading stars of the lift lock city, which after three strenuous games in four days' play.

George Johnston, Queen city custodian, proved the individual star of the torrid duel with an amazing exhibition of net wizardry in this welcome triumph of the sixth-place Torontos, but full credit must go to the entire team as a unit, for a fine display.

Petes Start It

Peterborough opened the scoring as Curly Mason and Ike Hildebrand combined neatly, the latter potting on a 25-footer from the left angle. Yorks rushed back to equalize with Benny Harris dunking the apple from Frank Facto, seconds later. Bruce Webster gave Yorks a 2-1 margin from Frank King to end the scoring in a close, clean, though slow first frame. Petes evened the score early in the second as Mason and Hildy again clicked, the former potting; but heat and the law of averages smote the weary Crowe-Creighton band at this point, and the hungry home crew spanked home three kings from the sticks of Harris, Facto and Joe Kapasky with nary a score from Timbermen and Johnston looking every inch a horseshoe, in the cage.

Both teams fought hard in the final half of play with scoring honors even. Yorks held a slight margin in the third chapter, but Petes took it away in the fourth in a furious last-minute series of thrusts that fell short of changing the tide.

Outstanding with Johnstone for the winners were: Ben Harris with two goals, Bruce Webster, with one and two assists; Jack Howes, Facto and Kapasky while Hildebrand, Mason, Em Creighton, Thorpe, Ashbee and reliable Fitzgerald looked best for Petes in this game.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald, O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Ashbee, Dugan; rover, Creighton; alts., Wipper, Magee, Crowe, Powless, Slater, Hildebrand, Mason.

Toronto: Goal, Johnston; defence, King, DePippo; centre, Webster; wings, Harris, Facto; rover, J. Ashbee; alts., Convery, Wright, McNulty, Kapasky, Howes, Chard.

New York and Cleveland Tied With Boston For First

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York, Cleveland and Boston today are locked in a virtual first-place tie in the American League's gripping pennant sace with Chicago's weary White Sox in fourth place 2½ bames behind the leaders.

Percentage-wise, the defending champions lead the league. Yesterday's sweep of two games from St. Louis—9-0 and 7-3—boosted them into first place by .002 percentage points over the deadlocked Indians and Red Sox.

The Indians made it 22 victories in their last 29 games and eight of nine, vanquishink Philadelphia Athletics twice 6-4 and 3-1. The Red Sox stubbornly kept pace with a 10-9 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in 10 innings.

	W	L	PC	Games B'h'nd
New York	53	34	.609	—
Cleveland	54	35	.607	—
Boston	54	35	.607	—
Chicago	53	49	.576	2½

Home Stand

The triple tie (in games won and lost) should be untangled tomorrow when the Yankees open a 17-game home stand with the Indians as their opponents. The Yankees have whipped the Tribe 11 straight times at Yankee Stadium over a two-season span. The Red Sox also return home tomorrow for a 19-game stand starting with a night affair against the White Sox.

The skidding White Sox suffered two stunning defeats by Washington yesterday— 7-6 and 11-5—as the Senators concluded a sweep of the four-game series. It marked the longest losing skein of the season for Chicago— four straight—and gave the Sox a record of only four wins and 10 losses in their latest home stay.

Still Running

Brooklyn Dodgers continued to make a runaway race of it in the National League, trouncing St. Louis Cardinals 9-2 for their ninth straight over the Redbirds. The Dodgers thus increased their margin to 8½ over second-place New York.

Cincinnati held the Giants to a split of their doubleheader, dropping a 9-8 decision after winning the opener 7-3. Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia Phillies 8-7 in 14 innings and led 1-0 after seven innings of the second game of a doubleheader. The nightcap was halted by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

Pittsburgh split with Boston, winning the second game 5-2 after the Braves had taken the opener 5-3.

Allie Reynolds surrendered only four hits and registered his 11th victory and sixth shutout for the Yankees in the St. Louis opener. Held hitless for five innings by old Satchell Paige, the Yanks teed off on the fabulous negro righthander for three runs in the sixth and added five more in the seventh to route Paige.

Paige was spiked on the foot by Cliff Mapes in a close play at first and was given first aid between innings.

Jack Kramer's standout relief performance featured the Yankees' second-game win. He replaced Bob Kuzava in the second inning and held the Brown to three hits the rest of the way.

Handcuffed A's

Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek stymied the Athletics. Lemon limited the A's to seven hits in the opener to register his 10th victory. Gromek also yielded seven hits in besting Alex Kellner in a pitching duel. He singled in the run in the seventh that snapped a 1-1 tie.

A two-run double by shortstop Johnny Pesky drove in the winning Red Sox run in the 10th.

Sam Mele's ninth-inning double snapped a 6-6 tie and won the opener for Washington. The Nats staged a seven-run second inning against Ken Holcome and Harry Dorish to win the second from the White Sox. Mele's two-run double featured that rally, too.

Carl Erskine racked up his 10th victory for Brooklyn with a seven-hit performance against the Cards. Roy Campanella led the Dodger attack, driving in four runs on a pair of homers.

Chicago Cubs 1st Division Despite Showing

By JOE REICHLER

NEW ROCHELLE, NY, July 23 (AP)—Frankie Frisch, deposted Chicago manager, said today the Cubs are a first-division club despite their present seventh-place standing and wished he had had "more of a chance."

The famous Fordham Flash, who insisted his resignation Saturday was not prompted by official pressure, promised he would be back in baseball before long. For the present, however, the 52-year-old Hall of Famer intends to "take it easy for a while" at his home in New Rochelle.

"I resigned because I knew I was not going to be back next year," Frisch said.

Owner Phil Wrigley, who replaced the former star second-baseman of New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals with Phil Cavarretta, 35-year-old first baseman, said only:

"Frisch is a great manager on winning teams, but Cubs haven't been winning. We think Frisch hasn't been getting the spark out of the players that perhaps he might. We think that Cavaretta will get his own great spirit into the team and come through for us."

Cavaretta was told, Wrigley said, that he has been assigned as manager for this season only.

Seventh In 1950

Under Frisch, the Cubs finished last in 1949 and seventh last year.

The grey-thatched Frisch ending a reign of 16 years as a big-league pilot followig 19 outstanding seasons as an active player, refused to alibi the Cubs' poor showing.

"I harbor no resentment against Mr. Wrigley or any of the other Chicago fellows," Frisch said. "I wish, though, they had given me more of a chance."

Cavaretta made an auspicious debut Sunday, guiing the Cubs to to 14-inning 8-7 victory over Philadelphia.

"It's a real challenge and I'm going to give it everything I've got," said the new skipper, who has been with the Cubs since he joined the team as a kid of 17.

Gans Canoe Club Sweeps Regatta

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., July 23 (CP).—Gananoque Canoe Club swept to an overwhelming win this weekend in the north division qualifying regata for the Canadian Canoe Association championships

With 10 firsts, nine seconds and 12 thirds in 17 events, Gananoque amassed 80 points. Behind came Rideaus with 29, Carleton Place with 26 and Ottawa New Edinburghs with one.

The weather was so bad Saturday, a fierce wind whipping up the waters, that the events finally had to be postponed at 4 p.m. and completed today. In Saturday's races, on the Mississippi Lakes, canoe crews found themselves paddling broadside to the wind and a lot foundered before hitting at finish line.

No 1951 Election

MANIWAKI, Que., July 23 — (CP)—Premier Duplessis said Sunday "there surely won't be a general election in Quebec in 1951" in an address to 2,000 supporters on his first official visit here since 1935. He announced a special session of the Legislature will be called in October to deal with the new pension plan (in conjunction with the Federal government) for people of the 65-69 age category. Thus, he said, Quebec will be the first province to make available to its residents the benefits of this new legislation.

BURKS FALLS, Ont., July 23—(CP)—Lt.-Col. Victor Roscoe Fell, 55, who went overseas as Commanding Officer of the Grey and Simcoe Foresters during the Second World War, died here Sunday. Col. Fell later served as commander of the administrative group of the Fourth Canadian Armored division. He served several terms on the municipal council and was the first president of the Canadian Legion here.

Firm Triples Payroll In 3 Months

Eastern Ontario Centres Booming In Hope of Seaway

Timber Structures of Canada, Ltd., has tripled its payroll since spring, R. M. Peirson, manager, told the Examiner today, confirming reports of its expanding activities.

The number of employees has increased from 18 to the present 52 with occupancy of the second building of their plant since its completion three months ago.

W. A. Davidson of the sales staff reports from a two weeks' trip through eastern Ontario that the prospect of the St. Lawrence seaway has been booming industrial and realty interest all along the water front from Cobourg to Prescott.

To Build New Plant

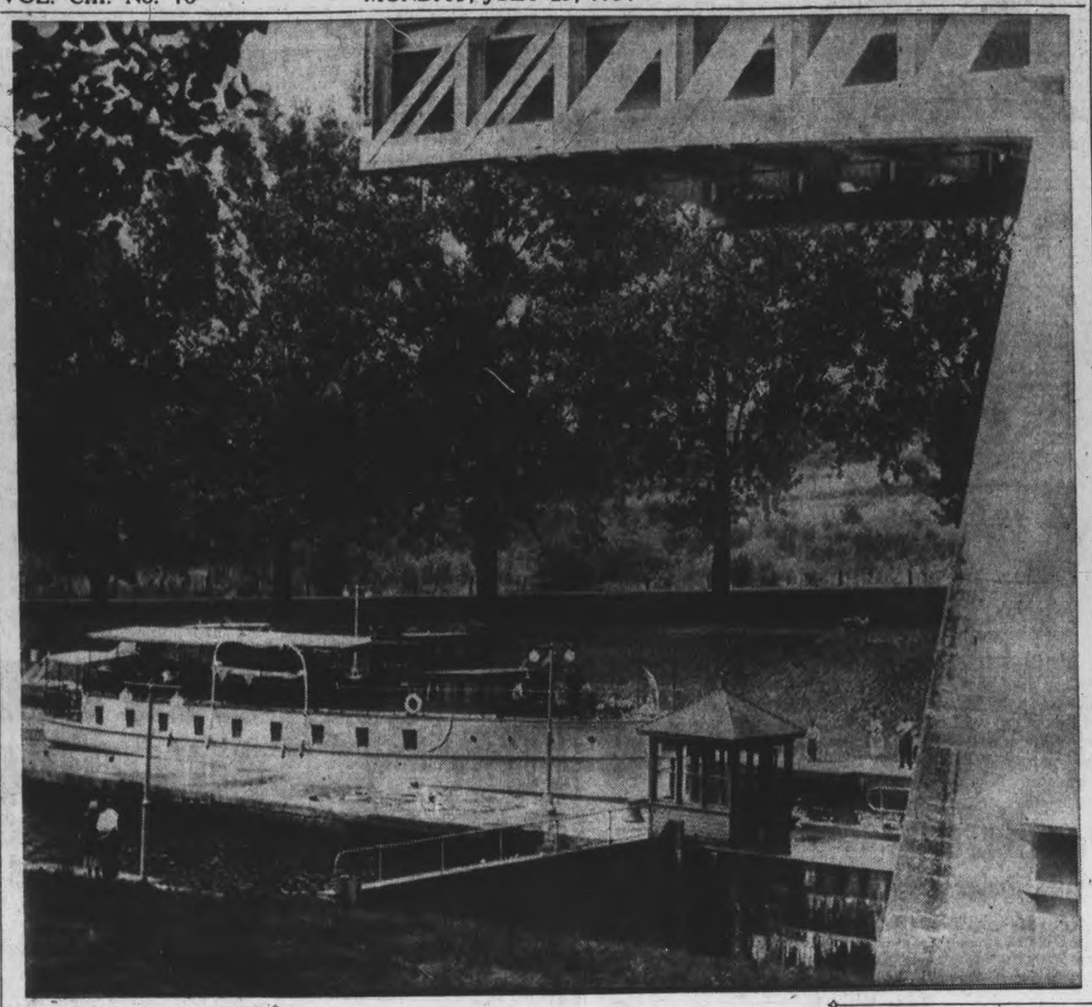
Canadian Industries Limited (CIL) has acquired 1,500 acres on the St. Lawrence River, about four miles from Prescott for a new plant associated with their nylon production.

RCA Victor is reported to have bought a substantial property in that area, and an English company is planning a heavy machinery project at Port Hope. The B. Elliott Co. has purchased fifteen acres there for an industry manufacturing lathes and similar heavy machine products.

Canadian government announced some time ago plans for a big military depot at Cobourg.

"That is not the whole story, either," Mr. Davidson said. "Property prices have boomed especially along the river, and those towns and Kingston are predicting a greater future than ever for eastern Ontario. The reports you hear are an evidence of what the St. Lawrence seaway should mean to that part of the province."

The seaway with its big transportation and electric power developments, that are more than potentials, requires a fairly long view of the future. On the other hand there is business beginning to take shape that does not have to wait for the completion of governmental undertaking.



A property option is said to have been taken on a large acreage by Hollinger-Hanna indicating interest in the possibilities of iron and steel.

"It has got so that if you make a casual enquiry about property values down Prescott-Cornwall way, you are suspected of representing some industrial concern," Mr. Davidson said. "Property owners know what might be behind enquiries."

Bailieboro Born, Lt.-Col. Fell Dies At Burks Falls

BURKS FALLS, July 23 —Former commanding officer of the Grey and Simcoe Foresters, Lt.-Col. Victor Roscoe Fell, 55, died Sunday at his home here. He was the only son of Mrs. Fell and the late William Fell of Bailieboro, Ont. He came to Burks Falls prior to the First World War.

He served overseas with the 1st Canadian Machine Gun Battalion and won the Military Medal and later the bar to the same decoration. After the war he went into business here. In 1923 he married Vivian Bowle of Burks Falls. In 1924 he became manager of Hotel Central, of which he recently became the owner.

He was a company commander in the Algonquin Regiment (Militia) between the wars and again went overseas in the Second World War, in command of the Grey and Simcoe Foresters.

Col. Fell later served as commander of the administrative group of the Fourth Canadian Armored Division.

Woman Second To Drown At Minden Dam In 2 Weeks

A Hamilton woman was drowned early Sunday and three other Hamilton people narrowly escaped a similar fate when their boat upset at the Moore's Falls dam, 10 miles south of Minden. Miss Helen Scott, 30, Queen St., Hamilton, was sucked under the swift moving water and her body was jammed between the first and second stop logs of the five-foot dam. The dam is on the brink of Moore lake which drains Gull lake to the north.

It is the second drowning there in two weeks. On July 9 four-year-old Bobby McCullough was drowned at the dam under similar circumstances.

A friend of Miss Scott, Lillian Hardy 30, was swept over the dam along with William Urquhart, also of Hamilton. His wife climbed on to the top stop-log of the dam and steadied herself by holding on to the boat until she was rescued.

Pulled From the Rapids

Miss Hardy was unconscious when she was pulled from Moore Lake at the tail end of the rapids and required artificial respiration before she revived.

The party were in Mr. Urquhart's motorboat and were taking pictures of the falls and its vicinity. When the outboard motor stalled the boat was swept up in the powerful current and crashed into the top stop-log at the dam which rises a few inches above the surface.

The impact and suction upset the boat and the four were thrown into the water at the head of the dam.

Mr. Urquhart and Miss Hardy were swept away in the rapids into the lower lake. Miss Scott was sucked under the water where she drowned.

Recover Body

Draggers, under the direction of OPP Constable A. R. Edwards, Minden, recovered the body an hour and a half later.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Denley, Toronto, were fishing on the Moore Lake side of the dam. They picked up Mr. Urquhart after he had been swept through the rapids.

Miss Hardy was seen below the water surface by Frank Grummit, a cottager, who could see her under water from the top of a high rock where he stood. He directed the Denleys to the spot and Mrs. Denley reached down and grasped the unconscious woman by the hair.

Not Guilty Plea In Russel Death

Melville Wood, 21, of 548 Harvey St. pleaded not guilty today to a charge of motor manslaughter in the death of Lorne Russel, 21, Oshawa. Russel died in Peterborough hospital from injuries received when struck down by a car while walking north on Highway 28 the evening of June 16.

He was thrown some distance by the vehicle and never regained consciousness.

Today Wood, alleged driver of the car, appeared in police court for his preliminary trial. He pleaded not guilty to the motor manslaughter charge and elected trial by a higher court.

He will also likely face charges of dangerous driving and drunken driving.

OPP Sgt. Lloyd McClure was the first crown witness called at noon today. He filed 15 photographs of the accident scene with the Crown and they were entered as exhibits.

"Wood told me, when I questioned him, that he was the driver of the car," said Sgt. McClure. "And I noticed that he had been drinking."

Director Names Nine Guards To Beach Patrol

Selection of nine members of the Inverlea Park Beach Patrol was made Saturday afternoon at the park.

Alex Sinclair, recreation director and Gerry Armstrong, senior lifeguard at the park, chose the members from 25 applicants who had just completed a two-week patrol course.

Patrol members picked: Joan Weir, Jim Brooks, Newman Olmstead, Robert Hutton, Gord Pollock, Gary Sargeson, Billy Brooks, Jerry Stewart and John Carter. The nine were presented with red sweaters with white lettering, "Beach Patrol" on the front, and Mr. Sinclair spoke to them on Water Safety and First aid.

Complete Training

All have received instruction in life saving, artificial respiration and first aid and will continue to attend training courses through the summer. One to three of them on water safety and first the Inverlea Beach to assist the lifeguards.

This is the second year for the beach patrol at the park. It started two years ago, but dropped last year.

Inverlea is the only swimming spot in the city to have both lifeguards and beach patrol. The lifeguards are: Gerry Armstrong, Don Wood and Barry Hollingsworth.

THREE CHILDREN INJURED in the Saturday night accident in which six people were injured on Highway 7, just east of the city, are shown ABOVE. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Everett MacDonald. Their names and injuries are: Donna, 10, fractured skull and face injuries; Richard, 7, minor cuts; Doris, 8, face injuries and possible fractured neck.

Lumberjack, 60, Killed By Tree

MINDEN, July 23 — (ENS)— William Henry, 60, veteran lumberman, was killed by a falling tree in Sherbourne township bush, 16 miles from this Haliburton village.

Provincial Constable A. R. Edwards of Minden reported that Henry was working with Garfield Sprowell, Lindsay, when the accident happened.

One trees' branches, which had been felled, caught among other tree tops as it fell. They brought a second tall hemlock down on the trapped tree. It skidded in its fall and the butt caught Henry across the abdomen. He died from internal injuries in a matter of minutes.

Henry was an employee of the Howdgson, Jones Lumber Co. He leaves his widow and several grown children.

New Ambulance Rates Daytime $5, Night $6

A group of Peterborough undertakers — Nisbett, Belleghem, Comstock and Kay funeral homes —known as the Peterborough Ambulance Association, will raise their ambulance trip rates as of July 30.

Going back over old records, it was found in 1906 that there was a flat rate of $5 per trip. This was reduced at the end of the First World War to $3 and in 1948 the night trips were pegged at $4.

Effective July 30 new rates will be $5 for daytime calls between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. and $6 for night calls between 6 p.m. and 9 a.m. The association gives general rising costs as the reason for increasing rates.

"It's disgraceful that you should be living on your father when there's lots of work to be had," admonished Magistrate W. R. Philp,KC.

Car Goes Over Embankment Five Of One Family Among Six People Injured

Two Girls, 8 and 10, In Fair Condition After Car Dives 17 Feet, Hits Tree; One Passenger Thrown 20 Feet Over Fence

Six people—five of one family—were injured late Saturday night and taken to hospital after their car plunged over a 17-foot embankment and struck a tree. The accident occurred on Highway 7, just east of the Brookside pavilion. Treated in St. Joseph's hospital were: Everett MacDonald, 34, RR 7, Peterborough, owner and driver of the car, bruises and a general shaking up. Mrs. Margaret MacDonald, 28, his wife, a possible fractured right shoulder.

Richard, 7, a son, badly cut forehead.

Doris MacDonald, 8, a possible fractured neck, spinal injury and cuts.

Ivan Eady, 27, Warsaw, bruises and cuts on the head.

The condition of the two MacDonald girls is reported today to be only fair. Eady was discharged from the hospital Sunday.

The accident occurred about 11 p.m. Mr. MacDonald was driving the family to their Otonabee home and Eady, a friend, was a fifth passenger.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald

When the 1937 model car got just east of the Brookside pavilion it went out of control, slewed over onto the south shoulder of the highway and then went onto the north. It rolled over a 17-foot embankment, through brush, and struck a tree on the way down the slope.

Trapped Short Time

All of the occupants but one were temporarily trapped inside and their cries could be heard by people nearby.

Eady was thrown clear and landed over a wire fence and in a pile of brush 20 feet away from the wreck. In the general confusion afterward, as the injured were taken away, it was not at first realized that he was missing.

A sharp-eyed bystander however noticed Eady's red sweater and he found the man unconscious in the brush.

All were taken to St. Joseph's hospital.

The car is a complete wreck and was towed away to the Kawartha garage.

OPP Constable Tom Fitzpatrick investigated.

Harvest Sick Man's Pea Crop On Sunday

Fallis Line neighbors and members of the Lions Club, Millbrook, lent a timely and helpful hand to Leonard Henderson of Cavan, in taking off his pea crop Sunday.

Mr. Henderson is convalescent from a recent operation at Peterborough Civic hospital, and will have to remain more or less inactive indefinitely. His condition and the pressure of a huge crop throughout the country recommended the community co-operative effort Sunday as evidence of practical goodwill to Mr. Henderson. The men worked from 9 a.m. until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

His yield of peas last year was hardly a load to an acre as compared with five loads off three acres Sunday.

That contrast is typical of the pea harvest this season, as also with hay, heavy crops entailing a great deal of work.

The Henderson peas were trucked to the vinery at Bewdley He said that the vinery had operatde through the last three Sundays to handle the heavy crop. The shelled peas are taken to the Canadian Canneries plant at Port Hope. To retain their freshness in the can, they have to be packed as soon as possible.

"I was told that the long line of women employees at the Port Hope cannery would be busy until 2 o'clock this morning to pack the Sunday peas," Mr. Henderson said.

"I do certainly feel grateful to my neighbors and the Lions Club of Millbrook for their help. I don't know what I would have done without them."

Mr. Henderson has been a leader for years with the Durham-Northumberland Plowmen's Association, and has never spared himself in that kind of cummunity enterprise.

President's Wife Dies

TORONTO, July 23 — (CP) — Mrs. Isabella Morrison Neilson, wife of Charles Neilson, president of William Neilson, Ltd., died here Saturday. She was born at St. Andrew's, Scotland, and came to Toronto 45 years ago.

ON THE SANDS OF TIME—Recently discovered in the rocky hill country along the Guadalupe River near Kerrville, Tex., were huge dinosaur tracks like that pictured above, dwarfing a man's hand. It was made, some millions of years ago, by a monster called Tyrannosaurus Rex, fiercest and most terrible of the prehistoric animals. From 40 to 50 feet long and 18 feet high, it was a carnivorous killer with a melon-shaped head that was mostly mouth and sharp teeth. As seen in sketch, below, it walked erect, supported by its huge alligatory-like tail and used its comparatively small and weak forelegs for grasping its prey.

Enjoys Entertainment In Theatre At Race Track

By KAY REX

TORONTO—(CP)—Visitors to Dufferin race-track this season are putting their money on such favorites as "Brigadoon" and "Bloomer Girl". But instead of placing bets at the pari-mutuel window they're buying tickets at the box-office gate. Instead of racing forms they're clutching theatre programs.

It began a month ago when an enterprising group of theatre folk pitched a tent in the centre of the track and announced the opening of Melody Fair, Toronto's first Theatre-In-The-Round.

Officials say business is "climbing rapidly." The top day so far was one Saturday when 800 saw the matinee; 1,400 came for the evening performance.

The troupe moved in the middle of May—the day after the horses moved out. The company, made up chiefly of United States actors and singers, set up dressing-rooms in the betting stalls. The girls propped their mirrors against the $2 betting wickets.

"And we do most of our rehearsing in the betting ring," said a trouper.

Several Canadian artists are in the group. Don Gardham is a tenor from Grimsby, Ont., Annabel Essery, a contralto from Toronto. Other singers: Doreen Kam, Hamilton: Alex Grey, Montreal; Kathryn Albertson, Winnipeg: Desmond Arthur, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Dancers include: Doris Wade, Lawrencetown, NS; Lorraine Thomson, Regina; Robert Foster, Moose Jaw, Sask.; Joyce Hill, Powell River, BC.

Student Dancer

Miss Hill came to Toronto to study dancing. Relaxing on the grass in the sun during rehearsal intermission she fondled a blonde kitten and said it was named after the enterprise.

This was "Fair." Sister "Melody" had run away.

The Canadians work with such big names as Irra Petina of the Metropolitan Opera and Lawrence Brooks, a popular Broadway personality.

They also get advice from Leighton Brill, Hollywood stage expert who is executive producer of the undertaking. Arena-style theatre, he says, was introduced to U.S. audiences three years ago. Now some 13 troupes work summers, principally along the eastern U.S. coast.

It is the first time Toronto audiences have witnessed this cosy-type theatre. On the initial visit they usually spend the first act neck-craning. Finally, when they become used to seeing actors and actresses making entrances and exits via the aisles they can settle down and enjoy the show.

The "Big Top" is a sky blue and orange tent, claimed to be the largest manufactured in Canada. It's capable of holding 1,600 persons.

They sit on collapsible chairs which circle the small oblong-shaped stage. An eight-man orchestra performs in a miniature pit. Settings are simple. Costumes glamorous. Most important part of the show—the cast must keep on the move, constantly, giving the surrounding audience full-face views.

Canada Frigate Blamed For Ship's Loss

OTTAWA, July 23 (CP) — Six years after it happened, the owners of a Scottish steamer have been awarded right to damages because a Canadian court found the ship was sunk through the negligence of a Canadian warship. The owners are the Nisbet Shipping Co. Ltd. of Glasgow.

The Exchequer Court, in decision handed down Saturday, ruled that the steamship Blairnevis was lost in the Irish Sea through negligence aboard HMCS Orkney, a frigate.

The collision happened Feb. 13, 1945, as the Orkney and two other Canadian frigates drew near a convoy they were to shepherd to port.

The Canadian court found that Acting Cmdr. Victor Browne, skipper of the Orkney, "failed to act as promptly and as appropriately as he ought to have done" once he was aware of the approaching Scottish ship and that this "must be regarded as negligence."

The amount of damages was not set by the court.

VICKSBURG, Mich., July 23 — (AP)—Vicksburg's pert divorcee, Mrs. Jean Gregory, is still looking for her dream man.

The attraitive 27-year-old mother of three children offered through a newspaper to accept a marriage proposal from a man who makes about $100 a week and will support her children and mother.

But as yet, she said yesterday, she hasn't found the right husband from more than 200 applicants.

Most of the applicants, she said, "just aren't making enough money." The one she chooses, she says, will have to pay for an operation for her mother who suffers from cancer.

Mexican Commission Seeks Newsprint

MEXICO CITY, July 23 (AP)—A three-man Mexican commission left Saturday for Washington and Canada to negotiate for more newsprint.

Antonio Martinez Baez, secretary of national economy, heads the commission. Its other members are Gilberto Figueroa, business manager of the newspaper Excelsior, and Guillermo Ibarra.

President Miguel Aleman promised publishers last week that Mexico would try to obtain more newsprint from Canada through negotiations between the two governments.

UK Ships Carry Goods For Red China—Senator

WASHINGTON, July 23—(AP)—Senator Herbert O'Conor (Dem., Md.) said Saturday that ships flying the British and Panamanian flags have delivered to Communist China in recent weeks thousands of tons of highly strategic materials.

The cargoes destined from Red China were loaded at Ports in Euorpe and India, said O'Conor in a statement.

O'Conor, chairman of a Senate commerce subcommittee on export controls, said his statement was based on data brought back from the Far East by a sub-committee investigator.

He said the British ship Alpha Orange carried to the Red China port of Canton 2,000 tons of high-grade steel and what was registered as "dangerous cargo."

He said another British ship, the Breystoke Castle, sailed for Canton from Gydnia, Poland, with steel rails, synthetic rubber, 30 eight-ton six-wheel trucks, optical instruments and sugar.

Royal Clothes Critic Gets Angry Answers

LONDON, July 23—(AP)—An army of indignant letter writers rallied Sunday to the support of Princess Elizabeth whose taste in clothes was criticized last week by a Scotswoman. Mrs. L. Williamson said in a letter to a London newspaper that Elizabeth's clothes made her look like "a dowdy, middle-aged matron."

She got 200 letters right back in her own mail box and the newspaper got enough more to fill a column. Elizabeth's defenders—most of them women — didn't say much about the Princess' clothes but they said she had character, dignity and pose— and "God bless her."

GIFTS FOR CANADIANS—Hiroshima businessmen sent 20 of their city's girls to take flowers and dolls to Commonwealth casualties in the British General Hospital at Kure, Japan, as consolation for their sufferings in the Korean war. A shot-up but still smiling Canadian veteran, Pte. A. M. Johnson of Winnipeg, shows an obvious interest in the Japanese gift doll and its two graceful bearers.

US Navy Chief Dies In Italy Of Heart Attack

NAPLES, Italy, July 23 (AP)—The body of Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, United States Chief of Naval Operations, lay aboard an American navy ship in the Bay of Naples today. The 94-year-old admiral died in his hotel here Sunday after suffering two heart attacks.

Sherman, boss of the American navy since 1949, had just completed a tour of Europe's Atantic Pact defence area. He had also made a visit to Generalissimo Franco during which he was believed to have reached a tentative agrement for American use of Spanish naval and air bases.

A message from President Truman said the "country's loss is great" and State Secretary Dean Acheson hailed the naval member of the Joint Chiefs of Staffs, "a statesman who saw beyond the military problems to the objectives of material policy."

Mrs. Sherman, who was at her husband's bedside when he died, left last night for the United States by special plane.

The admiral's body was placed aboard the USS Mt. Olympus. It is expected to be flown home shortly for burial.

Also at the deathbed was Admiral Robert B. Carney, American Commander of Allied Forces in Southern Europe, who is being mentioned as a possible successor to Sherman. Admiral L. D. McCormick, Vice-Chief of Naval Operations, will take over Sherman's job temporarily.

Sherman replaced Admiral Louis Denfeld as navy chief in the bitter squabble over unification of the army, navy and air force. A briliant "flying admiral," he was jumped over the heads of nine senior officrs to become the youngest chief of operations in the navy's history.

The admiral arrived here Saturday after talks in Madrid, Paris and London. Reporters who talked with him said he appeared in good health, but looked tired.

Known as a trouble-shooting compromise expert, Sherman first learned about ships from his grandfather, an old Bedford, Mass., whaling captain. Born in Merrimac, NH, he was graduated second in his class at Annapolis in 1917 and saw service in the First World War.

During the Second Woird War he served as Chief of Staff to the commander of the Pacific Fleet Air Force and later as Deputy Chief of Staff.

Young Wage-Earner Resents Be Asked To Aid Family

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 17 years old, and am going to school learning to be a dressmaker. I have a night job, making $10 a week. My mother wants me to give her half of that money. I go to school every day and work every night until twelve, and think I should be allowed to keep my own money and do as I please with it. My father is dead, but my mother gets money every month for the house and my brother also sends her money. Do I have to give her what I earn

ESTELLE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: This question of teen-agers' salaries is a touchy point in many households. Not so long ago it was taken for granted that whatever a child earned while under the family roof automatically went to the head of the household, but in these days of adolescent independence such a course would be well-nigh unthinkable (to the young worker, at least).

You Should Contribute

It is my considered opinion that as soon as a child begins to work he becomes a responsible member of the family and as such is accountable for part of the family support. This course should be taken, even though the family does not need the small sum contributed. The sense of responsibility placed upon the young person is the important thing—not the money. It provides the first big lesson in handling money, and the teen-ager who turns over part of his wage should be made to feel that he is now one of the family group running the household—he has taken a big step into adulthood.

In the case of a fatherless home where even part of a $10 salary would be a big help, there is no question of your obligation, Estelle. The sum of money you mention your mother receiving is not so great, especially in these days of high prices, and she can't find the going too easy! Perhaps you could get together and compromise on a lesser sum than half your salary as your mother's share. If you are in the habit of spending money carelessly (which doesn't seem the case from your letter), your mother would certainly be justified in asking more, but if you are saving or spending thriftily I'm sure your mother would do nothing to discourage you.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am the divorced father of two girls, aged 4 and 9. I have been going with a wonderful girl nine years younger than I (I am 30) and we love each other very much. I know her folks and they like me too. I owe my father a considerable sum of money due to business and marital difficulties befroe my divorce, and have been working twelve hours a day, seven days a week for two and a half years to pay it back. Until this debt is discharged I don't have much security to offer a wife.

I have told this girl all my difficulties, and also pointed out that there are many younger men with better prospects who would be interested in her. However, she still insists she wants to marry me. We could have my children summers, and the girl is happy at the prospect. Do you think our marriage would be successful?

ANSWER: Any girl, and especially a young one such as your girl friend, takes on a tough job when she acquires a ready-made family, especially if the first wife, and mother, is still around. To be successful at the job requires infinite patience, sympathy, understanding and a deep love for children. If your young lady has these gifts, and loves you enough to work along and do without things until your indebtedness is paid, I'd say she was the one for you.

Try to look at the situation objectively, and be sure the girl understands just what she is walking into. You are apparently facing the future with a deep sincerity to do the right thing for everyone concerned; and I hope you accomplish your purpose.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married for ten years. My husband always has been good to me but when we go out to parties and he has a few drinks he likes to give his attention to other women. He likes to dance and most of the other men don't, so while my husband is enjoying himself on the floor, I'm left at the sidelines. I'm getting to the point where I don't like to go out with him.

S. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There isn't much you can do with a good-time Charlie except wait for him to grow up. In time these gay blades put away their adolescent antics. Refusing to go out with him won't accomplish much—he'll just go ahead by himself. Be as good a sport about it as you can, try to see the situation with a sense of humor and bide your time.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What does life hold for women between 50 and 60? Why do our children think that at that age we should be willing to fold our hands and sit in the chimney corner with no interests except in their interests? Why do they think that it would be terrible for mother to go out and get a job and earn her own living, or even to marry again? Why can't they realize that we find it hard to live in even our children's homes and want our own, and our independence and maybe somebody to love us. I am in my early fifties, strong and healthy, and I am tired of being ON THE SHELF.

ANSWER: Good for you sister! Up and at 'em. Now that you have got to the rebellion point, get out and do something about it. Head a revolt of middle-aged women against their dutiful, loving children who are enslaving them in the name of kindness.

Everyone knows that it seldom adds to the serenity of a home to have a mother-in-law in it. Most in-laws resent her presence. It brings about jealousies, interferences, daily conflicts of will, a thousand unpleasantnesses, and no matter how much her children love mother they would be happier without her.

She Needs an Interest

And mother would be happier away from them. All of her life she has been busy. Now she has nothing to do. She has had her place in the sun. Now she is only John's or Mary's mother. And years of running her own house have totally unfitted her to live in another woman's house and take orders instead of give them.

Praise be that women are seeing the light at last, and instead of mother festooning herself like the old woman of the sea around her children's necks when father dies and spending the remainder of her days preparing for her latter end, she hustles out and gets her a job and often has a more interesting life than she ever had before. Furthermore, in the great majority of cases, mother has to work no harder for a pay envelope than she has to work in her children's home for none.

A dozen times I have said in this column that women quit work too soon. Life may not begin for them at 50, but a new career may if they have the courage to attempt it, and they are wrong and foolish to settle down and be dependent on their children. They should strike out for themselves. Make their own livings and be happy and independent.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Many Chocolate Frostings Add Taste Appeal To Cakes

My Uncle Harry is tall slightly stooped, slightly deaf, very affectionate and has an irrepressible twinkle in his eye.

As he left our house one day he passed my shoulder and said in a mock-solemn voice: "Never mind, Mary, my dear, you can trust me not to tell your public that you did not make it yourself.' Then he left.

I did not know what he was talking about until it dawned on me about an hour later that he belongs to the same lawn bowling club as one of my chiefs. This conniving pair had decided to worry me. I had bought a homemade cake from one of our church members to send to the bowlers' picnic, and naturally they thought it was made by me until they discovered a name sticker, "Please return plate to Mrs. John Unser' on the bottom of the cake plate.

In the event that the question ever crosses your minds, I did make the following frostings before giving them to you—and always do (she muttered into her lipstick).

I think cake with special frosting is ever so good during the fresh fruit season. With Pete away a cake lasts us for days and days. We are having the first frosting you will find below on little squares of sponge cake with Cherry Compote, icy cold, for our porch supper tonight.

Soft Chocolate Icing

(This hardens if chilled in refrigerator or kept overnight,) In top of double boiler melt two squares bitter chocolate and two tablespoons butter or margarine. Remove from heat and beat in 1 cup unsifted icing sugar and 2 tablespoons boiling water or strong coffee. Beat until smooth but not stiff, then spread at once.

The following frosting is similar to the topping I gave you for Chocolate Nut Diamonds for it contains an egg. It makes an excellent all-purpose frosting that keeps its texture and shape.

All-Purpose Chocolate Frosting

Sift icing sugar and measure 2 cups. Beat into it 1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup softened shortening or butter or margarine and 2 squares melted unsweetened chocolate. Beat until it is fluffy. This amount is enough to spread between layers and on top of a large two-layer cake.

Chocolate Fudge Frosting

In saucepan mix 2 cups sugar, 1 cup rich top milk or cream, 3 or 5 tablespoons best quality cocoa; add later 1 tablespoon of butter, ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon vanilla. As soon as sugar is dissolved stop stirring and place over medium heat and boil to soft ball stage (238 degrees Fahr.). Remove from heat and add butter, vanilla and cream of tartar. Cool until you can hold your hand on outside of pan. Beat until creamy and of spreading consistency.

Chocolate Frosting To Go Under Chopped Nuts

Add 2 tablespoons hot water to 3 tablespoons sifted cocoa. Mix until smooth; then add 2 tablespoons very soft or melted butter, 1 tablespoon hot milk or cream, ½ teaspoon vanilla. Stir until smooth. Add about 2½ cups sifted icing sugar, gradually, to form soft frosting that will not run. This is very good for small cup cakes or cake squares.

Soft chocolate icing above is good on chocolate eclairs.

Television Show Produced By Woman

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP) — Anne Marlowe's most vocal claim to fame is a six-year job she'd rather forget.

She is the possessor of the soprano voice which for six years assaulted the ears of listeners with a paean to a soap powder with the recurring refrain: "'Happy Little Washday Song."

As such, she undoubtedly was the best-known unidentified radio voice on the air."

As the identifiable producer of "Somerset Maugham Television Show" Miss Marlow is much happier. She is one of the handful of women who also are television producers.

Miss Marlowe selects the story, hires writers to work out a dramatization, casts the shows, and supervises the crew which actually handles the productions. She gets a discreet credit line at the end of each show. She also is the person who is held responsible by the sponsor for each week's success or failure.

An attractive, energetic blonde, Miss Marlowe has spent most of her life in the theatre.

Other Productions

Even as she was receiving steady employment as a soap-opera heroine and as the anonymous voice, Miss Marlowe was dreaming up program ideas and getting into the producing field.

She produced and directed her quota of shows, including the popular "Sam Spade" and "The Fat Man," a pair of super-sleuths.

Her career as a TV producer began the night she saw the movie "Quartette" and decided it would be a good idea to dramatize Maugham's works as television dramas. She promptly made a deal through his American agent. Then she went out and sold the "package" to a sponsor.

Now Miss Marlowe is getting restive under the "routine."

She's busy figuring out a presentation for a couple of other shows involving dramatization of the works of Hemingway and F. Scott Fitzgerald.

Songstress Hits Success In New Revue

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK, July 23 —(AP)— Blonde songstress Dolores Gray, with more sudden curves than Niagara Falls, apparently has tumbled into the glided chips at last in her co-star role with Bert Lahr in the new Broadway musical revue "Two on the Aisle."

This lass had to go to London to get recognition from Broadway.

She appeared on Broadway twice before, but in minor roles in the unfortunate musicals, "The Seven Lively Arts" and "Are You With It?"

In the new "Two on the Aisle" Miss Gray has unlimited scope for her talents, and makes the most of them.

She sings a variety of laments about love. She doesn't change the subject because, apparently, she doesn't want to confuse the audience.

Bert Lahr is in clover with a series of hilarious sketches.

He romps on and off stage in a variety of disguises as he plays a baseball coach, captain of a brigade exploring interplanetary space, a sanitation attendant in a public park, a clown, a tango dancer and a portrayal of Queen Victoria.

The sketches are the invention of Betty Comden and Adolph Green.

In Stellar Role

Miss Gray sang "Annie Get Your Gun" for 1,304 performances in London and she was still singing it there when she received a telephone call to come back to a starring role on Broadway.

When she got the call she was doubtful until Lahr got on the wire.

"Don't worry about this one," assured the comic. "The material is terrific for you. I'm not worrying at all."

That was the clincher. Miss Gray knew that, like all top comedians, Lahr is a prime worrier and pessimist off stage. So if he wasn't worrying about "Two on the Aisle," why should she?

Now "Two on the Aisle" isn't worried and neither is anyone else.

NOT VIOLENT—Patty Berg is not breaking up her clubs. The Minneapolis redhead is merely limbering up with three irons before a round at Scarborough, England.

Arab World Loves Singer Of Egyptian Peasant Stock

By ZEIN NEGATI

CAIRO (AP) — There's an evening, every month, when all the radios of the Arab world are turned in on Om Kalsounm's program, broadcast from Cairo.

The "Nightingale of The Middle East" is on the air on the first Thursday of every month. Her rich, melodious, passionate voice flows from tens of thousands of sets in home and public places, in shops and taxis, in cities and the villages.

Om Kalsoum has no peers in this part of the world. Her name is known from Lebanon down to the tip of Arabia. Her admirers range from Kings, Princes and Pashas down to the workers and Fellaheen. (peasants)

In 1946, the kings and rulers of the Arab States came to Egypt as guests of King Farouk, to chart a common policy. After the talks, the Arab notables relaxed at Farouk's beautiful estate in northern Egypt.

Main Attraction

There, is an Arabian Nights scenery, the main attraction was Om Kalsoum. She enraptured the audience with her love songs, her patriotic and religious hymns, and the nostalgic songs of Egyptian and Arabic Folklore.

There can be no successful social event in Cairo, Alexandria or elsewhere in Egypt without Om Kolsoum. Often she is invited to perform in neighboring countries. Even her very high fees do not cool off the enthusiasm of those who want "The Nightingale" at their parties.

The dark, tall and strongly built singer is at ease with crowned heads and the poorest.

Has Sense Of Humor

Om Kalsoum likes to recall her origin. She is a Fellaha (peasant) and she displays the main characteristic of the Egyptian land worker: a keen sense of humor and an unmatched gift for jokes and puns. Her sayings are as famous as her songs.

Om Kalsoum was born at Simbellawen, north Egypt, in 1899. She was a teen-ager when she started singing the Koran.

In 1919 when Egyptians made their first bid for independence from the British protectorate, a 20-year-old girl spurred Egypt's "Fight For Freedom" with patriotic songs. This was Om Kalsoum.

Her fame rocketed. By the middle '30s whe was crowned the greatest singer of the Arab world. Besides her personal appearances, she sang at the radio and appeared in several Egyptian films.

Fees Soared

Her fees soared with her fame. The Koran chanter, back at Simbellawen, earned an average of three pounds ($8.61) a month. Today Om Kalsoum receives fees as high as 1,000 Egyptian pounds ($2,870) for a single performance. Her radio programs net her around $34,440 a year.

Om Kalsoum's name has been romantically linked with several Egyptian high society members, but the 52-year-old singer has never married.

She lives in a comfortable villa on the banks of the Nile, in Zamalek, a residential district of Cairo.

Om Kalsoum is a member of the Order of Kamal. The distinction was awarded to her by King Farouk, after the Monarch's first marriage in 1938.

BLACK AND WHITE

It's interesting to note how popular the black and white combination has become for beach wear. Black pique makes an attractive one-piece bathing suit, marked by white cut-out embroidery around the shorts and for the matching beachcoat.

Polygamy Cruel To Excess Wives

NEW YORK, July 23 (CP)—An American grandmother who spent 2½ weeks as a guest of the Fon of Bikon, said today polygamy in West Africa is fine for the male but frustrating for his string of wives.

Mrs. Rebecca Hourwich Reyher, a novelist, returned on the liner Washington after a 30-month expedition in Africa. She was gathering material for a new book.

She said that the Fon—ruler of 20,000 natives—was in low spirits when she arrived at the top of Likom mountain in the British Cameroons. Fifty-four of his harem—at one time said to number 104 wives—had run away.

Mrs. Reyher said she talked with four of the deserting wives and heard a "story of heartbreak, frustration and loneliness" from them.

"Polygamy is a cruel business," she said.

Mrs. Reyher said she and the Fon "got along fine" because he liked her nail polish.

"It was the first time in my life I was glad of my age. The natives do not like women over 40."

City, County Officials Aid 'Ex' Road Building

Both city and county councils contributed to the economic laying of the new road through Morrow Park, G. A. Gillespie, secretary-manager of the Exhibition, reported to the directors Friday night.

"The county has given us a grant of $300, and they also turned in a receipted bill for $235, their part of the cost of gravelling the new road. We had one of their trucks and two from the city. Fred Nelson gave us the gravel loaded at pit price. Their help worked out fine."

Acknowledgement will be made later of the assistance from the city.

Mr. Gillespie presented the financial statement of the cost of the new Lansdowne St. gate that will be completed as a memorial to the late R. A .Morrow. That bill is submitted to the members of the Morrow Trust for payment by them of the expense incurred. The trustees had previously approved the gate design above which the memorial legend will be placed.

Alberta Oil Key To Future Says UK Paper

LONDON, July 23 (CP).—The Evening Standard appeals editorially today for a "new Disraeli" who would recognize the importance of Alberta oil in the future of Britain and the Commonwealth.

The right-wing newspaper, in a 700-word article, says that in Alberta "lies the promise that can make us independent" of supplies in Iran, now threatened by Iran's nationalization policies.

Test drillings in bituminous sands along the Athabaska river north of Edmonton, the Standard says, showed that "one square mile contains the equivalent of 10 months' Iranian oil output." But substantial capital expenditure was needed.

Opportunity

"Here is Britain's opportunity" the editorial says. "Alberta is eager to see British capital sharing in her natural wealth. If we do not move fast it will be too late."

(Benjamin Disraeli was Prime Minister of Britain during the latter part of the 10th century, a period of empire expansion.)

The Evening Standard is owned by Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook, whose papers have been campaigning vigorously for increased British financial investment in Canada.

The Sunday Express, another Beaverbrook paper, said yesterday in a financial-page story:

"There is no safer way for Britain to share in Canada's prosperity than through the banking system. For the sake of a handful of dollars now we are throwing away the future."

Hungary Bishops Take Oath To Reds

BUDAPEST, July 23 — (AP) — Hungary's Roman Catholic bishops Saturday took an oath of allegiance to the Communist People's Republic—an oath they had steadfastly refused to take for two years.

One archbishop, eight bishops, their assistants, and the superiors of four religious orders remained after the others were dissolved last year, all swore to be loyal to the Hungarin People's Republic.

The doiceses of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and Archbishop Josef Goresz, both convicted on charges of plotting to overthrow the regime, were represented by assistant bishops.

Archbishop Gyula Czepik, president of the bench of bishops, said after today's ceremony: "It is the principle of the Catholic religion that we shall be conscientious citizens of our country. At the same time, we rely on the constitution guaranteeing the right of free religious practice."

Destroyer Nootka Leaves For Home

OTTAWA, July 23 — (CP).—The Canadian destroyer Nootka is coming home from Korea.

The Navy announced today that the Nootka, under command of Cmdr. A. B. F. Fraser-Harris of Halifax, is now on her way back to Canada after a six-month tour of duty in Korean waters.

The Nootka, first East Coast destroyer to return from Far Eastern operations, has been relieved by HMCS Cayuga. She will make a two-day stop at Esquimalt naval base near Victoria July 31 and August 2 and will proceed to her home port of Halifax via the Panama Canal. She is expected to reach Halifax on August 21.

The Nootka sailed from Halifax for Korean waters November 25 and arrived there in January, relieving HMCS Sioux.

Charged With Murder Of Wife With TB Germ

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 23 (Reuters)—Friedrich Baecher, 29, will be tried on charges of murdering his wife by injecting her with tuberculosis germs, the public prosecutor announced today.

Baecher, a former medical student, gave himself up last March and said he killed his wife, a nurse, in May, 1949.

She believed he was giving her a salvarsan injection to treat syphilis, he said. Her body was cremated when a post-mortem examination indicated she died of tuberculosis.

The train was Toronto-bound.

The Rev. Archie Peebles, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremoney, assisted by the Rev. R. Brown. White hydrangea and blue delphinium formed a beautiful setting at the altar.

Music was played by the Rev. J. C. Kellogg and Miss Margaret Hillis was the soloist. Before the ceremony she sang the "Lord's Prayer." Later she sang "A' Dawning," and during signing of the register "O Perfect Love."

The bride's gown was of white embroidered organza over taffeta made with a full hooped skirt and fitted bodice with long sleeves. They will live in Peterborough.

Millbrook Church Is Setting

Pink spirea, hydrangea and blue delphiniums formed a beautiful background for the marriage in St. Andrew's United Church, Millbrook, on Saturday of Vera Annetta, daughter of Mrs. Wilfred Fallis and the late Mr. Fallis to Donald Ray Langton, son of Mr. Gordon Langton and the late Mrs. Langton of Peterborough. The Rev. A. M. Butler performed the double ring ceremony.

Wedding music was played by Miss Beverley Patton. Before the bride entered the church Miss Joy Nesbitt of Lindsay sang "Because" and during the signing of the register she sang "Through the Years."

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Clifford Fallis. Her street length dress of white embossed marquisette was made with an Elizabethan collar, cape sleeves and full skirt. She wore an off-the- face white hat, long white gloves, and a corsage of red roses, and she carried her white nurses Bible.

Miss Helen Fallis was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore pale blue nylon net over taffeta fashioned with full gathered skirt, tucked bodice and cape sleeves. Her hat was white and she wore long white gloves and a corsage of pink roses.

Groomsman was Mr. Gordon Langton, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Paul Elson and Fred Lawson.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston Rowland, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The bride's mother received wearing navy sheer with white hat, navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Gordon Langton, the groom's sister-in-law, also received. She wore a dress of grey figured silk with a black hat and a corsage of pink carnations.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to the Haliburton Highlands. For travelling the bride wore navy and white nylon sheer over taffeta, white hat and accessories, a corsage of roses, and carried a rose shortie coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Langton will live at 748 Water St.

Health Service Misused Says British MP

LONDON, July 23 (CP). — A woman applied for a free bottle of olive oil under Britain's state health service and then used it for frying fish and chips, the House of Commons was told.

Sir Herbert Williams, Conservative Member of Parliament for Croydon East, said a doctor in the Midlands told him the story.

The doctor said he refused to prescribe the oil, so the "patient" transferred to another doctor who gave her the necessary form. The second doctor didn't find out until later what the woman wanted the oil for.

"That sort of thing is going on on a large scale," Sir Herbert said. "Masses of people today are abusing their rights under the health service and stealing from the public till."

Dr. Charles Hill, Britain's "radio doctor" and a National Liberal-Conservative member, told the House that five prescriptions a year are written for every man, woman and child in Britain.

The House was debating a motion to reduce health service estimates. It was defeated by 257 to 233.

Mrs. Wesley Payson, sister of Mrs. Covert, and Mrs. John McKay poured tea in the afternoon and the evening.

Mrs. Galen Covert showed the many lovely shower gifts. The wedding gifts were shown by Mrs. Burritt Bell and Miss Lois Moncreif showed the bride's trousseau. Mrs. Vince Millen supplied the tea and sandwiches to the dining room.

Lindsay Doctor Attends Medical Meeting

LINDSAY, July 23—Dr. William E. B. Hall, resident pathologist at Chambersburg Hospital, Pennsylvania, and formerly of Lindsay, took part in the International Congress of Clinical Pathology held in London, England, recently.

Dr. Hall is son of the late G. W. Hall, former mayor of Lindsay. Dr. G. E. Hall, his brother, is now president of the University of Western Ontario, London. Both brothers attended Lindsay Collegiate Institute.

The invitation to Dr. Hall to participate in the congress came as a result of a paper he submitted through the College of American Pathologists and the Society of Clinical Pathology.

The unpublished paper which Dr. Hall presented for the first time in London is entitled "Smallpox of the faetus: its epidemicology, immunology and pathology." The paper deals with the effects of smallpox on the unborn baby. The initial studies were made by Dr. Hall while he was at St. Joseph Hospital, Missouri, at a time when an epidemic of smallpox sent 723 patients to the hospital in a two-week period.

Dr. Hall went to Chambersburg Hospital in June from the Missouri Baptist Hospital. He took both his undergraduate and medical degrees at the University of Toronto, served his internship at the Western Pennsylvania hospital, was chief resident physician at Harrisburg hospital, resident in malignant diseases at Jeanes hospital in Philadelphia. He did post graduate studies at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Ohio State University and Harvard University.

Britain Lost Friend In Abdullah-Attlee

LONDON, July 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee said today the assassination of Jordan's King Abdullah has cost Britain "a trusted friend and ally."

The prime minister described the killing of the king in Jerusalem as "a senseless crime."

"Unlike some leaders in the Middle East," Attlee told the House of Commons, "he was always capable of looking beyond the interests of his own community."

Winston Churchill, the Conservative leader, called Abdullah "a man of the greatest fidelity," and added:

"The Arabs have lost a great champion, the Jews have lost a friend. And we have lost a faithful comrade and ally."

Bob Williams Captures Rowing Honors

WORCESTER, Mass., July 23 (AP).—High-stroking Bob Williams of the Hamilton (Ont.) Leanders led all the way Sunday to win the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen's prized championship singles sculling event by thre lengths from Walter Hoover Jr., of Detroit on Lake Quinsigamond.

The husky Canadian veteran covered the 1¼-mile course in eight minutes, 35.4 seconds.

Hoover pulled even at the mile but the powerful Williams redoubled his already-strenuous efforts to gain this contingent's top sculling honor.

The West Side's Rowing Club eight-oared crew from Buffalo, NY, was a front-runner all the way in taking the senior event for the third straight year.

The Buffalo oarsmen finished three lengths in front of the Detroit Boat Club's entry in 6:40.6.

The Toronto Argonaut Rowing Club was fourth.

Second In Dash

Williams, singles sculler for the last five years with the Leanders, warmed up for his smashing triumph Sunday by finishing second to Harold Finigan of Philadelphia's Malta Boat Club in the senior quarter-mile dash, won in 1:32.

The 145-lb. quarter-mile dash was taken by James Barker of the Undine Barge Club of Philadelphia in 1:36. Tom Smith of Leander, was third.

Barker and Smith were one-two in the 145-lb. single shells event over the 1¼-mile full distance.

Bisons' Rookie Pitches No-Hitter To Blank Leafs

By The Associated Press

Tam Simpson, rookie rightrander of Buffalo Bisons, and Lefty Bob Schultz, of Springfield Cubs, have added their names to the long list of feats turned in by International League pitchers this year.

Simpson pitched the second no-hit game of the season Sunday, defeating Toronto Maple Leafs 3-0 in the second game of a double-header. The Bisons also won the opener 8-6.

Schultz missed a no-hitter by an eyelash, defeateing Rochester Red Wings 2-0 in the second half of a twin bill. Don Richmond singled with two out in the seventh and final inning to spoil Schultz' bid. The Red Wings won the opener 4-1.

Simpson walked four and fanned four in the seven inning game. The Leafs also were victims of the season's first no-hitter, bowing 1-0 to George Bamberger and Ottawa Giants in nine innings June 17.

Rudy Minarcin gained credit for his ninth straight and 12th victory of the season in the opener although he failed to last. The Bisons pounded out 14 hits.

Schultz' feat was the 10th one-hitter in the league this season. Shultz, recently obtained from Chicago Cubs, fanned 10. Red Lavigne homered in the seventh to sew up the game.

Little Jackie Colum stopped Springfield on four hits in the opener. Richmond and Johnny Blatnik accounted for half of the Wings' runs with home runs.

Lou Possehl pitched Baltimore Orioles to an 8-1 victory over Syracuse Chiefs. The Orioles collected 16 hits including a home run by Bill Glynn. Hank Foiles homered for the lone Syracuse run.

Ottawa Giants edeged Montreal Royals 9-7 in 14 innings. George Metkovich tripled home the winning run and scored the insurance marker on Fred Geerken's fly ball.

World's Dullest Papers Invented By The Russians

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—The Soviet Union, which claims it invented everything, has one invention nobody will dispute. It has the world's dullest newspapers, and the dullest of these is Pravda.

But imagine yourself a Communist party functionary—say the leader of the party organization in a factory. You are charged with maintaining discipline and preventing mistakes by inept workers. You have a feeling that things haven't been going well.

Every day, seven days a week, you rush to the newsstand and stand in line to pay 20 kopeks (five cents at Russia's valuation) for your copy of Pravda. You have to hurry, because Pravda is not intended for the masses and there are just about enough to supply the members of the Communist party.

Your only concern is page one, columns one and two, which tells you the way the wind is blowing. Here you will find out just what the party is thinking about.

You read the two-column headline anxiously. "Better Organization of the Work of the Harvest," it says, and you breathe a sigh of relief. Not you—not today, anyway. The next day it's "Raise The Level of Leadership In The Economy." You are spared again. The next day it's "Bolshevik Firmness In Work." This may be it.

Look For Key Word

You skim over the first five or six paragraphs. The articles all read the same way in the beginning—first a glittering generality about the topic in hand; then, invariably the words "Comrade Stalin Teaches," or some variant thereof, along with a couple of lines of quotation from the master. But you are looking for a key word. It usually comes after Pravda finishes saying that things are pretty good in general.

One day the word is "odnako"—meaning "however". Another day it may be "regrettably," or "on the other hand," or just plain "but." This is it.

Then Pravda will centre its fire on the target for the day. It may be that not enough attention is being paid to party leadership in the factory organization. If it is, you are getting off easy. It may speak of "serious shortcomings." Even this is not so bad. But it may be that Pravda finds that the way things are being run amounts to "anti-state activity." That, brother, is bad. You are on your way to being bounced and possibly a job in a cooler climate.

Most Feared Paper

Pravda has brought the newsless newspaper to a point of perfection. Every day it looks just the same all through its four pages, except for the headlines, and even some headlines are the same as the day before.

But for all this, Pravda is probably the most powerful and most feared newspaper in the world. It pipes the tune which all the Soviet press must dance. It lays down the law of the Communist party which rules 200,000,000 souls. It pronounces sentence on straying Communists.

Pravda is edited by a collegium, headed by the powerful Mikhail Suslov, who is close to the Politburo and may even be a member by now.

Not Easy To Get Job Writing About Actors

BI JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (AP)—"And what are your hobbies, Mr. Gable?"

Clark Gable's answer, and the replies of other stars to countless similar queriers, are bread and butter for some 500 men and women who comprise the working press of Hollywood.

The world's appetite for information about movies and the activities and opinions of movie stars being what it is—virtually insatiable—Hollywood has one of the biggest news corps anywhere.

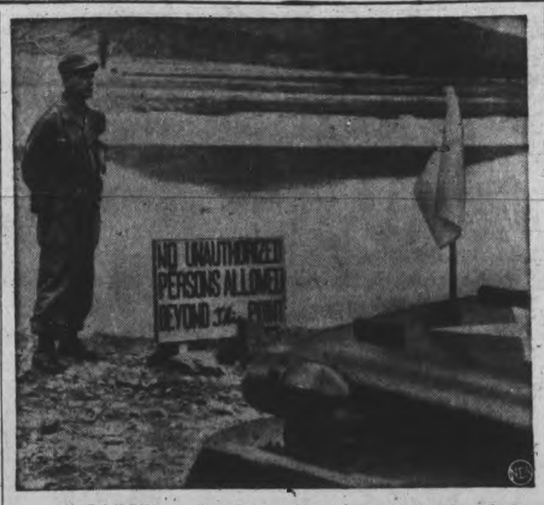
The Motion Picture Association of America divides them into two groups—Foreign Press representatives and American press representatives.

The domestic - correspondents group includes 263 writers for newspapers and magabines.

The MPAM believes only about two-thirds of the 263 writers make a living at it. The other third hold jobs outside the industry and write in their spare time.

What does it take to become a Hollywood correspondent?

Must Get Printed



To get on the MPAA's accredited list a writer must show that he writes—and gets printed—regularly. Usually a letter from his editor will do. In some cases the MPAA requests sample copy.

A correspondent for a weekly paper in Podunk would probably be turned down. However, a correspondent for papers in half a dozen Podunks would probably be accepted. The MPAA says a writer should have a circulation of at least 30,000.

When it doubts that a writer is really getting printed, the MPAA asks for clippings.

The MPAA admits that writers are treated in relation to the importance of their outlet. Thus our man from Podunk might have trouble getting a special interview with Clark Gable. The man from The New York Times probably wouldn't.

Apparently most of the Hollywood press corps like their jobs. The MPAA says the turnover is very small.

THE VIGIL — A solitary figure on the banks of the Imjin River is Supreme Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway as the lead jeep (with white flag) in the UN truce convoy heads for another Kaesong conference. Ridgway must wait as patiently as any front-line GI for the reports from the cease-fire parleys.

Dr. Dollot will join the French Embassy at Ankara.

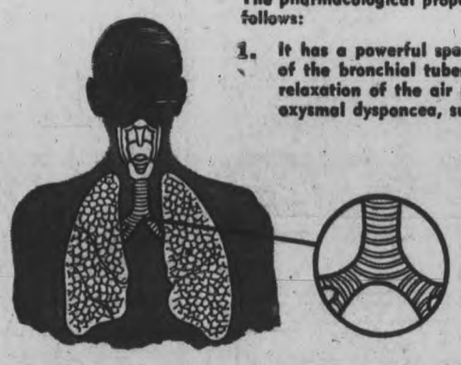
Enjoy this Summer. Get rid of sneezing spasms — sore, runny nose — red itching eyes!



EPHAZONE Lets You HAVE FUN in the SUN!

Here's How . . Hay fever is brought on by being unusually sensitive to animal hair, feathers, and pollen. An invisible veil of fine pollen and dust from these objects fill the air in summer, clogging the sufferers' air passages, causing violent sneezing, watering eyes, and continual irritation in the nose. Don't let summer find you unprepared. Take a bottle of Ephazone on your holiday! Keep a bottle handy always! Turn warm weather months into a time of pleasure instead of sneezing, itching misery. Get Ephazone at your local druggist's now!

PROPERTIES OF EPHAZONE

The pharmacological properties of Ephazone may be briefly summarized as follows:

1. It has a powerful spasm-relieving and soothing effect on the muscles of the bronchial tubes and bronchioles. As a result there is a rapid relaxation of the air passages, with consequent prompt relief of paroxysmal dysponcea, such as occurs in asthmatic conditions.
2. It softens and liquifies thick, tenacious secretions in the bronchial tubes and air spaces, so that mucus can be more easily coughed up.
3. It relieves congestion of the blood-vessels in the air passages and air-space, thus assisting resolution of inflammation.

Reds Hint By Radio Will Refuse To Drop Troop Withdrawal

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 24. (AP)—United Nations truce negotiators return to Kaesong tomorrow for a Yes or No answer from the Communists on a Korean cease-fire agenda. The Red North Korean Pyongyang radio indicated today the answer will be "No." United Nations delegates insist cease-fire talks omit any discussion of withdrawing foreign troops from Korea. The UN position is that the question is a political issue to be debated at a higher level after the shooting war has actually been halted.

In an unofficial answer Pyongyang radio quoted the Communist "Korean Central Press" news agency:

"All our people demand withdrawal of all foreign national troops from our territory."

New Instructions

The five Red negotiators undoubtedly have received new instructions from Peiping and Pyongyang since Saturday. On that day they called for recess of talks which had bogged down over this Communist demand.

Red China's Peiping broadcasts Tuesday gave no hint of what attitude Red delegates would take Wednesday.

Listeners recalled that the two Chinese delegates had called for the recess, taking the lead away from the North Koreans for the first time in the peace talks. Observers suggested this might indicate Peiping's silence was more important than Pyonyang's talking.

Pyongyang radio said:

"At the cease-fire talks in Kaesong Americans are refusing this issue emphatically. The United States delegates propagandize that this problem has no relation with cease-fire talks.

"This stubobrn attitude means that the U.S. is aiming to retain military bases in South Korea..."

If Communist negotiators persist in their stand Wednesday, cease-fire talks may well break down on the day fighting in Korea rounds out its 13th month.

Air Attacks

Jets and Superfort bombers swept through heavy clouds Tuesday to keep Communist forces from moving or storing supplies around Pyongyang, North Korean capital. Planes carried the main Allied blows but ground fighting stepped up somewhat.

F-80 Shooting Star jets twisted railroad tracks and blasted 40 rail cars at Kang-Dong, 15 miles east of Pyongyang. In a repeat strike 40 jets reported demolishing a rail and highway bridge near the city. Superforts bombed Sariwon rail yards south of Pyongyang.

Two UN planes were shot down by Red ground fire Monday.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate to armistice talks, flew back to his peace camp Monday night from Tokyo with two other members of the Allied team. They had conferred in Tokyo with Gen. Matthew Ridgway, UN commander.

Just before Saturday's recess, Joy informed the five Red generals the UN delegation was prepared to accept items already agreed upon as the complete agenda.

These subjects have not been disclosed. But it was generally believed here they embraced such matters as:

1. A cease-fire with provisions for enforcing it.
2. Creating a 20-mile buffer zone between opposing armies.
3. Creating an international commission to police the cease-fire agreement.
4. Exchange of war prisoners.

Allied Troops Beat Back Probing Attacks

US 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 24 —(AP)—Allied troops beat back eight Red probing attacks along the Korean front today and fought for the third successive day to drive Communist troops off high ground near the east coast.

All but one of the Red attacks were described as light.

But south of Mumsong, east of their fallen iron triangle, Chinese forces made "a large probing attack," the 8th Army reported. It was halted, as were three in the Yanggu sector of the east central front and four northwest of Kansong on the east coast.

Battle Rages

The three-day battle raged southwest of Kansong. It was still underway at 3 p.m. Tuesday (1 a.m. EDT). United Nations spokesmen described it as the fiercest fight in weeks.

UN planes kept up their heavy pounding of Red communication lines Tuesday.

In the month since cease-fire talks were first proposed, the Fifth Air Force said, it mounted 13,357 combat sorties and destroyed or damaged 24 Red planes —mostly jets. UN pilots have bombed 2,260 Red vehicles, 20 locomotives, 900 railroad cars and inflicted 4,000 casualties in that period, the Air Force said.

Tuesday's early strikes centred around Pyongyang, Red Korean capital.

Higher Costs Added To Rent

TORONTO, July 24 (CP)—The Ontario Legislature Rent Committee Monday approved a proposal allowing landlords to pass higher taxes and redecorating costs on to tenants.

Landlords who spend at least five per cent of their property assessment on redecorating would be permitted to apply for higher rents. At present the landlords must spend at least 10 per cent of his assessment before he is eligible for increased rents.

In the case of increased municipal taxes, the landlord would have the right to add one-twelfth of the increase to each month's rent.

Idea of the moves would be to encourage landlords and tenants to enter into two-year leases, a situation which, it is hoped, would help stabilize the housing problems of the province.

Committee recommendations will go before the Ontario cabinet for final approval.

Australian State Pegs Prices Of Goods

SYDNEY, Australia, July 24—(AP)—The New South Wales state government today pegged the price of all goods and services at their July 18 level. About 60,000 items are affected.

The action was designed to prevent a price rise when basic wage rates increase 13 shillings ($1.43) next week, to £9 13 shillings ($21.59).

UN To Consider Blockade Of Suez

UNITED NATIONS, NY, July 24 (AP)—Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain, July president of the United Nations Security Council, today called a meeting for Thursday to consider Egypt's blockade of the Suez Canal.

A meeting was requested by Israel 12 days ago but Jebb postponed action while efforts were made behind the scenes to find a solution to the ticklish problem.

Mass Evictions

BERLIN, July 24 (Reuters)—The West Berlin Social Democrat newspaper Telegraf claimed today the East German government has started a mass eviction of 25,000 "undesirables" from cities in the East German province of Saxony. The report was unconfirmed from any other source.

12-Foot Geranium

PORT McNICOLL, Ont., July 24 (CP)—John Bell has grown flowers at the Canadian Pacific Railway's dockside gardens here on Georgian Bay, about 70 miles northwest of Toronto, for 31 years.

But he's never grown geraniums like two he has this year. One—12 feet, four inches high—threatens to raise the roof of his greenhouse.

Import Eggs First Time Into Canada

Acute Scarcity Until Fall Buy From US, Holland

OTTAWA, July 24. (CP)—Hit by an unusual egg scarcity, Canada, for the first time in her history, is importing thousands of cases of eggs from foreign countries.

More than 2,000,000 dozens have been shipped to this country from the United States and Holland during the last few months. More are expected.

"At no time have I ever witnessed a situation like this," an Agriculture Department official sai dtoday.

"Usually Canada produces sufficient eggs to export. This year we're importing and we're taking all we can get."

Egg production in Canada is running at about 74,000 cases or about 2,220,000 dozens a week. Her normal needs run to about 90,000 cases or 2,700,000 dozens.

The shortage, the official said, likely will continue until next October or November.

Will Store Excess

"By that time, Canada should be able to produce all the eggs to meet all of her needs—and even some left over for export. But I doubt very much whether we'll be doing any exporting. Canada likely will store all she doesn't use immediately."

The current egg scarcity developed out of the sudden drop in the export market more than a year ago, the official explained.

In former years, Canada produced about 10 per cent more eggs than she could use. Most of the surplus was taken up by Britain.

In 1949 Britain announced that because of a dollar shoratge, she would stop buying eggs from Canada. Canadian poultrymen were stunned.

Many began cutting flocks. Others left the business altogether. For a while the egg market sagged. The government was forced to move in with price support.

The poultrymen's fears proved unwarranted and their flock-cutting proved too deep.

But by next fall, said the agriculture official, flocks should be back to almost the 1949 level, producing all the eggs that Canadians can use.

Water Babies Swim From Ship

PARIS, July 24—(CP)—Russell Tongay, father of Florida's "Water Babies," said today he had given the Ministry of Interior a signed statement promising that his children, Buda, 5, and Kathy, 4, would not try to swim the English Channel from the French "shore."

Tongay repeated, however, that at the end of the week he would board a vacant yacht in the English Channel "off the French shore." Why? "Well, perhaps we'll do a little fishing or swimming."

He said he would board the yacht "south of Cape Gris Nez," traditional departure point for Channel swimmers, but wouldn't name the date.

Heavy Rains Keep Level Of Flood Up, Loosing Punch

ST. LOUIS, July 24 — (AP) — Mississippi River flood waters, swirling along the southeast Missouri border, lost some of their strength today, but heavy rains in scattered sections of the midwest kept streams at high levels.

The Mississippi's crest was expected late today at Cape Girardeau, a town of 20,000 in southeast Missouri. Army engineers said there is no danger of serious flooding south of Cape Girardeau.

Downpours

Heavy downpours in the area north of St. Louis kept the river from receding as rapidly as expected. Streets and basements in five communities in the vicinity of Alton, Ill., 20 miles northeast of here, were flooded by sudden downpours Monday.

Some rivers in Kansas went out of their banks again after weekend rains measured up to nearly five inches. But little further damage was anticipated.

Flood Factory

On the Cape Girardeau waterfront water was a foot deep on the first floor of a four-storey International Shoe Company factory. The Frisco railroad passenger station was flooded to a depth of four feet and about half a block of the principal business street was under water.

Water was on three sides of the Missouri Utilities plant which produces electricity for several communities in the area.

In Washington, a representative of the US Corps of Engineers said "no difficulty is anticipated" along the lower Mississippi since the Ohio River is not at a high level. The Ohio empties into the Mississippi a few miles south of Cape Girardeau near Cairo, Ill.

West Farmers Ask Ottawa For "Justice" In Economy

REGINA, July 24. (CP)—A plea for "justice for the western economy" today was to be carried in person to Federal Cabinet Ministers and Western members of Parliament by the three Prairie farm unions. It was contained in a brief drawn up for presentation to the Ministers and Parliamentarians. The submission was given a vote of approval yesterday by more than 1,000 farm representatives at the opening of a two-day joint meeting of the farm unions. They had moved from Hotel Saskatchewan to Metropolitan Church because the hotel's main ballroom could not accommodate their numbers.

Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner and Justice Minister Stuart Garson were to be among those present when the brief was submitted by the presidents of the three unions—J. L. Phelps, Saskatchewan; Jake Schulz, Manitoba, and Henry Young, Alberta

Parity Price

In their submission, they reiterated demands for a parity price for wheat sold on the domestic market, price controls and floor prices based on a percentage of parity. It was estimated that parity—based on the cost of things the producer of the commodity has to buy—was about $2.12.

The brief called for a western farm bloc in parliament on major agricultural issues, "which would disregard political party lines on certain occasions, similar to the practice of the farm bloc of the United States."

If the federal government acts now the brief said, it can remove "the feeling of injustice and frustration which is becoming increasingly evident in the farming community.

"It is our further hope that (such action) will remove the ne-

Unemployment Drops—Ottawa

OTTAWA, July 24. (CP)—The number of unemployed in Canada is continuing to drop despite dislocations caused by some production decreases, the Labor Department said Monday.

In its bi-monthly report on the employment situation, the department said there were 136,000 persons registred as unemployed at June 14 compared with 151,000 at May 31. On June 15, 1950, there were 220,500 registered unemployed.

The department said there now are shortages of auto mechanics and repairmen, experienced miners, construction workers, and unskilled labor for construction, mining, transportation, communication and public utilities, and woodworking.

Don't Have To Take Nagging By Boss

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 24 (AP)—Judge Thomas J. Malloy holds that an employee is not required to take constant nagging by his boss.

Molloy's ruling was made yesterday in reversing an employment compensation commission decision that Michael Goldberg had quit a $135-a-week job as a garment cutter without sufficient cause.

Goldberg claimed he quit after two years because his boss, Bernard Gantmacher, constantly nagged at him, and "I was afraid I was going to get very sick."

Israel To Permit Oil Exploration

HAIFA, Israel, July 4 (AP)—The Israeli government was reported by official sources today to be preparing a new law which would permit it to give concessions to American companies to carry out oil explorations. The legislation would nullify concessions given to British prospectors by the former British-mandate government.

A high government source also said that the Haifa refingery — largely owned by the British-controleld Anglo-Iraian Oil Company —will soon increase production to full capacity.

The refinery has been operating at less than one-third capacity for some time. The Anglo-Iranian's main operations — in Iran — are now bogged down by a bitter oil nationalization dispute.

The Iraq petroleum line to Haifa now is closed and the main problem centres around shipping cruide oil to Israel through the Suez Canal. Israel has complained to the United Nations Security Council that Egypt has blockaded oil shipments through the canal.

Investigate Head Of Tass—Editor

HAMILTON, NY, July 24 (AP)—Alexander F. Jones, president of the American Society of Newspaper editors, today demanded a government investigation of the head of the Tass News Agency in Washington.

Jones, in a talk prepared for the third annual foreign policy conference at Colgate University, charged that the Soviet government had assigned Mikhail Fedeorov to Washington because of his Politburo training, rather than his journalistic skill.

"I do not ask the closing of Tass. I ask an investigation of Fedorov as an individual," Jones said.

Jones, executive editor of the Syracuse Herald-Journal, made the demand after reviewing the case of William M. Oatis, Prague correspondent of the Associated Press. Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison by a Czechoslovakian court after what Jones called a "farcical trial" for espionage.

234,000 Japs Die In Red Hands

TOKYO, July 24—(CP)—The Foreign Office said today more than 234,000 Japanese captured in the Second World War have died in prisoner-of-war camps in Communist territory.

It added in a white paper that 28,797 others are missing.

The document said 77,637 Japanese POWs are alive in Communist Siberia, South Sakhalin Island and the Kuriles, North Korea, Manchuria and Kwantung province in China.

Meanwhile the Japanese National Council of Family Organization petitioned Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters to bring about the speedy repatriation of Japanese believed still held in Russian and Chinese prison camps.

Iran Talks On Oil Hit Snag

Harriman Satisfied With Progress, Proposals Offered

TEHRAN, July 24. (CP) — Negotiations between President Truman's special envoy, W. Averell Harriman and Iranian officials were reported to have hit a snag today over details for ending the bitter Anglo-Iranian feud over nationalization of oil.

The snag was not described as a deadlock. Both Harriman and members of the Iranian government's oil nationalization board still expressed "satisfaction" with progress made in the talks so far.

But after 10 hours of discussion yesterday in the bedroom of ailing Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, the Iranian cabinet still had not reached agreement on the basis for resuming formal negotiations with Britain.

Both Harriman and the Iranians were understood to have submitted proposals "along the same general lines," a source close to the negotiations said.

Proposals

These would call for British acceptance of Iranian government ownership of the country's rich oil resources, including the installations of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. But an operating company controlled by the customers who buy Iranian oil would be set up.

The source said that Harriman proposed that this operating company would distribute and market the oil, and manage the wells and the refinery at Abadan — the world's largest.

The Iranians, however, were reported to have proposed that the operating company buy Iranian oil at the Perusian gulf jetties, distribute and sell it, but that the nationalized Iranian company would manage and direct the actual production.

Both sides are trying to find a compromise.

Emergency Session

(In London the foreign ministry termed the offer "not wholly discouraging at first glance." The cabinet will hold an emergency session tonight to decide Britain's answer.)

But as Iran's battle with Britain moved possibly nearer settlement its internal problems worsened when several thousand Iranian demonstrators threatened twice today to storm the capitol buildings and were turned back by tanks and armored cars.

The crowd protested police action in riots 14 days ago when about 20 were shot down. No shots were fired in today's demonstration.

Master Plan Offered For Missouri Valley

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—A Missouri Valley authority patterned after that in the Tennessee Valley would be authorized under a bill offered yesterday by 12 senators. In past years, Congress has rejected the idea.

"The old methods and programs to control these floods in the Missouri Valley...have completely failed," Senator James Murray (Dem. Mont.) said in introducing the bill for himself and his colleagues.

Will Also Purchase 350,000 Tons Flour In Agreement

OTTAWA, July 24. (CP)—The United Kingdom will purchase 95,000,000 bushels of wheat from Canada under terms of the International Wheat Agreement in 1951-52, Trade Minister Howe announced today. In addition, he said, Britain will take 350,000 tons of Canadian flour, equivalent to 18,000,000 additional bushels of wheat. The Minister said Britain also has expressed "interest" in purchasing further quantities of wheat from Canada on a Class II basis if additional quantities are available.

It has been agreed that the two countries will consider next Sept. 30 a further purchase and sale of 250,000 long tons—9,300,000 bushels—of wheat on a Class II basis.

The 1951-52 crop year agreement was reached in discussions between the British food ministry and the Canadian Wheat Board following a meeting of the International Wheat Council in London.

Sign Memorandum

Mr. Howe said the Anglo-Canadian discussions resulted "in the signing of a memorandum of agreement for the sale and purchase of wheat and flour as well as covering a number of technical matters pertaining to the wheat trade of the two countries, including general shipping arrangements for the crop year 1951-52."

The price Britain will pay in the next crop year will be set by the international wheat agreement. Under the agreement, the maximum price is $1.80 (US) a bushel for No. 1 Northern. The floor drops 10 cents a bushel to $1.30 (US) from $1.40.

High Demand

However, with the world demand for wheat relatively high, the price has constantly hovered at the maximum level and it is anticipated here that it likely will remain that way in the new crop year.

Still unsettled is the question of whether Britain will pay the six-cent-a-bushel carrying charge Canada announced recently and covering all exports of wheat.

Opposing the payment of the extra charge, on top of the selling price established by the multi-nation wheat agreement, Britain has requested that the matter be considered by the pact's directing council.

The council will meet in London July 30 when a final decision will be made.

Altogether, the 95,000,000 bushels in wheat and 18,000,000 bushels in flour, making a total of 113,000,000 bushels, will be slightly higher than Canada's shipments to Britain in the current crop year, ending July 31.

Britain had intended taking in the current crop year between

Father Drowns Trying To Save Young Son

MORRISBURG, Ont., July 24 — (CP)—John Cross, 51, of Aultsville, Ont., was drowned Monday night when he plunged into a canal lock east of here in an attempt to rescue his three-year-old son.

The boy, who had fallen in while playing near the lock, was rescued by Francis Froates, a witness of the tragedy. Froates said he was unable to locate Cross.

Freak Weather In Canada Partly Due To Wind Change

By The Canadian Press

In the last six weeks, Canadians have been deluged and frozen by some of the most freakish weather of the decade.

Rainfall in Ontario and parts of Western Quebec has been 30 per cent above normal—causing hay spoilage and loss of winter wheat, tobacco and other crops valued at millions of dollars.

Through most of British Columbia west of the Rockies not a drop of rain has falled in the last 40 days.

Snow In West

And at Cowley, Alta., 5.6 inches of snow fell on June 26.

Weather officials say that in Ontario, three months' of rain—7.7 inches—has fallen in the last two months. This was accompanied by at least two sets of severe electrical storms.

Last Wednesday and Thursday a series of electrical storms, accompanied by hail and lightning, smashed across the province, flattening crops, uprooting trees and starting fires.

Weather officials explain the dry spell west of the Rockies by a change in prevailing wind directions.

Normally, they say, British Columbia is watered by westerly winds which lose their moisture in the Rockies.

This month they have veered and are now passing up the coast west of the mountains and there is no obstacle to cause them to lose the rain they contain. But the weatherman didn't explain why the wind veered.

Bell Telephone To Provide TV Network Lines

TORONTO, July 24 (CP). — Television programs will be relayed to Toronto and Montreal over a modern microwave radio-relay system to be constructed by the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, H. G. Young, general manager in charge of the project, said today.

It is planned to have the system in operation by the time television broadcasting is inaugurated in each city.

Mr. Young was commenting on an announcement by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation that the Bell Company has been awarded a contract to relay television programs from Buffalo, NY to Toronto and from Toronto to Montreal.

The Buffalo-Toronto section of the network will be constructed first because television broadcasting is scheduled to make its Canadian debut in Toronto early next year. American programs available in Buffalo could be brought into Canada over this section. The Toronto-Montreal link is scheduled to be ready by the time television broadcasting is inaugurated in Montreal.

Wide Use

Although the CBC has contracted initially for only a one-way channel from Buffalo to Montreal the network is designed for much wider application—both in television and voice communication.

The same facilities that will carry television programs also can be used to carry hundreds of telephone conversations simultaneously.

Some 15 transmitting and receiving stations will be required for the Buffalo-Toronto-Montreal network, the exact number depending on the route that is finally chosen.

Present plans call for only one relay station between Buffalo and Toronto, at Fonthill, Ont., some 23 miles northwest of Buffalo and 41 miles south of Toronto. It is planned to construct 12 relay stations between Toronto and Montreal, as well as the two terminal stations.

Airline Hostess Named Smuggler

CAIRO, Egypt, July 24 (AP)—A police superintendent at Cairo's Farouk Airport said today that a Trans-World Airlines hostess, Cynthia Blyth, has confessed she smuggled gold from Cairo to Bombay, India. Three other persons were said to have been arrested in the case.

Miss Blyth, identified by authorities as a British subject residing in India, was arrested July 18 on charges of attemping to smuggle $3,000 worth of gold ingots out of Egypt aboard the plane on which she served as hostess.

She was said to be a link in a large international gold-smuggling ring.

Ford Sends Home 2000 In Production Dispute

WINDSOR, July 24. (CP)—Ford of Canada sent between 2,000 and 3,000 workers home again Monday as a production schedule dispute entered its third week.

The company said 825 employees would be released indefinitely following a two-week plant shutdown for holidays at the end of the month.

Company officials said their release was the result of revised production schedules. Some 600 workers were dropped from the payroll when the company altered production schedules a month ago.

Lost Plane Sought Along Coast

Hope of Survivors Fades As Fog Hampers Searchers

VANCOUVER, July 24. (CP) —Air search for the missing Canadian Pacific Airlines DC-4 went into its third day today with searchers more hopeful of locating the wreckage of the Korean airlift plane than they were of finding survivors among the 38 persons aboard.

Again, weather was the bugaboo in the hunt, with forecasters reporting only hope for "slight improvement" in flying conditions above the wilderness of the Alaska Panhandle, probable grave of the plane.

The four-engined aircraft — bound for Tokyo via Anchorage, Alaska—disappeared early Saturday after taking off from Vancouver.

Search headquarters at Juneau, Alaska, said yesterday that 21 planes and two ships have "practically completed" their search of 150 miles of the Panhandle coast.

Fog

But persistent clouds and fog shrouded coastal mountains, where peaks tower as high as 15,000 feet. Planes had to go beneath the cloud blanket, combing the twisting straits and timbered islands off the coast.

When Capt. Victor Fox made his last pilot's report from the plane he was flying at 9,000 feet, about 80 miles west of Juneau. A dozen peaks vault above that height.

So far the search armada has been limited by the necessity of keeping track of all searchers in the soupy weather.

Four CPA planes were the only Canadian aircraft participating. But more Canadian planes and ships were standing by, waiting only for an American call for aid.

An RCAF spokesman said:

Planes Ready

"If and when they do give us the signal to enter the search we will give the green light to two Lancaster bombers, two Cansos, one helicopter and two high-speed launches.

"In addition, the navy has offered the use of one or two frigates, depending upon requirements, as well as additional navy units."

Aboard the plane — the first Korean airlift craft to crash — were seven Vancouver crew members, including two stewardesses: two Canadian navy men, three American civilians, three U.S. army officers and 23 American airmen bound for duty in Japan.

Barber Helps Promote Art Interest

PRESTON—(CP)—Many persons class artists as "long-haired" but Harold Morrow of Preston is far from that category. He's a barber.

As well as being a prolific artist in his own right Mr. Morrow is founder and perennial president of the Preston Art Club which has about 100 enthusiastic members.

Customers in his shop don't gaze at the usual long-legged calendar girls but at interesting woodland scenes, a few Marines and views of the lovely Doon area in which Homer Watson painted his way to fame. And customers are almost certain of meeting a constant parade of art students, fellow club members of Mr. Morrow's, who come in to ask his advice or to buy materials which he keeps in stock more for their convenience than for his profit.

One-Man Exhibit

A few weeks ago he held his first one-man exhibit in nearby Galt, and won friendly plaudits from local papers. But the youthful though grey-haired barber insists that he is still a beginner and a long way from being a great artist.

The story behind his art is the subject that lies closest to his heart. Seven years ago he was "quite a lad for the drink," he says, but adds that he underwent a religious experience that turned him to painting.

He soon found himself sketching early in the morning before his shop opened and at night working on the sketches he had done in the morning.

Now he, his club members and his customers are all enthusiastic about his painting.

But the bet was called off when one of the horses escaped from the stables and galloped into the bush.

Howe To Fly To Washington On Defence Talk

OTTAWA, July 24 — (CP) — Production Minister Howe is planning to fly to Washington to attend a special industrial mobilization conference with United States officials.

He likely will leave either tomorrow evening or early Thursday.

The meeting was called by Charles Wilson, US defence mobilization chief. Both he and Mr. Howe are members of the Canada-United States Joint Industrial Mobilization Committee, responsible for designing the Bi-Lateral Economic Pact signed last Oct. 26.

Under this pact, an extension of the wartime Hyde Park Agreement, Canada and the US agreed to pool their resources as a defence against aggression.

Reason for the conference was not known, but it is beleived to have developed from US concern over mounting costs for defence materials.

Inflation, and the problems of coping with it, sparked a meeting recently between Mr. Howe and Eric Johnston, US Economic Stabilizer.

Mr. Johnston came away from the meeting satisfied with Canada's attempts to hold the price line. However, he expressed concern over the $10-a-ton increase in the price of Canadian newsprint which went into effect July 1.

It appeared likely that the confrence in Washington, to open Thursday, will reopen the problems of prices and means of controlling them.

It also likely will deal with a desire by Canada that the US place more defence orders in this country. Canada has placed about $350,000,000 worth of defence contracts in the US. American orders for military equipment in Canada amount to only about $100,000,000 over the last year.

cessity for immediate consideration of farm-strike plans, which are being pressed in many areas

Drastic Action

"While we grant that the agricultural industry must not be denied the right to take drastic action, if in the future it becomes absolutely necessary we do sincerely believe farm strikes should only be seriously considered as the last and least desirable alternative."

In asking justice for the west, the brief said:

"We are impelled to this course by the steadily-worsening position of western agriculture . . . and the necessity for further action to correct this situation."

Generally, the submission said, western farmers are not well off financially.

"Many grain growers are carrying on by wearing out their equipment and stripping the fertility of the soil.

"It is no coincidence that last year, as reported by the Canadian Press, farmers borrowed $63,421,363 from the Farm Loan Board, the largest amount in history for a single year."

Decline in farm purchasing power was being reflected in depressed business conditions in the west. Western troubles had been further aggravated by the recent boost in freight rates, which had put farm operations costs out of line with prices received for agricultural products.

"We ask for and feel we have a right to expect, as one of the basic industries of Canada, a fair share of the national income."

Price Of Meat Affects Red Cross Blood Bank

PASADENA, Calif., July 24 — (AP)—The high cost of meat is causing bad blood at the Pasadena Red Cross blood bank. Doctors noted yesterday that there were 55 rejects in obtaining 239 pints of blood. A year ago the ratio was about 30 rejects and they think the reason is that the high price of meat is causing housewives to prepare more and more meatless meals.

UK To Rebuild Queen's Hall Burned In Raid

LONDON (CP).—Queen's Hall, destroyed in a night raid on London in May, 1941, is to be rebuilt as a national concert hall and music centre.

Decision to rebuild was announced by Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer. It followed consultation with the Arts Council, the BBC, and members of the Henry Wood National Memorial Trust, which had raised a substantial fund towards a reconstruction scheme.

Estimated cost of the new hall is about £1,500,000. Tentative plans provide for enlargement of the old building to take in the adjoining site of St. George's Hall. This would give seating space for 3,500 persons, with room for another 1,000 "promenaders." Provision will also be made for a smaller hall, for recitals and chamber music, capable of accommodating an additional 1,100.

War damage payment amounting to £350,000 has already been made and the trust fund will add another £60,000. The remainder will be contributed from national revenue.

Use of the trust fund in rebuilding the hall was assured on the understanding that a suitable memorial would be erected in honor of the late Sir Henry Wood, whose musical career was so intimately associated with old Queen's Hall and the promenade concerts.

Market Action Still Moderate

TORONTO, July 24 —(CP)— Prices were higher as the session progressed on the stock market today. Trading continued its recent moderately active pace.

Industrial advances ranged from fractions to more than a point. Papers and steels led the board upward and utilities, construction, food, textiles, refining oils, manufacturing companies and retail stores followed. Agricultures and banks were mixed.

A handful of lower-priced issues gained pennies to feature the base metal section. Macheno was extremely active as it climbed 12 cents. Estella, Golden Manitou, Steep Rock, United Asbestos, Osisko, Ascot and Yukeno advanced. Consolidated Smelters went against the trend and eased ¼.

Golds continued Monday's late upswing in early trading and then became steady. Senior producers added fractions and secondary golds were up pennies.

May Ask Province To Stop Shore Erosion

ST. CATHARINES, July 24 — (CP)—The provincial government may soon be asked to take steps to block erosion on the Lake Ontario shore between Niagara and Hamilton.

Representatives of six Lincoln and Wentworth county municipalities—bordering on the shore—met here Monday night and decided to ask their councils to pass resolutions asking the formation of a lakeshore conservation authority to undertake the work.

Suggested method was construction of piers from crushed stone. It is believed sand would wash up around these to form beaches.

Delegates estimated the cost at from $400,000 to $1,000,000.

Naughty Words Barred In NZ House

By J. C. GRAHAM,
Canadian Press Correspondent

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP). — The Speaker of New Zealand's House of Representatives keeps a red book of banned words and phrases, use of which is liable to bring a reprimand to members.

The Minister of External Affairs, Mr. F. W. Doidge, made a plea for an overhaul of the book when speaking in the House this week. "When you study our little book you find words such as chump, dense, hooty, conceit and make-believe listed as unparliamentary," he said.

"But if we turn to the Hansards of the House of Commons we find an amazing latitude allowed. Thus we find Mr. Churchill describing Mr. Aneurin Bevan as a squalid nuisance, and Mr. Bevan calling Mr. Churchill a paranoiac, without repreimand.

Australia, Too

"In Australia we find even more remarkable instances. On one occasion Mr. William Hughes attacked the then Prime Minister, Mr. A. Deakin ,and called him unreliable and corrupt. The Speaker actually apologized to Mr. Hughes for interrupting his speech.

"Critics could ridicule some of the words listed in our book. It is all right as a guide to behavior in a young ladies' finishing school, but in an assembly like this members should be permitted some latitude without being responsible for a breah of temperate decorum."

The Speaker, Mr. M. H. Oram, said the main question was to determine whether the words were offensive in th context used. He had never considered himself bound by the list of words in the book.

Petain Denied Burial At Verdun

ILE D'YEU, France, July 24 — (AP).—A simple funeral and a gravestone bearing only his name were made ready today for Marshal Henri-Philippe Petain, who in life had worn the laurels of a national hero and the chains of a condemned traitor.

Denied burial at Verdun among the soldiers he led in the First World War, the 95-year-old chief of the Nazi-dominated Vichy regime will be laid to rest here tomorrow in the little stone-walled cemetery of Port Joinville.

The simple headstone reads "Philippe Petain"—without name of his rank or qualities.

Died Monday

Petain died here Monday, after almost six years of exile following conviction of treason for his acts as head of the Vichy government. In death he remained a controversial figure, as supporters continued their fight to clear his name.

An appeal from Petain's lawyers to bury the old soldier at Verdun, where he often said he wanted to be put to rest, was turned down last night by the government.

But when a new cabinet is set up, the burial decision may be reviewed, officials said.

Eight veterans of Verdun and two former prisoners of the Second World War will carry the casket to its resting place.

French newspapers gave top play to news of his death.

The influential Le Monde commented: "Petain belongs henceforth to history which will finally judge, when passions have calmed, when it will be possible to balance with serenity, with the maximum of justice, the life of this man who without doubt lived too long for his glory."

The Communist Ce Soir ran a front-page picture of Petain with Hitler, captioned: "This is how Frenchmen will remember him . . . ."

CAMPBELLOFRD, July 24 — (ENS)—Mrs. John McKibbin was the guest speaker at the Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club here. She was introduced by her husband, Rotarian Rev. John McKibbin of Christ Church, Campbellford.

Mrs. McKibbin was a very successful social worker.

She was born in Prince Edward Island, her father being the rector of the famous St. Paul's Church, Charlottetown. In 1918, the family moved to Toronto where Mrs. McKibbin's father became rector of a large church there. She is a graduate of Havergale College for girls in Toronto. Also of the Toronto Normal School and completed a course in social science at the University of Toronto.

Mrs. McKibbin told of welfare work in the Toronto area. The work is divided into two sections group work, which is preventative work and embraces community centres and summer camps, and case work, which is a remedial form of welfare work and deals with individual problems and adjustments.

The work is financed through taxes and the community chest campaigns.

Mrs. McKibbin feels there should be some form of social work in the rural communities, and that one classroom in schools in larger centres should be set aside for the more backward children.

Rotarian Owen Watson thanked the speaker for her very interesting talk.

Rotarian Lynd Bradley gave a report on the outcome of the carnival held in connection with the home week and reported a net profit of $1,543.

Sunday evening, two cars, one driven by Ken O'Reilly, Little Britain, and the other by Dorwin Fielberg, Toronto, collided. Damages to the cars wass light.

John Wideman, driving the Marmill Feed truck north on the county road Monday morning collided with an English model car driven by Dr. Clarence Smythe, Toronto, who was proceeding west.

The impact turned the Smythe car about 90 degrees until it was facing northwest. The truck left the road and came to rest at the edge of a garden at the west side of the road. When it crossed the deep ditch, the rear wheels, springs, axle and drive-shaft left the truck.

Damage to the car was $800 and the truck was a total wreck

Two other accidents have also occurred at this intersection. One last week and the other June 25. Three of the four accidents were investigated by Constable Ray Lawson.

Burial was in St. Peter's cemetery, where graveside prayers were said by Msgr. Butler.

Home Sweet Home

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)— Niusa Fo'ou, famous at Tin Can Island of the swimming mailmen and also the location of one of the Pacific's most active volcanoes, still has fond memories for 1,000 natives moved to another island in the Tongan Group after a particularly violent eruption. They are homesick and want to go home.

So Help Me

KINGSTON, July 24. (CP) —Robert Marsden of Alderville, Ont., says next time he'll take the bus. Last week he started out to hitch a ride from his home near Cobourg to Kingston. The man who picked him up was driving a stolen car. Police sighted the car and arrested both Marsden and the driver. It took some tall explaining by Marsden before police let him go.

Stole Watch 25-Day Term

Lorne Graham, 30, who gave his address as 220 Edinburgh St., Monday afternoon was sentenced to 25 days in county jail for theft of a watch from his landlady. On a second charge of assaulting his landlady, Mrs. Phyllis Jane Brown, Hamilton St., he was fined $15 and costs or 15 days.

He pleaded guilty to both charges.

The assault and theft took place Friday at Mrs. Brown's home when Graham, no longer a boarder, entered the house "in a mad rage."

Mrs. Brown said he tore the phone off the wall, smashed a picture of her husband, grabbed her wrist watch and stamped on it. Then he picked up the broken watch and left the house.

He also slapped Mrs. Brown's face and tried to prevent her from leaving the house. She didn't think he was drunk.

Graham was turned out of the Brown house after he became drunk and was fauled into court earlier this month.

"What's the explanation of all this?" enquired Magistrate Philp, KC, before handing out sentence.

"I was drinking, that's all I can say," replied Graham.

"That's no excuse,' said the magistrate who handed out the 25-day sentence plus the $15 fine.

Roseneath Choir Honors Mrs. Sherwin

A presentation of a tea service was made to Mrs. Leslie Sherwin by the members of Roseneath choir, following choir practice held in the church on Friday evening.

Mrs. Sherwin Turner, owner and operator of Maple Lodge, a tourist home across from the church, has many times opened her spacious home for the United Church choir to entertain a visiting choir who were here on special occasions.

Following the practice, Mrs. Sherwin was called over to the church and Miss Hilda Arthur, organist, on behalf of the choir, expressed their appreciation for the hospitality extended to them many times during th past year, when two choirs met together for a sing-song and social evening. Mrs. Flex McMillan, assistant organist, made the presentation. Taken by surprise, Mrs. Sherwin replied briefly.

Entry Forced Into CNR Tool Shed

LINDSAY, July 24—The CNR section tool shed was broken into sometime during the weekend for the second in less than a year.

J. Fratalochi, section foreman, reported to Lindsay police that the padlock on the shed had been broken and entry made, although nothing was missing.

The tool shed was entered before on Christmas weekend. At that time several bars and other tools were removed and found later in Claxton's store, where they had been used as safecrackers.

Woman Claims To Be Widow Of W. C. Fields

LOS ANGELES, July 24 (AP) —A witness who said the late W. C. Fields gave temperance lectures under the name of Billy Williams has accented the claim of a Chicago woman to the late comic's $771,428 estate. The celebrated tippler died Christmas Day, 1946.

Mrs. Edith Williams, 71, claims she and Fields were married in New York City June 24, 1893, when she was 13 years old. Her petition asserts that she bore him seven children before he deserted her in Chicago in 1910.

She claims a widow's share of the estate. Her claim is opposed by Mrs. Harriet V. Fields, the comic's legally-recognized widow who married him in San Francisco in 1900.

At the hearing yesterday, Fred J. Ardath, one-time vaudeville trouper, said he first met Fields in 1896 or 1897 and that he was using the name of Billy Williams and Billy Ward. He said Fields gave temperance lectures when theatre jobs were scarce.

Ardath pointed out the now-blind Mrs. Williams as the little girl Fields introduced as his wife in those early days.

"Did he ever talk about his children?" he was asked.

"He would say, 'I've got 'em in every city'," Ardath replied. "But I don't know to this day whether he was clowning or not."

Bancroft Opens Parking Lot

BANCROFT, July 24. (ENS)— With the new municipal lot in operation, finding a parking spot on Bancroft's main street on Saturday night is no longer a problem. The grounds behind the municipal building have been graded and gravelled and lights have been installed. Besides this it is in the centre of the village and free to all motorists.

As this is in the hub of a lumbering and road-construction belt many families use their trucks as a method of transportation when they come to town for their weekend shopping. Local authorities have requested these people to use the lot in order to simplify the parking problem for the out-of-town tourists. Besides a large number of cars, 24 trucks were counted in the area during the rush on Saturday night.

In a very short time the public rest rooms and lavatories in the municipal building will be ready for use. A crew of carpenters and plumbers are busy on the job and they will be open to the general public before the end of the current month.

Montreal Cyclist On European Tour

LONDON—(CP)—Romeo Morin, a slight, athletic French-Canadian from Montreal who has logged approximately 130,000 cycling miles in the last 25 years, has started on a 7,000-mile continental tour.

With a bicycle he has used for 21 years and on which he has crossed Canada and the United States from coast to coast, Morin will tour 10 countries including Sweden, Denmark, Spain, France and Italy. He will return to Canada in October.

At his home in Montreal where he lives with his mother and sister, Morin has spent the last 10 winters planning summer cycling tours. This, however, is his next to last.

On a London interview, Morin said he plans next year to visit Mexico and five American States he has not yet seen. "After that," he said, "I'll travel by train or boat."

This is his first tour outside North America and he claims to be the first Canadian to make a major cycling tour of Europe.

28-Pound Muskie

CAMPBELLFORD, July 24 — (ENS)—Lewis Hendricks of Akron, Ohio, who is a regular summer visitor to the Campbellford area caught one of the largest 'lunge taken so far this season in these waters while trolling with a pikie minnow on Monday evening. The big fellow weighed 28 pounds and measured 43 inches in length. Mr. Hendricks is staying at Coles Point, a summer resort a few miles north of the town, and says catching the fish was just like old times, as he used to take a 'lunge home with him each year.

IT ISN'T A BOMB or a bird or a plane. This 20-ton hunk of iron (Above) was once used as a stone-breaker on the Trent Canal. When its owner, a contractor named Thomas Brown, found he had no use for it, he gave it to the town of Campbellford. They had no use for it either, and they've tried to get rid of it ever since. Last week, two obliging scrap dealers got it loaded onto a multi-wheeled trailer and carted it off to Trenton. It will be broken up in Hamilton.—W. Reid Photo. →

Medicine, Ice Rotary Topics

Medicine and ice manufacturing were the topics discussed at Monday's Rotary luncheon meeting.

Two classification talks were given—medicine by Dr. Lloyd Thompson and the ice manufacture by Graham Ferguson. Dr. Thompson entitled his address, Some Thoughts on Present Day Medical Problems.

He outlined the progress that has been achieved by medical men in some diseases such as pneumonia, diphtheria and goitre. He also enumerated the problems presented in others such as heart disease, arterial diseas and cancer and explained the intensive research going on to solve these problems.

Mr. Ferguson gave a descriptive outline of the methods used in ice manufacture — equipment and methods.

Both speakers were introduced by Gordon McGavin and thanked by President Syd Black.

The following guests were present: William Calder, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Major H. Everitt, Peterborough; S. D. Creighton, Toronto; Frank Moore, Elwood City, Pennsylvania; Gilbert Howe, Greenwich, Ohio; Lin Richardson, Mimico; Jasper Humphrey, Montreal; Jan Albardo, Peterborough; Ken Madill, Windsor; Don Yale, Thamesville, Ont.; R. A. Vogan and Dr. D. E. Vogan, both of Mercer, Pennsylvania; the Rev. Max Dowell, Cleveland, Ohio; John H. Fisher, Rittman, Ohio; Gil Windsor, Haliburton, Ont.; Alex Cadman, Laurenceville, Pennsylvania.

Scrap Dealers Take Breaker After 33 Years By Canal

CAMPBELLFORD, July 24 (ENS).—The 21-ton stone breaker, a solid iron cylinder resembling a World War II blockbuster, that has reposed on the bank of the Trent Canal in Campbellford since 1918, has at last been carted away to the scrap heap.

The huge metal cylinder, 18 feet long and 22 inches in diameter, which has defied the efforts of many men and machines during the past few years was finally hoisted aboard a multi-wheeled trailer of the Thompson Brothers Construction Company last week after much figuring and preparation.

The stone breaker was left on the bank, and "donated" to the town in 1918, when a construction engineer, Thomas Brown, decided that it was not worth the trouble of moving it.

The huge piece of metal was used to break down large rocks when the canal was under construction in this area in 1918. The town did not particularly want the relic, but did not know what to do with it. They offered to sell it to various scrap dealers. They tried to move it and could not.

One crew arrived from Peterborough and went to work on the cylinder with acetylene torches, attempting to cut it into pieces to make it easier to move. The large diameter was too much for the torches, and they soon gave up. Others tried to jack the thing up and put rollers under it, but their efforts were rewarded only by broken rollers and buckled jacks.

Two Tackle Job

Finally two men decided to tackle the job. Frank Brown of Campbellford a scrap dealer, and J. P. Kozak of Montreal, also a dealer, went to work on the idea of putting it on a trailer used to haul a bulldozer. They did not have too much trouble getting it aboard. "The Thing," as it had become known locally was hauled to Trenton, where it was placed on a freight car consigned to a scrap metal firm in Hamilton.

Many tourists, and even some residents, thought the thing was a huge cannon resting by the canal bank. Others, who had no idea what the object was, were told a number of falsehoods concerning it, ranging from a blockbuster that was dropped aid failed to explode during the last war, to a captured German one-man submarine that strayed into the canal, or that it was a shell from a huge cannon the town owned to scare off the Indians when they made their numerous attacks.

At any rate, the two men looked mighty proud when the breaker was safely blocked onto the huge truck.

"Difficult Day?.. take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

Legal Aid Clinic In Peterborough

In this country we do not have two sets of laws, one for the rich, the other for the poor; and all men are equal before the law. That is the theory. In fact there is inequality, because money makes a difference in the availability of the law and the opportunity of stating cases equally before the law. If people do not have lawyers to plead for them or to represent them out of court, the chances are that they are less well served by the law than people who do have the advantages of legal advice. Legal advice costs money and some people do not have the money to hire it or engage a professional pleader.

Heretofore in important court cases the judge would direct that a poor defendant be furnished legal representation. Further, the Canadian Bar Association has declared that "provision of competent legal services, without fee, for anyone who through lack of funds is unable to retain his own solicitor, is the responsibility of the legal profession." People without means have therefore had protection and legal assistance. But the scope has been narrow. Instances occur daily in various city police courts where one man on a minor charge is penalized, another on a similar charge is not, because the second was represented by counsel who was able to present his client's case in a favourable light. Steps have been taken by the legal profession itself to reduce the disparity.

This June the Ontario Legal Aid Plan came into effect. Under it various free "legal aid clinics" are being set up throughout the province, with the co-operation of county law societies. The Peterborough County Law Society is establishing a legal aid clinic in this county town in mid-August. Details and the purpose were announced in The Examiner last Saturday. We greet with real satisfaction this move to make the availability of the law as well as the law itself equal to all. The Peterborough County Law Society is to be congratulated on getting its plans under way so that the clinic may be opened as early as next month.

Emigrating To The West

The tide of emigration from Ontario to the Canadian West has run out. That is a sober fact which those in high Canadian seats should view with concern. It might be well, for the sake of the West and to keep the Canadian scene balanced, to artificially stimulate emigration from Ontario to the wastes of land from Winnipeg to Kamloops (both places included).

Before and after the turn of the century, many good Ontarioans pulled up stakes from Goderich to Glengarry and Went West, there to bring the light of culture, the virtue of industry and the mellowness of Ontario civilization to the raw prairies and foothills. Now these people are dying off, their life's mission accomplished, and are properly lauded in the local western press as hardy pioneers, first fathers of the community, pillars of Prairie state. Their children carry on, but they were born out there and, faithfully as their parents may have brought them up in worthy Ontario ways, they have not had the ripening benefit of actually having lived in this Province of sweetness and light.

Look at what has happened, now that the Ontario stock in the West is thinned from soup to consomme. The West is no longer as respectful as it should be toward Ontario. Winnipeggers are raising Cain about crops as well as skyscrapers on the steppes: they say Ontario does not pay enough for their wheat and extracts too much for Ontario machines —upstart wheat barons, the nouveau riche, sassing venerable Ontario squires in faded plush Toronto! Brandonites (or is it Brandonians?) complain about freight rates. Saskatchewan has some kind of high falutin' C.C.F. (Canadian Cornhuskers Ferment?) government. And Saskatchewan even dares to put a hospital tax on the food Ontario gentlemen eat in railway dining cars as they are whisked through the not-so-golden fields of waving wheat.

Alberta is even more outlandish in its government: Social Credit. Ontario people mistakenly think that Social Credit means that the Alberta Government gives unlimited credit to those on whom Society smiles: the gents in silk hats. True, Alberta has some oil tucked away in nooks and crannies against a rainy day, but what riles Ontario people is that the Alberta Government gets a juicy cut on the oil profits (is even getting out of debt thereby), and, moreover, lets American firms, not Ontario ones, take the lion's share of the fluid.

And so we get into the foothills: Banff. Why, somebody has built there a hotel so posh that not even the majority of Ontario people can afford to stay more than a fortnight! Thus the Westerners are cultivating rich Americans rather than Ontarioans. Rank ingratitude; filial impiety; gross lack of patriotism!

Beyond the Foothills, among those overbearing mountains which B.C. sports (quite indecently big and rambunctious mountains which no true Ontarioan could respect, being used to such sane things as the Mountain in Hamilton); there between the peaks there may be pockets of Ontario culture braving the Chinooks and sharks from Vancouver, but one hears little of them. They must be hamlets of lost causes. From the Fraser canyon down to Vancouver an upright Ontarioan must wince, or pull down the window curtain of his first class compartment to shut out the foreign scene. There is nothing, absolutely nothing, to remind him of his native land, Ontario the blessed: only the reverberations of the wheels on the track which Ontario money and brains (and brawn from somewhere else) built to extend the benefits of eastern culture to the Coast.

The trouble with the West is that now too few people out there reverentially call Ontario 'home'. The remedy is: subsidize emigration from Ontario. If not enough missionaries can be found, then let the rich Western governments send people East (only for a visit, of course; we already have in the senior reaches of the Civil Service in Ottawa a preponderance of Westerners), to regain the touch with sound civilization which they have lost.

Death Of A Shell

So very old and exhausted was Marshal Petain of France when he died yesterday that none, not even Frenchmen, can feel any emotion whatsoever about the death. He was neither the defender of Verdun nor the defeatist of Vichy; he was not even a man. He was outworn fasces of ancient flesh and bone from which had departed the spirit of the man long before physical death came. History will not remember this vestige which gave up breathing on Monday. It will remember the hero of 1916 with pride and the tragic figure of 1940 with pity.

Which side of the portrait of the figure of the Third Republic who was Henri Philippe Petain, Marshal of France, will time light brighter? There is little doubt of that. History is not vindictive and time is rose colouring; France is a logical country but it is not ungenerous. Petain's strength before Verdun when he said 'They shall not pass'; when, indeed, the Germans did not pass; that is the Petain whom history will claim because he was an honour to France and France honoured him. When he was already full of years France called on the saviour of Verdun again; in 1940; but the old man failed France then because he was old and tired and because also he was not great enough to the occasion. Churchill was not young, either, when Britain called on him in the same year. But Churchill was more closely of the warp and woof of his native land than was Petain. Or it may be that the fibre of Britain which produced Churchill was stronger than the fibre of France which made Petain what he was. Petain was of shot silk; Churchill and his 1940 Britain, of tempered steel. France's failure in that fateful year was Petain's failure; but Petain's lack was also lack in France herself.

A Shiver Over Goose Bay

A despatch from Ottawa in our news columns yesterday gave us the shivers. It began: "Canada's big northern airport at Goose Bay, Labrador, is expected to play a part in United States plans to throw up a global ring of airfields around Soviet Russia." The thought that a Canadian airport is to be part of an American "ring of airfields around Soviet Russia" puts Canada closer to the firing-line than most Canadians are willing to admit. We have got used to the map-maker's view of the Canadian Yukon and the American Alaska being separated from Russia by only a few miles of sea. That is a commonplace. But far north-western Asiatic Russia is silent sub-arctic waste, too frigidly dormant to be a vital threat. Yesterday's despatch puts Canada's St. Lawrence gateway beside the doors of the Kremlin. Goose Bay is to be a pin in a ring around Soviet Russia.

That is how close Canada's vital territory is now drawn to Russia by the new map-makers, those who chart by air-miles. Russia is bounded at one important point by Canada's Goose Bay.

There is another disturbing notion in the "global ring of airfields around Soviet Russia" of which Goose Bay is expected to be one: the global ring is American. It is the United States that is planning to "throw up" this global, defensive ring. Canadian territory is to be used; as already the United States is planning on Britain as her last outpost; as in earlier times Britain put her defensive frontier on the Rhine. Of course, the conception of Canadian airfields and Canadian north being used as defensive bases for this continent is not new. But to have the matter stated so bluntly in a despatch from Ottawa—that Goose Bay is an American defence base, a link in an American chain being forged around Soviet Russia, gives us a choking, uncomfortable feeling. From now until the last war is fought, whatever breath of battle blows to or from the United States, blows across Canada.

The Murder Under The Dome

By ANNE O'HARE McCORMICK
(New York Times).

THE hand of the assassin is busy in the Middle East. The murder of King Abdullah of Jordan following swiftly on the slaying of the Foreign Minister of Lebanon and the Prime Minister of Iran. All three crimes are symptoms of the same fever, a fever that burns hotter than the desert sun in the smoldering lands between the Eastern Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf. In this case, as in the others, the slayer is said to be a member of an Arab nationalist organization, connected with the Mufti of Jerusalem, bitter opponent of Abdullah's pro-British policy and his desire to come to terms with Israel. But whatever the immediate motive, the crafty old King, most moderate and realistic of the Arab leaders, is only the latest victim of a sweeping fire. The flames are fanned by all kinds of passions—local and dynastic rivalries, popular discontent, hatred of foreigners, jealousy and fear of the new State of Israel—but the wind that spreads them over the whole area is the fierce gale of nationalism.

✧ ✧ ✧

ABDULLAH was shot in the old city of Jerusalem, at the door of the beautiful Mosque of Omar, on his way to pray at the tomb of his father. This mosque (the Dome of the Rock) marks the sit of the stone whence the prophet Mohammed is supposed to have ascended into paradise. It is within a stone's throw of the site of the Temple of Solomon, of which only the Wailing Wall of the Jews remains, and of the Christian Church of the Holy Sepulchre. Jostling one another in this small space are the holy places of the three great faiths which make it unique, and uniquely coveted. Behind the national passions inflaming the new-old nations in the cradle of the world loom the religious attachments and traditions from which the present conflicts cannot be quite separated. This is an aspect of the Middle Eastern picture the observer on the spot can never lose sight of. Certainly Islam is a strong element in the Arab movement of today.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT in Abdullah, curiously enough, his Arab patriotism, which was as fervent as that of Ibn Saud or any of his fellow rulers, was somewhat diluted by his religion. He was proud to belong to the ancient dynasty of the Hashemites, son of Hussein and brother of King Feisal, friend of Lawrence of Arabia. But his proudest claim was that he was a direct descendant of the Prophet. On the two occasions when this correspondent talked to him, once on the eve of the Second World War and again at the end of the Palestine conflict, in 1949, he spoke of himself as "a good Moslem," but rather as if that title obliged him to do what he could to calm the storm that broke around his little kingdom, literally built on sand but considered until now a point of stability in a volcanic region.

ONLY an emirate until the British gave up the mandate in 1948, Jordan is the one Arab state that gained anything out of the war with Israel. This was one reason why Abdullah was the only Arab ruler who was willing to discuss peace with the Israeli. A treaty was actually drawn up and would have been signed but for the violent opposition of the Arab League. Abdullah told the writer that in time he was certain he could overcome this opposition, but as ruler of the least of the Arab lands he could not isolate himself from the League.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN his cautious, devious way the shrewd old King was increasing his influence among his neighbours. He was a realist, quicker than other Arab leaders to face facts as they are and attempt to turn them to his advantage. After the First World War he met Winston Churchill in Jerusalem and was dissuaded from marching on Syria, then a French mandate, by Churchill's promise that Britain would recognize his claim to Trans-Jordan. He never gave up scheming to realize his dream of "Greater Syria" but was careful to make no open move to bring it about.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE was careful, too, to refrain from taking any overt steps toward a formal peace with Israel. But a kind of modus vivendi was established between the two states that divide the city of Jerusalem, so that Abdullah reigned in the old city and Ben-Gurion in the new, and this ambiguous relationship angered the Arab League. As feeling against the West, and particularly against Britain, rose in Egypt, in Iran and in Syria, Abdullah's leaning toward the West and his close connection with the British made him more suspect and more unpopular among the extreme nationalists, in his own country as well as others.

✧ ✧ ✧

MAYBE he was the victim of his realism and moderation. Whether the shot that killed him was fired at the British, whatever impulse in a tangled skein of antipathies and ambitions led to his death, we shall never know. Unquestionably, however, his passing is a loss to Israel and, to the extent to which he represented a hope of reconciliation in a troubled area, to the rest of the world. Although his little realm does not amount to much in the sum of power, and he cut a very small figure indeed on a stage where even big figures are dwarfed by events, he was in some sense a key piece in a key situation.

✧ ✧ ✧

WITH his sly oriental humour, he knew his own importance and did his best to profit by it. He was assassinated just after he had sternly condemned assassination as a political weapon, and if the double crime in Jordan focuses attention on the dangerous epidemic raging in that region, it may spur the West to more vigorous measures to cope with a disease that is dangerous to us all.

Unconsidered Trifles

Said the flirt to a boy friend she was entertaining in her home: "Darling, did you ever try to sell vacuum cleaners? If not, you'd better start now . . . That's my fiance just coming in the front door!"

Jones bought a business from an agent. After some months he failed and, meeting the agent some time later, he said:

"Do you remember selling me a business some time ago?"

"Yes, I do," replied the agent. "But what's the trouble? Isn't it as I represented it to be?"

"Oh, yes," said the other. "You said it was a busy locality, where there were plenty of passers-by."

"Well!" queried the agent. "What's wrong with that?"

"Nothing, only there were too many passers-by."

The Tariff Board As A Court

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

A RECENT decision of the Canadian Tariff Board serves as a reminder of the very active function which this agency performs as a court. In this capacity, the Board hears appeals by business concerns against rulings of the Department of National Revenue on customs and excise matters. Occasionally, the Department itself takes the initiative in going before the Board in order to clear up some doubtful or controversial point in the schedules.

Because of its care and fairness in these matters, the Board is becoming more and more established in the public confidence. In a number of important cases during the last few years, it has ruled against the Department; this means, broadly speaking, that the latter has been restrained from charging as high a rate of duty as it would like. The ultimate consumer, who has to pay in the long run, is the gainer.

The Board's most recent decision, which went against the National Revenue Department, was not in itself a momentous one, because it dealt with a situation which no longer exists. But a considerable amount of money was involved. In this case, a packing company appealed against a departmental ruling that, during late 1949 and early 1950, mixed shipments of hydrogenated cottonseed oil and soya bean oil should be dutiable at a rate of 20 per cent. instead of 17½ per cent. The question does not arise today, because the lower rate now applies to both these vegetable oils used in the manufacture of margarine.

The point is that the Tariff Board once again has given a liberal interpretation of the law as enacted by Parliament. The attitude of the Department lies rather in the opposite direction. Among other successful appeals by importers was one affecting table glassware. In another case, five different chemical materials used in the treatment of furs were involved; the Board found the Department was wrong in three of the five instances. An Ottawa instrument firm succeeded in its claim that it was assessed too high a rate of duty on altimeters. And similar examples could be cited.

In many cases, of course—probably the majority—the Tariff Board finds in favour of the Department upon the evidence presented. Nor are its decisions always final, as there is provision for appeal to the Exchequer Court. But the Board is demonstrating that it is a thoroughly independent body, and by no means subservient to any department of government.

They're Moving Out

(FINANCIAL POST)

IN the United States in recent years there has been a substantial movement of people from the big cities into the suburbs and nearby towns, according to the recent American census. Since the end of the last war, it is estimated some 5,000,000 persons have joined this trek from the country's 168 metropolitan centres. It will be a good thing for Canada, if the current census here reveals a similar trend.

With modern transportation it is no longer necessary nor desirable for people to live jam-packed into narrow streets alongside the factory or office that employs them. They are far healthier, and in these critical times, far safer, spread out over a wider area.

In this way they can get away from the smoke, the traffic and the high tension of the thickly built-up urban centres. They should also be able to find cheaper living and they won't, for one thing have to build bomb shelters.

Before the automobile and the bus, such decentralization was impossible, or at least impracticable. For the average city man it was necessary to have his home within walking distance of a tramline. And there was the matter of conveniences.

Running water, sewers and even electric light were not available much beyond the limits of the big city or town. Now, as a U.S. writer recently pointed out, people are finding the village and even the country near our larger centres, is merely an extension of the big city so far as conveniences and entertainment are concerned, without the big city's noise, dirt and congestion.

The present generation will probably see such places as Montreal and Toronto proper reach their maximum population, if they have not already done so. The big expansion in future will almost certainly be in the smaller centres and particularly those that lie within 50 to 75 miles of our main industrial areas.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God . . All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made. (John 1: 1, 3.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word . . . .

And the word of the Lord came unto him, saying, Arise, get thee to Zarephath; which belongeth to Zidon, and dwell there: behold, I have commanded a widow woman there to sustain thee. So he arose and went to Zarephath . . . .

And it came to pass after these things, that the son of the woman, the mistress of the house, fell sick; and his sickness was so sore, that there was no breath left in him. And she said unto Elijah, What have I to do with thee, O thou man of God? art thou come unto me to call my sin to remembrance, and to slay my son?

And he said unto her, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and carried him up into a loft, where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed . . . . And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah: and the soul of the child came into him again, and he revived. And Elijah took the child, and brought him down out of the chamber into the house, and delivered him unto his mother: and Elijah said, See, thy son liveth.

And the woman said to Elijah, Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth. (I Kings 17: 1, 8-10, 17-19, 22-24.)

New Service For Visitors To U.K.

(U.K. Information Office)

Visitors from Canada, Australia, Spain, India, Pakistan and the U.S.A. have been among the first to take advantage of an interesting new service for visitors from overseas which has been started in London.

Known simply as Introductions Limited, its function is to provide a problem-free stay in Britain. While it is essentially a facilities "clearing house", working in conjunction with established travel and ticket agencies, car hire firms and similar specialist organizations, it provides a complete and carefully integrated visitor service under one roof. The jobs it undertakes range from car cleaning to visits to British homes.

Its special feature, however, is the "introduction" to the right people at the right time —for instance to the senior representative of a club, restaurant or shop. It can arrange visits ranging from a tour of the sewers of London to an inspection of a new housing scheme, or obtain an invitation for a seat in the Distinguished Strangers Gallery in the House of Commons.

Visiting businessmen can obtain advice on all aspects of industry and commerce, and introductions to heads of firms, Chambers of Commerce, trade organizations, etc. If a visitor has to leave London on business, the enterprise will look after his family—providing a tutor for his children or social engagements for his wife. In other fields such as sport, "Introductions Limited" will arrange temporary memberships for racing, golf, fishing, tennis or other clubs.

Canadian Vets Recall Petain Without Rancor

Written for the Canadian Press
By COL. W. W. MURRAY, ... O.B.E., M.C.

OTTAWA, July 24—(CP)—To Canadian war veterans of an older generation the death of Marshal Henri-Philippe Petain comes as a matter of quite personal interest. Regardless of his having been a controversial figure for many years, Petain is particularly remembered by many Canadians for his contribution to their enjoyment 15 years ago of a remarkable function.

The deceased marshal presided over a banquet which the French National Confederation of War Veterans tendered to 5,000 Canadians, chiefly ex-servicemen and their wives.

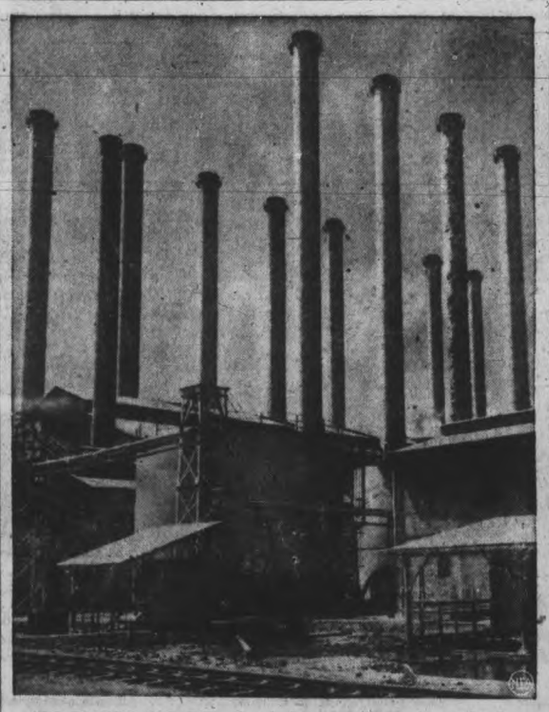
Vimy Ridge

They were pilgrims who, only a week before, had attended the unveiling by King Edward VIII of Canada's national memorial on Vimy Ridge. The banquet was staged at Paris, in the Invalides, the massive structure built by Louis XIV for a military hospital and which, for 110 years, has contained the tomb of Napoleon.

The marshal spoke kindly of Canadians.

"During the war," he said, "the daily communiques from the front at times reported reverses; for the Canadians they announced only victories. They were doughty fighters who gained the objectives assigned to them, nor did they allow these to be retaken. The memory of the Canadians remains vibrant within the heart of the French poilu, for he who endured the severest tests knows how to appreciate real valor."

On a parcel of land in Gaspe, near the cross that commemorates the arrival in 1534 of Jacques Cartier, wheat is growing from seed collected from the farmers on Vimy Ridge. This was presented in a small, ornate box, by Marshal Petain at the close of his address, to Col. D. E. Macintyre, of Ottawa, who received it on behalf of Canada.



The whole occasion was happy, filled with interest.

The years brought changes of attitude with respect to Marshal Petain. A decade of bitterness and reproach engulfed him. Yet the spectacle of on aged, white-haired marshal of France on the balcony of the Invalides 15 years ago does not easily fade from memory. That could persist when the pathos of his last years has been forgotten.

Physicists Meet To Discuss Moon, Northern Lights

LONDON, Ont., July 24. (CP)—Scientists from nine countries, concerned mostly with things out of this world, met here yesterday and talked about such things as rocket flights to the moon and the mysteries of the northern lights.

The 75 auroral physicists who opened a four-day convention at the University of Western Ontario seldom got any closer to the earth than 60 miles.

Their interests were chiefly with the aurora, the upper atmosphere where light is produced by the passage of particles which originate in the sun.

Conclusions understandable to the layman were far from numerous. The physisists, from such countries as France, Norway, England, Germany, Sweden, India, Ireland, the United States and Canada, agreed that the northern lights, for one thing, are still more to be admired than understood.

600 Miles Up

Specifically, these men are trying to ascertain the nature of the particles which come from the sun, and the properties of the upper atmosphere. Most of the light generated occurs 60 miles from the earth, but it has occurred up to 600 miles away.

While working to satisfy their own curiosity, the physicists may eventually pave the way for the first rocket flight to the moon or beyond. In addition they may be able to help weather forecasters make accurate long-range predictions.

Professor D. R. Bates, well-known auroral expert from Queen's University, Belfast, had something to say about what a rocket ship might encounter on the way up.

The temperature of the atmosphere 40 miles above the earth is far below zero, he said, but at a height of 150 miles it is 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit above zero—or roughly the temperature of red hot iron.

However, despite the heat, Dr. Bates had hopes that rocket ships would safely penetrate this hot belt. The atmosphere, he explained, is so rare and the molecules so few that there is almost a vacuum with the result that space travellers wouldn't feel the heat.

The conference is sponsored jointly by the University of Western Ontario and geogphysical research division of the US Air Force.

Chief Forecaster Frank O'Donnell Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, July 24 —(CP)—Frank O'Donnell, 71, whose career is the story of the development of weather forecasting in Canada, died yesterday.

He entered the meteorological division as a clerk 51 years ago and retired in 1946 from the post of chief weather forecaster for Canada. On his retirement he received the MBE for outstanding service.

Many of the advances in Canadian weather forecasting were the result of Mr.O'Donnell's work. Possibly his most outstanding contribution was the introduction of the system of high and low temperature estimates.

Born and educated at Bradford, Ont., 30 miles north of Toronto, he joined the meteorological division in 1900 when it was headed by Sir Fredrick Stupart. Twenty-five years later he was appointed chief forecaster, a position he held for 21 years.

Service Grew

He saw the service grow from a limited system of stations with none farther north in Ontario than Parry Sound and White River to an all-inclusive system with reports reaching the Bloor Street office here from one coast to the other and from stations ringing the Arctic.

He and his staff were responsible for all reports, going out in advance to newspapers, radio stations, railines and steamship lines.

Mr. O'Donnell once said that his prognostications were annually 88 to 90 per cent accurate on "probs" and were within 3.5 of correctness over 36-hour periods.

It was his contention that weather forecasting was "entirely a human problem." After measuring air pressure, temperature, wind direction and force, from these figures computing the speed of air masses, judging their make-up in the succeeding periods and estimating whether it is cloudy or clear, the weather expert then must approach the solution to his daily problem "as a human being."

He must get out "the temperatures and the probe and though he sometimes goes astray it does not happen with the frequency that the casually observant public things," Mr. O'Donnell said on his retirement.

Airship

To him the outstanding event of his career was the successful provision of weather reports for the flight of the British airship R-100 from England to Canada and back.

Many times he received thanks from Canadian and United States shipping lines for his "superior" reports on Great Lakes weather. Once, in 1913, he was the only forecaster to predict a bad storm on Lake Erie. Though his warning saved many lives, 100 died because some ignored his prediction.

One of his few wrong estimations came early in his career. He took a young lady canoeing on Lake Ontario and it was only by desperate paddling that they reached shore before a storm struck. She foregave him his forecast and later married him.

2 Planes Collide One Crash Lands

VANCOUVER, July 24 (CP)—The airlanes were jumping yesterday with a five-hour tangle of mishaps which included a collision in the air and a crash landing in a cow pasture.

Two women and a girl were injured, none seriously.

Two single-engined planes collided in the air about three miles south of Steveston, BC. One plane made an immediate landing, while the other limped to Vancouver international airport.

Injured in the crash landing on Lulu Island near the airport were Mrs. Margaret Webb, 37, of Sumas, BC; her 10-year-old daughter, Donna, and Mrs. Irene Louis, 35, of Vancouver.

Pilot Donald Geck, who was uninjured, attempted to avoid a herd of cows as his plane neared the farm field. He swung the craft over a wire fence, the port wing uprooting a tree.

The first mishap of the day took place at the airport when a light plane piloted by Dr. W. G. Ballard, dog food manufacturer, nosed over while landing and was heavily damaged.

Fire Starts In Hotel Pub

OTTAWA, July 24 (CP)—Ten guests made their way through acrid smoke to safety early today when fire broke out in the women's beverage room of the St. Charles Hotel in downtown Ottawa on Queen Street off Bank Street.

No one was injured, fire and police officials said.

Firemen had the blaze, said to have started in the women's beverage room, under control less than an hour after it started at 1 a.m. EDT.

The guests, most of them warned by the hotel's night staff, had time to dress and make their way to the street by various exits. One lad slid down a rope from the fourth floor, the hotel's top storey.

There was no immediate estimate of damages.

Henley association executives said new entries from the Old Dominion Boat Club, Alexandria, Va.; Malta, Philadelphia; Minneapolis Rowing Club; Fort William, Ont.; Winnipeg and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., swelled the field from the 18 clubs that competed in the 1950 Henley.

Opening day races will begin at five p.m. EDT while Thursday and Friday have been set for four p.m. Saturday's races start at 2.15 p.m.

Bob Williams, of Hamilton Leanders, is favored to meet Jack Guest of Toronto Dons in the championship singles event on Saturday—highlight of the four-day meet.

Williams has just returned from Worcester, Mass., where he became the fourth Canadian to win the National Association of Amateur Oarmen's championship singles since 1899.

Guest was beaten out this year in the first round of the singles championship at Henley, England.

John B. Kelly, Jr., of Philadelphia, several times winner of the singles championship at Henley, will not be in the running this year. He is on active service with the United States navy.

$63 Million Development Started On West Coast

TRAIL, BC, July 24 (CP)—The vast $63,000,000 development program of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Ltd., now is under way with the recent announcement of a number of contracts covering initial phases of the work.

Nearly half the money will be spent to build a $30,000,000 power plant on the Pend Oreille River, 12 miles southeast of here and just north of the Washington-British Columbia border.

The first two units installed will develop 205,000 horsepower, equal to half the output of the five Kootenay River plants which now supply most of the needs of the company. Target date for completion is 1954. Two other power units will be added later.

Cominco, as Consolidated is known for brevity's sake, also has nine other projects in hand which, when finished, will add aother 1,000 me to the company's present payroll of some 8,500.

Steel Industry

Residents of this Kootenay area of southeastern British Columbia see the power project as the possible forerunner of a steel industry possibly at Kimberley, location of Cominco's Sullivan Mine. Company officials have said they are prepared to launch a steel industry when west coast demand warrants it, and coast demand has risen sharply in the last few years.

A new transmission line is needed to carry power from the Kootenay River plants between Nelson and Brilliant, east to Kimberley and Riondel. This will involve stringing across Kootenay Lake—a two-mile span that will make it the longest overhead transmission in the world. Cost: $2,850,000.

Other projects:

Smelter revision at Tadanac, $12,000,000; new fertilizer plant at Kimberley, $9,000,000; zinc plant addition at Tadanac, $3,200,000; Bluebel mine and mill at Riondel, $3,000,000; H-B mine and mill at Salmo, $2,750,000; water system revision at Tadanac, $1,000,000; power revision at Warfield, $300,000. All these projects are in this general area.

Ore Field

In addition, $1,050,000 is planned for Big Bull and Tulsequah Chief Mines, in Northern British Columbia; and the company is exploring a vast ore field at Pine Point on the south shore of Great Slave Lake, in the northwest territories.

The Sullivan Mine at Kimberley pours out more than 10,000 tons of ore a day to feed the giant metallurgical and chemical plants here, and it is also storing tailings for use in a possible iron and steel industry. Sullivan is the world's largest silver-lead-zinc operation.

Cominco now supplies 10 per cent of the world's zinc; 10 per cent of its lead; and eight per cent of its silver. Or, in percentages of Canadian production: refined lead 100 per cent; zinc, 76; silver, 55; tin, 100; indium, 100; antimony, 100; bismuth, 87; cadmium, 84; gold, 1.37; ammonium phosphate, 100; ammonium sulphate, 87 and most of Canada's ammonium nitrate. It also produces oleum, sulphuric acid and anhydrous ammonia.

Cavaretta Tries To Establish Manager's Job

By JERRY LISKA.

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP).—Apparently Phil Cavarretta hopes to make the Chicago front office eat its words about his appointment as pilot of the Cubs being a stop-gap arrangement to round out the season.

Optimism radiated from the successor to resigned Frankie Frisch, even thought Cavvy's home managerial baptism today was the opener of a three-game set against the zooming first-place Brooklyn Dodgers.

"We're not too far behind that first division," calculated the new boss of the seventh-place Cubs. "If we can whip up a winning streak, we'll be all right."

"I'll be satisfied with the first division—this year."

Wid Matthews, Cub player personnel director, at the same time emphasized that Cavarretta "understands that he is manager only for the rest of the season."

Not Discouraged

Cavarretta is not a fellow easily discouraged. For several years, there was an effort to ease Cavarretta, the first baseman, into a rocking chair. Eddie Waitkus, Pres Ward and then Dee Fondy chased Phil off his beloved initial sack for awhile. But the old pro always came back.

Phil's .323 now leads Bruin batting. As Cub chieftain, he could let his glove gather dust. But he won't.

"I intend to play more than I have been this year," said Cavarretta. "I love to play."

At the moment, at least, Cavarretta is batting 1.000 as manager The Cubs won a 14-inning thriller at Philadelphia Sunday, his first day as Frisch's successor, and even the three umpires shook his hand in congratulation.

Out At The Kawartha

A hole in one. Usually one of those things we dream of happening only in the golfer's shangri-la, the other side of the rainbow. The thrilling experience of getting one fell to the lot of Ian McGillivray last weekend while playing No. 8, a 220-yard hole. The match was a friendly game between Ian and Jack Riley. Ian drove off using a 4 wood. The ball landed just short of the green, rolled up to, and finally into the hole for a clean cut hole-in-one.

The handicap committee are well pleased with the general progress of the club competitions. They point out, nevertheless, that the coming weekend is the deadline for the third round of the men's two-ball.

The men's senior play after a period of being dormant came to and some really close games resulted. The following emerged in the next round: D. Menzies, H. G. McKenzie and L. Ackford.

The club championship play is right up to date with D. Vitarelli and J. Raine moving into the second round.

The Kawartha Cup competition is well in hand too. D. Bath, F. Welford and G. Myles are well ahead of the game having already reached the fourth round.

And in the President's Cup, H. McLean, H. Correll and B. Moulton are also as far as the fourth round.

A number of the greens have been top dressed recently, consequently for a day or two, some otherwise docile members took time off to do what the ancients called "venting the spleen." However, we all recalled grandma's words of encouragement "That it was all for the best." And indeed all things being equal the results should become evident within the next week and a half.

ANCIENT GAME

Checkers is one of the oldest games; the ancient Greeks and Romans played it in one form or another.

Senior baseballic Petes are off to Toronto to play Croftons a Viaduct League game tonight, if it isn't raining. They're away again Saturday to Oshawa, not having a home tilt this week. By the way, the club has asked the Recreation Commission to put up a screen or some other protection over the wall of the players' dressing-room under the bridge. Seems some persons—probably youngsters — have been climbing the wall and stealing from visiting players' clothing during games at Riverside. Oshawa and Toronto clubs recently have lost money and watches as these sneak thieves operate when no one is around to watch the dressing-room.

* * * * * *

Thursday night, Brantford Sox are slated for an exhibition in Oshawa, and the Merchants are due to play in Guelph the night before. But these games may not be played, unless Oshawa can get special permission. The OBA is a trifle peeved at the Intercounty Loop for ignoring an edict barring Jerry Creasey from playing in that league. The edict resulted from lusty lobbying by Oshawa officials. The OBA and, through it, the TABA have advised Viaduct League teams not to play Intercounty Loop squads as long as Creasey is allowed to pitch in the latter circuit. But Oshawa wants to play these Intercounty teams. An odd situation indeed.

Some Come Only Twice

It might be explained to lacrosse fans at this time that OLA and club officials—all quite sober, mind you—drew up a staggered schedule. In the OLA senior setup. Clubs in the western extremity of the large group meet those in the far east end just four times, two away and two at home. Clubs situated closer together play each other six times, three away and three on home terrain. Like Hamilton, St. Catharines and Brampton at one end. This takes some pressure off the players in the long grind, cutting down on hikes up to 400 miles, getting home for a few hours sleep and then to work—with maybe another game the next night. It also cuts expenses somewhat.

* * * * * *

St. Kitts' scribe says: "It is agreed by most OLA observers that the Petes' Timbermen rank on paper as one of the best senior squads in the past decade. The lumber company which took over sponsorship this year laid large stacks of greenbacks on the line to entice some of Ontario's top performers there for 1951. From goal out, the Peterborough personnel reads like a veritable Who's Who of the available provincial lacrosse talent. Unfortunately, hand-picked all-star teams don't always work smoothly, and the Petes have had their share of difficulties this season." The above was written before the Petes invaded St. Catharines on Saturday to trim the second-place Athletics.

Our Old Oshawa Buddies

Playdown zones have been announced by the OASA. In senior "B", Peterborough's winner will be playing Oshawa (as usual) first, the survivor of that going in against the Hull-Kingston victor for the Zone 4 title. A total of five zones, including up north around the Soo. Intermediate "A" has six zones, No. 4 including Belleville, Kingston, Oshawa, Peterborough and Vimy Barracks. We'll likely meet Oshawa first. Such district centres as Cobourg, Tweed, Madoc, Keene and Hastings are in Zone 4 in intermediate "B", intermediate "C", junior "B", junior "C" or juvenile "B", depending on the calibre of ball they play and the population of these places.

Sports College recommends the "cold pack treatment" to recover from faitgue or to tone a person up for activity. Especially for athletes, but it applies, too, to business and shop men, stenos or housewives. Treatment consists of the application of cold water-soaked towels or an ice pack to the chest directly over the heart. Centre of the chest plus a 12-inch area on the left side should be covered. Pack should extend from the edge of the lower ribs to the top of the chest, the person lying down. Use it up to 20 minutes and note how happy you feel. It has been tried successfully in many lines of sport, track, ball, grid, tennis, etc.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

A Canadian football executive said Monday night he believes the reason many Americans are coming to Canada to play is that they have been exploited by the owners of teams in the United States.

Clare Warner, president of Regina Roughriders of the Western Canada Football League, said he doesn't believe the talk about owners in the US losing money on their teams.

"They've been exploiting professional football players for years and now the players have a chance to get even."

The Regina president, visiting Toronto, was looking over some of the talent trying out for Toronto Argonauts.

A record number of entries have been received by the Ontario Amateur Softball Association for its annual provincial championships.

Entries are in from 235 softball associations in most parts of the province. Last year 215 league winners entered the playoffs.

Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones said goodbye to Canadian football Monday after one brilliant season with Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Jones, who set a Big Four League scoring record with more than 100 points last season, said he was leaving to take a job as backfield coach with Pittsburgh University, his alma mater.

Four fast unlimited power boats started truck trips Sunday, bound for Seattle, Wash., and the American classic gold cup race. Two more boats were prepared to leave today.

The gold cup race, for years held on the Detroit river, was taken away last year by the world's fastest boat, "Slo-Mo-Shun," which earlier last year established a world record of 160.32 MPH.

Don Meade, one-time champion jockey who has been suspended from riding for more than six years, said Monday he has applied to the New York Racing Commission for a licence.

The 37-year-old rider, called the "Peck's bad boy of racing," said he mailed his application on Friday.

Meade, the country's leading jockey in 1938 and 1941, was suspended in March, 1945, by the Mexican Racing Commission for using abusive language in an argument with a steward.

A. J. (Bud) Fraser, former McGill University basketball star, has been appointed assistant professor in the newly-expanded department of physical education, recreation and athletics at the University of Manitoba. The annonuncement was made Monday by university authorities.

Fraser was captain of the McGill senior men's basketball squad in 1948-49. He also was picked to the Montreal all-star team, the Maritime all-star team and the Canadian intercollegiate all-star team.

Art Larsen, Herb Flam and Vic Seixas Monday were named to represent the US Davis Cup team against Mexico's tennis forces in the American zone's second round at Rye, NY, Aug. 3-4-5.

Ford Frick, president of the National League, declared Monday that "baseball can't be hurt" by the Congressional investigation opening next Monday in Washington.

"Many times baseball has been under fire," said Frick. "It has been put on the spot before, and such a moment exists today. If Congress is only trying to ascertain if baseball is worthwhile then it is wasting its time."

Mimico Captures Third Spot With Fergus Win

TORONTO, July 24 (CP). — Mimico Mountaineers gained a share of third place in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior series with a 13-8 triumph Monday night over last place Fergus Thistles.

Despite the addition of speedster Don Campbell, Thistles were unable to catch the fast-moving Mounties except in the first quarter, which ended 2-2.

Campbell, centre of a dispute between Brampton and Fergus, was signed by the Excelsiors but released to Fergus shortly before game time Monday night.

Don McPhail, Scoop Hayes, Ken Dixon, Denny Peterson and Harold Knox shared scoring for Mimico, each getting two goals. Veteran Jay Hill got three for Fergus. Mimico goalie Red Hartley was struck in the mask by a hard shot in the final period and had to retire temporarily for treatment to an injury about the mouth.

The Mimico victory pulled the Mounties into a tie with Hamilton Tigers. Each team has 22 points, eight less than the league-leading Peterborough Petes.

LAWN BOWLING

The First Game of Bowls

No one knows where bowling started,
It was played so long ago—
Someone says: "In Eden's Garden"—
I'll be jiggered if I know;
But, if this is true to hist'ry,
It was singles that was played,
For at that time only Adam
And his helpmate had been made.
What they used for bowls were apples;
That was all that they could do.
The final score was—Eve 8-1,
And Adam 8-1-2.

It will be men's rinks on Friday night.

Royals Take Double Bill Behind Left-Hand Pitching

By The Associated Press.

Generally, left-handed pitchers are supposed to be wild. But that's not true in the case of Mel Mallette and Chris Van Cuyk of the International League's pace-setting Montreal Royals.

Both Mallette, enjoying one of his finest seasons, and Van Cuyk have been stingy with bases on balls this year. Mallette has walked 41 in 104 innings while Van Cuyk has passed only 22 in 75.

Mallette last night turned in his seventh victory against two defeats as he walked only two in pitching the Royals to an 8-2 triumph over Rochester Red Wings in the first game of a doubleheader. Van Cuyk turned back the Wings 5-3 in the nightcap, walking one and fanning 10.

Gionfriddo Stars

Al Gionfriddo starred in both games for the Royals, banging out three hits in each.

Springfield Cubs defeated the runner-up Buffalo Bisons 7-4. The Cubs got an early lead when Red Lavigne belted a grand-slam home run in the first inning. Jack Wallaesa also homered for the Cubs while Wally Post cracked one for the Bisons. Before the game the teams completed a game started June 7 with the Bisons winning 8-7.

Brilliant relief pitching by Ray Shore featured Toronto Maple Leaf's 11-5 victory over Syracuse Chiefs. Shore relieved Russ Bauers in the fifth inning and held the Chiefs hitless the rest of the way.

Baltimore Orioles edged Ottawa Giants 3-2 in 10 innings. Marv Rickert singled home Johnny Mayo with the winning run. Alex Konikowski started for Ottawa and was charged with the loss. He was thumbed out of the game in the 10th after he threw his glove on the ground following a play at first. Karl Drews went all the way for the Orioles for his 12th victory.

St. Louis Browns Buy Texas Power Hitter

FORT WORTH, July 24 (AP).—Ben Taylor, power-hitting Fort Worth first baseman, has been sold to St. Louis Browns, president John Reeves announced today.

Taylor will join the Browns tomorrow in Philadelphia.

Fort Worth will receive two players and an undisclosed amount of cash for their lefthanded first sacker. They are Joe Lutz, first baseman with San Antonio, and John Bero, Brown infielder.

Through yesterday's games, Taylor was hitting .288, including 61 runs batted in.

Thelmaway Cleans Up At Thorncliffe

TORONTO, July 24 (CP). — Thelmaway, a five-year-old mare owned by Cam Thompson of Chesterville, Ont., and driven by Percy Robillard, paid the biggest price of Thorncliffe's harness racing season Monday when she won the seventh dash and paid $84.85 for a $2 ticket.

Thelmaway was away flying from her number one post position and never was caught although she was chased over the winning line by the fast-closing Duke Volo and M. C. Rose.

Thelmaway was used as a show horse before her owner decided to send her to the races a year ago. It was her first win of the season.

Four Top Teams Battle In Major Loop Pennant Race

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The fellow who made out that American League dream turnstile schedule must be blessed with uncanny forsight or he's plain lucky. How else could he have mapped out a schedule that brings together the four top teams today and right on through the next seven games?

Specifically, the pace-setting New York Yankees and the red-hot Cleveland Indians battle it out for the league lead today, tomorrow and Thursday. At the same time, Boston Red Sox, tied with the Indians for second place, slug it out with the fourth-place Chicago White Sox.

They change partners Friday. Chicago goes to Yankee Stadium for a four-game series while Cleveland travels to Boston for a three-game set at Fenway Park.

All four managers are optimistic, even Paul Richards of the sagging White Sox who have lost the last four games, their longest losing streak of the season.

Out-Of-Town

Richards is hoping the White Sox road luck holds out. Thus far, Chicago has won 26 and lost 13 on enemy soil compared to a mediocre 27-26 record at Comiskey Park.

Steve O'Neill, Red Sox pilot, is confident his team will win the pennant. Boston starts a 19-game home stand where the Red Sox are almost invincible. They've captured 30 of 40 tilts in Fenway Park thus far.

Only one major-league game was played Monday, and it was a dilly. Boston Braves edged out National League's last-place Pirates at Pittsburgh 15-14 in a 34-hit slugfest.

The Pirates' Ralph Kiner slugged out his 25th home run of the season.

Today's Games

Today's card pits New York's Vic Raschi (13-6) against Cleveland's Early Wynn (10-9) and Chicago's Howie Judson (4-2) against Boston's Maury McDermott (5-5) or Leo Kialy (2-0). All except the Red Sox hurlers are righthanders. The Yankee-Indians righthanders. The Yankee-Indians game is an afternoon affair. The Red Sox and White Sox clash under the lights. At present only .002 percentage points separate the Yankees from the deadlocked Indians and Red Sox. The Yankees are playing .609 ball, the Indians and Red Sox .607.

Cleveland's Al Lopez declined to make any prediction but he is enthusiastic over his club's improved hitting and pitching the last month.

"I have a feeling the hitting will get still better," he said.

Lopez shrugged off Cleveland's poor showing against the Yankees this year. Specially at Yankee Stadium. The Yankees have won all six games against Cleveland at home this season.

The Yankees begin a 17-game home stand in first place.

"This is our big chance to take a good-sized lead," said manager Casey Stengel.

Red Sox Home For Drive To 1951 Pennant

By BILL KING.

BOSTON, July 24 (AP).—Back in chummy Fenway Park, where they win three out of four with monotonous regularity, Boston Red Sox figure they have the American League pennant clinched as they open a 19-game home stand against Chicago's sagging White Sox.

But just being home again is not the basis for the fond hopes of manager Steve O'Neill's highly paid performers. They are effervescing because they compiled a 7-6 record during their latest western swing, the most successful one in three years.

That has enabled them to settle down to the business they know best—belting their own left field fence for victories. The Boston club is in a second place tie with Cleveland Indians but only two percentage points behind New York Yankees.

Clyde Vollmer

From owner Tom Yawkey down, the Red Sox agree that Clyde Vollmer, hailed hereabouts as "the poor man's Ted Williams," is the sole reason the club did not stagger home with a 2-11 record for its third trip through the western badlands.

Vollmer's clutch hitting enabled O'Neill's forces to continue in the running, despite the feeble offensive efforts of Williams and most of the other high-salaried hands.

A National League castoff, Vollmer on the recent trip drove in 18 runs, only four less than all the rest of his teammates put together.

Actually most of the Red Sox have yet to recover from their baseball history-making four-games invasion of Chicago that started 12 days ago. While battling through 54 nerve-wracking innings, they took three of the games to put Paul Richards' supposed magicians into a skid that dropped them from first to fourth place.

Most of the players, Vollmer the outstanding exception, admit they are fagged out. Almost all of the pitchers are complaining about being overworked.

But Fenway always has been a salubrious spot for road weary Yawkey-men.

First Cavy Born In Zoo

CALGARY (CP). — The Calgary zoo is proud to announe the birth to Mama and Papa Cavy of a son, Junior, a brother for the twins.

Mama and Pape live in quiet domesticity at the zoo, totallly unaware of the distinction they rate in cavy society.

For cavies seldom breed in captivity, and Mama's babies were the first cavies born in Canada and among the few born in North America.

Cavies are small, buff-colored rodents with short round ears and just an apology for a tail.

Although they are closely related to guinea pigs, they breed only once a year whereas guinea pigs . . . well, they keep pretty busy.

Papa Cavy came to Calgary from Texas, while Mother originated in Argentina, the cavy homeland.

The five Calgary cavies—Mama, Papa, the twins, and Junior who was born this spring — live a pretty nice life. Their favorite recreation, apart from digging, is basking in the sunshine.

Timid by nature, they live in burrows and eat grass and vegetation — which is just as well considering the price of meat nowadays.

Drilled For Oil Found Romance

FORMOSA, Ont. (CP).—When Christian Weiler drilled for oil here in 1901 he found no oil but a wealth of romance instead. A United States syndicate asked him to assist in their search for oil and he drilled a hole 945 feet deep and struck a gusher — of water.

Now in this small community, about 40 miles southwest of Owen Sound, a legend surrounds the still spouting artesian well. Residents say that a happy marriage is assured when a bridegroom kisses his bride near the well if, afterwards, the couple drinks from the crystal-clear water.

Mr. Weiler is dead but his daughter looks after the 10-acre park in which the well is located. The park, Palace Gardens, a Mecca for tourists and picnickers, is the result of the careful planning and interest devoted to the site by Mr. Weiler.

He bought the area in 1918 and spent many years collecting and planting different kinds of trees, plants and shrubs until it has become a famous beauty spot, but Formosa's "Old Faithful" is still the centre of attraction for residents and visitors alike.

Set Out For Tuna Fishing Fulfil Madman's Prophecy

VANCOUVER (CP).—Part of a legend left here for Mexican waters last week when the fishing trawler Lady Royal, owned and worked by two Vancouverites, sailed off to southern tuna grounds.

The owners, Jack Noble and his wife, are the only Canadians making the long trip this year to join Mexican and American fleets in the Albacore Runs off San Pedro.

And, in a strange roundabout way, their voyage fulfills a prophecy once made by a fabulous character who called himself 'Brother Twelve.'

In Victoria's Dominion Express office in 1901, Edward Arthur Wilson was a pale, ascetic-looking clerk. Only his dark, burning eyes hinted at his strange destiny.

Born in India and reputed to have princely blood in his veins, Wilson shed his commonplace name and emerged as Amiel de Valdes, taking his surname from an island near Nanaimo, B.C., where he established his cult, the Acquarian Foundation.

His fervent mysticism took him to Genoa, Italy, where he studied Oriental magic with the "Eleven Masters of Wisdom," and graduated as "Brother Twelve."

In England later, his hypnotic eyes induced a wealthy woman to buy him a 70-foot Brixham trawler, the Lady Royal.

Lonely Voyage

Then, with only a map, a compass, and the stars, the mystic with the fascinating eyes and dagger beard sailed the Lady Royal singlehanded across the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal, up the Pacific Coast and home to his island.

Three years later, 800 persons all over North America were sending money to the Chela of the Great White Circle at the House of Mystery on Amiel Island.

Amounts ranged up to $1,000 a week, Provincial Police reported later. All in all, he took half a million dollars from his followers by no other magic than his silken tongue.

Converts—including two women with millilons, an officer of the United States Secret Service, a lawyer, a chemical engineer, and Roger Painter, the "Poultry iKng of Florida," flocked to the island.

But by 1930, Brother Twelve had slipped to using a whip on his followers and they finally sought police intervention.

Police arrived too late. The madman and his "secretary," a Madame Zee, escaped to sea on a powerful, sea-going tug called the Kheunaten, after an Egyptian God.

Brother Twelve—Edward Arthur Wilson—was never seen here again.

Parting Prophecy

Just before he fled to sea, the madman dynamited and sunk the Lady Royal and in a kind of weird threnody, predicted that whoever sailed the Lady Royal again would find Spanish gold.

A succession of mariners tried unsuccessfully to restore the hulk. Treasure seekers chipped away cement blocks wedged along her keel, vainly seeking a fortune in coin reported hidden on one of the fanatic's ships.

Fisherman Noble finally bought and rebuilt the Lady Royal, and last week, rigged for tune, the fabled ship began a life far more prosaic than her old one.

Still, if all goes well, she'll return with 25 or 30 tons of fish in her hold, and the fish is worth $300 a ton.

And then there'll be gold in her Twelve predicted on the night he hold at last, just as Brother vanished 20 years ago.

Motor Manslaughter Count Laid Over To September; Wood Pleads Not Guilty

OPP Constable Testified Russel Found In Pool of Blood By Highway; Three Crown Witnesses Heard By Court

After three crown witnesses had been heard, Melville Wood, 21, 548 Harvey St., Monday afternoon was remanded to Sept. 6. He is charged with the motor manslaughter of 21-year-old Lorne Russel, Oshawa. He pleaded not guilty at the preliminary hearing and elected trial at a higher court. Further charges of dangerous driving and drunken driving were read to him but he did not plead or elect trial on them. Bail continues at $2,000.

Russel, a one-time resident of Peterborough, died 12 days after he had been struck by a car while walking north on Highway 28, a quarter mile north of the city limits. He never regained consciousness.

OPP Constable James Healey said Monday that Russel was lying in a pool of blood in the driveway of the McNaughton and Sugden garage on the west side of the highway. He was more than 19 feet west of the paved surface of the highway and was believed to have been knocked that far by the car allegedly driven by Wood.

Constable Healey's measurements indicated that the point of impact was 65 feet north of the southern boundary of the lengthy service station.

Hit Hydro Pole

After striking Russel the Wood car passed another car driven by Earl T. Newsom, 553 McCannan Ave., cut across the highway, snapped a hydro pole and bounced a further 34 feet along the eastern edge of the highway where it came to rest.

Newsom said he was driving along the highway some time after 6 p.m. at 25-28 mph. He passed Russel when the hitchhiker was some 15 feet south of the southern boundary of the service station.

He said Russel was walking "on the extreme left of the roadway," but he couldn't say for sure whether Russel was on the paved surface or the gravel.

Newsom, a De Laval employee, said he recalled that the fatally-injured man was "neat, sturdily built, walking at a uniform gait and carrying a parcel."

Newsom drove on and when about 70 feet north of the entrance to the service station he heard "a crunch of gravel behind him. The next thing a car passed him on the left-hand side in a cloud of dust.

When two or three car lengths in front of his car the Wood car went east across the highway and "struck some object and rebounded."

Saw Russel

Newsom pulled his car into the northern extremity of the service station, looked back, and saw Russel lying on the gravel.

Under cross-examination by T. J. Carley, KC, he said he did not see who was driving the Wood car nor did he see if it had been shifted between the time the accident happened and the provincial police arrived.

Nor did he notice Wood at the scene of the accident.

Earlier in the day OPP Sgt. Lloyd McClure said that Wood admitted he was the driver. Sgt. McClure also said that Wood had been drinking.

The preliminary hearing will resume September 6.

Crown Witnesses Give Evidence In Motor Death

Evidence began shortly before noon today in the motor manslaughter preliminary hearing of Gladys Long, 38, Montreal, charged in the death on June 9 of 10-year-old David Sanderson, struck down by a car on the Chemong road.

No plea was entered. At a previous appearance, she elected trial by a higher court.

She was remanded till today on the manslaughter charge plus addition charges of dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident. A fourth charge, of drunken driving, was adjourned till some time in November.

Two Of 24 Heard

The preliminary hearing adjourned for lunch at 12.40 p.m. today after only two of the 24 scheduled crown witnesses had been heard.

Coroner Dr. Herbert Young said the cause of death was a fractured skull and a probable fracture of the neck, the result of being tossed headfirst on a pile of rocks by the side of the highway.

Stanley Bright, Lindsay photographer, identified photographs that were entered as exhibits.

Young Sanderson, son of Mr and Mrs. Roy Sanderson, and a friend were pushing their bicycles up a hil labout 2½ miles north of the city on Highway 7. A northbound car, allegedly driven by Miss Long, passed one going the same direction on the highway then cut back sharply into the east lane and struck the two boys.

Knock 70 Feet

The Sanderson boy was knocked about 70 feet, witnesses said at the time. His chum, Peter Newmaster, 9, was knocked into the east ditch and received only a bruised arm.

It was claimed that an unidentified woman stopped the car some distance up the road, looked at the front of the car, and then continued north.

Miss Long was arrested that night in Lindsay, her former home, by provincial police.

A ROLLS-ROYCE TOURING CAR, 1911 model, had George St. bystanders agog on Monday afternoon as owner Gordon Smith of Orillia parked it at the curb in a matter-of-fact manner and went about some shopping. En route from Ottawa to Orillia, the 40-year oldster behaved beautifully on the road, said its new owner; he purchased it over the weekend in the Capital, making it the 13th antique car in his possession.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Elderly 'Rolls' Rolls Down George Street On Three-Foot Tyres; Attracts Curious

An ancient open touring car was parked on George St., near Hunter, on Monday afternoon. It was built four-square with tires more than three feet high and had a right-hand drive. It was a 40-year-old Rolls Royce in excellent condition, good enough, that is, to bring its owner, Gordon Smith, from Ottawa to his home town of Orillia, all in one day.

Every bystander and shopkeeper for blocks had a good look at the vehicle. They estimated its age, peered at the few panel instruments and twisted the crank.

Owner Smith drove into Peterborough without any fanfare, aside from the roar of the powerful motor, parked the car and disappeared to do some shopping.

A large crowd of curious citizens waited for his return. If they expected to see a man in goggles, white duster and peak cap, they were disappointed. When he came back to the car, Mr. Smith kicked at the parking meter, jumped aboard, and with a small boy beside him to hand-pump the gas into the carburetor and another friend in a modern car to turn the crank, and took off with a roar. Smiling motorists gave him plenty of room, but they did not need to, for Mr. Smith handled the car manfully.

He purchased the car in Ottawa over the weekend from someone who originally purchased it from the Booth lumber family. It made car number 13 in his collection of ancient cars. Mr. Smith is owner of the Orillia radio station and collects old cars as a hobby. He is a member of the Antique Auto Club of America.

Some of the antique car models in his collection, parked here and there around the town of Orillia, are a Locomobile Steamer, 1899; a 1905 Ford, three T-model Fords, a Stanley Steamer, a 1916 McLaughlin, a 1904 Cadillac, a 1905 Tudhope (built in Orillia), and his most recent purchase over the weekend, a 1911 Rolls-Royce.

Instead of kibitzers yelling, "Get a horse," to Gordon Smith they are more apt these days to tell him to keep well over to the right side.

OPP Raid Nets 500 Pints, Resort Operator

CAMPBELLFORD, July 24 — (ENS)—Residents of the area may have thought the much-discussed brewers' warehouse vote had been held and had carried on Sunday evening, when they saw a truck back up to the cell block of the Campbellford police station and unload close to 500 pints of beer.

Three provincial constables, Donald W. Erskine of Campbellford and A. Gawdry and George Rose, acting under Sargeant S. W. Palmateer of Peterborough, made a raid on a tourist establishment owned by Robert Anderson, 33 of R.R. 2 Hastings on Sunday evening, and seized the beer.

Ten found-ins were questioned but not held. The house had been under observation for some time, and the officers thought Sunday night was the proper time to strike.

Drunk Driving Charge

Two Havelock men were apprehended when they lost control of their old model car and it crashed into a ditch. They had apparently just left the above mentioned establishment. Driver of the car, Joseph Hill, age 25, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving in Cobourg on Monday morning, and his friend, and companion in the car, Ray Dunn, pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place.

The three presons involved were taken to the Campbellford jail, and later taken to Cobourg County jail. A fourth man was released on Monday morning. He accompanied the driver of the car.

The beer that was seized in the raid, some twenty cases of it, is being held in Campbellford in one of the cells at the police station. It takes up practically the whole cell, leaving only one cell available for 'guests'.

Buster's Horse Runs Seventh Pays Off On Show Ticket

E. T. (Buster) Johnston of the Windsor Hotel collected a small profit on a horse at the Thorncliffe the other day which finished second last in a field of eight or nine, and yet landed in the show place. That "believe it or not' 'experience convinced him of the truism that anything can happen in a race. In Toronto on business, and interested in the harness horses, he arrived at the park with a couple of heats still left on the card.

One of them was showing $90 on the board, and at that long price he took a chance on a combination ticket.

According to Mr. Johnston's story of the race, which he says surely couldn't happen again, one horse stood out like the all-time sure thing. For that reason the stewards suspended it from the wagering. It won, just as expected. The next three horses under the wire broke off their stride right in front of the judges.

It seems that in these paces and trots of the harness racing program, either type of horse may go off his particular stride anywhere else on the track, but he has to finish in true form. If it is a pace, the money horse has to cross under the wire in pacing stride.

So, there were four horses across the finish line, and not one of them in the money. Mr. Johnston was about to tear up his ticket, when a man next to him said: "Hold on, wait a minute, until they hang up the results."

So this happened, as the story goes, the fifth horse was placed first in the money; the sixth was second; and the seventh was third. And Mr. Johnston's ticket let him in on the payoff in third slot, at $9.60. So he had a profit of $3.60, and an experience he'll be telling about when he is an old man.

City Couple Hurt Near Belleville

BELLEVILLE, July 24—(CP)—Three persons were injured this morning in a two-car collision at Foxboro, six miles north of here.

In hospital here are H. R. Gibson of Belleville, fractured knee, and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Milne, 608 Charlotte St., Peterborough. Mr. Milne has cuts while his wife is suffering chest injuries, cuts and shock.

The Milnes' 10-year-old son escaped injury.

The accident occurred on a sharp turn on No. 14 highway at the north end of Foxboro village.

The south-bound Peterborough car failed to make the turn and collided with the Gibson car travelling north.

Professional Safe Men Sought Near Frankford

FRANKFORD, Ont., July 24 (CP). — A gang of professional safecrackers blew open the safe in the post office here and escaped with an undetermined amount of money and stamps Monday.

Police Chief E. V. McGeacy said he had been tipped off by Provincial Police in Belleville before the week-end that known safecrackers were in the area, and that they were going to attempt the Frankford break-in Saturday night.

Amount of the loss will not be known until a federal postal inspector completes his investigation.

Sinclair To Attend

Recreation Directors Get 6-Day Course

Alex Sinclair, Peterborough Recreation Director, will be among the 70 directors in the province attending the first session in a special training program and certification for municipal directors and assistant directors to take place November 12-17.

William Mitchell, Lindsay director, will also attend the session. It is also expected that two other communities in the district will by that time have employed full-time directors who will attend the session.

The first session is to be held at the University of Toronto with Prof. Alan Klein of the School of Social Work in charge. He has been appointed training advisor to conduct the various courses and field work.

The special training program has been instituted this year by the Ontario Department of Community Programs Branch of the Department of Education. The program, which is the first of its kind in North America, will take three years to complete.

Each year a six-day institute will be conducted at a central point and four two-day institutes in each of five selected centres throughout the province. In addition, correspondence studies and work assignments will be included. Permanent department certificates will be awarded to recreation directors who are successful in the course and who have a minimum of years experience in public recreation.

Mr. Sinclair, who is one of the 18 directors in the province certified by the Directors' Federation of Ontario, plans to attend all the sessions of the three-year program.

Board Asked To Approve Extra Money

Finance Committee Of City Council Approves New School

"It is quite evident that the Board of Education has given this question a lot of study. . . They are the responsible body for education in this city. . . They have been guided by experts and their own best judgment. . I don't see how we can avoid going along with them."

That was a comment of Ald. John A. Dewart in supporting Monday night a recommendation that the Municipal Board approve an increase of $65,000 in the borrowing for the new Collegiate Institute on Monaghan Road South.

(Financial facts are: the ratepayers voted at the 1950 municipal elections $585,000 for this project; the tender of Eastwood Construction for the entire school is $579,753; furnishings and other items increase the cost to $642,000.

That total is $57,000 more than the $585,000 that is already available. But, to anticipate any extras that might crop up in the course of construction the proposed sum is placed at $65,000. The Board of Education had previously asked for $100,000 but cuts were made to reduce the requirements to $65,000).

This additional money is required for the inclusion of a gymnasium in the Collegiate building.

"Don't cut off anything, including the "gym", just because this Collegiate is going to be away down in the new section of the city." said Ald. Norman Graham.

The motion for reference to the Municipal Board, by Ald. A. B. Burrows was seconded by Ald Herbert Young.

Supporting it were: Mayor Swanston, Aldermen Waddell, Dewart, Anglesey, Young, Burrows, Braund; and opposing—Aldermen Gillespie, Graham, Rehill. Ald. T. D. Miller as chairman did not vote on a committee question.

"I think you all know that both Ald. Braund and myself," said Ald. Miller, "were more or less against this, but the more we heard it explained and discussed, the more we swung around in favor of it."

Went To Toronto

Aldermen Miller and Braund accompanied by Ald. Waddell, went to Toronto with Dr. Ralph Honey and G. Wilson Craw of the Board of Education for the special purpose of consulting the Ontario Muhicipal Board about the extra money needed to provide the new Collegiate with a gymnasium. That was the point in Ald. Miller's remark.

Dr. Honey and Mr. Craw discussed the $65,000 question again with the finance committee last night, reviewed the details of costs and affirmed that this was the lowest amount they could arrive at to enable the Board of Education to proceed with the original plans.

It was also mentioned again that Eastwood Construction Company's tender, the lowest, should be proceeded with at once, especially in the obtaining of building materials and getting on with the work at the level of costs when the estimate was prepared by the contractor.

Kawartha Ace

A hole in one was scored during the weekend's golf play at the Kawartha Golf club by Ian McGillivray. He sank his tee shot off the 220-yard sixth hole that runs parallel to Highway 28, using a number 4 wood. His drive reached the green and the ball rolled true to the cup.

Return Road Bill To Fair Board For Explanation

When the city council made a grant of $2,000 last year to the Peterborough Exhibition, it was assumed, in the memory of the finance committee Monday night, that this was complete contribution for the paving of the extension of George St. through Morrow Park. Furthermore it was understood that the city's cheque would be duplicated by a like amount from the provincial government.

Ald. T. D. Miller, chairman, read a bill from the Exhibition board that W. B. Bennett Paving Company did the surfacing for $3,351, and that after the sum of $2,000 was credited against that amount, there was a balance of $1,351.

Further assumption by the committee was to the effect that the board probably received the dollar-for-dollar $2,000 sum from the Department of Agriculture.

Money Went Somewhere

Mayor Swanston commented that possibly "our money went into the cost of the road, and the government's money went somewhere else." The inference was that the Board might have spent this second $2,000 on some of their other work at Morrow Park.

"Anyway" said His Worship, "we all remember that two or three years ago the council received a largely signed petition asking for the road through the park. Now we've got it, and probably the main question is whether it is doing the job we expected."

"I understand that it is," said Ald. H. F. Waddell.

"If it is, I don't see why we should ask the Exhibition Board to pay for the road," Mayor Swanston said.

When it was first proposed, City Engineer A. E. Chalmers recalled, it was to be of gravel; now it is paved.

Members of the committee said there apparently was lack of information about the financing, and Ald. A. B. Burrows, council's representative on the Board, said that the statement given the directors last week was not entirely clear to him.

"We could ask them for a meeting with some of the directors," Mayor Swanston said.

A motion by Aldermen H. T. Rehill and P. J. Anglesey directed that the paving bill be returned to the board with a request for more explicit explanation.

Father Of 5 Charged After Crash

Wife, Two Daughters Still In Hospital; Court Sets $500 Bail

Everett McDonald, 34, of RR 7, Peterborough, father of a family of five who were injured in a car crash Saturday night, was charged in police court Monday afternoon with dangerous driving and careless driving.

He made no plea on either charge and was remanded to July 30 on $500 bail.

His family and another passenger were all hospitalized Saturday after his car went out of control just east of the Brookside pavilion on Highway 7E, and rolled down a 17-foot embankment.

MacDonald appeared briefly in court to hear the charges read. The right side of his face is still swollen and bruised from the accident.

Still in Hospital

Still in hospital are Margaret MacDonald, 28, an injured right shoulder and bruises; Doris, 8, a neck and spine injury and cuts; and Donna, 10, fractured skull, crushed face bones, lacerated scalp and fractured left knee.

Both girls are progressing satisfactorily, hospital officials said today.

Richard, 7, was discharged Monday and Ivan Eady, 27, Warsaw, who suffered bruises and cuts on the head, left hospital Sunday.

Two Counts Face Driver Of Car In Train Crash

Robert Brand, 23, 710 Water St., driver of the car that on July 14 smashed into the CPR Havelock-Bobcaygeon mixed train, heard charges of dangerous and careless driving read to him today.

He made no plea and the case was adjourned to August 7.

The crash, six miles east of Peterborough on the old Norwood road, took the life of 11-month-old Edward Theobald, and injured seven others.

Brand, the driver, was taking a traffic-free road home to Peterborough and it is believed he became blinded by the setting sun and did not see the train.

Injured in the car were Brand, his wife Phyllis, 24; his two-year-old son Bobby; his 7-months-old daughter Linda; his sister Mrs. Robert G. Theobald, 31, Stormont St., and her 4½-year-old son William; and Joyce Franiski, 11, of Bird's Creek.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH D. OATES, the bride formerly Miss Rita Coss and teacher at the Sacred Heart School. —(Choate Studio Photo)

Nuptials Of Oates-Coss

The wedding of Miss Mary Rita Cross and Mr. Ralph Dennis Oates was solemnized on Monday afternoon in the Sacred Heart Sacristy by the Rev. J. Maskey.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. M. J. Cross of Peterborough and the late Mr. Cross. She was given in marriage by her mother. The groom is son of Mrs. E. Alderman of London, England, and the late Alfred Oates.

Light French lace in French blue over silver grey satin was styled according to the Paris inspired dipping hemline for the bridal gown. The dipping hemline was highlighted by the neckline, high in front and dipping low in the back and the gown had crush-up sleeves. She wore a mantilla of French blue lace and carried a fan made of white ribbon adorned with starlit roses and blue cornflower.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Doreen Cross. She was in a gown of eggshell lace over peach satin made on the same lines as the bride's gown. Her small hat of peach satin was trimmed with eggshell lace rosettes and she carried a fan made of blue ribbon and adorned with yellow carnations and cornflower.

Groomsman was Mr. Kenneth Coss, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's family. Her mother chose for the occasion a gown of grey crepe and lace and wore white and grey accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. Mrs. G. Glaum received on the groom's behalf with Mrs. Coss. She was wearing a navy and white printed taffeta gown with navy accessories and her corsage was also of talisman roses.

The bride and groom are taking a motor trip through the Rideau lake district and Quebec, following which they will live at 90 Lock St.

Leaving on the trip the bride was wearing an ensemble in pastel shades and a corsage of starlit and briarcliffe roses.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"My insurance company makes me wear it—they don't want me to get beaned with a stray drive!"

DOROTHY DIX

Stormy Future Forecast For Hot-Tempered Pair

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife and I have been married for four years, during which time she worked and helped me buy furniture for our home, and a car. I am 25 and she is two years older and has been married before. I'm sorry to say I haven't been true to her as I should, nor have I helped her as much as she deserved. She left me finally, because one of my girl friends called one evening when I wasn't home. When I got back, my wife, in her anger, had cut up my clothes and broken some of her furniture. I was so mad I broke up some more furniture. Now she says she is sorry and wants to come back to me. She says she loves me, but I really haven't been a good husband. Should we try to make a new start?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your wife's methods are certainly drastic—but understandable. Her rampage seems to have knocked a little sense into you—maybe she should have broken some of the furniture over your head and made you really wake up.

Are Your Really Sorry?

You seem a little sorry for your infidelity—but not sorry enough. Do you care enough for your wife to make a new beginning and be a faithful husband to her? She seems to have worked hard with you and deserves more than the vague regret you have for philandering. If you aren't willing to make every effort towards a better marriage, don't raise her hopes by promises you can't and won't keep. You are old enough to have a sense of responsibility.

Your wife has done everything she could to make a go of marriage; meet her at least halfway and determine to be a good husband. These silly infidelities of which you seem a little boastful will never bring happiness.

The rest can be safely left to your wife—she knows how to handle you, and it's not with kid gloves!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married six years. My husband and I get along very well together; we enjoy the same sports, etc. He helps me with all the household chores and is always ready to do anything I ask him to do. But there are two things he seldom does. He won't wash or dry dishes even when I'm sick, and he never kisses me unless I almost ask him to.

FRECKLES

ANSWER: Some women sure are hard to please! Most wives must overlook much more serious faults than an aversion to doing dishes, or a neglectful lack of caresses. If nothing more serious comes up to mar your married life, consider yourself one lucky girl, Freckles!

Since your husband is willing to take on other household tasks, let the dishes pile up in the sink until you are well enough to do them. Many males who will sweep, mop, wash windows and do countless other domestic chores, balk at the sight of soiled china. To them, doing dishes is such a feminine task that their masculinity balks at its prospect. Such a small defect in a good husband can be overlooked.

Instead of waiting to be kissed, do the kissing. Give hubby a regular morning, noon and night kiss, and maybe he'll come around to seeing that you like to be kissed. If he doesn't, chalk this up, too, as a slight flaw in a rough diamond and be grateful for all your other blessings!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband is in the army and every time he comes home his mother wants to be with him. She also has him visiting all their relatives. We have very little time alone. He says he owes a lot to his mother as she is a widow and had to work very hard to support him. But am I wrong in wanting him to myself part of the time?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since your husband's time home is limited, a fair compromise should be made so that he can visit with his mother and also have time to spend alone with you. In this case I think the relatives could be put off. As proud as they must be of their young soldier, it should be impressed upon them that he can't see all of them every time he has leave.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Dress Up Salads, Dishes With All Kinds Of Cheese

This is largely about cheese so if you are cheese lovers read on. Two of these ideas will be new to most of you—chiefly because I made them up yesterday afternoon. So unless you had exactly the same urge to experiment on exactly the same things, the claim to originality still stands.

You see, this is what happened. I had only five medium slices of cold smoked picnic shoulder to serve to five people. Good enough you say, but everybody was extra hungry because dinner was set for seven o'clock. I had to think of extenders.

We were having new peas with a few slices of new carrots added for good measure, cabbage salad, fresh home-made whole wheat rolls.

Eggs And Cottage Cheese With Slaw

I had hard-cooked three eggs to garnish the meat platter, but when I reached the point of slicing them I did a quick switch. I chopped them, added ½ cup cottage cheese and 4 tablespoons of mayonnaise and some salt and chives. This I piled in the centre of a big bowl of crisp shredded cabbage which was moistened with a little French Dressing.

When the guests started to taste this I was watching them closely. My sister Peady said "Um, something new and different has been added." Marianne piped up "It's good—what is it Mum?" Since the whole bowl of it was cleaned up in no time—and since I liked it too (and I'm my toughest critic) that made it okay to pass on to my reading friends:

Jellied Cheese Ring

Those of you who go over recipes with a practised and knowing eye will clip this one for your permanent files after the first glance. When you have a piece de resistance like it you can serve meatless salad luncheons with a comfortable feeling of having done well by your guests or loved ones.

Beat the yolks of 3 eggs with ½ teaspoon each salt, mustard and paprika. Heat 3 cups whole milk in top of double boiler, and pour about ½ cup of it over the beaten yolks, then return them all to double boiler and stir into the milk until thick. Stir in 1½ cups processed or cheddar cheese, grated until it melts. Meanwhile soak 2 tablespoons gelatine in ½ cup cold water for 5 minutes. When cheese is melted in milk-egg mixture pour it over the gelatine stirring until the gelatine melts. Pour into buttered ring or loaf mould. Chill until set. When this is turned out on round chop plate there is plenty of space to fill centre with celery hearts, carrot sticks, strips of cucumber, cauliflower flowerets and radish roses. A border of tomato slices or wedges and thick sprigs of parsley heightens the colour and interest.

Cheese Puffs

This is an ideal accompaniment to a tomato-stuffed-with-cottage cheese, tomato-stuffed-with-chicken salad. Mix together 1 cup grated old cheese, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon baking powder and yolks of 2 eggs. Fold in 2 stiffly beaten whites and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce. Toast 4 slices white bread on one side only. Spread untoasted side with this mixture piling it high. Place on broiler sheet and toast under broiler until puffed and cooked and golden. Serve at once.

NEW MOCHA CAKE

If you're having friends in for tea, or if it's your turn to entertain the bridge club, here's an idea for a luscious new cake. It's a Mocha-Nut square, tender, fine-textured, and so easy to make. First, crush walnut pieces with a rolling pin until they are quite finely minced. You'll need ½ a cup. Add the nuts to a package of Shirriff's White Cake Mix, stir in milk according to directions on the box, and presto! the batter is all ready for the oven. The other fine ingredients are right in the mix. With Shirriff's there's no measuring, no sifting. You can depend on a perfect, airy-light cake every time. When the 8" layers are cool, frost with creamy mocha icing. By the way, if your family likes chocolate, be sure to try Shirriff's real Dutch Chocolate Cake Mix. It's wonderful too.

City Negligent, Lawyer Argues In Traffic Case

A charge of dangerous driving against Alex Kowalchuk, 22, of Oshawa, who was in a car accident April 22 at the Lift Locks was dismissed today by Magistrate E. A. Gee.

On a second charge of careless driving he was found guilty and fined $25 and costs. He pleaded not guilty on both counts.

Kowalchuk was driving east on Hunter St. shortly after midnight with two other Oshawa youths and three Peterborough girls when the accident occurred.

He testified that he descended the Westclox hill and entered the Lift Lock tunnel at 40-45 miles an hour. He didn't know there was a 2½-foot high earth and grass island at the eastern end of the tunnel. It was his first trip to that part of the city.

Saw It Too Late

Too late he saw the island and tried to avoid it.

"When I saw the mound of dirt ahead I cut the steering wheel to the left but I hit the island," said Kowalchuk. "I lost control of the car and was just getting it back when the wheels dropped onto the roadway at the east end of the island."

He then skidded across the road, crashed through a chain fence and dropped the 16 feet over the cement embankment on the east side of the canal road.

Kowalchuk was temporarily knocked out and received cuts on his chin and the rest of his face. Ed Goleski, 21, riding in the right back seat, received a fractured shoulder, and Steve Smegal, 23, received a severe shaking up only.

The three Peterborough girls were unhurt.

Argued Signs Defective

Defence Counsel Arthur Greer, KC, Oshawa, argued that reflector signs at the western approach to the tunnel were defective. All but one of the dozen "bullseyes" had fallen out of the reflectors.

Further, he said, there was no warning of an island at the end of the 128 foot tunnel which was poorly lighted.

Constable Clare McGillen said there had been two white posts at the apex of the diamond-shaped island a year before but they had been broken off in a fatal accident.

Mr. Greer attributed the accident to "lack of diligence and care on the part of civic authorities."

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw KC, said that authorities shouldn't be expected to erect warning signs for the convenience of motorists travelling 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone.

Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay, ruled that Kowalchuk should not have been driving into a dark tunnel that he had never been through before at that rate of speed.

The magistrate dismissed the dangerous driving charge but assessed him $25 and costs on the careless driving count.

Defective Switch Wins Dismissal

A charge of careless driving against William McCaskie, 27, of Apsley was dismissed in police court today by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay.

McCaskie rolled his truck over in the ditch about 1 a.m. June 7, on Highway 28, a half mile south of Apsley. A companion, Kenneth Hall, 25, Burleigh-Anstruther, was injured in the accident and appeared in court today on crutches.

McCaskie said that he was turning out of a side road onto the highway when his lights went out. Unable to see in the darkness he tried to pull onto the right shoulder of the highway.

"I misjudged and ran into the ditch," he said.

OPP Constable Bert Howden, Apsley, said that when he arrived the 1950 model truck was lying on its right side in the ditch and Hall was pinned under it. All the lights were on, the constable said, and he was unable to find anything wrong with them.

The defence summoned two garage employees to show that he had trouble with his lights.

Grant Sharpe, an employee of J. J. Duffus, said that he examined the truck after the accident and it had a defective light beam switch.

Magistrate Gee dismissed the charge but warned McCaskie, who had previously admitted drinking that night, to "leave that beer alone."

Detective Magazines Not Comic Books—Cadi

CALGARY, July 24—(CP)—A test case to determine whether certain types of detective magazines could be termed comic books prohibited under the new crime-comic legislation, was dismissed yesterday by Magistrate G. H. Rose.

Charged were Morris Shapiro and Joseph Busheikin, Calgary news dealers. The hearing was held July 13.

The cover of the magazine submitted as evidence (Underworld Detective) could be described as being lurid and would appeal to certain types of reader, Mr. Rose said.

By its price and heavier type of reading material, the magazine was obviously published for adults, and its material covered a type sometime found in most respectable newspapers and magazines, the magistrate said.

Five Stores Sell Horsemeat At Low Prices In West

By The Canadian Press

The horse, largely replaced as a useful animal by machines, is making something of a comeback through the dining room.

Most Canadians would rather ride the equine than eat him, even when beef is so high, but a Canadian Press survey discovered five horsemeat stores in the Dominion —all in the West.

Vancouver boasts two, one of which opened June 28 to such a wave of customers that six butchers were rushed off their feet. Roast and hamburger were the most popular items.

Here To Stay

Said one woman who bought a five-pound sirloin roast, filet mignon and stewing meat for only $3.20: "Horsemeat is here to stay!"

The Pony Market sells horse in Edmonton. There is another horsemeat market in Calgary and one in Winnipeg.

In Montreal and Quebec City the sale of horsemeat for human consumption is forbidden by city bylaws and it hasn't caught on in Ontario or the Maritimes.

Applications from stores in New Westminster, BC, were turned down when Alderman Elizabeth Wood, farm born, told council: "The horse is next to humans in intelligence. I would no more eat horsemeat than human flesh."

Europeans Buy

The butchers report most customers are Europeans accustomed to eating the meat before they migrated to Canada, but William Antonie, owner of the Stampede Market in innipeg, says many of his orders come from that city's more exclusive districts.

Others buy out of curiosity and because of the big difference in price. Most customers return for more and say the meat tastes almost like beef.

Prices range from 48 cents for tenderloin steak in Calgary to 60 cents for the same cut in Winnipeg. Compared to $1.35-$1.40 for beef tenderloin, this gives some idea of the economic factor involved.

The sale of horsemeat across the Dominion is governed in the same way as the sale of any other kind of meat.

Horses must be slaughtered in separate slaughter houses. They must be government-inspected before they can be killed and their meat must be sold in separate shops, plainly marked.

In Restaurants

The meat can be sold in restaurants in most cases, too, but only when sold as such. It turned up in hamburgers last year at the Ottawa exhibition and the sellers were prosecuted.

The only plant in Western Canada that slaughters the animals for human consumption is at Swift Current, Sask., where several ranches raise horses for the purpose.

Wild horses rounded up on the plans of Saskatchewan and Alberta also are used.

Allies Capture Initiative In Peace Talks

By NATE POLOWETZKY

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 24 (AP).—It has been a long, slow pull, but the United Nations finally hold the initiative in the Korean cease-fire talks.

When the two sides first met at Kaesong July 8, the Reds held both a physcal and a psychological advantage.

They made it appear that the Allies were coming to the Reds, hat in hand. They guarded the Kaesong talks with their soldiers.

The Allied successful demand that the Reds neutralize Kaesong reduced the Red advantage.

But it was not until Saturday that the Allies seized the initiative.

Stop Demanding

That day, Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate, told the Reds the two sides had a sufficient agenda for talks. Without stating it in so many words, Joy told the Communists to stop demanding inclusion of the subject of foreign troop withdrawals from Korea.

The Reds, on the defensive for the first time, called a recess to consult higher councils.

Tomorrow they must say if they will bow to the UN suggestion that the troop withdrawal topic be passed for the present.

If they do, a quick cease-fire in Korea might be accomplished.

If the Reds continue to press demands for discussion of the controversial issue, some Allied sources believe the talks might settle down to faily wrangling and finally die out.

The Reds find themselves faced with the responsibility of saying whether it's to be peace or war in Korea.

39 Mills Yield No Log Birlers

BANCROFT, July 24 (ENS).—Although there are 39 sawmills in the area between Madoc and Barry's Bay, there are not any log birlers. At least there are not any birlers willing to demonstrate their art before the public.

The call for birlers went out from Bancoft Lions Club, who were staging their annual regatta at Baptiste Lake and attractive prizes were offered. But there were not any cork-shoed entrants.

Lumber, pulpwood, cordwood and slabs still come from places like Maynooth, Hughes Siding, Bancroft, Detlor, Gilmour and Bannockburn by the carload at the rate of a trainload a day. The products of these and other neighboring mills are well known in places like Alliance, Ohio; Buffalo, Watertown and Tonawanda, New York, and dozens of cities and towns of south-western Ontario.

Hemlock for temporary jobs in Toronto's subway, basswood for the heels in sister's shoes, spruce for the base of fine notepaper, poplar for the butcher's wrapping paper and millions of board feet of hardwood and softwood for interior and exterior building are handled by people who are brought up with the smell of sawdust in their nostrils.

But—no birlers.

Exam Markers Quit

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., July 24—(CP)—With about half of Newfoundland's 45,000 high school examination papers marked, the teachers who mark them walked off their jobs Monday.

They said they would stay until the government meets their wage demands for $8 a day. They turned down an offer of $6 daily, with $10 a week living allowance for out-of-town teachers. Pay for the markers now is $5 a day.

Movie Maker Explorer R. Flaherty Dies

DUMMERSTON, Vt., July 24 — (CP) — Robert J. Flaherty, 67, Canadian-trained explorer and maker of world-renowned films, died Monday.

Flaherty, whose work took him from Canada's Arctic to the tropics, was most famous for Nanook of the North, a documentary about Eskimos on the north-east coast of Hudson Bay, and Man of Aran, about the people on the Aran Islands off Ireland's west coast.

His passion for realism in films brought him into controversy with ortdodox movie-makers of Britain and the United States.

He was born at Iron Mountain, Mich., but went to Canada as a youth, when his father, the late Robert H. Flaherty, was engaged in mining exploration and construction in the Canadian wilds.

Educated Here

His early educatio was at Upper Canada College, Toronto. Later he went to Michigan College of Mines before following his father into mining exploration.

It was uring his work in the far north that he got the idea for Nanook of the North, which he made in 1920-21, his first attempt at movie making.

He had previously criss-crossed the Canadian north between 1910 and 1916 when he led fourexpeditions, mapping the Belcher Islands in Hudson Bay and the then-unknown lands of Northern Ungava.

South Seas

He spent a year among the natives of Somoa in the South Seas making his Moana in 1925. Man of Aran was finished in 1934.

Other Flaherty films were Elephant Boy, based on Kipling's jungle book story Toomai of the Elephants, and The Land, made for the United States Department of Agriculture.

He collaborated with his wife in writing novels and books about his explorations and the filmmaker's art. They included My Eskimo Friends and A Film-Maker's Odyssey.

Recently he had operated his own motion - picture company, Flaherty Films of New York. He became ill some months ago and returned to his Black Mountain farm near here.

Timber Rib Firm Seeks To Rent Four City Acres

Application of Timber Structures of Canada for rent of four acres owned by the city adjoining the company's new plant on the west side of High St. was referred by the finance committee of the council Monday night to its property committee.

The company neds the additional ground for piling and storage. R. M. Peirson, manager, recalled in a letter that the company originally rented four of eight acres at $280 a year, and finally bought the east half of the property, four acres, at $500 an acre. They then took a five-year option to buy the remaining four acres at $1,300 an acre. They are now offering $200 annual rent for the west half of the property.

Ald. J. A. Dewart suggested that the letter be referred to the property committee for their recommendation.

Lease Charge Increased

Utilities Commission submitted an agreement with Canadian General Electric Company for extension of their lease of the waterworks dam at $5,000 a year for ten years. The present charge is $3,000 a year.

City Solicitor Huycke is being asked to prepare a bylaw authorizing the new terms, after his study and approval of the agreement.

Want Turner House

William Graff, librarian of the Public Library, wrote on behalf of the board asking for use of the former Turner and Burnham house at the southwest corner of Water and McDonnel Streets as new accommodation for the junior department. This house is the present headquarters of the city's department of health, and will be vacated when Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, and his staff move into the new city hall.

Mr. Graff wrote that the upper story of the library was not satisfactory for boys and girls, that in the last five years the number of books has doubled, and generally that the residence could be put to good use if made available to the junior section of the library. His letter was referred to the property committee.

Cannon Due Back Paratroopers Not Going For It

QUEBEC, July 24 — (CP) — Maybe Gremlins didn't pinch that old brass cannon. But, they're crossing up army-air force signals about restoring it to Quebec citadel.

News came today from Ottawa that the commander and 10 paratroop officers of Quebec's Royal 22nd Regiment will jump into Rockcliffe air base tonight to retrieve the 250-pound gun taken from the citadel last Thursday by the RCAF.

The Ottawa story quoted officers of No. 412 Transport Squadron of the RCAF as saying the Royal 22nd Paratroopers will fly to Rockcliffe, meet the air force captors of the gun, and return here with it Wednesday.

Lt.-Col. Fremont Trudeau, commanding officer of the Royal 22nd, told of this report, said:

"It is not true.

"We are far too busy with our training to go to Rockcliffe."

Will the gun come back to Quebec?

"Yes. It will be brought back by the RCAF when they fly here this week for paratroop training exercises."

The men of No. 412 Squadron, here last week for similar exercises, spotted the cannon while they were being entertained at the Royal 22nd mess, in the citadel.

When they left, the gun, a relic of the Battle of Bunker Hill in the American War of Independence, disappeared.

The Royal 22nd was on guard at the citadel at the time.

The gun was next heard from at Rockcliffe.

Board Asked

In reviewing the facts again, Dr. Honey projected the question: "Are we prepared to say to the parents of the children south of Sherbrooke St. that they must attend the new Collegiate Institute, but that they can't have the same facilities as the children attending PCVS, the present Collegiate and Vocational School?"

Another statement by Dr. Honey with what sounded like significant emphasis was: "... We are hardly able to keep ahead of our increasing school population, and I may say to you as members of the council that the Board is bedevilled by frugality."

"This matter comes from the Board of Education with their unanimous resolution, and in all the circumstances I for one respect their wishes," said Ald. Braund.

Opposition to the committee's recommendation was mainly that the $65,000 item be referred directly to the people instead of first referring it to the Municipal Board.

Majority opinion felt that the Board of Education should be assisted in beginning operations as soon as possible.

Mayor Swanston said he could call a special meeting of the council as soon as the $65,000 bylaw is ready, give it two readings and then submit it to the Municipal Board, just as soon as possible.

Ald. Braund said he wanted to co-operate with the unanimous position of the Board of Education. Its members were elected by the people, they were a responsible body, "and I don't think we have any other practical choice but to send this matter on to the Municipal Board."

Ald. Norman Graham said he wanted to see a gymnasium in the new Collegiate, but he was not in favor of the alterations which were mentioned in trying to save $25,000. One proposed change in plan was that ceilings of rooms might be dropped. It would be reflected in walls and ventilation, he said.

"This has got to be decided soon," said Ald. urrows, "or we may lose the contract price that has been accepted by the Board of Education."

Ald. T. D. Miller said there was no use conjuring objections. The Department of Education would not permit any school being built unless it conformed with required standards.

"The Board of Education has a lot of problems on their hands in providing education facilities," Ald. Miller said.

"When they built the present new addition to the Prince of Wales school, they thought they would have two empty class rooms for a while, but the Board already finds that this space is now required, and there won't be any spare room."

Ald. Miller said there were 146 kindergarten children at Prince of Wales, half attending the morning and the other half in the afternoon.

The two rooms required for the junior children this year will have to be four rooms next year.

The comment of Mayor Swanston and others was that the ratepayers had an advantage in the fact that Mr. J. H. Eastwood, head of the contracting company, was both contractor and ratepayer, was directly interested in Peterborough's institutions, and would materially co-operate in getting the best conditions of building and costs.

Referring to the vote of the committee, Ald. Miller said: "We are following out the wishes of the Board of Education as far as our authority goes."

City Clerk Outram replying to a question said that the Municipal Board would provide for a hearing of any objections to the $65,000 item, if they felt there was any strong opinion against it.

"I think they might hold a public session here anyway," Ald. Hugh Waddell said. "I am anxious about the Board of Education being able to get on with their contract. If there are delays and they had to get new tenders, they might possibly be fore than the present figure."

Ald. Rehill: "If there is no objections before the Municipal Board when they sit, then we can take it for granted that the ratepayers approve the $65,000."

Hasty Heart Sincerely Done Brought Tears To Audience

By T. J. ALLEN

"The Hasty Heart" will be, I predict, one of the best liked and most popular the Summer Theatre has done in its three Peterborough years. It has the ingredients, is a masterful job of play-writing, and the production is excellent. As a play it is the sort of thing a high-minded critic would want to snarl at as being sentimental twaddle, but despite his intelligent best self he falls flat on his face in a blubber of tears and laughter. It is so confoundedly well done as a job of writing and acting—so sincerely done—that the mind is numbed and the heart alone beats. Queen Mary auditorium last night palpitated between sudden throbbing hushes and high squeals of laughter. And people were actually weeping. What greater tribute can actors and playwright demand?

Six Nationalities In Ward

It is a play out of the last war; the setting is a British general hospital in Burma. (By the way, the set is unusual to the Queen Mary stage; bamboo; excellently contrived.) Six national types are recuperating in the ward. A noble nursing sister ministers to them. One of the six, a Scot, is destined to die in a few weeks, although he does not know it at first. It is a war play only because of the setting and the opportunity it gives the playwright to milk heroics, stock national traits, camaradie and pathos (with much comedy about what's under the kilt). There are no bombs, guns or trench muck, and no Germans or Japs.

One reason that the play is successful is that the author seems to have felt what he wrote; to have believed in the sentiment and the comedy so near to tears. Even the bright quips in the dialogue are genuine soldier-stuff, not merely lines brightly devised by a clever pen in a studio. Old soldiers will not find much to quarrel with in the military hospital milieu.

Memorable Characterization

The plot is this: all in the ward, nursing sister included, try to give the dying Scot—a stern, unloved and soured young sergeant—some of their milk of human kindness. He yields and becomes human, only to grow hard as Highland flint again when he suspects them of pity. Frank Perry plays Lachlan the Scot and gives one of the finest performances of his career. accent and all. He is emotionally convincing and poignantly moving. It is a memorable characterization.

The two other leading players are Kate Reid as the nursing sister and Gerry Sarracini as the Yank. Miss Reid is not the British nursing sister one got to know in the army (her accent and manner make her a lovely nurse in a Canadian or American base, rather), but her interpretation has its own validity. (Actually, the most authentic British aspect of the hospital is the orderly, Ron Bailey, who makes infrequent appearances.) Gerry Sarracini gives an outstanding performance. He transforms the part from mere type Yank to a characterization as subtle, various, yet open as a fine American human soldier can be. He plays the part low and soft; it is an artistic creation.

As always, Peter Mews (the Tommy) warms the stage with his personality and gives its comedy integrity as well as humor. Cal Whitehead is Digger and a good foible even without and Australian twang. Michael Sadlier is a fresh New Zealander (Kiwi); Barry Knibbs, as Blossom, the darkest African tribesman, is wordless, an when his part becomes focal, it is in focus. Bill Needles plays the medical colonel —'Cobwebs'—in charge of the hospital.

Sensitive Coherence

Many times the skilful direction of the play (under Bill Needles) and the sensitive coherence of the actors in achieving a mood, highlight a scene or situation; for instance, the opening of act 2 (the muted stillness and heat and boredom); the end of its first scene when the Scot is transfused; the vignette when all the men are lined up for a Kodak click as the curtain opens.

The quick jerk from pathos to hilarity in the last moment of the play is effectively done; the audience is reaching for handkerchiefs to wipe away tears, and has to use the bit of cloth to sop up gobs of laughter. I liked this play more than I want to admit. I wallowed in it. But when you've got such a lovely chance to wallow, why not wallow?

Impetuous US Romeo Released From Jail

MUNICH, Germany, July 24 — (AP)— The United States Army took extra precautions today to ensure the departure from Germany of Homer Cook, the husky ex-serviceman romeo who broke jail three times to get his German girl.

Cook, 28, was released from a German prison at Straubing last night after good conduct reduction of his sentence for illegal entry into Germany, jail breaking and other charges. He was ordered expelled from the country.

Cook entered Germany illegally after his release from the army to woo the German girl he first met as an occupation soldier. His German wife—the former Anna Sporer, whom he finally married in prison last spring—wants to go to America with him.

Guelph Wins Fourth Straight, Dump Kitchener

By The Canadian Press.

A fifth-inning triple play led Guelph Maple Leafs to their fourth straight win last night when they defeated Kitchener Legionnaires 4-2 on home ground.

Leafs, with an excellent display of fielding, have moved from fifth to third place in the intercounty senior baseball race in the last week.

London Majors whipped Galt Terriers 10-6 in an 11-inning game at Galt. London holds second place in the league, six games behind the leading Brantford Red Sox.

Fourth-place Waterloo Tigers defeated the trailing St. Thomas Legion 9-4 at St. Thomas.

Guelph Leafs scored their triple play when Legionnaires' Ross Doherty smacked a liner to shortstop Marv Rich. Rich doubled Rolly Larouche off second and caught Lou Hummel at first with a throw to Georoge D'Addario.

Southpaw Marty Philp went all the way for Leafs to gain his fourth victory. Larouche took over for Kitchener when Hal Johnston was yanked for a pinch-nitter in the fifth.

Billy Flick starred in a pinch-hitting role for the Majors at Galt. He tripled in the 11th with two on base after replacing Ken Johnson.

Montreal Writer Wins Fame As Gourmet

Gerald Fitzgerald of The Montreal Gazette, formerly of Peterborough, achieves prandial prominence in a Maclean's Magazine article by Frank Hamilton.

The magazine features nearly a full-page photograph in color showing Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald and two guests dining at "the luxurious Ruby Foo's eatery on Decarie Boulevard."

In these days of wallets waning in hotel sand restaurants, visiting newspapermen may still be ontent with Childs ,but the columnist of The Gazette not only makes the rounds of the swank spots but also gets his picture in the paper, and in technicolor.

With Mclean's circulation Fitz's fame spreads across the country from the Montreal culinary circles in which he is manifestly a well-known figure, presumably without any more worry about the waistline than about the cheque.

Mr. Fitzgerald is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fitzgerald of this city. His father was for many years a civil engineer in Peterborough. His office and his surveyor's notes were acquired by the late John W. Pierce.

Frank Hamilton says Montreal is the "eatingest town anywhere," with comparatively more cafes and hotels than New York.

Sign Salesman Given Two Years' Probation

Pleading guilty to theft of $100 from a Lakefield druggist last March, Stephen B. Barr, 30, of Hastings village, Monday was given two years' suspended sentnce by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C.

In the meantime Barr has made full restitution.

Chief Constable Garnet Samis said that Barr was a salesman for a neon sign company. He persuaded Neil C. Wood, Lakefield druggist, to buy a sign and hand over $100 as the down payment. The cheque was made out to Barr, not to the company.

Later, Wood checked with the company and found they had no record of the money or the sale. Barr had pocketed the money.

He elected summary trial before Magistrate Philp who put him on suspended sentence for two years. Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, said Barr had no previous record. This one lapse had got him into trouble.

Year's Probation Given For Fight

Convicted on a charge of assaulting his sister-in-law, William John Terry, 40, of 499 Donegal St., Monday was given suspended sentence for a year. On a second charge of smashing a glass door at her home he was fined $10 and costs and he will have to replace the glass.

Mrs. Terry said that when she returned home last Friday night she found her brother-in-law there and the door smashed. He had been drinking, she said. She called city police but they left when he said he'd pay for the damage.

"After the police left he went at me with his hands and fists," said Mrs. Terry, a widow with four children. "To defend myself I had to run out of the house with the baby."

She said he struck her twice across the face. No marks were visible.

Terry pleaded guilty to the damage charge but said he had been willing to pay for it from the time it happened. He pleaded not guilty to common assault on his sister-in-law, claiming he hadn't struck her.

"I put my hands on her to sit her own," he said, "but I didn't hit her. I told her it would be a wise idea to sit down and not bother me.

Terry had a previous conviction for assaulting a woman, Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, pointed out.

Buys More Wheat UK Gets Bargain

BEAUSEJOUR, Man., July 24 (CP)—Great Britain is entitled to a lower price on Canadian wheat because of the larger amount purchased in comparison to other countries, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Saturday.

In an address to a farmers' meeting at Beausejour, he said Canada has sold the United Kingdom 150,000,000 bushels of wheat each year as compared to about 10,000,000 bushels purchased by smaller nations.

Earlier, in an interview at Winnipeg, Mr. Gardiner denounced Britain's refusal to accept Canada's reimposition of the carrying charges on wheat shipped to her under the international wheat agreement.

He said he saw no reason why Britain should contest the carrying charge before the international wheat council.

Mr. Gardiner also spoke on the "misinformed people in this country who thought India had a famine. India is the wealthiest country in the world, bar none, and the fact she turned down our gift of wheat on the grounds that it was frozen is proof they didn't need it."

The crane tore a 50-foot gap in the bridge. Engineers said it would be reopened Tuesday. Recessed cease-fire talks are scheduled to be resumed Wednesday.

The crane was en route to work on a causeway damaged Saturday night by flood waters.

US To Spend $500,000 Control Lamprey Eels

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—The senate approved Monday and sent to the White House a bill to authorize $500,000 in 1952 for controlling the lamprey eel in the Great Lakes. The parasite destroys the food fish upon which it feeds.

Congress has been told by fish and wildlife service experts that the lamprey has virtually wiped out trout in Lake Huron and greatly reduced it in Lake Michigan.

They said there is evidence the lamprey is extending its depredations into Lake Superior and also attacking other food fish in areas where there is no more trout.

Experts are experimenting with the use of electric shock to divert the lampreys from their spawning grounds.

Wild Animals To Disappear In 100 Years

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP).—Wild animals, says famed naturalist-painter Charles E. Knight, will have disappeared from the earth completely in another 100 years. Man himself may not survive another 1,000,000 years.

These are the considered opinions of a man who has spent a lifetime studying and drawing wild life and prehistoric fossils.

The 77-year-old artist explained the basis for his beliefs:

"Man, the builder, is also the great destroyer of all time. He's the boss killer, and when he appears the animals and trees soon disappear."

Source of Food

He goes to Florida, drains the everglades and destroys the food and shelter of birds. The birds go elsewhere—and men shoot them for their plumes or just for sport.

Stockmen look at the woods and want to put their herds in them. Lumbermen look at the trees and want to cut them. Then the land becomes eroded, between the grazing animals and the lack of trees, and man's source of food and water disappears into the ocean.

Knight, a calm, good-natured man, remarked casually it is fortunate for Americans that our nation was not discovered by Europeans a thousand years—or even 500 years—early than it was.

"If it had been, the country would be completely decimated by now. The soil would have been ruined, the animals killed off and the country fished out. Man just can's seem to stand seeing anything alive."

He takes a more detached and scientific view of the probable extinction of the human species.

On Decline

"Other well-equipped animals have gone, due to changes of climate and changes of food," he explained. "We have come across places where hundreds of fossil animals obviously perished together. Besides, any animal has a tendency to generate in confinement. Just look at our dogs. They can't compete with a wolf. Man is like that, too. The average civilized man today couldn't compete with the old Indian in withstanding the vicissitudes of life."

The Brooklyn-born artist, whose work is hung in the great natural history museums of the country and who is recognized as the top man in his specialized field, has never hunted in his life.

Most of his work has been in zoos—"you can study the animals from a closer range"—and in museums where he has been able to reconstruct with his paint brush animals extinct for thousands of years.

Work Verified

He calls this work "putting skin on" animals. Many times he has dreamed up wild and literally woolly animas on the basis of a few ancient bones, and then had his conception of how the animals looked verified by later discoveries of additional bones.

Knight says that although recent discoveries have pushed the birth of man back to around 1,000,000 years ago, scientists have never found anything "very old" in this country.

"Very old' in Knight's calendar means about 250,000 years. After all, the man has eaten marrow from woolly mammoth bone. The 5,000-year-old mammoth was discovered, preserved in ice several years ago.

"It was horrible," he recalls, " and tasted like rancid grease. Meat will keep all right indefinitely in ice, but it degenerates very rapidly once released. A few years back a bunch of Russian scientists tried to eat some mammoth meat thousands of years old, and they all got deathly sick."

The major value of the deep-freeze mammoth he said, was not culinary, but established that they were covered with red hair.

Edward Cote, co-director of the UAW's Region 1-A was appointed administrator at a special meeting of the UAW international executive board, He was authorized to fire from the union anyone he believes violating the company-union contract.

Movie Column

Ida Lupino Succeeding As Film Director

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, July 24 (AP)—When Ida Lupino announced three years ago that she intended to try her hand at directing movies, some of her best friends advised her she was making a mistake.

Directing has traditionally been a man's job. Skeptics argued she would never be able to boss crews, persuade male glamor boys her way was best, or master the technichal end of movie making.

Three years have gone by and Miss Lupino has shown the scoffers they didn't know what they were talking about.

Her first three films are in the black. One, "Not Wanted," has grossed nearly $1,000,000. And she has made them for peanuts.

As for getting co-workers to take directions:

"I have the hardest-working crew in the business."

Ida says getting co-operation is a matter of winning respect and has nothing to do with the sex of the boss.

Task Master

The actress said the same workers come back to her for every picture, even though they know they'll be driven hard. Some, she said, have turned down higher-paying jobs to be on her films.

One reason: She gives key personnel a percentage of the profits.

Another: If a man shows particular talent she doesn't hesitate to promote him.

When the actress and her husband, Collier Young, formed their filmmakers company, they decided to specialize in social themes. Their subjects were unwed mothers, polio and rape. Then they took a cynical behind-the-scenes look at professional tennis and came up with "Hard, Fast and Beautiful." Their latest, "Day Without End," touches on the problems of insanity.

Now Ida wants to get away from serious problems. "These are pressing times," she said, "and I think it's time we returned to entertainment and love stories."

Reds Offer Compromise On Withdrawal Of Troops

City Man Drowns In Rescue Try

R. H. Collingwood Tries To Help Two Women Saved

A Peterborough man was drowned Tuesday afternoon when he tried to rescue two Toronto women from Lake Kashagawigamog, 12 miles north of Minden.

The victim was Robert Henry (Harry) Collingwood, 64, of 337 Downie St., an assistant foreman in the induction motor department of the Peterborough CGE plant.

Though a non-swimmer, Mr. Collingwood went to the aid of the two women who were in distress after slipping off a sandbar into deep water. He managed to hold one of them up briefly and then he disappeared from view.

Sighted Body

Stanley Alkins, Toronto, helped in the rescue of the two women and then tried to locate Mr. Collingwood. He dived and saw him lying on the bottom in about 12 feet of water, some 40 feet offshore.

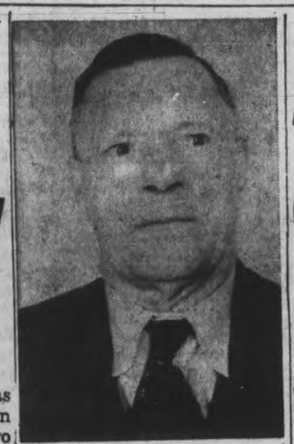
However Mr. Alkin's breath gave out and he was unable to catch hold of the drowning man. The body was recovered 20 minutes later after a number of other swimmers aided provincial police in the search.

In case there was any spark of life left in the body an emergency call was made to the Peterborough fire department. Fireman Henry Nokes went by car to Chemong lake with an inhalator and he was flown by aircraft to Kashagawigamog—a trip of more than 80 miles.

OPP Constable Al Edwards, Minden, and others applied artificial respiration from approximately 4 p.m. till the inhalator arrived shortly after 5.30.

Inhalator Used

The inhalator was used for 35 minutes, but Mr. Collingwood failed to respond and he was pronounced dead at 6 p.m. by Dr. W. D. Warne, Haliburton.



Mr. and Mrs. Collingwood were staying at Locarno-on-the-Lake, a summer resort on Kashagawigamog. He was just coming in from bathing and was washing himself before joining his wife on the sandy beach.

Suddenly he heard Miss Buchanan, who was staying at a nearby lodge, call for help. Her companion, Laura Gardner, leaped in after her and they both got into difficulties.

Wife Watches

Though he couldn't swim Mr. Collingwood waded out to lend what assistance he could and he drowned within sight of his wife

Allied Armies In Germany To Surpass Reds

BONN, Germany, July 25 (AP)—Allied armies in Germany will outnumber Russian troops now in the east zone by nearly 200,000 men by the end of this year, an informed allied source said today.

The planned allied build-up will put neary 500,000 men in Germany compared with estimated Russian strength of about 300,000, the source said.

The allied plan provides for the equivalent of 18 divisions and a "considerably increased" British-American air force.

Opposing allied and Russian forces in Germany now are about equal, the source added.

Intelligence reports show no indication of a Russian build-up at present.

Eight allied countries are contributing to the forces expected to overtake Russian strength in Germany for the first time in six years.

They are: United States, Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, Norway, Denmark and Luxembourg.

The French may not complete their program on time, and the Canadians may not all be here before the beginning of January. But allied eaders are confident their plan will be substantially fulfilled.

Troop strength figures are approximate because the sizes of units vary from time to time, but the outline plan is this:

United States: divisions to be increased from the present four to six, which with air force reinforcements, will make about 210,000 men.

Britain: An armored division is to be added to the present 3 1-3 divisions and the RAF considerably increased. Estimated total about 150,000.

France: Two more divisions are due, making a total of five and, with supporting and supply units, a total manpower of 80,000.

Belgium: Two divisions to be brought up to full strength of more than 30,000.

Canada: A big brigade group of 7,000 men and 11 air squadrons have been promised.

Norway: Has a brigade of 5,000 men in North Germany which is due for replacement in October.

Denmark: Will keep more than 1,000 men in Germany.

Luxembourg: Has two infantry battalions in Germany.

The figures do not include over 100,000 Germans who are doing operational jobs for the allied armies.

UK Considers New Proposal By Iranians

Real Progress Reported By Harriman

LONDON, July 25. (AP) — British government leaders huddled today over an Iranian plan for reopening talks between the two countries on their bitter oil nationalization dispute.

Informed sources said a Cabinet session will be held tomorrow on the new turn in the crucial row.

Iran's terms for renewing oil negotiations were sent here yesterday along with suggestions by American negotiator W. Averell Harriman, who has been consulting for more than a week in Tehran with Iran's government leaders.

An American embassy spokesman in the Iranian capital said Harriman felt his talks had made "real progress."

Informants here said Iran has offered to talk over a new oil deal, if Britain accepts nationalization of her billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holdings.

Little could be learned on specific details of Harriman's talks, but one source in Tehran said the US trouble-shooter was considering a flying trip to London to press for a compromise agreement.

The US spokesman there said Harriman was "very well satisfied" over the meetings so far with Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and other Iranian leaders.

"He is very gratified over the general atmosphere of the meetings," this source said.

Commenting on the Iranian proposals, a foreign office spokesman here said "they are not wholly discouraging."

Both Harriman and Iran's government were said to have submitted similar proposals under which Iranian ownership of the giant Anglo-Iranian refinery would be accepted as prescribed in the nationalization law. However, there would be an associated operating company controlled by oil customers.

Britain so far has insisted that her trained technicians must retain control of the production process.

Plan Probably Acceptable To United Nations, Proposal Said Reasonable

Reds Ask UN Promise To Discuss Withdrawal of Troops Later, Allied Delegates Consider Plan

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—The Communists were reported today to have offered a compromise in the Korean cease-fire talks under which withdrawal of foreign troops would not be discussed until after an armistice. Indications are that this proposal will prove acceptable to the United Nations command. The Reds heretofore have insisted that the issue of pulling foreign troops out—UN forces and Chinese Reds—should be on the program of armistice talks.

Defence Secretary George C. Marshall, laying down the UN position, said yesterday the question is not a suitable one for consideration in the armistice negotiations.

Responsible information here is that under the new Communist offer the most UN allies would have to undertake is a promise to discuss arrangements under which the whole foreign troops problem would be taken up later.

Some Understanding

This probably means that out of the armistice talks, or perhaps parallel with them, some understanding will be reached for negotiations to be held among interested governments on the political issues of a permanent Korean settlement.

The Communist proposition had been described by UN spokesmen in Korea as "reasonable in content and phraseology" and "sufficiently interesting" for the Allied delegates to have proposed a long overnight recess for further study.

It was put forth after a four-day suspension of the talks asked by the Communists and was reported to ashington by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN commander in Korea. Ridgway was said to have relayed the word for information and, it was understood, for instruction on the line he should take in the next round of the talks.

US May Order Training Planes At Canadair

MONTREAL, July 25—(CP)—Two multi-million dollar production orders which would boost the Canadair Companys' aircraft-making plant into the ranks of the worlds' big producers were understood today to be the subject of negotiations between the Canadian and United States governments.

Canadair officials refused all comment, but it was learned that a Toronto report that the United States Air Force has placed an order for $100,000,000 worth of training aircraft with Canadiar is incorrect.

Meanwhile the Montreal company is continuing to tool up and there is anticipation that the employee roster of some 6,000 men will be boosted in the next few months to 10,000 as a result of new orders.

It is understood the Canadair Company will undertake manufacture of the T-33 jet trainer aircraft for the RCAF. No figures were available from the company but recent reports from Ottawa have placed the number at 500 of these two-saeter trainers at an approximate cost of $200,000 each—a total of $100,000,000.

Prime Contractor

Canadair has been named by United States authorities as a "prime contractor" for United States Army Air Force and on a basis of this rating orders for manufacture of the T-36 piston-engine bomber-trainer are anticipated.

Again no figures are available as to the size of this possible order. It could go into millions of dollars. Meantime contract talks with American authorities are still in progress with hints that American orders could reach a size comparable with the order from the RCAF.

An informed source said "no definite contracts have yet been recahed."

Talked To Girl 3 Hours, To Wed

LONDON, July 25 (AP)—Two months ago Sgt. William Griggs of the United States Air Force was waiting at London airport for a plane to New York.

When he boarded it four hours later, he was engaged to an English girl he met while waiting.

Next Wednesday in Akron, O., the air-age romance will be climaxed by his marriage to pretty Winifred Spears, a receptionist for British Overseas Airways Corporation.

"That was the first time we met, I was busy with a plane load of passengers," Miss Spears told a reporter today. "I had to speak to him between answering other passengers' questions and rushing about with tickets.

"Just before he left to catch his plane he asked: 'Will you marry me and come to live in America?'

"He was very handsome in his uniform and wings. I said yes."

Four days later, she said, Griggs wrote asking if she meant it. She assured him she did.

Association Tries To Free Slave Girls

TAIPEI, Formosa, July 25 (AP)—"The foster daughter protection association" was formed Tuesday to work for abolition of the centuries-old Chinese system of selling girls into slavery.

Girls sold into slavery by poor parents are called foster daughters by the families buying them and are used as unpaid domestic servants.

On reaching maturity, many are sold as prostitutes or concubines.

There are an estimated 120,000 slave girls in Formosa.

US Division Wins Unit Citation

TOKYO, July 25 (CP)—The feat of the United States 2nd division in turning back 96,000 Chinese Reds in Central Korea May 16-21 and inflicting 48,000 casualties has won it the presidential unit citation.

The famed "Indian Head" division was awarded the citation Tuesday.

It is the fourth US division to win the award. Previous awards went to the 24th, the 4th armored and the 101st airborne. The 24th won it in Korea. The last two divisions won it during the Second World War.

Britain's famous 1st Royal Gloucester Battalion was awarded the presidential unit citation for its gallant stand in checking the Reds' spring offensive in Korea. Only about 50 of the Gloucesters got back safely.

Farm Prices May Drop Says Federation Head

GUELPH, July 25 — (CP) — Some reduction in farm produce prices—although not necessarily meat prices—was forecast Tuesday by H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Dr. Hannam was addressing the annual joint meeting of the American Farm Economic Association and the Canadian Agricultural Economics Society.

He said the carryover of feed grains and the likelihood of a large crop this year would result in cuts in produce prices. However, meat prices would only be slightly affected since their present high level resulted from export to the United States at US prices.

Reds Have Plane To Deliver Atomic Attack

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 25 — (AP)—Air Undersecretary John A. McCone said today the Russians have a bomber able to "carry the atomic bomb a long distance and to deliver it in a surprise attack."

In an address prepared for delivery at Stanford University, McCone oals said there had been "phenomenal development" of Russian jet fighters.

As to Soviet atomic progress, McCone said the Russians have worked energetically in the atomic field for many years and their scientists "have had available to them some of our secret developments" gained by Soviet secret agents.

Russian versions of the B29 bomber "have been in operation not singly, but in quantity," McCone said. He added that the numbers of this bomber type is a matter of conjecture but "we do know they are building into their military system their long-range bombing capability of substantial proportions which can reach the cities and production centres of the United States."

Must Continue To Build Defence Shield—Acheson

DETROIT, July 25. (AP)—The United States and its allies must put forth "several years of very hard effort" to build a shield against 9,000,000 Communists under arms, State Secretary Dean Acheson declared last night. "Whether or not an armistice results from the talks in Korea," he said, "the fundamental job ahead of us will not change."

Warning against a letdown in defence efforts, Acheson said:

"If we shirk the hard course, the alternatives are war or surrender."

"The prospect may be hard and long," he said. "It may mean more sacrifices for us, more shortages, higher taxes. But there is no easier way through the dangers of the present."

Acheson spoke at a gay banquet in observance of Detroit's 250th birthday.

He shared the flag-bedecked rostrum with the ambassadors of Canada, Britain and France.

Plea For Seaway

Canadian Ambassdor Hume Wrong made a plea for early action by the US Congress on the proposed development of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The main theme of Wrong's address was the long period of friendly relations between the US and Canada.

Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador, declared: "Our four countries have a great mission in the world today." He added: "We believe we shall win through."

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet also underscored unity. He said France will form this year the 10 divisions promised for the North Atlantic defence forces despite the burden of the Indo-China fighting.

Acheson and Bonnet both struck a note of optimism in describing progress toward setting up a single European army to combat Communism.

The diplomats referred to a preliminary agreement reached in Paris yesterday to merge land, sea and air power of five European countries into a 2,000,000-man internationalized force.

"The North Atlantic treaty idea of pooling military strength is a revolutionary peacetime accomplishment," Acheson said.

Sailor Survives Trip Across Gulf

TAMPICO, Mexico, July 25 — (AP)—A lone Canadian sailor took water and fuel aboard his small craft here today after having quenched his thirst for three days at sea with a watermellon.

R. Martin De Beaumont told port authorities he left Corpus Christi, Tex., June 25 on his way to Campeche in Southern Mexico. Two weeks out, his $800 sailboat Storm Birl was becalmed for two days in the Gulf of Mexico, he said, and its outboard motor ran out of fuel.

He rationed his water supply, but it also ran out. He then subsisted on a watermellon. Meanwhile, a storm blew up and he had to lash himself to the mast to keep from being washed overboard.

Finally, Beaumont said, he neared the Mexican coast and got some gasoline from fishing boats, although they had no water for him. His boat chugged into Tampico harbor Monday night.

Beaumont said he planned to leave within a week for Campeche, there to escape "American snobbishness, commune with God and nature, and write a book."

Oh, You Shouldn't

ROME, July 25. (Reuters)—Italian Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti has received a present from the Czechoslovak government said to be causing him great embarrassment — a luxurious bullet-proof car. The gift still is in Rome's customs' office and nobody knows whether Togliatti will claim it.

Rail Dispute To Arbitration

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Three operating rail unions today proposed arbitration as a compromise in their deadlocked dispute with United States railroads.

The offer to place their long controversy over wages, hours and operating rules before an arbitration panel followed the announcement by the National Mediation Board last night that it was reporting a deadlock to the White House—for whatever action President Truman might choose to take.

The railroads have been operated by the army since they were seized last August to avert a walkout of the trainmen and conductors. The trainmen signed an agreement with the carriers May 25, ending their two-year dispute.

That left the conductors, firemen and engineers still in a stalemate with the railroads over changes in operating rules, and in the demand for a 20-per-cent wage increase for employees in train service and a 40-hour week at 48 hours' pay for those in the yards.

Trade-in Change In Credit Rules

OTTAWA, July 25 — (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott Tuesday night announced a series of changes in consumer credit regulations, effective Aug. 1 next.

None of the changes affect minimum down payments or the maximum period of credit.

However, trade-ins will be allowed to form part of the minimum down payment on all types of goods after Aug. 1 if the cash price of the goods being purchased is not marked up. Up to now, trade-ins have been allowed only for motor vehicles.

One change affecting goods previously exempted from the regulations is in the case of a motor vehicle which has been the personal property of the seller for six months. The sale of such a motor vehicle now will be exempt only if it is a private deal between the seller and the buyer with no third party entering for the purpose of financing the transaction.

The changes also will bring contracts for rental of goods under control for the first time.

Frank Costello Cited Contempt Of Senate

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP) — Frank Costello, named by the Senate Crime Investigating Committee as the top man in the United States underworld, today was indicted by a federal grand jury for contempt of the Senate.

Gambler Joe Adonis (Joseph Doto) and confessed bookmaker Frank Erickson were indicted on the same charge.

The indictments stemmed from their refusal to answer questions at the widely-publicized crime committee hearings in New York last March.

Costello was indicted on nine counts, Adonis on 16, and Erickson on 74. The maximum penalty on each count is a year is prison and a $1,000 fine.

Life In Red Uranium Mines Miserable

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Men in Russia's slave-labor uranium mines must clamber nearly 500 feet down wooden ladders so slick many fall to their death, the State Department radio reported today.

The "Voice of America" was broadcasting what is called an eye-witness account of life in a uranium mine in Russian-ruled East Germany. The account said high-grade ore is so precious it is flown to Leningrad for Russia's atomic production program. But working methods were described as so antiquated that ore comes from the mines in sacks, buckets and even knapsacks.

No Safety

Other "first-hand" sources, the Voice said, told of pit disasters due to "lack of safety precautions, miserable working conditions and even sabotage."

The latest mine mishap was reported recently from the uranium mining area outside Zwickau, near the East German-Czechoslovak border, with nine workmen reported killed and 15 others injured.

Quoting an unidentified worker "who finally managed to escape to the west," the Voice gave this picture of life in a mine in the Frohnau region:

"The pits where we worked are about 150 metres (490 feet) deep. We went down into these shafts on wooden ladders, each one about eight metres (26 feet) high. Each ladder connects to the shaft below. These ladders cause many fatal accidents because they get wet and slippery. During the winter the ladders get icy. This means more accidents.

"Last year about 80 miners were killed in my mine from falling. A lot more were killed when underground shafts fell in on them.

"The uranium ore is brought to the surface in buckets, in ordinary sacks, and in knapsacks. The quota of each brigade (10 men) for each shift is from five to eight buckets of ore, with each bucket weighing about 100 pounds.

"If they use sacks they must bring up 15 to 20 sacks. Each sack weighs between 20 and 30 pounds. The knapsack carriers must bring up from 25 to 30 knapsacks of approximately 50 pounds each.

"Ore shipments go to Freiberg, northeast of Chemnitz, where they are graded by Soviet experts. Especially good ore is flown to Leningrad."

Plot To Assassinate Haile Selassi Found

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, July 25 (AP)—A plot to assassinate Emperor Haile Selassi and set up an Ethiopian Republic is expected to be revealed in a conspiracy troial of eight ringleaders and their accomplices here Thursday.

Details have been surrounded by official secrecy, but there have been hints of Communist collusion.

The conspirators will appear before the Ethiopian High Court, presided over by British jurist Harry Roberts.

The accused have been indicted under a law relating to plots against the life of the Emperor and the violent overthrow of the government. The law provides a possible death penalty.

Who's To Blame?

No Grain Arrives For Ships

MONTREAL, July 25—(CP)—It's anybody's guess who is to blame, but seven ocean-going vessels are losing $1,000 a day each in port because there is no Western grain here for them to carry overseas.

There were almost as many explanations for the dearth as parties concerned in grain export. Shippers here said the railways and Great Lakes ships weren't providing enough space for export grain. The carriers denied it. Lakehead grain men, with elevators bulging, said it was a shortage of canal boats.

One spokesman here said neither the railroads nor the Great Lakes ships are providing enough transportation means for shipment to here. He said this applies to both the ship-rail routes and the all-water routes.

However, a railway spokesman said there isn't any shortage of cars to move grain, or any other commodity. Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways were about 4,000,000 bushels each ahead of last year in deliveries to Montreal elevators.

The Canada Steamship Lines said half its fleet was hauling grain. The real bottleneck, the company said, was lack of grain cars for trans-shipment from Georgian Bay ports.

In Ottawa, the Maritime Commission said lake shippers are using some of their limited supply of vessels to carry better-paying cargoes, such as defence materials. That's the way some Port Arthur grain men felt, too.

The commission also said that although the situation was acute, there was no sign the goal for July 31 shipments won't be met. But indications from Fort William were that the 50,000,000-bushel goal will not be reached.

Not The Humidity

Oil Pipe Line To Connect Four Cities

TORONTO, July 25 — (CP) — Trans-Northern Pipe Line Co., Ltd., today announced plans to build a petroleum-products pipe line connecting Montreal with Ottawa, Toronto and Hamilton.

British American Oil Co., Ltd., Shell Oil Co. of Canada, Ltd., and McColl-Frontenac Oil Co., Ltd., are participating in the project, which awaits approval by the Board of Transport Commissioners, and assurance of a sufficient supply of steel.

No estimate of cost is given, but it is believed to be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000.

The main 10-inch line, about 400 miles in length, is expected to traverse the north shore of the St. Lawrence River and Lake Ontario, with terminals at Cornwall, Prescott, Brockville, Kingston, Belleville, Port Hope, Toronto, Clarkson and Hamilton, all in Ontario. A six-inch 44-mile line would serve Ottawa from a junction in the vicinity of Cornwall.

Products

The line would have an initial capacity of 40,000 barrels daily and would transport finished products—gasoline, fuel oil, kerosene, etc.—from refineries of the participating companies at Montreal east. Most of the crude oil to feed the refineries is transported to Montreal by pipe line from Portland, Me., where it arrives by ocean tanker.

A. N. Horne, president of Trans-Northern, who made the announcement, was formerly vice-president and general manager of the Trans-Arabian Pipe Line Company. He said he hopes construction will start "as soon as authorization is receivd from the Board of Transport Commissioners," adding, however, that "it depends on the availability of steel."

Wounded Man Arrested After Holdup

TORONTO, July 25 (CP). — A man with a bullet wound in his side was arrested by police early today, a few hours after a storekeeper reported wounding one of two men who held him up and took an undisclosed amount of money from his till.

The storekeeper, Gordon Sipos, said he was forced into the back room of his store, along with his wife and a friend, by the two men.

He grabbed a .32 automatic and chased after the men as they fled in an automobile. He said he thought he wounded one of the holdup men.

The wounded man was not identified. Police said that later they arrested a second man, believed to have been an accomplice.

The wounded man was identified by police as Ronald Patterson, 19, of Toronto. Police said that a short time later they arrested Alex McDonald, 25, of Toronto, believed to have been an accomplice.

New Cabinet Due For Jordan

CAIRO, Egypt, July 25 (AP)—The Arab news agency says Jordan's Premier Samir Pasha El Rifai has been asked to form a new cabinet on a broader basis.

The agency in a dispatch from Amman said last night El Rifai and his cabinet had quit "in accordance with traditional constitutional practice," as a result of King Abdullah's assassination. It added that the monarch's son Emir (Prince) Naif—now regent—has asked the premier to form a new government to include dissident elements.

The premier, reported the news agency, said Naif's appointment as regent was "a constitutional step as the Crown Prince (Tallal) at the time of the King's death was out of the country undergoing medical treatment." He added, without elaboration, that Jordan's throne would remain vacant until it is "ascended in accordance with the constitution."

Tallal, who is vacationing in Switzerland after a reported mental breakdown, is said to be enraged over the naming of his younger brother as regent.

Normal School Principals Get More Freedom

TORONTO, July 25 (CP) — Principals of Ontario normal schools will be granted a large degree of autonomy under a program to be placed into effect Sept. 1, officials of the Ontario Education Department said today.

Dr. J. G. Althouse, chief director of education for Ontario, said the scheme was part of a general plan of decentralization.

"We wish to give the principals and staffs of normal schools the right to manage their own schools," F. S. Rivers, superintendent of professional training added.

Business and Studies

"The new program is planned so that each of the normal schools can be considered the normal school of that area managed by the principal. They will have autonomy in the business of the schol and in the program of studies as far as possible."

Courses of study will be outlined in general terms in a new program to be mailed out to the schools about the middle of August. Adaptations can be made locally. Principals will also be free to chose text books from an authorized list.

Graduates of the schools will still have to receive certification from the department.

The new program will provide for doubling the time spent on the study of educational psychology and behavior problems of children.

Practice teaching by normal school students will also be changed. There will now be eight weeks of continuous teaching — three weeks of rural and five in urban schools—instead of four.

Ask Bidault Form Government

PARIS, July 25 (AP)—Georges Bidault, a former premier and foreign minister, was asked by President Vincent Auriol today to try to form a new government.

Bidault, a member of the Movement Republican Populaire, was expected to decline later today because of inability to get enough support.

Earlier today Auriol's previous choice for the premiership, radical Socialist Rene Mayer, failed to win a vote of confidence from the National Assembly because the MRP abstained from voting.

As a result, Mayer got only 241 of the 314 votes he needed for a majority.

The issue was the old one of state subsidies for Roman Catholic schools. The MRP wanted them. The other parties were opposed.

The decision of the Communists to vote against Mayer and the abstention from voting by Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Rassemblement Du Peuple Francis (RPF) only made his defeat more resounding.

France has been without a government since former Premier Henri Queuille resigned after the general elections June 17. Queuille—like Mayer—was a radical Socialist, or Moderate.

Republicans Begin Drive Against Acheson

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—At a sharply-split party meeting, a majority of Republicans in the House of Representatives agreed today to support a plan aimed at striking State Secretary Dean Acheson off the federal payroll.

The decision to pursue the "get-Acheson" drive through the medium of the state department appropriation bill was taken by a standing vote of 71 to 33.

More than 90 Republicans either did not attend or refrained from voting.

The majority approved a motion to support an amendment to the state department money bill.

No Names

Party leaders said the amendment, still to be drafted, would not designate Acheson by name but would specify that no federal pay would go to any "policy-making" department head who, at any time during the five years preceding appointment, belonged to a business or law firm that represented a foreign government.

Acheson's law firm once represented Poland.

Representative John Phillips (Rep. Calif.), sponsor of the amendment, told reporters it would be offered late today or tomorrow. He said it would embody the principle that th policy-making heads of a major department "should be perfectly clear of any suspicion of previous obligation to or representation of a foreign government."

It may, he said ,suggest that in case of any doubt the name of such a department head should be resubmitted to the Senate for re-confirmation.

Since Acheson already has been confirmed by the Senate, the only way Conrgess could remove him from office would be to impeach him. It can hold up his pay but that wouldn't throw him out of office.

Arabs Fight Openly In Jordan

CAIRO, Egypt, July 25 (AP)—Open clashes between Jordanians and Palestinian Arabs have taken place in Jordan since the murder of King Abdullah, an Egyptian newspaper reporter just retured from the country said today.

The reporter was unable to file his story from Amman because of strict censorship. Jordanians blame Palestinian Arabs for the death of Abdullah.

The reporter gave this account of the situation in Jordan:

Although martial law has not been proclaimed, the crack Arab Legion actually is in control of the country, has subdued all outbreaks so far, and may have prevented actual civil war.

Prince Hussein, 16-year-old grandson of the assassinated Abdullah, is expected to be proclaimed King under the regency of his uncle, Prince Naif. Naif is Abdullah's second son. Prince Hussein is the son of Prince Tallal who is entitled to the throne under the constitution.

But the constitution also provides that the eldest son could, by royal decree, be deprived of the right if physically or mentally unfit. There are many reports Tallal is sufering a nervous breakdown nearing mental disability.

Abdullah before death issued no such decree. Naming Naif regent, however, the government acted as though such a decree existed, apparently assuming Tallal's unfitness.

Mental Clinic Quits In Sudbury

SUDBURY, July 25 — (CP). — Dr. P. T. Dixon, who heads the Sudbury Mental Health Clinic, said today he and his staff are being forced to resign because of totally inadequate salaries.

He said he will see Ontario Health Minister Phillips Aug. 7 to ask provincial aid in seeking salary adjustments and to explore the possibilities of establishing a mental health observation unit here.

Dr. Dixon blamed the salary situation on the fact that the Mental Health Clinic is financed by a Federal grant-in-aid. He said the clinic serves the districts of Sudbury, Algoma, Nipissing, Manitoulin and Parry Sound, yet no municipality in any of those districts aids te clinic financially.

His staff consists of a trained psychiatric social worker and a psychologist. In spite of the exacting training, Dr. Dixon said they are earning $2,500 a year—less than the basic wage in the nickel industry and "wholly inadequate to maintain them and their families."

MORE ABOUT—

Plan Probably

The essence of the compromise as understood by authorities here is that the troop withdrawal matter would no longer be a part of the Communist price for a truce. At the same time, the United States and its allies would commit themselves to eventual discussion of the troops question.

Two Issues

However, even assuming that this understanding clears the way for the Kaesong talks to go forward promptly, at least two other serious issues are said to remain.

These are reported to concern (1) the selection of a demarcation line between the belligerent forces and (2) arrangement of inspection procedures to be sure that the truce, once established, is not broken.

The communists have served notice that they intend to insist on a buffer zone between the opposing armies along the 38th parallel. Ridgway's orders are to get a buffer zone along the present battle line, which generally is north of the parallel.

In the earlier stages of the negotiations on what should be discussed in arranging an armistice, the Reds tentatively accepted the idea of close observation and inspection. But authorities here say they actually are committed to nothing and may resist to the idea of United Nations or other members of an inspection team looking over their forces.

Diplomatic officials say these two issues mean it may still be many days, or even weeks, before an actual armistice is achieved.

Rains Hay

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 25 (AP)—It literally rained hay here yesterday. A freak wind storm picked up several stacks from a nearby pasture and covered the town during a half-hour period. No one claimed the wandering crop and towsnpeople raked it up for their own use.

Housing Slump

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Only one new house-building permit was taken out here during July. Contractors said prospective householders were having difficulty raising the increase down payments required by federal credit regulations.

Gypsy 'Princess' Swindled $7,000

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—A Coney Island gypsy "princess" was accused today of swindling a Brooklyn mother of her $7,011 life savings on the pretext of bringing her dead soldier son home alive.

Police identified the gypsy as Mrs. Hazel Lee, 35, and charged her with grand larceny.

They said Mrs. Virginia Solomon of Brooklyn told this story:

The Defence Department notified her in January that her son, Arnold, had been killed in action in Korea. She refused to believe it.

The gypsy accosted her from a booth at Coney Island last May 13 —Mother's Day. The mother told her troubles. The gypsy suggested that her money was a curse—that if the curse were removed, the son might return.

After she surrendered the last of her "bad" money, at weird meetings, a package of her son's belongings arrived home last week. Her hope finally died. So did her gullibility. She notified the district atorney's office.

Union, Company Deadlocked, Fear Long Strike

TORONTO, July 25 (CP)—The prospect of a long strike hung over the Timmins goldfields today as union and management remained deadlocked over union security provisions.

Government attempts to settle the two-week-long strike of 1,600 employees at Hollinger mines failed yesterday after 5½ hour discussion with company officials and executives of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL).

Labor Minister Daley said after the meeting that the stumbling block to settlement of the strike was the question of union dues check-off.

Reject Suggestion

He said the company had rejected a government suggestion that the two parties attempt first to settle their wage differences, leaving until later the matter of the check-off.

His proposal was that 60 days after wage agreement is reached, a vote be taken among the employees on the check-off. If 60 per cent voted in favor of it, a voluntary revocable check-off would be instituted in the Hollinger mine, largest on the continent.

On the question of wages, four cents separates the management and employees. The union wants a 17-cent-an-hour increase. The company has offered benefits which it says total 13 cents an hour.

The union's spokesman, William Sefton, head of the mining section, declared that the company's position was "fantastic." He told reporters that the union was prepared to recommend acceptance of the formula by employees.

"It is extremely hard to understand their attitude in view of the fact that they were the ones who publicly expressed a desire for mediation," he said.

He promised that the union would hold out, no matter how long, for the formula proposed by the Minister. He added that the union had offered to pay the administrative cost of checking-off the dues from employees' pay.

New Plant Starts To Produce Cortisone

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP). — A new relief for the shortage of cortisone, the wonder hormone, was announced today by the Schering Corporation, drug manufacturers.

Beginning today, it is putting cortisone on the market, under the trade name of cortogen. It is the same cortisone as made by Merck and Company, the pioneers of this hormone, and it is made by a similar process from ox bile.

This puts three large drug manufacturers in the cortisone business. Recently Syntex Incorporated, of Mexico City, announced a new method of making the hormone from a Mexican yam and said that within a year they would be able to double the current world production.

Flight Over Pole "Jolly Good" To Fly Back

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA, July 25—(AP)—Ten crew members of an R.A.F. bomber stretched their air legs today after a casual hop over the top of the world from Iceland to Fairbanks.

It took the four-engined Aries bomber 18 hours and 54 minutes to go over the North Pole to Fairbanks from Keflavik, Iceland, a 3,558-mile jaunt.

"It was a beautiful day at the North Pole" and a "jolly good flight," Wing Cmdr. R. T. Frogley commented after arriving here through "typical English weather" in an instrument landing at 9:54 a.m. (3:54 p.m. EDT) yesterday.

Today the 10-man party, plus a Reuters reporter, Peter Jackson, who joined the expedition at the last minute in Iceland, were sightseeing.

Tomorrow at 8 a.m. (2 p.m. EDT) they plan to fly the plane the 4,128 miles back to Manby, England. The return flight will be via the Polar Regions, but not necessarily over the Pole again, Frogley said.

He called the trip merely a training flight and passed over questions on whether it had military significance.

The Aries bomber has no gun turrets and has extra gas tanks for long-range flying. It is a modified version of the Lincoln. An earlier Lincoln model skipped over the Pole to land at Ladd air force base near here in 1944.

BRANDON, Man., July 25 (CP) —Unless torrential rains are received in Brandon and the immediate vicinity within the next week, the 1951 crop season will be drier than the driest of the drought years in the 1930's and one of the driest in the last 62 years. Precipitation records at the Dominion Experimental Farm here show that since April 1 rainfall has been only 2.94 inches. The 61-year average of precipitation from April 1 to July 31 is 9.04 inches.

When he failed to write or phone his parents after his disappearance on July 12, they became worried and notified police. This week his description was sent out and yesterday police here were advised by a Mrs. Taylor of Toronto that she and her husband had picked up the youth at Cobourg on July 12 and that he got out of the car at Scarboro. He is five feet, four inches in height, weighs 120 pounds, has brown wavy hair, hazel eyes and was wearing a grey and black plaid shirt, navy blue trousers and brown shoes.

"The tenders will be called next month and once the tender is chosen, there will be no delay in getting at construction," the mayor said.

7,000 Attend Funeral Marshal Petain

ILE D'YEU, France, July 25 — (AP)— More than 7,000 persons, including noted figures of both world wars, gathered on this bleak island today as last rites were held for Marshal Henri-Philippe Petain.

Long before the funeral hour the square in front of the little church of Notre Dame was packed with residents and tourists here for the funeral of the old soldier who won national acclaim in the First World War and a traitor's ignominy in the Second.

Among the notables arriving was Gen. Maxime Weygand, who tried desperately in 1940 to save France's shattered armies from collapse. Four former ministers who served Petain in the Nazi-dominated Vichy government also came.

Through the portals of the flag-draped church eight First World War veterans bore Petain's coffin.

Inside Church

Inside the church 25 candles in silver holders shed a soft glow over the casket in which lay the hero of Verdun.

On a silken cushion near the coffin rested the old warrior's military cap and the Military Medal—France's highest decoration—which was near him when the end came. But there was no marshal's baton. That was taken from Petain during the post-war trial when he was sentenced to death on charges of betraying his country. The sentence later was commuted to life imprisonment and Petain spent all but the last month of his life in an old fortress on this tiny island.

Madame Petain entered the church veiled in black, leaning heavily on a wooden cane.

Those officiating at the rites included Monsignor Rodhain, chaplain of the prison; Monsignor Chappoulies, bishop of Angiers, and the priests of the two little parishes on the island.

As the requiem mass began—celebrated by Dean Podevin, vicar-general of Paris— the bells of Notre Dame tolled slowly.

The government ordered Petain buried in a plot near the church on this rocky island where he served out his sentence.

Hydro Wires Touch Firemen Are Called

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25 — (ENS)—A freak fire of short duration had residents puzzled on Tuesday afternoon, when a hydro wire began to sag and rested on several other wires leading from the same pole. The wires started to smoke, and bystanders were warned to keep well back, in case the wire should burn through and fall to the ground. The insulation on the wires burned for a distance of more than 100 feet, but did not ignite the home of W. F. Scott, on Hastings Road, into which they led. The fire department answered the call but left the situation up to the public utilities commission workmen. The only damage was to the wires, about 100 feet of which will have to be replaced.

Parks Board Irked By Delays In Building

COBOURG, July 25 (ENS) — The architect on the bath house project at the beach, inspected the premises yesterday and the board is hoping that when he presents his report, that it will speed up the job and that it will be possible to finish it with the present contractor. Delay in getting the contract finished has irked the parks board who notified the contractor that he would have to speed up the job and get it finished or the balance of the job would be handed over to someone else. With the summer half over and the park jammed with people each weekend, the board has been uneasy over what it claims has been too long a delay.

Canadians Take It Easy

New factories, new machines, new labour-saving techniques in industry have sprouted all over Canada in the last five years since the war. Mechanized Canada has advanced by leaps and bounds. Despite all this, the amount of goods produced in relation to the population has not increased at all. In productivity Canada is standing still — reckoned per capita.

• • •

This means that Canadians are taking life easier. They are not working as hard. They are not producing more goods, with all their extra tools and labour-saving devices.

• • •

That is all very well, if there were not some other factors affecting the situation. Canadians live in a rich country. They are rich people, the second richest in the world. What is the point of having these riches if the people cannot take life easy?

• • •

The nigger in the woodpile—and it's not the slave that the wealthy citizens of Rome used to have to do their work while they took life easy in villas—is this: about ten per cent of Canada's national product is now ear-marked for defence. Instead of nearly all produce being directed, as might be expected in peace-time, into washing-machines, cars, refrigerators, easy chairs, cigars and after-dinner port, ten per cent. goes up the spout in Korea and other disturbed places, or to prepare for other international disturbances. That much goods is being taken out of Canadian home consumption. Ten per cent. of our working industrial effort is not available for our use and ease. Therefore, if Canadians want to take things as easy as they are doing, they will have to do it on less goods—ten per cent. less. In other words, if they take life easy and do not produce more than they have been doing, they will have to take their ease on a lower standard. But that is not Canadians' idea of easy life, good life, rich life.

• • •

The plain facts are these: we cannot work less and still get all the food and things we want, and still devote a tenth of the national productivity to armament. At the rate Canadians are working now and the rate of defence budgeting, the standard of living must drop. It has already.

• • •

There are two remedies for this: either work more or spend less on armament. Sensible Canadians know very well the danger of relaxing their defensive vigilance. Peace through strength is the order of the day now—a stern regimen dictated by the Kremlin. The only other feasible course therefore is to produce more goods per capita (Canada is producing more goods in aggregate—but there are more men used in producing them, as well as more machines). To produce more goods requires more work. Machines alone cannot do it while people take it easy.

• • •

Despite the riches of their country and their fine new machines and their greater mechanization, Canadians cannot afford to take things easy. To produce all the goods people want for their own use and at the same time pour ten per cent. of production into military channels cannot be done on an eight-hour day, or a ten-hour day with slackness. The plain facts of the situation are that we must work harder. If we take things easy we lose the things on which we depend for our ease.

Middle East Messes

Our map on this page today shows the strategic position of the Middle East in world trade and politics. Trouble has brewed in several quarters of that district and there can be no mistaking that it is of consequence to the West, intrinsically far more important than Korea because of the oil and the trade routes.

King Abdullah of Jordan has been assassinated—an event which is having deep and wide repercussions in the embassies of the world, with especial force in Palestine and Egypt. Arab fanaticism may again be unleashed.

In Persia there are grave problems over the supply and control of oil. In this Russia has a peculiar interest. A former member of the Soviet Economic Mission in Tehran from 1943 to 1949, Lev Mstislavovich Vasiliev, has disclosed the Soviet hand in Iran. This former Russian embassy official, who fled and is now in London has warned that the aim of present Soviet policy is to deny Persian oil to the West, and to gain control of Persia, and if possible Iraq, thereby outflanking Turkey.

A third pressing problem in the Middle East is the Suez Canal. For a long while Egypt has been applying restrictions on the Suez Canal, a kind of blockade which is affecting shipping and the British oil industry. These are directed primarily at Israel, but are hampering other countries as well. The restrictions are in violation of the armistive agreement of 1949 between Egypt and Israel which Dr. Ralph Bunche negotiated as U.N. mediator. Sid Gladwyn Jebb of Britain told the Security Council last November that "the continuance in force of these restrictions for so long . . . contributes . . . to the state of tension and uneasiness in the Middle East." The Suez problem is only one of many interrelated problems which the West and U.N. now face in the Middle East.

Bayreuth And Hitler

Founded by Richard Wagner three quarters of a century ago, the historic festival at Bayreuth, Bavaria, re-opens next Sunday for the first time since the war. There will be a month of traditional Wagnerian productions, including Die Meistersinger, Parsifal and the two cycles of The Ring, under the direction of Wieland and Wolfgang Wagner, the composer's grandsons.

This announcement is heartening to musicians everywhere and proof that great art survives its worst friends and dearest enemies. Hitler, for instance, adopted Wagner as the mirror of the Nazi soul and his own consolation and justification. He tried to make the composer and Bayreuth his own. He did, so long as ultra-anti-Germans banned Wagner from their own music (there was not so much of this falsely patriotic nonsense in the last war as in the first) and so long as only Nazis could take part in Bayreuth. Even the best-balanced of artistic people came to feel that Wagner's music was Nazi-tainted when Hitler took it under his compromising patronage. That shadow has been removed, and Siegfried of The Ring is no longer a mere Nazi muscular amoralist nor Hans Sachs, the cobbler hero of Die Meistersinger, a cheerleader of the Deutsche Volk. Wagner and Bayreuth are again returned to their proper place in Europe's culture.

It seems that Hitler used to know his Wagner quite well. At after-theatre parties at Bayreuth he would expound to his clique his theories of staging, and give detailed critiques on the performance. (He thought that the second act of Parsifal would be more effective if the Flower Maidens sang in the nude.) The theatre would at times be booked completely for Hitler Youth and Hitler himself attended as often as possible.

Bayreuth has survived Nazi racial theories, Hitler and the bombs of war. An American division took the town by storm in April, 1945, but did not scar the theatre. The festival playhouse remains a solid, brickish reality much as Wagner conceived and built it on a surburban hilltop for the first cycles of The Ring in 1876.

The Wagner line survives with the playhouse. Richard Wagner spoke in 1882 of directing Bayreuth ten more years and then handing it over to his son Siegfried who would be 23 by that time. The composer died within a few months. His widow Cosima, daughter of Franz Liszt, took over and ruled until the next century and old age overwhelmed her. Siegfried succeeded her and died in 1930 when his English-born wife, Winnifred Wagner took over. She became an ardent Nazi and has not been reinstated at Bayreuth. The succession is now entrusted to her sons, Richard Wagner's grandsons, Wieland, aged 34, and Wolfgang, aged 32. The former is producing the first post-war festival, the latter is managing it.

Hitler attempted to preserve the Wagner line, and succeeded. In 1939, Wolfgang was called up like other Germans but the elder son, Wieland was exempted from military service. Only four other German families received such a distinction. Wolfgang was wounded in Poland and was visited in hospital by the Fuhrer in person, who brought with him a bouquet of pink roses.

Wagner has survived Queen Victoria's disapproval, Hitler's adulation, and two world wars. The re-opening of Bayreuth on Sunday is token that he may survive the Atomic Age.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A statistician estimates that the average common cold costs $3.30. The thirty cents is probably some kind of tax.

Beer is now recommended to women for setting their hair. But it's not good manners to be plastered before the party.

A female journalist writes that "the new woman is at home in politics, industry, business and sport." Is she ever at home in the home?

The conjurors may be right when they tell us that the hand is quicker than the eye,, but it's still a lot slower than the mosquito.

This headline in the Montreal Gazette, over an account of W. Averill Harriman's mediation in the Iranian oil dispute caught the eye: "Truman Envoy Keeps Talking." But it's oil we want, not air.

Anthony Eden

Ed. Note: The Right Honourable Anthony Eden, deputy-leader of the British Conservative Party is now en route to Canada for a summer tour. A week from today he will arrive in Port Hope where he will be the private guest of the Right Honourable Vincent Massey.

IF you could tour the world and ask at street corners: "Which living Englishmen have you ever heard of?" you would probably find that Anthony Eden's name came among the first few. His renown within this country is equally remarkable: and, like that of the late Ernest Bevin, it is not confined to the ranks of his own party.

How has it come about that Eden is one of the figures that is held to be representative of this country? Why is he one of the few men who can get a good hearing from all classes of the community? There is no simple answer to such questions, but it seems probable that Anthony Eden's reputation is in part based on what he is.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE is one of the few survivors of a lost generation—those who fought the First World War. In some ways, that war made a deeper mark on this country than the last. It was waged as one battle that went endlessly on, compelling thousands to follow a nightmarish way of life and death in trenches.

In that unspeakable ordeal, it was the junior officers who held the psychological focal point of greatest strain. Everyone knew this: and a kind of instinctive trust grew up between them and their fellow-countrymen.

Captain Eden, as he was known in Parliament in the twenties, symbolized this gallant type of young man—gay, earnest, and of obvious unselfishness. He spoke to Parliament and to the public with an ease and intimacy that came of his experiences.

Another of these young men from Flanders, who was to show the same instinctive knowledge of how to address and lead his fellow countrymen, was Montgomery. Perhaps it is because the characters of both these men were formed as subalterns in the trenches that they are always thought of as young; both are spoken of as if they were still boys.

ROBERT ANTHONY EDEN was born in 1897, a younger son of Sir William Eden, of Windlestone, in the county of Durham. The family had a distinguished political history. In the eighteenth century there were four Eden brothers—one was M.P. for Durham, two were ambassadors, and the fourth was a Governor of Maryland at the time of the American War of Independence. In the next generation Sir Frederick Morton Eden, an economist, wrote a book, "The State of the Poor," which Karl Marx described as the only important treatise produced by a disciple of Adam Smith. And Emily Eden produced her book, "The Semi-Detached House," a social sketch in the vein of Jane Austen.

The Edens were gentry of that liberal kind that has made Britain the country of political change and political stability. And the same is true of Eden's maternal ancestors, the Greys, among whom is Lord Grey, of the Reform Bill.

✧ ✧ ✧

SIR WILLIAM EDEN, Anthony's father, was not a politician. He was an eccentric country gentleman and an artist, whose paintings at the turn of the century were of sufficient merit and originality to be exhibited by the progressive New English Art Club. From him his son has inherited taste, sensibility and temperament.

Anthony's boyhood was a mixture of field sports, aesthetics, and political conversation. He was schooled at Eton College, and went from school to the King's Royal Rifle Corps. In 1915, at the age of 18, he joined his regiment in France. He served with distinction, winning the Military Cross.

When he went up to Oxford after these years in the Army he took no part in the political societies of the undergraduates. Thinking to make diplomacy his career, he studied Oriental languages—Persian and Arabic—and passed his final examinations with First-Class Honours.

His chief interest at Oxford was that of his father, painting. He founded the Uffizi Society, and read a paper on Cezanne: "To live entirely for his art, to remove all else; that was the example Cezanne gave us."

Eden has retained his interest in art, painting in water-colours at intervals, and collecting the works of Impressionists: his wartime flat at the Foreign Office was enlivened by some of them.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN his early days as an M.P. the decisive influence in Conservative politics was that of Stanley Baldwin. This Walpolian figure held his party and the country by a quiet and tolerant leadership that was irresistible.

Mr. Eden certainly did not model himself on Mr. Baldwin—that would, in any case, have been impossible, as Mr. Baldwin was of another character and symbolized the solid middle class. But he certainly found himself in close accord with Mr. Baldwin's tolerant good humour, lack of exaggeration, and genuine feeling for the country as a whole.

His apprenticeship in foreign affairs — in which Mr. Baldwin, to his undoing, was never much interested—came largely from Sir Austen Chamberlain. It was not the best of apprenticeships, and may well be responsible for Mr. Eden's inclination to listen overmuch to his officials.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE easy conventionality of that period was suddenly jarred by the coming to power of Hitler. Eden, as Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs and later Lord Privy Seal with responsibility for League affairs, was immediately concerned.

It was after a meeting, with Mussolini in February, 1934, that his speeches began to show a marked disagreement with those of the then Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon. He began to develop a line of his own; the gist of it was that we had to stand up to the dictators. After a brief period as Foreign Secretary—when still only 38 years old — Mr. Eden, strongly supported by Lord Cranborne (now the Marquis of Salisbury) resigned from Mr. Neville Chamberlain's government in February, 1938.

To resign such high office at so young an age was an act of considerable merit. It was greeted by a strong wave of sympathy in the public, particularly among Left-wingers who were impotently wishing that something could be done about the Fascists. It made Mr. Eden's name in the country and throughout the world.

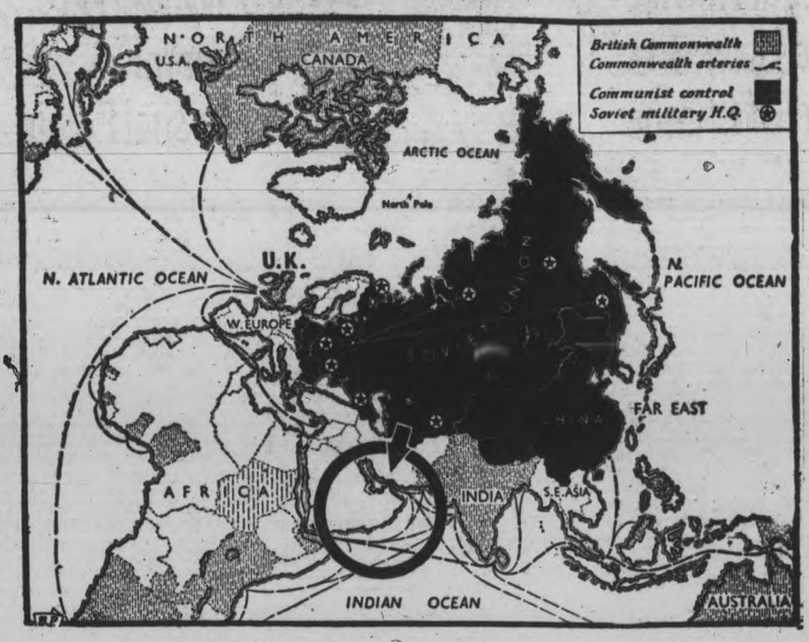
✧ ✧ ✧

HIS part in the events that followed is well known. As Mr. Churchill's Foreign Secretary, he shares the honour of creating the wartime Grand Alliance; he must also share responsibility for not foreseeing the Soviet Union's post-war policy, although in this cardinal matter few in either party can show much to their credit.

It is Mr. Eden's attitude to home affairs that is likely to be of primary importance to his future. As successor-designate to Mr. Churchill, and therefore as a potential Prime Minister, he will be largely judged on those home issues that determine the vote-casting at General Elections.

✧ ✧ ✧

HERE Mr. Eden may some day make a stronger appeal than his political adversaries will like. It is not impossible to imagine that the Conservatives clear themselves of their electorally weakening connections and ally themselves firmly with that mass of people which reacts to the suggestive picture of "a property-owning democracy": the phrase was Mr. Eden's. If he did, it would not be the first time that an aristocratic leader made a shift in the social character of this country.



He gained a large experience, both of home and foreign affairs: he has shown courage: and he is beholden to no one for his position. Above all, he has that capacity to keep people together that is an essential of political leadership. He may well have his greatest opportunities before him.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE figure of Anthony Eden is essentially a likeable one; it is also one to respect. To achieve fame and remain modest; to have authority and remain gentle; to contend for power without becoming coarsened and cunning—these are major virtues, as rare in private life as in politics. Perhaps it is these qualities that have gained for Captain Eden, the Foreign Secretary who resigned, that special place in the regard of his countrymen which makes him one of the leading figures of our day.

MIDDLE EASTERN DEFENCE

The Commonwealth Defence discussions in London are dealing with the Middle East, which is a weak but vital link in Commonwealth defence. The Middle East is not only important as a source of oil, it is also the cross-roads of East-West air traffic and the gateway to Southern Asia and the Indian Ocean.

The strategic value of the Persian Gulf is illustrated on the map above by the network of shipping lines within a black circle.

Britain has never been able to station large forces in the Middle East in peace-time, but until 1947 her control of the Indian Army gave her a large reserve force in the area. The defence of the Indian sub-continent still rests in the Middle East and South-East Asia, but partition has deprived the Commonwealth of a central military command, and the Kashmir dispute has diverted the military resources of India and Pakistan.

Russia's last bid to reach the Gulf and acquire the oil for her own use failed in 1946, when she withdrew her armed forces from Azerbaijan. But the Middle East remains a very tempting prize, for of all might expand, it is the one sistance is hardest to organize. the directions in which Russia where effective military re- (Bip Pares map, copyrighted.)

Finland Does It Again

(THE LONDON TIMES)

THE Finns have demonstrated again in a general election that their country is not to be taken for Communism from within. Circumstances seemed, in some respects, to favour extreme politics—Finland is suffering from inflation that is about the worst in the world—but the great majority of Finns have again rallied to the defence of their internal freedom and democratic way of life.

As in 1948, the non-Communist parties have been given some 80 per cent. of the seats in Parliament. The Social Democrats, main bulwark against a Communist advance, have polled more votes than any other single party and have displaced the Agrarians as the largest in Parliament.

The Agrarians, indeed, have had to pay a price, in seats, for their part in the redistribution of their supporters' estates and farms to provide land for refugees, but they, with the Conservatives, Finnish People's (formerly Liberal), and Swedish parties, who together support M. Kakonnen's government, have kept a narrow majority over all others.

To be sure, the Communists and their fellow travellers have gained a few seats, but the reasons for this do not appear to be significant. The recent elections to the trade union convention showed them losing ground, and before the general election they reorganized their staff work for a special effort in trade unions and districts where they had a majority. They benefited from the dispersal among the constituencies of the 425,000 refugees from ceded and leased territories, anti-Communist to a man ,whose vote was decisive in some constituencies three years ago—and also from the complacent absence of a substantial number of non-Communist electors from the polls.

The Communists campaigned with peculiar advantages. Their battalions of full-time organizers were financed from sources never publicly specified. They were supported by a constant stream of abuse directed from the Soviet Union at, particularly, the Social Democrats, and the implied threat, in view of their military weakness, might have cowed a less sturdy people.

Now, on the score of their modest election gains, the Communists may press, with the support of Moscow, for reinclusion in the government. But the courage the Finns showed when they discarded a Communist Prime Minister in 1948 has repaid itself. By deferring to the Soviet government in foreign policy and by punctilious fulfilment of reparations obligations they have, as they justly claim, made it unnecessary for Russia to intervene in their affairs.

THEY know that the Soviet government, although it would prefer to see Finland moulded politically and economically into the totalitarian shape of Eastern European satellites, has reasons for self-restraint so long as Finnish foreign policy gives it no cause for alarm. It may be that the Soviet government woud hesitate at any move likely to drive Sweden into the circle of the North Atlantic Treaty.

Finnish democracy has justified itself by its works. More than 425,000 refugees—one-ninth of the population—from Karelia and other lost or ceded territories, have been absorbed into the agricultural and industrial life of the country. Food supplies have been improved. An export trade with the West has been rebuilt. An economic truce signed a month ago between government, employers, trade unions, and farmers, will, it is hoped, assist the nation to halt the galloping consumption of inflation, cause of much suffering and hardship. The Western powers have some obligation to lend a helping hand to this small but gallant people.

Transfusion For Lords

(Windsor Star)

If at some indefinite date a picket line is seen outside the House of Lords, with monocled and modishly-attired men walking in it two by two, it may not cause any surprise.

The new issue of Debrett, which keeps track of such things, shows Britain's Labour Government had 16 new peers created last year. Since 1946, the total has been 67. Most if not all of them, we may be sure, were time-tested Labour party men.

Even at this rate it will take a long time, probably much longer than the Labour party can hope to extend its present term of office, before a Labour majority will be possible in the Lords. It has a full membership of about 740, and a longevity record that matches that of our Senate.

Members of the British old guard probably are tut-tutting in their clubs over the expanding invasion of the Lords by Laborites; but Britain has no other institution in greater need of the kind of transfusion its often reactionary Upper House is getting.

It'll Be All Right On The Night

"As the months went by the pace quickened, the site became still more congested. Exhibits began to arrive—there were some ten thousand of there. Whether it is an ashtray or a pedigree bull, a cricket bat or a monster telescope, a railway engine or a sofa cushion, it has to be chosen, labelled, catalogued, and put in its right place. This was the period—so unfamiliar to all exhibition designers—when the little daily disasters occur and multiply as the fatal day of opening approaches. The rats which gnawed at the telephone cables: the roofs leaking over valuable exhibits: the statute which was fixed (to the horror of the sculptor) facing, it seems, the wrong way: the underwater lighting point that leaked: the refrigerating plant which suddenly began to disgorge more water than its drains could carry: the sparrows that stripped the bark from the young bamboos: the piece of glass, shaped, engraved and polished over many weeks, which when lifted for the final dusting broke: the tree, alas, that died."

Hugh Casson, director of architecture for the Festival site in London, speaking about pre-opening difficulties in a BBC programme.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day. (Ps. 25: 5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And Jacob was left alone; and there wrestled a man with him until the breaking of the day. And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.

And he said unto him, What is thy name? And he said, Jacob. And he said, Thy name shall be called no more Jacob, but Israel for as a prince hast thou power with God and with men, and hast prevailed.

And Jacob asked him, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, Wherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there. And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved. (Gen. 32. 24-30.)

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. (Matt. 5: 8.)

Taught Himself Gives Concerts Free Of Charge

CALGARY(CP)—Sidney Leonard of Winnipeg has spent most of his life playing the piano for other people's entertainment—free.

And he's never had a music lesson in his life.

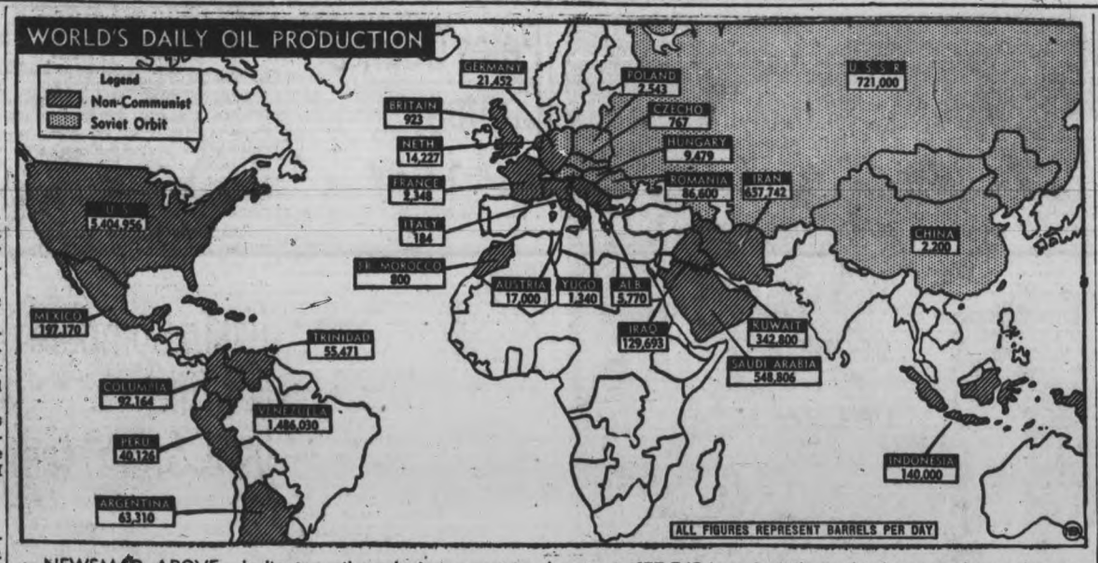
The 64-year-old entertainer visited Calgary on a Western tour recently, playing for war veterans, hospital patients and crippled children.

"I've been in plenty of hospitals myself," said the veteran entertainer, "and it's a real pleasure to cheer up shut-ins because I know just how they feel."

All Free

Born in South Africa, Mr. Leonard moved to Winnipeg in 1907.

He says he has never received a penny for his efforts. Any gate receipts are given to charity and he pays all his own expenses from his private income from an estate in South Africa.



He has never taken a piano lesson in his life and can't read a note of music, but he can play any musical selection from the overture to "Faust" to "Alexander's Rag-Time Band"—in any key you want.

Gassed at Passchendaele in the First World War, he found enjoyment after leaving hospital in providing entertainment for others in hospitals, asylums, jails, penitentiaries, mental homes and army camps.

"I do it to fill in time," he says.

UK Statement Of War Effort Clears Record

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

The United Kingdom information office in Ottawa, in an eight-page release, gathers together extracts from various official statements of United Kingdom international policy, as made by government spokesmen since the start of the year.

The material is not new, but bringing it together in one compilation helps to clarify Britain's position today. Especially interesting for re-reading are statements on Britain's contributions to western defence, and on aspects of her policy for which she has been criticized in some quarters.

Perhaps the following quotation, from Sir Oliver Franks, ambassador to the United States, as given in an interview May 18, is typical:

"We have put 23,000 fighting men on the land, in the air and on the sea in the Korean struggle—not 5,000 as some people think. There is a total of 220,000 British ground troops overseas in 19 countries on guard against Communist aggression. Four divisions are already in Germany; large forces are fighting the Communists in Malaya; a big garrison is defending Hong Kong.

"We have one-third the population of the United States and to keep these forces abroad Britain has had universal military training ever since the last war—conscription for boys of 18, now for a two-year period. These are the reasons why the British people get annoyed when our contribution of 23,000 fighting men to Korea is dismissed as a token force."

The Canadian council of the International Chambe rof Commerce has distributed in Canada two recent studies of the international chamber. One outlines the principles of transport co-ordination in the world. The other deals with "distribution censuses" or information useful to business men in various countries in estimating outlets for goods.

In an accompanying release the Canadian chamber says:

"In the fiel dof distribution statistics, the Bureau of Statistics in Canada is probably outstanding among the chamber's member countries and the Canadian report (summarized in the brochure) was of considerable value to the studies of the ICC committee."

Clyde McDonald, formerly of the Bureau of Statistics, was the Canadian representative on the committee.

Farewell Said To Minister

HAVELOCK, July 25—(ENS)—A social gathering was held in Havelock United Church on Monday evening to say "farewell to the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, Mrs. Vanderburgh and their family prior to their departure for the Deep River-Chalk River charge of the United Church.

Fred Rogers acted as chairman the first part of the program being held in the church auditorium. The proceedings commenced with a sing-song of hymns followed with prayer by the Rev. R. G. Newman.

Returned From US

Mr. Vanderburgh returned over the weekend from the United States where he was one of three ministers from Canada to represent the Board of Missions of the United Church, and he gave a very interesting report of his course which had to do with the rural church. He also gave an account of interesting church services that he had attended in Chciago. One of these was a large Negro church and Mr. Vanderburgh and a friend from Canada were invited to the platform.

Four Collections

During the service four collections were taken up, he said, for four different purposes. He visited the Rockfeller Memorial chapel where the largest pipe organ in the world is situated. He spoke about the great metropolitan centre that Chicago is, the population of which including the surrounding municipalities is 5,500,000 and the area within a radius of 50 miles of the city has a population of 50,000,000.

Presentations Made

Two solos were sung by Mrs. J. Pikelis, a humorous reading was given by Mrs. William Smith and an organ and piano duet by Donald and Barbara Pollock.

The gathering adjourned to the Sunday school auditorium where addresses were given by the Rev. R. D. Duncanson of Knox Presbyterian church, the Rev. R. G. Newman, Chairman Rogers, James Watson on behalf of the Sunday school and E. C. Pace. Mr. Vanderburgh was presented with a splendid filing cabinet by B. Johnson and E. D. Chiles, the presentation address being made by Mr. Rogers. Following this Vanderburgh was presneted with a purse of money from the Women's Association. Mrs. W. Nobes Sr. read the address and Mrs. Harry Agnew presented the gift.

Mrs. Vanderburgh was also presented with a lovely necklace by Mrs. R. Green with Mrs. B. Johnson making the presentation on behalf of the Evening Auxiliary.

Refreshments were served by the Women's Association and the activities were brought to a close with a friendship circle and the singing of "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Mississippi Flood Expected To Do Little More Damage

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., July (AP). — The devastating Midwestern flood headed for the south today, but minus the punch that caused an estimated $1,000,000,000 damages in Kansas and Missouri.

Army Engineers and Weather Bureau officials don't expect further damage as the Mississippi River flood crest heads for the Gulf of Mexico. High, strong levees keep the river in check the rest of the way.

The officials said it would take a double-barrelled blow from both the Upper Mississippi and the Ohio Rivers to bring trouble and the Ohio is below flood stage.

Stores Open

Many storekeepers continued to operate here, using pumps and sandbags to keep the water down. Clerks waded around in boots serving customers.

Total damage here was estimated at $1,000,000, much of it in wages lost bf 1,500 factory workers when water surrounded their plants.

A stretch of Cape Girardeau two miles long and two blocks wide along the river front was covered by water. The river began rising 30 days ago and began causing damage about a week ago.

Across the river in the McClure, Ill., area, farmers used a huge pump to get rid of seepage water in a rich farm bottomland.

Upstream in Perry County, Missouri, and on the Illinois side near St. Louis, Army Engineers still expressed concern for some levees despite a fall in the river level. Up to 30,000 acres of farm land would be affected by breaks in the water-soaked barriers.

Let Public Know Stocks' Worth

TORONTO, July 25 (CP)—O. E. Lennox, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, Tuesday recommended that Ontario adopt "full disclosure" legislation similar to that in effect in the United States.

Addressing the Legislature Committee on Crime, he said: "In my opinion, such legislation—requiring the complete revelation to the public of the merit of a security—would be the best means of off-setting false dealings."

Mr. Lennox told the committee that most of the commission's prosecutions had been against unregistered dealers. Investigations were mainly concerned with promotional houses selling treasury shares direct to the public through high pressure mail and telephone tactics, he added.

Petain Buried Near 12 Canadians, British

ILE D'YEU, France, July 25—(Reuters) — Marshal Philippe Petain will lie today near 12 Canadian airmen and British commandos in the little graveyard at Port Jouville on Ile D'Yeu off the west coast of Frace.

The Canadians were shot down by a German ship off the coast during the Second World War. The British bodies were washed up on the Island after the St. Nazaire raid.

The 95-year-old marshal, a First World War hero convicted as a traitor after the Second World War, died Monday morning.

Pre-war price of newsprint was £10 a ton.

Betting Scandal To Spread To Second School

By JERRY LISKA.

PEORIA, Ill., July 25 (AP.) — The college basketball betting scandal that has smeared New York and this cage-proud town today was expected to spread to another school.

Even as authorities sought to swell the list of five Bradley University players who took $5,500 in bribes it was reported that District Attorney Frank Hogan of New York was prepared to drag a new school into the mushrooming cage scandal.

Vincent A. G. O'Connor, Assistant New York District Attorney, who has been assisting in unearthing the bribery at Bradley, one of the top cage schools in the United States, declined to reveal the next school under suspicion.

Meanwhile, five members of Bradley University basketball team were in technical custody for accepting bribes from gamblers.

Players

They were all-American Gene Melchiorre, 23; William Mann, 24; Aaron Preece, 24; Charles (Bud) Grover, 22; and Jim Kelley, 21, who still has another year of competition at Bradley. The other four are out of school.

O'Connor said that two more Bradley players remain to be questioned, but it was believed neither was seriously implicated in the "fixes" which involved Bradley's 67-59 win over Washington State College, and Bradley's 77-74 triumph over Oregon State last Dec. 7. The "fix" was on a point-spread basis.

At New York, it was announced Nicholas (The Greek) Englisis, and his brother, Anthony, both of Brooklyn were under arrest for conspiring to fix two Bradley games. One involved a Bradley-Bowling Green (Ohio) game at Madison Square Garden in New York in the 1948-49 season, and a Bradley-St. Joseph game at Philadelphia in 1950. Neither game was under fire in the investigation here.

Buttonshaw Pitches Bowmanville To Win

COBOURG, July 25—John Buttonshaw's seven-hit pitching was too much for Cobourg Legionnaires as Bowmanville Brooks scored an 8-1 win in a Lakeshore Intermediate Baseball League fixture.

The titlt was close until the fourth when Bowmanville jumped starter Jim Hart for five runs to settle the issue. A home run by first baseman Gallagher with one aboard featured the winners' eight-hit attack. Bryan Hart replaced brother Jim in the big fourth for the losers.

Umpire Allan of Oshawa ejected Furey of Bowmanville and B. Hart of Cobourg in the seventh for roughing after a close play at the plate.

Dekdebrun Quits Argonauts Over Salary

TORONTO, July 25 (CP)—The Canadian champion Toronto Argonauts and their brilliant quarterback, 27-year-old Al Dekdebrun, parted company last night.

The 160-pound offensive and defensive star quit because he was dissatisfied with salary arrangements, although he had signed a contract three months ago guaranteeing him the biggest sum ever paid to an Argo player.

Apparent cause of Dekdebrun's dissatisfaction was size of salaries reported being offered to other United States imports.

Although he left the team and returned to his home in Buffalo, NY, last night, there was still a chance he would be back. Argonaut officials said he would be given a chance to reconsider, but he'll have to make up his mind within the next week.

Bob Moran, Argonaut president, rejected Dekdebrun's demand for more money. He said he had signed three months ago at a "substantial increase" over last year.

More Than Coach

"At the present time," said Moran, "he is the highest paid player in the history of the Argonaut club. If we met his new demands he would be making more money than coach Frank Clair."

Moran said Dekdebrun called on him yesterday and said he didn't think he could be happy under his existing contract.

"I told him we didn't want players on our team that were unhappy and if he felt that way we didn't care to have him around. I believe Al got to thinking his salary wasn't fancy enough after reading what George Ratterman and some of the others were supposed to be getting."

Loss of Dekdebrun would be a big blow to Argos' hopes of retaining the Grey Cup they won last season in the Dominion final with Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Daring Plays

His daring calling of plays and artistic ball handling were among the chief reasons for the team's success. His fine defensive play was another factor.

Just whom Argos will get to replace Dekdebrun if he doesn't decide to come back is a question. The team might try for other imports or might decide to go along with the group of bright prospects on hand now.

They include Gerry Tuttle, a passing expert who acted as playing coach of Toronto Balmy Beach last season; George Arnott, quarterback of University of Western Ontario college champions, and Nick Volpe, Dekdebrun's understudy. Arnott and Volpe are Canadians, Tuttle came to Canada from Kent State College where he was a standout.

Pitcher Triumphs For Cubs Over Buffalo

By The Associated Press.

Springfield Cubs don't seem to be going anywhere in the International League—they're 25½ games back in last place—but their talented young righthanded pitcher, Frank Marino, is giving Cub fans something to feel good about.

Marino turned back Buffalo 10-5 last night for his fifth straight victory and a season's record of nine triumphs against five losses. Not bad for a hurler whose club has a 40-60 won-lost mark.

He got help from two unexpected sources last night as catcher Ray Cash and first baseman Ronnie George clouted their first homers of the season. Cash had himself a pair of round-trippers, good for four runs batted in. George also had four RBI's.

Montreal Wins

League - leading Montreal, meanwhile continued its merry way with a 6-4 victory over Rochester at the Red Birds' field.

Young Hampton Coleman and veteran Al Gionfriddo combined their talents to boost the Royals' lead over second-spot Buffalo to 11 games. Coleman pitched four-hit ball in a 6 1-3 inning relief job and Gionfriddo banged four hits in five times at bat.

Syracuse drew within a half-game of Buffalo by outlasting the Toronto Maple Leafs, 7-6, in a 15-inning struggle at Syracuse. Loren Babe's two-run homer supplied the winning runs and sent the customers home after Toronto had pushed over a run in the top of the inning. The struggle lasted three hours and 49 minutes.

Sixth-place Baltimore won its fourth straight with a free-swinging 6-4 win over Ottawa at Baltimore. Each club made 11 hits but the Orioles made four for extra bases.

Rowing Begins At Royal Henley

By CECIL SMITH,

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., July 25 (CP)—United States and Canadian rowing crews began arriving at tree-lined old Welland canal today for the opening of the 1951 Royal Canadian Henley Regatta—69th in the history of Canadian rowing.

The four-day classic continues Thursday and Friday with wind-up events slated for Saturday.

No sooner had many of the crews arrived when the competitors began loosening up for the big events later in the day.

Among the first crews out was the St. Catharines, Ont., Rowing Club, defending champions of the "point total" in the Regatta. They have won top honors for the last two years.

The meet gets under way at 5:00 p.m. EDT, with the first and second heats of the 145-pound quarter-mile singles dash, followed by the first, second and third heats in the 145-pound fours.

Other events scheduled for opening day are the high school singles, first and second heats in the junior fours, first and second heats in the junior 155-pound fours, and the first, second and third heats in the junior singles. Rounding out the day's events is the mile dash, 145-pound single final.

Also getting some practice, although they will not compete until the final day, was the St. Catharines Collegiate Institute's crew of eight, winners of the last two years of the Calder Cleland Memorial Cup.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Many a good golfer won't wander too far away on vacation next week from the Kawartha Golf Club course. Because the big Kawartha Lakes tournament is on Aug. 4-5-6 there, the Civic Holiday week-end. Officials term this the richest amateur golf tourney in the country, and the sixth annual one is expected to be the best yet. Open to all amateurs, and it attracts 'em from afar off, since prizes total $1,500. Competitions are divided into three classes with equal number of prizes for each. They drew 263 last year, Moe Norman of Kitchener being the big winner. It's a 54-hole event, and a dance Aug. 4 will lend a lighter note to the serious business of golfing.

With three and a half weeks left to go in their schedule, the OLA senior Petes are sharpening up as they still cling tightly to the top rung. But the hardest going is yet to come in the fight down the stretch and through the playoffs. Their shooting gave 'em the edge in that neat win at St. Catharines last Saturday. As the columnist there remarked: "Chief difference between the clubs, and the deciding factor in the game, was the superiority shown in marksmanship by the Petes when in close." The club, drilled hard by Don Crowe—and with plenty of talent aboard—appears to be starting to really click up to form when the chips are down. They're at Hamilton tonight, and have a home game Friday.

* * * * * * *

Huntley Leads The Way

Baseball batting averages for the Petes are in tonight, covering all Viaduct League games played up to yesterday but not last eve. Bill Huntley leads the club with a mighty .443 figure, smacking out 35 safe blows—many for extra bases—in 79 times to bat. Played 20 games, generally in right field. Nice going. George Brabin continues to comb the apple hard for a .378 mark, the ex-Oshawa junior doing better than many of the USA imports on Oshawa Merchants. Dick Golden has a fine .373 and Bill Dadson is not only the top twirler for Petes but is belting a respectable .355. Fred Garvey is good, too, with .351, Joe Stewart having .329 and Andy Milne .306. Bunny Maeson is just out of the charmed circle with .294.

* * * * * * *

That's mighty fine hitting when you find six regulars and one pitcher on a squad batting better than .300—some much better. Joe Lowrey is a little below form so far at the plate with .275 and Al Menzies—an okay catcher and generally a solid smacker—is down with .240. They should both come along fast the rest of the schedule, which goes three more weeks. Playoff averages don't show in the annual list as all teams don't compete in playoffs. The two ex-softballers, who gave up that game some time back to concentrate on baseball, are hitting in excellent style and both Garvey and Stewart are fielding good, too. Yes, Whitehill's top-place Petes are having a dandy season so far. They're at Oshawa on Saturday.

* * * * * * *

Mauling That Melon

In Toronto last night, the Petes pounced on Croftons to maul them 24-3 in eight innings, the homesters being quite willing to call it a halt then. The winners boosted their batting averages some more in this melee, Joe Stewart leading the way with four safe blows, Joe Lowrey, Al Menzies and Andy Milne getting three each, and all the others two clouts. Doug Plunkett hung up another pitching win for himself as three twirlers toiled in vain on the losers' slab. Croftons didn't help them any, either, as they kicked the cabbage around the patch for nine miscues. A poor show.

* * * * * * *

We note this item in Bunny Morganson's Tely column: "OBA sub-committee meets in Hamilton tonight and will deal with the Toronto and Niagara demand that Intercounty seniors be tossed out. TBA officials in Hamilton are seeking to allow Oshawa Merchants and Peterborough Petes of the Viaduct League to playoff to name an OBA contestant, leaving the TBA city title to the nine Toronto senior clubs, six in West Toronto and three at Millen Stadium." Hm, that's a thought, huh? The other business about tossing out the Intercounty Loop—for defying the OBA and using Jerry Creasey—would work a financial hardship on the Ontario body, and wouldn't worry the Western Ontario circuit in the slightest.

180 Air Groups

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Defence Secretary George C. Marshall said Tuesday the United States is building airplane production capacity able to sustain an air force of 180 groups. The number of planes in a group varies from 75 in a fighter group to 18 in a group of the heaviest bombers. He made that comment at a press conference when asked about complaints in Congress that the planned 95-group air force will not be large enough.

Petes Trounce Croftons In 24-3 Fray

Eddie Whitehill's hard-hitting senior baseball squad in the Viaduct Major League rang up their 20th victory against three defeats last night at Miller Stadium as they defeated Toronto Croftons 24-3, before a large crowd of Queen City fans.

Doug Plunkett twirled his fourth win of the campaign scattering nine hits as his teammates hammered the combined offerings of three Crofton hurlers for a total of 23 hits in eight innings of play; the game was called then by mutual agreement.

Fattened Averages

Offensive honors were fairly evenly shared by all players on the powerful lift-lock city nine, as each hit safely twice or more and drove in one or more runs in the one-sided slugfest.

Joe Stewart led with four safe bingles followed closely by Lowrey, Milne and Menzies each with three; the latter tripled while Stewart had a double for the only extra base blow; the others hit safely twice. A total of 14 stolen bases also featured the weird battle. Bill Haddleton, star centre-fielder for Croftons had three of his team's aggregate at the plate, fielded well despite one bobble and scored two of his team's three runs; Dave Stephens doubled and drove in a pair of runs to share honors.

Ontario Amateur Opens In London

LONDON, Ont., July 25 (CP)—Several of Ontario's top golfers took a practice turn over the London Hunt Club course yesterday in preparation for the Ontario amateur tournament opening today.

Jack Nash, of the London Hunt Club, and Phil Farley, of Toronto Scarboro each turned in a 70. Nash was winner of the Ontario amateur title the last time the event was held at the Hunt Club in 1946.

Emerson Creed, of the Hunt Club, carded a 69. Another Londoner, Jim Currie, had a 74. Jack Ameil, of Toronto Lambton, also had a 74. Nick Weslock, of Windsor, last year's winner, tourned the course but didn't turn in a card.

Harold Banks, president of the Ontario Golf Association, said it was hard to pick a winner in the tournament but that he liked the chances of George Eluck, of Windsor Lakewood.

Eluck went to the finals in the Ontario amateur in 1949 before losing to Jerry Kesselring, of Kitchener. Kesselring, winner of the London Hunt Invitation, was not on hand today.

"We have too many imports now," said Crowe, "and I want to give these fellows a chance to catch on somewhere else."

Huntley Leads The Petes At A .443 Clip

Solid Bill Huntley leads the Petes' hitters after 20 Viaduct Baseball League games have been played by him with a nifty .443 mark, away off by himself. The right-fielder, who catches at times, also, hit safely 35 times in 79 at bats, the averages being up to July 23. George Brabin is next with a neat .378 record in 21 games, Dick Golden being close behind with .373. Others in the charmed circle are Bill Dadson with .355, Freddy Garvey with .351, Joe Stewart with .329, and Andy Milne, who is hitting .306. The list:

Huff Motors Win In Cobourg League

COBOURG, July 25—Huff Motors whipped their Cobourg rivals, Wilson Motors, here Monday night in a Cobourg and District Softball League game, 10-8. Wilsons, last year's champions, tried Freddy Liscombe, their second base star, in a pitching role, but he got only as far as the fourth frame, Brandy Hie finishing it up.

The losers were tied up by Jim Hoy in the early part but he weakened toward the last. The loss puts the champions on the second last rung of the ladder.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

FROM its advent about five years ago Canadian stock car racing has swept into a prominent position in the sport fans' affection. An outgrowth of the wheeled sports in the United States, stock car racing first appeared in Canada shortly after World War II. Graduating from the hazy one-a-week meet on rural pasture tracks, stock car racing has now moved (in many cases) into the cities and towns on a strictly scheduled, professional basis. The fans, guaranteed many of the thrills and spills of big-time racing, have taken the battered, careening chariots to their hearts and pocketbooks. Stock car racing is good, clean, dangerous fun.

Mobile-Ontario

Sanctioned by the Canadian Stock Car Racing Club, the rules and regulations of the new sport are strictly enforced. But before covering the "Do's and Dont's" let's take a look at the expansion of the stock car game in Ontario.

It's estimated that nearly 600 drivers compete in races every week in and around such towns and cities as Belleville, Hamilton, Brantford, London, Windsor, Guelph, Chatham, Oshawa, Fort Erie and Toronto. According to the capacity of the available parks as many as 6,000 spectators crowd in to watch their favourite drivers perform and an over-all weekly attendance figure for stock car racing in the Province should hover around 60 to 70 thousand fans.

For some unknown reason at least 50 per cent of the fans are women which should prove something or other about the gentler sex, for, as far as we know, women racing drivers are almost unknown in the sport except possibly around Brantford, Ontario.

Stock-Rules

Contrary to a general belief, strict rules govern the racing cars you see roaring around the tracks. The Canadian Stock Car Racing Club has issued a complete brochure governing safety with respect to the vehicles themselves. For instance, "all cars must be an original hard top with no roadsters or convertibles allowed. All cars must have fenders but no sharp edges allowed. Headlights must be removed and bumpers must not be interlocking. Mufflers must be left on or cars sufficiently quiet to meet track approval. Windshields must be left in and be of safety glass type. All other windows must be rolled down or removed.

"All car doors must be welded, bolted or strapped shut. Quick-release safety belt compulsory, bolted to frame at both ends. All drivers must wear approved racing helmets. Rearview mirrors recommended. Inside steel bracing compulsory. Hub caps must be removed. Racing numbers shall be one on each side and one on rear. The number, 13 shall not be used, this to include outside competitors."

For us, that last admonition would be quite unnecessary!

Most Dangerous Job

Although, in action, the stock cars average anywhere from 50 to 60 mph., around the tracks the low score on serious accidents is a complimentary reflection on the governing body controlling the sport. And likely the most dangerous job is that of official starter.

We questioned Starter Ross Kennedy of the Oakwood Stock Car Racing Club (Toronto) and found that the closest Kennedy had come to disaster was losing the seat of his pants. But, nevertheless, the starter has to be a nimble operator handling his flags and controlling the actual race. Next time you attend the races check the masterful manipulation of flags: Green—for start; Orange—caution, do not pass; Red—serious accident; Black—disqualification; Crossed flags—halfway mark; White—one lap to go and, Checkered—winner.

To catch up on this stock car racing business you have your choice of the locations mentioned with, no doubt, many others on the way. At the moment, nearly half of the operating tracks are using arc-lights and specializing in night racing, so you have your choice of daytime or evening attendance.

We repeat, stock car racing is good, clean, dangerous fun. However, we'll still take that back seat high in the stands, please!

Yankees, Red Sox Both Win As Series At Home Begins

By RALPH RODEN,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, so-so performers on the road, once again are showing fine form before the home folks.

Both the Yanks and Red Sox, virtually tied for the lead, emerged with flying colors in the first brush yesterday with the contending Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox in the nip-and-tuck American League pennant race.

The Yanks, who top the Red Sox by three percentage points, opened a 19-game home stand by turning back the Indians 3-2. The loss dumped the Indians out of a second-place tie with the Red Sox into third place, one game behind the Yanks.

Boston launched a 21-game home stand by thrashing the slipping Chicago White Sox 8-3. The defeat dropped the fourth-place White Sox 3½ games back of New York.

In the other American League game Detroit Tigers nicked Washington Senators 2-1.

Brooklyn, meanwhile, stayed 9½ games in front in the National League. The Dodgers defeated Chicago Cubs 6-3 in 10 innings. The runner-up New York Giants edged Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 in 10 innings, while in other games Boston Braves downed Cincinnati Reds 6-1 and St. Louis Cardinals trimmed Philadelphia Phils 9-5.

Clutch Hitting

That old Yankee formula, air-tight pitching and clutch hitting, brought the Bombers their fifth straight victory and their 28th in 37 games at the Stadium. The victory also was the Yanks' 12th straight over the Indians in New York. Vic Raschi pitched a strong eight-hitter to post his 14th victory for the Yanks.

Leo Kiely, rookie lefthander up from Louisville, restricted the sagging White Sox to four hits as he turned in his second victory without a loss for the Red Sox. Kiely blanked Chicago until the eighth inning when Don Lenhardt followed two walks with his 10th homer of the season.

The Red Sox, who now have won 31 and dropped 10 at Fenway Park, salted the game away in the first inning when they scored five runs against Howie Judson and Harry Dorish on three hits and five bases on balls. Ted Williams pounded out his 19th homer in the second.

Marlin Stuart turned in his second straight six-hit victory as the Tigers nipped the Senators. Stuart lost his shutout when Clyde Kluttz singled home Sam Mele from second base with two out in the ninth.

Campanella Homer

Roy Campanella featured the Dodgers' victory over the Cubs. Campy socked a three-run homer to feature a four run, 10th-inning rally. The blow was his 16th and came off Paul Minner. Gil Hodges sent the game into overtime for the Dodgers with his 29th homer in the eighth. Clyde King, third Dodger pitcher, picked up his ninth victory.

Sal Maglie became the National's first 14-game winner as the Giants beat the Pirates. Willie Mays singled home Al Dark from second with the deciding run in the 10th. Maglie allowed only four hits, none after the fourth inning, and fanned 10.

The third-place St. Louis Cardinals, led by Stan Musial, and Wally Westlake, pounded out 14 hits in beating the Phils. Musial drove in two runs on a homer, triple and double. Westlake batted in three on a three-bagger and two singles.

In the fourth inning players almost came to blows following a decision at second base. Umpire Art Gore caled Ed Pellagrini safe at second when Red Schoendienst of the Cards dropped a throw. However Umpire Jocko Conlan reversed the ruling. Later Phil pitcher Russ Meyer, after sacrificing, turned to Card catcher Del Rice and Rice whipped off his mask and players poured from the dugouts. The umpires restored order apparently without a blow being struck.

Lefty Warren Spahn posted his 11th victory as the Braves broke up a close game at Cincinnati with a four-run rally in the seventh.

Opposition Back Demands Of Farm Unions

REGINA, July 25 (CP)—The three prairie farm unions today considered their next move in a campaign to get "justice for the western farmer."

Yesterday they placed their demands before three federal cabinet ministers and western Liberal and opposition members of parliament.

The Liberal spokesman, Agriculture Minister James G. Gardiner, parried the demands for 1½ hours. Later, the Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit opposition members of parliament voiced almost unqualified support for the farm union requests.

Discussions, with talk of a farm strike forming an ominous backdrop, revolved around a brief submitted jointly by the union leaders after it had been endorsed by some 1,200 farm union delegates.

Farm Bloc

Replying to the brief's recommendation for a parliamentary farm bloc similar to that in the United States Congress, Mr. Gardiner suggested it might not be manageable because of the Canadian parliamentary form of government which makes it necessary for the government to have a Commons majority at all times

He said the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, in a sense, might be said to include a farm bloc at Ottawa.

Mr. Gardiner parried other union statements on freight rates, farm debt, wheat prices and Trade Minister Howe's attitude towards farmers.

The contentious brief also requested a parity price for wheat sold on the domestic market, price controls and rollbacks, revision of the international wheat agreement ceiling price, floor prices for farm products, arbitration of government-farmer differences over the final payment on the five-year wheat pool and refunding money from grain overages to farmers.

Criticisms

Opposition speakers criticized the government for wheat pricing and marketing policies.

Victor Quelch (SC-Acadia) termed handling of the five-year pool a "flagrant breach of faith." He condemned the international wheat agreement as a "crackpot scheme."

J. A. Ross (PC-Souris) said the government had turned wheat marketing into a political football and inflation, due to government policies, had worsened the farmers' position.

The separate meetings with government and opposition members of parliament ended the two-day joint rally of the farm unions representing a minority of western agriculture.

SCHOOL GIRLS MEET QUEEN—A party of 50 Canadian school girls were presented to Queen Elizabeth at a reception in Buckingham Palace grounds. Girl 14, Charges Raped By Six Youths

HAMILTON, July 25—(CP)—A 14-year-old Welland girl said in court Tuesday that she was raped by six youths during a night car ride in the country June 24.

Charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency are John Galvin, George Turnbull, Harvey Brown, Edward Rankin, George Colborne, Wilfred McPhee, Joseph Schimel, James Guiliano, all 19, and John MacDonald, 21.

Police picked up the girl and a 15-year-old companion, another Welland girl, July 1 in Dundurn Park. Both face charges of incorrigibility.

Money In Pockets

BARRIE, July 25 — (CP) — Provincial police said last night that two of the five men drowned Sunday in Lake Simcoe when their motorboat sank were carrying large sums of money. Wesley Fyetcher, 68, Wellington County farmer, was believed to have had $1,000 in his possession while his son, Lorne, had $500. None of the bodies had been recovered by nightfall last night.

75% Affected

TORONTO, July 25 — (CP) — The Canadian Council of the United Textile Workers of America (AFL) said in a statement yesterday that almost 75 per cent of its membership is affected by short time and layoffs. It called on the federal government to take emergency steps to bring about full employment in the textile industry.

Reserve Out Of Bounds To Traffic Act—Lawyer

LONDON, Ont., July 25 (CP)—Ontario's Highways Traffic Act cannot be enforced on Indian reserves, a London lawyer argued in county magistrate's court Tuesday.

W. R. Poole called no defence for his client, Donald Doxtator, 22-year-old Oneida Indian, charged with driving a car with 1950 markers, on a road at the Muncey Reserve July 10.

In moving for dismissal, Mr. Poole said the reserve is the exclusive jurisdiction of the Dominion government, and therefore provincial statutes such as the Highways Traffic Act have no control over federal subjects on federal property.

Magistrate A. F. Cook reserved judgment for one week.

Cancer Board Named By Ontario Premier

TORONTO, July 25 (CP) — Premier Frost Tuesday named the board of trustees of the province's $2,000,000 institute of radiotherapy — headquarters for Ontario's war against cancer.

Appointed to the board were: Arthur W. Ford, London, and Dr. W. G. Crosbie, Toronto; Dr. Sidney Smith and Eric Phillips, University of Toronto; George McCullagh and J. S. D. Tory, Toronto General Hospital; E. C. Scythes, Toronto Western Hospital, and Harry T. Roesler, Toronto St. Michael's Hospital.

The institute, when completed, will be the key centre in the fight against cancer in Ontario. It will be related to local clinics established by the Cancer Foundation at hospitals in Windsor, Kingston, the Lakehead, London, Hamilton and Ottawa.

WomanSues Company Became Sick From DDT

LONDON, Ont., July 25 (CP)—Mrs. Miriam C. Lamberton of Hamilton, is suing the manufacturer and retailer of a commercial fly-spray for $53,000. She claims she suffered a "severe and painful" case of dermatitis as a result of using a product known as "Purine 5 per cent DDT fly spray."

Her action has been launched in Supreme Court here against the Brant Seed and Supply, Ltd. retailers, of Brantford from whom Mrs. Lamberton says she purchased an insecticide, June 5, 1948, and Ralston-Purina Co., Ltd., of Woodstock, manufacturers.

The manufacturer, in a statement of defence, says the spray had been used with confidence by the public "almost universally."

If Mrs. Lamberton found the spray harmful, the company maintains, it was because she was allergic to the ingredients—a situation possible in "one in a million cases."

Fishmonger

OAKVILLE, July 25—(CP)—A musical horn on a little fish truck daily heralds the approach of Mrs. Marjorie Horsby, an energetic 30-year-old woman, believed to be Ontario's only itinerant fishmonger. Mrs. Hornsby, who sells 700 pounds of fish a week, decided to carry on with her husband's business when he died in 1949. The only trouble with the musical horn, to say nothing of the fish, is that it attracts dogs, Mrs. Hornsby says.

CLEVELAND, July 25 (AP) — The Harris-Seybold Company announced Tuesday it has completed the first offset press capable of printing five colors.

President George S. Dively said the development was "evolutionary" rather than "revolutionary" since four-color lithographic offset presses have been in use for 20 years.

The new 85-ton machine, built at a cost of about $250,000, has five printing units. Sheets of paper ranging from two one-thousandths to one thirty-sixth of an inch thick are automatically passed from one unit to the next in exact register at speeds up to 6,000 sheets per hour.

Rent Committee Adjourns Work

TORONTO, July 25 (CP)—Just what will happen when the Ontario government lifts its freeze on rents remained undecided Tuesday as the legislature committee on rentals adjourned until late next week.

The government froze rents in the province June 17. The committee still must decide whether Ontario landlords will be permitted flat increases in rentals or whether the question will be subject to individual appraisal.

At one stage of Tuesday's committee hearings it appeared the government had decided definitely against allowing flat increases.

While the question still is to be decided, the committee has agreed that municipal taxes, renovation of rented premises, or mutually - acceptable two - year leases will be grounds for rentals increases.

The plane was from the FCAF base at Centralia.

City Workers Must Pay Parking Fee

City-Owned Vehicles Only Ones To Get Free Meter Parking

Only cars owned by the city or subsidized by the city may park free on the new metered area at the rear of the city buildings, on Simcoe St.

That was the substance of a motion by Mayor Swanston and Ald. J. A. Dewart at a meeting of the finance committee of the council Monday night.

This action asserts that otherwise city employees are in the same parking category with citizens generally, and particularly those who drive their cars to work and need some parking space.

Just for example, if City Clerk Outram or a member of the police department uses his own car for that going and coming purpose, it is up to him to find his own parking space.

Must Pay Meter

If he chooses to park on market, he pays the fixed parking fee. At the new civic administration offices on George at Murray St., the employees of the municipality will have their own parking area at the rear of the city hall.

City Engineer Chalmers reported "quite a heavy turnover" in the use of the new parking lot. From the number of people he had seen carrying parcels to their cars from the retailing area, Mr. Chalmers said: "I think it will make a lot of difference to the business people."

The topic of parking and metering was opened by Ald. Dewart with a query as to whether the central parking lot should be charged right around the clock instead of from 9 a.m. until midnight.

Second In Canada

Ald. H. F. Waddell said Peterborough was only the second place in Canada to provide parking for more than an hour. "So, it is comparatively new. We might find that after a month's trial we should operate the market parking all the time."

"It would make a difference in supervision," said City Engineer Chalmers. Present supervision is in the hands of the police department.

In the logic of parking, what would become of the street metering, free after 6 p.m., if a charge was to be applied on the market? This and a proposal for advertising the lot conspicuously for the benefit of visitors was left to the property committee.

Fourth Dinghy Regatta

Clear Lake Stage For Four-Day Races

The Kawarthas, Clear Lake, will be the stage for the Canadian Dinghy Association regatta August 15-18. It is the largest event of its kind on the continent. A comparable meet in California is held during the winter.

Using South Beach Hotel as operating and accommodation base, it is expected that more than 50 boats with their crews will be present. Fresh-water sailors from coast to coast—there is one from Vancouver and another from the United States—will try their sailing skill.

Officials hoped for entries from England and Bermuda but the devaluation of sterling currency has made such a journey impractical.

Commencing August 15, five classes of dinghies will try their paces on a triangular course midway up Clear Lake.

The events are international 14-foot open class, LSSA (lap-strake) types, international 14-foot one-design class, Canadian Championship open and for 12-foot dinghies. These classes will continue to sail for the following two days until elimination produces winners.

On August 18 and final day will be the open 14-foot class for the Viscount Alexander Trophy. It is not anticipated that His Excellency will be present nor have the regatta committee been notified whom he will delegate to represent him at the trophy giving.

This is the fourth CDA regatta It was held first in Ottawa in 1948 with 48 entries, in Montreal in 1949, 51 entries, and Toronto last year with 53 entries. The Kawartha event is expected to attract still more boats.

The hosts, Stony Lake Yacht Club, have seen to it that there is ample entertainment. Two barges with orchestra and dancing space will be aranged off the Twin Sister Islands, the evening of August 17 and a presentation banquet at South Beach Hotel the evening of August 18.

Kawartha entrants will be as follows: Jim Collins, Karl Duffus, Sue Slater, Derry Smith, Ted Welch, Fred Brooks-Hill, Jack Matthews, Jack Belleghem, Fred Huycke, Paul Killoran, Michael Allen, J. H. Ryder, Doug Reid and George Cook.

From Monreal, skippers and crews: R. H. Stevenson-G. Jost, J. B. Schwab—W. I. Robinson, R. C. Stevenson, T. S. Capreol—I. Hyde.

From Toronto: M. C. Crawford—D. D. Hague, Peter and E. M. Pamgman, J. E. and L. W. Burt, J. H. Hahn—G. Davidson, G. S. Hannah—J. McFarland, H. Bongard, Bill Gooderham—Ryckem Sydam, Paul Phelan — Tony Lewis, Jack and Jacques Muir, Paul McLaughlin—Blake Tedman and Jo Ann Godderham. Mr. Hanna won the Governor-General's Trophy in Toronto in 1950 and Mr. McLoughlin sailed in the Olympic event in England.

There will also be D. Kirby—R. Miller and L. A. Sherwood — R. Boorman, all of Ottawa; F. H. Hopkins of Sturgeon Point, J. C. Mabee and son of Gananoque. There two farthest entrants are Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Whitcroft of Vancouver and J. A. Carter of New Haven, Conn.

The Stony Lake Yacht Club is headed by commodore R. Ken Slater, vice-commodore H. F. Knapman and secretary-treasurer J. H. Ryder. Corresponding secretary is Jim Collins.

Motor Death Case Goes To High Court

Montreal Woman, 43, Charged In Death Of Sanderson Lad, 10

Gladys Long, 43, of Montreal, was committed for trial Tuesday on a charge of motor manslaughter after the death June 9 of David Sanderson, 10, who was struck down on Highway 7 by a car.

She was also committed on charges of dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident. A fourth charge, of drunuken driving, was adjourned to Nov. 6 for summary trial.

A total of 14 witnesses were produced by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC. There are another 14 crown witnesses.

Bail was continued at $6,000, $4,000 property and $2,000 cash.

The fatal accident occurred shortly after 3 p.m. on the slope of a hill about 1½ miles north of the city limits, just south of the 3rd concession of Smith township.

Evidence of Driving

Witnesses gave evidence as to Miss Long's driving from the time she checked out of the Empress Hotel at 3:05 p.m. until she was said to be involved in the accident, got out and examined her car, and then drove away to Lindsay.

Miss Esther Deyell, Water St., said she was driving north on the highway and had to apply her brakes to allow a "light-colored car" to pass her and get back into the right lane of traffic. Miss Deyell feared there might be a headon collision between this car and another coming south down the hill where the accident occurred.

She said the car then sped on ahead and then she saw "a dark object go flying through the air toward the trees at the side of the highway." The light-colored car was level with the "object" later identified as young Sanderson's body, at the time.

Saw Boy Scrambling

"Next I saw a little boy scrambling to his feet by the side of the road and pick up his bicycle," said Miss Deyell. "I thought there's been an accident but the little boy was all right."

"Then I saw the other boy—or the dark object—lying on the stones a little further north."

Miss Deyell parked her car and went back to the fatally-injured boy but observed the car that had originally passed her parked on the highway by the schoolhouse just over the brow of the hill to the north.

She saw the driver get out.

"My impression was that it was a woman," said Miss Deyell.

Three hotel employees testified as to Miss Long's condition when she checked out.

Bellhop Testifies

Mike Minicola, bellhop, put the grips in the accused woman's car. He noticed no damage to the right headlight and fender.

"She looked a little drowsy," he said.

Clem Galvin, assistant manager, said Miss Long had difficulty placing a long-distance telephone call.

"She wasn't very coherent and I could smell alcohol," he said. He noticed nothing wrong with her walk.

Mrs. Lillian Buss, clerk, described her as "not very well." Her speech wasn't pain; her walk wasn't steady; and she smelled of alcohol.

Looked Unhappy

"Miss Long looked very unhappy," said Mrs. Buss. "Her hat was on crooked and she looked dishevelled and ill."

I. E. Weldon, Lindsay defence counsel, queried Mrs. Buss on the hat. He insisted that Miss Long was wearing one in court Tuesday for the first time in two and a half years.

The next piece in the pattern of evidence came from Edward Blackwell, 64 Aylmer St.

Mr. Blackwell was parked outside his daughter-in-law's home on the south side of Murray St.,

KILLED ACCIDENTALLY Tuesday was 20-months-old Gerald Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson, 861 Water St., and grandson of Constable Gordon Trennum of the city police force. The boy ran out to greet a friend's car at White Lake, southeast of McCracken's Landing. An open car door bowled the lad over and when An open car door bowled the lad over and when the driver, Gerald Robson, reached over to put the emergency brake on, the boy's head was crushed by the left front wheel.

Fire Damage Totals $20,000 To Blanket Mill At Lindsay

LINDSAY, July 25.—Fire and water damage estimated at $20,000 resulted from fire breaking out on the third floor at Horn Brothers Woollen Mill, William St., early Tuesday morning. The greater part of the damage was caused by water soaking bolts of cloth on the lower floors.

The fire is believed to have started when a spark from some tools ignited flyings from a spinning mule on the top floor of the building. The flames were first noticed by Tom Dobie, an employee. Another employee turned in the alarm.

Sprinklers Checked Fire

When the fire department arrived an automatic sprinkler system had sprung into action and water from a 2½-inch hose brought the fire under control and kept it from spreading to the lower floors.

"This sprinkler system was one of the main things that kept the fire from spreading," Fire Chief Alex Wylie said today.

The chief first estimated damage at $5,000, but later it was found that 28 bolts of cloth on the lower floors were a total loss as a result of water damage. The spinning mule, valued at $5,000, was also a total loss.

RONALD NICHOLLS

Big As Muskies Airman Says Of Northern Fish

"We catch fish as big as muskies and with twice as much fight.'

So Ronald Nicholls wrote home in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Charles Nicholls, 909 Water Street. Ronald, 17, is stationed with the RCAF at Frobisher Bay, Baffinland.

"We hunt as well as fish in our spare time, and I have shot several ducks, a white owl and a seal," the letter went on.

Ron has been in Baffinland for about a month as a supply technician. He joined the Air Force shortly after his 17th birthday, was first stationed in Aylmer, Ontario, and then went to Trenton. His more interesting adventures began when he was sent to Labrador, and then to Baffinland.

"His job is to issue rations to both the mess and the Eskimos," Mrs. Nicholls explained. "He's sent us sealskin slippers, jacket and parka, jewellery, and a cribbage board made from the tusk of a walrus. Most of these things were made by Eskimos around his base at Frobisher Bay."

The articles Mrs. Nicholls mentioned were on display as she recounted bits from her son's letters.

Never Dark

The climate also enters into the letters this airman has sent home. In one of them he writes: "It has never been dark since I've been here. It was nice up here today, the weather was warm—32 degrees above."

The only complaint has been about the mosquitos. "You think they are bad down there. We can't go outside for 10 minutes without getting bitten about 50 times."

Ron was born and educated in Peterborough. He has two brothers, Jim 22, who is in the Army and stationed at Camp Shilo, Manitoba, and Reg at home, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Stemp (Shirley) and Betty.

Ran To Greet Friend, Boy, 2, Dies

Tragic Death Ends Outing For Lad, Constable's Grandson

A 20-month-old Peterborough boy, who ran to greet a friend who had just pulled up in a car, was fatally injured at White Lake early Tuesday afternoon when the car backed over him, crushing his skull.

He was Gerald Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Wilson, 861 Water St.

The boy died nearly two and a half hours later in Civic Hospital after a 23-mile dash by car from the summer cottage of a family friend, Gerald Robson, 14 Stewart St. The cottage is midway along White Lake, southeast of McCrackens' Landing.

Tragic Outing

It was the tragic end to what was to have been a happy outing for the wee lad and his grandfather, Police Constable Gordon Trennum.

Constable Trennum had the day off. He took young Gerald downtown early in the morning and then they set out for the summer cottage of Mr. Robson on White Lake.

Mr. Robson had to go to the city for a while to do a bit of shopping. Later, when he drove up to the cottage, Gerald ran toward his car with outstretched arms.

Brakes Gave

As Mr. Robson was getting out of the car on the driver's side the brakes began to give and the vehicle, parked on a small incline, started backward. The open steel door struck the boy and bowled him over.

Mr. Robson reached inside to pull the emergency brake and succeeded in stopping the car, but the left front wheel passed over the head of the boy.

Dr. Lloyd Bailey of Lakefield was summoned and he rushed the boy to Civic Hospital. Two other doctors attended the unconscious boy—Dr. H. Carleton and Dr. R. K. Magee—but he died at 2.30 p.m. an hour-and-a-half after admittance.

Death was caused by a fractured skull. There will be no inquest.

Gerald was the only son of Clarence E. Wilson and the former Fern Trennum. There are no brothers or sisters.

His maternal grandparents, PC Trennum and Mrs. Trennum, live next door at 857 Water St. His paternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, lives at 582 Chamberlain St.

The funeral will be Thursday 2 p.m. at the Kaye funeral home, Major Cyril Everitt, Salvation Army, officiating.

Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Canthook Breaks, Log Fractures Man's Leg

Joseph Kelly, 33, RR 1, Norwood, is in St. Joseph's hospital with a fractured left leg received in an accident at C. V. Wood's lumber yard Tuesday night.

Kelly, a trucker, was unloading logs from his truck into the log pond at the yard, when the canthook snapped. A log rolled off and hit him, fracturing his left leg.

He was rushed to the hospital where he was treated by Dr. Wilson Judd, Havelock.

Kelly's wife and their baby son, who was born July 22, are also in St. Joseph's hospital.

Burnham's Point Gains Look Of Permanency

Widening of Louis St. has been begun by City Engineer Chalmer's department. The federal government is contributing a strip off its property on the east side of the street, and the city purchased from the Ferguson estate the extension of that frontage to King St.

Street Commissioner Burgess mentioned the other day that recent work of the department has been the laying of sidewalks on the Burnham's Point housing section. That improvement is another clinching of permanency in the subdivision that once was marked for complete removal and disappearance as soon as local war work ended.

Both James Hamilton and James Dutton will recall the afternoon they looked through the wartime Housing Co. buildings when they were advancing toward occupancy. The contractor was Eastwood Construction Co. It was understood then that they were a temporary accommodation for incoming workers in factories that had received orders for war materials.

It was quite clearly expected and understood that at the end of hostilities the tenants would pack up and go back to their homes, and the government would see to it that lakeside area would be cleared again. Peterborough Lumber Co. as owner was a party to the agreement.

Various changes have taken place since then in the gradual transition from temporary tenancy to permanent ownership by occupants. Houses have been improved and enlarged, cellars have been put in, and now they have concete walks. From all appearances and rights the Burnham's Point community will continue to occupy the former lumber mill property for a long time.

MISS PHYLLIS ALEXANDER, Stouffville, who is the new swimming director at the YWCA, came to Peterborough about a month ago from the University of Western Ontario, London. She succeeds Miss Audrey Hustwitt who resigned in the spring.

Lived 82 Years In City, Mrs. Sheehy Dies

More than 80 years a resident of Peterborough, Mrs. Richard Sheehy, 751 George St., died early Tuesday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital. She was the wife of one of Peterborough's prominent contractors for many years, until Mr. Sheehy's death in 1925.

Mrs. Sheehy was born in Peterborough 82 years ago, Mary Ann Kelly, daughter of John Kelly and his wife, Catherine Barry. She leaves one daughter, Mary Doreen at home, and six sons, the Rev. Fergus Sheehy, C.S.B., Toronto; Dr. Richard A. Sheehy, J. Sarsfield, James Kelly, Michael T. and Emmett F. Sheehy, of Peterborough; also her sisters, Mrs. J. T. Donoghue of Detroit, Mrs. R. V. O'Brien, Detroit; and brothers, James P. Kelly of Pittsburgh and George Kelly of Peterborough.

One of Mrs. Sheehy's nephews is Gene Kelly, Hollywood screen star, most of whose pictures have been shown in local theatres.

A member of the cathedral parish of St. Peter since childhood, Mrs. Sheehy was a member of its altar society and also of the Catholic Women's League.

The funeral will be Friday morning at 9.45 o'clock from the family residence, 751 George St. north, to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass at 10 o'clock and thence to St. Peter's cemetery.

Indigent Charges Made By Hospitals Soar

Welfare Costs For Six Months $30,481

The city's welfare account for six months ending June 30 amounted to $30,481.44 as reported at the meeting of the committee with Ald. H. Rehill presiding.

Of that sum the Provincial Government pays $12,375.79, leaving $18,105.65 to be charged to the city treasury.

Council's appropriation for the year was $40,275.50, and after deducting the expenditure for the first half the committee has a credit of $22,169.85 for the span of the year from July 1 to Dec. 31.

The committee expressed concern about the increase of $6,534.70 in the care of indigent patients in local hospitals since the first of the year.

The report of Welfare Officer A. G. Metheral showed, for instance, that the January bill at Civic Hospital last year was $190.35 as compared with $1,103 this year. And at St. Joseph's Hospital the corresponding expenditure was $477.65 in January last year and $1,205.05 in January this year.

The total for indigent and relief patients for the first six months of 1950 was $2,234.15 at Civic and for this year's six months $6,871.50; an increase of $4,636.90 in the period from January to June.

The total at St. Joseph's for six months this year was $4,580.45 as against $2,682.65 in the corresponding period of 1950, an increase of $1,897.80.

Ask For Survey

The welfare committee asked Mr. Metheral to prepare a survey and report as to the number of indigent and welfare patients in the hospitals, their age groups, the types and causes of illness, the attending doctors, and so on. It was felt by the committee that the trend of hospital costs for the beneficiaries of the welfare department demanded study as a matter of intelligible information and also as to whether some check could be placed on this increasing expense.

The city pays the hospital rate of $3.50 a day for indigent patients, and there is also admission provided for old age pensioners, women on mothers allowance and some others.

The pensioner, receiving $40 a month, pays part of the charge of $3.50 and the city pays the rest. Out of his pension an elderly patient may pay the hospital $1.65 a day, and the city contributes $1.85. And from all accounts the hospitals are not meeting expenses on that kind of income.

Futhermore, it is understood, the attending doctor gets nothing.

Mr. Metheral told the Examiner that from his observation the doctors of the city give their time and attention to the old age pensioners and indigents, who apparently get as good and efficient treatment as the person who is able to pay his bill.

City Clerk Outram remarked to the Examiner that he had heard some time ago that the doctors of Ontario had contributed $9,000,000 of medical services to indigents in the last 10 years, for which they receive no fees.

Suppose there are 2,000 doctors in Ontario—there may be a few more than that—the average contribution in service figures to indigent patients may be estimated from those figures.

Welfare committee, representing the taxpayers, is wondering what the developments about hospital costs are likely to be, and how the treasury may be affected.

DOROTHY DIX

Nervous Affliction Needs Patience and Sympathy

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Six years ago I met a girl with whom I have fallen in love; she also loves me. Just before I met her I had a nervous breakdown which has left me with an affliction. Whenever I am in a crowd listening to a minister, lecturer or singer, my head shakes uncontrollably and it is so embarrassing that I do not want to go to such places with Irene, my girl. I have been to a doctor, but his only advice was to avoid places that would bring on this shaking.

Dorothy Dix

I am 30 year old; I would like to marry this girl but have a guilty conscience about asking her. I couldn't take her to church, and she goes every Sunday with her parents. We do go for long walks, drives and even to shows, which don't bother me. We also enjoy visiting. Her parents like me, but they don't know about my nervous condition. I have a good job. Should I tell her this is why I have hesitated to propose, or should I be resigned to remaining a bachelor?

NEILL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You are making altogether too much of your so-called affliction and worry is probably making the condition a lot worse than it would be otherwise. You are accepting as tragic and incurable an ailment that may very well decrease as time goes on until you'll forget it ever existed.

Be Frank With Her

Begin to get your mind straightened out by speaking frankly to Irene about the situation, and also tell her parents of it. The sympathetic understanding I am sure you will receive may in itself prove an alleviation to at least part of your trouble.

Then make an equally frank presentation of the case to yourself. Have you at any time had any resentment toward a church that might make you feel nervous in one? Church is the one place on earth where you will find the solace to bear your affliction, or the courage to overcome it. Spend some time in church alone, then try to go on occasions where there will be no preaching. Then go to a service which includes a sermon. Sit near the rear of the church and if your head begins to shake, slip unobtrusively away. After a few attempts I think you'll learn to forget yourself in contemplation of God, and you'll also forget to be nervous.

Even though your condition persists on some occasions, you needn't feel yourself shut away from the world. The number of pleasures denied you are small in comparison to the number you can enjoy.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been going with a soldier for seven months. Although I love him, and I know he loves me, we broke up once over another boy. Since we started going together again, he doesn't show affection the way he used to and in the last few weeks he has stopped coming to the house. He had an unhappy home life, and I think he has a complex against parents. We had planned to be married when I got out of school. I love him, but I can't understand his attitude about coming to the house.

D. D.

ANSWER: Men are queer creatures. A girl is supposed to overlook any number of flirtations her boy friend enjoys, but just let her look sideways at another lad and our young man blows his top. One glance in the wrong direction and a girl is accused of being fickle, untrustworthy, a heartbreaker, and a few other choice epithets.

Whether your affair with the boy who caused the break between you and your friend was casual or serious, it will be very difficult for you to live it down and convince your friend that you really care for him. He probably feels that since you hurt him once, it will happen again and is trying to keep a safe distance between you both. That's why he is avoiding your home.

The unhappiness of your boy friend's family background has given him a feeling of insecurity that was increased by your own lapse. He really needs someone he can depend upon, and if you feel up to the responsibility, try to convince him that you are that person. It will take time and patience, but will be a great accomplishment.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been going with a married man for six years and have tried to break off with him, but he says he will kill me if I stop seeing him. Now I have recently met, after several years, a school friend who is willing to move to another city if I will marry him. I am 25 Years old.

L. G. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Don't worry about your married friend killing you—he won't. If you stick to your determination to break off with him, he'll settle down quietly with his wife where he should be. If you hope for any happiness or security in your own future, better grab your old friend while you have a chance. Girls who keep company with married men acquire a reputation that seldom leads to the right marriage.

UK Fashions Amaze Many Visitors

By BARBARA STEVENSON

LONDON, July 25 (Reuters)—Overseas visitors, expecting a reflection of Britain's austerity, are amazed at the parisian-like splendor of London's fall-fashion shows.

A brilliant collection by Paterson, a young Scots designer, opened the show last week. The Spanish inspiration was visible throughout, particularly pleasing to a woman craving a touch of gipsy in her clothes.

There were such color notes as a bold design in black braid on a vivid red background, forming a removable collar to clip in the neckline of a town coat. Bright green and gold pockets were just visible under the sultry black of a hip-drape.

Paterson has a "two-faced" outlook for the fall. His day look is swept forward, leaving a slim back. As the shadows lengthen, the silhouette moves to the side and the rear.

The main theme running through all the overskirts for day and evening is based on a three-quarter wrap.

A Grecian treatment was given one model by column folds of cobweb jersey falling from a minute waist over a dust-brown stain sheath, visible only at one side from waist to hem.

Typical of the magnificence of French and British fabrics for the evening scene are deep Spanish stand-alone satin, heavy chantilly lace over satin—this in the elusive dust-brown shade—and pure slik lame.

The swathed bosom, the moulded line of the torso and the pencil slimness of most of the models for evening wear produced many raised eyebrows at the daring of a British designer ignoring Britain's traditional picture frock.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Armenian Meals Delicious Not Difficult To Prepare

The Armenians are masterful cooks. This is an inexpensive and soul-satisfying meal that will catch the fancy of many of the readers who are always hunting for the unusual. Read the recipe carefully. While the meat mixture resembles in many way meat balls that you have made often, the manner of stuffing it into various vegetables make it novel.

Armenian Supper

Dolma with Pilaff
Shredded Cabbage or Iceberg Lettuce Wedges with Roquefort French Dressing
Banana Fritters Black Coffee

Directions
Dolma

Make a stuffing of 2 lbs. ground shoulder lamb or hamburg meat, ½ cup raw rice, 1 cup drained canned tomato pulp, 2 large onions chopped fine, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon thyme, ½ teaspoon dried mint. When in season use eggplant and zucchini squash besides the vegetables listed below. Hollow out and cut into halves tomatoes and green peppers; quarter small vegetable marrows; halve very small gooseneck squash. (If and when eggplant is used it must be left with the skin on and partially cooked cut into quarters.) Stuff these vegetables with the meat mixtures. Place on uncovered baking dish. Pour the tomato juice left from the drained tomatoes over, and add enough water to make liquid 1 inch deep in dish. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour, basting frequently. Pour pan sauce over vegetables on platter.

Serve Dolam with

Pilaff

Soak two cups long grain raw rice in hot water for 10 minutes then wash it well in cold water until the water that drains off is not cloudy. Put rice in large baking dish. Have ready 2 cups tomato juice, 1 cup canned consomme and 1 cup water. Bring these just to boiling point and pour them over the rice. Cover and bake and 375 deg. Fahr. for about one-half hour or until rice is tender and each grain is separate. Add 1 or 2 tablespoons butter, gently stir and bake 10 minutes longer. Turn off the heat, and tilt the cover of the dish until ready to serve. Do not stir rice again. If desired the liquid on the rice may be all consomme or all tomato juice.

Now if you want to call a halt to Armenian fare and serve plain raspberries and cream for dessert—go ahead. But do serve banana fritters made as follows sometime:

Banana Fritters

Peel and cut bananas in halves crosswise and lengthwise. The Armenians soak them in a liqueur. I soaked mine in pineapple juice. Dip in Batter: 1¼ cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 beaten egg, 2/3 cup milk. Sift dry ingredients together. Add beaten egg to milk. Combine mixtures and beat until very smooth.

The Armenians sprinkle them with breadcrumbs. You may not want to do this. Fry in deep fat at 375 deg. Fahr. until golden, turning over once. Drain on unglazed paper. Then serve at once with powdered sugar.

Food To Trap Royal Couple

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., July 25—(CP)Durham County has put in its bid for a visit from Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh during the forthcoming royal tour. Home-cooking is the special attraction.

George James, publisher-editor of the Canadian Statesman, a weekly newspaper, this week put Durham County's offer in his lead editorial.

Mr. James decried the stereotyped words of welcome, Royalty traditionally meets in "The walled canyons of cities."

"A day in the country, mingling with people who really count would be a proper antidote," he says. In his editorial he also envisions the rural banquet which the Women's Institute could serve their Royal Highnesses.

"Deep-crusted chicken pie, home-grown fresh vegetables and salads, home-made bread, cakes and butter, good old Durham County pumpkin and apples pies topped with genuine Devonshire cream (just about the only place in Canada you can get it), maple sugar from the woods hereabouts, and sweet apple cider..."

Basil V. Gallivan Takes As Bride M. Doreen O'Brien

The wedding of Mr. Basil Vincent Gallivan, son of Mrs. Gallivan and the late Dr. James V. Gallivan, took place Monday morning at nine o'clock in the Kingston Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. His bride is Mary Doreen daughter of Mr. Marcel J. O'Brien and the late Mrs. O'Brien of Montreal.

After a honeymoon spent in Quebec and New York State, Mr. and Mrs. Gallivan will live on Fleming Place, Peterborough.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace over satin with matching lace bolero with long slim sleeves to cover the strapless bodice. A panel of net extended from the back of the pointed peplum to form a train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a Juliet cap of satin and net and she carried a fan-shaped bonquet of pink roses with garlands of sweet peas and stephanotis attached to a mother of pearl prayer book.

Miss Helen O'Brien as bridesmaid for her sister was frocked in azure blue nylon marquisette over taffeta. The shirred bodice was trimmed with eyelet embroidery and she wore a matching stole and a velvet headdress. Her flowers were pink and yellow roses encircled with pink and white tulle to form a Colonial nosegay.

Mr. James Gallivan of Peterborough was groomsman for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Jack Burke, Kingston, uncle of the bride, and Mr. Lawrence Rooney of Shawinigan Falls.

Cathedral rector, the Rev. J. P. Sullivan, performed the marriage and cousins of the bride, Teddy Baker and James Dowling of Massilion, Ohio, served as alcolytes at the nuptial mass. Organist Mr. Lucien Nourry played the wedding music and Mr. Alphonse McCue sang Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus and On This Day O Beautiful Mother.

A wedding breakfast was served at Morrison's Lounge and the eception was held later at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. John Burke who wore a creation of beige linen with insets of lace on bodice and skirt and a flower trimmed milan hat in dusty rose shade. The groom's mother wore an imported model dress of navy sheer with side drape of lace and a flower trimmed yellow milan hat. Both wore corsages of roses.

For travelling the bride donned a summer suit in aqua shade and wore beige accessories and a Tuscan straw hat with lemon feather-pad trimming. Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Thorn-Swain Rites

A quiet wedding took place in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Toronto, Saturday, of Dorothy Kathleen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Swain of Toronto, to Mr. Harold Lancelot Thorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Thorn of Millbrook. The Rev. E. Morley officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and she wore a dress of beige lace over lilac satin, a lilac hat with beige tulle veil, beige accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Her only attendant was Miss Evelyn Thorn, sister of the groom. She wore a dress of Alice blue sheer, white hat and accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. John Thorn was his brother's groomsman.

The reception was held at the Old Mill, where the bride's mother received, wearing a mauve linen suit, mauve hat, black accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a dress of green and white printed silk, white hat trimmed with green, white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride and groom left for a trip to London, Ontario, and then to points north. For travelling the bride wore a dress of blue printed crepe with white accessories, and she carried a white shortie coat.

They will live in Unionville.

Budd-Mingle

Friends from this city attended the wedding Saturday in Balfour St. United Church, Brantford, of Grace Evelina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Mingle, Brantford, to Mr. Jarvis Henderson Budd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Budd of Cannington.

The ceremony was performed by the minister, Rev. L. S. Mott, in a setting of gladioli and ferns. Music was by Ronald Ramsbottom and Miss Helen Hands sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride was gowned in nylon net and lace with satin and wore french illusion veiling, caught with tiny orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies and

In St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Gladys Jean Coleman and Mr. Arthur LeRoy Menzies were married in a ceremony performed by Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Coleman of Peterborough. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. David Menzies of Beatty, Saskatchewan.

Baskets of gladioli decorated the church and they were banked with ferns. Organist Mr. Frederick G. Mann played the wedding music and the bride's brother Mr. Victor D. Coleman was soloist. During signing of the register he sang "O Perfect Love."

White lace was fashioned over taffeta for the bride's gown. It had a sleeveless bodice and full gathered skirt edged with taffeta. She wore a matching short-sleeved jacket and mittens of lace and a shoulder veil of fine net caught to a half hat with pleated brim made of the white taffeta. Her bouquet was a cascade of Bettertime roses.

Royal Visit Puts Crimp In Designer's Fall Show

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, July 25 (CP)—Royal dressmaker Norman Hartnell, torn between his public and his No. 1 customer, admitted today that Princess Elizabeth's Canadian visit has had an impact on his annual Autumn collection.

In an interview Hartnell explained:

"My collection is smaller this year because Her Royal Highness has chosen many of the models to wear during her visit to Canada. Naturally, these models had to be withdrawn and replacements had to be made, where possible, at a moment's notice."

Hartnell was summoned to Buckingham Palace early in July, a few days before announcement of the royal tour.

"It was rather difficult," he said, "because most of the gowns in which we specialize take hours of hand-work on intricately-woven designs in bead and sequin embroidery.

"Several intricately-embroidered dresses were in the present show, and replacing them means a lot of work."

But the royal dressmaker isn't complaining. Overseas buyers will be zealous in their efforts to pick out a model that can be labelled:

"Similar to that worn by Princess Elizabeth on her tour of Canada, 1951."

Hartnell said he is under strict orders not to say anything about Elizabeth's choice of dresses, but fashion writers can make some shrewd forecasts. The autumn collection, unveiled at a special press preview yesterday, puts a clear emphasis on Autumn leaf shades—oatmeal tweeds, browns and metallic, shimmering bronzes.

A new Windsor Green, soft and hazy in shade, is also prominent in the collection. Since the Princess has recently shown a fondness for green, this color seems likely to form part of the Canadian wardrobe.

The collection as a whole indicates that—Hartnell still favors tailored clothes and picture frocks. Conservative lines and classic simplicity, rather than one dominant "theme" such as French designers often stress, tend to be the key-note of the show.

More than $150,000,000 was paid in Britain in 1950 to assist the aged, the sick and incapacitated.

Men Boost Sales Of Women's Wear

LONDON (CP)—London stores that have re-established the pre-war habit of one late-closing night a week find that when husbands accompany their wives on a clothes-buying spree, they are good sales-promoters.

Sales girls report that men generally advise their wives to pick the most expensive articles, and their choice is good. Most men prefer black or grey tailored suits, dresses that have full swinging skirts, blouses with lace—and hats that are not fussy.

Stores find that evening customers spend less time looking around. They generally know what they want and make straight for it.

Late-closing nights were started during the Festival of Britain to help sales, but one store deputy manager, G. G. Herring, says: "The idea is so popular, especially with business women, that we may keep on with it after the Festival has ended."

Motor Death

some 75 feet west of Murray St. Baptist Church. His attention was first attracted to a car by a screech of brakes.

He noticed the car 'bouuncing down off the north sidewalk." The right front wheel was two feet over the sidewalk before the car returned to the road, he said.

Woman Got Out

"The car stopped with all the wheels on the road but facing in a southwest direction," said Mr. Blackwell. "The door opened on the driver's side and a woman got out and started to go round the back of the car."

He testified that the woman, whom he identified in court as Miss Long, opened the right front door and swept something out on the road, but he didn't know what it was.

She then walked back steadying herself with one hand on the body of the car.

"She got into the car, lit a cigaret, and sat there three or four minutes," said Mr. Blackwell. "Then she started the motor and drove to Aylmer St. where she turned north."

Mr. Blackwell said Miss Long was wearing a rusk-colored suit.

"Looked Haggard"

"She looked haggard — as though she needed a good wash or sleep or something," he said.

John B. Branson, 300 McGill St., identified the Long car as the one he first noticed when he came to the junction of the Chemong road, Reid and Stewart Sts.

He said he was going toward Lindsay on Reid and stopped to give a truck, coming out of Stewar t the right-of-way. A car came from behind him on Reid, swung out passing the truck which was forced to come to a quick halt, and continued toward Lindsay.

He lost sight of the car for some time and next saw it near the top of the hill where the accident occurred. He said the driver was out examining the front of the car and he identified the person as Miss Long.

No other car had passed him on the Chemong road going to Lindsay, he said.

Third Time

The third time he saw the car was on the western outskirts of Omemee. He noticed a piece hanging from the right fender and sticking out in an upward direction.

Thinking it might be the result of an accident he decided to get the licence number, but had to travel 65 miles an hour to catch up.

He got the licence correct but the two numbers transposed: U-8325 instead of U-8235.

Mrs. Charles Touchburn, 3rd concession Smith township, said she was talking with a neighbor outside her house that afternoon.

"I heard a dull thud—not like two cars coming together — and seconds later a car came to a fast stop on the west side of the mail boxes." (The mail boxes are on the north side of the concession and east of the highway—476 feet north of where the boy's body was found and 553 feet north of where his bicycle was found.)

Pulled At Fender

"A lady was driving the car," said Mrs. Touchburn. "She looked back before getting out, then she looked at the right fender. She started to pull at it."

Mrs. Touchburn could not positively identify Miss Long as the woman . She described the woman in front of the mailboxes as "dark."

Roy Sanderson, father of the boy who lives on the Chemong road, said he saw David and his chum Peter Newmaster, 9, bicycling away from his farm with David in the lead.

They were going to his other farm about a mile north of there.

He next saw his boy on top of the rock pile on the next hill about three quarters of a mile away. His son was already dead, he said.

Peter Newmaster said the two of them were pushing their bicycles up the hill because it was too hard to pedal. David was some 12 feet ahead. They were walking on the paved surface on the right-hand side of the road with the bicycles on the gravel.

"We were walking along and I said to David 'there's a car coming pretty fast', I heard a thump and fell down."

The same car that struck David and tossed him 77 feet onto the rockpile by the roadside just brushed Peter, knocking him down and bruising his left arm.

Vox Populi

WOODSTOCK, NB (CP). — Barbers and service-station operators protested so vigorously when town council repealed an early-closing bylaw affecting their establishments that council reimposed the by-law the following week.

The Portuguese monarchy ended when a revolution drove King Manoel from his throne in 1910.

Dreamed Of US Set Out As Stowaways

SYRACUSE, Sicily, July 25 — (AP) — Giovanni Andaloro and Sebastiano Caruso, two young sailors of Syracuse, dreamed of going to San Francisco.

They sold their tiny hut, its furniture, a wagon and horse for 900,000 lire (about $1,500) and went to Genoa. There they met a sailor who promised to sneak them aboard a San Francisco-bound freighter for 700,000 lire.

Andaloro and Caruso gladly paid. When the freighter headed towards Gibraltar, their sailor acquaintance told them they would have to be hidden. They were squeezed into a closet for 20 days. Then their acquaintance showed up with soap and razor.

"We have arrived," he said. "Shave and make a good appearance."

They shaved. At dusk they were put into a rowboat and told to row for the distanct San Francisco shoreline.

The youths rowed for three hours. Dawn came, but it showed none of the San Francisco skyscrapers they had read about.

Instead a stretch of the barren shoreline of Sicily between Augusta and Syracuse presented itself.

The sad story was reported today by the Italian press.

Two Boys Hurt In Car Traffic

Two young boys were slightly injured during the last 24 hours when they darted out into motor traffic.

Raymond Rogers, 7, son of Mrs. Annie Rogers, 486 Rose Ave., was knocked down shortly before noon today when he ran out onto the road from the south side of Hunter St., just east of Burnham St. at the Marlen apartments.

He collided with the side of a car driven by Joseph Jebson, 47 Kingan St., who was going east on Hunter. Mr. Jebson's car was going at a slow speed and he was able to stop quickly.

Young Rogers received an injured right leg but an X-ray at St. Joseph's hospital showed no bones broken and he was sent home.

At 9:30 p.m. Tuesday night Robert Watson, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Watson, 677 Roger St., dashed out in front of a car drvien by Miss N. J. Gardiner, 62 Sophia St.

Miss Gardiner was able to stop the car within a few feet as she was drviing very slowly.

The youngster received a bruised chest but was otherwise uninjured. It is not known whether this was caused by being knocked down by the car or by falling on the pavement in a frantic effort to avoid the oncoming vehicle.

The accident occurred as he attempted to cross from the east to the west side of Armour Rd. at Dufferin St. Miss Gardiner was going north at the time.

World Airlines Start International Currency

MONTREAL, July 25—(CP)—Western world currencies — such as the generally-accepted dollar or pound—may be supplemented by a new, over-all currency known as a kilometer when it comes to settling accounts between transatlantic airlines the International Air Transport Association announced today.

The idea was first given a workout in an effort to overcome delays in settling accounts in these days of a general dollar shortage, during the first five months of this year when Intra-European Flights tried the scheme. Its success caused IATA to approve a "trial run" of the system on the North Atlantic as well.

Arthur J. Quin-Harkin, manager of the IATA clearing house which is conducting the experiment, said that Air France, British Overseas Airways Corporation and Pan American Airways are expected to try the new system.

Joan Coleman Is Much Feted

Many friends entertained for Miss Jean Coleman prior to her marriage to Mr. Arthur Menzies on Saturday. Mrs. Richard Ford and Mrs. Allan Warren entertained at the former's home on Sheridan St. with a miscellaneous shower and about 28 were present.

Employees of the City Hall and Health Department held a miscellaneous shower in the City Hall. Mrs. R. A. Kelly gave a tea in the form of a miscellaneous shower at her home on Armour Rd.

The staff of the Department of Health held a party at Miss Blue's cottage on Moira Lake at Madoc. A mock wedding was staged and later the bride was presented with a blue woollen blanket.

Mrs. Douglas Landry and joint hostesses Mrs. George Groombridge and Mrs. G. Hickey entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the former's home. Little Joanne Landry, assisted by her mother, wheeled a carriage full of presents for the bride.

Mrs. Victor Coleman and Mrs. Raye Menzies gave a miscellaneous shower at the former's home at 194 Douro St. at which Julie Coleman, niece of the bride, and Johnnie Twigg, small cousin of the bride, carried baskets of gifts to her.

Garage, Five Cars Destroyed By Fire

VANKLEE HILL, Ont., July 25 (C)—A garage and five automobiles were destroyed Tuesday in a $31,000 fire which for a time threatened to sweep down the main street of this town 50 miles east of Ottawa.

Garage owner Rene Sauve escaped with minor burns when a spark from an electric extension cord set fire to a can of gasoline in the garage.

Living quarters above the garage also were destroyed before the volunteer fire brigade, aided by equipment from Hawkesbury seven miles away, brought the blaze under control. A house next to the garage also was gutted.

Fenlon Man Hurt In Highway Crash

LINDSAY, July 25—A Fenelon Falls man is in Lindsay hospital with injuries to his neck and spine as a result of an accident on the Fenelon Falls highway Monday morning.

Andrew Duncan was taken to hospital after the hydro truck in which he was riding with seven other men hit a telephone pole and roled over on its side. William Lee also of Fenelon Falls, the only other injured man, received head injuries, but was not hospitalized.

Driver of the truck Jack Baker, Fenelon Falls, was driving the truck south when he turned out to pass a truck driven by Kenneth McKnight, Lindsay, about two miles from Powle's Corners. The truck with two men in the cab and six in the back went off onto the shoulder of the road and proceeded along the shoulder for about 300 feet when it hit and snapped off a telephone pole. The truck turned over on its left side.

Duncan was treated on the spot by Dr. Gratton Graham, Fenelon Falls, before being taken to hospital.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $250.

Cyclists Spilled Missing Turn

When they missed a turn onto the Canal road in the early morning darkness, two out-of-town motorcyclists today took a spill and were slightly injured.

Alan Dunning, 29, of Belleville, now stationed with the RCAF at Trenton, was driving the motorcycle, and Sidney Harding, Keene, was a passenger.

At one a.m. they drove east over the high bridge on McFarlane St. but when they got to the bottom of he grade they missed the turn to go south on Canal road. Instead the motorcycle went out of control on the gravel on Cox Ave.

Dunning was thrown over the handlebars and landed on the gravel and Harding was shaken off the vehicle.

Dunning was kept in Civic hospital overnight with a split lip, guts and bruises on his face, and scrapes on both arms and his left leg. His companion received a badly-scraped left knee but was not admitted to hospital.

Ed Heffernan, RR 5, Peterborough, happened by at the time and assisted by taking them to Civic.

The headlight and fender of the motorcycle were damaged. Constanble Eldon McDonald investigated.

Price Of Butter Up, Creameries Not Producing

TORONTO, July 25 — (CP) — Although creameries can get more for butter than they did a year ago they are not producing as much, the Ontario Department of Agriculture said today.

The price during June, 1951, was up 9.6 cents from the same month last year. However, production was only 9,178,700 pounds—5.6 per cent lower than a year ago.

Cheddar cheese output and prices showed a similar trend. Production was down 19.3 per cent to 10,514,500 pounds with the price up 10 cents to 38.

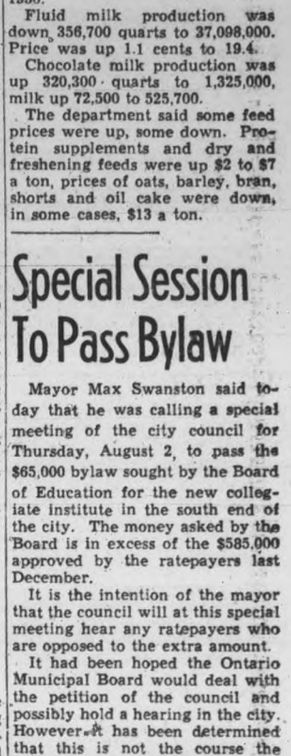
The department's statement of May figures production showed a slight decline in consumption of fluid milk but a substantial increase in consumption of chocolate and cultured milk.

However, over-all milk production during May was one-fifth of one per cent higher than in May, 1950.

Fluid milk production was down 356,700 quarts to 37,098,000. Price was up 1.1 cents to 19.4.

Chocolate milk production was up 320,300 quarts to 1,325,000, milk up 72,500 to 525,700.

The department said some feed prices were up, some down. Protein supplements and dry and freshening feeds were up $2 to $7 a ton, prices of oats, barley, bran, shorts and oil cake were down, in some cases, $13 a ton.



Special Session To Pass Bylaw

Mayor Max Swanston said today that he was calling a special meeting of the city council for Thursday, August 2, to pass the $65,000 bylaw sought by the Board of Education for the new collegiate institute in the south end of the city. The money asked by the Board is in excess of the $585,000 approved by the ratepayers last December.

It is the intention of the mayor that the council will at this special meeting hear any ratepayers who are opposed to the extra amount.

It had been hoped the Ontario Municipal Board would deal with the petition of the council and possibly hold a hearing in the city. However it has been determined that this is not the course the Municipal Board wishes to follow. In order to give ratepayers a chance to be heard the mayor is taking this new form of procedure.

Should the bylaw then be passed and presented to the Municipal Board the representations of those opposed can be submitted.

Royal Princess Wins Stake

TORONTO, July 25 (CP). — Royal Princess, the fine mare owned by W. C. Topping, of London, resumed her winning ways at Thorncliffe raceway Tuesday, when she won both divisions of the featured pacing stake. She was backed as top favorite in both dashes and won in fairly easy fashion.

She was lucky to escape a serious spill in the first division of her race when driver Barney Hughes sent her through the pack just as the field turned into the back stretch. As she moved away from the stragglers in the big field, Exeter Lady went down and four horses and their drivers went over her.

No horse or driver was injured seriously in the spectacular spill.

The spill in the feature was the third accident in a record day of spills at the track.

Just Teddy and Tom's Girl tumbled in a jam at the first turn in the sixth race. Gay Boy went down in the fourth after being crowded on the first turn. The stewards had several drivers on the carpet and fined and reprimanded them for reckless driving.

Chicken Farm Goes Up In Flames

HAILEYBURY, July 25 (CP). —Damage estimated at $25,000 was caused when flames razed the chicken farm of Fred Chapman, one mile north of here. The blaze was started by a bolt of lightning near the end of a severe electrical storm that swept the district, knocking out power and telephone lines and bringing traffic to a standstill Tuesday night.

As flames destroyed the 140-foot chicken house nad incubators they could be seen from New Liskeard and Cobalt, five miles to the north and south respectively.

The heavy storm marooned fishermen on Lake Timiskaming for several hours and caused unestimated damage to farm crops.

YWCA Steps Up Swim Program

A stepped-up summer swimming program has been set in motion at the YWCA by Miss Phyllis Alexander, swimming director.

Miss Alexander, who arrived at the Y a month ago from the University of Western Ontario, London, has had several years experience in competitive swimming as well as teaching.

She swam on two school teams —Alma College and the inter-collegiate while attending university. She also managed the latter team.

Summer swimming classes at the Y have been divided into 18 groups with a total of about 141 attending. These include learn-to-swim groups for children, teenagers and adults. From these the swimmers graduate into more advanced classes.

"I'd like to emphasize speed swimming and diving classes," Miss Alexander said. "These diving classes will include fancy diving. Another class we want to get started at the Y is the Red Cross Instructor's course for polio cases."

One of the most interesting groups receiving swimming instruction at the Y is the pre-school classes. "We have them from two to five in this class," she commented," and teaching them to swim involvest more playing games in the water with them than actual instruction."

Miss Alexander's home is in Stouffville, Ontario. She succeeded Miss Audrey Hustwitt as swimming director at the YWCA.

Diamond King To Split With World Sales Monopoly

LONDON, July 25 (CP)—The Evening Standard says today it understands Dr. John Williamson, Canadian-born diamond king, has decided to quit Sir Ernest Oppenheimer's world diamond sales monopoly.

An article by Ernest Eve, the paper's financial editor, says Dr. Williamson has nearly completed negotiations to sell all his output direct to United States buyers.

A spokesman for Dr. Williamson said he could not confirm the story, but added it seemed a case of intelligent anticipation. This informant said that reading between the lines of previous announcements, it appeared safe to say that Dr. Williamson was determined to market his stones privately.

Dr. Williamson, 44-year-old bachelor from Montreal who owns a rich diamond mine at Mwadui, Tanganyika, has a contract to sell all his stones to a diamond corporation headed by South Africa's Sir Ernest Oppenheimer. But there has been a conflict over prices and for more than a year the Canadian has declined to release any of his diamonds for sale by the corporation.

The contract expires Dec. 31 this year.

Stay On Ground, Learn More Of High Atmosphere

LONDON, Ont., July 25 (AP).—A Chicago scienitst says there are better ways of solving stratospheric mysteries than with the aid of V-2 rockets loaded with instruments.

Dr. A. B. Meinel of the University of Chicago's Yerkes Observatory expressed belief yesterday that scientists can do a better job with their own equipment and laboratories.

Dr. Meinel is attending a conference of auroral physicists at the University of Western Ontario.

100 Miles Up

Explaining his views in an interview, he said a rocket can achieve a maximum height of only 100 miles, while a scientist on the ground can peer 800 miles into space with considerable accuracy.

Each rocket flight costs about $225,000—Another factor in favor of earthbound observation, he said.

Dr. Meinel admitted that in measuring the temperature and color of particles from the ground there is a margin of error and room for speculation, but there are cross checks to determine accuracy.

Dr. Meinel was responsible last winter for the most significant discovery in auroral physics since the end of the Second World War. He proved with an instrument he made himself that particles of hydrogen ejected from the sun strike the earth's upper atmosphere with terrific force, causing displays of light such as those commonly known as the northern lights.

No Proof

Auroral specialists have suspected for some time that hydrogen particles from the sun cause the strange antics in the upper atmosphere, but no one could prove it.

Dr. Meinel was able to do it with his spectograph camera.

After its completion, he waited for a good auroral display. He was able to see the particles and could tell they were hydrogen protons from their color and the way they acted. They struck the earth's atmosphere, from 60 to 600 miles above the ground, at speeds of 8,000,000 miles an hour. Their journey from the sun took 12 hours.

A hydrogen atom is composed of one electron and a proton. The electron, however, was left behind in the terrific speed and only the proton nucleus caused the excitement when it hit the earth's atmosphere.

Scientists aren't certain that hydrogen comes from the sun, but every indication points to that source. An outburst which can be seen on the sun has been followed almost every time by an auroral disturbance 12 hours later.

Union Folds Up In Maritimes

HALIFAX (CP)—Track and field sports in the Maritimes may be in for a revival as a result of dissolution of the Maritime Amateur Athletic Union.

The union, formed after the Second World War with the intention to interest itself in all sport, folded after President Harold Connolly, Nova Scotia's Health Minister, told the annual meeting that amateur sport had almost ceased to exist.

The union originally replaced the Maritime Provinces branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada which had been fighting a losing battle with hockey and baseball interests and was recorded as an authority only in track and field.

Same Fate

The new organization had about the same fate. The Maritime Amateur Hockey Association controlled hockey and various provincial organizations had stepped into the baseball field.

Briefly, nobody except track and field athletes paid any attention to the union.

At Mr. Connolly's suggestion a Maritime track and field association will replace the union.

"Amateur sport as it exists in the Maritimes today is far from simon pure," he said. "Many . . . taking part are far from amateurs. They are receiving pay and still expect to be called amateurs.

He says track and field appeared to be the only sport still interested in amateur status.

Alex Halifax Chronicle-Herald) Nickerson welcomed the new organization.

"Track and field is a major sport," he wrote, "and should be completely autonomous. Too often, in the past, track and field has been handicapped by a traditional association with an organization which refused to go along with the times."

"The belief," he said, "Is that the formation of a new organization devoted exclusively to track and field will go a long way to restoring the popularity of track and field sports throughout the Maritimes."

"Knowing they have the backing of an association which is interested only in track and field . . . the track and field men of the Maritimes can be expected to buckle down to serious training for the Canadian Olympic trials next year."

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

At Southampton, NY, Lorne Main, of Vancouver, was the only Canadian left in the running on Tuesday after two rounds in the opening day's play of the Meadow Club's invitation tennis tournament.

Main gained a close decision over Charles Masterson of Hicksville, NY, 6-4, 7-5 in the second round after breezing through Roger Tuckerman of Southampton 6-1, 6-2 in the first round.

Henri Rochon and Brendan Macken of Montreal, Canadian veterans, were eliminated. Fred Fisher of Seattle, Wash., put out Ted Patrick of Westhampton, NY.

Hamilton Richardson, US junior champion from Baton Rouge, La., defeated Macken. The Canadian went down with much credit to himself in a 7-5, 0-6, 6-3 decision. Macken beat Bryan Hamlin of Easthampton, NY, 6-1, 6-2 in the opening round.

An open hearing in Washington, DC, next Saturday on the 90-day suspension of Dixie Walker, Atlanta manager, was called Tuesday night by president George M. Trautman of the minor leagues.

Trautman said he has asked Walker, Charles Hurth, president of the Southern Association, Atlanta club president Earl Mann, and Paul Chervinko, manager of the Mobile club, to attend.

Walker was suspended July 6 by Hurth on charges of permitting Atlanta players to abuse umpire Paul Roin in a June 29 game at Mobile.

At Philadelphia, Lionel Joyner, McGill University student from Montreal, and Ross Siems of Toronto were tied for first place at the end of the third round Tuesday of the sixth annual United States junior chess championship for players under 21.

Joyner and the 15-year-old Siems each had three victories.

Emile Allais, French skiing ace, said Tuesday he is accepting an offer to train the United States ski team for the 1952 winter Olympics at Oslo. Allais currently is at Portillo, a winter resort in the Andes.

Allais trained the 1948 Canadian ski team at the St. Moritz, Switzerland, games.

Montreal Canadiens announced Tuesday that centre Billy Reay has signed his 1951-52 season contract with the National Hockey League club. Terms were not disclosed.

The coming season will mark the seventh for the 32-year-old Winnipeg-born centreman.

Last season Reay had only six goals and 18 assists, but played a strong game toward the end of the season and in the playoffs when working with the more established wingmen.

Where Fish Bite On Anything

HUDSON BAY, Sask.,—(CP)—A local fisherman lent his reel to a friend.

But on the first cast the reel flew out of his friend's hands into 10 feet of water.

The host decided to fish it out with a rake.

As he did, a night watchman at a nearby mill was an interested spectator.

"What are you doing?" asked the watchman.

"Fishing," said the angler.

"They bite on that?" asked the watchman, eyeing the rake.

"They bite on anything," said the angler.

The watchman shook his head and walked away.

The story spread and now the angler is having trouble convincing his friends he isn't crazy.

Italian Girl Dances Hula In US Movie

By FRANKLIN ARTHUR

HOLLYWOOD, July 25 (CP)—Some days the news is new and old, hot and cold. For example:

New to Hollywood is an Italian gal who will dance the hula in her first movie role.

If that sounds incongruous, so does her English. It's good, but it frequently lapses into such phrases as "hot stuff" and "that's the keed."

All this can be traced to the influence of the U.S. Army when it went into Franca Faldini's Native Rome. She learned a lot of U.S. slang. Later she went to a school of English, with the result that she also speaks the polished variety.

Polished Tongue

It was sufficiently polished, in fact, to win her a job as interpreter when Gregory Ratoff brought an American cast to Italy in 1948 to make "Black Magic." Ratoff gave her a minor part in the picture.

She studied to be a teacher. Came to this country on a vacation this summer. Her path led to Hollywood for a visit with some of the folks she met on the Ratoff picture. She'd been in town a few days when a talent scout proposed a screen test.

Today's note on the old in Hollywood comes via Sendai, Japan, near where the U.S. Army's 40th division is training. Seems that in their spare time, the men go to the local movies.

Complained one soldier: "I stood in line for two hours and when I got inside what was playing? The Dead End Kids."

Aborigines Fear War Started

DARWIN, Australia — (CP)—Hundreds of aborigines in Arnhem Land, wild territory in Australia's northern territory, paddled in their canoes or walked to Millingimbi Mission recently to find out whether Australia was again at war with Japan.

The missionary, the Rev. Edgar Wells, assured the frightened aborigines that a third world war had not broken out and they went home after resting.

They were frightened by low level exercises of five RAAF Lincoln heavy bombers over Arnhem Land.

The bombers flew across Arnhem Land at between 300 and 500 feet and dropped their 500-pound bombs on uninhabited Rangadango Island, 40 miles north-east of Millingimbi. They also strafed the island with cannon.

Natives from surrounding islands and on the coast heard the explosions and set out for Millingimbi. The news quickly spread by smoke signals and message sticks. The natives have vivid memories of Japanese bombing raids.

Millingimbi was an allied air base during the war and was raided several times. Several natives were killed and wounded and the mission church and buildings were destroyed. Natives escaped into the bush.

German Unions Bulwark Against Reds

ESSEN, Germany—(Reuters)—The steadily expanding West German trade unions, now over 5,600,000 strong, are a bulwark against Communism and Neo-Nazism.

The 16 unions which make up the German Trade Union Federation recently met in special congress here.

The congress, the first of its kind since Hitler suppressed the trade unions of the Weimar Republic in 1933, restated the federation's aims and sketched its plans for the future.

It called for an immediate trasfer of the coal, iron and steel industries to public ownership and demanded extension of joint labor - employer management ("co-management") to the chemical and coal processing industries and to the state-owned railways. The unions have already won co-management for the coal and steel indsutries.

It also decided to press for higher wages unless Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's right-wing coalition government takes action against the rising cost of living and lowers prices to a "reasonable level."

Favors Schuman Plan

On the political side, it reaffirmed its support of the Schuman Plan. It issued a warning that German Trade Unionism would not allow tatalitarianism, either Nazism or Bolshevism, to destroy freedom again.

Georg Reuter, Vice Chairman of the Federation, said the unions would act if the West German authorities failed to recognize the danger of Neo-Nazism and "intervene in due course." The West German Government has already taken steps against nazi-like political formations and the Communist youth movement. Further legal action is planned for later this summer.

Communist delegates to the congress demonstrated their weakness in the West German unions. An attempt by one Communist delegate to obtain debate on the planned rearmament of West Germany was defeated overwhelmingly. Shouts of "Moscowers get out" greeted the Communist as he demanded the debate.

The Social Democrats predominate in the West German unions, though the left wing of the Christian Democratic party has an important influence, particularly where there is a big Catholic population.

INTER-SERVICE INCIDENT—The British captured this cannon at Bunker Hill in 1776. For years it was a prized fixture at Quebec City' Citadel—until R.C.A.F. gremlins kidnapped it and dropped it outside the mess hall of 412 Transport Squadron at Rockcliffe Airport, Ottawa. The Royal 22nd Regiment, who had been on duty at the Citadel at the time, originally was reported to be planning to parachute 10 officers into Rockcliffe to recapture the relic. But "pressure of work" forced a change in plans and the cannon was scheduled to be flown back to Quebec by 412 Squadron.

Many Spots Speak No Gaelic

LONDON—(CP)—W. S. Morrison Conservative member of parliament and head of London's Gaelic-speaking community, is concerned by the number of Scots who do not speak Gaelic.

Morrison says few of Britain's back-benchers can match him in Gaelic. The only other Tory legislator with any command of the language, he said, is Iain MacLeod, who represents Enfield West. He comes from the outer Hebrides where Gaelis still is the spoken language.

A Labor member from the same part of Scotland who also speaks fluent Gaelic is Malcolm Macmillan who represents the western isles.

Famous Scots

Famous Scots without a word of Gaelic between them include Hector McNeil, State Secretary for Scotland, Sir Alexander Fleming, discoverer of penicillin; Sir William Fraser, Chairman of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company; Sir Archibald Sinclair, wartime air minister; and Lady Tweedsmuir, Conservative member of parliament and wife of the son of a former Governor-General of Canada.

Morrison, who was born in Argyllshire in Scotland's western lowlands, spent much of his youth in the outer Herbides and says:

"I can't remember a time when I did not speak both English and Gaelic."

Present surveys indicate that only one-fifth of Scotland's total population of 5,000,000 speaks Gaelic. Of the thousands of Scots who live in London, only 1,000 have any command of the language.

Meets Brother At 60

KITCHENER, July 25—(CP)—Austrian-born Emil Tromke met his two brothers for the first time Tuesday. Emil, now nearly 60, left Hohenbach, Austria, in 1907 to settle in the United States. His two brothers, Pau and Edward, were born after he left. They came to Canada in 1948 and 1949 and recently moved to Kitchener from Alberta.

2,000 Special Police

MONTREAL, July 25—(CP)—Some 2,000 volunteer citizens will be sworn in as special constables when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visit Montreal in the autumn, it was announced Tuesday. Police Director J. Albert Langlois said the entire force will be on duty and the 2,000 citizens will be enlisted through public appeals.

United Nations, Reds Agree On Peace Agenda

LOTS BUT LATE—After mumbling some unprintable phrases about the rain, Canadian farmers are reaping one of the largest hay crops they ever had. Haymaking delayed by rain kept them off the fields for almost too long but when the sun began to shine and the hay began to come in, eastern farmers started to take in a bumper crop. This load of hay in a picturesque country lane was photographed in the Ottawa district.

Canadian Troops Sail In Fall

Soldiers, Airmen Go To Europe Under Eisenhower

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, July 26. (CP) — Present indications are that Canadian soldiers and airmen will start to make their appearance in Western Europe's 500,000-man human wall against Communism late this fall.

But Korea, the old Nemesis, could change that picture.

The Cabinet hasn't yet decided when the Army's 6,500-man 27th Brigade will sail and it hasn't been in a rush to decide because of Korea. But a decision to send the brigade this fall or wait until the early spring will have to be made fairly soon.

If Korea's fighting flares up again, some men of the 27th may have to go there as reinforcements. They have been made aware of that fact, officials say.

Jet Squadron

Korea isn't bothering the RCAF though. It has announced that one jet fighter squadron, No. 410 at Montreal, will go to England late this fall and be followed by two others before next summer. In time they will move to Europe and by 1954 the wing will grow to an 11-squadron air division. From England, the three squadrons will be available for European defence. No. 410's Sabre Jets are going to be taken across the Atlantic by the RCN aircraft carrier Magnificent.

The cabinet and the army and Gen. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact headquarters near Paris all would like to see the 27th brigade go to Germany this fall and it will go then if at all possible.

Reports from Europe are that the Allied armies in Germany will number nearly 500,000 men by the end of the year or 200,000 more than the Russians are believed to have in the east zone of Germany.

The Canadian brigade would be a minor fraction of the total and Gen. Eisenhower has been pressing Ottawa to boost the size of Canada's formation.

From a strictly military standpoint, it has been argued that the European powers can field soldiers in Europe much more cheaply than Canada can, and, therefore, Canada's greatest help can be in the arms field.

If the Russian menace continues as great and western rearmament as strong, it can probably be safely speculated, however, that Canada will have more than a brigade in Europe by 1953. Defence Minister Claxton, significantly, has called the brigade Canada's "initial" contribution.

Sin No More

SAN PEDRO, Calif., July 26. (AP)—It took 50 years of driving before 93-year-old William Ross Lloyd got his first traffic citation. But yesterday he had to answer a charge of double parking and driving without his eye glasses, as required by his licence. Impressed by Lloyd's record, the judge suspended sentence and told him: "Go and sin no more." Lloyd remarked that he is a retired minister.

UN Stopped War Through World Says Truman

By EDWARD E. BOMAR

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—President Truman today expressed belief that the "resolute" United Nations' stand against aggression in Korea may have headed off a world war.

Declaring that the UN, by its reaction to the Communist attack on South Korea, "made clear that an aggressor will not be allowed to isolate and destroy his victims one by one," Truman added:

"There is much to indicate that the resolute resistance of UN troops has given pause to those aggressive forces which coldbloodedly brought tragedy to Korea."

Letter To Congress

These views were contained in a letter the President submitted to Congress with a report on United States participation in the UN during 1950.

Truman referred to the report as "a record of decision and action in the face of danger" and "for the most part a record of solidarity among UN members against aggression."

Declaring that "the aggressors and their supoprters undoubtedly believed" the UN would not rally to the defence of South Korea, Truman said:

"It is probably that one of the purposes of the attack was to break down—through such a failure—any possibility of effective UN action against aggression in the future." He added:

"The UN elected to act now rather than to drift passivley once more down the fatal trail of failure to oppose aggression which leads finally to total war. Thousands of men have therefore sacrificed their lives in Korea to the end of that millions may not lose their lives in a world war."

Committee In US Kills Joint Seaway

Project Buried By Congress 4th Defeat In US

WASHINGTON, July 26. — (AP)—Legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project was killed today by the House of Representatives public works committee.

The action was taken by a 15-to-12 vote of the 27-member committee on a motion by Representative Tom Pickett (Dem.-Tex.) to table the bill.

Members of the committee said today's vote means the measure cannot again be brought before the committee unless two-thirds of the membership so votes or unless unanimous consent is obtained.

Thus, for all practical purposes, the long-debated seaway proposal again was buried by Congress, another set-back for forces which have been seeking its authorization for nearly 20 years.

The project authorization, in the form of a treaty, was first beaten in the Senate in 1934. Again, in 1944, the projcted legislation was attached to a rivers and harbors bill in the form of a rider and lost, 56 to 25.

The next defeat came in February, 1948, when the Senate, by a 57-to-30 vote, returned the measure to its foreign relations' committee for further study.

Canada Approves

Canada approved a measure authorizing participation in a Canada-US power and waterway project in 1941.

It has since said it will go ahead with the $800,000,000 border development itself if the United States fails to join in.

Today's defeat marked the first time the legislation had been voted down by a Congressional committee.

Representative John Blatnik (Dem. Minn.), a leading supporter of the project, said he is not dismayed by today's action.

"This," he said, "is the first battle in the whole fight. I view it as a moral victory."

Blatnik did not say what future plans supporters of the measure have.

During the committee hearings, which began last winter and took the legislative body on a tour of the St. Lawrence basin, it heard testimony from many who favored the development.

These have included top administration leaders who contended it would provide a safe route in time of war to bring Quebec's iron ore to American inland steel mills and would provide electricity for the power-short northwest.

Railways and private utilities have opposed the project.

Discuss 5 Points, Buffer Zone Prisoner Exchange

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 26. (AP)—The United Nations and Communists agreed today on exactly what they will talk about in full-scale negotiations to end the shooting in Korea. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters said negotiators agreed on a five-point agenda (list of subjects to be debated). It includes: (1) Adoption of the agenda. (2) Establishing a buffer zone between opposing armies. (3) Definite arrangements to end the shooting and supervise the truce. (5) Arrangements for exchanging prisoners of war. (5) "Recommendations to the governments of the countries concerned on both sides." (This presumably is a recommendation for subsequent discussion of withdrawing foreign troops from Korea.)

Negotiators agreed on the agenda in their shortest session, lasting only 58 minutes.

"Preliminary discussions began immediately after the agreement on the agenda," Ridgway's headquarters announced.

The 11th session is scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow (8 p.m. EDT Thursday).

Initial Step

The announcement emphasized that agreement on the agenda "is merely the initial step for the final goal of a military armistice and resultant cease-fire."

The second and third points listed on the agenda offered the biggest hurdles.

The first point, adoption of the agenda, is a routine matter similar to approval of minutes of a preceding session.

Setting a buffer zone raises the question of whether it is to be along the present battle lines in North Korea, as the UN wishes, or along the 38th Parallel as the Reds want.

The third point is the most complex.

Officially Point 3 was listed as: "Concrete arrangements for the realization of cease-fire and armistice in Korea, including the composition, authority and functions of a supervising organization for carrying out the terms of a cease-fire and armistice."

WILL DISCUSS

Ontario Agrees To Federal Plan For 5,000 Homes

OTTAWA, July 26 — (CP) — Representatives of the Federal and Ontario Government today reached agreement on plans for the construction of 5,000 rental housing units in Ontario.

"As far as we are concerned the agreements have been completed," said Ontario's Planning Minister William Griesinger. He made the statement in an interview as he left the office of Resources Minister Winters, administrator of federal housing legisation.

Mr. Griesinger said a start will be made on the houses as soon as possible. Details still have to be worked out with interested municipalities. Some 14 municipalities have expressed interest in the project.

Under the project, the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the cost and the province the remainder. Recovery of the investment through rents also will be on a 75-25 basis.

Mr. Griesinger said the houses will be let at an "economic rent." The project will not include subsidized rentals.

Main purpose of the meeting was to discuss an agreement on the housing project. However, Mr. Griesinger said he had reiterated Ontario Government's view that the second mortgage, granted on housing loans until last February, should be revived.

The Ontario Government believed such a move would do much to create more building by private enterprise. Mr. Griesinger declined to interpret the views expressed by Mr. Winters on the matter at the closed meeting.

Mr. Winters said in an interview that he had told the Ontario representatives the federal government would revive the second-mortgage provision if it believed that such a move would result in the construction of more houses.

Italian Cabinet Sworn In Finishes Crisis

ROME, July 26 (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi and the ministers of his seventh cabinet were sworn in today before President Luigi Einaudi.

The ceremony marked the end of a 10-day cabinet crisis.

The 70-year-old De Gasperi, in addition to his premiership, takes over at least temporarily the ministry of foreign affairs.

The ailing, 77-year-old Count Caarlo Sforza, foreign affairs minister since 1947, becomes minister without portfolio.

All are Christian Democrats except three, including Sforza, who are Republicans.

De Gasperi is expected to take his new government before parliament for votes of confidence early next week.

The new government — pro-Atlantic Pact and anti-Communist —was formed primarily in an effort to end discontent in the ranks of the majority Christian Democrat party.

Bulgarian Reds Split-Cominform

VIENNA, July 26—(AP)—The cominform Journal admits that some Communist leaders in Bulgaria have refused to obey orders and "such things cannot be tolerated."

The editorial in the official organ of the Moscow-led Cominform bolstered reports reaching here that Bulgaria's Communist party is widely split and that the peasants in that Russian satellite are in almost open rebellion.

Western reports say the crisis in Bulgaria resulted from too-rapid collectivization of farms. These reports claim many local communists sided with the dispossessed farmers and failed to carry out the party's program.

Reluctant

The editorial in the latest issue of the Journal to reach Vienna quoted Bulgarian Premier Vulko Chervenkov as saying "there are still quite a few party leaders who are reluctant" to carry out orders.

It added that "such things cannot be tolerated. Isolation of some leaders from the broad party masses and their attempts to take the part of issuing commands and ignoring criticism and self-criticism must be resolutely condemned."

Reports here say that some dispossessed peasants have hidden out in the mountains and formed groups of armed raiders. Others are reported to have fled to Yugoslavia, but many more have been imprisoned.

Some reports say Premier Chervenkov himself has fallen from power and been replaced by Georgi Chankov, deputy chairman of the council of ministers.

Canada, US To Seek Ways To Hold Back Arms Costs

By HAROLD MORRISON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 26. (CP)—Canada and the United States will seek new ways today of holding back price climbs in essential materials which threaten the vast rearmament programs of both countries.

High-ranking officials will confer on the possibility of creating new administrative machinery to bind the two countries to a common anti-inflation policy on defence production.

This latest industrial mobilization conference, attended by C. D. Howe, Canada's defence production minister, and four of his advisers, is understood to be a direct outgrowth of United States concern over recent price increases of Canadian essential materials.

No Suspicions

A US economic stabilization authority told the Canadian Press in an interview that the US "holds no suspicion" of Canadian pricing tactics.

Nevertheless, he said, there is growing concern over the way the price of Canadian aluminum, nickel, copper, zinc and newsprint has recently jumped.

"We in the United States are trying to hold the price line on sulphur and cotton and other items," he said. "It is only fair to expect that Canada does the same."

He felt certain some way would be found to forge a closer working relationship on prices between the two countries.

The meeting was called by Charles Wilson, US defence mobilizer.

Howe has contended that though Canada, through its huge production, can set the world price on such items as newsprint and nickel, it does not set the world price on a host of other defence items produced by the US, British colonies and other areas.

Declined Request

Nevertheless, he declined to meet the request of the US to suspend the $10-a-ton price boost in Canadian newsprint which became effective July 1. Sharpest criticism of that price jump came from Michael V. DiSalle, US prices stabilizer.

It is understood DiSalle suggested to Johnston and Wilson that development of some new agency should be studied so that there would be closer liaison between the two countries, whenever either one considers allowing increases in the price of defence or other essential materials.

One way the US has suggested this could be done is through the possible expansion and revitalization of the Caanda-US joint industrial mobilization committee.

No Canadian Troops Prisoners Of Reds

OTTAWA, July 26 (CP).—No Canadian troops have been taken prisoner to date in the Korean fighting.

Thus, Canada will not come within the scope of point four on the Korean cease-fire agenda agreed upon today—that of making "arrangements relating to prisoners of war."

Total Canadian casualties to date are 222, including 57 dead, 148 wounded and 17 injured in battle accidents. There are no men missing or taken prisoner of war.

Threat of War

India, Pakistan Grow Tense

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NEW DELHI, India, July 26 (AP)—Mounting tension between India and Pakistan over control of Kashmir was emphasized by headlines in the New Delhi English-language press today.

"War talk" also continued general among Indian officials, all of whom insisted India is not prepared to attack anybody, but is preparing itself for defence against Pakistan.

Send Protest

The Pakistan government sent a protest to India yesterday, charging that inflammatory articles in the Indian press and speeches by officials had caused 330,000 Moslems to flee India for Pakistan.

The story of the protest was one of six on the situation carried on page one of the Hindustan Times. This newspaper is generally close to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's government.

The lead headline in the paper said "Pakistan press goes into hysterics—wild talk of holy war and conquest of India."

Other stories told of Pakistani troops pouring into East Bengal (Pakistan), reduction of India coal shipments to Pakistan, the visits of Burma's foreign minister to discuss Indian-Pakistani relations and the arrest of four "foreign spies."

UN Hopes

Despite the bitterness between the neighbouring governments and people, United Nations mediator Frank Graham was reported to have hopes of breaking the deadlock.

Graham is here for a week's conference with Indian officials following visits to Kashmir and Pakistan.

India and Pakistan have disputed control of Kashmir since they became independent countries in 1947.

New Roundup Starts Of Communist Leaders

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP) —The Justice Department today launched a new roundup of secondary Communist party leaders in Los Angeles, San Francisco and New York City.

The department announced that 11 arrests have been made.

Director J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation said those arrested have been active in Communist party work, largely in California.

The new move against party leaders followed the arrests of 17 eastern seaboard Communists last month.

All of those taken are accused of conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the United States government.

Short Acquaintance

PHILADELPHIA, July 26 (AP) —Mrs. Josephine Wolfe's answer will be "no" the next time some one asks to duck under her umbrella.

The 65-year-old widow felt kindly towards a strange woman during a sudden downpour the other day and gave the woman shelter.

The act cost Mrs. Wolfe $700. The stranger told of a real estate man who could "double your money in no time." Mrs. Wolfe was persuaded. But after she handed over her money the man and woman disappeared.

US May Restrict Import Of Cheese

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Nine or more countries have expressed concern over legislation up for final action in Congress to restrict imports of cheese and other dairy products.

The legislation, an amendment to the controls bill sponsored by Representative August H. Andresen (Rep. Minn.), would ban all imports of dairy products, including cheese, until mid-1953 if these would impair domestic production.

Rescues 3 Children

SCHUMACHER, Ont., July 26—(CP)—When smoke from a lightning started fire blocked her entrance to her cottage Wednesday night, Mrs. Cliff Edmunds smashed a bedroom window with her hands, climbed through, and rescued her three small children. She was cut and burned.

$1,150 Drunk

TRENTON, O., July 26—(AP)—Fred M. Keith, 40, of Dayton, O., today was fined $1,150 on a series of charges growing out of his arrest on a drunken driving charge. He was fined $500 for operating an automobile while intoxicated; $500 for carrying concealed weapons; $100 for disturbing the peace, and $50 for resisting an officer.

Clung To Edge Of Rock Saved From Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 26 (AP)—A Buffalo woman, identified as Miss Marie Murphy, 35, clung for nearly two minutes to the edge of a rock in swirling water 50 feet above the Horseshoe Falls in the upper Niagara river Wednesday night before two unidentified men waded into the stream to bring her to safety.

She told police she had become fascinated by the water and waded out into the river 200 feet above the cataracts. The swift current caught her and carried her to the rock. She said she had come to Niagara Falls on a sightseeing tour.

Temper! Temper!

TORONTO, July 26 (CP)—Nick Wereth, 48, stayed too long in the bathroom of his rooming house last night, police said. When he came out, another roomer stabbed him five times with a pair of scissors. Harry Humenik, 52, was charged with wounding.

Longest Recent Term

Attlee Starts 7th Year Prime Minister

By HAL COOPER

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—Clement R. Attlee today entered his seventh year as Britain's prime minister—the longest one-man run in that office in the last four decades.

The political fortunes of the mild-mannered, 68-year-old Labor party leader could well make the seventh year his last. World and domestic affairs certainly make it appear it will be the hottest.

Iran and Egypt are giving Britain a bad time. The national economy is feeling the pinch of big-scale rearmament. Aneurin Bevan, the silver-tongued idol of Wales, is challenging Attlee's leadership of the party. Britain's international trade gap is widening.

This is vastly different from the optimistic days of 1945, when Attlee first swept into power.

Germany was newly beaten then, Japan was collapsing and world peace was in sight after six dark years.

Labor took over the government with a crushing majority of 193 in the House of Commons. Attlee and his followers set off confidently on their plan for making Britain the socialist welfare state it has since become.

Now, effective majority in Commons is down to five. Prices are rising. The people are grumbling at the prospect of still-more austerity to support the arms program and maintain vital, money-earning exports.

Winston Churchill's Conservatives can hardly wait for the next test at the polls.

Probably October

Attlee is believed to have decided that October is the earliest he can get ready to face another big showdown with the voters.

Meanwhile, he has the problem of what to do about Bevan and his strong bloc of left-wingers in the party.

Bevan resigned in April as minister of labor. He protested that Attlee had permitted the United States to drag Britain into a rearmament undertaking which would undermine the welfare state.

Since then Bevan and 24 followers in the Commons have put forth their own proposed policy for the Labor party. Entitled "One Way Only," it demands a slowing down of the arms program and greater emphasis on the party's old socialist ideals.

Frost Urges Canada Seaway

TORONTO, July 26 (CP)—Premier Frost said today that the Ontario government will urge Ottawa to make an immediate start on the development of the St. Lawrence seaway and power development as a purely Canadian project.

"Now that our good friends to the south in their wisdom have decided that they do not want to come in with us, we ask them now that they have made their decision, to please get out of the way and let us get on with the job," said the premier, commenting on the action of the Washington congressional committee in rejecting the joint development plan.

"In this day the development of the seaway is essential to the development of Canada and its people," the premier said. "In Ontario the resources of the river are essential to the development of the province.

"In view of the US decision, we are prepared to go ahead alone," said the premier. "We are a great country with great resources and can do the job. . ."

Storm Knocks Out 400 Telephone Lines

KIRKLAND LAKE, July 26 — (CP).—An electrical storm, described as the worst in this district in more than 30 years, struck Kirkland Lake, knocking out more than 400 telephone lines. Two major power lines were also crippled.

The flashing storm was preceded by a torential downpour that flooded city streets and many cellars.

Foreign Office Moves 8 Envoys In Shake-up

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—The foreign office has decided to move at least eight of its senior envoys in a shake-up of the diplomatic service.

Official sources reported today new ambassadors will be sent to Moscow, Tokyo, Brussels, Belgrade, and Athens in the next few months.

The changes reflect no switch in British foreign policy. In general, however, younger and more-vigorous men will carry out existing policy in place of envoys who have reached the retiring age.

The shake-up includes:

Appointment of Sir Alvary Gascoigne as ambassador to Moscow. He is to succeed Sir David Kelly. Gascoigne headed the British mission in Tokyo until recentiy.

Appointment of Sir Esler Dening to be Britain's first post-war ambassador to Japan.

Assignment of Christopher F. A. Warner to Belgium as ambassador. Warner replaces Sir John Le Rougetel who will become high commissioner in Southern Rhodesia. Warner's replacement will be John Walter Nichols, who served as British minister in Moscow since 1949.

The ambassador to Greece, Sir Clifford Norton, is quitting after five years in the Balkans. He is being replaced by Sir Charles Peake, ambassador to Yugoslavia. Peake's successor in Belgrade has still to be named.

Acheson Urges No Relaxing

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—States Secretary Dean Acheson said today that regardless of the course of the Korean armistice negotiations, the danger from Communist aggression is "no less real than it was a month ago."

"There may be a period of comparative quiet if there is an armistice in Korea," he told senators. "If so, we must not let ourselves be pulled off balance by a shift in tactics.

"If the armistice talks should collapse, we should be ready for a major Communist assault on the United Nations forces. The enemy has been building up his forces throughout this period."

Acheson was urging approval of the administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He termed the proposal "an essential and vital part of our country's defence and foreign policies.

Dekdebrun To Talk With Argo Officials

BUFFALO, NY, July 26 (CP)—Al Dekdebrun, 27-year-old quarterback who parted company with Toronto Argonauts two days ago, left for Toronto today to talk it over with Argos officials.

Dekdebrun, reported in a Toronto telephone interview yesterday as saying he planned to call Argos coach Frank Clair in the hope "things can be straightened out," left to talk with Bob Moran, president of the Big Four football club. Dekdebrun quit Argos because he was dissatisfied with salary arrangements although he had signed a contract guaranteeing him the biggest sum ever paid by the team.

$2,000 Waiting For Lost Child

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—The financial fruits of an illicit romance today awaited the daughter of a wayward mother.

The money, $2,000, is in the hands of Jacob Shanks, 55, of St. Louis, Mo. He brought it to New York with this story:

Fifteen years ago he befriended a couple posing as man and wife in St. Louis. They later told him they were not married but had deserted their families in Brooklyn and were living together.

The woman gave Shanks $50 one day, told him she and her lover had quarreled and asked him to hold the money against the day "when I leave him."

Later, she added to this initial cache until Shanks was holding $2,000. Eventually the women disappeared.

Shanks said he considered it a "debt of honor" to get the money to the woman's daughter.

He came to New York and inserted a newspaper ad outlining certain facts about the mother-daughter relationship.

He's hoping the daughter—now about 40 years old—will claim her strange legacy.

Two UK Officers Help Pakistan Troops

NEW YORK, July 26 (CP). — The New York Times says today two retired top-ranking British army officers mapped out Pakistan troops dispositions against India in East Bengal.

The Times quotes the Press Trust of India News Agency as saying Field Marshal Sir Claude Auchinleck and Gen. Sir Douglas Gracey had "chalked out" and now are implementing the development of Pakistani troops.

The agency, the Times says, based the story on intelligence reports.

Prime Minister Nehru of India, the storoy says, recently mentioned British officers and retired officers in connection with preparations he said are being made by Pakistan for hostilities against India.

Auchinleck was commander-in-chief of the old Indian army before India gained her independence from Britain. Gracey was commander-in-chief of Pakistan's army until last year.

Committee Shelves Job-Rating Question

City Hall job analysis and evaluation, which had been proposed by the council, has been shelved by the finance committee until the administration moves into the new building.

The question of who is going to do the rating brought out suggestions mentioning first, heads of departments, and then the City Auditor, Edward Humpage. Finally, there was mention of having some qualified outsider do this work.

Comment of Ald. E. C. Braund was: "We're just wasting time if it is not done by an outsider."

British Cabinet To Discuss Iran Oil Offer

LONDON, July 26 (AP)—Prime Minister Atlee and his cabinet meet today to decide whether they should take up Iran's offer to reopen talks designed to settle the oil squabble between the two countries.

Officials here have been regarding the Iranian proposal with a wary eye. A Foreign Office spokesman said they were awaiting a report from Sir Francis Shepherd, British ambassador to Tehran, who apparently has been asked to sound out the Iranians to make certain both sides interpret the offer the same way. If they do, Britain is expected to dispatch a mission to Tehran.

Britain wants to make sure the Iranians are sincerely willing to negotiate the crisis over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

"We sent one mission to Tehran and got nowhere," an official said. "We don't want to send another and have the same thing happen. That would be disastrous."

Details of the Iranian offer have not been made public in Tehran, but Ali Shayegan, member of the Parliamentary Oil Nationalization Board, said he believed President Truman's special envoy W. Averell Harriman, had succeeded in bringing together the Iranians and British represetatives.

Bidault Fails To Form Cabinet

PARIS, July 26 (Reuters). — Georges Bidault of the Mouvement Republican Populaire today gave up an attempt to form a coalition government—only a few hours after accepting the task from President Vincent Auriol.

Bidault, a former premier, is the fourth man to report failure in 16 days.

The snag in the way of agreement is the Socialists' refusal to join a coalition unless they are promised a wage scale geared to the cost of living, and no state aid for Catholic schools.

Earlier today Rene Mayer, five-year-old Radical Party leader, reported failure. He was 73 votes short of the majority.

Others who have tried and failed to form the government are Robert Schuman and Maurice Petsche. Candidates for the next try: former premiers Paul Reynaud, Rene Pleven and Henri Queille.

Supervision

The United Nations wants supervision and actual inspection by some international commission on each side of the cease-fire zone.

Allied spokesmen have identified this as an absolute must to guarantee against possible preparation for a surprise attack or a build-up for new advantages if subsequent truce negotiations break down.

The Allies have indicated they want both air and ground supervision. Communists have always objected to any type of ground supervision. And in Korea there have been specific intimations of protest against supervision in the air.

Point 4—exchange of prisoners — also could offer unexpected obstacles.

The Allies have indicated they want to exchange prisoners on a man-for-man basis. The Reds have intimated they think all prisoners of war should be sent home.

The UN has about 163,000 prisoners compared to about 10,000 Allied prisoners held by the Reds.

The fifth point presumably is the Communist-suggested answer to the big stumbling block in the first 10 cease-fire sessions.

That was the Red demand that armistice terms include withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.

The UN insisted this was a political question that could be taken up only at a higher level after an armistice was actually in effect.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, presumably presented the Red solution yesterday. And it was accepted by the Allies today.

"It is much too early," Ridgway's headquarters said, "to predict either the success or the rate of progress to be obtained."

Ten Meetings

Ten meetings have been held, lasting 22½ hours. In those 10 sessions they agreed on an agenda.

Quick agreement on the agenda was the aftermath of the Reds dropping their demand for immediate evacuation of troops from Korea.

Delegates had given no sign of the agreement as they left their session at Kaesong today.

Canadian Income 18 Times Asia Worker

UNITED NATIONS, NY, July 26. (CP)—The average annual income in Canada is 18 times that in Asia, nine times that in Bulgaria, and three times that in Russia, a United Nations survey showed today.

The Canadian average of $900, second-highest in the world, is four-sevenths of the $1,440 average in the United States.

The Swiss figure is $850, that of Sweden $820 and Britain $775. The average in Russia is $310, in Bulgaria $100, in Asia $50.

The survey goes for study to the UN Economic and Social Council meeting next week in Geneva. Figures are taken from 1949 statistics.

North America, with less than 10 per cent of the world's population, accounts for nearly 45 per cent of the world's income. Asia, with more than half the world's population, has only one-tenth of the total.

German Defends Canada In Newspaper

BONN, July 26—(Reuters)—A reader of the West German newspaper Die Welt today defended Canada in a correspondence on emigration conditions.

The reader, K. M. Dieckmann of Ahnbergen, Lower Saxony, said in a letter to the newspaper that Canada wan'ts citizens who will be of value to her in the long run.

He was commenting on a letter from a disillusioned German in Winnipeg who had complained immigrants were offered only the "lowest and dirtiest jobs" with bad food, miserable living quarters and an 18-hour day.

"The detailed documents issued by the Canadian Government immigration commission in Germany leave no doubt what the immigrant may expect," Dieckmann wrote.

"The immigration commission clearly stated that immigrants must have the will to work. It was natural that, until they were accustomed to conditions, they would have to take work inferior to what they might have had at home.

"You cannot expect Canada to give her immigrants all they need for a pleasant and profitable visit."

Prices Mixed On Stock Market

TORONTO, July 26. (CP) — Prices were mixed today as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Industrial changes ranged from fractions to more than a point. Steels, banks and retail stores were ahead. Utilities, agricultures, constructions, textiles and manufacturing companies were mixed while papers, foods, liquors and refining oils weakened.

Base metals eased. Among those lower were Ascot, East Sullivan, Consolidated Smelters, Golden Manitou, International Nickel, Labrador, Normetal and United Asbestos. Noranda gained 25 cents and Sherritt-Gordon, Steep Rock and Yukeno added pennies.

Western oil issues were evenly mixed.

Golds were slightly weaker. Senior producers were down fractions and a wide list of secondary golds showed a majority of losses.

Baby Seal Has Taste For US Civilization

FOLKESTONE, Engand, July 26 (AP)—Life on an ocean wave is not for Sammy the Seal.

Sammy is a baby seal who wandered away from his mother and turned up on the beach at Walmer Monday, barking plaintively.

A policeman turned him over to an SPCA agent, who put him in a boat and dumped him out in mid-channel.

Back swam Sammy—this time to Seabrook, 20 miles down the Kent coast from Walmer. Another copper hauled him to the police station. The next day a fishing boat dropped him off once again midway between England and France.

Yesterday Sammy turned up at Hythe, still trying to make a permanent landing.

The Folkestone SPCA sighed and decided to rear Sammy with a baby bottle until he gets old enough to learn his proper element.

Field Refuses To Tell Who Posted Bonds

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP). —Frederick Vanderbilt Field, millionaire "Angel" of left-wing causes, refused today to tell a Senate Committee whether he posted bonds for Communist leaders.

Field was brought before the Senators from New York where he is serving a 90-day jail term for contempt of court. That sentence was given him for refusing to tell a Federal Judge who contributed to the Civil Rights Congress bail fund.

The fund, posted $80,000 bond for four Communists who skipped after losing an appeal to the Supreme Court from convictions with seven others of plotting to teach the overthrow of the government of violence.

Far East Policy

The Senate Internal Security Committee is seeking to determine whether there have been subversive influences on American Far Eastern policy.

Senate Councel Robert Morris began the questioning of Field. He asked first what Field's occupation was.

"Prisoner," Field said with a faint smile. Then he added, "Before that, I regarded myself as a writer."

Field was then asked the name of his present wife.

"Anita Field," he replied.

Morris: "What was the name of her former husband?"

Field paused a minute, and then said: "Raymond Boyer."

Morris: "Did he recently serve a prison sentence?"

Field: "I really dont know."

Morris: "Was he not a Canadian involved in espionage?"

Field: "I really don't know any of these details."

Morris: "Wasn't it espionage?"

Field: "Well, yes, perhaps..."

Raymond Boyer of Montreal, a chemist, was among those involved in the 1946 disclosure of a Soviet espionage ring in Canada.

PUBLIC MEETING BY CITY COUNCIL

A public hearing of the ratepayers of the City of Peterborough will be held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Peterborough, on Thursday evening, August 2nd, commencing at 7.30 o'clock, by the City Council, in respect to the request made to the City Council by the Board of Education of the City of Peterborough that the Council issue debentures for an additional sum of $65,000 toward the cost of the new Collegiate Institute to be built on the west side of Monaghan Road, immediately south of Gillespie Street.

The Board of Education originally requested the City Council to issue debentures for the sum of $585,000 and this debenture by-law was submitted to the ratepayers at the last Municipal Election and a majority of the ratepayers favoured the issuing of these debentures.

The Board of Education has informed the City Council that an additional sum of $65,000 is required to construct and furnish the proposed school, if the school is to include a gymnasium, as originally planned.

Under the High Schools Act, Revised Statutes of Ontario 1950, Section 48, Sub-section 7, Municipal Councils may pass by-laws for the purpose of raising or borrowing money required by the Board of Education for permanent improvements to school buildings, without submitting a by-law to the vote of the electors. In view of these Statutes, the Ontario Municipal Board is prepared to approve the issuing of these debentures, if the City Council requests the Municipal Board to do so.

At the special meeting of the City Council to be held on Thursday evening, August 2nd, the Council proposes to give first and second readings to a by-law entitled, "A By-law Authorizing the Borrowing of $65,000 Upon Debentures for Permanent Improvements, Namely, the Construction of a New Collegiate Institute."

However, before considering the passing of the by-law, the Council invites all ratepayers having interest in this matter to attend this meeting and make any representations they desire concerning the proposed passing of this by-law by the City Council.

Members of the Board of Education will be present at this meeting to explain the reasons that have caused the Board to decide unanimously that the gymnasium is required as part of the new Collegiate Building and to answer any questions.

Dated at Peterborough, this 26th day of July, 1951.

E. A. OUTRAM,
City Clerk.

Nootka Receives Praise Of Chief

OTTAWA, July 26 — (CP) — The Canadian destroyer Nootka, steaming home from Korea, has received praised from the commander of naval forces in the Far East.

The navy said today that Vice-Admiral C. T. Joy, USN, commander of naval forces in the Far East, sent the following message to Nootka's commander A. B. Fraser-Harris as the destroyer steamed home after six months in Korean waters:

"The Nootka has earned a most creditable record during her tour in the Far East. She has performed her share of the UN effort in a manner which will cause her to be missed on the line. Well done. May you have good luck and smooth sailing."

By the time she reaches Halifax she will have steamed 62,000 miles since she left Halifav last November.

Ordnance Depot Plans Call For $13 Million Building

COBOURG, July 26. (ENS)—Expanded plans for the new ordnance depot for Cobourg, for which tenders will be let next month, call for a 13-million-dollar building, Mayor Jack Buret told the monthly meeting of the industrial division of the Cobourg Chamber of Commerce. This expansion is due to the loss of the army depot in the Ottawa fire.

Water and sewer services to serve this big project will run into a heavy outlay. The depot may need a 12-inch water main up Division street and this would serve the dual purpose of supplying water to the ordnance depot and also to the CGE plant. In connection with the CGE, the company has been desiring for some time a bigger water supply in view of fire protection, the mayor said.

The mayor said that the town would derive possibly up to $20,000 in annual taxes from the ordnance depot, based on present assessment figures, as well as taxes from private homes which will have to be constructed to house some of the 1,500 workers which are expected to be employed.

Work started recently on a 15-inch sewer running from Division Street westerly along Buchanan Street, north of the CNR subway, to join the trunk sewer on George Street. In time this dead-end on Division Street could be extended to serve the ordnance depot.

India Trains Territorials

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NEW DEHLI, July 26—(AP)—A military spokesman said today India is calling to active duty substantial numbers of its territorial troops. But he asserted the action has no direct connection with the mounting tension between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

The spokesman said the object was to provide needed training during a period of two to five months in certain key classifications, including railway troops, engineers and mechanical units.

A usually well-informed unofficial source said the call had gone out to 20,000 railway troops, 20,000 infantrymen and an unspecified number of engineers and mechanics.

Pakistan recently complained to the United Nations that India has massed 90 per cent of its armed forces on the frontiers between the two feuding countries. The Pakistan protest said this was a threat to peace.

India has replied that nowhere near that number of troops is being moved to the border; but that what movement there has been is for defence against threats by Pakistan leaders of a holy war.

Police Seize Bicycles With 1950 Licences

COBOURG, July 26 (ENS). — When a bicycle disappears after being left on main street over night, it is not usually a case of theft. When police come upon bikes abandoned on main street at night, which bear 1950 licences, they are stowed in the police station, and then the owner is advised that he can call for his bike at the police station. However, there is a fromality. To get it, he must buy a 1951 licence. Right now there are about six bicycles with old markers waiting for their owners to pick them up at the police office.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 26 (ENS). — The Campbellford branch 103, Canadian Legion, wound up its three-day carnival on Wednesday evening after featuring the day as "kids' day." All rides and shows were reduced to 5 cents for the kiddies, and the many attractions were well patronized.

The carnival this year was conducted by Carol Shows of Toronto, and featured bingo, games of skill and chance, side shows and rides. A real carnival atmosphere prevailed. The show people rented the grounds from the legion, and the legion also gets a percentage of the receipts. From all indications the affair proved to be quite successful, giving the legion aditional funds to carry on its work.

In order to accommodate the public, the Kiwanis Club recently completed the building, which houses canteen, dressing rooms, showers and a store room for ground maintenance equipment.

We Note With Warm Approval Developments In Korean Talks

Reasonable progress is reported being made in the truce negotiations in Korea. We greet this information warmly.

Regrettable Decline In Speculation

People used to wonder a lot. Great philosophies and great religions were built thereby. For instance, people used to wonder why it was hot, or what was heat; their speculations developed from natural phenomena like today's heat, into systematic philosophies, imposing epistemological structures, penetrating theories of knowledge, and arresting postulations on primal matter.

Natural phenomena like heat are at the bases of early Greek philosophy. Today speculation has declined. We merely wipe our brows and grumble: "Devilish hot, isn't it?" We no longer bother to ask why it is hot and not cold, or what is really the difference between hot and cold. Is today hot? A ridiculous question! But is it as ridiculous as the perspiration on the brow makes it seem? If there were no humidity in the air (and therefore no perspiration), would today feel hot? Would today feel hot to a thing which had spent the last twenty years in Hell? Would it feel hot to a native of Venus (if there were any people living on the planet Venus and if Venus, being nearer the sun, is a thousand times hotter than Earth)?

On such deep questions Greek philosophers erected massive theories of knowledge and advanced the cause of science. Thales (640-550 B.C.) believed that in the phenomena of rising vapour and of sunbeams people saw the sun and other fiery bodies "drawing water" for their sustenance; thus he believed that water was capable of changing into fire. Anaximander (610-545 B.C.) was impressed by the conflicting character of hot and cold and from such opposite qualities devised a philosophy about earth, air, fire and water which has the virtue of being more understandable by ordinary people than the kind of science modern atomic physicists now propound.

Why has speculation declined? The obvious reason will be given: because now we know what early Greek philosophers merely guessed at. We know the what and why of heat, for instance. Heat is no longer a stimulus to thought, as it was in hot Greece long ago. The thoughts have all been thought long ago. Well, that sounds sensible, but we'll bet here and now that few of the people wiping their brows today know what heat is and why it is, really. They accept their views on such basic phenomena second or fifth hand, or, worse still, take for granted that they know when really they do not. The scientists may know, but who can believe them? They use weird sets of mathematical and chemical symbols which even old Thales and Anaximander would have scoffed at as mere hocus-pocus, the gibber-jabber of witch-doctors.

If less faith were put in scientists and more in plain, sound philosophy, if more people speculated for themselves, the world might be a saner place and easier to live in. So next time we have a hot spell like this, let us all get busy speculating, reclining in the shade, of course, breathing lightly, moving only the muscles of the brain, and with a cool drink nearby to ease the feverish mental activity.

When Parole Systems Fail

The question of whether parole boards should be censured, or dismissed, if they commit serious errors of judgement, is being asked in the Detroit area, according to The Windsor Star. It arose as a result of the case of Walter Lee Irwin, who was released from prison on parole and who subsequently committed the crimes of rape and murder, later killing himself. Some citizens apparently have demanded that the members of the parole board which released him be penalized in some way, but Governor Mennen G. Williams of Michigan does not agree.

Since we are not familiar with Irwin's record, we cannot from an opinion as to whether a penalty for the parole board is warranted or not. Governor Williams says that the release of this man was "a tragic mistake" but "an honest one for which no official can be justly condemned." If that is the case, we assume that Irwin's record was neither long enough nor bad enough to raise serious doubt that he had genuinely reformed, for if such doubt existed, the parole board certainly could be justly condemned.

The weakness of the parole system, in Canada as in the United States, is that too many parole boards show an incredible readiness to release prisoners on parole despite records which strongly indicate that parole will be violated. A case in point is that of the two Perraults, released by a Quebec parole board, both of whom had long police records. Both had been juvenile offenders; one had three later criminal convictions, the other four; both had been paroled previously, and one at least was serving a concurrent sentence for parole violation. Yet they were again released on parole. As a consequence, a policeman was murdered in a holdup, and the state was burdened with the cost of a transcontinental police hunt, trials and executions.

The parole board that released the Perraults could be justly condemned, in our opinion. Cases of that nature lead people to ask whether it is desirable to have any parole system whatever. The answer, we think, is that the parole system has a place in our penal structure, but that it should be operated everywhere with infinitely greater care and selectivity than has been the case in too many instances in the past.

Slavery Still Exists

The United Nations organization, with its numerous agencies, specialized branches and committees, has become a monitor of the world. This is its most successful role: the world-wide informer and adviser. One of its special committees, set up by the Economic and Social Council in 1949 to investigate what human slavery exists in the world today, had lately made a report. The contents should shake people out of complacency.

In some areas held in U.N. trusteeship outright slavery is practised; the number of persons in actual bondage and the number of slaves sold annually, have not been gauged. However, a recent Associated Press despatch from Cairo states that in slave auctions in the Arabian peninsula, the average price for a female slave is fifteen dollars but, towards the end of the sales, prices slip and some have been sold for as little as 75 cents.

In colonial and trust areas the U.N. committee found practices "akin to slavery", such as child-adoption and wife-selling. The report stated that mut tsai—the sale of girls bought from parents—exists in Malayan Hong Kong and Singapore. In Japan boys and girls are sold by poor parents to labour brokers who resell them to factory owners, cafe managers and the like. According to one Japanese report, orphaned boys in that country were being sold in 1949 for as little as $1.50 each, and the contracted term of slave labour usually extends to ten years.

The U.N. committee listed other forms of human slavery which it encountered: sham adoption of children for the purpose of selling them; buying wives to sell them to employers or brothels; debt bondage; peonage, serfdom and forced labour. Formal charges of using forced labour have been made against the Union of South Africa and Russia.

The United States has not escaped censure. It has been charged with permitting peonage, specifically, debt labour in some southern states; exploiting the labour of prisoners, patients in mental hospitals and certain tribes of American Indians. The U.N. Committee may now investigate labour conditions among the impoverished Mexicans who are smuggled across the border into the U.S.A. by illegal labour brokers. There are believed to be more than a million of these poor Mexicans working under questionable conditions in southern plantations.

The Toronto Star, commenting on the slavery revealed by the U.N. Committee says that it indicates that "even in advanced countries human bondage is made possible by acute poverty among large numbers of people." It is the poverty and ignorance in the less advanced country (like Mexico) which makes it possible for the more advanced country to tie the bonds. The Star suggests that a new anti-slavery convention is required to meet the new conditions discovered by the United Nations experts. That may be so, but as the Star admits, the abolition of slavery depends chiefly on the abolition of poverty and ignorance in the world. Even the classic form of slavery exists in the Arabian peninsula, despite conventions against it.

British Elections In October?

By PHILIP VERNON

THERE are two questions which I am asked almost every day. First, "Will there be an election in October?" And secondly, "If there is, which party will win it?"

The answers to these questions can, of course, only be conjectures, but since they are uppermost in everyone's mind as Parliament prepares to rise for the long summer recess, I will try to present the facts which are likely to influence Mr. Attlee in chdosing the date of the election, and the numerous factors which are likely to determine the outcome of the election ifit is held this autumn.

✧ ✧ ✧

AS long as Mr. Attlee still has a majority in the House of Commons, the decision when to hold a general election rests with him alone. He may consult the individual members of his Cabinet and seek their advice, but it is for him and not for the Cabinet to decide. Mr. Attlee's temperament is therefore not irrelevant to the issue. Like all party leaders he must, of course, choose the moment which appears most favourable to his own party. But from what one knows and hears of Mr. Attlee, this is not the only factor which will influence him.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR a man who is outwardly so diffident, Mr. Attlee is a remarkably self-confident man. He strongly believes that in the present world crisis a Labour Government under his leadership can serve the interests of the country better than any other administration which would be likely to replace it. This accounts, in part, for the tenacity with which he clings to office. Moreover, his two electorial victories over Mr. Churchill, in 1945 and 1950, have taught him to rate highly his own popular appeal. The public may at the moment have turned against his Government—as it did in the autumn and early winter of 1949—bu he still likes to believe that at some other moment (whether it is this year or next year) his own virtues and the virtues of his policy will again be recognized by the electors. He is a patient man and is prepared to wait.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT there are some hard, unpleasant facts which Mr. Attlee cannot ignore. The Labour Party has only to lose three seats at by-elections, and its absolute majority in the House of Commons will disappear. The state of the parties after the 1950 general elections was:

Labour	315	Irish Nationalists.	2
		Liberal	9
	315	Conservative ...	298
			309

✧ ✧ ✧

HITHERTO the Labour seats which have been contested at by-elections have been safe seats which the Conservatives could not reasonably hope to win. But even in these, since February of last year, there has been a small but noticeable swing—enough to give the Conservatives a working majority at a general election. Now Labour faces a contest in a seat which it won in 1950 by the comparatively small margin of 4,136 votes. This is Droylsden, in Lancashire, and the figures at the last general election were:

Labour	25,238
Conservative	21,102
Liberal	5,483

IT is clear that Labour is in danger of losing the seat—is, in fact, certain to lose it if the substantial Liberal vote goes to the Conservatives. The result of this by-election, therefore, cannot but have some influence on Mr. Attlee. If Labour is defeated, the danger of two more Labour losses during the winter will present itself. It would be an unhappy day for Mr. Attlee and the Labour Party, if he were forced to appeal to the country in mid-winter not of his own choosing but because he had been deprived of his majority in the House of Commons. It would be a double calamity. In the first place, he would have been deprived of the initiative — which in electoral matters is all-important. And he would be appealing to the country at a time when support for the Government is always at its lowest; in the cold winter months, when coal is almost unobtainable and food is scarce.

An autumn election, at a date of his own choosing, would therefore seem to offer Mr. Attlee the best hope of victory. But the fact remains that, according to the Gallup Poll, the Conservatives still have a lead in the country sufficient to give them a working majority in the House of Commons. It is true that during the summer months this lead has gradually diminished (one always comes back to the weather in British politics), but nevertheless it is still substantial.

✧ ✧ ✧

MR. Attlee must therefore be looking round for an issue on which he could appeal to the people and have some hope of winning back the lapsed Labour supporters. The obvious one is peace in Korea. If the cease-fire negotiations at Kaesong were successful and widened into negotiations for a general settlement in the Far East, much of the credit (rightly or wrongly) would be given to the Government. It would not be surprising, therefore, if a cease-fire in Korea were followed by a dissolution of Parliament at Westminster.

✧ ✧ ✧

SUCH an occasion would enable Mr. Attlee to appeal to that large section of the country which is still apt (rightly or wrongly, it is not for me to say) to regard the Conservatives in general and Mr. Churchill in particular as "war-mongers". But it would do more than that. It would unite the Labour Party at a time when Mr. Bevan's rebellion threatens it with disintegration. It would rally the Labour supporters—and rally them, let it be noticed, under Mr. Attlee's leadership and behind Mr. Attlee's policy.

The supporters of Mr. Bevan and Mr. Bevan himself wish for an early election, believing that defeat at the polls would swing the Labour Party to the Left. That may be so as far as the rank-and-file is concerned, but such a tactical victory would have been won only at the cost of strengthening Mr. Attlee's hold on the party—which is already formidable. And Mr. Attlee, as politicians go, is still a comparatively young man.

Republican Mail

(HALIFAX CHRONICLE-HERALD)

ONE of the most exasperating things to come out of Ottawa for some time is the federal government's decision to drop the term Royal Mail. The Post Office has been doing some strange things lately and this, the latest of the series, has won governmental approval.

Is our mail "royal" or isn't it? Have we suddenly become a republic? Will not this very legislation have to receive "royal" assent? And what of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Royal Canadian Air Force, the Royal Canadian Artillery, the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, and all the rest?

Until or unless Canada gives up constitutional monarchy for a republican system of government, our system still has its Royal features. We have a King of Canada. His Majesty's armed forces and His Majesty's mail are naturally and logically royal. There is nothing strange, much less shameful, about that. (Nor are many convinced by example that a republican form of government would automatically be a great blessing.)

What gets into government ministers or their advisers which prompts them to rob us of colourful customs and traditions? Every nation has to have its symbols. Our principal symbols, and ones which we have respected, have been the Crown and the Sovereign who wears it.

To anyone with imagination, there is far more colour in terms like Royal Mail and King's Highway than in Canada Post Office and Highway No. 3. And it is an appeal which adds to the lives of all of us and to our visitors. We are inclined to forget, sometimes, how striking these things are to friends from the United States. They are fascinated by "royal," by coats-of-arms, by "Ltd." in firms names, and all these touches which distinguish our country from theirs.

If the Post Office people really want to do something useful, let them look into the present delivery system which is causing so much complaint across Canada. And as for the Government, generally, instead of trying to abolish colourful and traditional institutions, let it concern itself with the cost of living. It might begin with the price of beef.

Junk That's Valuable

CINDERELLA become Queen — that's the story of iron and steel scrap. Never has scrap been so vital, because on it now depends the continuance of the present high rate of production for defence and civilian needs.

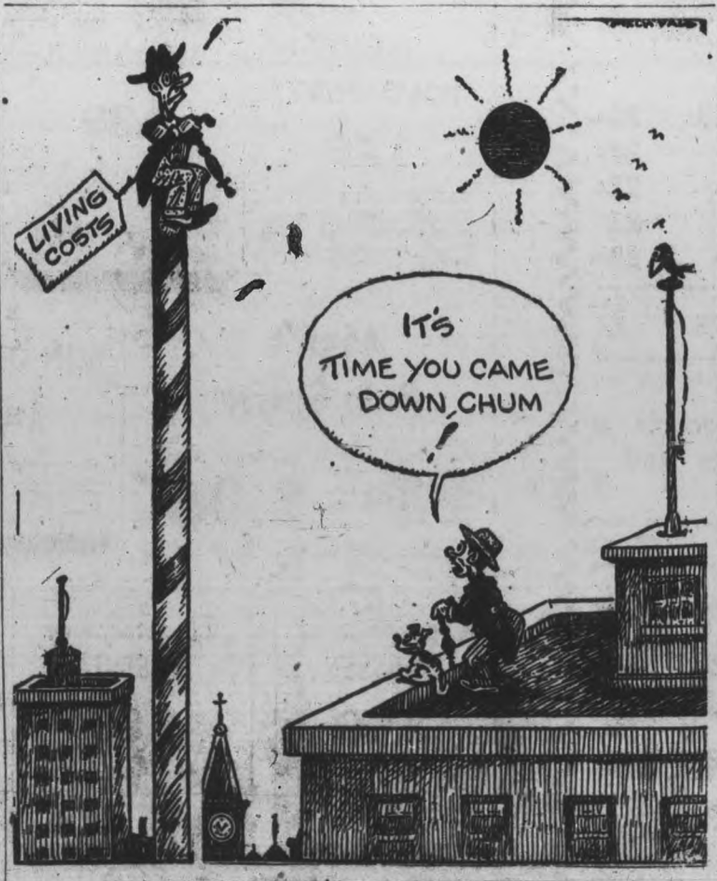
Many people cannot understand what scrap metal—which they sell as junk—has to do with making automobiles, stoves, refrigerators and many other articles. But, just as the housewife uses stale bread to make bread pudding, so iron and steel scrap are used to make new steel.

For steel, in most of its forms, is virtually indestructible. It is used, scrapped, remelted and used again. The open hearth process of making steel requires a blending of scrap steel with new pig iron so that scrap forms about half of the furnace's charge.

And scrap today is scarce—uncomfortably scarce. Steel companies like to keep at least 60 days' supply of scrap on hand. But they have been eating into their supplies. Where some of the big piles of scrap once stood at The Steel Company of Canada's great Hamilton works, there is now bare ground. Stocks have been dwindling. The situation is world-wide. Furnace shut-downs in the United States have even been contemplated because of the scrap shortage—at a time when steel is needed more than ever.

Canadian steel plants produced nearly 3,300,000 tons of ingots last year. To maintain this production, at least 1,000,000 tons of scrap is needed every year, in addition to scrap produced in the steel plants themselves, and re-used carefully. Stelco's new furnaces, now being constructed, will need each year about 300,000 tons of scrap more than is being used now—and today this company needs to buy nearly 1,000 tons of scrap a day.

Why is scrap so necessary? Cannot its place be taken by using more pig iron?



The answer is that use of scrap enables steel to be made faster, cheaper and of better quality. There is better control of analysis, because fewer impurities are present in scrap, which already has been refined at least once. Use of iron ore alone would require longer smelting and refining time, and increased costs for material and labour. It also would involve faster use of non-renewable natural resources, particularly iron ore, coal and limestone, as well as costly, needless transportation of these basic ingredients. It takes nearly four tons of raw materials to make one of pig iron.

Stelco representatives are visiting manufacturers who buy Stelco steel and are urging them to return, quickly, every pound of scrap resulting from their operations, as well as all the abandoned vehicles, machines, tools, dies, fixtures and other scrap lying around their plants. Co-operation by these customers has been excellent.

But there is a lot more scrap still around. Some of it consists of worn-out farm implements, other machines, old cars, and municipal equipment. The key man in getting it to the steel mills is the scrap metal dealer. He finds, collects and sorts the scrap, and prepares it for the furnaces by cutting or baling.

You and every citizen can help in this critical situation. Call a scrap metal dealer and turn over all your unusable metal to him today. It's worth more money than ever before. And it will help Canadian steel mills to keep up capacity output.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you....Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but thou shalt follow me afterwards. (John 13: 33, 36.)

✧ ✧ ✧

In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you....Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me....Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. (John 14: 2, 5, 6, 12, 13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fuit; so shall ye be my disciples. (John 15: 8.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul: and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch. (Acts 11: 25, 26.)

Poor Britain!

(Victoria Times)

With familiar crocodile tears, Mr. Hearst's Seattle Post Intelligencer laments the decline and fall of the British Empire. "England's misfortune", says the Post Intelligencer, "arouses sympathy and commiseration in America. It is sad that a great nation, so closely related to us in speech and tradition, should ignominiously have fallen into the Socialist morass of delusion and disillusion."

No doubt there is widespread sympathy for Britain in the United States, but how much of it is shared in Mr. Hearst's editorial offices one can easily guess. Mr. Hearst and his editors have deplored, condemned and libeled Britain and its Empire for the last half century, have attacked their tyranny over backward peoples and now are outraged because a weakened Britain cannot maintain world peace which the United States so long enjoyed. Britain was once denounced for being too strong. Now it is denounced for being too weak.

All this is to be expected from Mr. Hearst, who has made a private religion of Anglophobia.

Cincinnatus Thompson

(Brantford Expositor)

Walter Thompson has been called back from retirement to handle press, radio and general public relations arrangements in connection with the forthcoming tour of T.R.H. the Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. Since he looked after the tour of King George and Queen Elizabeth so well, he is undoubtedly the logical man for the job. This occasions, in The Ottawa Journal, a classical comparison with Cincinnatus. The latter, for those who may have forgotten their ancient history, was the chap who was called back from his farm to save Rome.

Courteous Southerner

(Windsor Star)

If you must get into an accident, try to pick a gentleman from Kentucky. A motorist from that state went through a stop street in Windsor, admitting frankly he didn't see the stop sign. Then he paid cash on the spot to the amount of $300 for damage to the car with which he collided.

On top of all that, he cheerfully paid a fine of $10, imposed by a Windsor court.

Kentucky and southern gallantry have profited to the extent of far more than $300 by this forthright act. The Blue Grass State should see to it that he is reimbursed, or make him a Kentucky colonel.

Your health, suh!

Liquor In Films Offends, Heads Cut It Out

By HOWARD C. HEYN

HOLLYWOOD, July 26 (AP)—Screen writers in far-from-dry Hollywood are asking themselves: "Is the drink necessary?"

Over at Paramount there's a Vice-President—Y. Frank Freeman, no less—who goes around plucking cocktails out of manuscripts.

That isn't all he does, of course. But Freeman feels pretty strongly on the subject. There's no doubt, says he, that too much drinking in pictures offends many.

He aims to offend as few as possible. And in this respect his feelings aren't limited to liquor. But his rule good pictures don't always have to be 99 per cent crass materialism.

Freeman is a Southern Churchman (Baptist) who doesn't drink. Yet he told me (and I heard him the first time) that he has no prejudice against liquor.

"We are weeding out scenes involving needless drinking," he conceded, "But if liquor is important to the story it stays in. A Western without a saloon, for instance, would be ridiculous."

Paramount, after all, produced "The Lost Week-End," probably the wettest picture ever made. And Paramount, too, recently was host at a movie blowout in New York at which no alcoholic beverages were served.

Free Blurb

Freeman cited, not quite by coincidence, his studio's new Western, "Passage West." This concerns a preacher-led wagon train, California bound, to which four outlaws forcibly attach themselves for protection against pursuing officers.

A bloodier bunch of desperados never roamed a Hollywood back lot, and they give the parson's flock a bad time. By proper contrast the reverend is the essence of virture, but he's plenty tough too.

Since one must be realistic to save souls, the minister looks upon his lurid past as excellent training for a gospel mission. of course some of his goodness rubs off on the outlaw leader.

Thus we have uplift as well as action. And no sermonizing.

RCAF SABRE BECOMES GUINEA PIG—With plans under way for HMCS Magnificent to transport aircraft of the RCAF's Cougar Squadron to the United Kingdom in the fall, one of the speedy F-86 Sabre jets was flown to Dartmouth this week to serve as a guinea pig to establish loading and stowage procedure of the jets aboard the huge aircraft carrier. Based at St. Hubert, Que., 410 Squadron will move to England late this fall to train with squadrons of the Royal Air Force, much the same as 421 Red Indian Squadron is now. Although the Red Indians are flying Vampires jets loaned by the RAF, members of the Cougar Squadron will take their aircraft with them aboard the Magnificent. The RCAF jets will not be flown from the aircraft carrier but will be lifted on and off by cranes and will be stowed in the ship's two hangars for overseas passage.—National Defence Photo.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Just 10 years ago this month, Charlie (Chuck) Kearns was drowned in Rice Lake. The popular redhead was brought here from Toronto in the middle 30s by Knotty Lee to play senior ball and he proved one of the best ever to patrol right field for the Petes. He also starred in football with the Orfuns and in the men's softball circuit. A hustling, scrappy player of medium height and weight, the Chucker had plenty of color. And he was as genial a guy as you'd want to know. So, a sportsmen's meeting was held here on July 25, 1941, and 'twas decided to perpetuate his memory by putting up a Charlie Kearns Memorial Trophy for annual competition. To be awarded the outstanding local athlete for his sportsmanship and ability.

* * * * * *

A committee was named to arrange for a ball game, with prizes, to raise the money necessary. And a fine trophy was the result. The committe included: President Rollie Glover, Secretary Jim Dorris, and Ed Murphy, Don Crowe, Larry Maguire, Fred Scates, George Kingdon, W. Bradshaw, H. A. Cranfield, Vern Dawson, H. White, Harold Dormer, George Dormer and Bill Meagher. However, this trophy has never been awarded to anyone. Good athletes were joining the armed services then, so it was left over till hostilities ceased. Yet nothing has happened after the war. Last we heard, Jim Dorris had the trophy at the Chamber of Commerce. He tried to stir up some action but without results.

* * * * * *

Let's Get Some Action

Now, there's not much point in having a fine trophy lying around idle—nor in forgetting an outstanding athlete like Kearns. If no action is forthcoming shortly, we'd suggest that the trophy be turned over to Mrs. Charlie Kearns and perhaps she would have it put up for annual competition, maybe in just one sport. And name three judges to rule on the award. One sport, like football, might simplify things. Chuck starred in the ORFU grid game and that sport has no most valuable player trophy. Baseball and softball have such cups each year, and hockey is out since it was not Chuck's game. It's merely a suggestion but we'd like to see some action on it by autumn, anyway.

With about three weeks left in the OLA senior schedule, the local lacrossers continue to hold first place. However, the other clubs are starting to make their bids for playoff spots, and the pressure is on. Mimico Mounties, in third slot, head this way on the morrow for an 8.45 p.m. touch in Miller Bowl, and that should be another rousing struggle. Both Mounties and Petes will be giving it all they have in an attempt to grab this one. Don Crowe's crew are by no means assured yet of finishing in front of the pack, but they can do it if they don't drop too many from here in. No doubt another hefty Friday night crowd will view this hot tilt.

Tigers And Mounties Up

Lacrosse standing is in tonight and shows the merry scramble, Mimico beating St. Kitts 12-7 and Hamilton taking Petes 9-5 last night. Tigers thus climb into second spot two games back of our crowd, while Mimico moves into a third-place tie with A's. Hamilton got an early jump last p.m. and then played sound defensive lacrosse to hold off the leaders, who didn't give Wootton too much protection the first half. Pick of the Petes were Thorpe, Mason, Dugan, Slater, Powless, O'Hearn, Hildebrand and Creighton, after that first game. By the way, Andy O'Brien has advised club prexy Bob Peirson that a feature article on Peterborough lacrosse will appear in the Montreal Standard on Aug. 25.

Oshawa Merchants edged Guelph 3-2 the other night in an exhibition ball game, and will play Brantford Sox in the Motor City tonight. Flaunting the OBA and TBA orders for Viaduct League clubs to play no games 'gainst the Intercounty Loop so long as Jerry Creasey plays for that circuit. Scribe Campbell of Oshawa writes: "The fact that the game with Guelph was played indicates that nobody is paying much attention to 'the suggestion' that nobody play an Intercounty team—to support the OBA ruling. After all, why should anyone pay any attention? If the OBA make a ruling, then the OBA should enforce it themselves, and not use the co-opration of other teams in other leagues to try to keep the Intercounty men in their places. It's an OBA problem and appears proven that the OBA couldn't make any ruling and make it stick, if the I-C men didn't like it."

Hamilton Takes 9-5 Win Over The Petes

Hamilton Tigers gave their largest home crowd of the season something to cheer about last night in Scott Park when they bested Timbermen 9-5 in another stellar senior lacrosse match. It was the ninth win in 11 starts for Tigers in their current stretch drive for supremacy in the torrid OLA race. The yellow and black crew had to go all out from bell to bell, however, to gain the nod over the loop leaders who made it an even battle for the last three frames after a disastrous first, when the homesters potted four goals before the late-arriving Timbermen unlimbered. After that it was a battle to the wire; but on the play Hamilton earned their win.

Rover Jack Gair gave the homesters an early start in the first and Blain McDonald made it two, seconds later, from Lee as Tigers opened fast with the ambition of a mouse looking for cheese. Don Crowe's men fought back hard but seemed unable to penetrate Tigers' stubborn defence, nor the armor of Favell. Jack Dorney and Merv McKenzie added a pair at the three-quarter mark with Petes' defensive lapses on breakaways a prime factor, despite Tigers' giddy-up.

Still In Frost

The second period gave the home squad an edge on territorial play and a goal margin in the summary with Bob Grainger and Gair clicking to offset Arn Dugan's sparkling solo counter; but Timbermen showed closer to form. Bob Thorpe, who played another fine two-way game, scored the only tally in the third as Timbermen showed good play both ways, to outdo the Cove lads. Play sustained a furious pace in the final and despite two early thrusts by Dorney (three-goal star) Mason twice and Hildebrand tallied as Timbermen swarmed all around Favelle in an effective though belated burst, to draw even with the home crew. It was even lacrosse in this stanza as two fine teams toiled to the finish while an appreciative crowd roared in approval. Tigers' early margin stood them in good stead. Elmer Lee fired the last home tally. It was a fast crowd-pleasing game, with Hamilton showing neat positional and fine defensive play and a well-timed effective passing game to deserve victory.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald, O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Dugan, Ashbee; rover, Creighton; alts., Slater, Crowe, Powless, Wipper, Magee, Mason, Hildebrand.

Double Cross Revealed In Fix On Basketball

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP).—Two fixers in the latest college basketball scandal were in protective custody today and a police dragnet was out for one of their accomplices, a principal in a fantastic double-cross among gamblers.

District Attorney Frank Hogan, who yesterday revealed that a sixth school—Toledo University—was involved in the scandal, told the story of the double-cross among the fixers.

It involved Nick Englisis, his brother Tony, New York contact man; Jack (Zip) West, and Eli Kaye, the master fixer.

The Englisis brothers are in protective custody. West, who left New York Tuesday when the Englisis boys were picked up, is the object of the police search. Kaye is free in $50,000 bail on a charge of fixing City College of New York games last season.

Double-Cross

The story of the double-cross as related by Hogan:

Kaye assigned Nick Englisis, a former University of Kentucky football player, to the Bradley University team. Englisis paid frequent visits to Peoria, Ill., campus, and once rode in the same compartment of a train with all-America player Gene Melchiorre, who along with four or his teammates, has admitted participating in game-fixing during the 1949-50 season.

Before each Bradley game, Nick would telephone his brother in New York, would relay the details of the fix to West. West paid $1,000 for the information. The West-Englisis arangement was unknown to Kaye.

Bradley was favored by six or seven points against St. Joseph's in Philadelphia, and the deal was that Melchiorre and his team would win by a narrower margin. Persons who bet on St. Joseph thus would win their wagers.

West was let in on the deal, but when Kaye found considerable money was being bet on St. Joseph's, he decided that the word must have leaked out and that there was a double-cross on.

So Kaye told Nick they would switch their bets and "teach the other guys a lesson." Kaye then relayed his new instructions to the Bradley players—that they were supposed to win by more than the point spread. Nick called his brother in New York, who told West of the switch. But West said he couldn't change his bets.

West and two of his men took Tony to the West apartment in Brooklyn, and, holding him prisoner, instructed him to call Convention Hall in Philadelphia where the game was being played and talk to his brother.

Tony did, telling Nick his life was being threatened. Nick caught Melchiorre's eye and turned his thumbs down, indicating that the plans again were changed — the team was to win under the point spread. Thinking the orders were coming from Kaye, Melchiorre nodded.

Bradley won, 64-60, under the spread, and Kaye, still unmindful of what was going on, lost heavily betting on Bradley to win by more than six or seven points. West won his bets.

In addition to Melchiorre, Aaron Preece, Jim Kelly, Bill Mann and Bud Grover of Bradley have admitted complicity.

Eight games were fixed during the 1949-50 season, some under and some over the point spread, Hogan said.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

International Canoe Federation rules for the Helsinki Olympic games next July have been amended following a Canadian Canoe Association protest.

The amendment calls for standardization of equipment for the Olympics, eliminating canoe rudders that, CCA officials claimed, helped Europeans with the 1948 events.

Following the Olympics in England, Montreal's Edgar Gilbert, honorary CCA secretary-treasurer and team manager, protested the use of "twisted keels" and rudders" by some Europeans.

He claimed that Doug Bennet of nearby St. Lambert, Que., lost the 1,000-metre single blade event to Czechoslovakia's J. Holeck by 11 seconds because Holeck's craft was rudder-equipped.

Bennett was Canada's highest point-getter.

The 1952 Canadian swimming and diving championships will be held at Toronto, the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association announced Wednesday night. They will be held in conjunction with the Olympic trials, probably in the latter part of June.

Canadian tennis players are faced with numerous problems, Laird Watt, president of the Province of Quebec Lawn Tennis Association and former player and captain of Canada's Da is Cup team, said Wednesday.

Addressing a luncheon meeting Mr. Watt said main problems are lack of funds, insufficient organization, inadequate coaching, little opportunity for outside play and the short Canadian playing season.

Montreal Alouettes announced Wednesday night the association Wednesday night the acquisition of a fourth New York football great, Bill Chambers, a Yankee tackle.

Chambers is the third Yankee to join the Larks this season, following George Ratterman and John Yonakor. Another import was Gene (Choo Choo) Roberts of the professional New York Giants.

Cuba's four-man Davis Cup team was due to arrive at Montreal Wednesday night by air. The Cubans meet Canada's team in a second round tie, Aug. 3-5.

Canada's squad of Montreal's Henri Rochon and Brendan Macken and Lorne Main of Vancouver are currently playing at Southampton, NY, in the Meadow Club's invitation tournament. They are expected to return to Montreal Friday to resume training for the matches.

Cobourg Ties Colborne 0-0

COBOURG, July 26.—Cobourg Legionnaires and Colborne Dodgers went to an eight-inning runless tie here last night in a Lakeshore intermediate baseball game. Scheduled for seven frames, the game was called at the end of eighth for darkness.

Jim Ingamells went the route for Cobourg as did Bill Ball for Dodgers. Colborne picked up six hits, three of them by Miles, Negro import from the United States. Chuck Hall, pitcher Ball and Irvine got the other safeties. Eight of the Dodgers fanned.

Only one Colborone player got as far as third and no Legionnaire got past second. Ball held the Cobourg crew to four hits, one a pinch single by manager Ross Zealand in the seventh. The Cobourg leader was nailed off second after he had successfully stolen the middle sack. Seven of the locals fanned in the fast tussle, played in an hour and 20 minutes.

Miles, the hitting leader for the Colborne team, also stared defensively at shortstop.

Port Hope Loses First Time In 2 Years

COBOURG, July 26 (CP). — Mathews conveyers of Port Hope suffered its first loss in two-and-a-half season's when they bowed to CGE, 4-2, here in a Cobourg and District Softball League game.

Donny Platt halted the league leaders in their seventh game this year with a three-hit performance. He fanned three, walked one and fielded his position perfectly. In only ope innings did the Mathews clan bother him, the second, when he gave up two runs on three hits.

Barney Mills, the Mathew heaver, was stingy with his hits, too, holding the winners to just five blows.

Trotter M. C. Rose Wins Two Divisions

TORONTO, July 26 (CP).—M. C. Rose, the five-year-old gelding owned by Garnet Rowntree of Weston, and driven by Bill Simmons, won both divisions of Wednesday's trotting stake at Thorncliffe raceway. M. C. Rose was only one-fifth of a second off his own record as he trotted the first dash of a mile in 2.09 1-5.

The secondary feature was a fast pacing class, won by LEM, owned by O. Corbeil of Montreal. Handled faultlessly by Henri Larochelle, he went to the front at once and lasted to hold off Dr. Holman from Aultsville, Ont. Parker Lock's Atomic Bomb appeared a certain winner as he charged on the outside but he over-paced himself and broke at the 16th pole.

Montreal Girl Captures Jr. Swim Crown

VANCOUVER, July 26 (CP).—A 13-year-old Montreal girl, a small pulp and paper town and the McNamee family of Vancouver tell most of the story of yesterday's start in the four-day Canadian swimming championships here.

Gladys Priestley had spectators seeing Olympic writing on the wall as she drove from third on the final lap to win the junior women's 200-yard freestyle event.

Her time—two minutes, 26.9 seconds—was 1.9 seconds off the Canadian record held by Irene Barr of Hamilton. She zoomed from way back on her unnoticed outside lane to defeat the defending champion, Doren Howatt of Fergus, Ont., by two feet.

Ocean Falls, BC, a tiny pulp and paper town upcoast from Vancouver which has given Canada a fistful of swimming champions, showed that it hasn't stopped producing them.

Wilbur Campbell, a chunk of red-haired dynamite, wore down his opposition and methodically to win the exhausting junior men's 400-yard freestyle.

Younger Brother

His opposition came from teammates Jim Bain, who placed second, and Ron Gilchrist, third. Gilchrist is the younger brother of Allan, who holds a dozen Canadian records and who will compete today in senior events.

Gerry McNamee, just turned 17, won the men's 100-yard free-style after a heart-pounding battle with Peter Mingle of Montreal and George Stulac of Toronto.

His sister, Kay, won the women's 200-yard free-style so easily she might just as well have been walking on top of the water. She was a half-length ahead of Beryl Lewis of Toronto at the finish and didn't look even winded.

Lenora Fisher gave Ocean Falls another victory when she won the junior women's 100-yard backstroke in one minute, 16.1 seconds, 2.1 seconds off the record time.

No records were broken yesterday.

Nine more events will be held tonight, with heats in three of them during the day.

Leanders Lead In Total Score At Henley Meet

By CECIL SMITH,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., July 26 (CP).—Seven final races will be run off today at the second day of the four-day 69th Royal Canadian Henley Regatta on the old Delland Canal. In addition, 12 heats are on the day's card.

Because of the record number of entries, starting time has been set ahead one hour to 4 p.m. EDT.

Hamilton Leanders yesterday grabbed top honors in the final of the 145-pound quarter-mile dash to take the lead in the point total of the annual classic. The race was the only one of the 14 first day races counting towards the point-total.

The winner of the point total receives the Maple Leaf Shield donated by Governor-General Alexander in 1949. St. Catharines are the defending champions, having won on both occasions that the shield was up for competition.

Tom Smith was the powerhouse for the Leanders, stroking his shell across the finish line in 1:22.6 to best the efforts of Ken Blue of Detroit Boating Club who was a half-length behind. Fred Tucker of Brockville, Ont., was third, six feet behind Blue.

All three qualified for the final race in heats runs off earlier in the day.

One of the better efforts during the day was turned in by 16-year-old Walter Hoover of Detroit Boating Club, who won the United States schoolboy championship last weekend.

Hoover crossed the finish line 10 open lengths in front in the final of the high school singles under the colors of Grosse Point High School, Detroit. Don Guest of Etobicoke Collegiate, fell behind at the half-way mark of the mile course and failed to recover.

Johnny Mize Bat To Blame For Cleveland's 13th Loss

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Cleveland wins the American League pennant, they'll never believe it in Yankee Stadium.

The tribal warhoop is only an empty echo in the Yanks' concrete wigwam on the Harlem where Cleveland has lost 13 straight ball games since July 14, 1950.

They've dropped eight straight in '51 with only three to play.

Big John Mize was the villain in the Indians' latest disasters. His eighth-inning homer won the opener Tuesday, 3-2, and his ninth - inning double punched home both runs of yesterday's 2-1 verdict over Garcia.

Because Chicago snapped its five-game losing streak and whipped Boston 6-2 at Fenway Park, the Yankees opened up a full-game lead on the Red Sox. Cleveland is another length back and the White Sox are 3½ off the pace.

In contrast to this wild struggle the National remains a Brooklyn waltz with the Dodgers. 6-2 winners over Chicago, now nine games in front of New York which won a June 17 "suspended game" from Pittsburgh 7-6 in 10 innings but lost the regular contest 5-4.

Garcia Pitches

Garcia pitched a fine game against the Yanks, holding a 1-0 lead over Eddie Lopat going to the ninth. Then Mize did his stuff.

Gil McDougald opened the Yankee ninth with a single. Garcia mowed down Gene Woodling and Joe Dimaggio. Yogi Berra kept the game alive by singling McDougald to third.

Mize sliced a hit into short left that Bob Kennedy couldn't hold. Both McDougald and Berra scored the tying and winning runs.

Ken Holcombe, easy working Chicago righthhander, tamed the Red Sox right in Fenway Park with a five-hitter to pull the White Sox out of their tailspin.

Don Lenhardt smashed a three-run homer off Mel Parnell in the sixth to nullify a 1-0 Boston lead. Parnell gave up another run in the seventh and Chicago got to Walt Masterson and Harry Taylor for one each in the last two innings to nail it down.

Browns Win

Ned Carver won No. 13 for the last place St. Louis Browns. The talented righthander held Philadelhpia to seven hits for a 5-4 edge in a night game at Shibe Park.

Washington hopped on Freddie Hutshinson and three successors for 14 hits and a 7-4 decision as Don Johnson survived a rocky first inning to go the route.

Preacher Roe won his 14th by downing Chicago 6-2 for Brooklyn.

Gil Hodges, back on the home run beam with his second in two days after an 18-day slump, slugged Bob Rush for No. 30 in the second inning. The blow put him even with Babe Ruth's record pace for 91 games.

The Giants went 10 innings to finish out the suspended game with Larry Jansen's 13th victory. It was tide 6-6 in June when the game was called because of the Pennsylvania Sunday curfew. Murry Dickson was the eventual loser.

Rookie Al Corwin, up from Ottawa, blew a 4-0 lead in the regular game. Joe Garagiola's homer with two on in the seventh featured a four-run rally that tied the score. The Pirates won in the eighth on George Strickland's long fly with the bases loaded.

Robin Roberts racked up his second straight shutout for the Phillies, 2-0, holding St. Louis to four hits.

Cincinnati and Boston were not sceduled.

Cubs Stirring In Int'l Cellar

By The Associated Press.

Springfield is edging toward the cellar door in the International League. Any day now they're liable to make a break for open air.

The Cubs, now only two games behind seventh-place Ottawa, have been raising a little rumpus in the upper strata. They knocked Buffalo out of second place last night with a 7-1 punch. Bill Padgett toyed with the Bisons for his 11th victory. Archie Wilson with his 21st homer and a double and single was the only Bison to bother Padgett.

Syracuse took over second place by routing Toronto 11-1 on 17 hits while Bob Keegan scattered nine hits. Bill Baker hit a three-run homer and Carden Gillenwater had a perfect four-for-four night.

Montreal continued to skim along with an 11 1-2 game lead on Jim Hughes' four-hit shutout of Rochester 1-0. It was a fine duel between Hughes and Bob Habenicht when Junior Gilliam walked stole second and scored on Hector Rodriguez' single.

Ottawa ripped into Ed Cristante and a pair of reliefers for 13 hits to down Baltimore 8-6. Fred Gerken led the Giants with a homer and single to bat in three runs.

Gerry Kesselring Under Par To Qualify

LONOON, Ont., July 26 (CP)—Gerry Kesselring, 22-year-old golfer from Kitchener Westmount Club, shot a one-under-par 69 to lead the field in the qualifying round of the Ontario amateur golf championship at London Ount Club yesterday.

Thirty-two Ontario amateurs qualified for the championship flight which tees off at 9:30 a.m. today. First twosome in the elimination series which will cut the field to two golfers by Saturday is made up of Kesselring and Frank Phillips of Sarnia who shot a 73 yesterday.

Kesselring was the only contestant to break par in the qualifying round. He went out in par. On the back nine he shot four birdies and was over par on three holes. He was one over after the 16th but sank long putts on the last two holes for birdies which dropped him one under.

Six Tied

Tied for second spot were six golfers with 71s. They were Bruce Castator, Toronto Islington; Emerson Creed, London Hunt; Doug McKellar, Toronto Scarboro; Keith Kirkpatrick, London Highland; Ernie Bentley, Toronto Weston, and Phil Farley, Toronto Scarboro.

Nick Weslock of Windsor Essex, last year's champion, shot a wobbly 74, sufficient to qualify and also assure him of a place on the Ontario Willingdon Cup team.

Others certain of a place on the four-man team are Kesselring, and Farley. Don Varey of Brantford, who carded a 74 is next in line for a berth providing the current championship is won by either himself or Farley, Kesselring or Weslock. The champion automatically qualifies for the team which will carry Ontario colors in the annual Canadian amateur golf championships.

It took a 75 or better to qualify for the championship flight in yesterday's round.

Ernie Nerlich of Toronto Thornhill and Bud Smith of Guelph shot 72s. Eight other golfers carded 73s, nine had 74 and five came in with 75.

Newhouser Benched By Stubborn Sore Arm

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The pitching future of Prince Hal Newhouser is in doubt.

The veteran Detroit Tiger lefthander has been bothered with a sore arm for six weeks and apparently it's getting worse instead of better.

Manager Red Rolfe had Newhouser pitch briefly in batting practice before yesterday's game with Washington Senators. The result was far from satisfactory.

"When he will pitch again is very indefinite," Rolfe said afterwards.

Hal has pitched only 1 1-3 innings since July 4.

The slight southpaw has been with the Tigers since 1939. Although he had a mediocre 15-13 record last season, he remains one of the game's highest-paid pitchers with an estimated $42,000 salary this season.

Juniors Triumph

HASTINGS, July 26 (ENS)—The local league shows promise of some good ball games from here in as Juniors defeated Elgin 11-6 in the first game of their best of three series, with Tanners and Legion meeting Friday night in the first game of their series. West went all the way for the Juniors and after giving up three runs in the first inning, settled away and was seldom in trouble after, giving up eight hits and striking out five.

J. Richardson started on the mound for Elgin and had the Juniors popping out in monotonous style till the fourth when every one jumped on him. When Scate finally came in to put the damper on, the score read 8-3 for Juniors.

Scott, although troubled at times, in finding the plate fired well, giving up but four hits in five innings and throwing the third strike past eight.

Mt. Pleasant Wins

Mount Pleasant reeled off a 10-1 fastball victory over Quakers last night in Quaker Park, scoring three runs each in the first and ninth, one apiece in the second and third, and two in the eighth. Parker fanned six and held the homesters to a run in the third, as they rarely threatened otherwise. The winners hit in timely fashion to easily earn the verdict, Quakers using several hurlers. Japs To Buy Wheat?

OTTAWA, July 26 — (CP) — The Japanese trade mission in Ottawa said Wednesday night it knows of no plan for Japan to negotoiate the purchase of 300,000 tons of Canadian wheat, as reported from Tokyo by the Kyodo news agency. The mission group, established here in May to develop Canadian-Japanese trade, telephoned the Japanese trade office which the Tokyo story said was to negotiate the wheat deal with the Canadian government.

Lindsay Defeats NHL All-Stars

LINDSAY, July 26. — Minus their convalescing mentor, Turk Broda, the NHL All-Stars dropped a 4-2 exhibition game to Lakeshore intermediate leaders, Lindsay Merchants, before 1,000 fans here last night.

Playing only their second baseball game after a summer of softball exhibitions, the All-Stars came up with a good display, despite the muddy diamond. Starter Cal Gardner was nicked for four singles and two runs in the first but settled down to hurl three-hit ball the rest of the route, fanning six. Al Dewsbury came on in the seventh.

The Merchants paraded four righthanders, Doug Loucks, Grant Wickett, Junior West and Hank Debois, with the latter giving up the Stars' runs on no hits in the seventh. Sid Smith, who donned the pads in Broda's place, threw out four at second while Gus Mortson's stab of Wickett's liner was a fielding feature. Vic Jewell and Dean Tompkins garnered four of the locals' nine safeties.

South Africa Gets Promise Of Newsprint

WASHINGTON, July 26 (Reuters). — Ernest Dawson, general manager of the Rand Daily Mail and the Sunday Times, Johannesburg, said Wednesday that Canadian manufacturers had made "fairly encouraging promises" to supply South Africa with 25,000 tons of newsprint in 1953.

Dawson, and Guy Cronwright, assistant general manager of the Cape Times, arrived here Tuesday after discussions in Canada on behalf of the Newspaper Press Union of South Africa.

Davis Cuppers Fly From Cuba For Tennis Go

By VIC MORRIS, JR.

MONTREAL, July 26 (CP). — Non-playing captain Derek Williams of the Cuban Davis Cup team says that Jose Aguero and Jan Weiss will "likely" be his singles players against Canada in the second round tie here Aug. 3-5.

The four-man tennis squad arrived here last night by air from New York and is to start practice at the Mount Royal lawn courts today. The team includes the singles players and the youthful brother combination of Reynoldo and Orlando Garrido.

Augero, called "Pepe" by his teammates, is the daddy of the team at 39. He has played on nine Davis Cup teams and has held the Cuban tennis championship eight times.

Top Performer

Weiss, a dentist, is 28 and is ranked as his country's top court performer. The two brothers are students.

Reynoldo is 17 and Orlando 19.

Williams said in an interview that the two brothers were "brought along as health insurance." In the event that either Aguero or Weiss suffered injuries in the week-long practices before the match, one of the Garridos would take over a singles spot.

The captain declined to comment on his team's chances, remarking that he thought his boys should "make a good show of it."

Non-playing captain Gordie MacNeil of the Canadian squad said he will not name his singles players until "shortly before the matches start Aug. 3. But it will likely be the same as last year."

Lorne Main of Vancouver and Brendan Macken of Montreal opposed the Australian squad in the matches here last year. They were beaten by Ken McGregor and Frank Sedgeman.

WELL LIKED—Despite a surprise defeat at Saratoga, Will N. Reynolds' Betsy Volo is expected to go postward the first or second choice in the $90,000 Hambletonian Stake at Good Time Park, Goshen, N.Y., Aug. 8. Betsy Volo's finest performance was winning the Coaching Club Trotting Oaks at Goshen's half-mile Historic Track with heats of 2:06 3/5 and 2:07. She is tarined and piloted by Del Miller, who took last year's Hambletonian with Lusty Song.

BROCKVILLE, July 26 (CP)—Despite 10 errors, the league-leading Brockville Memos continued their mastery over Kingston Leafs in a Central Ontario Baseball League game Wednesday night. Brockville came from behind twice to win 10-7.

Lefty Jim Hayes relieved Smoky Smith in the sixth and was credited with the win. Kingston's Hal Leonard who pitched seven innings, was the loser.

Brockville third baseman George Galen committed six of his team's errors. Bill Skodis had three at first base and Buck Ashley committed the other on a fly ball to centre field.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Sixteen-year-old Lorne Main flashed into the Canadian tennis spotlight six years ago today when he whipped Colin Maass of Westmount, Que., 6-4, 6-0, 6-1, to take the Dominion junior title. Regarded by the experts as one of the best Canadian tennis prospects in years, Main fulfilled their hopes by winning a place on several Davis Cup teams.

US Senator Urges Seaway

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP) —Senator George Aiken (((Rep.-Vt.) said Wednesday opponents of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project "are fighting against the security of this nation."

Aiken, criticizing opponents of the seaway, said in the Senate:

"Russia is developing her power and waterways as fast as she can, producing millions of kilowatts of electrical energy. But we sit back and have men professing to be good citizens fighting against the security of our country, while our power situation is critical."

Aiken said presidents of railroads are working against the St. Lawrence project. "But it is the power interests the railroads are fighting for," he declared.

Aiken made his comments after Senator Alexander Wiley (Rep.-Wis.), urged members of a House of Representatives Committee to approve the project at a meeting today.

The musicians want the restrictions lifted at least to permit announcement of the selections they will play.

World Needs More Food For Large Population

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor.

One of these days we shall have to think of producing more food.

Right now we are too busy thinking about more machines, more minerals, more household conveniences and gadgets.

We think of food to grumble about its price. We think of it when we are trying to move our grain crop to market so that we shall have more money to buy more machines and gadgets. We think of it in a headline way when a storm knocks down millions of dollars worth of growing crops.

But, on most of this continent, we take food, and the industry which produces it—agriculture—for granted.

This is not to say that no one is thinking about it. Farmers are, and departments of agriculture, and some world organizations whose activities get few headlines. But the mass of people, and certainly of urban dwellers, do not think of it as the first of national and international problems, on which, above all, we should have aggressive policies and programs.

Food In Background

But back of all our discussions peace and war, the word "food" can be heard as a continuing murmur. The murmur comes from the masses of the earth who do not have enough food; and they will not be quiet, and will not again allow us to be quiet, until they are fed.

From time to time such bodies as the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development have something to say about it. The bank, for instance, sends missions into under-developed countries to find out what these countries should do to better their way of life.

And nearly always the answer is, in effect: More food; develop your farming; without a sound agriculture you can build nothing.

Such a current report is from a joint meeting of the bank and the food and agriculture organization to Uruguay, headed by Sir Maurice Hutton, British industrialist and financier, who was chief of the British food mission to the United States and Canada during the war.

Bees Key To Seed From Legume Fields

GUELPH, July 26 — (CP) — Specialists in entymology, apiculture and soil chemistry have finally tagged the bee as the solution to a problem that has vexed Ontario farmers since the middle 1930s.

After 3½ years of research the specialists have found why three legumes—alfalfa, alsike and red clover—have failed to produce sufficient quantities of seed.

The three legumes are excellent fodders and green manures. Farmers in Peel County got as much as $200 an acre for alfalfa seed during the late 1920s but seed production dropped to 75 per cent a few years later.

The experts claim greater amounts of seed can be obtained if bees are placed in fields sown with the legumes, to ensure better pollination.

Thousands Of Pilgrims Visit St. Anne de Beaupre

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT.

STE. ANNE DE BEAUPRE, Que., July 26 — (CP). — Pilgrims—rich and poor, walking and confined to wheel chairs—crowded this St. Lawrence River hillside village today to pray to "La Bonne Sainte Anne."

They have come from near and far for the feast day of the Mother of the Blessed Virgin, Quebec's most revered saint after John the Baptist.

Tradition holds that America's oldest shrine began 300 years ago when Breton sailors, saved from shipwreck, built a chapel in honor of Saint Anne.

Their log chapel has given way to a sumptuous temple where hundreds of crutches, limb supports and canes have been left by ailing and crippled pilgrims, in mute testimony of the faith of thousands.

Sixty-five years ago, Pope Leo XIII proclaimed Saint Anne "Queen of Quebec," and now the celebration of the feast is surrounded with more splendor and pomp than before.

Pontifical high masses — infrequent events in most Roman Catholic churches—have been a daily occurrence for the last nine days in the white stone basilica built with donations from Canadian and United States visitors.

Each day of the novena— nine days of prayer—ceremonies have been conducted in French and there have been evening torchlight processions on the mountainside overlooking the milewid St. Lawrnc.

St. Anne de Beaupre is a villag of about 2,000 persons built around a dozen imposing religious buildings.

Farm homes in the village have taken in roomers, small hotels are jammed, and visitors have overflowed into cabins along the river shore and Quebec's rooming houses and hotels, 25 miles away.

Traffic moving to the shrine became so heavy yesterday that Quebec provincial traffic police sent 15 officers to the area. An estimated 50,000 people are here for the feast.

Liturgical celebrations of the feast—a holy day of obligaiton in the days of New France—began yesterday with the chanted vespers of Saint Anne, conducted by Archbishop Maurice Roy of Quebec.

Today, the highlight was an outdoor procession of the host in a jewel-studded gold monstrance through the square in front of the shrine. There the sick waited and prayed.

Mayors Asked To Fight Phone Rates Increase

TORONTO, July 26 — (CP)— City Council will ask the Canadian Federation of Mayors to lead Ontario and Quebec municipalities in their fight against a proposed increase in Bell Telephone rates. Mayor Hiram McCallum said Wednesday the federation would be able to present a stronger case than a single municipality and the cost of preparing its brief could be distributed.

Oldest Building

ST. Thomas, July 26—(CP)— Wrecking crews yesterday began tearing down the oldest building in St. Thomas to make way for a car lot. The buildings—about 125 years old—attracted the attention of the Ontario Architects Association several years ago because of its pioneer construction.

Stop Clock To Stop Arguments

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampede officials have ordered a special four-foot stop clock to save arguments at future stampedes.

They say the clock, visible to rodeo contestants and audience alike—will save a lot of disputes about timing of stampede events.

It is not unusual to have as many as a dozen stop watches operating at once during rodeo events and often none of the times agree with the official timekeeper.

The specially-ordered clock will be operated by electricity and controlled by a button by the timekeeper. It will be specially wired to sound the 10-second horn.

RHEUMATIC PAIN

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. Glofcheskie, Wilno, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Coroner's Jury Finds Negligence On Part Of Driver And His Victim

MARMORA, July 18—(ENS)— The coroner's jury at the adjourned inquest into the death of John McCracken found on Wednesday that Mr. McCracken "met his death on Highway No. 7 west of the CNR crossing and east of the Crowe River high bridge at 11.45 p.m. Monday, July 16, 1951. His death occurrred as the result of multiple injuries when struck by a half-ton truck driven by Carl Simpson, Marmora.

"We feel that Mr. McCracken was negligent in being near the centre of the road and further that the driver was negligent in driving a truck that was not mechanically perfect as to brakes and light."

Dr. S. R. Beatty, of Madoc, was the coroner, and witnesses were examined by Gordon S. Robertson. The jury was composed of Floyd R. Loveless, foreman; A. M. Jones, Major Percy Gray, William Shannon and Basil McTaggart. First called was John Driscoll, formerly corporal with the Provincial Police and official photographer. He showed photographs taken at the scene of the accident. Dr. H. G. Parker, of Marmora, said the cause of death waas multiple injuries and shock. On being questioned further, he said that shortly after 1 p.m. he had taken a sample of blood from Simpson which he gave to Provincial Constable Tom Lummiss.

W. B. Wilde, who lives near the scene of the accident, told of hearing a bump or thud not very loud. He looked out the window and saw a car or truck but did not know anyone was hurt or killed until the next morning.

Provincial Cnostable Hector Gould said he had sent a sample of Simpson's blood to the provincial pathologist at Toronto for analysis. He directed traffic at the scene of the accident but did not take any further part in the investigation.

Corporal J. Hatch of the provincial police, said he received notcie of the accident through a telephone call. Accompanied by the coroner he proceeded to the scene about 2:15 a.m. Simpson admitted being the driver of the truck and consented to the blood test being taken. The corporal gave other information relative to the accident.

Had Been Drinking

Provincial Constable Tom Lummiss gave evidence also in connection with the blood test. He said he received a call stating Simpson was involved in a slight accident but on arrival he found the body of the victim caught between the hood and left headlight. His evidence corrobórated that of Corporal Hatch. He added that Simpson had said he only had Richard Cole in the truck with him but subsequent investigation revealed that John Oscar Cole and Frank Nihil were in the truck at the time. Simpson definitely had been drinking but was not drunk enough to be charged with drunken driving.

James Gordenier identified the deceased and said he had known John McCracken for 35 years.

John Oscar Cole said he was in the back of the truck and could not see what happened. He admitted questioning that he heard Simpson say "My God, I've hit John McCracken. Richard Cole, son of the former witness, said he joined Simpson at the hotel at 11 p.m. and asked for a ride home. He claimed Simpson did everything possible to avoid an accident but he was unable to tell anything Simpson did.

Frank Nihill said he was riding in the rear of the truck with John Oscar Cole but admitted he was intoxicated and unable to tell anything about what happened.

Eugene Brady, of the hotel staff, mentioned the times Simpson visited the hotel on the day in question. As far as he could tell from the bar Simpson did not show signs of intoxication.

Served Six Beers

Frank Leal said he was serving customers and served Simpson about six draughts. He did not show any signs of intoxication or he would not have served him any more. He also served the two Coles and Nihill.

Simpson, called, said the brakes on the truck would have stood relining but were able to halt the truck. Questioned as to his condition when he left the hotel, he said it was practically the same as when he went in.

Dr. Lucie, pathologist, as final witness, gave the result of the post mortem and described the various fractures the deceased had sustained.

The verdict was given by the jury after deliberations lasting about an hour.

HUGE HELICOPTERS, each as big as a conventional air liner, carrying removable "pods" filled with freight, are expected to be in operation next year. The helicopters are a version of the Piasecki XH-16, now being built for the Air Force. The artist's conception shows a centrally located "heliport" in operation. At (1) an XH-16 is ready to take off with an attached pod, big as a cross-country bus, which a trailer-truck has just hauled in. Another helicopter (2) has laid its huge "egg," which has been coupled to a truck and is being hauled away. At (3) a third helicopter prepares to spot-land with its loaded pod. In foreground and background (4), trailer trucks leave and approach heliport.

Group Fails To Get Acheson

WASHINGTON, July 26—(AP) —Republicans in the House of Representatives Wednesday split wide apart in voting 71 to 33 to back legislation designed to drop state secretary Acheson from the federal payroll.

The outcome made it doubtful that the Get-Acheson drive will succeed unless it gains strong and unexpected Democrataic support.

The showdown will come on an amendment to a $1,051,715,115 money bill to provide funds for the departments of state, justice and commerce, and the federal judiciary.

The amendment says that no money may go to the head of any executive department who, within five years before his appointment, was connected with a a professional firm that represented a foreign government.

Acheson's law firm once represented the Polish Government in obtaining an America loan.

Ford Denies Turned Down Motor Contract

WINDSOR, July 26— (CP) — Ford Motor Compay of Canada Wednesday denied it had turned own efense contracts.

The denial answered a statement by Jack Taylor, president of Local 200, UAW-CIO, that the company went on strike against airplane motor orders until the profit margin was to its liking.

A company spokesman said: "We have not turned down any defense orders. We have set up an office to handle defense contracts and have sveral bids in at the present time .

"However, as government officials have pointed out, the nature of Canada's defense program at present does not provide for the large assembly type of orders originaally expected.

"Even if we succeed in getting the defense contracts we are bidding on, they would have little effect on our employment."

Meanwhile the production schedule dispute continued. Workers on the 4 to 12 shift were sent home last night when production got out of balance. The layoffs were repeated today and close to 3,000 men were sent home between 10:15 a.m. and 2 p.m.

For the first time since July 10, when the layoffs began as workers resisted what they term a speed-up production schedule, truck and service lines as well as passenger car operations were suspended.

Explorer Seeks Secrets Of Lost People

JOHANNESBURG (CP)—An effort to trace the history of pre-medieval and even prehistoric South Africa may soon be made.

F. A. Mitchell-Hedges, noted British explorer and author, is in Tanganyika to begin excavations at the ancient, almost-forgotten Port of Kilwa, some 200 miles south of Dar-Es-Salaam.

It is believed by such well-known authorities as Abbe Breuil, great French archaeologist, that the same pre-medieval races who sailed from the Mediterranean basin to the east coast of Africa, came south to the Transvaal and South-West Africa.

Kilwa was founded in 975 AD, by a Persian Prince and about the same time the Great Temple and Arcopolis of Zimbabwe were built a few miles south of the modern town of Fort Victoria in Southern Rhodesia.

The secret rites of the long-haired people who are believed to have inhabited Zimbabwe in medieval times are still a mystery. Much has been written about this vanished race who have made Zimbabwe the most romantic place in Southern Rhodesia, but much remains to be discovered. Similar ruins to Zimbabwe have been found in South Africa in the Northern Transvaal.

Early Portuguese writers described Zimbabwe as "The Great Palace of the Chief." Today, the name is generally accepted to mean "stone houses."

Swept Away By Bantus

For it is what the experts call the "stone complex" of this forgotten tribe, that is meant by the "Zimbabwe Culture." No record remains of this race of bricklayers who were probably swept away in the maelstrom of migration as the Bantu race moved south. That they were an indigenous Bantu people is borne out, in the opinion of archaeologists, by the fact that potsherds and other relics found at Zimbabwe are very smilar to those used by African natives today.

At the time of Zimbabwe, the exploitation of Africa for gold, ivory, ambergris and slaves was in full swing. Enterprising traders came from the Red Sea, the Persian Gulf, the Gujurat and even the Far East.

The remains of Persian earthenware, glass beads from India and Arabia and blue and white china from far-away China at the time of the Sung Dynasty, have all been found at Zimbabwe. Similar articles have been found in the ruins in the Northern Transvaal.

Earlier Links Possible

It has long been known that the Zimbabwe culture includes South Africa, but there may be eralier links.

Abbe Breuil believes that he has detected Egyptian influence in pre-historic rock-paintings in the Bradenberg Mountains of South-West Africa. These paintings are similar to those near Fort Victoria but much older that those at Zimbabwe.

The paintings were discovered more that 30 years ago by a German surveyor, but nothing was done until 1947, when Abbe Breuil spent days of research on the rock paintings, the central figure of which, is a woman in white. With titian hair bobbed in a style reminiscent of ancient Egypt, the white lady of Brandenberg is as vivid today as she was perhaps 3,000 years ago.

Egyptian Origin

The Abbe believes that the figures on this frieze have an Egyptian origin and that the story told is only another edition of the ancient Egyptian legend of Isis, Osiris and Horus.

Several other theories support this belief. It is thought that the "Sanga" the small-boned cattle of Rhodesia, are of Egyptian origin.

Punt, the ancient country claimed by Queen Hatsheput of the VIIIth dynasty, about 1500 BC, to be the southernmost country in her empire, is believed to be Rhodesia.

So, the Brandenberg pictures provide a links with what is believed to be one of the greatest treks of all time—the story of a people who came from the Mediterranean Basin, through Tanganyika, where similar paintings have been found, along the Zambesi, past Fort Victoria to South-West Africa.

Even before the Egyptians, the Abbe believes that the monsoon may have carried the Sumerians to the East Coast of Africa, thousands of years before Christ.

If so, the exploration of Kilwa may well reveal traces of settlements long before the Persian Civilization.

NZ Farmers Demanding Bigger Share Of Funds

By J. C. GRAHAM

WELLINGTON, NZ (CP)—New Zealand farmers claim they have too much put by for a rainy day and are demanding a larger share now from the sales of their produce.

When the former Labor Government created the guaranteed price principle for sales of dairy produce it set aside a reserve fund to maintain a stable price level. The idea was that when prices were high part of the proceeds of the sales would be put into a stabilization account. This would help to offset changes in world prices and enable fairly uniform payments to be made to farmers even when prices fell.

A somewhat similar principle was later introduced for sales of meat.

Ever since the accounts were established, however, world prices have been rising steadily. The result has been that the reserves have grown to much larger proportions than was anticipated. Even though payments to farmers have risen steadily, prices have more than kept pace and the reserve accounts have grown every year since they were established.

Reach 69 Million

The dairy industry stabilization account now stands at about $69,000,000 and the meat pool stabilization account has reached $105,000,000.

A. G. Alexander, chairman of the dairy produce section of the Federated Farmers, told producers recently that the accounts had now reached a stage where it would be against farmers' interests to accumulate more money in them.

Beyond Expectations

"These huge sums are far in excess of anything ever visualized," he declared. "While they have been accumulating, farmers' prices have been rigidly held down to a cost of production basis with no margin or all vance for development, profit or seasonal hazards.

"We are continually being asked to increase production and we realize the importance of this. But capital and a reasonable profit margin are necessary to bring about increased production, specially so at the present time when labor is not available and must be replaced by mechanization at high cost."

"A study of a cross-section of balance-sheets of manufacturers and trading companies shows clearly the liberal profits earned, the creation of reserves and the consequent expansion of acitvity which follows. This is in striking contrast to the cheese-paring prices given to psimary producers.

Better Interpretation

"I believe more benefit would be obtained by the farmer, the industry and the nation, while still maintaining the guaranteed price, by adopting in future a more liberal interpretation of the standards to bring the cash reward of dairy farmers more in line with the rest of the community."

The farmers decided to press for a more liberal interpretation of the guaranteed price standard of capitalization and for the labor reward to be brought into line with that of workers in other industries.

Search For Plane Still Fails

PRINCE RUPERT, BC, July 26 (CP)—Air and sea units searching for a missing Korean airlift plane reported failure today after striking off on two separate trails.

Reports that flares had been sighted in mountains north of here sent six planes into the air on the off-chance the objects were signals sent up by survivors of the Canadian Pacific airliner DC-4 which disappeared Saturday with 38 aboard.

A United States Coast Guard cutter, meanwhile, investigated a report that debris had been sighted off Cape Fairweather on the Alaska Panhandle, the mountainous strip of country where the plane is believed to have gone down.

A pilot who was on the Prince Rupert sweep said the "flares" may have been only "sudden cloud formations or turbulent atmosphere." Or they may have been flares sent up by a survey party now working about 15 miles north of this city, far from the area where the plane was last reported.

The cutter reported the debris it investigated was only logs, kelp and crates.

At Juneau, Alaska, clearing skies enabled 26 planes to scour a 30-mile land belt yesterday.

Election In New Zealand Beats Schedule First Time

By J. C. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, NZ—(CP)—The election to be held in New Zealand Sept. 1 is unique in the country's history.

The recent dissolution marked the first time that a parliament had not run its full course since party government came into existence in the dominion 60 years ago. The forthcoming election will be the first for two decades not fought primarily on the issue of socialism versus private enterprise.

The decision of Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland to go to the country on the issue of the handling of the waterfront strike was one of New Zealand's best-kept political secrets. Until an hour or so before he announced the step in the House of Representatives, July 11, even senior officials and the rank and file of the National Party did not know of the decision.

Safe Majority

The government had a safe majority, with 46 members in the house against 34 for the Labor opposition. It had just won a major victory by the defeat of militant unions in the biggest industrial showdown since the strikes of 1913. The opposition had moved a motion of no-confidence and had levelled a continual attack on the government ever since the session started against the handling of the industrial crisis. But no political observer had predicted that the government, 19 months after taking office and with 17 months of its term still to run, would dissolve parliament and go to the polls.

The strike which precipitated the crisis began in February when the longshoremen refused overtime over a wage issue. This soon developed into a complete tie-up of all ports. A number of other military unions came out either in support of the longshoremen or in protest against the sweeping emergency regulations proclaimed to deal with the strike. Most of the strikers returned to work within a few weeks, but the longshoremen, underground coal miners, seamen, and sections of meat and transport workers held out in a stoppage which dragged on for nearly five months.

Moderate unions refused to have anything to do with the strike. Their central body, the Federation of Labor, attempted to mediate and when the strikers rejected this, the Federation openly condemned the stoppage.

Branded Red

Prominent union leaders declared it was Communist inspried and pointed to the fact that the longshoremen were affiliated with the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions. Thereafter the Federation of Labor supported the government's attitude that industrial disputes must be settled by conciliation and arbitration and not by strikes.

The political Labor party, however, declined to side with the industrial side of the Labor movement. It strongly attacked emergency regulations, claiming that they were converting New Zealand in a police state, and it maintained that the government was more interested in smashing the longshoremen's union than in settling the dispute.

Charged Appeasement

Critics of the Labor party maintained that throughout its long regime in office it continually appeased the longshoremen in recurrent disputes until port work in New Zealand had become almost the slowest in the world, provoking shipping companies to impose a surcharge on freight to New Zealand ports. They held that only by a "no surrender" stand against the longshoremen could a new order be introduced on the waterfront.

Meanwhile servicemen were working the ports and manning a skelton fleet of coastal freighters. Open cast miners had broken from the underground section and returned to work. As a result essential services were supplied in spite of many shortages and inconveniences in everyday life. Also new independent longshoremen's unions had been formed at many ports until Auckland and many secondary ports were fully manned by new unionists. In a few weeks they increased the rate of port work to 50 per cent above that maintained by the old union.

Returned To Work

The end came this month when first the miners and then the seamen returned to work unconditionally.

Holland recapitulated some of the opposition's charges in announcing the decision to hold an election. The opposition, he said, had claimed that the emergency regulations were the most iniquitous ever written into the laws of the country, that human rights had been abrogated, and that freedom of assembly and speech had gone. He said the opposition also claimed that the sanctity of private commespondence had been swept away that the government was continually intimidating the people, and had authorized raids on trade union offices.

"Taken together these charges are so srious that if they are true this government is unfit to remain on the treasury benches," Holland said.

It is unlikely that Labor will permit the government to fight the election on the strike issue alone. The Federaiton of Labor is expected to give the Labor party full support in the campaign, but observers consider that every effort will be made to broaden the issues.

There are indications that the cost of living will be one of the strongest Labor points. The present government won much support at the last election through its policy of "putting value back into the pound." In spite of this the cost of living has continued to increase. The Labor party claims it has risen much more rapidly than before and alleges that the goevrnment has a record of broken election promises which will be difficult to answer.

Farmers Change Idea On Right Use Of Land

GUELPH, July 26 — (CP). — Changes in attitude toward the proper use of land are leading to more government controls, the Canadian Agricultural Economics Society was told yesterday.

V. A. Wood, director of lands for the Province of Alberta, said harmonizing government control over land use with the individual's right to freedom and equality "is a major problem in formulating and administering present and future public land policies."

Mr. Wood said old beliefs that natural competition would provide the best use of land had been discarded. Millions of dollars spent by the Canadian Government in readjusting the use of land led to gradual policies of increased controls.

Mexico Seeks Newsprint

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP). —A Mexican delegation seeking ways to ease their country's newsprint shortage conferred Wednesday with George Wythe, head of the Commerce Department's Latin-American Division, and with officials of the National Production Administration.

Wythe said later the Mexican situation is acute, but that newsprint is a "tight item" all over the world.

Milk, Bread Routes Shrink

Delivery Men Cut Visits By Half As Workers Holiday

Peterborough's bread and milk routes have shrunk with the exodus of vacation-bound residents. Some are cut in half as shown in business charts since the industrial holidays began at the end of last week.

A lot of drawn blinds and locked doors are listed along the routes of the relivery men, but that drop in the city's domestic business is more than equalized, especially in the demand on the bakeries, by the seasonal boost from summer resorts, cottages and villages.

Milk vendors estimate from their experience that there must be more Peterborough people than ever somewhere on the holiday trails.

Worst Drop

Both Silverwoods and Campbell's dairies confirm that estimate. The temporary drop in route sales "is worse than ever," they say at both places.

"But, there appears to be a bigger influx than ever, too, during the last ten days or two weeks" said J. E. Weir of Silverwoods. "Our special deliveries into the lake country of the district have shown quite a big increase. Our trips go to places like Lakefield, Buckhorn, Apsley and so on, also directly to Chemong lake summer residents.

"So, we have a pretty exact idea of what is going on. Resort owners tell us also that there have been heavy arrivals of people all through the lake district in that time, the last ten days to two weeks.

Balances Loss

"That new business more than balances the loss off our local routes."

James Dutton, Jr., of Wonder Bakeries mentioned the same dislocation of the bread and cakes business. It is only during holidays and is plainly accounted for by the large number of Peterborough people taking off at the same time.

Mr. Weir said ice cream sales are about the same as last year.

Many of Peterborough's citizens are quite content to find their vacation rest and diversion within short radius of their own homes. They can pack up lunch or dinner, or both, and take off to the attractive reach of the Otonabee river between Peterborough and Lakefield, or pick out places elsewhere, and farther afield.

Community Asset

It is an actual community asset within easy motoring distance from a score of summer resorts for those who wish to get away for a couple of days or two weeks.

Add to that dispersed company those people who have their own cottages and waterfronts, and the total comprises quite a large number of the home folks.

Any way, local delivery men are reaching the end of their routes earlier than usual these days, and they should have at least another week of this comparative relaxation.

See Upswing In Sales Of Appliances

Trade-Ins To Count In Down Payment, Federal Ruling Says

Peterborough electrical appliance dealers stated today that the new credit restriction regulations announced by Finance Minister Abbott Tuesday should increase sales.

The new regulations state that trade-ins will be allowed to form a part of the minimum down payment on all types of goods after August 1 if the cash price of the goods is not marked up. Up to now, trade-ins have been allowed only for motor vehicles.

None of the changes affect minimum down payment — one third of the total price, or the maximum period of credit—one year.

Three Questions

Three questions were asked the Peterborough merchants approach: (1) Will sales increase because of these regulations? (2) If sales do go up can you get enough stock to fill the demand? -(3) Will these regulations cause a drop in trade-in values?

Most merchants answered yes to the first two questions and no to the third.

However, one merchant said that although these new regulations will definitely help to increase sales, the high excise and sales taxes will probably still keep the public from buying. At present the sales tax is 10 per cent and the excise tax 15 per cent.

Price Conscious

He claimed that the buying people are definitely price conscious now and are not buying because taxes are raising prices so high.

None of the stores reported any kind of stock shortage. The supply is definitely far above demand and the only obstacle that might arise would be in not having the specific model or make or article demanded.

All stores claimed that these regulations will not cause a drop in trade-in values.

BOTH RECOVERING

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Milne, Charlotte St., are making recovery from the painful injuries they suffered in a traffic acci ient near Frankford. X-ray examination at Belleville hospital showed no bones broken, but it will likely be several weeks until the effects of bruises and cuts fade. Mr. Milne is pipe major of the CGE Band.

Battled Police, Turnkey, Gets Jailed For Week

Carmen Coons, 30, a Smith township resident who battled with two policemen and a county jail turnkey, and yet insisted he wasn't drunk was sentenced today to seven days on the hill.

The charge, brought by Chief Garnet Samis, Lakefield, was that Coons was drunk and in control of a car last May 12.

Coons pleaded not guilty and defended himself.

Chief Samis said he found Coons sitting in a car on the travelled portion of Highway 28, in front of Coyle's garage in Lakefield.

Slumped In Seat

He said Coons was slumped in the seat in a stupefied condition. The accused could not walk properly, smelled strongly of liquor and was belligerent, said the chief.

OPP Constable C. A. Naismith corroborated this evidence. He said Coons was asleep on the seat and had to be partially dragged out of the vehicle.

Coons is alleged to have been driving a car—the ownership of which was obscure—bearing 1950 licence plates.

"How about that?" queried Chief Samis.

"Can't you see they're 1951 plates?" Coons reportedly answered.

Enough For Police

That was enough for the police and he was tossed in the cruiser and taken to the county jail.

"Then he decided he could lick the both of us," said Chief Samis.

"Yes, and did he?" enquired Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC.

Chief Samis ignored the question and continued: 'We finally got him quietened down and then he tried to lick the turnkey."

Usually Quiet

Normally Coons is a quiet chap, said the chief, and this was proof positive, if any other were needed, that he was drunk.

Coons entered the box and argued for some time that he was not in control of the car. It was another man now working in Peterborough. Moreover, he testified, the car wouldn't even run and had to be pushed.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, pondered some time whether he should grant an adjournment so Coons could call this witness to testify on who was actually in control of the car.

"Well, what do you say about whether or not you were drunk?" fenced the magistrate.

"No, I was not," was the definite answer.

That tore it.

"I've been too long on the bench to believe that," said Magistrate Baxter. 'Seven days in county jail."

Rambling Reporter

FROM A WIND TUNNEL, KITTENBURGERS

A city restaurant owner was preparing a hamburg for an Examiner reporter on Wednesday evening. It was hot, especially over the grill. The RO heard squeakings. Did his exhaust fan motor need oiling? Should he have paid cash for his new shoes? He didn't know but looked around, and up, in time to see a very small kitten in the exhaust elbow of his kitchen ventilator. He dashed outside to the back of his eatery and found four more kittens. They had somehow crawled past the fan blades into the exhaust pipe. And he got them out of there. But fast. The reporter-customer will never know how close he came to sampling fried kitten.

Girl, 2, Struck By Car, Suffers Broken Leg, Cuts

Elizabeth Johnson, 29-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, 721 McKellar St., received a broken left leg Wednesday night when she ran out onto the street and was knocked down by a car.

A neighbor and Allan K. Clements, 132 Sophia St., driver of the car, took the injured girl to Civic hospital. Besides the broken leg she has a severe cut on the back of her head and brush burns on her body.

Clements was driving west on McKellar toward Monaghan Rd. He avoided two children who were playing on the road but his car collided with the Johnson girl when she dashed out onto the road to recover a ball.

Clements didn't see her in time and she was struck by the right front wheel. The accident occurred in front of 647 McKellar St., shortly before 7 p.m.

Elizabeth was taken first to the clinic and then to hospital. She was attended by Dr. John Stewart. PC Sherman Keliele investigated.

Curve L. School Tenders Called

Tenders are being called for the erection of a combination one-room school and dwelling for three teachers at the Curve Lake Indian Reserve, Indian agent Allen Adams said today.

Youngsters of the reserve have taxed the accommodation of the present two-room building and a separate one to the east of it will be erected.

The new one-storey building, 45 by 65 feet, will house one classroom to accommodate 40 pupils and a combination apartment—three bedrooms, living room, kitchen and bathroom. Provision will also be made to add another classroom if and when required at a later date.

Besides the Curve Lake project, tenders for three others have been issued, two in the Parry Sound district and one on Manitoulin Island. It is anticipated that work will start on the district Indian school in September.

Six Instructors Teach Model 'Plane Building

Approximately 70 boys were given instruction in model aircraft building at Inverlea and Riverside playgrounds Wednesday night.

Six members of the newly formed Plymouth Aero League model aircraft club went to the two playgrounds to give instruction. This program is sponsored by the Recreation Commission, and the club is planning to visit two playgrounds a week.

Wednesday night's session dealt with making gliders. Vice-president Jack Millage was in charge at Riverside, assissted by Don Smedmore and Bob Forbes. The three at Inverlea were George and Ralph Hutchinson and Ron Smedmore.

City Announces Raises For Five Employees

His probationary period behind him, Assessment Commissioner E. J. Davis receives a salary of $3,500 beginning Aug. 1. It is to be increased $200 a year to a maximum of $4,100.

GEM-STREWN LAWNS

Grass has been jewel-tipped these mornings with the glinting of the sun on the tiny drops of dew. This effect of diamond gleams depends on the refraction of the sun's light before the dew dries under its warmth. Scuffing these gems that briefly light the lawn is always a source of wonder to those who never lose the sense of magic in all the variants of nature.

Squirrel Nips Helping Hand Of Girl, 15

Trying to put a splint on the leg of an injured squirrel proved a painful process for 15-year-old Wilberta Hartshorn, 377 McDonnel St.

Miss Hartshorn felt sorry for the squirrel that had been hit by a car while crossing the street. She picked it up to do a Florence Nightingale and the ungrateful creature nipped her on the first knuckle.

She took a needle at Civic hospital as a guard against infection.

Suffers Burns

Another outpatient at Civic was Mrs. Richard Stewart, RR 11, Peterborough. Mrs. Stewart suffered second degree burns when some paraffin wax ignited and spattered on her hands.

Mrs. Stewart was doing some canning when the wax ignited. She returned home after brief medical attention.

Dentist, Sawmill Operator Dies At 85 In Blackwater

LINDSAY, July 26.—Dr. George W. Johnson, 85, of Blackwater, died Tuesday. An 1896 graduate of the Chicago College of Dental Surgery, he had not practiced dentistry for 41 years. For 22 years he operated a sawmill at Blackwater. Ill health forced him to retire from dentistry in 1910, after 12 years of teaching and two of practicing dentistry. He returned to Canada, moved into his house in Blackwater, and about 30 years ago established the sawmill.

About eight years ago, he disposed of the mill and has lived in retirement since.

Dr. Johnson was born in Brock township, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wintrop Johnson, and attended school at Wick, Port Perry and Belleville. From Belleville he went to Chicago to study dentistry.

He leaves his widow, the former Evelyn McPhaden, one brother, Dr. John Johnson, Chicago; one son, Dr. Mack Johnson, a dentist at Cannington, and one daughter, Mrs. John Weldon (Laura), Lindsay. One son, Harold died in an airplane crash in 1943 while serving in World War II.

The funeral was held today from the Pinkham funeral home, Sunderland. Burial was in McNeil's cemetery, Wick.

To Publish Two Songs

Two folk-song arrangements by Christoper Gledhill have been accepted for publication by BMI (Canada), the composer was informed today. The Montreal and New York editors of Broadcast Music Incorporated have approved the songs, which will be engraved in New York and published in Canada this autumn. One is: "I Will Give My Love An Apple," a traditional English tune, and the other "Mary the Virgin Sings a Song" a French-Canadian folk song. Mr. Gledhill is organist and choirmaster of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and musical director of the Coventry Singers.

Spaniel Slashes Child's Cheek

A spaniel dog attacked three-year-old Nancy Warren, 280 Wescott St., Wednesday, badly gashing her right cheek close to the eye. Six stitches were needed to close the wound.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Warren, was playing on the property of Mrs. Annie Spence, 233 Lake St. Mrs. Spence's dog, kept in the kitchen since it bit another child recently, slipped out of an open door and attacked the child.

Nancy's sister, Bonnie, age 6, led her back home. Mr. Warren was called from work and they took her to St. Joseph's hospital where she was attended by Dr. Louis Zacks.

"We're glad it wasn't anything more serious," commented Mrs. Warren. "The dog's bite nearly took her eye out."

Cook-Nurse Shows Up

Tells Story Of Isolation Tent In Park

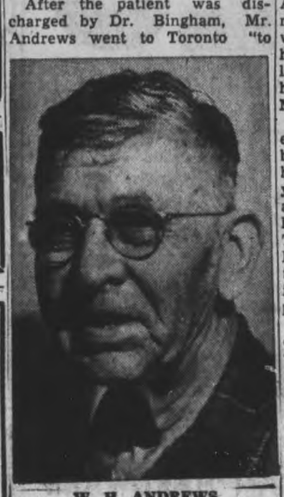
Last weekend on the Examiner's feature page there was a story of Dr. James Bingham who, as Peterborough Medical Office of Health in 1901, set up a hospital tent in winter in Jackson Park and went to live in it with a patient who had smallpox. A picture of the tent was shown. At the entrance to the tent stood a man, and in he caption was the explanation that he was the cook.

This week a man walked into the Examiner office, produced a clipping of the story and picture, pointed to the cook and said: "I'm that man." He is W. H. Andrews, 262 McGill Street.

Mr. Andrews well remembers the time he and Dr. Bingham nursed the victim of smallpox back to health in an isolated tent in Jackson Park. He pitched the tent on January 2, 1901, and lived with the patient and Dr. Bingham for six weeks, cooking for them, and nursing the sick man. "He was covered from head to foot with pustules," says Mr. Andrews, "but he left the tent with only two scars on him."

Again a Nurse

After the patient was discharged by Dr. Bingham, Mr. Andrews went to Toronto "to have a few Turkish baths to kind of disinfect me." Then he went to a farm in Otonabee to nurse Elijah Woods, who had contracted to dreaded disease.



The Jackson Park tent case was not Mr. Andrew's first smallpox patient; he had one in 1900 in Cobourg. His reputation as a brave nurse in smallpox cases was wide. There were two other smallpox cases in Peterborough in 1901, but these were attended to in the patents' home which were of cours put under quarantine. One patient was the late Louis LeBarr.

A couple of years later, Mr. Andrews also presided as cook-nurse in an isolation tent. This was set up on Isolation Hospital hill at the north end, where later the Queen Mary isolation hospital was built.

Now In Seventies

W. H. Andrews, now in his early seventies, came to Peterborough in 1899 and has lived here ever since. In his earlier years, he frequently acted as an attendant for sick men. Most of his working life was spent at the T. F. Matthews packing house, later Canada Packers. He worked there for a total of 36 years and is now a pensioner of the company.

When he first bought his house on McGill Street 44 years ago "they said I was crazy to take a girl there into that wilderness." But he and his wife did move down there, and now the city has grown around the house. Mrs. Andrews died several years ago; the nurse-cook in the 1901 photograph still continues to live in the home he created.

Families Grow, Building Lags In Denmark

COPENHAGEN (AP)—"Sorry, madame," the housing official said, "we have no way of helping you."

The woman standing in front of him fainted and fell to the floor.

The scene was the housing office in Esejerb, Jutland, where the housewife had applied 316 times during the last two and a half years for an apartment for herself and her family.

It might have happened anywhere in Denmark these days. Builders can't keep pace with the rate people are getting married and building up new families.

The cities and towns of Denmark have 800,000 apartments and 840,000 families, according to the ministry of housing. This is somewhat better that conditions last year when 50,000 families had no home of their own, which means that 10,000 new apartments went up during the year.

But, with new defence construction taking a heavy toll of materials and manpower—and with prices going up—apartment builders won't be able to keep up this 10,000-apartment-a-year pace.

Rentals High

Even those lucky enough to have apartments are having a tough time paying the rent. An apartment of two rooms a kitchen and bathroom may cost 800 kroner ($116) a month—which is upwards of three week's income for the average family. On top of that, the apartment seeker must make a down payment of 8,000 kroner ($1,160)—more than most families make in a year. The average rent for two and three room apartments before the war was 130 kroner a month, with central heating included.

All leases now must be approved by the municipal housing authorities. If a tenant takes a job in another town, he cannot move there until he has got someone from that town to take his old apartment.

This poses a lot of complications. In some cases there is a four-way swap involving people from four different towns. And all of these apartment exchanges must have the approval of the housing authorities in each of the towns.

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The government's cost-of-living index dropped from May to June—the first decline since February, 1950, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Wednesday. The decline was 0.1 per cent from May 15 to June 15.

Plan Big Sewer To Open Up Saskatoon Area

SASKATOON—(CP)—A tunnel 50 feet underground where three workmen will spend their next two working years is being built in Saskatoon.

Five feet in diameter, the tunnel will be a main storm sewer two-thirds of a mile long when it is finished.

The sewer will drain a large area which is now an undeveloped slough basin, but considered one of Saskatoon's most desirable areas for residential development.

Several years will be needed to complete a network of storm sewers branching off the main one now being dug.

At present three city workmen, John Orschekowski, Frank Hepp and James Reynolds, are working an eight-hour shift daily to complete about 4.5 feet of tunnel.

Double Shifts

Double shifts are planned for the winter to speed up progress.

Work on the tunnel is a complicated, laborious task. And working space is cramped.

Every few feet the workmen put into place Armcox tunnelliners, big steel rings set upright face to face and bolted to prevent cave-ins.

Originally City Engineer Hal Weir planned to install the sewer about 25 feet underground by open-cut installation, but quicksand at that depth necessitated going deeper to 50 feet below ground.

Mr. Weir said the tunnel is one of the biggest of its kind ever undertaken in Western Canada.

Radar Used To Study Atmosphere Miles High

LONDON, Ont., July 26 (CP)—Radar is playing a part in scientific study of the Aurorae—one of which is the northern lights—P. A. Forsyth, of McGill University, Montreal, told the conference on auroral physics at the University of Western Ontario here yesterday. Radar echoes have been received from some types of aurorae at ranges of 500 to 750 miles, he said.

He lectured Tuesday at the conference about research being done along this line at the University of Saskatoon, close to Canada's far-northern auroral area.

The first report of a radar echo from the aurora was in 1939, in the early days of radar development. It was an accident, he said. Since then, and particularly since 1947, scientists have been seeking echoes in the hope that they may help explain some of the mysteries of the upper atmosphere.

Began In 1949

The Saskatchewan experiment was started in 1949. Mr. Forsyth, in an interview following his lecture, declined to describe the type of radar being used. He emphasizes, without elaboration, that echoes at 500 to 750 miles are coming only from "particular types" of aurorae.

He said in his lecture that radar observation of the aurorae at 3,000 megacycles made it "fairly certain" that radar echoes do not occur at that frequency. But it was evident that short random pulses of radiation were being emitted by the aurora and picked up by the radar receiver. It was believed this "noise" resulted from action set up by particles of matter "entering the earth's atmosphere," he said.

(Many scientists believe that particles — probably hydrogen—come from the sun, striking the earth's upper atmosphere at tremendous speed and causing displays such as the northern lights and similar aurorae in the southern hemisphere.)

With 100-megacycle equipment, Mr. Forsyth said, no auroral noise was detected but echoes were picked up immediately.

Brooch Found

HAMILTON July 26—(CP)—A gold brooch given by King Edward VII to his nurse was found on a city street Tuesday. The centrepiece contains two intertwined locks of hair which are believed from King Edward, then Prince of Wales, and his princess. Police will release the brooch when the owner is identified.

Credit Curbs To Stop Rental Rackets

OTTAWA, July 26— (CP) — The main who administers Canada's consumer credit regulations said Wednesday the latest tightening of credit curbs are designed to beat the fellows who have been beating the government.

Administrator J. G. Bertrand charged that since controls were first clamped on time-payment buying last November, there has been "a racket going across the country in rental contracts."

He explained that up to now rental contracts giving low down payments, easy terms and long periods to pay—away above the sums and times allowed in purchase contracts under the regulations— were being used to get around the curbs.

When the full price of goods had been paid under the rental contract, the seller would simply reduce the payments to $1 a year from ten on and never collect.

Changes announced in the regulations by Finance Minister Abbott last night were designed to put a stop to this, Mr. Bertrand said, by bringing rental contracts under control for the first time.

Rents Affected

Only rental contracts which extend beyond six months are affected. They automatically become subject to the same regulations as in purchase contracts for the class of goods concerned.

Thus if a man renting a washing macahine had it longer than six months, he would be liable to the third-down and 12-months-to-pay provision for purchase of such a machine.

In the case of a car, he would be liable to the 50-per-cent-down and 12-months-to-pay provisions governing sale of new and used cars.

Yet it would continue as a rental contract. When the full price of the goods had been paid, the goods would be returned and the the deposit returned as well as part of the monthly payments—the difference between the rental and purchase payment rataes.

"I can't see anyone entering a contract like that," said Mr. Bert Rand, "and I don't think people will."

Explaining other changes which become effective Aug. 1, the administrator said allowance of trade-ins to form part of the down payment is being widened to include all consumer goods. Since last November trade-ins have been allowed only for motor vehicles.

FRANCO DECORATES some high brass, but behind his back, army leaders are brewing up revolt.

Anti-Franco Revolt Brews Spanish Army Men Leaders

By LEON DENNEN, NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—An anti-Franco revolt is brewing in the Spanish army, the force the late Admiral Forrest P. Sherman was trying to bring into the support of the North Atlantic powers on his last mission.

The stroke has been set for September. Halfway measures taken by Franco toward moderating his regime are not expected to halt it.

It is expected to coincide with a new wave of labor disturbance from one end of Spain to the other.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco knows about it; the US Defence Department knows about it; the Spanish people know about it.

Certainly Admiral Sherman must have known it, because I am informed reliably that US defence officials had details on the precarious military and political situation in Spain when they dispatched Sherman to Madrid for conferences with Franco.

"Only by playing the American card can Franco still save himself," a well-informed Western diplomat told me. "But even the conclusion of a two-power military pact between the United States and Spain may come too late to salvage his dictatorship."

It is possible that the U.S. Defense and State Departments sought to enroll Spain on the side of the Western Alliance before the anti-Franco movement plunges the country into a wave of strikes, demonstrations and confusion.

Air Bases Vital

Both departments are convinced Spanish air and naval bases are vital for the defense of Western Europe.

This, too, is the opinion of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, expressed during a two-hour conversation recently with Jacob Potofsky, President of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Eisenhower told the labor leader that without Spain's strategic bases covering the western entrance to the Mediterranean the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would face an uphill battle in stemming the tide of Soviet aggression.

He assured Potofsky that the U.S. would exert whatever pressure possible towards "democratization" of Franco regime.

Diplomats here wondered how far Admiral Sherman went in applying that pressure. The full details of his conversation with Franco may be locked in his diary or some may even have gone with him when he died suddenly at Naples Sunday.

Spanish sources here believe the U.S. erred in offering Franco a pact without exacting far-reaching concession. His recent reshuffling of the cabinet and inclusion of nine pro-Franco Monarchists they dismissed as "a futile attempt to avert disaster."

These sources believe that further trouble in Spain will play into the hands of Stalin and pave the way for a Communist attempt at a coup d'etat. They say only drastic economic and political reforms, free and secret election, the restoration of free trade unions and other genuinely democratic measures could bring stability to Spain and perhaps save the Franco regime.

But these reforms are believed unlikely and Spanish Republican leaders in France predict that a new wave of anti-Franco strikes will break out in September.

That is the moment the dissident army leaders will choose for revolt, according to the report. Franco is said to be aware of the activities of the army elements plotting against him but so deep is the discontent in army ranks and in the country generally that there is little he can do to relieve the pressure against his regime.

Seagram TELLS THE WORLD ABOUT Canada

THIS advertisement was designed by The House of Seagram to tell the people of other lands about Canada and things exclusively Canadian.

Many people in Latin America, Asia, Europe and other parts of the world are not fully aware of the richness of Canada's natural resources, wild life, scenic beauty and cultural traditions. The more the peoples of other lands know about our country, the greater will be their interest in Canada and Canadian products.

The House of Seagram feels that the horizon of industry does not terminate at the boundary of its plants; it has a broader horizon, a farther view—a view dedicated to the development of Canada's stature in every land of the globe.

TOP MAN on this television tower atop New York's Empire State building is the steeplejack who's testing an airplane beacon more than 1,400 feet above the street. Like mountain climbers, he and the men below him are tied together for safety in case one should black out and fall. The photo was made with a 20-inch telephoto lens from a hovering helicopter. The top of the mast is 1,472 feet above ground. The street at lower right is Sixth Avenue, with Broadway at left and Times Square at top right. The view looks northwest from about 34th Street in mid-Manhattan.

Harbor Work Paying Big Dividends

TORONTO —(CP)—There are 1,300 acres of waterfront in Toronto that weren't there in grandfather's time.

The land, reclaimed from Lake Ontario during the last 40 years, is the result of a municipal investment of $30,000,000 in the development and administration of the city harbor. For their money, taxpayers have received the 1,300 acres complete with about 30 miles of railway trackage, 16 miles of streets, 10½ miles of berthing space for ships and a baseball stadium.

In addition, part of the land used for the Canadian National Exhibition and all of the thriving Sunnyside amusement centre was dredged up from the lake bottom.

Big Difference

In 40 years the harbour area assessment has increased from $1,986,804 to $59,392,536. In 1912 taxes received by the city from the lands totalled $36,570 and last year the return was $1,914,-244.

Toronto's investment took the form of city-backed bonds and most of these have been paid off. By the end of 1953 only about $9,-000,000 will be left unpaid. Against this Toronto has a harbor development asset worth probably 100 times that amount.

The growth didn't come by luck or by chance. It began in 1911 with the formation of the Toronto Harbor Commission. It is continuing today with the commission going strong with plans for even more acres to accommodate possible St. Lawrence waterway traffic.

London Man Hasn't Had Wink of Sleep in 81 Years

LONDON CP).—Ernest Lanchbery, retired London businessman, has come to the conclusion that man can adjust himself to anything—even such as doing without sleep. He himself can't recall having had a wink of sleep in his 81 years.

Six months ago, Mr. Lanchbery offered £250 to anyone able to produce an iron-clad formula guaranteeing him five or six hours slumber at night.

More than 3,000 suggestions rolled in. He read them all, tried out some and got good and tired, but sleep still eluded him.

Some of the recipes, he said, were just plain silly. One urged him to eat onions just before retiring. Another advised him to stuff his pillow with dried hops, while a third assured him a positive cure for insomnia was to suck two lumps of sugar slowly, concentrating at the same time on something black.

Several women offered themselves in marriage. There were also suggestions of hypnotism and drugs. But Mr. Lanchbery said he had already tried marriage to no avail and refuses to have anything to do with hypnotism or drugs.

Tries Reading

He tried reading the dullest novels far into the night, but only got bored. Some of the correspondents insisted the only remedy was to keep the head cool and the feet warm. Others recommended keeping the head warm and the feet cool. Finally, Mr. Lanchbery put the navvies' remedy to a test and got good and drunk. It kept him more widely awake than ever.

Even if he gets no sleep, he goes to bed regularly every night and stays there until morning. It provides him with the necessary bodily rest.

Mr. Lanchbery says he wants sleep only for the experience of whatever pleasure it might bring.

"I can't remember when I last slept," he said. "But all my life I have seldom had to call a doctor and am still in the best of health. I have come to the conclusion that one can get used to anything."

Probably Chestnut

LONDON—(CP)—A bus conductor has been told to cut down on his jokes while at work. The warning followed a woman's complaint that after telling all the passengers the same gag, he stopped the bus and went to the front to tell it to the driver.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

"Notice any difference in the tea, Jane?"

"I sure do, it's Mother Parker's, isn't it?"

"Yes, but come now, Betty, you couldn't really tell."

"Oh, yes, I could! Didn't I have my family after me for a month to get Mother Parker's for them?"

"Well—I was a long time coming to it—but one day John was shopping with me. He picked up a package of Mother Parker's—read the money back guarantee printed right on the label. 'Here,' said he, 'let's try Mother Parker's—we can't lose.'"

"And are you glad you did try it?"

"I'll say I am—Mother Parker's is simply delicious—we rave about it to everybody."

MOTHER PARKER'S TEA COMPANY

Aussies Seek To Create National Drama

Written for The Canadian Press
By MARGARET E. FRANCIS

SYDNEY, Australia — (CP) — Enthusiastic and hard-working little theatre groups are keeping alive the spoken drama in Australia.

Unlike Canada which draws United States road companies to the Dominion, few American or British companies will attempt the long haul to Australia.

More frequently, a British or American play is brought to the Commonwealth with three or four stars. Filling in are Australia's own professional players, products of the country's numerous little theatres.

The blending of native and imported players often produces a finished product in which a critic can see more than a touch of the amateur. But in the larger cities these productions play to packed houses and the visitor to the country will draw stern disagreement by suggesting that they may not quite hit the standard of Broadway or London's West End.

With the little theatres and the community operetta societies as their workshops, playwrights and musicians are struggling to create an art that is Australian.

Making Effort

Playing in Sydney is "The Highwayman," a musical with the gold rush days of Australia as setting. The show is lumbering in spots, with definite indebtedness throughout for lines and lyrics to several Broadway musicals. But its creators have attempted to dramatize a stirring chapter of their country's history and to retrieve folk songs and dances of the period.

Laurels are due to the Australian public too who have turned out in large and enthusiastic wherever it has played.

Like John Antill's ballet, "Corroboree" currently touring Australia "The Highwayman" has incorporated in one of its most stirring moments, the dances of Australia's native Aborigines.

Native Art Form

Such aspirations towards a native art form have been kindled by amateurs of the Australian theatre movement which specializes in Australian plays and revue and the national theatre, which each year produces along with Shakespeare, one Australian play and presentations of original Australian ballet.

The latter group is urging the government to build an national theatre in Canberra whose director would have funds to organize touring theatrical companies. These companies would have professional leads with supporting players drawn from students at a national theatre school.

While this project remains in the form of a recommendation to the Government, little theatres are providing for Australians in remote areas productions of classics of the past and modern American and English plays.

Theatre-Hungry

Theatre-hungry people in every part of the state of Victoria are being brought such plays by the Travelling Theatre, first Australian state-subsidized theatre. This is a semi-professional, non-profit making project, and plays are transported by a huge, semi-trailer van which can carry a company of 12 with scenery, properties, lighting and generator plant.

The Travelling Theatre was established in 1946 with a government grant of approximately $75,-000, under the sponsorship of the Council of Adult Education in Victoria.

Australia's six universities all have strong drama groups and they combine annually in a university drama festival in Melbourne which draws its audiences from all over the country. The non-competitive festival is sponsored by the National Union of Australian University Students and shows a sizable profit after all expenses have been paid.

Melbourne University has also established a drama school which this year produced T. S. Eliot's "Murder in The Cathedral."

Canadians Adopt Australian Life, Like It Also

Writen for The Canadian Press
By MARGARET ECKER FRANCIS

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA,(CP)—C. M. Croft, Canadian Trade Commissioner in New South Wales, was strolling in the garden of his harborside home. Palms swayed lazily in the breeze from Sydney's famous harbor and just beyond a stone wall yachts and sailboats were dropping their anchors.

Mr. Croft stopped beneath a tall banana tree and calculated the length of time before the large bunches of fruit would be ripe. Beside him was a low, orange tree and a little further away were fragrant lemons and grapefruit.

"I could pick a whole fruit salad in my garden," said the former Maritimer, graduate of McGill university. "Do you wonder Australia seems like a garden of Eden?"

It was the same throughout Australia. There are no statistics as to how many Canadians have swapped the northern hemisphere for the South Pacific, but there are hundreds of them. Most of them are very happy with the trade.

Power Shortages

They gripe, so do Australians, about power shortages that can suddenly throw half a city into darkness, the fairly high income taxes, the problem of getting workers if they are employers, and about the housing shortage if they have come to the Island continent since the war.

Then they shrug and remind the visitor that the best of steak can be bought for about 35 cents; that the cost of living is on the whole much lower than at home, and above all that, like Mr. Croft, they consider the Commonwealth a minor garden of Eden.

"After all, we're only 30 flying hours from home on the British Commonwealth Pacific Air Line sleeper service," said one.

"You don't feel isolated from home, but you have the advantages of life here."

Came From Stratford

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, formerly of Stratford, Ont., came to Australia 30 years ago, and it's home now. "But we're glad air services make it possible to get back to Canada often and comfortably."

Their family grew up in Sydney, but their daughter chose a Canadian husband, Bruce Rankin of Brandon, Man., and Edmonton. Now assistant to the trade commissioner in Sydney, he was one of the last members of the diplomatic corps to leave Shanghai.

"There are lots of opportunities for Canadians here," said Mr. Miller. "We have the initiative that pays dividends."

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robinson of Winnipeg were playing golf at the Sydney Country Club on a bright Sunday afternoon. "We don't lose touch with Canada," said Mrs. Robinson. "I'm president of the women's Canadian Club here, but we both love Sydney."

Going To Quebec

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Johnstonew agreed with the sentiment, but they were excitedly preparing for an air trip home to Quebec's eastern townships.

In a suburb of Melbourne, Victor Davey of Winnipeg, and Mrs. Davey, the former Olive Cadieux of Montreal, have practically rebuilt their new home to bring it up to Canadian standards.

"The average housewife here puts up with inconveniences we wouldn't tolerate," said Mrs. Davey. "You'd never believe it but this house had outdoor plumbing when we arrived."

Mrs. Davey, representative of the International Civil Aviation organization in South Pacific is president of the Men's Canadian Club in Melbourne.

Rewards Easier

"Australia offers us many good things here," commented F. W. Fraser, now Canadian Trade Commissioner in Melbourne, formerly of St. Stephen, N.B. "You don't have to work so hard for success as you do at home." This was the feeling too of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Couse who have traded home in Toronto for Melbourne.

Outstanding Canadian in the Victoria capital is Dr. Janet P. Cooper, who left Musquodoboit, N.S., to become a leading doctor. In a country where women are not usually politically minded, she was elected as one of the first and few women on the Melbourne City Council.

In Canberra, high commissioner's office officials, such as Mr. and Mrs. Andy Ross, formerly of Moncton, N.B., Toronto and Ottawa are popular in the federal capital. Secretaries of the commissioner's office, Jean Kelly of Pincher Creek, Alta., Molly Prince of Quebec City and Louise Marshall of Fort William live busy, happy lives.

Australians are quick with their gratitude to B. T. Dickson of Montreal ex-McGill professor, chief of the plant industry division, Commonwealth scientific, industrial and research council.

Alan McHugh of Toronto, working in an airline office in Canberra, admits that the low cost of living is deceptive since he has discovered salaries proportionately low.

H.R.F. King, mining graduate of the University of Toronto, is fascinated by the possibilities of the vast plan of engineering development of the Commonwealth. He is chief geologist of the Zinc Corporation at Broken Hill, N.S.W.

The names of George and Ben Chaffey are famous in Australia. The brothers, now dead, hailed from Brockville, Ont., and established the Mildura irrigation project which watered vast, arid lands in the Murray Valley.

A son of George, William A. Chaffey, is now a member for Wales State Legislature.

FALSE ALARM

LONDON—(CP)—Guards were called out when the burglar alarm in the Tower of London was accidentally set off .The trouble occurred when an attendant was locking up the jewel house.

SUDBRUY, Ont.—(CP)—In accordance with their national traditions the Croatian Peasant Society here held a christening for its youthful band after it had been organized six months. The orchestra was named "Heart of Lika" in honor of Lika, best known of Croatian provinces.

Chief's Wife First Named To H.S. Assoc'n.

CALGARY—(CP)—Mrs. David Crowchild, wife of Sarcee Indian Chief David Crowchild, is the the first and only Indian woman appointed a member of the school education committee of the Canadian Home and School Parent Teacher Association.

Because it is the dream of Indians that someday there will be equal educational opportunities for all Indian and white children, Chief and Mrs. Crowchild have been active in HSA affairs.

They were first introduced to the Home and School Association about five years ago when their son Gordon was a student in Calgary.

"When the people explained to us how it worked, we joined and we have been members ever since," she said.

Chief Crowchild started a HSA at the Sarcee Indian school last year—the first Indian Home and School Association in Canada. Mrs. Crowchild is treasurer of the branch.

Mrs. Crowchild is a well-educated woman who speaks English fluently. In fact, English is the only language spoken in the Crowchild home. The children, four boys and a girl, know practically no Indian.

Royal Thanks

In her spare time, Mrs. Crowchild makes buckskin jackets, coats and moccasins for sale.

Her work earned her the distinction of being one of the few Canadian citizens who have received a letter from Princess Elizabeth.

"I made a pair of white beaded baby buckskin moccasins for Prince Charles when he was born," she said. "I didn't think the Princess would accept them but I sent them anyway. She kept them and sent me a nice letter."

Mrs. Crowchild was one of many Indians attending the Calgary Stampede. She was asked if she minded the crowds of visitors to the Indian village.

"No I don't notice them," she said. "But some of them are very rude."

"They keep peeking into the teepee when we are eating or getting dressed to go out."

White people would call the police if an Indian opened the door of their home and looked in.

THESE ARE FASHIONS that will get a housewife through her busy day looking efficient and attractive For breakfast, and for morning chores, she wears (left) a navy blue-and-white striped cotton shirt and gray denim pedal pushers. She's ready for casual callers in the afternoon (left centre) in a practical green denim duster. She does her marketing (right centre) in a completely washable checked gingham suit with velvet trim. And when she has guests in for a chafing dish supper (right), she wears a flower-printed matelasse organdie that washes like a handkerchief and needs no ironing. This is a wardrobe adapted to her way of life.

New Fashions Are Designed To Fit Routine of the Home

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Though the trend has been lately to refer to homemaking as a career, the housewives themselves are yet to be completely convinced. And small wonder.

As they sit, sipping their morning coffee and contemplating a sink full of dirty dishes, they're doubtful. It's difficult to feel like a careerist when you're clad in a faded housedress, hair in curlers, shapeless bedroom slippers afoot.

For housewives are neglected women. There are clothes dsigned for college girls, teen-agers, career women, glamour girls, even girls just starting to toddle. But does the housewife rate? No. She buys whatever she can get and it never adds up to clothes designed particularly for her way of life.

She relies, year after year, on a few housedresses, a black or navy blue crepe for "dress wear", a usually outdated coat or two and some old party dresses that she wears out in the laundry or kitchen. She is not offered clothes that will help her to feel happy and to look good from morning to night, for her family, for neighbourhood business people, for guests.

We have assembled the beginnings of a wardrobe for the housewife. It could be the nucleus for a larger, year-round wardrobe that would allow her to play her role with dignity.

Since it's only in illustrations for fiction that the housewife breakfasts in a frilly negligee, the modern homemaker might like to dress quickly and start her morning's work in charcoal-colored denim pedal-pushers by Korday and Helen Harper's cotton knit basque shirt that's striped in navy blue-and-white. If she thinks her hips would look all wrong in pedal pushers, she could choose a skirt.

When the children arrive home from school for lunch, she can look attractive in a loose-fitting duster like the one done by Korday in practical green denim. It can stay on for afternoon tasks, keeping her unflustered should the doorbell ring.

Going to market, she can look and feel pretty in a checkered gingham suit with fitted jacket that has lined peplum interest. There's a slim skirt with necessary walking width in the Leonard Arkin design. This suit is completely washable, like all of the clothes we've picked.

When guests come in for an easily-prepared chafing dish supper, she can be poised in a full-skirted cotton matelass organdie in a rose print. A matching stole provides the cover-up for this Frank Starr design. And, best of all, this is a dress that washes like a pair of stockings and needs no ironing.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Other Countries' Dishes Chance For Something New

In your long and varied career have you ever been the mother of a playground supervisor? It has its disadvantages.

I have hovered like mother hen over these two grown-up cherubs of mine for so long that it is hard to break the habit.

So when Marianne came home last Friday night looking like a very harassed chick I wanted to fight somebody.

It seems that some 16-year-old boys decided to heckle her—and plenty hard too. Earlier in the week she had decided to win the confidence of their ring-leader and thought she had done so. (All of these boys are too old to be eligible for playground facilities.) He erected the swings, burned the garbage and helped in locking up the equipment for the night, etc.

So, her disillusionment was hard to take when he was the one who lighted sporadic fires all over the park; carved "Supe loves Rube" (himself) on a tree, and generally went wild leading the others in singing questionable songs at the top of his lungs.

I can still chuckle over this part: as a last resort she telephoned the number given her to telephone by the recreational council when she was in trouble, —and who should answer but the mayor!

Things started to pop after that. The park police-custodian arrived in ten minutes. The boys were given a stern warning and since then have behaved well or have jobs.

What has all that to do with a food column? Oh. I just had to get it off my chest to you, my friends, before I give you the Consuls' wives recipes that I promised a couple of months ago, and that Mrs. G. B. H. is waiting for.

Favourite Supper Dish in Belgium
(from the Honorary Consul's wife)

Two tablespoons butter, 2 cloves garlic, 4 lamb shoulder chops, 2 tablespoons flour, some water, 4 potatoes, 6 carrots, 6 small onions, frozen peas. Chop and brown the garlic in the butter. Cut the chops in two or three pieces each. Brown them in the butter too. Sprinkle lightly with flour. Add sufficient boiling water to cover meat. Add the vegetables, which have been cut into serving size, except the peas. Let simmer for 1¼ to 1½ hours. Add frozen peas the last 12 minutes.

Locro De Pollo (wife of honorary consul for Ecuador)

Two pounds potatoes cut into medium-sized pieces, 1 tablespoon diced scallions or leeks, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 medium chicken cut into serving pieces, 1 diced onion, 2 teaspoons paprika (this is a substitute for "achiote"—a spice used in this recipe but not available in Canada), 1½ cups milk, 2 tablespoons fat, ½ tablespoon white pepper, ¾ cup water. Heat the fat, fry the scallions in it until they begin to brown. Add the paprika and water, bring to boil; add potatoes and chicken and onion. Cook gently until tender. Add salt and pepper to taste. Add the milk and bring to boil for a few seconds. Let it stand in a warm place for a while before serving.

Danish Roast Goose

(Who has a goose at this time of year?)

Clean it anyway and dry well, rub it inside with salt and stuff with ½ lb. prunes with stones removed, 1½ lbs. sliced apples and 2 cups breadcrumbs and 1 tablespoon sugar.

These should be mixed well together before putting into the goose then sew it up. Rub the outside with salt, put in open roasting pan, roast at 450 degs, Fahr. for 30 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 for 2 or 2½ hours. Fifteen minutes before end of cooking time pour 2 or 3 tablespoons cold water over the bird to make skin crisp.

With this is generally served

Red Cabbage

Finely shred 1 medium head red cabbage and sprinkle with a little white vinegar. Melt 2 ounces butter (4 tablespoons) add the cabbage and cook at low heat for 2½ hours, adding a little vinegar from a jar of pickled beets and red plum juice—sufficient to make the cabbage moist, but not wet. This should be covered while cooking. Before serving add a little sugar and salt to taste.

LITTLE GIRLS LIKE TO LOOK THEIR BEST on the first day back to school. Here are autumn plaids in cotton fashions that have a wrinkle-free finish. For the nursery school crowd, there's a red plaid (left) with minute collar and cuffs and tiny tucks on either side of the bodice. Gay green plaids (centre) for big and little sister are jumpers styled overall fashion with separate white cotton blouses. Separates right) are done in blue plaid with scalloped jacket and white blouse.

Ducharme-Gibson Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Sylvia Rebecca Gibson to Mr. Leandre Pierre Ducharme took place in All Saints' Anglican Church on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock and the ceremony was performed by Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gibson and the groom the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Ducharme, all of Peterborough.

Tall standards of plams, baskets of gladioli and ferns decorated the church. Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Margaret Flowers.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of french blue lace and a headdress of orange blossoms with shoulder veil. She carried a cascade of pale pink carnations centered with a gardenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gibson of Toronto attended the couple, Mrs. Gibson wearing a frock of white nylon net with printed design in pastel mauve and green. Her headdress was a coronet of lily of the valley and she carried a bouquet of carnations tinted mauve and green to match her dress.

The reception was held at the bride's home, her mother receiving in a dress of grey faille and wearing a draped model black felt hat and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother was receiving with her and was dressed in black and white jersey and wore a black mohair hat and pink carnations corsage.

Leaving afterward on a motor trip the bride was wearing a pink dress with small pink flowered hat and corsage of gardenias and she carried a natural shortie coat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ducharme will live on Stewart St.

Fashion Vignettes

By Evelyn Kelly Croucher

ARTICLE 11

The name for huge pockets on work or play togs is "Cargo pockets." Very clever. And it calls a spade a spade. I'm all for bigger and bigger pockets on all work clothes, whether it's slacks or shorts or smocks or a housedress. Nice firm ones which will hold anything from nails and hammers to the roller skates you trip over on the walk.

A good thought for one of those quiet, good-looking casuals that will stand by you for many seasons is a tie-silk shirtwaist style. Shirtwaists are perennial favorites, and as universally becoming as years ago when the piquant Gibson girls started the vogue.

It looks as if the shoulder strap bag is here to stay, at least with the business girl and parcel-laden shopper. Straps are shorter though, so you can clutch them with the elbow so the bag won't be trailing a few inches behind your hurried flights. The new box bags open wide for a clear view of the contents, giving its owner a nice feeling of control over clutter.

My but how plastic fabric has become a part of us. One of the neatest most soul-satisfying wardrobe gadgets yet is the little hosiery container. Looks like a cosmetic case, opens like an accordion to hold six pair of stockings. Lovely thought for the bride's personal shower, especially if she's someone near and dear enough for you to see to it that each compartment is occupied.

Here's a make-it-yourself plastic wonder. Make a plastic case to fit one of your dresser drawers, that is, square, boxed like a cushion. Put a zipper opening on it, and in it keep those summer woollens safe from moths. Many woollens like sweaters, little girls' pleated skirt, small boy's trousers, are used on the occasional cool day, and this is the answer to safeguard them yet have them right at hand when you want them.

In the luxury class, but prophetic, is the new imported net petticoat (that is, a half-slip), stiffened by means of a lacquer finish. Intended for bouffant skirts, it's particularly useful under the full petticoats of very bouffant wedding or evening dresses. Likely smart young things this fall will copy the idea in coarse cotton net, which they'll starch so stiffly that the petticoats will stand up by themselves. Adds plenty of swish to a full, dancing skirt.

A little girl will have trimmer hips later on if Mother sees to it that she's wearing a softly-guiding little girdle soon as she shows signs of needing it. A natural companion for those first coveted nylons!

ElizabethEdwards Becomes Bride Of James O'Brien

Nuptial vows were pledged by Elizabeth Laura Edwards and James Paul O'Brien at the Immaculate Conception Church Saturday morning before the Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Edwards of Brockville and the groom son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien of Peterborough.

Gladioli and ferns decorated for the wedding. The music was played by organist Mrs. C. O'Donnell and Mrs. D. Campanaro sang "Ave Maria" and "On this day O Beautiful Mother."

An original gown of white slipper satin in strapless design, topped with a bolero, with long, full skirt falling into a train was worn by the bride. The bolero was made of imported white lace with a stand-up collar and dolman sleeves coming to points at the wrist and was fastened with tiny satin covered buttons. Her veil was of silk illusion net with applique motif, caught to a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Eleanor Edwards, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Ruth Herlihey was bridesmaid and the bride's niece Constance Killen was flower girl. The attendants' frocks were similar in design to the bride's in lime green and maize and they wore matching picture hats of net and mittens and carried bouquets of carnations tinted to match their gowns.

The flower girl was adorable in orchid brocade taffeta with fitted bodice finished with a white lace yoke and the skirt full length and very full. She wore a wreath of orchid in her hair and carried a basket of summer flowers.

Groomsman was Mr. William Dundas and the ushers were James Weir of Toronto and George Edwards, brother of the bride.

The reception was in the Empress Kawartha Room, the bride's mother receiving in a gown of navy and white faconne with white straw hat with navy trim and white accessories and wearing a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Assisting was the groom's mother who wore dusty rose silk with hat of navy straw and navy accessories and she had a corsage of carnations.

Leaving on a wedding trip to Toronto, Windsor, Detroit and New York, the bride wore a suit of ice blue sharkskin and white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will live at 154 Hunter St. E. on return.

Of Interest to Women

MR. AND MRS. JOHN E. MUMFORD, the latter formerly Mary Ellen Holmes.—Choate Studio Photo.

DOROTHY DIX

Patient Wife of Philander Has Reached End of Rope

DEAR MISS DIX: Since the beginning of my marriage, twenty years ago, my husband has been involved with other women. For the sake of my daughter, I have held the marriage together, but now she is grown and about to begin a life of her own. I wonder if it was the right thing for me to do. Here I am in my early forties with nothing to look forward to. I have lots of friends, and a family, but are they enough? I have a little money of my own, so am not completely dependent on my husband. We have always avoided arguments, for daughter's sake but, it's been years since we've made an outside appearance together. I know there's no hope for anything better in my marriage, and wonder if it wouldn't be better to give my husband the divorce he wants so that I will at least find a little happiness in peace of mind. Or should I go on being his housekeeper?

MARTE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You've done a valiant job keeping a home together for your daughter, and now that she is safely launched I thing you can write "finis" to the episode. Peace of mind may be all you'll have in life from now on. but that is no small thing. It is, in fact, the most important thing we can possess and without it no material wealth can mean anything.

Make A New Life

When you are on your own again, making a new life with your family, friends and hobbies, your conscience will be at ease, your heart free from the humiliations heaped upon it by philandering husband and you will truly have peace of mind. Fill your time with work for others—especially women in situations similar to yours who do not have your financial advantages. With the counsel you can give from a heart also scarred by a loveless marriage, give them the courage to handle their affairs with the wisdom you have shown. Children of broken homes could also use your help, and by caring for these unfortunates, you will soon heal the hurt in your own heart.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a very difficult problem with my father. I have no mother to give me advice. When I have boy friends call, my father orders them away and will not let me entertain them. He won't let me go any place where I'll meet boys so I have to sneak out with my girl friends who can have dates. I am 15. My relatives and friends have tried to convince him that he is wrong but it doesn't do any good.

P. O. S.

ANSWER: If you think you have a problem with your father, remember he feels he has quite a problem in you! The father of a motherless daughter has a hard time filling the role of two parents. Furthermore, to him you are still a child, though I'm sure you consider yourself quite grown-up.

Fathers have a hard time accepting the fact that their little girls become young ladies overnight and you must have patience until Dad realizes you are old enough to be out of the nursery. At 15 you are old enough to go to school dances or plays with boys, and be home at an early hour. However, if your father does not agree with this viewpoint, you have no choice but to bide your time until he sees differently.

Above all, stop sneaking out with girl friends on any occasion. If you value your reputation, be honorable and honest, thought the rules you must obey seem severe and unfair. Your father is only looking out for your welfare and is trying to do what is best for you. Don't judge him too harshly.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A few weeks ago my husband and I were vacationing and we met a friend who last year left his wife and children. He is going around with a young girl and it looks serious. The girl knows he is married but is absolutely brazen about it. Should I tell his family about this affair? My husband has forbidden me to meddle but I think it's my duty to tell.

ANNE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: My advice is short and sweet—mind your own business! You husband has the right idea. The wife probably already knows of her husband's affairs; you'd be telling her nothing new and would just acquire the name of "busybody" from her and all concerned. You wouldn't get any thanks from anyone for your information. The bearer of bad tidings is a very unwelcome guest and you'd best keep any tales of this type to yourself.

"I finally solved the help problem!"

Good Manners Lacking In Boys

LONDON (CP)—British schoolboys, especially the fat variety, are none too pleased about the rebuke they received from speakers at the annual conference here of the Association of Headmistresses.

The boys were bluntly told they lacked a show a good manners in public, while the palm for exemplary behaviour was extended to the girls mainly those between the ages of 17 and 20.

Said Miss L. E. Savill, a retired headmistress living in Oxford: "I travel a great deal in buses and what I hear so often from parents is 'Don't you move—you paid for your seat.'

Fat Boys Sit

"I watch old people and those returning home after a tiring day's work, standing while these fat boys sit unconcernedly, never dreaming of getting up. Perhaps Oxfordshire manners are worse than others."

Miss B. A. Tonkin, of Harrow, agreed. She had never met a schoolboy — certainly not the blubbery variety—who had given up his seat on a bus or train. Such courtesy, she added, was usually confined to schoolgirls and girls between 17 and 20 who had just left school.

"Parents have to be taught consideration and kindness before the school can drill these qualities into the children," Miss Tonkin said. "If parents say 'Don't get up,' the parents will always win."

In Memoriam

EALES—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Gladys Eales, who passed away two years ago today.
In my heart your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true.
There's not a day dear mother,
I do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by son Norman.

EALES—In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Gladys Eales.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well.
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by Aub, Rene and granddaughters.

HOUGHTEN—In loving memory of a dear husband, Charles, who passed away July 26, 1950.
Oh happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memories still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by wife, Mary.

HOGG—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Henry Stewart Hogg, who passed away July 27, 1946.
Six years today dear Stewart was called
To his eternal rest,
Gone where the angels sing so sweet,
And taken when God knew best.
We miss him here so very much,
His presence oft seems nigh;
But we all hope in heaven to meet
Where no one says goodbye.
—Sadly missed by loving wife and sons Elmer and Edward.

OAKLEY—In loving memory of our dear little boy, Bruce Oakley who passed away July 26, 1949.
God knew that he was suffering,
The hills were hard to climb,
So He closed his weary eyelids
And whispered "Peace be thine."
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest so fair,
Sometime, someday we know not when
We will meet our little boy there.
—Too dearly loved to ever be forgotten—Mummy and Daddy.

RICHARDSON—In loving memory of James Richardson, who passed away July 26, 1943.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear,
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.

Haliburton Man, 31, Found Shot At Home

Herbert Glen Dart, 31, of Haliburton village, was found dead Wednesday in the basement of his own home.

He had a gunshot wound in the head and a .22 calibre rifle was found lying beside him. Friends said he has recently been depressed.

A skilled hockey player, he was injured in a game last winter. He was struck on the head and spent some time in hospital.

Dart was director of the Haliburton recreation centre.

Soap Opera Star Peggi Brown In "Little Foxes"

Listeners to the daily "soap operas" may see one of their favorite stars "in the flesh" on the Summer Theatre stage next week. Miss Peggi Brown, Toronto, who is radio's Emily in "Brave Voyage" will take the part of Regina in the presentation here of "Little Foxes." (The part played by Tallulah Bankhead in the movie.)

Miss Brown played this part before, when she was with Toronto New Play Repertory Company. Last year her voice was heard in "John and Judy," "The Craigs" and on CBC Wednesday night show in addition to "Emily". She also starred in "Burlesque" on the Ford Theatre.

She has recently been making television films and commercial movies and comes here from Kingston where she appeared in the theatre. This is her first appearance before Peterborough audiences.

She was once offered a part on Broadway, when she was at Lennox, Mass., on a drama scholarship won at Victoria College. She turned down the opportunity in order to complete her University education and has since graduated with Bachelor of Arts degree. She also has a degree in drama, LTCO, awarded from London, England.

The 25-year-old actress has chosen golf as her favorite summer sport and in wintertime she figure skates for relaxation. Her home is in Toronto, though she is originally from St. John, NB.

UN Received All Wanted In Peace Talks

WASHINGTON, Juy 26 (AP)—Military and diplomatic officials here consider that United Nations negotiators received everything they sought in the first round of the Korean aarmistice talks without making any concessions on vital issues.

In fact it was the Communists who gave ground by batking down twice from positions they had taken.

Yet despite these initial successes, responsible officials here are only mildly optimistic about the chances that the negotiations will actually produce an armistice. Many difficult problems remain to be solved in the round now staarting.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's announcement of the agreement on an agenda noted there are numerous basic points on which there is "presently wide diversion of views" between the Reds and the U Ncommand. That cautionary note is fully endorsed here by officials.

Some authorities believe it may be as much as a month before the negotiations are concluded, and said it must still be determined how high a price the Reds are willing to pay in what Washington considers "real concessions" in order to end the fighting.

The two most serious problems here are those having to do with the mapping out of a buffer zone between the Communist and UN armies, and with the arrangements for supervision, or enforcement, of an armistice once it is established.

Injured Man In Stolen Car

NORTH BAY, July 26 (CP)—A 23-year-old man, whom police say may be from Levack, is in serious condition in hospital here following an accident in which police claim he wrecked a stolen automobile.

The man has been identified by police as Joseph Maurice Hornick, alias Swansborg, 23. In a semi-conscious condition in hospital, he mumbled "Levack" when asked where he lived.

Doctors said that Hornick has a broken back and is in serious condition.

Police said that early today they received information of an accident on Highway No. 11 in nearby Ferris. An expensive 1950-model sedan had failed to make a curve, and crashed into a hydro pole on the other side of the road.

Police said they learned the car was stolen and was registered in the name of a mine employee at Levack.

Canadian Woman Off To Try Swim Channel

TORONTO, July 26 (CP)—Winnifred Roach Leuzler, 25, who will try to swim the English Channel, left for England by plane today on a one-way ticket.

Said Winnie: "How I am going to get back, I don't know. I will just have to win to make it back to my husband and my three little girls. So here goes."

Scrap Liner

NEW YORK, July 26 —(AP)—The liner Washington, one of the largest American flag passenger ships, will wind up her North Atlantic career this fall. The United States Lines, which operates her under charter from the government, says it will have no further use for the vessel after her Sept. 29 voyage from New York.

Hydro Council To Promote Good Relations

TORONTO, July 26 —(CP)— The Ontario Hydro-Electric Advisory Council, created to bring the affairs of the publicly-owned Hydro Commission closer to the people of the province, held its first meeting here today.

The nine-member council was welcomed by Premier Frost who said it is the desire of the government and the Commission to avail themselves of any advice that the committee, representatives of all walks of life, could provide.

The Premier said that there were no secrets as far as Hydro was concerned. He pointed out that the Niagara Falls Park Committee had been enlarged to give additional representation to the people. He added that other organizations were being looked into with the idea of widening the representation.

The council had two major matters to discuss, the Premier said—the St. Lawrence development and the conversion program.

Chairman Robrt H. Saunders said that the Hydro Commission welcomed the appointment of the council. He was sure that its deliberations would be of invaluable assistance to the commission.

Members of the council, representing varied walks of life, are as follows:

D. P. Cliff, manufacturer, Dundas; M. W. Rogers, engineer, Carleton Place; C. H. Moors, manager, Fort William; J. Clark Keith, manager, Windsor; J. P. Maher, manufacturer, Toronto; Grattan O'Leary, editor, Ottawa; Mrs. Marjorie Hamilton, mayor, Barrie; John C. Brodrick, fruit grower, St. Catharines.

CHARTING THE COURSE are Princess Elizabethh, the Princess Royal and Queen Elizabeth are shown studying the day's program before racing starts at Ascot. The elaborate winner's cup can be seen in front of the Royal box.

35 Million People In 50 Years Says PM

ST. PACOME, Que., July 26 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent told residents of this Kamouraska County village today of Canada's hopes for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Laurent were guests of honor at a luncheon, part of celebrations started Sunday to mark the centenary of this lower St. Lawrence River parish.

The Prime Minister said the country was growing rapidly, in 50 years the population would probably be about 35,000,000.

The Government of Canada operates on the best possible system, he said, "because it is the people themselves which chose their representatives."

"With God's help, we will be spared from wars and with the co-operation of all we will continue to enjoy many years of prosperity."

Two Minutes After Alarm Make Or Break Absenteeism

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, July 26 —(CP)—It's the first two minutes after the alarm clock goes off that make all the difference to a miner, says a man who knows them well.

Arthur Lewis Horner, genial general secretary of the National Union of Mine Workers, told a conference of miners that the problem of absenteeism in the pits is closely tied up with that awful moment when the clock signals the start of a new day.

"At five o'clock in the morning," said Horner, "a man's got to make a hard decision and he has only a couple of minutes to do it.

"Whether he stays in bed or goes out into the bleak world of the pit often depends on a sharp nudge from the missus."

Griffiths Agrees

Horner has been No. 1 man in Britain's biggest miners' union since 1946. He is a Communist, but seldom uses the familiar vocabulary of Communism. His reference to the problem of absenteeism came at a conference in Blackpool, Lancashire.

His comments drew a reminiscent nod from James Griffiths, now colonial secretary and former leader of the miners in South ales. Griffiths, one of 10 children of a village blacksmith, worked underground a long time.

After the conference. Horner elaborated his remarks for the benefit of British reporters.

"The minutes after the alarm clock goes off are decisive," he told Harold Hutchinson of the Daily Mirror. "If the missus wants to buy something, she gives him a kick to get him out to earn his pay.

"But if she doesn't, she feels pity for the poor devil, puts a protective arm round him and he's back to sleep at two minutes past five."

Bonus Shift

Delegates to the miners' conference were discussing the five-day week agreement. Under it, a man working five shifts a week gets paid for six, one of them a "bonus" shift. But if he misses one day, except through sickness or injury, he is paid for only four days. Thus, in practice, one day's work lost may mean two day's pay deducted.

As a result, the miners suggest that a man who loses a day through illness in the family or to attend the funeral of a relative, should lose only a part of the bonus shift instead of all of it.

The National Coal Board, which runs the nationalized industry, is expected to be sympathetic. Absenteeism is one of its greatest problems. There is a slow drift from the mines, only partly offset by the recent decision to recruit Italian workers, and government officials already hint of a possible coal crisis next winter. One possibility is that some miners' lodges may resume voluntary Saturday morning shifts before autumn.

WHITTLIN'—Unimpressed by the excitement of the Kaesong cease-fire talks, a North Korean WAC sergeant methodically sharpens a pencil for use by the armistice delegates. The young woman has a Red star on her cap and a paper identifying her as a member of the reception staff at the conference city.

Plan To Clear Market Ways Rejected By US

TORONTO, July 26 (CP).—O. E. Lennox, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, said yesterday that two attempts to clear up the causes of United States criticism of Ontario stock marketing procedures were rejected by the American Securities Exchange Commission.

Addressing the Ontario special Legislature crime committee, he said that on two occasions he had asked the SEC to extend "short form of registration" privileges to Ontario companies. These privileges would permit them to place 300,000 shares each annually on the United States market with a minimum of formality.

In exchange he had offered to end all other forms of solicitation. But, he said, "their sole answer was 'extradition'. And that it a federal matter."

By extradition he referred to the United States demand for authority to extradite Canadians who violated any state security law.

One difficulty recently overcome was the selling of shares on shallow, unprofitable Alberta oil wells, he told the committee. Companies concerned in these dealings "sold their shares fast and left the public with a dead duck," he said. The commission met the situatoin by allowing the brokers to release their shares only as they opened new wells, with three shallow wells being counted as the equivalent of one deep one.

15-Year-Old Takes Lead In Chess Meet

PHILADELPHIA, July 26 (CP).—Ross Siemms, 15-year-old Ontario junior chess champion, took the undisputed lead at the halfway mark last night in the sixth annual United States junior chess championship.

Siemms broke the first-place deadlock with Lionel Joyner of Montreal by battling him to a draw in the fourth round and then defeating Charles Henin of Springfield, Mass., in the fifth round.

Both Siemms, a Toronto High school student, and Joyner, 20-year-old McGill University sophomore, remained undefeated at the end of the fifth round. But Siemms moved into the lead with 4½ points based on four wins and a draw.

MACHINIST PERFORMS DARING RESCUE IN TREACHEROUS CREEK

John Andrusek, of Ottawa, dives into spring-swollen creek in Hull, Que., to save drowning 8-year-old boy

1. Johnny Bard and a friend were playing along a concrete retaining wall beside the creek. He was enjoying being so close to danger . . . a danger that was all too real because the creek had claimed the lives of two little girls earlier in the year. Suddenly Johnny lost his balance and tumbled into the fast-moving waters. A non-swimmer, he thrashed helplessly as the current carried him downstream.

2. A machinist at a Hull plant, John Andrusek was on his way home in a friend's car. They had stopped for a traffic light when Andrusek heard the screams of Johnny's playmate. Leaping from the car, he vaulted the railing, tore off his coat and plunged into the creek. In a moment he had grasped the spluttering boy's clothing and, holding his head above water, brought him to shore.

3. Two other men reached down the retaining wall and took the boy from Andrusek's arms. They then helped up the gallant rescuer. Johnny was treated in hospital and soon released. To John Andrusek goes the deserved praise of Canadian citizens everywhere. We are proud to add our tribute through the presentation of The Dow Award.

Gov't To Permit Increases In Rent On Ontario Houses

US Joint Committee Votes To Permit Roll Back Of Prices

WASHINGTON, Julw 27. (AP)—A joint conference committee of the Senate and House of Representatives voted tentatively early today to permit price rollbacks on non-farm commodities to levels which prevailed just before the Korean war—provided certain cost increases are taken into account. The decision came near the end of an all-night session of the committee, which agreed to extend economic controls legislation to next June. The extension measure covers wage, price, rent and other emergency curbs.

A member of the joint committee told reporters the group is to meet again later today to make a final decision regarding the non-farm rollback provision. He said a few other provisions also will come up for a final vote at that time.

Those matters include what to do about a proposal to scrap the ban voted on livestock slaughter quotas by both the Senate and the House.

The legislation would keep intact the 10-per-cent beef price rollback already in effect, but would bar additional price cutbacks for that commodity. The price administration planned two more reductions, each 4½ per cent.

Few Commodities

The conferees agreed that prices for other farm commodities could be rolled back to 90 per cent of the level of last May 19 or to the parity level, whichever was higher. Committee officials said, however, that in practice the farm rollback section could affect only a few commodities, such as cotton, wool, veal and lamb.

The committee also approved more liberal consumer credit controls than the federal reserve board now has in effect, covering the instalment purchase of new and used automobiles and such household items as radios and television sets.

The administration won at least one victory when the committee agreed to permit rent rollbacks to levels which prevailed just before the Korean war, in newly-designated critical defence areas.

West Big Three Plan Conference In US, Ottawa

By JOHN M. HIGHTOER

WASHINGTON, July 27—(AP)—The estern Allies are tentatively planning a big-three meeting in Washington and a session of the North Atlantic pact council in Ottawa after the Japanese peace conference in September.

Although the planning is well advanced, final decisions to go through with the meetings in the United States and Canada have not yet been reached. Diplomatic informants said today these decisions may be made early next week.

The big three nations are the United States, Britain and France. the North Atlantic Council embraces nine other countries.

Problems

The two most critical problems likely to be discussed if the plans go through are:

1. Western Germany's contribution to the European defence forces being formed under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhowe;

2. The American-backed desire of Greece and Turkey to gain membership in the Atlantic alliance.

The Japanese peace conference is scheduled to open in San Francisco Sept. 4. It is to last about four days.

According to tentative plans a big-three foreign ministers session would be held in Washington the following week.

After the Washington talks, the 12-nation North Atlantic council would meet in Ottawa for about a week.

In Ottawa, external affairs officials said they are proceeding on the assumption the pact council will meet here. They added that no official announcement that the meeting wil be here is expected before Monday at the earliest.

It is possible the conference may have to be delayed some months beyond the presentat tentative September dates. This will depend on whether certain vital matters have crystallized sufficiently to be placed before the meeting.

Fumes Flatten Toronto Firemen

TORONTO, July 27 — (CP) — Smoke and fumes from burning plastics knocked out 40 firemen fighting a blaze that gutted the basement and ground floor of a downtown warehouse early today.

Loss, including damage to upper floors of the four-storey building, was estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000.

The fire, which called 100 firemen and 18 rigs into action, broke out shortly after midnight and by mid-morning was still blazing, but under control.

Two firemen were seriously affected.

Dr. Robert Ralph, fire department physician, said he had "never seen anything like it in all my years in the fire department. There was between four and five per cent carbon monoxide gas in the smoke and the firefighters were felled like tenpins. A steady stream of men were being carried or helped out of the building."

At one stage, the ground floor collapsed in a shower of flames and sparks, nearly trapping two firemen.

Bystanders said firemen affected by the fumes were "lying all over the streets." They were given oxygen and revivd on the scene.

The two firemen seriously affected were taken back to their fire hall in a semi-conscious condition for treatment.

Judge Orders Hair Of Zoot-Suiters Cut

NEW YORK, July 27—(AP)—A judge has ordered a Samson-and-Delilah softening-up treatment for a group of long-haired, zoot-suited boys seized in a gang clash for control of a vacant lot spooning ground.

Magistrate Edward Thompson, turning to a jail worden, ordered "Cut off those marcel waves and those sideburns."

Jail officials said last night the job had been done.

Magistrate Thompson held the defendants in $1,000 bail each and advised the parents not to post it.

"It will do them good to see what the inside fo a jail is like for a few days," Thompson said.

Reds, Allies Discuss Buffer Zone

Joy Outlines Plan Of UN Forces Communists Adjourn

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

U.N. ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 27.—(AP) — The Allies told the Communists today where they want to draw the cease-fire line in Korea—and why.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief United Nations delegate, explained the Allied position in detail as negotiators got down to the meat of armistice talks in their 11th meeting at Kaesong.

Admiral Joy talked 25 minutes.

He gave the Reds two marked military maps to picture his position.

The five Communist Generals made no comment. Instead they asked for, and got, an adjournment until 10 a.m. Saturday (8 p.m. EDT Friday).

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, spokesman for the Red delegation, presumably then will present the Communist reply.

Along Battle Line

The general understanding is that the United Nations is pressing for a demilitarized zone roughly along the present battle line. The Communists want it along the 38th parallel.

Starting from a point 35 miles north of the 38th parallel on the east coast, the battle lines run roughly 15 to 20 miles north of the parallel for 75 miles to Chorwon. Then they drop sharply south along the Imjin river, crossing the parallel at a point east of the Kaesong armistice site.

Joy's statement, opening actual negotiations for an armistice, took most of Friday's 72-minute session.

The two delegations reached agreement in principle on just how to tackle the four major points of their truce talks, a UN announcement said, and named teams of officers to work out the details.

Then Admiral Joy began reading a prepared statement on the allied position. It was officially described as a "sparsely-phrased and logical presentation."

"Joy expressed a military viewpoint," said Air Force Brig.-Gen. William Nuckols, allied spokes-

China Nationals Invade Red Prov.

RANGOON, Burma, July 27—Three regular Chinese Nationalist columns have thrust 65 miles into Chommunist China's Yunnan province from their refuge in northeast Burma, authoritative sources reported today.

The informants said the Nationalist invaders, numbering around 15,000, now hold a 100-mile long border strip and are engaged against Chinese Communist troops. The Nationalists were said to have seized control of an air field 200 miles southwest of Kunming.

All three columns were reported to be under the command of Li Mi, nominal Nationalist governor of Yunnan province and one of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's best-known Generals.

The sources said Li Mi's push back into Red territory has been going on quietly for almost three months. It is the most effective action undertaken by the Nationalist forces this year.

Justice Fined $500 Dangerous Driving

CHARLOTTETOWN, July 27—(CP)—Mr. Justice George J. Tweedy of the Supreme Court of Prince Edward Island, was convicted Thursday of dangerous driving and fined $500 or three months in jail.

He was charged with manslaughter following the highway death April 14 of Gerald Solomon, but the grand jury returned a true bill on a modified indictment of driving to the common danger.

6th Frenchman Asked To Form Government

PARIS, July 27—(Reuters)—French president Vincent Auriol today asked Finance Minister Maurice Petsche for the second time to attempt to form a National coalition government.

The request is the sixth of its kind since the new Assembly was elected last month. Petsche was the first to be asked two weeks ago but reported failure after interviewing party leaders for a week.

Last night former Premier Paul Reynaud abandoned a 24-hour attempt to bring the Assembly's moderate parties into coalition.

Others who tried and failed were radical Rene Mayer, Foreign Minister, former Premiers Robert Schuman and Henri Queuille.

May Separate Seaway Plan Says Chevrier

OTTAWA, July 27 CP).—Transport Minister Chevrier said today the federal cabinet now may have to consider separating the seaway and power production phases of the scheme to develop the St. Lawrence river.

"I don't like it, but it is one thing that might have to be considered," he told the Canadian Press in a telephone interview from his law office at Cornwall, Ont.

The entire seaway question now will have to be reconsidered, he said, as a result of the rejection yesterday by a United States Congressional committee of a bill to enable the US to join Canada in constructing the giant development scheme.

Weigh Costs

He said that in considering whether to undertake the project alone the federal cabinet will have to weigh the costs and the over-al picture of supplies and materials against the urgency of the need for a deep-sea waterway from the Atlantic Ocean up through the Great Lakes chain.

It has been estimated that the power development stage of the scheme would produce 2,200,000 horsepower of electrical energy to be divided equally between Ontario and New York. This development would take place in the international section of the river, in Eastern Ontario.

Yesterday, in Toronto, statements urging a Canadian start on the scheme were issued by both Premier Frost of Ontario and chairman Robert Saunders of the Ontario Hydro Commission. Both stressed Ontario's need for more power.

Eight Below Zero

HARTFORD, Conn., July 27—(AP). — It was even too hot for thermometers to work.

One on a billboard here yesterday rose to 102 in the mid-day sun. The strain was too much. At 10 p.m. it registered 8 below zero.

Ford Appeals To Union As Strike Threatens Plant

DETROIT, July 27. (AP)—The Ford Motor Company said today its operations across the United States were threatened by a wildcat strike at a small but vital Michigan parts plant. Ford, acting as labor unrest left idle 32,500 workers elsewhere in the automobile industry, appealed for help directly to the United Automobile Workers (CIO) president, Walter Reuther.

There was no immediate reply from the Union chief.

Ford's parts plant at Monroe, Mich., employing about 2,000 men, was closed yesterday by a strike over a worker's disciplinary layoff. Management said an "irresponsible minority of workers" was to blame.

Ford employs approximately 110,000 production workers across the United States.

32,500 Idle

A wildcat strike at Chrysler's Dodge main plant left idle 22,500 men. Another 10,000 remained idle at Hudson in the month-long "strike or lockout" dispute.

At both, the union has charged illegal "speed-up." Managements have denied it.

Reuther's intervention was asked by Ford in a telegram warning that all its plants in the country might have to close.

The Monroe factory, a key supplier, makes wheels and coil springs and performs plating operations.

The one worker in question, a member of Local 723, was reported laid off for his part in an earlier strike.

Dodge's 1,600 wildcat strikers, all in the trim department, stayed out in rebellion against orders from UAW Local 3 leadership. Mass layoffs resulted.

The Dodge dispute hinges on the firing of two men for failure to meet production rates. Strikers accused the company of contract violation in increasing the rates.

Hudson, in the face of a union stay-away-from-the-job move, reiterated it had "work available" and was prepared to resume production.

UAW Local 154, charging a speed-up and "lockout," has instructed its members to stay away until Hudson shows "good faith."

Youth Starts Fire Manslaughter Charged

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27 — (AP)— A youth who paused for a smoke said today he accidentally started a conflagration that killed eight persons.

He was charged with manslaughter.

Kenneth Skinner, 17, told police he delivered newspapers in the four-storey building at dawn Sunday. Standing near drapes in the lobby, he ignited his cigaret lighter for a smoke.

"There was a flash and the whole thing went poof."

Young Skinner said he was too frightened to sound an alarm, and continued on his paper route.

Modern Highwayman

INDIANAPOLIS, July 27 — (AP).—The highwayman drove a black automobile, but his technifue was straight out of a Western rodeo. The prize was $75.00 and a billfold. Leverett Henshaw told it this way:

Henshaw's car door swung open as he turned a corner. As he reached to close it, his billfold (containing $75) popped out of his pocket and fell in the street. "Traffic was heavy and I was trying to stop and pick it up," Henshaw told the police. "But before I could a guy in a black car going the other way slowed down, leaned out and scooped it up and drove away."

Masked Trio Rob Bank Of $4,200

BRADFORD, July 27—(CP)—A trio of masked gunmen held up the Canadian Bank of Commerce branch here Thursday and escaped with $4,200.

While a companion waited outside in an automobile, the thugs forced the 11 members of the staff to lie on the floor and looted the cashiers' cages.

They missed several thousand dollars locked in a drawer and were unable to get into the vault.

Constable Reg Wilson heard the bank alarm in his apartment over the bank and surprised the bandits as they left the bank. Their lookout answered Wilson's shots by firing through the bank windows to warn his companions.

They escaped despite the flying bullets and eluded their pursuers in a maze of sideroads. Their bullet-riddled car was found a short time later, abandoned a few miles from here.

Police believe they fled to a hide out because some of them were wounded.

Bradford, about 25 miles north of Toronto, is a banking centre for about 3,000 market gardeners in the Holland Marsh area.

Removes Rent Controls From Housing Built Since Jan. 1, 1947

Lifts Rent Freeze Clamped On In April Other Housing Rentals Remain Controlled Two Ways Open To Have Rents Increased

TORONTO, July 27. (CP) — The Ontario Government today moved to permit increases in house rents in line with rising costs. Hon. Louis Cecile, chairman of the legislature rent control committee, issued a nine-point summary of new regulations approved by the cabinet on the committee's recommendation. Ontario got into rent control last April when Federal Government controls, inaugurated during the war, expired. The Province froze all rents as of April 17 pending study by the committee.

Today's announcement revokes the freeze, but officials said the general effect is to remove from rent control new housing built after Jan. 1, 1947. This was not controlled under federal regulations but came under Ontario's emergency freeze order.

Other housing rentals remain controlled. However provision is made for increases in the maximum rents in two ways: 1. With approval of rental boards where taxes, water rates or structural changes increase cost of carrying the property; 2. By agreement between tenant and landlord in reaching two-year lease agreements permitted after Aug. 20.

Study Regulations

A prepared statement by Mr. Cecile said the announcement was intended as a general statement of the government's intentions. It should not be acted on without careful examination of the regulations themselves which would be published later.

One section prohibits eviction of tenants except as provided by the regulations. This and other regulations dealing with security of tenure apply to all housing—including new construction freed from price-control provisions.

The general effect of the regulation is:

1. Leases now in force are binding until they expire, except those for more than two years. After two years of their term these longer leases go on a month to-month basis and become subject to the regulations unless the tenant confirms them for the balance of the term.

2. New tenancies of tenants now in possession and all month-to-month tenants are subject to maximum - rent and security-tenure regulations.

Brokers Fleece US Of $9 Million Yearly

TORONTO, July 27 (CP)—O. E. Lennox, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, estimated Thursday that Toronto brokers, holding out false hopes to buyers, take about $9,000,000 a year from the United States.

Mr. Lennox testified before the Ontario Legislature Crime Committee, investigating the administration of criminal justice in the provnice. He said American buyers are being victimized by a small group of fly-by-night stock brokers. Their fraudulent practices were sharply reducing the flow of US capital into Canada.

Had Reds Set Up For KO Punch US Army Claims

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP)—The army claimed today the allies had the Communists in Korea "hanging on the ropes" last month but held off trying to deal a knockout punch in order to show "god faith" in peace talks.

At the same time, the army officially acused the enemy of carrying out a "tremendous build-up" of trops, supplies, and weapons at the front since the original peace proposal was made June 23.

In contrast, the army said, one UN combat unit was pulled out of the battle area and sent to Japan. The unit was not identified.

The army's report was given in an unusual on-the-record briefing for newspapermen at the military headquarters here. Ordinarily, briefings of this nature are held to give reporters background information only, but this time the army spokesman read a statement for publication.

Disastrous Defeat

Late in May, it said, the allies had just beaten of a major Chinese Communist drive in the "most disastrous defeat" since the Chinese entered the war last November.

The Chinese were "driven back in confusion," the army said, with losses of more than 100,000 men.

The allies were in a good position to follow through but held up after agreeing to enter into peace talks.

The spokesman said that since UN forces halted their advance in the light of cease-fire arangements, the Reds have been making a constant and continuous buildup behind their screening forces.

"Fresh Chinese Communist units and thousands of individual replacements have moved in. On the eastern-central flank a greater volume of fire has been received and there have been heavy probing attacks.

Reds Block Allies Advance

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 27 — (AP). — Allied attempts to capture dominating hills on the eastern front were blocked again today by stubborn Communist resistance.

The Eighth Army reported attacks by United Nations soldiers were blunted north-east of Yangu and north of Inje. UN troops made similar attacks yesterday, but fell back before intense mortar and artillery fire from Chinese positions.

American B-29s from Okinawa bombed Communist supplies at the western Korea river port of Kyomipo and cut rail tracks in the same- area. Kyomipo is south-west of the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

King Reappears First Time Since May

LONDON, July 27 (Reuters)—King George, who has been convalescing at Sandringham, will return to London Monday for his first official engagement since the end of May.

He will hold an investiture at Buckingham Palace Tuesday when those who received knighthoods in the birthday honors list will be "dubbed."

The King developed catarrhal inflamation of the lung after a bout of influenza at the end of May.

$800 Million Question

Will Canada Build Seaway On Her Own?

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP)—Canada was faced squarely today with the problem of deciding whether she is prepared to build the costly St. Lawrence seaway and power project alone.

The question, involving the outlay of many millions of dollars, is expected to come before the Cabinet Wednesday next.

A United Stafes congressional committee Thursday killed a bill authorizing the US government to join with Canada in joint construction of the project.

The alternative for the Canadian Cabinet would be to wait for another year to see if Congress approves it.

The $800,000,000 plan to open the St. Lawrence to deep-sea shipping and to provide fresh sources of electrical energy has undergone a series of congressional rebuffs during past years.

On Record

Canada already is on record as saying she would have to consider a purely Canadian project if Congress—as it now has done—again rejected the joint scheme.

At his summer home at St. Patrice, Que., Prime Minister St. Laurent yesterday said nothing official had reached him and he could not comment on newspaper reports of the US decision.

However, a high government source in Ottawa said the government will have to give immediate consideration of what its position is to be. The decision would be "a tough one" to make.

"The government," this source said, "does not feel committed to going ahead without a great deal of consideration."

Mr. St. Laurent is expected to be back in Ottawa for next Wednesday's Cabinet meeting. But no immediate decision is expected. The problem probably will be studied for some weeks before any step is taken.

Frost Urges Build

Premier Frost of Ontario, one province vitally concerned, issued a statement in Toronto urging the federal government to make an immediate start on the project without the US.

"Now that our good friends to the south in their wisdom have decided that they do not want to come in with us," he said, "we ask them... to please get out of the way and let us get on with the job."

Chairman Robert Saunders of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission wrote to Mr. St. Laurent urging an early start on the project.

Pakistan Plan

India Peace Talks Unlikely

NEW DELHI, India, July 27 — (Reuters) — A meetnig between the Indian and Pakistani prime ministers is "extremely unlikely" on the basis of a five-point Pakistani peace overture reported last night, usually-reliable sources said here today.

Official quarters had no comment on Premier Liaquat Ali Khan's approach to Premier Nehru.

Not Optimistic

Political observers thought India would welcome direct talks between Nehru and Liaquat on all outstanding Indo-Pakistan problems, but such talks conditioned on India's fulfilment of Pakistan's "terms" were neither feasible nor conducive to positive results, it was believed.

It was understood India would not accept what Liaquat described as "the first essential step" toward talks — withdrawal of Indian troops from border regions.

Liaquat's move came in reply to a note from Nehru as tension between the two countries mounted again over control of the rich mountain state of Kashmir which lies between India and Pakistan.

Plan

In addition to the withdrawal of troops, the peace plan included these points:

1. Both India and Pakistan should reaffirm their agrrement that the dispute should be decided through a free and impartial plebiscite held under United Nations auspices.

2. Both governments should also declare their renunciation of the use of force.

3. Both governments should reaffirm treaty obligations to ban propaganda in either country directed against the territorial integrity of the other.

4. Both governments should make a declaration that they will on no account attack or invade the territory of the other.

Foreign Aid Program Stirs Protest

To Cost $25 Billion Over Three Years, Marshall Called

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, July 27. —(AP)—An administration proposal for a vast three-year foreign aid program, costing about $25,000,000,000, stirred up a storm of protest in the Senate today.

The Senate foreign relations committee called defence secretary George Marshall for detailed testimony on the military outlays involved in $8,500,000,000 authorization measure for this year.

State Secretary Dean Acheson unveiled the three-year plan yesterday in urging the committee to approve this year's request. The long-range program of helping friendly countries rearm, he said, is necessary to counter Russia's designs and bring about "an era of genuine relaxation of tension."

Armed Services

Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee hoped to be invited to sit in on today's session. They threatened to demand that the measure be sent later to their group—thus delaying Congressional action—if the invitation isn't forthcoming.

Marshall faced questioning about the military necessity for such a program as that outlined by Acheson.

Senator H. Alexander Smith (Rep., NJ) told a reporter he may move to consolidate the $6,300,000,000 military part of the authorization bill with the regular armed forces appropriations.

This would leave the $2,200,000,000 economic aid portion of the measure—its weakest feature under present circumstances — wide open to possible fatal attack in the Senate. Senator Harry Byrd (Dem., Va.) said he will try to strike out all of the economic aid.

Chairman Richard Russell (Dem., Ga.) of the armed services group says he still favors spreading the first year's authorization over two years.

UE Files Cards With Labor Bd.

Local 527, United Electrical Workers, on Thursday filed 161 cards of De Laval production workers with the Ontario Labor Relations Board at the hearing in Toronto.

The UE for some months have been concentrating their organizational energies on De Laval and they now claim a sufficient number of workers signed up to feel confident of certification. Some 320 workers are affected.

Local 527 also reports that G. L. Fenwick has been appointed conciliation officer in the contract dispute between the union and the Moldaver Bros. Lumber Co.

Recently the union filed 30 cards from Tilco Plastics' employees at a hearing of the OLRB.

Hollinger Strikers Collect Last Pay

TIMMINS, Ont., July 27 (CP)—Striking employees of the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines collected their last pay Thursday until their differences with the company are settled.

The Timmins School Board, meanwhile, also felt the effect of the strike, which began July 9 when 1,600 miners walked off their jobs for higher wages and a union dues check-off.

The board learned that offers on $115,000 of its $225,000 debenture issue to raise money for a new public school had been cancelled.

Leopard Skin $100,000 Loot

NEW YORK, July 27 —(AP)—The New York Times today quoted the Korean consul-general here as saying a Pueblo, Colo., sergeant sent home a leopard skin rug from Korea worth about $100,000.

The newspaper quoted the official, David Namkoong, as saying the rug could be valued at that huge sum, "if such a priceless national treasure can have a price tag."

The soldier who sent the souvenir was identified as Sgt. Elverne H. Giltner.

The Times described the rug as measuring 18 feet 11 inches by eight feet and made up of 48 matched leopard skins.

Namkoong told the Times he learned of the rug through a newspaper story about Giltner's gift to his parents.

Owned By Queen

Namkoong added that he believes the rug formerly was owned by the late Queen Min, who had received many fabulous gifts from foreign potentates. The Queen was assassinated by the Japanese shortly before Japan annexed Korea.

"We wouldn't want to cause any one trouble, but that is a very odd souvenir for a soldier to send home. We will make inquiries," Namkoong said.

The Times reached the sergeant's mother, Mrs. Hugh V. Giltner by telephone. She said the gift arrived June 18 in an old duffel bag with $39.20 in airmail stamps on it."

Mrs. Giltner told The Times her son's letter about the rug said, "The Gook who sold it to me said it was worth at least $25,000 and it came from the Chang Duk Palace in Seoul."

US Gov't Orders 5% Cut In Steel

WASHINGTON, July 27 (AP) —The government today ordered another five-per-cent cut in steel for passenger car production, effective Oct. 1.

Auto output in the October-through-December quarter will be cut to 40 per cent of the level of the six months preceding the Korean invasion. This will mean a production of slightly more than 1,100,000 cars.

If the auto makers need it, they'll be permitted to use some foreign steel so that they can make the 1,100,000 quota, defence production administrator Manly Fleischmann said.

The announcement came as DPA issued steel, copper and aluminum allocations for the final quarter of the year. Except for consumer goods, production levels will be about the same as in this quarter.

Speed Traps For Fines Not Safety–League

TORONTO, July 27 (CP).—The Ontario Motor League charged today that some Ontario towns are operating electric speed traps to gain revenue rather than to improve safety conditions.

Warren B. Hastings, league general manager, said the traps are being operated "unreasonably." The league had received many complaints about traps between Toronto and Lake Simcoe.

Too many of them are being operated at the edge of towns where 30-mile speed limits were not needed, the league said.

Earlier this week it was disclosed one police officer operating a speed trap in Caledon, 28 miles northwest of Toronto, issued 841 speeding summonses since June 1.

Dead, Buried Two Years Found Alive

NEW ORLEANS, July 27 (AP) —Legally dead and "buried" for two years, Sam Jones set off a weird Louisiana swampland murder mystery when found alive in a barber's chair.

Authorities were baffled today by the finding of the 43-year-old Jones in Denver, Colo.

As far as Louisiana officers were concerned Jones had been in his grave since a knife-slaying two years ago.

They were equally puzzled as to the identity of the body resting in Sam Jones' brave.

These are the persons police plan to question:

1. Jones, known also as John C. Harper in Denver where he has spent most of his time since he was "murdered." He has been arrested for investigation of murder and was to be questioned on arrival today from Denver. He was found in Denver Wednesday night.

2. Donald Easterwood, a 26-year-old welder and father of four children, who was tried and acquitted on charges of murdering Jones. Easterwood was arrested last night for investigation of murder.

Wife

3. Jones' common-law wife, Patricia Land, who identified the decomposed body found in a nearby swamp as that of Jones. She admitted the slaying, repudiated the statement and then accused Easterwood and testified in court she saw him kill Jones.

Easterwood worked at a New Orleans filling station with Jones and came under suspicion after Jones disappeared and $96 was reported missing from a cash drawer.

Easterwood was indicted on the murder charge largely on the Land woman's testimony. A jury freed him, however, and in doing so gave him $100 gift to start over again.

In Denver, Jones admitted taking the money from the gas station, but denied that he knew anything about a slaying.

New Orleans police said a murder charge will be filed against Jones, but the name of the victim will not be included in the charge.

man who was present. "This (military view) is the area to which UN delegates have frequently stated they will confine themselves."

While he spoke the American Admiral produced a colored map to illustrate "a major point he was making," Nuckols said.

Joy handed the map to Nam. Later Joy produced a larger map, explained another military point on it, and gave that to the North Korean General.

Gen. Nam gave no hint of the Communist reaction.

Nuckols said the UN delegation had "a great deal" of discretionary power in its armistice talks. He said he didn't know how much leeway the five Chinese and North Korean Generals had.

The UN wants to settle on the most pefensible battle line possible. This is generally understood to be approximately along the present lines.

Communists made it clear from the start they want the truce line along the parallel, dividing line between North and South Korea.

Establishment of a three-mile naval neutral zone off the shores of Korea is believed tied to this agenda item.

The Reds brought a newcomer, believed to be a high-ranking naval officer, Friday. Presumably he was an adviser, although he did not enter the conference room.

Procedure

Nuckols said only two of three allied officers who will work out procedural duties were named immediately. They are Air Force Col. Andrew Kinney and Marine Col. James C. Murray.

An official announcement said action taken on procedural affairs at the opening of the session was "designed to expedite final achievements of a military armistice and cease-fire."

The difference in view on the second item on the agenda—the military demarcation line and buffer zone for the armistice—was sure to make it a slow process.

The negotiators disposed of the first item—the adpotion of the agenda—Thursday.

Point three covers cease-fire details, including international supervision on both sides of the line to make sure terms of the armistice are obeyed.

Point four is exchange of prisoners. Nuckols said this item was phrased in general terms and did not preclude the UN from working to recover an estimated 75 government, commercial and religious people captured by the Reds at the start of the war.

Point five, calling for recommendations to governments of the warring nations, covers the Red demand for withdrawal of foreign trops from Korea.

The Chinese Peiping radio said that when General Nam advanced this point in conferences Wednesday, he explained:

"Both of our sides may, under this item, discuss proposals to the governments concerned on both sides for the convening of a meeting of representatives of both sides at a higher level, within a certain time after the carrying-out of the armistice agreement, to discuss the question of withdrawing by stages of all foreign troops from Korea."

It was this proposal of Nam which broke the deadlock over the agenda.

Assaulted Guard Gets Six Months

SUDBURY, Ont., July 27 (CP) —Albert Norman Grigsby of Toronto, an inmate of Burwash Industrial Farm, yesterday was sentenced to six months concurrent with the term he now is serving on a charge of assaulting a guard May 20.

Guard Peter Paul Kovack said Grigsby attacked him without provocation outside his cell.

Grigsby did not deny the attack, but claimed the guard kicked him as he bent over to set down some blankets.

Four fellow prisoners, who Grigsby had told him at the time of the alleged attack they would testify for him in court, denied any such promise. They said they had no knowledge of the fight because they could not see it from their cells.

Grigsby was sentenced to two years less a day on nine charges of false pretences in Toronto in May 1950. He escaped July 15 but was recaptured less than six hours later and given six months concurrent on the escape charge.

Smoke Bothers 10 Firemen

TORONTO, July 27 (CP). — At least 10 and possibly 12 firemen were overcome by smoke and heat in a three-alarm fire which broke out early today in an old four-storey building on downtown Wellington street.

The blaze broke out shortly after midnight. Soon after dawn the fire was believed under control.

Two firemen, seriously affected, were taken back to their firehall in semi-conscious condition and treated by the fire department doctor. At least eight others were treated on the scene by fire department inhalators.

27th Brigade To Get 10,000th Recruit

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP).—Canada's 27th Brigade, ticketed for Atlantic Pact service in Europe, is expected to get its 10,000th recruit today or tomorrow.

Army headquarters reported the Brigade's manpower just 118 short of that mark late yesterday.

A total of 10,000 has been set as a preliminary target, but headquarters stressed that the Brigade's need for men will go on and that recruiting for it and other army formations will continue as fast as possible.

Meanwhile, it isn't certain when the 27th will sail for Europe although speculation favors the late fall.

Late Harvest, Poor Quality Causes Wheat Shipping Jam

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, July 27 (CP).—Top government officials blame the late harvest and the poor quality of the 1950-51 wheat crop for many of the transportation problems that have arisen in getting the grain to market this year.

Shipping and railway companies are co-operating to move the grain as quickly as possible. The officials, although they had no comparative figures available, said they know that the transportation companies are carrying much more grain than they did last year.

Bottlenecks

However, there are still bottlenecks, some of them due to the quality of wheat available at ocean or lake ports.

But, said one official, indications are that sufficient grain will be moved before this year's crop is harvested to eliminate the possibility of any serious storage problem. With harvesting likely to be delayed until late August, or September, he said, the transportation companies have more than a month in which to move grain out of spots where the storage facilities are strained.

Wheat represents the main problem, because it is one of Canada's largest export commodities. Other coarse grains mainly are used on the domestic market.

At July 19—the last date for which figures were available — Canada's visible supplies of wheat totalled 169,000,000 bushels. An official said that figure represents about what is left in this country out of last year's crop of 470,000,000 bushels. At the corresponding date of 1950, the visible supplies amounted to 96,700,000 out of a crop of 335,000,000 bushels.

The visible supplies did not include wheat stored on farms.

Exaggerated

Deliveries from farms have been in excess of last year. Shipments to the Lakehead and to overseas points are also higher. One official termed as "greatly exaggerated" reports that large quantities of last year's crop are still lying in the fields of Saskatchewan.

He said the storage situation might be tight in some western elevators, but that was not true of all Western Canada..

Another official said the transportation and storage problems could be traced to what happened last year. He gave this review of the situation:

The crop was severely damaged by an early frost which reduced its quality. Then bad weather made it impossible to thresh much of the crop before the shipping season closed on the Great Lakes.

As a result, the transportation companies were faced with the problem of moving most of the crop this spring.

Additional complicaitons arose. When moved, the grain was so damp that much of it had to be put through a special drying process. Largely as a result of expanded defence programs, many lake carriers turned to the carrying of iron ore and coal rather than grain.

Committee

An inter-departmental committee was established here last February to deal with the problem. The chairman is J. C. Lessard, deputy minister of transport and chairman of the Canadian Maritime Commission.

The committee has worked closely with the Canadian Wheat Board, the government's wheat-marketing agency. The board steadily issues instructions to the railways o have so many box cars available at a certain date and at a certain locality for the movement of grain.

So far the railways have done more than was asked of them in Western Canada. The Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways have about 40,000 cars in the grin trade in the Prairie Provinces.

The committee arranged to have as many ships as possible diverted from other business to carry grain. But the steel and coal industries could not be shut down to permit the use of all ships for wheat.

It would be possible to ship all the way by rail from the Lakehead to Eastern ports, but such a move at this time would add to existing complications. The problem would be to get the railway cars back to Western Canada within the next few weeks to handle the new crop.

Removes Rent

3. Tenants in possession may not be evicted except in accordance with the regulations.

4. Landlord and tenant in possession may enter into an agreement of lease for a term of not less than two years (although such lease may contain a provision for termination by the tenant) for any rent or any other condition agreed upon. Such leases are exempt from maximum rentals regulations.

5. Where a tenant is in possession without a lease for a fixed term, the landlord, if he became the owner of the premises prior to June 15, 1951, may give a six months notice to vacate. If he wants the premises for his own use or that of his son, daughter, mother, father, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, mother-in-law, or father-in-law, or any one or more of them, the notice must be filed with the administrator.

6. The fixed maximum rental may be increased by the rentals appraiser on the grounds of increases of taxes and water rates, structural alteration or other improvements, and a general increase may be allowed in any area affected by an increase of taxes. An increase may also be allowed on other grounds already provided in the regulations. An increase may be allowed where the tenant is subletting more than three rooms under two or more separate subleases. In this case the increase may be not more than 10 per cent above the fixed maximum.

7. Other provisions of the regulations as to maximum rentals, right to possession, rental appeals, lodgings, etc., are maintained.

8. The freeze order of April, 1951, is removed as of August 1, 1951.

9. New construction since Jan. 1, 1947, remains exempt in the meantime, pending further recommendations of the committee.

Hull Strike Maroons Ottawa Workers

HULL, Que., July 27. (CP)—Taxi cabs did a rush business and commuters to Ottawa jammed street cars today as 75 drivers of Hull city transport buses went on strike. The drivers, struck in support of the claim of their union, the National Catholic Syndicate, for a wage increase, time an a half for overtime, and a union shop.

The 52 buses which ordinarily carry 15,000 passengers a day were standing idle in their garages. Knots of striking drivers—some in uniform, some not—stood around talking. Police were on duty but there was no disorder.

The drivers will attend a union meeting later today.

A large part of Hull's 43,000 population works for the government and most of them travel to work by bus. The bus company handles an estimated 15,000 passengers daily.

The Ottawa Transportation Company has one street-car line into Hull but it terminates in the centre of Hull, a sprawling city.

Find Drivers

One company official indicated some buses may be in operation.

"We will find drivers somewhere, because the people of Hull must be served," he said.

As each driver finished his last trip early today General Manager Louis Bisson was on hand to relieve the driver of his day's receipts. More than 700 people were on hand also.

"Pay the salary," they roared as each driver turned over his receipts to Mr. Bisson.

The bus line's drivers are represented by the National Catholic Syndicate.

The union called the strike to enforce demands for an hourly wage increase of 35 cents, to bring drivers' average wages to $1 an hour.

Also asked are time and a half for overtime; retroactive pay increases to Feb. 15 and a union shop.

A conciliation board recommended a wage increase of 10 to 15 cents an hour. This was accepted by 33 garage workers, non-union men, but union officials ruled the action "unwarranted and surreptious" and rejected the conciliation board recommendation.

Stock Market Trading Slow

TORONTO, July 27 — (CP).— Prices turned mixed as the session progressed today on the Stock Market.

Following yesterday's irregular trading, prices opened a little higher, firmed, then weakened slightly in slow trading. Volume for the first three hours of 845,000 shares was about 149,000 fewer than the same period yesterday.

Industrial changes ranged from fractions to a point.

Base metals eased. Among those lower were Ankeno, Consolidated Smelters, Bellekeno, East Sullivan, International Nickel, Labrador, Mackeno and Yukeno. Chromium, Noranda and United Asbestos were ahead.

Western oil issues were about evenly mixed.

Golds were a little weaker. Senior producers were down fractions and junior producers showed a majority of losses.

Canada, US Pep Up Mobilization

By HAROLD MORRISON.

WASHINGTON, July 27 (CP). —Canada and the United States Thursday opened another chapter in economic co-operation by agreeing to strengthen and expand faltering joint mobilization machinery.

In a speedy, one-day session, top officials agreed to change and increase the membership of the three-year-old Canada - United States Industrial Mobilization Committee, which has been relatively dormant for almost a year.

They also agreed to create new sub-committees to deal with on-the-spot problems in the prices and production of defence materials which both countries produce and to exchange economic experts to work in each other's mobilization office.

C. D. Howe, Canada's Production Minister, announcing the changes, said they will provide the basis for greater stabilization in prices of essential materials, and possibly an expansion of defence orders in the two countries.

The United States has been particularly concerned over the rise in the price of metals. He said one sub-committee to be created will deal specifically with metal prices and production.

Howe Attends

The decisions were reached at a meeting attended by Howe; his deputy, Max Mackenzie, and three advisers.

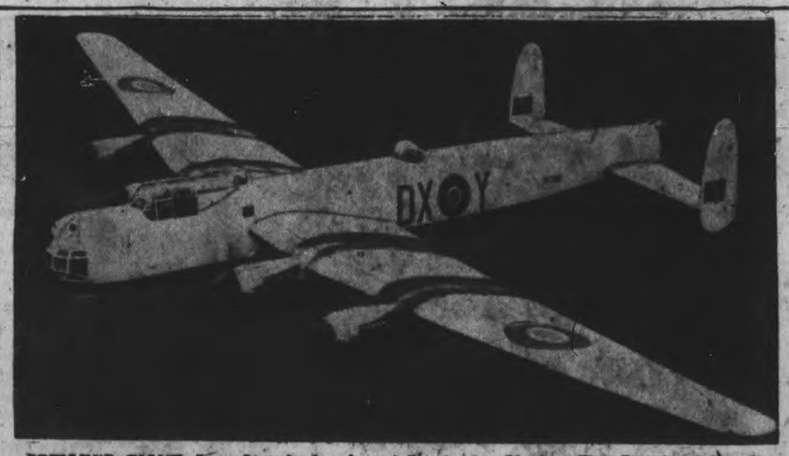
Charles E. Wilson, U.S. defense mobilizer, who headed the meeting, was accompanied by his assistant, Dr. W. Y. Elliott; Eric Johnston, U.S. economic stabilizer, and Manly Fleischmann, recently appointed U.S. defense production administrator.

They agreed to reconstitute the Industrial Mobilization Committee, increasing its membership to six from four. Howe and Wilson will continue as main members. Sydney D. Pierce, Canada's top defense production representative here, will replace Harry Carmichael of St. Catharines, one of the original planners of the committee. Crawford Gordon, Jr., Canada's defense production co-ordinator, will become a new member.

On the American side, Johnston will replace Stuart Symington, who was switched over from U.S. defense production to chairmanship of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Fleischmann will become a new member.

Real Progress

Appointments of new subcommittees and their membership will be announced later.



Howe and Dr. Elliott told reporters later they were satisfied that real progress had been made in achieving a closer economic link between Canada and the United States. Both indicated that the two countries are aiming to accelerate the pace of their rearmament drive.

It was learned that Canada and the United States are negotiating to place more orders for aircrft in Candda and United States likely will increase orders for Canadian aluminum, copper, zinc and other metals which go into defense production.

Most of these metals have recently climbed in price, some jacked up by Canada and some by other countries. Now, it appears, the way has been cleared for adequate consultation between Canada and the United States before price changes are approved in Canada.

Exports Fail To Balance Canada Imports

OTTAWA, July 27—(CP)—Canada still wasn't balancing her foreign trade books again in June.

A preliminary summary of foreign trade figures released tonight by the Bureau of Statistics showed total June exports of $312,500,000 against total June imports of $361,400,000.

This compared with exports worth $289,200,00 and imports of $282,500,000 in June last year.

Canadian exports to the United States rose to $188,400,000 from $177,700,000 in June 1950 but imports from that country jumped to $243,800,000 compared with $188,300,000.

United Kingdom imports of Canadian products dropped to $51,300,000 compared with $52,500,000. At the same time Britain boosted her exports to Canada to $39,900,000 from $37,100,000 in June last year.

Figures showed exports to other Commonwealth countries dropped to $14,900,000 from $19,800,000 in June, 1950, while imports from those countries rose to $30,400,000 from $23,500,000.

Exports to other foreign countries in June totalled $57,900,000 against $39,200,000 and imports from those countries $47,300,000 compared with $33,600,000.

UK Envoy Talks With Harriman

TEHRAN, Iran, July 27—(Reuters)—Sir Francis Shepherd, British ambassador, conferred today with Averell Harriman, special American envoy, on the oil dispute.

Informed British circles here believed that after the meeting the British embassy would dispatch information requested by the British government after receipt of Iran's latest proposals for reopening negotiations.

Britain is understood to have requested clarification of the new proposals made after 10 days' discussion with Harriman.

Shepherd and Harriman were thought to be discusing Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison's brief statement to the House of Commons Wednesday; the British ambassador's conversations yesterday with the Shah; and the meeting Wednesday with Senator Matine Daftary, one of the leading members of the Oil Commission and son-in-law of Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh.

Money Lacking For Recreation

COBOURG, July 27 (ENS) — Insufficient funds have been made available for the recreational commission, formed by by-law in 1949 to carry on a very comprehensive program. There is no lifeguard at the beach this year because there are not enough funds to finance the lifesaving service and unless a service club provides a lifeguard, parents will have to take a chance on their children bathing in safety.

The report of the auditors of the recreational commission funds as of Dec. 31, 1950, is as follows:

Cash in bank as of Jan. 1, 1950, $39.56. Receipts— town of Cobourg grant $1,500; Province of Ontario (rebate) $769.71; Miss Madeline Rooney, $150.00. The $150 item of Miss Roney is her salary as secretary, which she returned to the commission in the form of a donation. Legion, $100; Kinettes, $100; Legion basketball club, $78.43; intermediate hockey club, $10.75; Cobourg Figure Skating Club, $609. Total $1,357.45.

Disbursements — Recreational director's salary, $1,916.60; assistants, $500; administration expenses, $316.41; operating and maintenance, $178.11; rental of rink, $384; total, $3,295.21. Cash in bank Dec. 31, 1950, $62.24.

There was not enough money last year to pay the full salary of the recreational director and the balance owing to him presumably is to come from this year's funds. It is understood that he will work this year on a part-time basis.

More Dentists Needed —UWO President

TORONTO, July 27, — Despite Canada's Expanding population, the number of dentists graduating after 1952 will hardly replace those retiring, according to Dr. G. Edward Hall, president of the University of Western Ontario.

In the current issue of Health, organ of the Health League of Canada, he decries not only the shortage of dentists but also the lack of dental schools and the poor attitude toward dental care and dental education.

As an indication of the shortage, he points to the health-conscious country of Sweden, where, with a population of only 6,500,000, plans call for graduation of 270 dentists a year. Canada, on the other hand, has a population of 14,000,000 and can count on only 205 graduates next year and a maximum of 175 two years hence.

Most In Cities

"Add to this the fact that some 90 per cent of the practising dentists in Canada are to be found in urban centres, and it is clear that far greater numbers of dentists are required," he says. His estimate of the current need is 12,000.

Turning to dental schools and education, he says that despite a population increase of 3,000,000 since 1938, Canada has still only five dental colleges.

"An increase in the number of dental schools is imperative," he says. "And we must remember that even if one or more new faculties of dentistry were to be created this year, it would be at least six, if not seven years before these new schools would be able to graduate their first classes.

Wait Seven Years

"Seven years to wait, while our population continues to increase, while the people continue to demand more dental service, while the well-conceived plans for the improvement of the public's health continue to be frustrated through lack of personnel."

As to dental education, he says it should be regarded as oral medicine, and, unlike current trends, prevention should receive a far greater emphasis than the mere perfection of substitutes for diseased or damaged teeth.

Such a philosophy, he declares, would eliminate much student time now given over to training in procedures which almost every dental graduate delegates to a commercial laboratory or to a mechanic in his own lab.

46 Safe As Plane Skids To Land On Tail

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP). — A DC-4 airliner carrying 46 persons made a safe tail-down landing at Idlewild Airport last night after skidding 2,000 feet in a shower of sparks and flames.

As the big Northwest airliner came in from Detroit, the pilot, Capt. Arthur Antilla, radioed that the panel indicator showed he might have trouble with his nose gear.

The 43 passengers and two crew members huddled to the rear of the plane, taking baggage with them, to add weight on the tail.

Despite the sparks and flames, no fire broke out on the plane and there were no injuries.

After the plane was examined, it was determined that the nose gear was functioning normally.

St. Lawrence Seaway Nearer But City Cut Off

It took thirty years to overcome Canadian objection to the building of the St. Lawrence seaway. It is taking as long or longer to over-ride American objection. The seaway will allow ocean-going vessels to come up to Cobourg, Port Hope and Toronto and on through the rest of the Great Lakes to the tip of Lake Superior, and at the same time will provide vast new sources of hydro-electric power. The only reason it is held up is that American special interests are blocking the development.

• • •

Montreal used to be the leader of the opposition. Now it is New York city. New York fears loss in its port business —to Chicago, Duluth and other Great Lakes ports. All other present seaports on the east coast, American and Canadian alike, have such fears, but most of the Canadian ports have overcome their qualms. The railway companies, too, look on the project with suspicious eyes. The Montreal Star recalls that exactly the same sort of objections from the same kind of sources were made to the building of the Panama Canal. It points out that the Panama increased port and rail business rather than diminish it. The special lobbies in the American Congress have not learnt this lesson, it seems. However, the beginning of the development is nearer than it has ever been before; the opposition is being battered down by other Americans who see the uses and necessities of the seaway system more clearly and widely than New Yorkers. (Up-state New York is of course in favour of the seaway, since its St. Lawrence-Lake Ontario ports could be developed thereby.

• • •

An indication that the Seaway may be near is that American concerns are buying Canadian farm lands along the St. Lawrence, from Cornwall to Cobourg. There has been a large boom in values and sales of these lands, according to reports that reach our ear. The reason that American firms want the land is that it will provide splendid factory sites. New power resources, port facilities and railway lines will all be at hand. A great new industrial area will spring up along the St. Lawrence-Lake Ontario shore when the seaway is put through. It may become the greatest industrial area in the whole of Canada.

• • •

How wry it is at this time, when there is some certainty that the seaway will be developed very soon and great new industry and commerce unfold on the lakeshore, that Peterborough's direct rail connection with it has been severed. Port Hope is the port of Peterborough. Yet, a few months ago, over the objections of all responsible bodies, the chief industries, and the elected officials of the counties concerned, the Board of Transport allowed the C.N.R. to take up the rail lines which connected Peterborough and Port Hope. The Examiner, month in, month out, always stoutly opposed the abandonment of the line, and one of its chief reasons was that the St. Lawrence development would make the rail connection a thousand times more important than it had ever been. But the line has been removed. The blindest people are not always those on the spot.

Good Crop Of Poison Ivy

This summer's weather has been exceptionally favourable to the growth of poison ivy. The current crop is the most luxuriant we have ever seen. People's skins are being poisoned with it by the itchy acre. Hardy men and even fishermen in these parts who have heretofore escaped contamination are this year falling victim to it. Not only is there more poison ivy, thicker, bigger and more widespread than usual, but also its poison seems to be stronger.

Poison ivy as we in Ontario know it is native to the eastern half of the United States and Canada. It belongs to the genus sumach and is technically called rhus toxicodendron. The toxic plant must by no means be confused with the harmless Virginia Creeper which also scrambles over small fences, low walls and shrubs, flourishes in open woodland, and also turns red in the fall. The Virginia Creeper has larger leaves composed of five leaflets; the poison ivy has three ovate, pointed, usually smooth leaflets with no or few teeth.

Poison ivy (the plant) is hard to control. Any chemical which will kill it will also kill surrounding plant life. That is evident in the weed-spraying which the Department of Highways does along the verges of our roads; the ivy is killed and so is everything else in line with the spray—lower branches of conifers, for instance. Ammonium sulfimate and 2-4 D are useful in killing patches of the ivy. The surest way to eradicate it without harming other plant life is to dig it out by the root.

As a preventative following exposure, washing hands, arms and face thoroughly and immediately with strong laundry soap is considered useful. Bathing with a solution of acetate of lead is said to be effective, if done within one or two hours. Scratching is not a remedy; it is, in fact, harmful. Poison ivy can be decidedly dangerous in large external doses; taken internally it can be lethal.

Poking Our Nose Into Kingston

It's rather fun to poke one's editorial nose into the affairs of another town. When we deal with our own city matters and council, we feel we have to be careful, cautious and kind. But we can let discretion fly out the window in saying things about another place. We do not have to live with its mayor, coddle its councillors, or pay its taxes. Kingston, for instance, is sufficiently remote. We have taken a peep at Kingston's municipal state, as revealed in the local page of the Kingston Whig-Standard last Tuesday.

Kingston Board of Works is making preparations for annexation, says one headline. What are they annexing? They are gobbling up Portsmouth and other outlying points—but not the penitentiary, it seems. The grab will be completed next January 1st. Why is Kingston doing this? Obviously to make the town bigger than Peterborough. Unsporting, we call it.

In preparation for this big event the works commissioner urged the Board of work commissioner urged the Board of plows, one V-plow, two heavy trucks, three sanders, one tractor-loader for sand, salt, etc., and one snow blower. Kingston is annexing next January all prepared for a big blow.

Another item from the newspaper: the owner of a boat line asked Council for permission to put up a sign at the foot of Princess Street, the city's main drag. Next thing the council knew the sign was up; the man had not waited for permission to be given. Kingston Council faced this fait accompli with red faces but mildly agreed to let the sign stay until mid-September. Now, if we had been on the Kingston Council we would have told that brash gentleman what to do with his sign—maybe we would.

A Belleville lawyer spoke to a Kingston service club that day and rattled the sabre. It's a disgrace to Canada, he said, that seven months after the Korean war began all that Canada's newspapers had to boast of was the activities of a single platoon behind the lines. He said all parties in Parliament should be accused of lack of courage. "It's a hell of a way to run a democracy," the Belleville lawyer (formerly an R.C.A.F. officer) told Kingstonians. That sort of wild warlike talk may please military-minded Kingston, but we would like to have been at the meeting to give the speaker an ear-full. All-out conscription? Bah!

Kingston is having a "Diesel Day" on August 1st to celebrate something to do with the production of diesel locomotives by the Kingston Canadian Locomotive Company. Big-wigs are going to speak, there will be parades, and the company is ready to put up three banners across Princess Street. Will everything be well steamed-up that day in Kingston? No, our metaphor is wrong; it's diesel, not steam engines. Well-oiled is more apt.

Another headline on the Whig-Standard's local page that day told that a start was about to be made on the "Purification Plant", maybe. What's this, what's this? Who stands in need of purification in Kingston? (We forebear to rise to that question.) The "Purification Plant" is what is known in already clean-water towns like Peterborough as the Sewage Disposal Plant.

The reason Kingston does not call the thing bluntly by its proper name is that Kingstonians have for generations refused to admit that they have any sewage. From the beginning of its time, Kingston has poured all its offal into Lake Ontario. Oh, dirty, dirty Kingston! Pollution compounded! Mind you, our understanding of the situation is that Kingston has not voluntarily admitted its polluting influence, but has been forced into it. The Province has flatly told Kingston to clean up and stop mucking the waters of Lake Ontario. Only now, in this year of grace 1951, is this city of 35,000 (more or less) thinking of taking the first practical steps to build a sewage disposal plant. (The cost will be $800,000.) Shame on you, Kingston. Peterborough has had one for thirty years.

We have spent enough time on the local news page of the Kingston daily. Now we must turn discreetly to our own local news, to see if there is anything further we can say of a flattering, kindly, constructive nature about Peterborough affairs.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Some bootleg liquor which was being held as evidence ate through the tin container and spoiled the sheriff's office. This is what the law calls corrosive evidence.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: Who was Mata Hari? I have heard her spoken of as a beautiful spy but know nothing else about her. I am intrigued.

ANSWER: So were many other people, some great and famous, who were lured into her love nests to betray secrets. Mata Hari was a beautiful and lascivious dancer, who, at her death before a firing squad in 1917, was called the "most notorious woman in the world".

Mata Hari was an Eurasian (partly Oriental) Dutch girl, born Gertrud Margarete Zelle in 1876. She was married at 18 to a Dutch officer named, of all things, McLeod. Captain McLeod was posted to Java. She went, too, and learned to dance naked on the purple granite altar of the Kanda Swany. When she returned to Europe she became a courtesan (high-society prostitute) and a stage dancer. A spectator who had seen Mata Hari dance described her in these words: "You can scarcely believe the mystic frenzy produced by her lascivious attitudes. Her nervous tremors, her violent contortions, were terribly impressive. There was something in the performance of the solemnity of an idol, something of the loathsome horror of a writhing reptile. From her great sombre eyes, half-closed in sensuous esctasy, there gleamed an uncanny light, like phosphorescent flames. She seemed to embrace an invisible being in her long shapely arms. To witness this spectacle was to receive the impression that one had actually been present at the metamorphosis of a serpent taking a woman's form".

She had great seductive power over men. In her private house in a fashionable suburb of Paris (Neuilly) she received judges, artists, diplomats and generals. She is said to have had among her lovers the German Crown Prince (who died this week), the Prime Minister of Holland (Van der Linden), the French Minister of War. Until premature age and drink and dissipation coarsened her, she was a creature of rare beauty.

She was a gifted liar, and cunning. At the outbreak of the Great War, Mata Hari (then 38) became attached to the German spy service. She would get French lovers, some of them officers in high places, drunk, and thus extract information from them. The "Red Dancer" was caught and condemned to death.

In court she made a great impression "standing as straight as a ramrod, and sweeping her judges with flashing glances from her pale forget-me-not eyes", one impressed courtroom attendant has reported. She boasted of her conquest among officers. Several senior French officers testified on her behalf, saying that they had discussed harmless subjects in the privacy of her boudoir, but never military secrets.

Her elderly lawyer pleaded on his knees for her before the President of France, Poincare. The President said: "Old friend, I cannot. For France's sake, I cannot". The venerable lawyer (maitre Clunet, aged 75) then tried to save Mata Hari's life by proclaiming that she was with child by him and that the law did not permit the execution of a pregnant woman. Mata Hari herself laughed at this.

She was shot at sunrise by a squad of twelve Zouaves on October 18, 1917. She walked straight and steady to the little hillock which was her execution mound behind the Vincennes Barracks, and refused to be either bound or blindfolded. She died with her eyes on the executioners.

After her death a legend circulated that Mata Hari faced the firing squad while she was clad only in a fur coat, which she opened at the last moment to reveal her naked body to the executioners. This is not true.

Nobody claimed the body of the beautiful dancer. It was put into a plain wooden coffin, lifted on a truck, and driven away with two gendarmes sitting on the coffin and smoking their pipes. The corpse was taken to a Paris hospital and there dissected.

ALPHA: Is all Ontario on Daylight Saving Time?

ANSWER: No. D.S.T. is a local option, voted on by the community or put into effect by the local Councils. Most Ontario cities and towns have D.S.T., but generally in the country Standard Time reigns. Ontario's fourth biggest city, Windsor, and all the surrounding county of Essex are on Standard Time.

This came as a result of voting last December. Detroit and the state of Michigan are on Standard Time. Windsor merchants, beer-parlour owners, dance-hall managers and the like put on a strong campaign to have Standard Time. Odd, isn't it; in other Ontario cities they are among the people keenest to have D.S.T. The reason for the Windsor oddity is this: the merchants etc. get a lot of business out of Detroiters. If Detroiters come over to Windsor at their five o'clock and find Windsor at six o'clock D.S.T. and the shops closed, the merchants lose business. Similarly, hotels must close their cocktail bars at midnight. If it is midnight D.S.T. it is only 11 p.m. to Detroiters, and the Windsor bars lose money. The vote in favour of keeping Standard Time all summer passed by a very small majority.

Since Windsor is 300 miles west of Peterborough, daylight stays later than it does in Peterborough anyway, so Windsorites do not suffer too much loss of evening sun by missing D.S.T.

BODY SNATCHER: Fifty years ago, in February 1901, a Queen's medical student named William Patterson was accused of lifting a body out of a grave in the Roman Catholic cemetery. The whole town was much stirred by this outrage, and Patterson was brought to court. His trial took place before Judge Weller in April and the student was fined $200 and costs and told not to do such a thing again. Body-snatching was, and still is, a grave offence. Penalties up to five years' imprisonment may be imposed. There used to be quite a bit of it, because corpses for dissection were hard to get and expensive, beyond the means of most medical students. Bodies are still expensive and the medical schools never have an over-abundance of them: criminals (e.g. Mata Hari), people who bequeath or sell their own corpses, and imports are the chief sources.

In early days, body-snatching was punishable by death. That was at a time when the death sentence was imposed for hundreds of offences. For instance, the first hanging carried out in Canada under the British regime was performed at Kingston in 1788, when a citizen was hanged for stealing a watch. The sentence of death was imposed in French Canada by legislation of 1722 because two unmarried women tried to conceal their pregnancy.

SIR: Is it legal to make a U-turn on downtown Peterborough streets?

ANSWER: All the corners are fortified with signs saying "No U Turn", but these are at the corners. The authorities presume that nobody will be senseless enough to make a U-turn in the middle of the street, but drivers of small English cars can easily do it—and do. I fancy that if one of them were taken to court and put up a fight he would be successful in avoiding a penalty. In down-town Detroit, U-turns are forbidden at the corners, but allowed between blocks, and everybody does it. I believe that there was an instance in a western Ontario town where an American made a U-turn in the middle of a street, was tagged by the police, argued it out in court, and won.

OLD HOUSES: I am still reluctant to take the plunge again into the question of which is the oldest brick house in Peterborough. Maybe next week—armed with more information—I shall be more courageous. An old plaster and stone house disappeared last week: it was number 383 Aylmer Street, next door north to Silverwoods Dairy, to whom it belonged. It was razed to make more space for the dairy's operations. In the dismantling process, interesting methods of building were revealed in the joists and supports when the plaster walls were removed. It was a very old house. An 1846 plan of the town done by Sir Sanford Fleming, which I have before me, shows a house on the site and it is, I believe, the same one that was torn down last week. Of the history of the house I know almost nothing, except that it was one of the first hotels in what was then the village of Peterborough.

✧ ✧ ✧

FOR THE RECORD: The new city hall is nearing completion. The clock tower is in position, office equipment has been ordered, a flag pole encased in a cement base has been erected at the south-west corner, and yesterday loads of top soil were dumped and spread along the George Street frontage. The place may even have grass by October or November, when it is expected to be officially opened. Among those invited to be present at the ceremony is the Mayor of Peterborough, England.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

For thus saith the Lord unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live....Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken. (Amos 5: 4, 14.)

✧ ✧ ✧

In God have I put my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me. Thy vows are upon me, O God; I will render praises unto thee. For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living? (Ps. 56: 11-13.)

✧ ✧ ✧

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Ps. 27: 1.)

The Lord is my strength and song, and is become my salvation....

I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord. (Ps. 118: 14, 17.)

Letters To The Editor

ACCIDENTS AND CONCENTRATED MILK

Sir: I would be glad of the privilege of 'saying my say' as to the following pair of items in your July 20 issue: First, "Winchester, Ont. —Two men escaped uninjured today when a fast Toronto-Montreal passenger train literally cut in two the big tractor-trailer in which they were driving...The driver said he saw the train coming but apparently misjudged its speed..."; and second, "Woodstock, Ont.—Gradual replacing of fluid milk with concentrated milk was predicted here Thursday. Everett Biggs, Ontario Dairy Commissioner, predicted that production of concentrated milk would increase, through its advantage of keeping fresh longer, requiring less storage space than fluid milk, and that eventually it would replace fluid milk."

In the matter of railway crossing accidents, I understand that a Canadian life is lost, in this way, every 72 hours clear across the year. I am decidedly disappointed at the failure of the electrical industry to devise a cheap, weather-proof and fool-proof flashlight warning mechanism, to be installed at every remotely dangerous railway crossing!, I read a story the other day suggesting that the Transport Board hang-up a couple of $50,000 and $25,000 prizes for such an invention. Why not? If the workable technique doesn't come out of the laboratory, or out of the inventive brain of some mechanical genius, the Transport Board won't be out any cash. I am told that they have a million-dollar fund, to deal with this railway crossing problem — but meanwhile little or nothing is done, and the slaughter, and the wounded and incapacitated toll, and the broken homes, proceed unchecked. This, in my opinion, is not good enough, and calls for a dynamic and unorthodox approach to this problem, which has taken 600 Canadian lives since V-E Day, May 8, 1945. How about it, Mr. Commissioner?

That 'concentrated milk' prediction may be just what is needed to take some of the 'ache' out of milk problem—and especially in the matter of lowering the distribution costs of this precious stuff? The industrialization of agricultural commodities is good for the farmer, to the extent that it widens market demand, and prevents a temporary surplus from ruining his price-level.

ECHOES "HASTY HEART" APPROVAL

Sir: Your enthusiasm for the Summer Theatre's performance of "The Hasty Heart" will be warmly echoed by all who have seen it. The play as presented in the Queen Mary Auditorium constitutes one of the most completely satisfying theatrical experiences it has been my good fortune to enjoy. Coming as it does close on "The Browning Version" and being followed by "The Little Foxes" one is left amazed that a new play can be presented each week to such a high standard. Peterborough may well be proud to house this talented and hard-working theatre.

It might be well at this time, however, to remember that many difficulties have been experienced by the theatre in finding accommodation that was both suitable and financially possible and in trying to meet the many new conditions that have been imposed.

Let those who are finding pleasure in the Summer Theatre remember that this great asset to the city's cultural life was nearly lost, and by their support in the theatre and outside ensure that Mr. Sadlier and the Summer Theatre Company become a permanent part of our city's life.

Yours truly,
PETER McCOMBE.

Paradise Like Island Home —Mrs. Errol Flynn

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, July 27 (AP)—"Try to imagine what paradise is like. That will give you an idea of Navy Island."

Patricia Wymore was describing the tiny isle off Jamaica where she and Errol Flynn, the screen's perpetual Don Juan, make their vacation home.

It has been five months since the blonde actress and Flynn wound up their honeymoon with an eight-week stay on the pleasure spot in the Caribbean. Now she says she "Can't wait to return."

"I couldn't understand Errol's enthusiasm for the place," she said. "But when we arrived I guess I liked it better than he."

She said Navy Island, which Errol bought after the war, is 80 acres. There are groves of coconut and banana palms, and sheep now graze on meadows that were swamps before Flynn had them drained.

Life At Sea?

Miss Wymore said they lived, not ashore, but on Errol's palatial yacht Zaca.

How did they spend their time?

"We did nothing, really," she said, "But we were occupied every minute. We usually packed a lunch and went to our private beach on the far side of the island."

"We fished and swam and sailed a small boat. Several times we rode a bamboo raft down the rapids of a river on Jamaica."

"Mornings we rode horseback around the island. On Sunday afternoons we would go to Port Antonio on Jamaica and rent a horse and buggy."

Errol, she said, "Takes such an interest in doing things. I think it's wonderful. He's starting a game farm—pheasants, quail and partridge — so we can have shoots."

He also devotes a good bit of time supervising improvements on a 3,200 acre plantation he bought on the nearby Jamaica coast. He is trying to develop a breed of cattle suitable for the tropics.

Thunderbirds End Year On Korea Airlift

DORVAL, PQ July 27—The RCAF's 426 Thunderbird Transport Squadron, noting a full year on the Korea airlift, today paused to add a few figures to the record book.

Since the big four-engined North Stars of 426 took off from McChord Air Force Base, near Tacoma, Washington, on their first airlift flights July 27, 1950, the squadron has rolled up 2,759,000 miles of flying. Nearly 250 trips have been made, carrying more than 6,600 personnel and almost 2,700,000 pounds of freight and mail.

Flying in all kinds of weather between the West Coast and Japan, over strange routes, the Thunderbirds have carried out their difficult task with airline precision. Their year of operations has been unmarred by a single flying casualty or serious flying accident.

Under Wing Commander C. H. Mussells, DSO, DFC, a 30-year-old wartime bomber pilot from Montreal, the squadron left its Dorval base just before dusk on July 25, 1950, and put down the next morning at McChord. Orders for the move had been received only a few days previously but the squadron was ready, and made the shift as a complete unit, flying out its ground crew and necessary servicing equipment.

Began Airlift Work

Following briefings at McChord, three of the squadron's North Stars left the US base the following day for Haneda airport, between Tokyo and Yokohama, and the Thunderbirds had begun their part in the Korea airlift.

First flights were made over the northern route, via Elmendorf Field in Alaska and bleak, fog-shrouded Shemya in the Aleutians. One-way distance of this initial route flown by the Thunderbirds was just under 10,000 miles.

Since then, according to circumstances and weather conditions, the Thunderbirds have used varied routes. Adak, also in the Aleutians, has been used as a stopping point over the northern route, and the 426 North Stars have flown the mid-Pacific route, via San Francisco and Hawaii, with stops at one of several tiny island points between Hawaii and Japan, including Johnston, Wake and Iwo Jima. As 426 completes a year's airlift operations, it is flying the northern route on both west and east crossings.

Took Own Staff

When the Thunderbirds moved to McChord they took with them their own administrative staff and groundcrew, and handled all maintenance and servicing jobs on their aircraft. Because of differences between the North Stars and comparable aircraft operated by the Americans, servicing detachments of Thunderbird ground crew were established at points along the way, to re-fuel and service the aircraft as they landed on their way to or from Japan. These detachments are presently located at McChord, Shemya and Haneda, and have been stationed also at Adak and Hawaii. There's little duobt which spot was the most popular, but a six-week rotational shift of crews mixed the good with the bad and gave as many technicians as possible valuable operational experience on detachment work.

The Thunderbirds soon showed they meant business after starting on the airlift a year ago. Beginning the lift with 6 aircraft, they were shortly afterwards given two more, and their total increased to 12. During the critical days of the Korean war, when the overseas supply problem was acute, 426 was flying a one-a-day shuttle run out of McChord. A slip-crew system was adopted to allow the utmost to be gained out of every aircraft. On the basis that perfectly maintained and serviced, the aircraft could stand more than could their crews. The North Stars put down at Shemya or Adak where fresh crews took over as soon as re-fuelling was complete. The newly arrived crews had a quick meal and rolled into bed, to be ready to fly the next North Star on to Japan. This system, possible only through exceptional work by ground crew personnel, and the splendid performance of the North Stars and their Rolls-Royce Merlin power plants, allowed 426 to roll up an impressive total of flying time.

Taking off from McChord, the North Stars put down at Haneda airport in Japan about 25 hours later, landing their loads of troops and badly-needed supplies. On the return trip the 426 North Stars have carried back large number of wounded, in addition to personnel returning on leave and duty, and mail and equipment.

C/O Takes Over

On June 1, 1951, a new commanding officer took over. Wing Commander Mussels, under whose guidance the Thunderbirds had flown the lift for more than 10 months, relinquished command to Wing Commander J. K. Macdonald, 34, of Antigonish, NS, a wartime Coastal Command and bomber pilot. Approximately two weeks later the squadron left its McChord base and returned to Dorval, outside Montreal. One reason for the shift back to Dorval was the growing need for more operating space at McChord by United States units. Services of the four-engine North Stars are also required on domestic transport runs and support flights to the United Kingdom, with the buildup of RCAF fighter squadron strength there. Basing of the squadron once again at Dorval allows the Thunderbirds to carry out these commitments together with their Korea airlift runs from a central location. Most of the groundcrew have returned to Dorval, leaving only the detachments at McChord, Shemya and Tokyo. The pace has been eased since the critical days in Korea and 426 now is flying 15 trips a month.

Working in support of the United Nations effort in Korea, the Thunderbirds came under operational control of the United States Military Air Transport Service when they commenced the airlift. This operational control still applies to the continuing Korea airlift operations being done by the squadron, although Dorval now is their base of operations.

Valuable Training

From many viewpoints the Thunderbirds have gained a lot by their airlift experience. Valuable training has been received by both air and ground crew and the close association with American airmen and procedures would prove valuable in event of war, which might well see the squadron operating with USAF units. Although most of their associations were with American airmen, squadron members also got to know other Commonwealth personnel. At Tokyo maintenance crews are quartered and take their meals at Ebisu, an Australian camp of the British Commonwealth Occupation Forces.

The airlift has demanded much from the machines and men of 426 Squadron. Flying conditions are varied, ranging from radar let-downs at fog-cloaked Shemya to take-offs from Hickam Field at Honolulu, in the midst of waving palm trees. All aircrew have been called on to display the same operational efficiency which was required when Canadian bombers roared over Germany each night, when a slight lapse meant disaster. Ground crew—who have earned the admiration of all squadron flyers—have had to work in the open, exposed to the chill winter rains of McChord Field and to the marrow-biting cold of Shemya and Adak.

The airlift has not been a tourist run for 426, but most personnel who have made the run have found time to take a ride in a rickshaw and have returned with a few souvenirs picked up in Japan.

With a year of airlift operations behind them, the Thunderbirds can look back on a proud record, being added to each day. They have shown that the RCAF has lost none of the operational keenness and efficeincy for which it was so widely noted during the Second World War. They have been helping Canada play a part in the United Nations struggle in Korea, and in so doing they have been adding to RCAF history.

Publisher Sees British Comeback

LONDON—(CP)—John Bassett, president of the Montreal Gazette, says there is too much nonsense talked about England being decadent.

Mr. Bassett, holidaying in London, said in a press interview:

"For myself, I believe that the greatest protection against loose thinking is a study of history. And anybody who knows his history knows that England has always been down and out to those of her enemies who wished to think so.

"She is entering on another era, a phase of her development which may take another turn, but England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, they will never be counted out."

The Montreal published is also Chancellor of University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que. Before coming to London, he visited Northern Ireland and was given a formal welcome by the local council in his native Omagh, County Tyrone.

OTTAWA, July 27 — (CP) — Eleven-year-old Gerard Schingh was drowned Thursday when he slipped off a raft in the Ottawa river while trying to drag a younger brother to safety. Robert Schingh, 7, fell into the river while attempting to push a log off the raft.

TOKYO, July 27—(Reuters)—About 50 Japanese stormed a Tokyo police station early today and beat up several policemen in protest against the arrest of two men who had distributed anti-war leaflets. Reinforcements finally broke up the demonstrators and arrested three persons.

Scientist Seeks Sunflower To Grow In Chile

WINNIPEG—(CP)—Mario Astorga of Santiago, Chile, research director for the Chilean Department of Agriculture, is beginning a three-month stay at Altoma, Man., in the hope of finding a hybrid variety of sunflower seed that will grow successfully in all parts of Chile.

During his stay at Altona, where Canada's only sunflower oil industry is situated, he will confer with Dr. Eric Putt, chief agronomist of vegetable oils for the federal government. Between them they hope to improve the situation in Chile.

Ten years ago Chile imported all its vegetable oils. Then the government launched a $40,000,000 corporation for the promotion, including funds for research into the possibility of growing its own oil producing plants.

Self-Sufficient

The scheme was a success and now Chile imports only 15 per cent of the edible oils for its 5,709,000 population. Within two years they should be self sufficient.

Chile's main problem in the sunflower oil industry is finding a seed that will grow in its different climates. Another handicap is that picking by hand is becoming increasingly difficult as stalks grow to 10 feet in height.

Ordinary combines, with inexpensive attachments, are being used at the Southern Manitoba plant to harvest the sunflower crop. Mr. Astorga intends to investigate them with a view to buying some for experimental purposes in the South American Country.

Russia was the first country to discover that the flower's oil could be used for indistrial purposes. Canada began experiments in the '30s and since then research has developed better hybrid varieties.

The Chilean Government did not begin to investigate possibilities of home-grown sunflowe until 1943.

Takes Snap Of Monste, Drops Camera In Water

VICTORIA, B.C., July 27—(CP)—John McIntyre, a Los Angeles tourist, believes he got a picture of Victoria's famed sea serpent Caddy.

But in his excitement he dropped his camera out of the boat and now is investigating possibilities of retrieving it from Brentwood Bay. He may hire divers.

His description of Caddy—nickname for Cadborosaurus—agrees with other observers: a monster with a long, neck, camel-like head and large eyes.

"Brother what a chance I missed," he said Thursday. "The negative may be worth the price of hiring divers."

Western Grain Crop Shifts To Course

OTTAWA, July 27 — (CP) — Canada's prairie farmers are shifting their production this year from wheat and summerfallow to coarse grains and flaxseed, the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

In a preliminary estimate of areas sown to field crops, it estimated that the 1951 spring wheat acreage has dropped to 24,820,000 acres from 26,093,200 last year while summerfallow has declined to 20,312,000 from 20,998,000.

On the other hand, acreages sown to oats and barley were up. Acreage in oats placed at 12,065,400 acres compared with 11,575,100 in 1950. Barley acreage, estimated at 8,035,900 acres is up 21 per cent over last year's 6,624,800.

Cobourg Ghosts Lose 2 Gridders To Universities

COBOURG, July 27.—Cobourg's champion intermediate football team, the Galloping Ghosts, will start practice Aug. 7, according to word from coach Bob Cooper and team officials.

The Ghosts, Canadian titlists in 1950 and 1951, are singing the blues this year as they count among the missing Ernie Darragh last year's backfield star, who is at Western for summer school, and who will, it is said, make the Mustangs' varsity this year.

Darragh, a Toronto high school star with Runnymede CI, became the most likely looking senior prospect in his first year with the Ghosts last season. He is the off tackle, wide-running type.

To Queens

Also said to be leaving the team for more education is Bob Bevan, the "mighty mite" of the champions' backfield. Bevan will attend Queens this fall, according to team cources, and thus the Ghosts lost their most powerful plunger.

Other than these, the Ghosts expect to count most of last year's noses when training starts next month. Among the three-time members of the Dominion title teams are Art Brandwood and Homer Seale.

Art Jones, whose educated field-goal kicking last year made points after touch such a great difference, will also return to the gridiron for another season, according to football talk here.

Playing Coach

Rye Homan, Ken Mudhurst and of course, playing-coach Cooper, will form a nucleus of what is hoped to be another title-winning squad.

Cooper last year won the John Black Trophy for the most valuable player in ORFU.

Cobourg is in the strongest intermediate group in the province, comprising Oshawa, Orillia, Peterborough, Toronto Ryerson Institute, East York and the Ghosts.

The first team will enter playoff section "A" and the second "B." There will be no inter-group playoff. Schedule, soon to be released, will start the teams off early in September.

Tonight, men's rinks. Draw from the board at 7:30 o'clock.

All of the novice players who entered in the novice singles competition are asked to play their games in the competition Monday night, providing they are not playing in the club singles.

Today we extend birthday greetings to our popular secretary, Fred H. Dearborn.

All of the men's schedule games were cancelled last evening, to allow for the provincial playoffs. We don't know who won out. When we left the greens it looked as if it would be well past midnight before the games would be over. Bowlers were entered from Port Perry, Lindsay, Oshawa, Port Hope, Cobourg, and Peterborough.

Dekdebrun May Rejoin Argos

TORONTO, July 27 (CP). — Al Dekdebrun, brilliant import quarterback who walked out on the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts Tuesday, may rejoin the team today. It depends on coach Frank Clair.

"I want to be sure I'm doing the right thing," said Clair, "after all Al did walk out on us and I've got to think the thing out."

Dekdebrun drove from his Buffalo, NY, home Thursday and met Clair and Argo president Bob Moran. He agreed to accept his original contract, signed three months ago.

The 27-year-old quarterback, whose daring field play sparked Argos to Grey Cup victory last season split with the team over a salary disagreement.

If he comes back, he will have a fight on his hands to retain the No. 1 quarterback spot on the club Clair said.

"We've acquired a pretty good boy from Miami University (Oxford, Ohio) and he'll give Al a good fight for the job." Clair said the newcomer, Norbert (Nobby) Wirkowski, led Miami to the Salad Bowl championship last year.

Buffalo Leads In Henley, Toronto Dons 2nd

By CECIL SMITH.

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., July 27 (CP).—Nine sculling championships are to be decided today at the third day of the 69th Royal Canadian Henley Regatta on the old Welland canal.

The day's card, which also will include nine heats to qualify for Saturday's finals, will get under way at 4:00 p.m. EDT.

Buffalo West Sides yesterday racked up a total of 53 points to lead the record field in the team competition, the winner of which is awarded the Maple Leaf Shield following the final events Saturday.

Toronto Dons placed second with 38½ points, followed by Fort William, Ont., and the Detroit Boat Club, both tied for third place with 25 points.

St. Catharines, defending team champions who have won the shield since it was first put up for competition in 1949, were in eighth place with six points.

Seven championships were decided in yesterday's 19-race card.

The West Sides picked up a big chunk of their total with championships in the junior 145-pound fours and the junior 135-pound fours.

Toronto Dons also won two championships—the junior 145-pound doubles and in the junior 155-pound fours.

Other championships went to Fort William, Detroit and Seattle.

Fort William copped the junior 145-pound championship, its crew finished about 10 open lengths ahead of the Detroit Rowing Club entry. Wyandotte, Mich., was third, an open shell length behind Detroit.

Winnipeg's Derek Riley won the second heat of the association singles with a three-length margin over Charlie McIntyre of Seattle.

Junior Winner

Walter Hoover, the 16-year-old Canadian and United States high school singles champion, won the junior singles under the colors of the Detroit Boat Club, and Seattle's Joe McIntyre won the quarter mile dash championship for his club.

McIntyre's victory in the quarter mile dash was the most thrilling of the day.

He led the race most of the way, Jack Guest, Jr., of Toronto Dons, favored to take the event, came within striking distance and then upset just as it appeared that he might overtake McIntyre.

Guest, taking long, powerful strokes, is believed to have caught a crab which threw him head first into the canal.

Guest was pulled out of the water and taken to shore in the timer's boat.

Championships are to be decided today in the junior 145-pound eights; junior 145-pound singles; junior eights; high school doubles; association singles; junior 155-pound eights; seven pair oars; junior doubles final, and the junior 135-pound eights.

Ross Siems Slips In Chess Meet

PHILADELPHIA, July 27 (CP) —Saul Wachs, of Philadelphia, knocked young Ross Siemms of Toronto out of the lead at the end of the seventh round Thursday in the sixth annual United States junior chess championship.

Wachs handed Lionel Joyner, of Montreal, his first tournament defeat in the sixth round and won his seventh-round match. Joyner drew with his seventh-round opponent.

The double victory gave Wachs first place with six points. Siemms, 15-year-old Ontario junior champion, was held to draws in the sixth and seventh rounds. He remains undefeated with four wins and three draws but dropped to a three-way tie for second place with 5½ points.

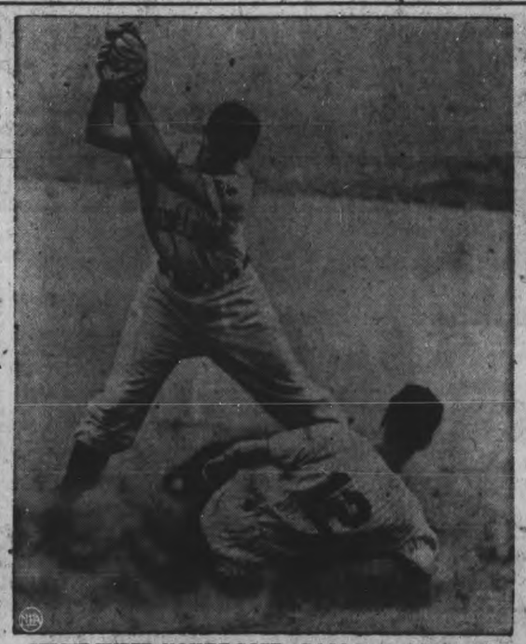
Jack Kagetsu, of Toronto, drew in his sixth-round match, then defeated his opponent in the seventh. Kagetsu now has four wins, two draws and one loss for five points.

Joyner, 20-year-old McGill University student who recently competed in the first world junior championship in London, dropped well down in the standing with 4½ points. He has won three, tied three and lost one.

Far down the list was Kazimer Kokurefics, Toronto, who won in the sixth round and lost in the seventh. He has three points, having won three and lost four.

The 43-player tournament ends Saturday with the completion of the 10th round.

Bell Leads Loop



Bell Telephone took over first place in the Civic Softball League last night at the Bowl by blasting out a 13-2 victory over the second-place Foresters. They had two big innings to score six in the first and seven in the fourth, while Foresters were held to single runs in the third and sixth in the seven-inning tussle. Teams:

Bell—Gillespie, James, Tushingham, Smith, Harrison, Guerin, Ackford, Jamieson, Greatrix.

Foresters — Roberts, Doughty, Henry, Davidson, Hobson, Mathison, Tyndall, Revoir, Reynolds.

Cautious Moose

NEW LISKEARD, Ont. (CP)—Two huge Moose stood patiently in a field by the highway here for hours. Occupants of the nearby farm said the male and female animals evidently were waiting for a break in the traffic. Finally they disappeared.

STRIKE THREE, YOU'RE SAFE—Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees slides safely into second base after striking out in the first inning of the crucial Yank-Cleveland Indians game in New York. Catcher Jim Hegan let the third strike get past him, and McDougald makes it to second under Ray Boone's tag.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Rivalling the recent weather for heat is the OLA senior "A" race. Particularly where the top four clubs are concerned — though the bottom three are quite in the hunt yet, too. Mimico Mounties, tied now for third place with St. Kitts, play the Petes here tonight at 8.45 in Miller Bowl, weather being okay. Locals lead Hamilton Tigers by two games, the Tigers in turn being up one on the other squads. That's the setup at this writing, but every evening, nearly, there's a change in the see-saw standing. The Mounties will press the Petes plenty and this clash should be a dandy. Petes are off to Brampton tomorrow and in Toronto on Sunday for a busy weekend.

* * * * * *

OLA scoring figures released the other day showed Petes' Harry Wipper leading the loop with 61 points, two ahead of Mimico's Don McPhail. Al Garburt of Brampton had 53, Tigers' Blain McDonald 52 and Jack Dorney 48. Next were Jim McMahon of A's and Frank Facto of West Yorks with 47 each. Jay Hill of Fergus was one point back of 'em, while Curly Mason and Bob Thorpe of this borough also hit the charmed circle with 42 and 41 points. Lee of Hamilton led in penalties with 55 minutes. We ran the Petes' scoring marks within the past week, but this shows how our fellow stack up against other loop snipers.

The planned exhibition mens softball game betwixt Chicago Hottentots and the local All-Stars has been cancelled, the Chi crew being unable to make it next week. They were to show at the CNE in Toronto later. So, theres no City Softball League action of any sort until loop semi-finals commence on Aug. 7. Orphans and Rexoys tangle in a best-of-five series, going in double-headers Tuesday and Thursday of that week. Winner will meet the UEW equad in best-of-seven for the city championship. By finishing first, UEW had a choice and will enter OASA intermediate "A" playdowns, the winner of the Orphans-Revoy series hitting the senior "B" playdown path. Meantime, no word has been received as to the girls softball setup. These shop holidays kind of throw some sports out of kilter for a space.

TBA Fears O's And Us

At an OBA sub-committee meeting the other evening, the parent body backed down somewhat on its ban on Jerry Creasey playing in the Intercounty League. In other words, the loop may use him up until OBA playdowns but not after that. Also other leagues may play exhibitions with the all-powerful Intercounty, which dictates to the OBA. The TBA got the okay on having Peterborough and Oshawa put in a separate OBA playdown zone, thereby assuring a Toronto team of the Viaduct League a crack at provincial playdowns, besides either the Petes or Oshawa. The latter two, of course, will play out the schedule as they're entitled to a chance at winning the Viaduct League title. Locals go to Oshawa on the morrow and have the Merchants here next Wednesday.

* * * * * *

Grid Orfuns will commence training early next month. Oshawa Red Raiders are at it now, and Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts start on Aug. 7. These three teams are in an ORFU grouping this year with Orillia, Toronto Ryerson and East York, rated the strongest intermediate "A"—or senior "B", as it's sometimes called—circuit in Ontario. Schedule will open early in September, the team finishing first going into 'A" playdowns and the runner-up into the "B" series. Cobourg has lost a couple of aces to Queen's. Coach Leo Deadey and the Orfuns' executive are busy lining up potential players for here, quite a few of the better ones of last autumn still being available.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Joe Wright, Jr., of Toronto, Diamond Sculls, winner in 1928, was upset by fellow-Torontonian Jack Guest who defeated him by two lengths in the Canadian Henley singles at St. Catharines, 22 years ago today. Guest went on to take the Diamond Sculls the same year and recently coached his son, Jack Jr., in an unsuccessful bid to repeat his father's performance.

Eight Tee Off In 3rd Round Of Championship

LONDON, Ont., July 27 (CP).—Most of the pre-tournament choices remained in the running today as eight golfers from five cities teed off in the third round of play for the Ontario amateur golf championship.

Two rounds of 18 holes today will reduce the field to two contestants who will meet Saturday in the finals.

Here is the slate for today's third round:

Gerry Kesselring, Kitchener Westmount, vs. Don Varey, Brantford.

Doug McKellar, Toronto Scarboro, vs. Phil Farley, Toronto Scarboro.

Jack Nash, London Hunt Club, vs. Moe Norman, Kitchener Rockway.

Emerson Creed, London Hunt Club, vs. Nick Weslock, Windsor Essex.

Weslock, defending champion, had the toughest time Thursday when he was extended to the 20th hole before disposing of Bud Smith of Guelph.

One down at the 18th, Weslock took the hole when Smith's second shot landed in the river. They were even on the 19th and on the 20th Weslock had Smith stymied. The Guelph golfer tried to chip in but just missed. Earlier in the second round with Weslock, Smith had made an impressive comeback pulling even on the 14th after being five down at one point.

Kesselring, 22-year-old favorite, had little difficulty beating Sonny Morse of Toronto Mississauga, three and two.

Creed won his second round match the hard way. He lost the first five holes to Bob Fair of Toronto Scarboro but came back to win with a 25-foot putt on the 18th hole.

Farley, a former champion, had little trouble with Jim Currie of London Highland. He was five under par when he ended the match on the 13th.

McKellar defeated Keith Kirkpatrick of London Hunt one up, Varey defeated Ed Nerlick of Toronto Summit by the same score, and Norman won three and two over George Eluck of Windsor.

The eight survivors included the four leading prospects for Ontario's interprovincial team. Weslock, Kesselring and Farley are assured of places on the four-man team. Varey will be the fourth man unless someone outside this foursome wins the Ontario championship. In that event, the champ would replace Varey.

In the consolation flight A, eight players remain in competition. They are: W. Givens, A. Cassidy, G. Thomas, W. Parker and H. Rinholt, all of Toronto; G. Shirk, J. Watson, Chatham, and B. Jardine, Galt.

As in the championship flight, this group will play two rounds today, reducing its number to two players who will meet in the consolation finals Saturday.

Out At The Kawartha

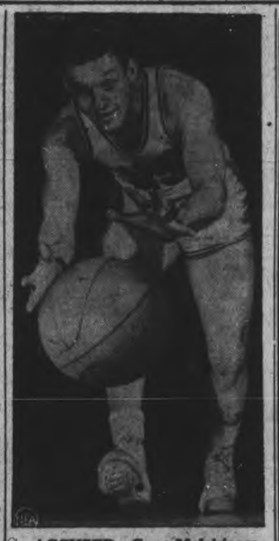
Ladies Section: The ladies were in Port Hope Thursday afternoon and when speaking with some on their return, they were a weary lot for the Port Hope coarse is one of hills and valleys. On Tuesday afternoon the weekly field day was held and in the 18-hole players section Mrs. Don Anderson had low net and won a golf ball. Mrs. Anderson also won the competition of low gross on the front nine so was given a point. Mrs. Howard Woodcox was second and won the cup and saucer.

Mrs. Harry Hamley was given a point for the least number of putts in the 9-hole players section; Mrs. Ken McCannan won a cup and saucer and Mrs. Wm. Beggs a golf ball.

Business Girls: For the low gross competition Thursday evening Barbara Siddall was given a point and Marg Lundy won the spoon; for the low score on the even holes, Barbara Siddall again was credited with a point and Ruth McKee won a spoon for second.

The B.G. Club Championship Draw will be posted very soon and those taking part will please watch the locker room postings.

A reminder: With many guests in town these days the club members are reminded that by phoning "Frank Hughes at 3737," an hour or more ahead of time, they may enjoy a fine meal with their friends in the pleasant surroundings of the club house. If it is not possible for a member to accompany friends to the club, a phone call from the member to the steward will do the trick.



Salvation Army Victors

They tallied three runs each in the first, fifth and sixth innings, two in the third and one apiece in the fourth and eighth. Salvation Army: Jones, Parsons, Robinson, Slaughter, Ede, R. Braund, C. Braund, Bain.

Police: Rowe, Conlin, Naismith, McKendry, Menzies, Traynor, Forestell, Perry.

Regain Old Snap DiMaggio Hopes

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, July 27 (AP)—Joe Dimaggio sat in front of his locker, stripped of his uniform, puffing absent-mindedly on a cigarette. He was alone except for a close friend.

In other parts of the dressing room, teammates talked about Wednesday's dramatic 2-1 victory over Cleveland Indians.

Dimaggio watched silently for a while, then said: "The boys have been in a hitting slump. Maybe I should talk about myself only. I haven't been doing anything to help the club. I just can't seem to buy a base hit." (He went hitless in three official times at bat yesterday when Cleveland beat the Yanks 9-4).

A guy asked:

"What's the matter, Joe?"

The Old Snap

"I'm not getting the old snap into my swing," he answered.

Dimaggio cocked his wrists and went through an imaginary swing.

"Right here," he said, looking at his doubled fists as he finished the swing. "I just don't seem to give it that old follow-through.

"Up around here, too," he continued, drawing his right hand across his chest from one shoulder to the other. "I haven't been able to make the bat come around as quick as I used to."

Someone suggested that maybe he was swinging late and hitting at bad balls.

"Yes, I am swinging late," Joe said. "But it's not because I'm biting at bad balls. Oh, I'll go for a bad one now and then. But most of the time, they're right down the middle. I see them coming and set myself. But when I swing, the ball shoots right up at me."

What did he intend to about the situation?

"Beat it," Joe answered without hesitation. "I'm going to beat it. I'm going to keep swinging until I get the old snap back. It will come back to me. I know it."

Vallmer Clouts 3 Homers As Red Sox Whip Chicago

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer.

With Clyde Vollmer, blazing Boston Red Sox clutch hitter, it seems to be a home run or nothing.

Vollmer, a powerful six-footer, hit three homers yesterday against Chicago in a 13-10 victory that boosted his club within two percentage points of first place in the American League.

Since Clyde started to find the range about three weeks ago, he had hit 11 home runs in 18 games. During that period he has had a total of 22 hits—so exactly half have been over the wall.

Vollmer may be the difference between also ran and pennant for the Red Sox. Because Cleveland finally won a game at Yankee Stadium, clipping the league-leading New York Yanks 9-4, Vollmer's latest outburst was an important factor in the pennant race.

His third of the day came with two on in the sixth and the score tied 10-10. Earlier he hit one with one on in the first and nobody on in the fifth for a total of six runs batted in. He now has 17 for the season.

Stretch Lead

While the American League tightened, the National opened up even more, with Brooklyn moving 9½ games in front of idle second-place New York on a 9-1 victory over Chicago.

The Phillies moved within a half game of the third-place Cardinals by shutting out St. Louis for the second straight night 7-0. Ken Johnson did the job with seven hits.

Volmer's hitting was the big news of the Thursday scores, however, in that wild slugfest at Fenway Park that produced a total of 31 hits.

Ellis Kinder, long a Chicago jinx, gained his 17th straight over the White Sox with a scoreless relief job for the last 3⅓ innings. He was the last of four Boston pitchers. Harry Dorish, fourth Chicago thrower, took the loss.

Bobby Feller became the first major leaguer to win 15 in Cleveland's success at Yankee Stadium, but he wasn't around at the finish. Feller gave way for a pinch hitter in the sixth while leading 5-4. Homers by Cliff Mapes, Johnny Mize, and Yogi Berra chipped away most of his early lead. Lou Brissie held the fort the rest of the way.

Allie Reynolds was tagged with his sixth loss when Cleveland bolstered its lead with three more in the sixth.

Tigers Win

George Kell, Dick Kryhoski, and Pat Mullin lit into Washington pitchers for three hits each in Detroit's 6-3 win. The Tigers hopped on reliefer Mickey Harris for three in the eighth to give Dizzy Trout his fourth win.

Mat Batts' two-run homer in the fifth helped St. Louis Browns to a 6-4 edge over Philadelphia A's in a night game. Catcher Sherm Lollar of the Browns was lost for an indefinite period when spiked on the right hand by Eddie Joost trying to score in the third.

Big Don Newcombe won his 14th and ninth in a row over Chicago Cubs as the Dodgers bolstered their lead. Roy Campanella hit his 17th homer with a man on in the eighth.

Johnson survived a fit of wildness in the first three innings when he walked five to blank the Cardinals. It was his second win and second shutout.

New York and Pittsburgh were idle but Boston trounced Cincinnati 6-2 to take over fifth place. Vern Bickford was in control until the ninth when he was replaced by Bob Chipman after two runs were in and two out.

Mintz On Carpet For Loud Protest

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 27 — (AP).—Fiery-tongued Jake Mintz has an Aug. 1 date with the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission to decide whether he will be allowed to continue in boxing.

Mintz, manager of the former heavyweight Ezzard Charles, was placed under immediate suspension at ring-side of last week's title fight after he protested loudly against the naming of an official.

Chairman George Jones, Jr., setting the date for the hearing yesterday, said "the actions of Mr. Mintz took place before all the sports writers and the 25,000 fans attending the bout. They were, in our judgment, detrimental to boxing. . . ."

Mintz protested the naming of Charley Daggert of Philadelphia as a judge, holding up the fight 10 minutes.

Hot Plug Hooks 66-Lb. Salmon

SEATTLE, July 27. (AP) — A "hot" plug was credited today with boating of a 66-pound king salmon off Hope Island in Northern Puget Sound.

The 66-pounder was the largest ever recorded for Puget Sound or Washington waters via sports fishing.

The plug, a yellow Rosegard, has belonged to Mrs. Hazel Miller for years. Three weeks ago she hauled in a 55-pound king wit hit.

Wednesday night her husband, Maurice Miller of Seattle, trolling with her in their cruiser in the channel off Hope Island, borrowed the fabled plug "under protest."

The lordly king socked it, and 30 minutes later was gaffed.

Churchill Deafness Leads Him Astray

LONDON, July 27 (Reuters) — Winston Churchill's slight deafness led him astray in the House of Commons Thursday night.

Prime Minister Attlee was talking about identity cards when Churchill spoke up: "Is there any reason why we should not revert to the practice of former years and in times of peace allow taxicabs to be used by ministers on their ordinary business?"

Members tittered and Churchill realized they were discussing cards, not cars.

Hand cupped to ear, Chirchill had the mistake explained to him by colleagues — then grinned cheerfully at Attlee.

See Iron Mine At Marmora Opening Soon

Steel Firm Manager Hopes Early Start, District Optimistic

After several months of diamond drill explorative work by the Bethlehem Steel Company in the Marmora area, it is expected, by interested district observers, that sufficient ore has been revealed for the opening of a mine.

Latest encouragement came last week when Paul B. Entreken, manager of the company's mining division, paid a visit to the property.

He made no secret of the fact that his company hopes to commence mining operations at an early date. There are several problems under consideration at the present time, he said.

10,000,000-Ton Stone Cap

Since the nature of the ore lends itself to open-pit methods, first consideration will be the removal of approximately ten million tons of limestone cap before the minerable ore can be exposed.

There is also the problem of coming to an agreement with railways for freight rates for the ultimate shipment of ore.

Townspeople are optimistic and hold hopes of early operations which will mean employment of district labor, new homes and businesses.

H. Olsen, assistant superintendent of Cornwall Iron Mines, has been appointed general superintendent of the new development, and will move to Marmora early in August. Mr. Shale of the same company will be field supervisor.

The Bethlehem Steel Company was first interested in the Marmora iron field shortly after a provincial government aerial survey of Hastings County in 1948. Following the issuance of detailed maps, the company acquired more than 400 acres of farm land south of the village and commenced diamond drilling. Five drills or more have been biting into the rock and overburden for more than a year now and drill cores have revealed large tonnages of low-grade ore, company officials say.

Used Car Lot Partner Committed

Finance Firm Claims Money Borrowed On Cars Already Sold

J. Eldon Paquette, 22, co-proprietor of Reliable Motor Sales, was committed for trial in a higher court Thursday afternoon on two charges of false pretences. Both involved the financing of cars:

Bail was set at $5,000.

Paquette, who lives on Crescent St., is alleged to have attempted to defraud the Bellvue Acceptance Corporation out of $2,900 in two car financing deals— one August 21, 1950, and the other September 15.

A civil suit is also pending against Paquette and he in turn has filed a counterclaim.

Sales Said Unknown.

Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, acting for the company claimed Paquette received two loans from the Vellvue Acceptance Corporation, offering as security chattel mortgages on cars that had already been sold by his firm. The sales were said to be unknown to the finance company who thought the cars were still on the lot.

Most of Tuesday was spent on the preliminary hearing on the first charge.

Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope, pondered a couple of times on whether or not he should thrown out the charge. He said there was a danger of the court being turned into a collection agency for finance companies.

D. E. Stoughton, Bancroft, said that on August 19, 1950, he bought a 1949-model car from Reliable Motor Sales for $1,750. He paid by cheque.

The salesman, Leslie Hooks, didn't give Stoughton the ownership card at that time, saying that Paquette, co-proprietor of the business, had it. The card would be sent along in a couple of days he was assured.

Asked Loan.

In the intervening period Paquette went to W. P. Kinlin, manger of the company, and asked for a loan on the car, the prosecution claimed. They charged that Paquette was guilty of false pretencese by saying he was still owner of the car and wanted a money loan to cover the cost of purchase.

As proof he is alleged to have produced the ownership card not yet handed over to Stoughton.

On this basis the company agreed to loan $1,450. For security against the car which Paquette no longer owned; and they also got a promissory note.

A day or so later Stoughton drove down to Peterborough and picked up the ownership card.

Car All His.

In May of this year a Bellvue investigator saw Stoughton in Bancroft and said the company had a chattel mortgage against it. Stoughton consulted his solicitor who told him that at the time of sale there were no chattel mortgages or leins against it and the car was all his.

Shortly afterwards the company started criminal proceedings against Paquette.

On October 4, G. H. Wilson, company investigator, looked over the car lot and noticed the car in question missing. He told the court that Paquettee's answer was that a salesman had it out for demonstration and he expected a sale.

Later the company learned the car and others had been sold and were not on the lot, but the company manager swore that he did not know till after the visit to Stoughton in May of this year that Paquette had negotiated a loan August 21 on a car sold two days before.

James F. Dunn, solicitor along with John W. Corkery for Paquette, drew the admission from Kinlin that he had loaned the Reliable Motors partners money to set up business knowing at that time that Paquette was a minor.

He implied that Kinlin was was mixed up in his dates and that a visit by Paquette to Kinlin's office on August 19 might well have been the date when the loan arrangements were made. Kinlin claimed it was August 21, two days after the car had been sold to Stoughton.

Horsemeat As Table Food Gets Resounding Thumbs Down Signal From City Housewives

Horsemeat as food may be popular in parts of the Western provinces, but it appears that it just isn't a good idea as far as Peterborough housewives are concerned.

A telephone survey was made today and with one exception all housewives turned thumbs down on the idea. Some of them seemed quite heated about the subject and such exclamations as "terrible," "cruel" and "disgusting" burst out when the subject was mentioned.

"The very idea curdles me," one housewife with seven children exclaimed. "I'm not particularly fond of horses, but horsemeat has never been a household meat and the very idea is disgusting. If prices of beef and other meats go sky high, our family will live on sausages and liver or other substitutes."

Cooking for a family of two, another housewife took the matter very calmly. "I don't really see any difference between a horse or a cow. I guess one is as good as the other although the horsemeat would definitely be tougher and dryer. If it came to a test I guess I could eat it. But if I can get the cow I'll leave the horse alone."

Two other housewives both cooking for two said that they would do without meat altogether before they would touch horsemeat.

One family of six in the city will never be confronted with horsemeat. The housewife of this family stated that "the very idea turns my stomach sick. I think it's a shame if we have to come to that," she continued. "I just couldn't imagine eating it."

Only one of the housewives phoned said that she would eat it, if prices made other types of meat too expensive for the family pocketbook, but this admission was made with a great deal of reluctance.

The idea just doesnt seem at all popular in Peterborough. More amazing than anything else in this survey was the fact that it wasn't any particular fondness of horses that made eating them repulsive. Merely a conventional idea that it just isn't the thing to do.

Old Fisherman Passes Word On Getting Ahead Of Fish

By JIM ENGLISH

Our old friend with the straw skimmer and the black cigar announced this week there was a way to end the shortage of muskies.

It was touch-and-go for a while. He wasn't too sure he would tell his secret. "You people laughed at me too much them other times," he said. He was still bitter because the city hadn't dug holes in the street for ice to cool the citizens' scorching feet.

We assured him nobody thought he was really foolish; that fishermen were always ready to accept suggestions, no matter how strange. Why, we said, look at some of the baits they buy.

"Okay," he said. "Take this here down. When I was a little feller—don't worry, I'm not goin' into the family history—I used to sit down by the water, a-danglin' my toes in it.

"One day, I was sittin' there in the sun, just soakin' up nature when I felt this nibblin' on my feet. Didn't hardly care to look, I was so scared. But I did and I seen this great big muskie—50 pounds if he was an ounce—chewin' away on my right foot.

"Well, sir, right away I seen the commercial possibilities. I hauled my foot out of that fish's mouth so fast it made his head spin, and run up to the nearest boat livery.

"There was about three Americans there, ready for a day's fishin'. I says to them I could sure find fish for them, and they'd be muskies, too. They said okay, and I jumped right in the boat.

"Out we went, and I gets them in the middle of the lake and says 'Now stop right here.' They did and I hung my foot over the side. One feller started to laugh so hard he like to split a seam in the boat. But I tells them to shush and look, and they see another lunge about two yards long nibblin'.

Looked Stunned

"They just stood there like they was stunned, and I told them to go ahead and cast for him. Well, sir, they did. They caught him too. Biggest fish ever came out of here. We did that until they had their limits and we come ashore.

"I musta made quite a bit that summer, dragging my toe around in the lake until it was pretty near waterlogged. Five bucks a trip I'd charge, and I made plenty of trips."

The old fellow sighed and we could smell the shaving lotion on his breath.

"There had to be an end to it. It was gettin' too good. And there was an end. Fella from the fish and game club come out and told me what I was doin'. I seen the error of my ways right then, and I quit.

"But you might tell some of these musky fishermen to try it."

We said we plain didn't believe him. He said look, and as we were standing by the Otonabee, he just dipped his right foot, minus sock and boot, into the river.

A musky—too big to guess at—coasted off the bottom and took a grip on his foot.

"Look!" The old fellow yelled as the musky towed him downstream. "Look! I still got my charm." We figured he was too happy to be bothered, so we left him with the fish.

Ideal Buyers' Market Edging Back

Provincial Economy Recovering Slowly After Wartime Slump

Ontario's economy of plenty and surplus that used to afford a buyer's market may be on the way back to pre-war levels, but the recovery of that consumer idea is notably slow.

Production of creamery butter in June was 5.6% less than a year ago, and the make of cheddar cheese showed a decrease of 19.1% in comparison with June of 1950, as reported by the statistics branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Figures on the six months basis showed a decline of 8.8% in the quantity of Ontario butter and 19.3% in cheese output.

On the other side of the price picture creamery butter at Toronto was 62.6c a pound in June as against 53c in June, 1950. Cheese was 38c as compared with 37.6c in May, and with 28c at the export dock in June, 1950.

Less Storage Butter

Storage butter in Canada totalled 32,112,000 lbs. at July 1 as compared with 49,905,000 lbs. a year ago.

Fluid milk sales in May, 1951 amounted to 445,156 lbs. at 18.9 cents for $84,056 in Peterborough, as compared with 445,652 lbs. at 18c worth $80,174 in May 1950, only slight changes either way.

Canada has been forced to import eggs recently, and everybody knows the doleful story of the meat market, that is, it is rueful from the dining table seat of the consumer. But, it is the kind of market that enables the farmer to put some paint on his weather-worn barn, and also reduce or redeem the mortgage which too often the economy of agricultural abundance puts on his place.

Incidentally, there was one story during the week that the domestic tomato market dropped so fast about last Saturday that growers quit picking.

Another sad fact is that the pea crop is heavy, but the combination of roast lamb and peas is all shot by the absence of the lamb except in the purchases of those who can afford it at the current prices.

Born In Lindsay CPR Heir Buried At Sea

MONTREAL, July 27 —(CP)— Cmdr. J. K. L. Ross, internationally known sportsman and businessman, was buried at sea Thursday near his home at Montego Bay, Jamaica. He was 75 when he died at his Jamaica home Wednesday.

Cmdr. Ross was the son of the late James R. Ross who built and equipped both the Ross Memorial hospital, and nurses residence in Lindsay in 1902. Mr. Ross senior was one of the founders of the CPR. He also left an endowment of $25,000 to the hospital which was used in 1930 to build a laundry and heating plant.

In 1920 he raced Sir Barton, a $170,000 winner, against Man O' War in match race at Windsor, for $75,000 plus a gold cup valued at $5,000. The American horse won easily. Sir Barton captured the Kentucky Derby in 1919.

Commander Ross was known throughout Canada for his spacious stables at Vercheres, Que., where he kept the leading horse of the 1920's. He sold the stables a few years ago.

He was the son of the late James R. Ross, One of the founders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who left him a fortune of between $12,000,000 and $14,000,000.

A native of Lindsay, he came to Montreal after he graduated from Bishop's College School at Lennoxville, Que., and attended McGill University. He graduated in 1897 with a Bachelor of Applied Science degree.

Started in Shop

Beginning his business career in the machine shops of the Montreal Street Railway, he advanced to the post of assistant to the general manager and acting manager of the City of Birmingtom Tramways Company. He also held the position as assistant manager of the Central London Railway in London.

Cmdr. Ross served as assistant manager of the Dominion Coal Company in Nova Scotia and later managed the company. He was made a director of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company in 1911 and of the Laurentide Company in 1915. He also had served as a director of Dominion Steel Corporation and on the board of Consolidated Mining and Smelting.

He gave gifts to many public institutions. Among them was the $700,000 he gave for the construction of the Ross Pavilion of the Royal Victoria Hospital here in 1916.

William Toomey, 18, suffered face injuries. Paul Mongrow, 18, was thrown 25 feet and suffered a deep gash over one eye and multiple abrasions.

Police said the motorcycle was attempting to pass a northbound automobile when it crashed into a southbound truck driven by Charles A. Collins. The truck driver was not injured.

He'll Be There

Like so many other rumors, most of them less serious, nobody seems to where it started. Anyway, Arn is expected to be out at Miller Bowl tonight helping the Petes in their lacrosse game with Mimico.

Cottagers Seek Results For Tax

Stony lake cottagers have reformed and revamped their cottagers association, a non-profit, non-share organization, in an endeavor to secure some district advantages for their payment of $80,000 a year in taxes.

Among some of their objectives are to improve and provide new navigation aids for the comfort and safety of both cottagers and visitors. And cleaning the boat channels of weeds.

The association hopes to operate a central service bureau in cases where properties which are to be sold or rented, may be listed.

The restocking of game fish has already been entered into with government authorities.

Directors of the association are Dr. Stanley Braund,, L. Crawford-Brown, J. E. Ganong, KC, R. Roy McMurty, KC, H. T. O'Neill, W. A. Richardson, R. K. Slater, H. H. Webb and D. DeS. Wotherspoon.

Those responsible for the reorganization of the Stony Lake Cottagers Association are George F. Zimmerman of Kawartha Park, Jim Coleman of Juniper Island and H. B. Boynt of Crowe's Landing.

Quaker Workers Get 9% Wage Increase

UPWA employees of Quaker Oats receive a wage increase of nine per cent, effective from May 1 last, plus an additional one cent an hour based on the cost of living July index in a negotiated amendment to their existing agreement with the company.

A general meeting of the Local, No. 293 of United Packinghouse Workers of America in K. of C. hall Thursday ratified the memorandum. It had been drafted in the discussions between the company and the union which have been going on intermittently since March.

At that time the UPWA sought an increase in the wage rate on account of the considerable rise in the cost of living.

Company Condition

It was reported that the company would negotiate only on the condition that the union maintain the 44-hour week for the rest of the period of the present agreement.

Another item in the terms was that a "wages and hours" opening clause be effective May 1952. Final draft of the amending memorandum was settled at the meeting of representatives of both parties last Monday.

Those acting for UPWA were Fred W. Dowling, national director; William J. Beggs, president of the Union; Herb Hennessey, chief steward; Wm. Triggs, recording recretary, and Lloyd Fell.

The Pimmett grain compiled a score of 93 points out of a possible 100 for top money of $13. George Shoniker of Asphodel placed second with 91 points and Donald Hope of Keene was third with 90 points.

The judge, E. Mark of Little Britain, commented as follows: "No. 1 is a good field; uniform satnd and thick on the ground; heads long and with good kernel; some lodging; estimated yield 46 bushels an acre.

Several fields would have won a higher placing if the owners had removed the odd stalk of rye, pulled the more prominent weeds and spent a little time trimming the headlands as requested on the official score card."

The list of winners of the first eight prizes with their scores has been received from Mr. G. A. Brethen, president:

1. M. Pimmett and Sons, Indian River, 93 points—$13.
2. George Shoniker, Norwood RR 3, 91 points—$12.
3. Donald Hope, Keene, 90 points —$11.
4. Stan Andrew, Norwood, RR 1, 89 points—$10.
5. John Richardson, Norwood RR 4, 87 points—$9.
6. John McFarlane, Peterborough RR 8, 86 points—$8.
7. Max Scott, Norwood RR 2, 85 points—$7.
8. W. C. Whitred, Hastings RR 3, 84 points—$5.

CO-OPERATIVE FINANCING

Vern Campbell posed the question: "Do you consider the loan unit the ideal medium of financing a co-operative?" in his Federation broadcast over CHEX.

Bluntly he proceeded: "No, I do not. If I were organizing a co-operative body today, I would advocate the use of share capital in preference to loan units for the reason that loan units can be acquired from accrual of patronage refunds, which is sometimes a very slow way to build up financial self-reliance.

On the other hand, share capital becomes at once a debit to the account of the member, and occasionally a member is inclined to measure the value of his co-operative exclusively by the dollars and cents yardstick; and failing substantial patronage refunds or for some other reason he requests a refund of loan units."

Drain on Capital

This, you can readily understand if allowed to progress without restraint, could mean the impoverishment of the organization through the draining away of its working capital. It, therefore, becomes the responsibility of the board of directors, if the financial structure is to be maintained at a satisfactory level, to use their discretion in granting such requests, and is, I expect, where the expression originated, that directors must protect a co-operative against itself.

Subsequent events have proved that the people of Rochdale, who pioneered the co-operative movement, made a shrewd and accurate appraisal of the insufficiency of human nature, when they incorporated the policy of "one member—one vote," regardless of the amount of capital invested. This restriction effectively forestalls any disposition for personal gain.

But it is not as a wealth-producing agency that the co-operative movement has made its greatest contribution to society. Rather, I feel sure that, united in organizing, supporting, and managing a co-operative, men of goodwill and brought closer together and come to appreciate in concrete terms the true concept of the brotherhood of man; and the more that we endorse the policy of working together in earnest, unselfish endeavor to eliminate greed and power, then the nearer will we be to having a new order based on democratic Christian principles.

"Through the developments of the past 25 years a long and interesting story could be told of how, through co-operative effort, the living standards of many people have been raised to a higher level. If we could roll back the horizon and get a glimpse of the future in another quarter of a century, I feel sure that we would see another interesting picture, of how, through the application of co-operative principles, can be maintained the high ideals that go to make for good citizenship.

Thus, the doctrine of co-operations plays its part in the order of the lives of a country's citizens, but carried farther afield and earnestly applied it could, I think, make a big contribution to the establishment of a world united in peace."

NO HONEY CARRY-OVER

At the meeting of the Grey and Bruce Beekeepers' Association at Lucknow, Thomas H. Shield, Toronto, general manager of the Ontario Honey Producers' Co-operative, said the new honey crop was coming on to a market that was clear of the 1950 stock. This is the first time in several years there has been no carry-over, and the price has gained firmness from last season.

ADVICE CONFIRMED

The news that 2,000,000 dozens of eggs have been imported from Holland and the United States in the last few months confirms the advice to district hatcherymen at the meetings here in January, 1950, at which G. A. Brethen presided.

Prospect of too many producers liquidating their flocks, or otherwise reducing them too drastically was correctly visualized when in December, 1949, Britain terminated her contract buying because of dollar shortage. As reported from Ottawa only a few thousand cases of eggs remained in storage by the end of 1950. This year demand has continued substantially ahead of supply, and the producers who decided to stay in business 12 months ago have been operating in a favorable market.

EXPERTS ON ROADS

Rural constituents of Dick Stewart, Jim Humphries, Ross Harrison and company should find a little humor in the following story from a municipal magazine:

Said a high school student to a civil engineer, "How do I get to be a road engineer?" The old man replied, "Son, you must finish high school and borrow $2,000 and work hard for four years at a university and spend all your summer holidays building roads." The boy thought hard and asked, "Isn't there some easier way to learn all there is to know about roads?" "Yes, there is," was the studied reply. "You can become a candidate for the township council. Take a week in December to call on your neighbors and friends and spend $25 for advertising and you will be elected. And when you talk at a township council meeting you will know more about building roads than the greatest engineer in the world."

MOULD IN SILAGE

The exclusion of air from the silo is the most important single factor necessary to produce good silage free from mould growth, according to pamphlet entitled: "Mouldy Silage", just published by the Ontario Agricultural College.

Possibly it has been closely timed to this season of heavy forage crops and prolonged showery weather, with too much moisture at the wrong time.

The advisory article continues: "Moulds do not develop because molasses, chopped grain or other preservatives have been added, but because there has been an excess of air.

This is brought about in several ways. If the crop is cut too late, or is dry and fluffy, it will be difficult to pack properly in order to drive out the air. It may be cut in too large pieces; the less moisture a crop contains, the smaller it should be cut. Distribution and packing of the crop in the silo may be careless or inefficient. The silo may be defective, allowing the entrance of air after it is filled; or there may be a poor seal on the top."

As to packing or trampling the crop, it must be thorough. "In such a fashion that the silage will not fall away from the walls to leave pockets of air. The lower the moisture content of the ensiled crop, the greater the need of packing."

NEWCASTLE DISEASE

During the week ending July 14 one flock of 1,875 chickens, infected with Newcastle disease, was destroyed with compensation to the owner at $469.00.

Thirty flocks have been destroyed in this provicne, compensation amounting to $31,765, since April 1.

The report by Dr. T. Childs, Veterinary Director-General, Ottawa, mentions five new cases in British Columbia during the week of July 14. Two flocks of 3,047 birds and 50 eggs were destroyed; compensation $3,947. Totals since April are: 106 flocks infected; compensation in British Columbia $125,226. More than 410,000 chickens and turkeys have been vaccinated in BC.

The week's figures for Alberta: 2,512 birds and 384 eggs; compensation $2,069; total indemnity for 30 flocks, $5,852.

Saskatchewan: 591 birds, 218 eggs; $611; totals, 66 flocks since April; $13,605.

Manitoba: 14 flocks destroyed in the July 14 week. They included 1,929 birds and 152 eggs; compensation, $1,832. Total flocks destroyed 107, for $23,161 compensation.

CAMPBELLFORD CLUBS

A joint meeting of the Campbellford Calf and Pig Clubs was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Merrill on Friday, July 20.

The program was aimed at giving the members of both clubs a chance to judge cattle, horses, and swine, in preparation for the judging they will be called upon to do at the Belleville and Peterborough Fairs. Two classes of cattle, Holsteins and Jerseys, were conducted, with Lindsay Anderson of Campbellford acting as judge.

Bill Curle was official judge of the pigs, and Del Merrill acted as official for the horse judging. Lindsay Anderson is leader of the Calf Club, and Bill Curle is leader of the Pig Club.

Dick Heard, assistant representative of the Department of Agriculture, was present, and coached the members in the work.

The meeting was held on the lawn of the Merrill farm, four miles west of Campbellford, after which the members retired to the house for refreshments and to discuss their various reasons for placing one animal ahead of another in the judging.

THE AYRSHIRE'S HORNS

West of Scotland Agricultural College is to de-horn all the Ayrshire calves on its farm shortly after birth, as reported in The Ayrshire Post.

This decision on "a very controversial question" was announced by the chairman, Sir George Wilson, at the general meeting of the board of governors of the college at the end of June.

The recommendation had been made by the board's Auchincruive committee by a one-vote margin (7-6), and it was agreed that the de-horning of older cattle should be deferred until the first crop of de-horned calves would be of age to enter the dairy herd.

Some of the Ayrshire breeders of this district have been weakening on the old ideal of horned cattle. The graceful appearance of the Ayrshire cow has been enhanced by horns, and Canadian breeders have generally been reluctant to succumb to the consideration of utility in the polled head.

If sentiment in the Ayrshire Agricultural College is being abandoned, that surrender will probably cause a weakening of breeder attitude wherever the red and white cow is the dairy favorite.

Ontario Wheat Harvest Is Under Way

Haytime of 1951 may now be dismissed after some disappointment in the quality of the first cut caused by excessive rain.

Agricultural representative Frank Paterson says second growth of red clover and alfalfa is heavy, and Ed Summer of Durham rates it in his county as "remarkable". Net result from all accounts is heavy forage in mows and silos, with corn to be packed in on the ensilage along in the fall. This week's warmer weather should put length in the stalks.

Cutting of fall wheat in the local counties is under way, and next week should see combining quite general.

Western Ontario counties report fall wheat losses from the Hessian fly. Ontario county says this week: "Incidence of Hessian fly is fairly general in this county."

Middlesex farmers have been selling a lot of beef cattle finished on the grass, and feeders are in active demand. There is an excellent crop of peas in Northumberland.

Almost every field in Huron shows some infestation of Hessian fly, "some seriously".

Spring grains are showing promise of a fine crop in eastern Ontario. New seeding is making "excellent growth".

Mr. Patterson says he sees signs indicating that farmers of this area are building up their cattle population again. The United States market is not so active as it was a year ago. He also mentions that quite a lot of the second growth clover will be plowed in for wheat land.

A. G. Whiteside of Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, advises well drained land for fall-sown cereals. Sod should be plowed down 30 days before seeding, and the land should be gone over with a tillage machine three or four times to reduce competition from grasses and clovers. Manure may by applied before the sod is turned in.

"On land that has been manured, or has grown legumes, 150 pounds to the acre of superphosphate applied with the seed will be beneficial. Winter wheat responds well to fertility, and where fertility is likely to be low, use of commerical fertilizers at the rate of 150 pounds to the acre of 2-12-6 seed with the wheat give paying returns."

REPRESENTING the Holstein Breeders of six counties of Central Ontario, George W. Henry of Todmorden (Left) presented a Westminster chimes clock to Roy Ormiston of Brooklin at the recent twilight meeting at Liftloc Farm of Norman W. McConkey. Mr. Ormiston has been Holstein fieldman in eastern Ontario for the last seven years, and is now being succeeded by Gerald Nelson of Campbellford. Mr. Henry is the son of Hon. George S. Henry, and is 1st Vice-President of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association. Mr. Ormiston will now confine his knowledge of the black and white cattle to a herd of his own. It was also intimated that he is about to become a benedict.

George Clemons Urges Record of Performance

Record of Performance service at a cost to dairy farmmers of only $5 a year for an entire herd was emphasized by George M. Clemons, secretary-manager of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, at the recent twilight meeting at Norman McConkey's farm on the east side of the city.

"Our Association would like to see more herds tested," Mr. Clemons said, "because it is not possible to conduct an intelligent breeding program without knowing the production of your animals.

At present only 16 per cent of our membership has adopted the ROP test."

Time For Selection

Mr. Clemons said that the production facts obtained by this testing program was an authentic guide to the herd owner in selecting his best milking cows, and retaining them in the meat market with advantage from the current prices of beef.

In the Holstein breed a farmer may weigh his milk and make an actual milk record, or he may have a herd test record in which the production is computed entirely from the weights and tests of the inspector on his regular visits. The entire herd must be tested on one plan or the other, or partly in each.

Only 16 Per Cent On ROP

Only 16 per cent out of every 100 Holstein breeders now employ the ROP method of determining the production merits of the members of their herds. Obviously Mr. Clemons was not directing his remarks to them, but to the other Holstein men whom the Association would like to welcome into ROP company.

"This year an ROP advisory board was appointed consisting of representatives of several of the authorized colleges across Canada together with dairy breed secretaries. Progress is being made in improving the ROP system, and breeders are now assured of an opportunity to express their opinions as to the regulations and conduct of the testing system."

Not Appreciated

Mr. Clemons said, as secretary of the Holstein-Friesian Association: "The ROP department renders a great service to the breeders of dairy cattle, and it is too little appreciated. The cost is ridiculously low to the breeder, as compared with other countries."

Believing that the membership should be more appreciative of the worth of this service, Mr. Clemons said that one obstacle to its expansion would be the engagement of additional inspectors. At present there is a wide margin between the $5 a year cost to the herd owner and the actual cost to the federal government.

"Additional herds would mean additional inspectors, and the funds are not available to hire them. The only answer to this problem is for breeders to pay more for the service. This is a probable development."

The proposed increase in fee is one dollar an animal on test, with a minumum of $10 for any herd. This is still quite a low charge for such a testing service as we have now.

Essential To Progress

"No real progress can be made in breeding dairy cattle without intelligent use of production records. We maintain all this information on our files and use it in our extended pedigrees.

Now that artificial breeding units are breeding almost one-third of our cows, it is essential that the value of their bulls be checked by production-testing of the daughters. Their influence is so great that a poor bull would be a major catastrophe as compared with the same bull being used in one or two small herds in natural service."

A large number of dairy farmers have adpoted the artificial breeding plan. Many of them are in this district. The fact Mr. Clemons was stressing was simply this that the value of these sires, such as at Maple and Belleville, can be determined eventually from the milk production records of their daughters.

That information can be obtained by ROP, and as it becomes known and tabulated, dairy farmers will have a more exact guide in their use of artificial insemination. But, co-operation must come from them, and at a present cost of only five dollars a year per herd. They are saving money by dispensing with the upkeep of sires of their own, and the implication is that from that economy they can amply afford adopting the test system.

$32,000 FOR BULL

The Lazy River Ranches of Saratoga, Wyoming, paid $32,000 for the sire of the Hereford herd owned by Arthur Crawford-Frost, of Nanton, Alberta, who also sold them 70 cows and heifers. Lazy River Ranches are owned by two Chicago business men who are establishing a herd of Herefords.

Workers Shift From Farm To City Industry

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

A drift fro mthe farm to the factory in Canada, which means a drift from the production of food to the production of machines, is seen in the current monthly Commercial Letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

The letter notes that the spring estimate of the labor force showed manufacturing industries were employing 106,000 people, or eight per cent more than the year before, though total employment had increased by only four per cent. It adds:

"While part of the increase, occasioned mainly by increased labor demand in defence and related industries and in plants making durable goods, was undoubtedly drawn from the ranks of persons previously unemployed, there is evidence of shifts from other industries such as agriculture and the service industries, which reported declines of 10 and four per cent respectively.

"Perhaps the most serious feature of the decline in agriculture is that it extends to every status group—owners, self-employed, farm laborers and unpaid family workers."

Inflation Pressure

The Letter, a "mid-year review and outlook," sees continuation of high-price influences and, indicates probable need of continuation of the countering forces of economy, credit restraint, taxation and savings. It says:

"The scheduled increase in defence spending, the momentum of which may be expected to increase in the months ahead; a tightening of the labor situation with the concomitant increase in wage scales provided in new wage agreements, and a steadily increasing labor income resulting therefrom and from full employment, all have inflationary significance.

"Furthermore, shortages of raw materials, which seem likely to become more acute as defence production expands, will have an unfavorable impact on the domestic stockpile of consumer goods . . .

"It would be unrealistic to assume that, because the international political tension has eased, the Western nations can relax and neglect the implications of the defence economy in which we have elected to live. There seems every indication, moreover, that the Canadian economy will become, more rather than less sensitive to international events."

US Mint Has Money Troubles, Not Enough Coin

By BILLEE WHEELOCK

PHILADELPHIA, July 27. (AP)—So you think you've got money worries?

Well, when the going gets rough remember the man in the United States mint. He has troubles, too.

People are using up money so fast he can't make enough to go around.

Pennies are the biggest culprit. The strain on the mint is terrific.

Superintendent Edwin H. Dressel of the Philadelphia mint lists the greedy users of pennies as piggy banks, parking meters, vending machines and sales and excise taxes.

Dressel sai dthe summer season always brings greater demands for all types of coins.

Daily production at the Philadelphia mint is: $60,000 in half-dollars; $50,000 in quarters; $72,000 in dimes and $89,000 worth of pennies.

They're not making even a nickel's worth of nickels. "We haven't the money," Dressel explained.

Production quotas are preety much guess work, Dressel explained. "We try to anticipate demand but it's mostly pulling a figure out of the sky," he said.

Asked about the life expectancy of a penny, Dressel sighed: "Only a man who isn't afraid of the end of a limb would be willing to answer that."

Grow Up, Doctor Tells Nervous Women

CHAUTAUQUA, NY, July 27. (AP)—The reason some women are nervous is that "they spend $10 worth of energy on a 10-cent task," Dr. Walter C. Alvarez said Thursday.

"They shop too long to save a quarter," said the consultant from Mayo Clinic. "Then they come home so terribly tired that they shriek at their children and fuss at a perfectly good husband."

He told the General Federation of Women's Clubs that women are nervous because they 'worry stupidly over things that are preposterous or things that never happen."

"Women must learn to be more adult and more self-controlled," he said.

Plane Contract For $50 Million

MONTREAL, July 27—(CP)—Canada's booming aircraft manufacturing industry Thursday landed a contract reportedly worth $50,000,000 for production of a new-type trainer-transport plane for the United States Air Force and the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The contract, understood to be for 300 planes, went to Canadair Limited, already producing F-86 Sabre jets for the RCAF at its 40-acre plant in suburban Cartierville.

The new plane is the T-36, a twin-engine trainer easily convertible to a transport able to carry a pay-load of 4,000 pounds.

An announcement by the company made no mention of the price, nor of the number of planes that will be turned out but it said that in addition to those produced for the USAF, "an unspecified number" will be produced for the RCAF.

Canadair will be joint producer of the new plane with Beech Aircraft Corporation in the United States.

The same offence cost Robert Williams of Maynooth the same fines, $10 and costs on each count.

Arthur Bruce of Slate Falls paid $15 and costs for consuming liquor in a place other than his residence. A resident of Combermere, Simon Dupuis, also paid the same scale for the same charge. Two minors from Combermere each had to pay $15 and costs for consuming. And for being intoxicated in a public place a woman from Highland Grove also was fined $10 and costs.

Europe Should Unify-Professor

GUELPH, Ont., July 27—(CP)—If Europe is to survive as more than a pensioner of the United States, Europeans must push for unification with all possible energy, Prof. F. A. Knox of Queen's University said Thursday night.

He was addressing the annual joint meeting of the American Farm Economic Association and the Canadian Agricultural Economic Society.

Prof. Knox said there is widespread doubt in Europe about the possibility of achieving a world trading system embodying free and non-discriminatory trade conditions.

"There is need of closer economic relationships among west European countries," he said, "but it is imperative that payments between countries of Europe should not bring about another outbreak of bilateral payment arrangements. Rearmament seems to offer a golden opportunity to speed up integration."

Britain Builds Fast New Jet

The Hawker Aircraft Co. said the RAF placed orders months ago while it was still on the drawing board. Now it has made first test fights.

The claim the 1067 will outperform any fighter type in the world was made by Neville Spriggs, Hawker's general manager.

McNamee Kids Shine In Swim Meet

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—The McNamee brother-sister combination from Vancouver and a group of zestful young men from Ocean Falls, BC, today carried the west to a 91-61 point lead over the east at the halfway point of the Canadian Swimming championships.

By individual clubs, the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club was out in front with 34 points, followed by Ocean Falls with 27 and Montreul with 25. The others: Victoria 19, Toronto 16, Hamilton 11, Vancouver Y 10, Fergus, Ont., 9.

Seventeen-year-old Gerry McNamee, making his first bid in senior ranks, took on a definite Olympic hue after his second sprint victory yesterday.

He met and withstood the challenge of Jerry Marik, Czech political refugee only four months in Canada, in the 200-yard free-style after winning the 100-yard free-style Wednesday night. His time was two minutes, 2.1 seconds, 1.9 seconds off the record held by Allan Gilchrist of Ocean Falls, who failed to place. McNamee won by six feet by his deftness on the turns. Twice Marik was left inches behind on the turnaround, had to use all his strength to catch up and had nothing left for the final kick.

Wins Easily

Kay McNamee, 20-year-old sister of Gerry, plied 12 lengths of the pool in almost effortless style to win the women's 400-yard free-style by three-quarters of a length.

Ocean Falls continued to exhibit complete mastery in the junior men's division. Jim Bain won the 100-yard free-style with teammate Ron Gilchrist second. Bain overhauled Montreal's six-foot lead on the final three laps of the 300-yard medley relay to win by six feet.

Evelyn Buchanan of Toronto was deposed as women's three-metre diving champion by Irene MacDonald of Hamilton. Miss Buchanan was leading on points until the last dive when she failed to complete the last motion of her plunge and lost all points for that dive. Toronto protested and the judges thought it over 90 minutes before rejecting it.

Fergus' four girls at the meet left all other clubs far in their wake as they won the junior women's 400-yard free-style relay. Vancouver ASC, in second place, was a full length behind.

No records were broken in the first two days of the championships and officials said it was unlikely any would be in the final two days. The reason: the pool is outdoors and the finals are held at night, when it is fairly chilly.

Baltimore Wins Regular Game 6-1 Over Royals

By The Associated Press

Blix Donnelly, the little curveball artist who used to work for the Cards, Phils and Braves, lost a ball game sitting on the bench last night. Then he went out to pitch a five-hitter for a 6-1 Baltimore victory over Montreal.

The loss came when the clubs finished out a suspended game of June 24 by playing the final inning of a scheduled seven-inning game. Donnelly, who started the game a month ago, was the official loser as Montreal held its 3-1 lead through the final inning.

Donnelly had a shutout in the regular game until Mike Goliat dropped Russ Kerns' throw on an easy double play chance in the ninth. Bob Alexander was nicked for homers by Kerns and Anse Moore during his five-inning stay. He suffered his fourth loss.

Score Eight

Syracuse scored eight runs in the first two innings to wallop Toronto 10-2 on Dutch Houtz' seven-hit pitching. Frank Drews hit a two-run homer for the Chiefs and Bobby Rhawn a two-runner for Toronto. Rhawn had to leave the game when struck on head by a warm-up pitch in the ninth.

All in all it was a busy night for pitcher Leon Day who formerly played with Winnipeg Buffs. Appearing in right field Day was charged with an error, got a hit and one put out. As a pitcher he struck out one and gave up four bases on balls and four hits in four innings.

Buffalo used home runs by Frank Carswell and Walter Post to salvage the final game of a series with Springfield, 4-2. Tom Simpson, no-hit pitcher last Sunday, threw three more hitless innings until Emil Verban doubles in the fourth. Simpson allowed only six hits to make his season record 7-1.

Rochester and Ottawa were not scheduled.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Sid Hagopian, secretary of the Minor Softball Association, said at Galt Thursday night the executive has taken action over the assault of Frank Dixon, 15-year-old umpire, last week.

Robert Holmes, acting coach of the Soper Park bantam team, who prevented a spectator from assisting the umpire, has been suspended indefinitely—for at least one year.

Charles Bechtel, manager of the Soper Park team, has been relieved of all duties pertaining to handling any team in the association for a year. The executive said he was unable to exercise the necessary control over the team because he could not give enough time to the job.

Mr. Hagopian said that the umpire's assailants were not members of the Soper Park team which lost a game on the night of the incident. In the attack Dixon suffered cuts and bruises to his face and body and a dislocated shoulder.

Officials blamed the trouble on the lack of capable men to coach teams. In some cases the coach is no older than the team members. There are only 10 men in the association to look after 300 boys.

Tony Trabert of Cincinnati flashed a powerful all-around attack Thursday to eliminate Arthur Larsen, United States singles champion, 8-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2 in the quarter-finals of the Southampton, NY, invitation tennis tournament.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles, 1950 Wimbledon and French champion, defeated Conway Catton of San Francisco in the only other quarter-final match played. The score was 6-0, 6-3, 6-4.

In the men's doubles Jerry De Witts and Whitney Reed, San Francisco, eliminated Brendan Macken, Montreal and Lorne Main, Vancouver, in the second round 8-2, 6-2.

Henri Rochon of Montreal, teamed with W. Tulley of New York, moved into the third round with a 6-4, 9-7 victory over Jiro Kumamaru of Japan and Sidney B. Wood, New York.

Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba signed Thursday to defend his title against Billy Graham of New York in Madison Square Garden, Aug. 29.

Eddie Eagon, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said he considered the bout another step in clearing the way for an undisputed welterweight champion.

Gavilan won National Boxing Association and New York recognition as champion when he defeated Johnny Bratton of Chicago in a 15-rounder in the Garden on May 18. Bratton had won NBA recognition as successor to Ray Robinson when he outpointed Charlie Fusari in Chicago.

Eagan would like the Gavilan-Graham winner to meet the European champion, Charles Humez of France so that an undisputed champion will reign.

The Stork, a six-metre yacht piloted by Jerry Castle of the defending champion Rochester Yacht Club, won the opening race in the Silas George cup races on Lake Ontario Thursday.

The Stork was never headed and finished more than four minutes ahead of the Sirce, a challenger from the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto.

Baltimore fight promoter Benny Trotta Thursday named Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland the opponent for Joe Louis in a scheduled ten-round fight there Wednesday, Aug. 15.

The veteran 31-year-old Bivins has an impressive 12-year-ring record against competition from all levels. He lost a decision to Ezzard Charles in 1948.

Speed Volo Triumphs In 8th Race Upset

TORONTO, July 27 (CP). — Spud Volo, owned by John Findley and son of Arnprior, Ont., upset a field of pacers, and the wagering public, in winning the eighth dash at Thorncliffe raceway Thursday.

Spud Volo paid $45.30 for a $2 wager and he clipped nearly 12 seconds from his lifetime record as he skipped the mile in 2.13 3-5.

The feature race was won by Majestic Brooke, Stanley Love's good mare from Milton, Ont. She won both heats of her race although she was barred from the wagering in her second trip. Jean Dillon, from the barn of J. J. Smith of Orangeville, was second in both trips and was the wagering winner in the second dash.

NORTH ANDOVER, Mass., July 27 (AP)—A Lawrence, Mass., insurance agent was found dead of two bullet wounds last night and police said it was probably a case of "murder and robbery." The victim was Leo Monfret, 37. Police said his pockets were empty although he would have been carrying about $300 after making collections.

Mystery Golfer Puzzles Fans

LONDON, Ont., July 27 (CP)—Mystery man of Wednesday's opening play at the Ontario amateur golf championships at the London Hunt and Country Club was an earnest young man who turned up at the first tee, plunked a ball in the river, teed up another and eventually wound up with a 10. He was requested to leave right there.

Identity of the golfer was a puzzle. He apparently named one of the Toronto clubs as his home course. At any rate, he was duly registered and accepted.

Eyes in the gallery popped when the quiet young man strolled over to the first tee — overlooking the curving medway creek—with a bag containing exactly four clubs. Few tournament players tote less than the allowed maximum of 14.

Two of the clubs were hickory-shafted woods—venerable relics of an early era in golf. The other two were steel-shafted irons, also of respectable age. But you don't query a tournament golfer about his equipment. After all, he might have something.

Unorthodox

It became apparent from his first practice swing that here was, indeed, an unorthodox golfer. More polite silence followed a wild round-house cut in the air as the gallery pressed closer, hmm, here was something different.

It was. After the horrible fate of his first drive, the stranger hit his second short, but on the fairway. His succeeding shots dribbled the ball toward its objective until he holed out triumphantly for his 10.

Tournament officials awaited him at the green with the polite offer of a refund of his entry fee which was courteously declined.

As the day's play ended, the young man was seen trudging along the highway, toting his four clubs.

Canada Worried By Restrictions Of US On Cheese

OTTAWA, July 27. (CP)—Officials of the Trade Department said Thursday Canada is "concerned" about a Washington move to restrict imports of cheese and other dairy products into the United States.

Canada stands to lose a $1,000,000-a-year business in cheese alone if Congress approves a control bill sponsored by representative August H. Andresen (Rep.-Minn.) It would ban all imports of dairy products, including cheese, until mid-1953, if their import would impair domestic production.

"We are watching the situation very closely," one trade official said today.

He added that Canadian processed milk and fats and oils exports to the US also are involved, although the annual business in these is much smaller than in cheese. Canada ships about 2,225,000 pounds of cheese, mostly cheddar, to the US annually.

A Washington dispatch last night said nine countries including Canada have expressed their concern to Washington over the restrictive move.

Government Not Obliged To Publish Emergency Rules

OTTAWA, July 27—(CP)—As a result of a recent order approved by the cabinet, the federal government will not be obliged to publish all orders and regulations passed under provisions of the new Emergency Powers Act, it was disclosed Thursday.

The act, passed at the last session of parliament, gave the government sweeping powers to deal with almost any situation during an emergency. The powers were almost as broad as those given the government under the War Measures Act, in force during the First and Second World Wars.

The government will not have to publish any orders passed under the Emergency Powers Act if their publication would be prejudicial to the security or defense of Canada.

Also Wheat Board

Certain orders of the Canadian Wheat Board also will be exempt from publication. They will include instructions to the trade, orders adjusting grain storage quotas at delivery points and orders providing for the allocation of railway cars available for the shipment of grain at delivery points.

Also exempt are orders addressed to particular persons or corporations only, requiring them to do or to refrain from doing specified things. Just what this category of orders would cover was not disclosed.

Mulch and Feed Necessary On Gardens In Hot Weather

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

This is one or the most critical periods for the vegetable garden. The first really dry weather can be expected and insects of every sort will find some way to creep into the garden.

Mulching of many of our garden plants with leaves, straw, hay or well-rotted manure not only keeps down weeds but also conserves moisture during the hot weather.

Mulching is not new, yet it is something that is not practiced enough. The mulching of tomatoes will aid in equally distributing the moisture over a longer period of time and will help to control blossom-end rot and the dropping off of blossoms in the early stage of plant growth.

Mulches are also excellent around eggplant and peppers and have been used to advantage between the rows of root crops.

Another important phase of summer gardening is the proper feeding of plants. All the text books in the world can not tell you exactly how much plant food your plants need.

During periods of heavy rains, commercial fertilizer is leached away and is out of reach of the plants, especially in light soils. Therefore, supplementary feedings must be made.

The old gardener recommends using a liquid ferftilizer. This is made by mixing three cupfuls of fertilizer and 12 quarts of water. It is applied at the rate of one pint per plant or one pint for each three feet of row as a side dressing.

There are two values in using liquid fertilizer. It becomes more quickly available to the plants and also aids with the watering problem in dry seasons.

With only a few exceptions July is the windup for seed sowing, and if the early crops that have passed the useful stage are removed, you can provide additional space for the seed sowing.

The soil must be prepared once more, and the addition of manure or fertilizer will greatly help the quality of the fall crop.

What to do with the garden refuse? Throw it away or make use of it? Untold amounts of good plant food are thrown away or burned every year.

What comes out of the earth should go back into it, and the more of it that we can return in the form of humus the less need there is to add manures and fertilizers.

Any vegetable matter that will decay in the course of a year can be placed in a compost pile to be added as humus to the garden.

Gardening Questions

Q.—What are the peculiar-looking caterpillars fastened to our Arborvitae in a tiny bag-like mass of dried leaves? They are eating the foliage.—V.R.

A.—They are bagworms and while found on many trees are especially damaging to arborvitae, cedar and willows. Severe infestations can kill the plants so spray with arsenate of lead or DDT. If only a few are present, hand pick and destroy.

Q.—What insects attacking dahlias do we have to guard against and what spray or dust is recommended?—L.V.

A.—Dahlias are subject to attacks by leafhoppers, red spider, thrips, aphids, and European corn borer. Aphids are controlled by spraying with a Black-Leaf 40 soapy water solution; for the others spray every 10 days with a mixture containing methoxychlor. To reduce the possibility of carrying the borers over winter, pick off and destroy infested blooms and burn old stalks at the end of the season.

Chess Tough, Tiring; Good Manners Count

PHILADELPHIA, July 27 — (AP). — Playing chess is tougher than football, more exhausting than wrestling and good manners are as important as smart moves on the board.

So says Horry Morris, who is guiding the United States junior chess championship. There are 43 entrants, from 15 States and Canada.

Morris defines a bad sport in playing chess as one who: Grunts and groans during opponent's play, waves chess pieces in air, dawdles after a piece has been touched, fidgets, blows smoke in opponent's face, or chews gum with sound effects.

Players may be disqualified for repeated violations of these and other rules of decorum.

Sell To Women Of 50; Don't Try To Kid Them

LONDON—(CP)—Mrs. Doreen Day, glamorous grandmother from Montreal, told delegates at an advertising conference here it's about time advertisers started aiming their sales appeal at women of 50.

"Advertisers never mention them," she said. "I'm getting a bit worried about it."

In a smart green hat topped by two red and two pink roses, Mrs. Day said it was all right for the 50-year-olds to be told that a perfume would give them the allure they had at 20. They would not, however, be sold by advertisements plugging a certain face cream which would give a face lift that would take years off their age.

"The woman of 50," said Mrs. Day, "is not going to be led up the garden path. She knows darned well that her face is right down where it should be when she's 50."

Mrs. Day, advertising executive for a well-known department store chain, warned advertisers to take account of the "sane" things by which women live and of the real women who buy them. Forget those "cardboard morons" that no man would dream of marrying anyway, she counselled.

"Don't overstate the case," said Lady Tweedsmuir, wife of the son of a former Governor-General of Canada. Women of middle age want to be told that certain goods will make tham a "glorious 50," not an adolescent 20.

Flat Top New For Fall Wear

PARIS, July 27 (Reuters). — The fall and winter fashion parade started Thursday with the introduction of the "toboggan beret"—a hat with a difference.

Prediction is that the big, flat-topper will coast into favor this year.

The hat of indecision dips sharply down on one side, changes its mind and scoots up again. It is shown by the Paris house of Paulette.

The hat comes in jersey, felt and velvet with iron and steel grey as its favorite shades, although it is also seen in reds, shrimp pink and peacock blue. All are without trimming.

Buyers at the Paris fashion openings have discovered that sportswear has reached back into medieval history to the hoods and caps of court jesters for inspiration.

Turtle-neck sweaters with visor hoods are made in one piece. Other hoods have long points edged with bells. Cloche and cap models are made with long scarves which drape around the shoulders.

Tiny pill boxes of scarlet are cut into geometrical designs around the crown. They are covered with velvet or shown with matching chiffon stoles. Some crowns are like an Egyptian fez, shown with removable tent scarves.

Boyle-Nichols

The wedding of Miss Mary Louise Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nichols of Apsley, to Mr. Stanley James Boyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Boyle of Conway, PEI, took place in St. George's Anglican Church last Friday evening, the Rev. H. J. Scuse officiating.

The bride wore a street length dress of blue sheer with matching headdress and a corsage of Bettertime roses. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Walter Miller.

Miss Lynda Nichols was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a dress of yellow lace with matching headdress and corsage of talisman roses. Groomsman was Mr. Frank Wheeler.

A reception was held afterwards at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John Rexe, 552 Rose Ave.

For their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Boyle journeyed to Prince Edward Island to visit the former's parents. On their return they will live in Peterborough.

Nancy Wilkinson Marries R. G. Preston At Rosedale

Miss Nancy Evelyn Wilkinson, formerly teacher at Lifford School, Manvers Township, was married Wednesday to Mr. Ralph Gordon Preston of Bethany in St. John's Anglican Church, Rosedale. The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Canon P. M. Lamb, rector of St. Cuthbert's Church, Leaside.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkinson of Burnt River and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Preston of Bethany.

Miss Betty Preston of Bethany played the wedding music and Mr. Percy Preston, uncle of the groom, sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white marquisette trimmed in lace and wore a fingertip veil caught to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of red roses.

Bridal attendants, Miss Jean Thomson, Miss Evelyn Preston and Miss Margaret Moore, were in yellow, mauve and green dresses of embossed organdy and wore hats and gloves of the same material. Each carried a nosegay of mixed summer flowers.

Groomsman was Mr. Hugh Wilkinson of Burnt River and ushers were Charlie Preston, Bethany, and George Wilkinson, Burnt River.

"The Cameo," Fenelon Falls, was setting for the reception where the bride's mother received in a blue figured nylon dress and white accessories, assisted by the groom's mother, wearing navy sheer and navy accessories. Each had a corsage of pink roses.

Later the couple left for Quebec, the bride wearing a dress of white marquisette, figured in gold, and matching white accessories with a corsage of roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston will live at the groom's farm home, RR 1, Bethany.

CWL Bingo Held In Westwood Hall

NORWOOD, July 27 (ENS). — The Catholic Women's League of Norwood and Havelock held a very successful combined social and bingo at Westwood town hall on Tuesday evening. Proceeds are to assist the local branch of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary in furnishing a room in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

The tables were tastefully decorated and a delightful supper was partaken by more than two hundred guests. Mrs. Redmond Walsh, president, was convener, assisted by Mrs. Charles Coughlin and Mrs. Fred English.

The bingo party, later in the evening, was well patronized and was directed by Mr. Ernie Wolff, assisted by Messrs. Jack Le Gros, Alex Berardi and Patrick Anglesey of Peterborough.

Salad Week Tip

According to nutrition surveys, many Canadians are not eating the recommended amounts of fruits and vegetables. Salads are one of the best ways of serving them.

✧ ✧ ✧

Salad greens have a short life. Keep them moist and covered in a refrigerator.

Stovepipe Hats At New Salon

PARIS, July 27 (Reuters). — Stovepipe hats made of African zebra skins were the highlight of a winter collection shown by Svend, a Danish designer, at the opening of his new salon here last night.

Svend, formerly on the staff of the Paris courturier, Jacques Fath, made his debut as an independent designer before a big audience.

His principal line is the high crown, in many cases broken or crushed. Brims are cut out of the crown so that it is impossible to tell where one begins and the other ends. Many models feature pointed astrologers' peaks.

What's Right?

You are having a cocktail party and your husband is to mix and serve the drinks.

WRONG: Offer guests a variety of drinks, even though it means that the service will be slow.

RIGHT: Forego variety in the interest of making your husband's job easier and less confusing.

Special Dressings To Make A "Hit" Of Salads

A salad is like a woman—a lot depends on the dressing, the old saying goes.

In fact, a dictionary in its description of a salad, lists the dressing as a necessity. The dressing plays an important part in whether a salad will be a hit or a flop. Although some people prefer a plain dressing, an added little fillip often makes the difference between just "food" and enjoyment.

Here are four dressings specially made up for "Salad Week" in Canada (July 27 to August 4):

Fruit Salad Dressing

3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons flour
Few grains salt
2 tablespons cider vinegar
2 tablespons lemon juice
Grated rind of one lemon
¾ cup juice from canned fruit
1 egg
¼-½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Mix sugar, flour and salt in top of double boiler. Add vinegar, lemon juice and rind, fruit juice and slightly beaten egg. Blend well. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened and continue cooking about five minutes. Chill. Just before serving, fold in mayonnaise and whipped cream. Yield: about 2¾ cups—12 generous servings for fruit salads.

Fish Salad Dressing

To add a special touch to any fish salad, add one tablespoon of chopped capers or one-quarter cup of finely chopped mixed pickles to one cup of any type of dressing.

Vegetable Salad Dressing

2 eggs
1 cup sour cream
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup cider vinegar
Few drops Worcestershire sauce

Beat eggs until very light; add sour cream, salt, dry mustard, sugar, vinegar and Worcestershire sauce. Blend well. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened, about five minutes. Yield: 1¾ cups.

Tossed Salad Dressing

3 slices bacon
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon flour
2 teaspoons brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup water
¼ cup cider vinegar

Cut bacon in small pieces and cook until crisp. Add onion and cook a minute or two. Blend in flour, sugar and salt. Add water and vinegar and cook, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and slightly thickened. While still warm pour dressing over your favorite salad greens and serve immediately. Yield: ½ cup which is sufficient for a tossed salad to serve six.
